These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness so him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds.

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.17 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, frame, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $2,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $662.56.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $300,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once, this is small and promises to be quickly sold.

Feb. 11th, 1908.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Respectfully,

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 1/2 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it as ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,-646 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

Will Assist Anyone in Weak, Pale, Nervous Condition to Robust, Hearty, Health.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jerrell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.—They possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health gain. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts.—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroy ng the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Richard Hall & Son Enlarging Their Store

The enterprising firm of Richard Hall & Son, George street, commenced yesterday to enlarge their already up to-date premises. It is the intention of the firm to tear down the wall dividing the hall immediately south of the store, from the store. The wall separating the apartments over Mr. E. F. Mason's store on the second floor from Mr. Hall's store will also be torn down. This will greatly increase the floor space making ample room for the opening of a new apartment, but Mr. Hall at present is not prepared to say what it will be. The millinery department will be made twice its present size and the mantle room will also be much larger.

The south show window, which the alterations have been completed, will be thirty feet in length, making it the largest between Toronto and Montreal.

The work of enlarging the store was commenced yesterday, and will be done by Mr. Wilson, of Toronto, who is employed by the Toronto Savings & Loan Co., the owners of the property. It is expected that it will all be completed within ten days. Mr. Hall's store will then be one of the finest and most up-to-date to be found in any city in the province the size of Peterborough.

Reminiscences of Scotland.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For the druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First, these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas bloating, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by all dealers.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be claimed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted free, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

SENSATIONAL STORY

the understanding that his name should not be divulged at this time, and obtained from the representatives of each newspaper present at the interview—which took place at the Imperial Hotel—a promise that his identity would not be disclosed. He said;

"I have known William E. Annis for a number of years, professionally, as a number of my clients had business dealings with him. On June 16 professional matters brought me to New York, and I made a business appointment with him at a well-known club of which I am a member.

ANNIS WAS CALLED OUT.

"This was the first occasion on which Annis ever revealed to me anything of his private life, and the revelation came about in a singular way. We were discussing the business at hand when I was notified that a man at the door wished to see my guest, Mr. Annis.

Annis went out. He came back in a few minutes, violently agitated. He asked that a drink of absinthe be brought him, and poured into an ordinary drinking glass a sufficient quantity of the liquor to stupify the average drinker. His first remark, after the drink had seemingly steadied his nerves, was;

"That army rat, Haims, is dogging my steps." He added; "He will never get me, though; I am prepared to shoot him on sight."

Annis then produced from beneath his coat, according to the narrator, a magazine revolver of Austrian make, known as the Mannlicher. It had an automatic attachment which, he said, necessitated pulling the trigger but once to explode every cartridge in the magazine. He even produced several soft-nosed bullets, which he said would kill by producing blood poison, even if they did not penetrate a vital part of the body.

DEMONSTRATED WITH WEAPON

Annis demonstrated with what ease and speed he could discharge the weapon, and said that he had practised in order that he might be as quick as any antagonist he might meet.

"Haims will never get me as long as I have this weapon with me," he is said to have asserted then.

"On this occasion," the new witness continued, "Annis referred to the young army officer as 'Haims of Fort William,' but I did not at the time recall him as the son of Gen Peter C. Haims, sr. Annis took alarm repeatedly during the evening and under the influence of the liquor seemed to delight in telling of his conquest over Mrs. Haims.

"He described her as a most beautiful young woman, but said, 'Like all other army women she was easy prey for a man that knows the world.'

"On the second occasion I met Annis at another club in this city on July 7, and jocularly asked him if he had killed his man yet.

TALKS OF CLAUDIE.

"He replied, 'No, but I am ready at any moment, and I expect yet to have to perform that task. Claudie Haims wants to write to me and call me by telephone every day.'

"She is also daffy about me, but I liked the woman simply because she was pretty and was young. It was only because her husband was away a greater part of the time.'

"Annis talked so loudly that at least a dozen others in the club overheard much that he said.

"Only yesterday a man of national reputation communicated with me, saying that he was very much afraid his name might be drawn into the affair on account of what he heard on the night of July 7 at the club.

"The third time Annis talked to me was on board a yacht flying the flag of the Sawanhaka Yacht Club, and owned by a man who is also a member of the Bayside Yacht Club, but who is a resident of New Jersey.

"We were members of a party of fourteen and guests of the yacht owner for a day's cruise. The sail resulted in a wild debauch. Annis, on this occasion, was drinking absinthe, and was the chief talker.

"He reiterated to the members of the yachting party the stories that he had told me at the club about "his little army girl, Claudie."

MEMBER WARNED ANNIS.

"With disgusting braggadocio he described her feminine charms until there was disapproval even in the countenance of several of his drunken hearers. I remember one man remarking;

"'Annis you'd better be on the lookout. Retribution will certainly follow such conduct as you have described.'

"'Never fear,' Annis replied, producing a diabolic looking weapon—the same he had exhibited to me previously.

"He told again why he carried the gun, and said, 'Haims will never get me. I have detectives on his track and every movement he makes is reported to me.'

"Annis told me in discussing his companions and the escapades he had had with women, that the Bayside Yacht Club was the only place around New York where "a man could do as he d——d please." He boasted many times of conquests of other women, but referred to Mrs. Haims as the one whose companionship was most pleasing to him, and as his latest victim.

OTHER CONQUESTS.

"He said his relations with her had extended over a period of several years. In talking the man made no pretence of protecting the names of the women with whom he claims to have had illicit relations. He always wanted to talk about those things, and in referring to army people characterized them as a contemptuous lot. I have heard him mention the names of wives of officers stationed at Fortress Monroe as being very friendly with him." says father

Word Received of the Death of Geo. H. Young

Word has reached here of the death of Georg H. Young of 493 Aylmer street. At least circumstances point to it being Young. Yesterday a man apparently about 25 years of age was killed, owing to having stepped off a C.P.R. train between Brandon and Winnipeg, while the train was in motion. A pass book issued from the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Ottawa, was found in his possession, and the local office was communicated with by telegraph. The numbers of the book was that of Young's and it is therefore thought that he was the man who was the victim of the fatality, that is unless he had lost his book previously.

Young moved to the city last spring from the 12th concession of Monaghan, coming with his mother who died last July. His father was the late Andrew Young. No particulars of the affray are to hand than those already mentioned.

The deceased if it should prove to be Young, went west on a pleasure trip. No brothers or sisters survive him. Mr. Graham of S. A. Oke's, George street, is a first cousin.

The body will be sent to Peterborough.

Womanly Troubles

Should Not Be Allowed to Undermine Health.

It is impossible to go into details on the subject but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the first stages of womanhood appear in a young girl, a great deal depends on getting her over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or consumption.

When she complains of flushed face, headache bearing down feelings, give her a course of Ferrozone which will carry her past the crisis.

In the adult woman if any irregularities occur, Ferrozone will be found a remedy of remarkable potency and power.

Ferrozone is the ideal regulator and causes all organs of the body to perform their work properly.

It purifies the blood, tones up the nerves and vital energies. The stomach is strengthened and digestive and assimilative processes are improved by the good work of Ferrozone. It regulates the bowels, cures constipation and piles, and replaces disease and decay by health and strength.

There is nothing better for the complexion than Ferrozone. It removes the dark circles from under the eyes, removes and cures all manner of skin eruptions, gives brightness and brilliancy to the eyes, a rosy tint to the cheeks, whitens the teeth and develops a well rounded, plump and handsome form.

Ferrozone is the ladies' favorite and should find a place in every household. It is prepared in the form of a chocolate coated tablet, convenient and pleasant to take. Price per box, 50c. or three boxes for $1.25. Sold by all druggists.

BOARD OF WORKS IN BUSINESS SESSION

The Board Requires Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollar Increase in Their Appropriation

The City Board of Works met in business session last night. There were present, Mayor Harry Rush, Chairman Ald. Phelan, and Aldermen Elliott, Morgan, McIntyre, Buller, Bradburn and Tovey.

Mr. Morrison asked for a sidewalk on south side of Townsend street, from Stewart street to Park street.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That if possible this sidewalk be built this year on south side of Townsend street, from Bethune to Park street.—Carried.

Mr. Collier asked for sewer accommodation from Collier-Cunningham Co., on end of Simcoe street. Mr. R. R. Hall, supported the application.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That this matter be referred to the city engineer to report.—Carried.

Mr. J. Thompson asked for a sewer accommodation on Dublin street, east of Water street.

The Board will interview Dr. Burnham re this and the Bethune street proposition.

Mr. F. A. Taylor was heard in regard to a proposition to extend Wolcott street from George to Lock street.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That proceedings be taken at once to expropriate the land of the Halpin estate needed for the extension of Wolcott street.—Carried.

Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong asked for a sidewalk on north side of King street from Pearl to Margaret Ave.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan—That if at all possible this sidewalk be built this year.—Carried.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,— That a temporary sidewalk of old plank be built on east side of Park street, at Mr. Knights's entrance.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That if the Township of Dourо will assure the maintenance of the boundary from the corner of Smith and Concession streets east the city will assume the portion of the boundary from that corner north.—Carried.

Mr. Thos. Barrie asked for protection from flooding, otherwise he would be obliged to sue the city for damages by reason of surface overflow into his premises.

The board will install improved gratings to remedy this grievance.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That the chairman write to Mr. Chapman as to the cost of a proposed outfall sewer via Park street.—Carried.

This proposition will, it is estimated, overcome the present difficulty in connection with the Romaine street sewer, which is all but out of business.

A communication from J. J. Turner & Sons for permission to erect a canopy entrance to the opera house was received.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the request of J. J. Turner & Sons, for permission to erect carriage house, on Water street with catch basin of drain leading to overflow pipe at the corner of Water and King streets, be granted, if the work is done to the satisfaction of the city engineer.

MORE MONEY WANTED.

The Board of Works need an increase of $2,500 to their appropriation in order to carry out needed work.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That this board recommends that their appropriation be increased to the tune of $2,500.—Carried.

British Ship Lost and 51 Drowned

Tokio, Aug. 28.—News of the sinking of the British steamer Duncarn and the loss of all but two of the fifty-three members of her crew in the typhoon which raged on August 26th off the port of Moji on the Island of Kiushiu, has reached here in a report received from Moji.

The names of the survivors are Wm. Phillips, an engineer, and John Landon, a seaman, both of whom were picked up by the Japanese steamer Sakyo Maru.

The Duncarn was bound from Nikolaisak, Asiatic Russia, to Singapore, and put in at the port of Katratsu for coal. Again putting to sea on August 24th, the ship ran into the center of a typhoon which sent her to the bottom.

The two survivors are prostrated from exposure and hardship, and a subscription has been taken up for them among the crew of the Sakyo.

The Duncarn was a steel screw steamer of 2,200 tons, commanded by Capt. J. Graham. She sailed from Hamburg for Nikolaisak.

Wife's Story Maddened Hain's--He Met Annis by Accident

"He Seemed Unable to Talk Sanely About Her," Brother Says

Were on Way to Keep an Appointment

New York, Aug. 28.—Before leaving for Chicago last night to resume his work in the paymaster's department of the army Major John P. Hains, brother of Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., and T. Jenkins Hains, made a statement of the events leading up to the shooting. Major Hains was summoned from Boston at the time of the making of Mrs. Hains' alleged confession and was kept in touch with events by his brothers and by Gen. Hains, the father.

Capt. Hains on his arrival in San Francisco, the latter part of May, Major Hains says, found a letter informing him that his wife had been conducting herself improperly with Annis. He at once asked his commanding officer, Col. Bellinger, for leave of absence, saying that family matters demanded his presence in New York and that if he could not get the leave he would be forced to desert. Col. Bellinger, according to Major Hains, had heard rumors that the captain was having trouble with his wife and told him to go ahead. Major Hains says the colonel remarked that Capt. Hains was greatly excited.

HUSBAND BELIEVED HER.

Capt. Hains told his wife what he had heard and asked her if the statements were true.

"You need me here to defend your good name," he said. She denied the charges and at the time her husband believed her.

Confident in his wife's innocence, the Captain told her to call up Annis and invite him to dinner, that gossip might be stopped. Mrs. Hains was at the phone a long time, Major Hains says, and the captain going to see what the trouble was, took the receiver himself and invited Annis to dinner.

"The captain found that his wife had not yet extended the invitation," Major Hains said, "and we have found out since that Mrs. Hains was telling Mr. Annis about her husband's return and the reasons for it. Annis did not accept the dinner invitation, but later came in his automobile and the three went on a drive. Annis was arrested for speeding and Capt. Hains went his bail."

New Smith Street Bridge

At the meeting of the Board of Works last night Ald. Phelan offered that this would be an opportune time to make a move in the direction of getting a permanent structure across the river at Smith street. The engineer pointed out that he was waiting till he got full information as to different styles of structures.

Hon. Adam Beck Declines to be Drawn Into a Controversy

Toronto, Aug. 28.—"I say emphatically that whoever the individuals are who have been operating in the vicinity of Smithville against the power scheme of the Ontario Government they are not emissaries of the Electrist Development Company. I haven't the faintest idea who they are. Hon. Mr. Beck has told the press he knows who they are, and for the benefit of the public and every one concerned, I think he ought to make known their names. One of them as reported to be a former land buyer for the Electrical Development Company, and if that is so, I have no idea who he is. Certain it is, though, whoever has been talking to the farmers is not working as an emissary of ours."

The above statement from the lips of H. H. Mackay, general manager of the Electric Development Company, coupled with a similar denial from the Cataract Power Company of Hamilton, makes it a rather pertinent query who are the two men who have been visiting the farmers in the vicinity of Smithville, loading them up with all kinds of stories about the damage the electric towers would cause to men, women, children, cattle, barns, and everything else connected with a farm.

WHAT MR. BECK SAYS.

The only one available at the offices of the Hydro-Electric was Engineer Sothem, who referred the newspaper man to Hon. Mr. Beck, who is at present in London. This is what the Minister of Power said over the long distance phone.

"If the Electrical Development Company is so anxious to find out who the men are it can do so in a hundred ways. All the farmers in the district in question know them quite well, and would doubtless be only too glad to furnish the necessary information. I have no desire to get into any controversy with the Electric Development Company or the Cataract Power Company. I have never said the men were employes of either company, and any information I gave out was just exactly what we learned from the farmers among whom they were working."

"Do you not intend to make known who the men are?"

In The Realm of Sport

Yankee Rogers the American champion heavyweight wrestler, defeated Frits Mohl last night at the Brock street rink last night getting two falls out of three. There was a large crowd in attendance, and time and again they hissed Rogers, who resorted to some questionable tactics. After wrestling for 58 1-2 minutes, Rogers got the first fall on a neck hold. He also got the second in 20 minutes, with a half Nelson. After the match was over, Mohl stated that he was beaten at Roger's game, but he also stated that he would defeat him at the Graco Roman style. This challenge was answered by Rogers' trainer, who said Yankee would wrestle him any style he wants.

The preliminary was a wrestling bout between Jack Creugh and Ned Fitzpatrick. Fitzpatrick getting the only fall in 18 minutes.

Harry Schriber Did Not Make a Sale but Was Arrested Instead

Woodstock, Aug. 28.—Harry Schriber, a young man of about 35 years, boarded the Lon in his demonstrative way speaking last evening. He tried to persuade Chief Thompson to give up $4 for the Canadian Courier and an accompanying book of drawings. When he finished his arguments the chief informed the agent that he was sorry it was his duty to put him under arrest.

"Who, me?" queried the agent, in apparent great surprise.

Yesterday Chief Wright of Ingersoll showed Chief Thompson a description of a man named Schriber, who was wanted by the Stratford police on a charge of theft. Chief Thompson took some notes of the description and resolved to keep a lookout for the man.

Early last evening as the chief was sitting in his office engaged in smoking his pipe and looking out of the open window, he saw a man coming down toward his office from Dundas. He immediately came to the conclusion that this was the man Schriber. The man went by, and the chief got up and prepared to follow. Then he saw the stranger turn around and come back. He went into the office and began to work for the chief's four dollars. He pronounced his arguments with a good deal of energy until he was rudely closed off by the news of his arrest.

The man denied vigorously that he was the man wanted, and gave his name as Harry Webber. The chief sent him upstairs with a constable while he telephoned the Stratford chief, and at the end of the conversation he was satisfied he had the desired man. When the prisoner was brought downstairs again he admitted that he was Schriber and told the chief he was sorry he had lied about his name.

Two Ideal Trips Around the Lakes

The steamer Otonabee will make a trip from Peterborough over the lift lock to Chemong Lake on Monday, August 31, when she will connect with the auto bus and other conveyances for Peterborough. The steamer will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8.50 sharp, arriving at Chemong Park about six p.m., where carriages for Peterborough will meet the boat.

On Wednesday, September 2nd, the steamer will make a return trip. Auto bus and carriages will leave Snowden House, Peterborough, at 8 a.m., for Chemong Park. Steamer will reach Peterborough at 7 p.m.

Return tickets for either trip $1.00.

Famous Trio of Shooting Cases Reflecting on U. S. Society

Mysterious Shooting of Baltimore Financier While with Married Woman

Causes a Tremendous Sensation

Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 28.—Though Charles B. Roberts, the financier and club man of Baltimore, Md., who was the victim of a mysterious shooting on the board walk on Tuesday night, is still in a critical condition at a local hospital, strong hope is entertained by the physicians that he will recover. It was sufficiently revived from unconsciousness to tell the police something of the man who shot him, and acting on the faint clue which is understood to have been given them, they will begin searching industriously to clear up the mystery surrounding the shooting.

HUSBAND NOT JEALOUS.

Mrs. Williams, who was with Roberts, made emphatic denial when asked whether the attacker might have been her husband. She asserts that Mr. Roberts has long been a family friend, and that her husband knows him as such. She says her husband has never entertained any signs to jealousy during all the years she has known Mr. Roberts. She added, too, that her husband knew of the presence of Mr. Roberts in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Williams was then asked to make the repeated declaration, "You will never take my wife out to dinner again," as he fired the shots. She denied this, as did also the negro chair pusher.

Mrs. Williams was unable to say whether the man tried to kill her also.

"The bullet came uncomfortably close," she said, "but if he wanted to kill me it seems he could easily have done so."

She further declared that she has not the slightest suspicion as to the identity of the assailant, as she does not think she had an enemy in the world.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of the victim, arrived here last night, and has been at the bedside at the hospital ever since. She refuses to talk of the occurrence.

The police scoff at the theory of highway robbery, and hint at sensational revelations upon the arrest of those whom they have under suspicion.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 28.—The attempt on the life of Charles B. Roberts of Baltimore at Atlantic City, created a tremendous sensation here and it is the sole topic of conversation in the circles in which he moved. It was discussed from every possible viewpoint by his friends and acquaintances in trying to reason out a motive for the attack.

The report that Mrs. W. S. G. Williams, also of this city, was in the rolling chair with Mr. Roberts when the shooting occurred added interest to the case. For a number of years the Roberts and Williams families have been on intimate terms, the heads of the two households being of approximately the same age and moving in the same circles of society. In view of these relations, it was pointed out by some of Mrr. Roberts' friends that his meeting Mrs. Williams and riding with her in the rolling chair was quite in keeping with the friendly relations their two families enjoyed.

The husband of Mrs. Williams returned from a two months' trip to Europe last Monday. He would say but little concerning the affair, stating that he was a close personal friend of Roberts. He expressed surprise when told that the wife with Mr. Roberts was his wife, saying that she was in Boston the last time he heard from her. He said that he saw Mr. Roberts Tuesday night for the first time since his return home, and told him how glad he was to see him again. Mr. Roberts did not go to Atlantic City until the next afternoon.

THE THAW CASE

New York, Aug. 28.—Friends of Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, who has been suffering from worry over her husband's case and the loss of her income consequent to the bankruptcy proceeding, said today that her condition is not serious.

They denied that she is a nervous wreck, as had been reported, and declared a period of rest is all she needs to bring her back to complete health.

The Condition of the Masses Shows Deplorable Educational Failure

Paris, Aug. 28.—One of the simplest and surest means of measuring the spread of education in the masses of the population is afforded by the inscription made by conscripts when they are called up. Recent figures go to prove that although the number of illiterate illiteracy in France has not ceased to decrease, there are still far too many, and in 1906 absolute illiterates were in fact more numerous than in 1906. This retrograde movement is held to be a deplorable sign that instruction is after all only obligatory in name. Too many children are kept away from school on one pretext or another by parents of the lower class, and inspectors, however keen sighted, may find it very difficult to enforce attendance at the communal school.

CONSCRIPTS IGNORANT.

Perhaps also, the ignorance displayed by conscripts denotes the necessity of popular instruction between the class-room and the barracks. It is very likely, as a commentator remarks, that many of these illiterate conscripts have learned how to read and write and have forgotten it. An understanding similar, for instance, leaving school at the age of 13 after having studied badly, if consequently he carefully abstains from reading or writing, may end by knowing nothing at all by 20. The obligatory school period in France is shorter than elsewhere and probably some system of instruction between the school and the regiment is almost as necessary as primary instruction itself.

TOO POLITE.

M. Thomas, Minister of Marine, recently took the night train for Fayet en Gervais, in Savoy, where he intends to spend his vacation. He was to reach Dijon about midnight, and confess his route towards Modane in the express that leaves about half-past one. He slept well and woke to find that, although he had been traveling in a fast express all night he had scarcely got much beyond the suburbs of Paris. The mistake was then discovered. When the train reached Dijon, nobody pushed, out of respect for the Minister, to wake him up. All the other passengers left the car and took the propitious time. Meanwhile the Minister, who was sleeping comfortably, was forgotten by the employes, and his car was attached to the train returning to Paris. This is how M. Thomas, after traveling all night, by express, nearly reached the point from which he started. Happily another train came along, which took him a second time to Dijon.

GRUESOME MIXUP.

Half tragic and half comic confusion was caused at one of the Paris police stations by the presence of a corpse, a drunken woman, and a coffin. The police had brought the body of an unknown man, probably a tramp, who died on the banks of the Seine, to the station, intending to have it conveyed to the Morgue on the following morning. During the night a drunken woman was shut up by mistake in the same room as the corpse. She lay down beside it, quite unconscious of its presence, and slept soundly all night. In the morning the undertakers came with a coffin, and mistaking the woman for the corpse, they were about to lift her into the coffin, when she bounded up with a scream, and ran into the street, where she fainted.

The mail over, the guests adjourned to the drawing-room where they sang and danced till morning, creating an indescribable din, which kept the neighbors awake. He heard of this when he returned and went into matters, to discover that not only were a number of bills unpaid, but that jewelry and personal effects had disappeared, so that he was out of pocket by several hundred dollars. They also did honor to your cellar," the judge inquired, "I had fifty bottles of champagne. I have drunk three, and here is the remaining," was the melancholy reply. The maid has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

A workman aged 40 years, who, for some time past, showed signs of mental aberration, has, as he said in a letter scribbled on a scrap of paper, committed suicide "to spite the world." He imagined that he had discovered the secret of a wonderful aeroplane, but nobody would believe in his invention. The world, he said, was too selfish and full of ingratitude.

LOADED BLANK CARTRIDGES.

"Love is driving me to suicide," shouted the workman, as he stood at the window of his room on the sixth floor of a Paris apartment. With a dramatic gesture he then raised a revolver to his forehead and fired four shots at himself. His neighbors broke into the room and found him lying like a corpse on the floor, but were astonished to see no trace of a wound on his body, or bloodstains on the floor. They soon noticed, too, he was still alive, and breathing, and after seeing him the man who had only been in a faint, recovered, and was surprised himself at not being dead. "I thought that by this time I should be in another world", he exclaimed, quite disappointed. The subsequent inquiry showed that when the workman was purchasing his revolver he talked so strangely that the gunsmith suspected his intentions, and put blank cartridges into the revolver instead of loaded ones. The workman is now so pleased at the result that he has actually thanked the gunsmith for his considerate action. He has been given all the satisfaction of feeling that he was going to commit suicide without having actually done it.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The project of a canal from Chicago to Toledo, Ohio, cutting 500 miles from the present lake route, has been taken up by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

E. S. Conway, chairman of the Association's Deep Waterway Commission, who is in charge of the movement, announced yesterday in a letter to Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo, that as soon as the Great Lakes to the Gulf is well in hand, the energies of the association will be devoted to this waterway.

The canal as proposed would be 244 miles long and twenty feet deep. It would start below South Chicago, cut across Michigan, and strike the lake about the entrance of the Maumee River, ten miles above Toledo. From this point traffic could be diverted up the river to the great elevators at, and above, Toledo, or a straight-away run for Buffalo and Lake Ontario would be open.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worried hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got The New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

A Wonderful Remedy

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of female disorders, falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, painful and suppressed menstruation, etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an Applied treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antact with the diseased tissue. Its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help but have a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 20 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing; and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 25 cent box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for one months' treatment. Address, with stamp.

THE CHURCH AND SOCIALISM

The Lambeth Conference, we understand, devoted considerable time at its recent sessions, to the subject of Socialism, and encouraged the Church to extend its tacit approval to the movement—with modifications, or rather limitations. We could desire nothing more than that the vision on which the eyes of the venerable prelates were evidently fixed, should become reality. But we fear that, with the "riders" assumed, their resolutions of endorsement were valueless. We find it difficult to believe that a striving to procure just treatment for all is at the present time a prominent plank in the platform of the party. That it was one of the golden doctrines of the Master Socialist we do believe, but it is a far cry from the Socialists of the Sermon on the Mount to the Socialism of the Hyde Park demagogue. By all means let the church all with every effort a creed embracing so admirable a desire, and an effort to secure opportunity for all to live true human lives. That can do no harm, but it can do good only when water falls to escape from a sieve; when a man may build as securely on sand as on a rock. In no spirit of irreverence, we think presume that the Bishops endeavored to cope with a problem which has baffled the temporal powers with all their mundane astuteness, and that, finding failure meet them like a blow in the way, they fell back on a trite admonition hedged with an impossible proviso. Deathless the "ideals of fair brotherhood" do underlie the tenets of the latter-day Socialistic faith, but we fear they are buried too deep to be useful as foundations for any practicable economic structure.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED?

Pretty sentiments of cordiality and fraternal feeling between the British race and the United States have marked the visit of the American fleet to New Zealand and Australia. Yet in 1844 Mr. Benton in the United States declared that the United States should mount on expelling the British power from this continent, giving freedom to Ireland and assisting the British people to reform their own government at home. Mr. Benton, on the same occasion, ventured on the prophecy that the man was then alive, and with a beard on his face, who would see an American army in Ireland and an American general on the streets of the streets of London. Times have changed.

LYNCH LAW IN THE U. S.

One of the most scandalous racial riots that have ever taken place in the United States was that perpetrated by an infuriated mob recently at Springfield, the capital of the State of Illinois. A negro had assaulted a white woman in a more than ordinarily brutal manner, and a negro, not the perpetrator of the foul crime, was lynched by a resolutely determined mob. The city was for a whole night in the hands of the rioters and law-breakers, and other lives were lost in the fray.

All this happened, not in a semi-barbarous state, because slavery-cursed South, not even in one of the proverbially rough border States, says an exchange, but in one of the most quiet and respectable of the middle western communities within little more than two hundred miles of Chicago, and in the city where Abraham Lincoln practised law more than half a century ago. Many of the lynchings that have taken place in the United States have been excused on the grounds that these barbarous outbreaks of lawlessness were survivals of frontier life, mere sudden impulses of communities in which at one time in their evolution the only means of ensuring the public safety was the vigilance committee and where it was inconvenient to keep convicts because there were no jails. Nothing of this sort can be pleaded for Springfield. It never had a frontier community experience or history. It has always been staid and respectable. If not what might be called cultured.

This Springfield incident must be regarded as an instance of reversion, not as a survival from primative conditions. It is a pure proof of the deterioration of a society that has always stood for law and order till now. It becomes a serious question for the American people to consider, whether this reversion is typical and how far until fast it may be spreading. Our neighbors, in their wide departure from the "simple life" have become supremely different as the value of human life, and this comparative absence of shock caused by such an outbreak as the one at Springfield may be due to this form of degeneracy.

Against such forms of lawlessness it is necessary for all civilized communities to guard. On those who are charged with the taste of enforcing law and keeping order rests a heavy responsibility. Canadians have been long accustomed to see crime punished with almost absolute certainty. Even in our distant and not long ago inaccessible West there has never been a "frontier" stage of lawlessness. We have kept up at great expense a body of mounted police who proved singularly efficient, and who are now, quietly giving way to no less efficient local guardians of the peace. But it will not do to leave such matters to settle themselves. The newer provinces of the West and the older provinces of the East must vigilantly guard society against crime by prosecuting criminals.

August time tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves," then the stomach. Heart, and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen those failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by all dealers.

New in Brief

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Harold McKay, aged 16, the youngest son of G. D. McKay, president of the dry goods firm of McKay, Williams and Co., was killed almost instantly last evening.

The lad had been in the habit of exploding small calibre cartridges with a hammer from the window of his bedroom at his home, allowing the bullets to strike against an opposite wall where they did no damage. The boy had been warned of the danger, but continued the practice ultimately with fatal result.

Mr. McKay, father of the boy, is well known in Montreal, having been with the John Murphy Co., dry goods, for about a quarter of a century.

London, Aug. 26.—Zia Bey, the fallen head of the Turkish secret police, has arrived in London. He proposes to buy a small estate in Canada. After the proclamation of the constitution he hid for two days. Then the Sultan wrote him to fly from the country without an hour's delay. He made his way to Smyrna, but was attacked en route in the dark. He shot his assailing dead on the spot. He reached Smyrna, and sailed thence for Marseilles and London.

He is a clean-shaven man, and when last seen was wearing a straw hat. He said, "Turkey has seen the last of me forever. During my term I was the means of running ministers, officers and civilians. At the bidding of my superiors 170 Turks, members of some of the most honored families, disappeared," with a motion of his hand, giving a sinister meaning to the word "disappeared."

He added that Izzet Pasha, who is also in London, is reputed to have saved £1,500,000 of his fortune, the greater part of which was invested in the United States, through Greek financiers in Paris. Zia Bey says he wishes the new regime well; he regrets that his record forbids hope of forgiveness. Thousands of persons suffered through him.

"Under my direction more than 400 well paid secret agents were constantly working. It did not matter who was to be removed. Orders from the Yildiz Kiosk were implicitly obeyed. False reports, from which there was no appeal, were submitted to the Sultan. The Porte, as an administrative machine ceased to exist 25 years ago. All power was centered at the Yildiz Kiosk.

"I do not blame the Sultan or the chamberlains entirely. Their powers rested on a sort of working agreement, which enabled manipulation of the resources of the empire solely as private revenue. The Sultan has at least £4,000,000 invested in Germany, Austria, and France, which he received from a heavy percentage of bribes paid by the contractors in war stores, and in clothing for the army and navy. The end came quicker than most of us expected, owing to the strides made by the army in the last six months."

The Mighty Amazon.

The estimated length of the Amazon from its source in the Andes to where it debouches in a mouth forty miles wide into the Atlantic is 4,000 miles. The story is told of a wrecked vessel which was drifting, with her crew on board suffering intense torment for lack of fresh water, which entered the mouth of the Amazon and the sufferers could have had fresh water simply by putting a bucket over the side, but did not know where they were until they got in sight of the land. This mighty river, up which the tide goes 600 miles, is known in the upper part of its course near the Andes as the Marañon, then in the middle course, from Tabatinga to the mouth of its chief affluent, the Rio Negro, as the Solimoes, while for the rest of its course to enough Amazonas or Amazon. A thousand miles from the sea it is four miles in width. Vast sand-banks frequently disturb the navigation.

RISE OF JOHN BURNS.

Some people are laboring under the belief that England is less democratic than a republic. They should study the rise of John Burns, now president of the local governing board. Thirty-five years ago he was an engineer's apprentice at $5 a week. This position in England is far more menial than in this country, because a lad has little hope of rising to an earning point beyond 6 or 8 shillings a day. But John Burns kept going.

He acquired an education by self study, because the common school system, as we understand the words, does not exist in Great Britain. He developed the ability to talk upon his feet. He stood for parliament, although he hadn't a shilling besides his earnings as an expert workman.

Members of the British parliament are not paid anything for their services. Friends came to Burns' assistance, and he took his seat with nearly forty other representatives of labor. Today he is a member of the government and as privy councilor may, if he chooses, draw $25,000 per year for the rest of his life, whether in or out of office.

Of course it is not considered regular to take the salary when one is out of office, but some cases of the kind are well remembered. Benjamin Disraeli always drew the money. He needed it, he asserted.

But what I started to say is that a workman has as great a chance in England as here if he makes something of himself beyond a drudge. Such successes are more exceptional there than here, if reference be had to the American born workman, because the foreign born laborer does as little work as he can here or elsewhere. His indolence is infectious, and many formerly earnest toilers have become imbued with the continental belief in shirking duty.

Had Burns felt thus he would still be a mechanic and carrying a dinner pail. — James Chambers in Brooklyn Eagle.

Pronounce It Lees Ang-el-ess.

Mayor Harper may ask concerted action toward promulgating the official pronunciation of the name Los Angeles. Repeatedly inquiries have come to city officials asking for the true pronunciation, which queries have been usually referred to experts for reply.

The latest, from Horace G. Adams of Fort Smith, was turned over to Librarian Charles F. Lummis, as authority on southwestern words and customs, who sent to Mayor Harper a copy of his reply, with a suggestion that some official action be taken to get the correct pronunciation firmly established. This is Mr. Lummis' answer to Mr. Adams:

"The word is pronounced 'Lees' (to rhyme with dose) Ang-el-ess approximately—the most vital thing is the hard 'g.' There is no jolly sound in Spanish. I take pleasure in answering your query, which is referred to me by his honor A. C. Harper, mayor of this city."—Los Angeles Herald.

First Dining Car.

"Just forty years ago," said T. C. Newton, a Chicago railroad man, "the Chicago and Alton railroad put on the first dining car ever operated on any railway train in the world. This was on the run between Chicago and St. Louis. If that car could be exhibited now it would create universal merriment. It had oilcloth table covers, the seats were screwed to the floor, and its illumination depended on candles.

"Think of the contrast between that primitive affair of 1868 and the modern dining car, finished in solid mahogany, with gorgeous furniture and a menu as elaborate and cooking as dainty as those supplied by any of the foremost hotels of America. Verily we have been 'going some' in the four decades that have gone by since the Alton's first crude experiment."—Baltimore American.

Camera Eye and Index Brain.

What would you say of a gentleman who having looked once into the face of each of those soldiers that made up the grand army which Napoleon took to Russia and being told the soldier's name would know him, name and face, two years, ten years, twenty years later? Think of a gentleman who could thus have called the muster roll of an army of 100,000 men. Such, however, would seem to be the, to all power of eye and memory which belongs to Detective William P. Sheridan of Mulberry street, New York, the "man with the camera eyes," and a low estimate declares that he has filed away in his brain, each tagged with the proper name, the pictures of no fewer than 100,000 men.—Broadway Magazine.

Wrecking Windmills a New Industry.

The passing of the windmill in England, antiquated by such recent power producers as the gas engine and electric motor, has given life to a new industry—windmill wrecking. The old windmill builders understood their business and meant their handiwork to last, and so the demolishing of such structures is no simple task. Many of the old mills stood 100 feet high and had eight or nine floors fitted with four runs of stones and contained tons upon tons of brick. Often these huge mills stand close to other buildings, and accidents would be inevitable if the wreckers did not have experience in their tasks.—Popular Mechanics.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First, these tiny nerves Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by all dealers.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

A Preserve Owner's Sick Trout.

A man whose experience as a sportsman had been limited to an occasional day's fishing in the mountains bought for himself a place with a fine trout preserve on Long Island. He looked forward with great interest to the last opening day, as that would be his first opportunity to fish in his own pond, and when the day at last arrived the first streak of daylight found him leaving his house, rod in hand.

A day or two later a sportsman friend inquired as to what luck he had had.

"I caught plenty of fish, and big ones, too," responded the owner of the preserve. "There are plenty of trout in the pond, but they all seem to be sick."

"Why, what's the matter with them?" asked the sportsman.

"Well," answered the preserve owner, "to tell the truth, we were afraid to eat them. Their flesh is pink, and I never saw a brook trout that color before."

"Don't you know, man," exclaimed the sportsman, with a laugh, "that any trout will turn pink if it lives in cold water?"

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked out he envelope 'Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 24th proximo for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontashine, in the province of Quebec, 190.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point taking on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontashine, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.87 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Pauquet Bros' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Pauquet Bros' contract, north of Lake Nipigon, a distance of about 100 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Pauquet Bros' contract north of Lake Nipigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 26 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.14 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also at the offices of the following District Engineers, viz; —John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont., T. S. Armstrong, Nipigon, Ont., and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1., District "C" $150,000
Sec. No. 2. District "C" 150,000
Sec No. 3. District "D & F".. 150,000
Sec No. 4. District "E" 150,000
Sec. No. 5. District "E & F"... 200,000
Sec. No. 6. District "F" 100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only mechanical machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the fire regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the laws and regulations respecting fires in the different provinces wherein the work is being performed.

By order,
P. E. RYAN.
Secretary.

Bounced Through.

Sergeant Wilkins once defended a breach of promise case for a singularly ugly little man, which case he told the defendant, after reading his brief, must be "bounced" through. And the sergeant did bounce it through.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said at the close of a most eloquent speech, "you've heard the evidence for the plaintiff, and, gentlemen of the jury, you have admired that most bewitching lady, the plaintiff herself. Gentlemen, do you believe that this enchanting, this fascinating, this captivating, this accomplished lady would for one moment favor the advances or listen with anything save scorn and indignation to the amorous protestations of the wretched and repulsive homunculus, the deformed and degraded defendant?"

"Mr. Sergeant Wilkins! Oh, Mr. Sergeant Wilkins!"

"Silence, sir!" replied the sergeant in a wrathful undertone. "Gentlemen," he continued, bringing his fist heavily down on the desk before him, "do you think that this lovely lady, this fair and smiling creature, would ever have permitted an offer of marriage to be made to her by this miserable atom of humanity, this stunted creature, who would have to stand on a sheet of note paper to look over twopence?"

Instant verdict for defendant.—Le Droam Troubles.

"Once when I was blue," said a business man, "a friend told me I was worrying over imaginary troubles. He cheered me up with a yarn about his little nephew. This little fellow's sister said one morning:

"'Oh, Gussie, I had such a lovely dream last night! I dreamed I was at a cake shop, and I had such loads of good things—ice cream, pie, strawberry shortcake, chocolates, jelly macaroons, things and lots of other things besides.'

"The little boy's eyes glistened. He smiled with delight.

"'And what was I eating?' he asked eagerly.

"'Oh, you wasn't there, Gussie.'

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This observe nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, unfortunate heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—the popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

FOIBLES OF MUSICIANS

THE MADNESS OF GENIUS.

Beethoven's Strange Abstraction and Queer Habits—The Odd Contrast That Mozart Insisted on Signing. Meyerbeer Inspired by Thunder.

When listening to the wonderful strains of Beethoven's immortal symphonies and sonatas it is difficult to imagine that they could come from the pen of such an eccentric man. Though musicians are, as a rule, men with many peculiarities, Beethoven was probably the most extraordinary of them all.

He wrote his music in all sorts of places—when dining, walking or conversing with a friend. Often in the midst of a crowded street he would stop and write furiously for a few minutes on the back of a letter or an envelope, oblivious to the bustling crowd about him. Some of his greatest themes were composed when he was walking along in the pouring rain, for in the worst weather he was a familiar figure in the streets of Vienna, and, though often the object of much ridicule and many gibes, he was profoundly inattentive to his surroundings, as his mind was wholly occupied with his music. His friends were not unaccustomed to have him break off in the midst of a conversation and begin to write rapidly some motif which had presented itself to him.

This great composer would play for hours at a stretch, and in order to cool his hands, which often became feverish, he would seize a water jug and walk about the room, pouring the water first on one hand and then on the other, utterly ignoring the fact that there was no receptacle to catch it. This was the cause of many of his hasty retreats from his lodgings, for the slightest complaint would cause him to give notice to quit, so puerile was he at times. As a result he sometimes was paying for no fewer than three different lodgings at the same time, which, after engaging for a month, he had abruptly left in a day.

Though Haydn ranks next to Beethoven on the list of eccentric musicians, still their peculiarities were very unlike. Beethoven lived in the midst of disorder and confusion, while Haydn averred that he could not compose a line unless everything in his study was in its exact place. Even every ornament must be where it belonged.

He always rose early to write, for he found his greatest inspiration when the birds were singing in the dewy morning hours. His most extraordinary characteristic, however, was to don his full court dress, with bob wig, hat and ruffles, and put on his finger a certain ring before he wrote a line, for he declared that he had not a musical idea unless so attired.

Mozart cannot be called eccentric in the same sense as the two mentioned, for they were very retiring—in fact, reclusive—while he was to a great extent a man of the world. To him, however, must be credited one of the strangest documents that perhaps have ever been written.

He became engaged to a young woman, and at the request of his future mother-in-law he drew up in the presence of an attorney a contract which bound him to marry one of the woman's daughters within three years, the said daughter always having the liberty to refuse the composer if she wished to marry another. But in case Mozart was unable to carry out his intention through lack of the necessary funds or through the woman's refusal he pledged himself to support her in the condition of a stranger, no matter where or how she lived, all her life. This support was to be a fixed sum paid quarterly or half yearly.

Wagner, too, was not exempt from peculiar fancies. His mind seemed to run to the grewsome, and during his lifetime he had his grave constructed. It was in the garden back of his home, and he would often go and look at it that he might not forget its existence. But the worst of it was that he constantly insisted that his friends should remember it, too, and when he was entertaining them at dinner he would suddenly break off the conversation and begin declaiming on eternity and the grave.

"My friends," he would say, "in the midst of life we are in death. Death is a lot that we all must face, even so great a man as myself. I, too, must die. I should like very much to show you my grave, if you will allow me."

And, starting from the dinner table, he would lead the way, followed by his guests, to the corner of the garden where his grave was, and there he would give his companions further dissertations on eternity.

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness, except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest,

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness so given on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds.

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $4,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $668.10.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 2 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $150,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is great and promises to be quickly sold,

Feb. 11th, 1908.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without mucking, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,461.07 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,868 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

What Every Woman Requires for Headache Langour

Mrs. Mark Flanagan Gives Advice that is Sound, Useful and True.

Has your strength given out?
Do you feel languid and tired this spring?
Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework?
Thousands feel just the same,—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanagan of Eel ux Junction — here is her experience.
"I will never again suffer the tortures of deadening spring illness — never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."
Women who are continually pale, tired and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing down pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c at all dealers.

"Slats" was Caught in the Bath Tub

"Slats" Reilly was caught in a funny predicament when the fire bell rang last evening. Reilly had just stripped and was in the bath tub when clang! clanglwent the fire bell. It didn't take George half an hour to make up his mind and he pulled out his trousers and came down the brass pole with his coat in his hand. A rug did service for a pair of braces and rubber boots were donned without stockings. The rubber coat covered any deficiencies in dress and George was on the fire wagon.—Lindsay Warder.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Youth Did Not Tell the Truth

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Joe Fortin, the seven-year-old boy, who struck the city hall lately and said he had come all the way from Blind River, and that he had run away from home, did not tell Mr. John Kenna, of the Associated Charities Office, the truth. Mr. Kane got at the real facts through a telegram he received last night, which said the boy had been sent to the House of Providence at Peterborough. Out, but instead had reached here. On learning this, and other facts, which did not at all tally with Joe's story, Mr. Kane put him on a train and sent him to Peterborough and he is likely in the institution there by now. This youthful hero told a story of his parents making him work too hard, but it turns out both his father and mother are dead.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First, these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glycerlc extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

Wedding Bells

BATESON—BRADSHAW.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Bradshaw, when their daughter, Miss Alice, was united by Rev. A. G. Colbert, to Mr. George Bateson of New York.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss D. Romagk, and was attended by Miss Mabel Adams as flower girl. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk muslin, and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies. The flower girl was attired in point d'esprit over white silk and carried a basket of sweet peas. The rooms of the house were beautiful arrangements of green and golden glow.

The going away costume of the bride was of navy tan and blue cloth, with hat and gloves to match.

The many gifts received by the bride was a high tribut to the esteem in which she was held.

The following were among the guests present;—Mrs. A. Gillies, Toronto; Miss Jennie Browne, Peterborough; Mr. A. H. Seymour, Kingsmount.

POLICE

The preliminary hearing in the charge of perjury against Joseph Levasseur, Jr., was taken before Magistrate Dumble at the police court yesterday, and the defendant will in all probability be committed for trial on the charge, although the case was enlarged until Tuesday morning at the request of Levasseur's counsel. This was done by the magistrate, because Judge Weller is out of the city and in the case of commitment the defendant would not be able to renew his bail until after the Judge returned.

James Baldwin, who is charged with beating Abraham Aboud, was yesterday morning remanded for a week on account of the non appearance of Crown Attorney Wood, who was late at the city court.

It is learned that Aboud has during the past week been lying seriously ill at his home on Norwood, and grave fears are entertained as to his recovery. Should the Assyrian die, a new phase of the case will present itself.

The three boys who were charged with stealing cement bags from the city, were dismissed by Magistrate Dumble, after a severe lecture.

Sad Death of Miss Nellie Galvin

Seldom is it that the hand of death falls upon so young, so promising, so clever and youthful a person as Miss Nellie Galvin, who passed away yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, at the early age of 17 years. The deceased young lady was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Galvin of Ennismore, in which township she was greatly beloved by both young and old, and where the news of her sad death was received yesterday with universal regret. She was a particularly bright girl and was just concluding her High School course. Her death was due to an acute attack of appendicitis.

Miss Galvin was a sister of Rev. Father Galvin of Peterborough, and also of Sister Bernadette, a nun at St. Joseph's Hospital. Besides these, three sisters and three brothers are residing at home.

The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence at the Cross, Ennismore, to St. Martin's church, and thence to the new cemetery in Ennismore.

Peruna Strikes at the Root of the Trouble.

MR. S. J. MASSEY.

Mr. S. J. Massey, formerly a resident of Toronto, and a well-known business man, writes from 367 Guy street, Montreal, Quebec:

"I wish to testify to the good results I have derived from the use of Peruna.

"Having been troubled for several years with catarrh of the head, I decided to give Peruna a fair trial and I can truly say I have received great benefit from its use. It evidently strikes at the very root of the trouble and good results are soon noticeable.

"I have no hesitancy whatever in recommending Peruna as a reliable catarrh remedy."

There are several kinds of indigestion. The trouble may be due to sluggishness of the liver, derangements of the bowels, enlargement of the pancreas, or it may be due to the stomach itself.

In nearly all cases of stomach indigestion catarrh of the stomach is the cause. The only permanent relief is to remove the catarrh.

Peruna has become well-known the world over as a remedy in such cases.

Lindsay Young Man's Dream Rudely Dissipated by Irate Parent

Lindsay, Aug. 29.— He was a young man employed in a Kent street store and last evening with scores of other young people he wended his way to the rollar rink to enjoy a few hours' pleasure with no thoughts of impending danger flooding his young brain.

Among the merry throng of skaters was a young lady for whom his young heart beat rapidly, and with her as a companion he glided around the floor. His happiness was complete.

It appears that the girl's father is a strict disciplinarian, and is strongly opposed to young men paying attentions to his sixteen-year-old daughter and, unfortunately for the young man, the father made his appearance while the young couple were resting on the verandah, after their walk. The indignant parent immediately got down to business without any preliminary sparring, and after administering a severe reprimand to the youthful couple in the meshes of love's young dream, proceeded to get the shoe in action and imparted to the youth a momentum which was not impeded or relaxed until he landed on terra firma.

A number of the young man's associates met him afterwards. There was silence deep as death and when his experience was narrated the girl's father was voted the meanest man out of doors.

War in South America Now Close at Hand

Holland Finds Little Encouragement to Seek Peaceful Settlement

The Hague, Aug. 29.—The Netherlands government today received an unofficial copy of the second note sent to it by Jose de Jesus Paul, the foreign minister of Venezuela, in connection with the difficulty which has arisen in the West Indies between the two states. The original of this communication has not yet come to hand.

The cabinet met this morning and considered this note at length. The general tenor of it does not give the Netherlands government much encouragement to persevere in its attitude to reach a peaceful settlement with Venezuela.

The Venezuelan note, after making reference to the communication of July 20 relative to the handing of his passports to Minister de Reus, because he was considered incompetent to serve as a medium for maintaining the existing friendly relations between the two countries, says that the action of Venezuela, which is entirely personal against M. de Reus, did not contemplate a loosening of the ties of friendship between the Netherlands and Venezuela, which friendship Venezuela desired to maintain.

FINDS NEW GRIEVANCES.

Continuing, Senor Paul says that since this time, however, other incidents have occurred which impart a graver significance to the actions of M. de Reus.

The note then recites the arrival of the Netherlands cruiser Gelderland at Porto Cabello and La Guayra without firing the usual salute either upon arrival or when she sailed with M. de Reus, and the refusal of the cruiser's commander to allow the port commandant to come on board. Neither the arrival of the Gelderland nor the object of her coming was announced to the Venezuelan authorities as it should have been.

SAYS SLIGHT IS MARKED.

The note complains that even the Dutch consuls at Porto Cabello and La Guayara, who went alongside the Gelderland, were greeted each by a salute of seven guns. This emphasized the omission to salute Venezuelan ports duly and properly fortified.

Senor Paul refers at length to the "shameful attack" upon the residence of Senor Lopez, the Venezuelan consul at Curacao, and brings his letter to a conclusion by declaring that "In consequence of M. de Reus' offence against the government of this republic, the neglect of the cruiser Gelderland to salute the Venezuelan flag and the attack upon the Venezuelan consul at Curacao and the members of his family and the desecration of the escutcheon over the consulate at Curacao, the Venezuelan government finds itself obliged to declare to the government of your excellency that so long as the satisfaction due and the reparation for the offenses and grievances referred to in this note have not been given, it cannot maintain friendly relations between the two countries.

M. de Reus arrived here at five o'clock this evening from the West Indies and went at once to the foreign office to report.

Had a Narrow Escape from Death

Mr. Robt. Elliott, 139 Sherbrooke street, dealer in pumps, had a very narrow escape while at work on the farm of Messrs. Arnott Brooks in North Monaghan, on Thursday. Mr. Elliott was repairing a pump and putting in tile at the bottom of a 54-foot well. He went down to the bottom for the purpose of unloosening the wooden chain when the stone walls of the well commenced to give, several feet at the bottom falling in. Mr. Elliott managed to climb about half way out of the well on the stone and his assistants lowered a rope and pulled him out of danger. A few minutes afterwards he started down to the bottom again and once more the wall began to cave in with the result that he had to cut the rope half way down and thus lost a new rope and two chains, it being impossible to go ahead with the work.

SEVENTY DEAD, MOST OF WHOM ARE NEGROES, AND A LOSS IN PROPERTY OF TWO MILLIONS

Effect of Week's Inundations in Three of the Southern States

Many Towns Were Half Destroyed

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—Sixteen dead in the vicinity of Augusta, with probably an equal number of deaths in the outlying districts from which reports have not been received, a property loss of two millions of dollars in Augusta and vicinity, two thousand persons homeless, summarizes the situation in the Georgia flood district.

Possibly a million dollars has been lost in North and South Carolina because of the high water. The loss of life is comparatively small in these states, warnings having been given before the great sweep of water shot over the cities.

It will probably be found that the total death list in the three states of Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina will be in the neighborhood of seventy Most of the dead are negroes.

Throws Stones and Explode a Steer

Plymouth, Ind., August 31.— Oscar Huff, living near Bremen, lost two valuable steers in an unusual manner. His cattle were grazing in a field where Mr. Huff was blasting stumps. While he was absent the steers ate a quantity of the dynamite.

When driving them in at evening Mr. Huff threw a stone at the herd. The missile struck one of the steers that had eaten of the dynamite and the shock exploded the stuff in the animal's stomach and the steer was blown to smithereens. The concussion caused by the explosion jarred the other steer, and it, too, blew up. The shocks caused by the explosions were felt for several miles.

Inquest Held Yesterday

An inquest to ascertain the cause of the death of the late John Greer, who succumbed on Sunday morning to his injuries received in the explosion of gasoline at "My Valets" on Saturday at noon, was held yesterday afternoon at Comstock's undertaking establishment.

Coroner Gray empanelled the following jury and addressed them briefly;—F. W. Miller, foreman; W.M. Morrow, W. Mitchell, W. J. Dennis, Geo. E. Elliott, Jas. Brown, C. Clancy, E. Brandt, W. Main, R. Stewart, T. Embury, T. Kelly, T. Glover, John Taylor, P. White.

The jury decided that the government should be notified that this was the second death by explosion of gasoline in the same building and that pressure be brought to bear on the government that an act should be passed to govern the use of gasoline and other explosives used in such establishments. The jury then adjourned to meet again on Wednesday.

Many New Names are on Dominion Voters' Lists

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—It is estimated that the 1907 voters' lists, which will be employed for the purposes of the approaching general election contain the names of fully 250,000 more voters than were entitled to take part in the election of 1904. The printing of the lists is now under way, and with a full staff at work in the Government Printing Bureau, excellent progress is being made. It is announced that the Liberal tour of Nova Scotia will begin on the 3rd of September at Sydney. Hon. Mr. Fielding will have with him for his tour through Nova Scotia, Hon. William Paterson, Hon. Charles Marcil and Hon. Charles R. Devlin.

Fruit Crop Two Weeks Ahead--Pears the Banner Crop This Year

Pears—Splendid crop, but only fair quality.

Peaches—Fair crop, later varieties lighter.

Plums—Good average yield.

Apples—Early varieties, good crop; later varieties fair.

Tomatoes—Good.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—The coming week will see huge shipments of fruit to Toronto. The abundance of the year's yield is indicated by the foregoing summary of conditions in the Niagara fruit belt. Though nothing is likely to prove a glut on the market, it will be seen at a glance that in no case is the yield what might be termed poor. While pears are the only banner crop, the general supply of fruits will be so good that prices will be kept fairly low. Growers are also inclined to blame hard times for this year's modest cash returns.

PEARS A GREAT CROP.

The pear trees in the fruit belt are so loaded down with fruit that in many instances the branches are trailing on the ground. Already there have been heavy shipments, but the finest fruit is yet to be marketed. Pears, and indeed all fruits, are two weeks ahead of last year; a fact which should accrue to the advantage of this year's display at the Exhibition.

The pears yet to be marketed are of good, but not excellent, quality, the Bartletts hardly so large as last year. Wise housekepers will avoid extra ripe fruit, which may prove quite wormy. Solid and greenish pears spread out in a dry place, and allowed to ripen, are excellent for preserving.

PEACHES AND PLUMS.

It was reported some time ago that a considerable proportion of the peach and plum crop had fallen off. It is true that a good deal of immature fruit was thus wasted, but a fair yield of peaches and really good yield of plums remains. A lot of the latter rotted, but even at that the trees are well loaded.

It is to be hoped that grapes will not be frostbitten, like they were in 1907. In quality they are far superior this year, and they are a good two weeks ahead. Grapes should be coming in nicely within the next week. While the bunches are not so numerous as last season, the extra size of the fruit may compensate for this, and bring the yield up to that of 1907.

Fruit growers claim that the canners have still considerable of last year's pack to dispose of in some lines. While this may be the case, there does not seem to have been a noticeable falling off in the demand from this source. The natural conclusion is that canned fruit will certain be no dearer than usual next winter and perhaps cheaper. A drop in the price of canned tomatoes is forecasted by the growers.

On the whole, this year's fruit crop has hardly a weak spot, and while little fruit is likely to be sold at sacrifice prices, there will be plenty of reasonably cheap fruit for all.

TORE OUT HER TONGUE.

As he had expected, it was not long before she and her husband appeared in the group about his coach. Hims if unrecognizable in the long beard he wore, he beckoned to the woman, who, encouraged by her husband, agreed to a trial of a powder with which he had been polishing the not over-clean teeth of several of the villagers.

Catching up a pair of forceps, as she opened her lips, he seized and tore out a large part of her tongue while the crowd looked on, frozen with horror.

Then, as the agonized husband dashed forward and caught his fainting wife in his arms, a rush was made for the coach. The crowd's first instinct was plainly to tear him to pieces. As they tore him from the coach, however, someone shouted; "Tie him to his horse and let it drag him."

The suggestion met with instant approval. One of the horses was quickly unfastened from the coach. Vergani was bound to its tail, and the animal, already frightened and rearing, was lashed to a gallop.

The victim of the mob's vengeance was dragged nearly two miles before the runaway animal was stopped. Vergani was then almost beyond recognition. The object of his vengeance will probably not recover.

SIR RICHARD LET OUT ASKS GOLDWIN SMITH TO FORM NEW PARTY

The Old "War Horse" Declines to Step Aside without a Struggle

To Form New Independent Lib. Party?

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—The most remarkable cabinet situation since the days when Sir Mackenzie Bowell went by the board as leader of the Conservative party has developed here.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has had trouble with some of his ministers. In two cases he has made up his mind that he will have new material in his cabinet, and will not withdraw from his position.

In the other two cases he has given a for the time being at least. Unlike Sir Mackenzie he considers himself as also do all fair-minded politicians, strong enough to combat successfully the warring elements.

Sir Richard Cartwright, minister of trade and commerce, refusing to act upon the hints given him by the premier from time to time, has been asked to resign from the cabinet.

Not since the premier's return from his holidays at Athabascaville, has Sir Richard received a notice to attend a meeting of council. His chair is vacant.

But this old war horse of the Liberal party did not die without a struggle. He has ever been a thorn in the side of the premier.

It will be remembered that he wanted to retire four years ago, finding himself unable to approve of many of the government's ideas.

This time when he received notice from Sir Wilfrid Laurier to resign, he did not reply. Nor has he yet replied. Instead he went to Toronto and interviewed Goldwin Smith. His object was it is said to induce the sage of the Grange to join with him in the formation of a new and independent Liberal party founded upon the old Liberal principles of 1893.

It is stated that Goldwin Smith rejected the overtures of Sir Richard —who by the way offered to provide the finances for such a movement— on the ground that he had by his constancy to the present leaders and his continual vote in favor of this procedure during recent years, put himself out of court as a critic of the government's course.

London, Aug. 29.—During the last [illegible] twelve months the number of children in London County Council schools who were taught to swim was 30,396.

Scores were Drowned

Trinidad, Colo., Aug 29.—Between twenty and thirty dead, nearly half the town swept away, thousands of dollars' damage to property and great loss of live stock tells the story of the flood at Folson yesterday. Twenty-four hours after the disaster the first definite news from the stricken town reached this city, when refugees and and passengers of a stranded Colorado and Southern train reached the city today.

Hibernians Pledge Support for Home Rule in Ireland

The following were among the resolutions passed at the Hibernian convention at Ottawa at which Peterborough was represented;

"That Irish history be taught in the Separate schools of Ontario."

"That a vote of thanks be extended to the mayor, controllers and city council as well as other citizens for the splendid reception extended the delegates during the convention.

"That a Gaelic chair be established in St. Michael's college, Toronto, and also in Ottawa university."

"That the members of the Order assist in the revival of Irish industry by purchasing when possible, goods of Irish manufacture."

"That the members of the Order strive as much as possible for the spread of the Gaelic language as well as the study of Irish music."

"That a vote be recorded of confidence in John E. Redmond, and the Irish Parliamentary party to which is pledged the support of the Order for home rule for Ireland."

"That better representation be favored in the Federal and Provincial cabinets."

"That the caricaturing of the Irish race, on the stage, in the press, and otherwise be condemned and that every member assist as much as possible in discountenancing it."

"That the provincial board be authorized to donate a prize for the best essay on Irish history, the competition to be open to pupils of Ontario schools where it is taught."

A vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Father Harkin of Almonte for his assistance during the convention, and also to the retiring officers for their good service in the past.

Boil the Water

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—As there has been an extensive traffic during the summer on the lakes which supply the city water, and as there has been a numerous population of tourists on the islands, the city water can hardly be free from a certain amount of contamination. Therefore, as a precautionary measure, it is advisable to boil the water for family use, until the cold weather sets in.

Italian Lover's Awful Revenge--Tore Out the Tongue of Young Lady

With Forceps Before Her Husband's Eyes--was Dragged to Death

Story of a Southerner's Hatred

Rome, Aug. 30.—For tearing out his former sweetheart's tongue because she had broken her promise to remain faithful while he saved enough to support her, a traveling dentist named Francesco Vergani has been dragged to death by a horse to which he was tied by the bystanders who witnessed his vengeance.

Vergani, when a youth of nineteen, fell in love several years ago with Eloise Ferrari, a girl a year his junior, and the daughter of a prosperous farmer of Ravigo Province. The girl liked him, but her parents objected that he was too young and poor to wed. Hoping to make a fortune in America, the young man took passage to New York after making his sweetheart promise to accept no husband until he returned to claim her.

The two took their vow of faithfulness in the village church, repeating together, as they concluded "May I be stricken dumb if I violate the oath I have taken."

Fortune was slower in coming to him in the New World than Vergani had hoped, and it was eight years before he considered himself able to support the woman of his choice in the fashion in which he thought she was entitled.

LEARNED DENTISTRY.

He had found employment, in the meantime, with an itinerant dentist, who, taking a fancy to the young Italian, finally made him his partner, equipped him with a smattering of dentistry, and enabled him to accumulate enough to make him, in Italy, a comparatively rich man.

Corresponding through a mutual friend, Vergani had heard regularly from his betrothed during the first six years of his exile. Then the letters suddenly ceased. The Italian was worried and anxious, but still confident that the girl remained true to him. He was confident, too, that, had anything befallen her, his friend would have informed him.

Just as he was preparing to return home, however, he learned, a month ago in Boston, that she had married a well-to-do miller of her native village.

His love turned to hatred. Vergani hastened at once to Italy, bought one of the stage coaches from which itinerant dentistry is practiced there, and drove to Monselice, a village near Padua, where he arrived during fair time, gathered a crowd and performed a number of small operations, meanwhile questioning

John Greer Dead--Burns Proved Fatal

Mr. John Greer, the unfortunate young man, who was so severely burned in an explosion of gasoline at "My Valets" on Charlotte street on Saturday at noon, succumbed to his injuries on Sunday morning.

The explosion occurred in the clothes cleaning room, while Greer was cleaning a shawl. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The unfortunate young man was enveloped in flames instantly, and ran out of the building. A gentleman standing nearby ran into Gemmell's store, and secured a table cloth with which he smothered the flames. The injured man was carried into Gemmells, and Drs. Amys, McClellan and McCullough were called, and he was removed to Nicholls hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries early yesterday morning. He was badly burned about the upper part of the body and the lower part to quite an extent.

This makes the second death as a result of gasoline explosions in the same establishment within the past two months.

The late Mr. Greer was 19 years of age, being born at Baltsboro. Deceased was well known in the city. He was a member of St. Andrew's church choir. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Aylmer street at 1.30 Tuesday afternoon interament taking place at Baltsboro.

Negro Overheard Rogers Make a Statement

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29. — Charles B. Roberts, who was mysteriously shot on the board walk last Wednesday night, is still in the Atlantic city hospital, and is very weak. The bullet, which penetrated the liver, it is feared, caused a wound which may prove fatal.

The police are firm in the belief that the solution of the mystery surrounding the shooting will follow an investigation of the movements of W. S. Williams on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, after his return to Baltimore from a sanitarium, where he had been for seven weeks. The allegation that Williams had been in a sanitarium undergoing treatment and not abroad was made to the police by his wife, who was with Roberts in a rolling chair at the time of the shooting. According to the police she contradicts a statement given out from Williams' law office.

NOT A HIGHWAYMAN.

The police of this city have entirely abandoned the theory that the assailant of the Baltimore man was a highwayman. They are awaiting a report from the Baltimore authorities who are tracing the whereabouts and actions of Mr. Williams on the night of the shooting. Two disclosures just made by the negro who was pushing the chair in which Roberts and Mrs. Williams were riding are considered important by the police.

When questioned in regard to the conversation which passed between Roberts and Mrs. Williams during the chair ride, Jesse Jackson, the negro, said, "I did not hear anything except one remark of the gentleman. I heard him say just before the man with a mask came up to us "You have broken my heart." I did not hear what the lady answered."

In addition to the fact first related by him in regard to the shooting, Jackson now says that the masked stranger applied an epithet to Roberts as he ordered him to get out of the chair. The negro also insists that he heard no demand for money following the first order "Hold up your hands!"

Malcolm Woodruff, chief of police, said today; "The highwayman theory has had little weight with us from the first. Many things that Mrs. Williams has told us of her husband are important as showing their feelings towards each other. She said that her 18 years of married life have been misery to her. Three times she declared she had had her husband put in a sanitarium. Last Tuesday he left the sanitarium and went to Baltimore. According to his wife's assertion, he called her up at the Hotel Brighton and asked her to come home with the children. She refused, saying she preferred to remain until Saturday.

"In the conversation Williams became aware that Roberts was also at Brighton. All this Mrs. Williams has told us. I believe that it is the truth; but I also believe that if her husband came to Atlantic City from Baltimore that day she was not aware of it."

THE COMING CAMPAIGN

Now that the "speaking campaign" for the prospective Federal elections, is about to be opened, it is to be hoped that the representatives of both parties will endeavor to make the attention which the people will give them of lasting value to their audiences. We quite agree with the Farmers Sun that the average Canadian may enjoy hearing one politician "go for" another; but he does not profit by it. Personal objurgation and partizan recrimination should be reserved for serious cases of wrong-doing which impose it upon the critics as a duty. We ought to be able to feel that they take up such a task with genuine regret. Too often they appear to plunge into it with unmistakable glee.

But the platform representatives of the parties might inform the people on the more important features of the national business to their permanent benefit. They could tell them what the Government is doing, and what it isn't doing but might do; and then the citizens who hear them will ever after be able to judge the proceedings at Ottawa from a firmer and more exalted altitude. They would not be compelled so often to take the statements of the debaters for granted; for they would know something about the matter in hand themselves.

A "speaking campaign" which should send the voters to studying the blue books, would be of the greatest national value. One which merely sets them to girding each other, is a positive mischief. When a speaker espouses party passions, he not only fails to contribute to the patriotic wisdom of the verdict; but he blinds his hearers against any wisdom which they might otherwise discover somewhere else. Such a course on his part betrays a consciousness that his case is, at the bottom, weak. He has no solid facts to lay before his audience which would win them to his cause; so he appeals to their inherited prejudices. The wise voter will always be on his guard against such a "Pamper". He will see his purpose and more than suspect his shallowness.

The campaign should go to the party with the best array of facts.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Lambeth Conference, we understand, devoted considerable time at its recent sessions, to the subject of Socialism, and exhorted the Church to extend its cool approval to the movement—with modifications, or rather limitations. We could desire nothing more than that the vision on which the eyes of the venerable prelates were evidently fixed, should become reality. But we fear that, with the "riders" attached, their resolutions of endorsement were valueless. We find it difficult to believe that a striving to procure just treatment for all is at the present time a prominent plank in the platform of the party. That it was one of the salient doctrines of the Master Socialist we do believe, but it is a far cry from the Socialism of the Sermon on the Mount to the Socialism of the Hyde Park demagogue. By an means let the church ally with every effort a creed embracing so altruistic a desire, and an effort to secure opportunity for all to live true human lives. That can do no harm. But it can do good harm when water fails to escape from a sieve; when a man may build as securely on sand as on a rock. In no spirit of irreverence, we must presume, that the Bishops endeavored to cope with a problem which has baffled the temporal powers with all their mundane astuteness, and that, finding failure met them like a lion in the way, they fell back on a trite ammunition hedged with an impossible privilege. Doubtless the "ideals of brotherhood" do underlie the tenets of the latter-day Socialistic faith, but we fear they are buried too deep to be useful as foundations for any practicable economic structure.

One of the most scandalous racial riots that have ever taken place in the United States was that perpetrated by an infuriated mob recently at Springfield, the capital of the State of Illinois. A negro had assaulted a white woman in a more than ordinarily brutal manner, and a negro, not the perpetrator of the foul crime, was thrashed by a resolutely determined mob. The city was for a while night in the hands of the rioters and lawbreakers, and other lives were lost in the fray.

All this happened, not in a semi-barbarous (because slavery-cursed) clime, not even in one of the proverbially rough border States, 'Bays an exchange, but in one of the most staid and respectable of the middle western communities, within little more than two hundred miles of Chicago, and in the city where Abraham Lincoln practised law more than half a century ago. Many of the lynchings that have taken place in the United States have been excused on the grounds that those barbarous outbreaks of lawlessness were survivals of frontier life, mere sudden impulses of communities in which at one time in their evolution the only means of ensuring the public safety was the vigilance committee and where it was inconvenient to keep convicts because there were no jails. Nothing of this sort can be pleaded for Springfield. It never had a frontier community experience or history. It has always been staid and respectable, if not what might be called cultured.

This Springfield incident must be regarded as an instance of reversion, not as a survival from primative conditions. It is a rare proof of the degeneration of a society that has always stood for law and order till now. It becomes a serious question for the American people to consider, whether this reversion is typical and how far and fast it may be spreading. Our neighbors, in their wide departure from the "simple life" have become inadequately different to the value of human life, and the comparative absence of shock caused by such an outbreak as the one at Springfield may be due to this form of degeneracy.

Against such forms of lawlessness it is necessary for all civilized communities to guard. On those who are charged with the task of enforcing law and keeping order rests a heavy responsibility. Canadians have been long accustomed to see crime punished with almost absolute certainty. Even in our distant and not long ago inaccessible West there has never been a "frontier" stage of lawlessness. We have kept up at times expense a body of mounted police who proved singularly efficient, and who are now, quietly giving way to no less efficient local guardians of the peace. But it will not do to leave such matters to settle themselves. The newer provinces of the West and the older provinces of the East must vigilantly guard society against crime by prosecuting criminals.

Pretty sentiments of cordiality and fraternal feeling between the British race and the United States have marked the visit of the American fleet to New Zealand and Australia. Yet in 1845 Mr. Benton in the United States declared that the United States should count on expelling the British power from this continent, giving freedom to Ireland and assisting the British people to reform their own government at home. Mr. Benton, on the same occasion, ventured on the prophecy that the man was then alive, and with a beard on his face, who would see an American army in Ireland and an American general on the streets of the streets of London. Times have changed.

August time tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative improvement will be noticed. Of course, dull health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves," then the stomach. Heart and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by all dealers.

English People Becoming More Emotional

London, Aug. 26.—The theory—based on the outburst of enthusiasm in court when Mr. Shaw, the English editor, charged with blackmail, was acquitted—that the English people are becoming more emotional was strongly supported in an interview by Mr. Geo. R. Sims.

"There is not the slightest doubt that our people are becoming extraordinarily hysterical," he said, "and that the general character of the public is changing for the worse. The growth of emotionalism is a sign of degeneracy, a very evident sign, too.

"Such an outburst as occurred inside the court would never have happened years ago. It was scandalous. The crowd in the court was a picked crowd, every person was admitted by ticket, and it is terrible to think that such people should behave as they did in an English court of justice—waving hats and handkerchiefs in the Lord Chief Justice of England still upon the bench.

"Scenes outside a court are trifles as compared with this. There always have been crowds outside the Old Bailey, and the police are quite able to check any undue outburst. It is the disturbance inside which is so serious. It is turning a court of justice into a theatre of transpontine melodrama, and it must be stopped. The only way to do this is for the judge to make a summary example of the chief disturbers, on the score of contempt of court. If this kind of thing, cheering a verdict, is not checked, it is easy to conceive a jury being hooted or giving its decision or witnesses being hissed and "booed." Such a condition of things is by no means remote after such a scene.

M. A. Dupont, a Frenchman visiting England, writes to the Daily Mail to express his amazement at the scene in court "I could hardly realize," he said, "that the extraordinary outburst of frantic enthusiasm was British. We are accustomed in France to consider the English as the most unemotional and self-restrained people in the world. I honestly do not believe that even in France, or in any Latin country, everything worse could have taken place.

PEARL RICHARDSON.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson, of Asphodel, were bereaved on Tuesday of last week by the death of their eldest daughter Pearl, in her 17th year. The little one had been convalescing from an attack of scarlatina, but had previously been in good health, and although she did not show any alarming symptoms and seemed almost recovered, she suffered from a relapse which proved fatal.

A BAD PLAN OF TRAVEL.

The Scheme That Worried One Woman on Her Trip Abroad.

"When I hear of people joyfully making plans for their first trip abroad," said a man who has made many a transatlantic voyage, "I am tempted to give them a little bit of advice, based, of course, on my own observations, but particularly upon a remark made to me by a middle aged woman whose seat in the saloon was next to mine on my return trip last summer. This woman had a husband, and it was to him that she referred in answering my question one day. I asked her what she had been doing on the other side. She looked half quizzically, half reproachfully, at her spouse and said, 'Well, my principal occupation was trying to keep track of John.'

"It developed that her concern was not over what John might do in European capitals, but simply related to the difficulty each had in meeting the other after pursuing their several ways in a strange city, she to browse among the shops and he, an inveterate sightseer, to visit this, that and the other spot of interest. Their general scheme, as I was informed, was to diverge, say, in the morning, following their respective bents and arranging to meet at a certain place at a certain time. The plan sounds feasible, but it is experimental, and, as both of them found, it was an experiment that didn't work well. First one would be delayed and then the other, and if you have ever waited for a person in a foreign city you can appreciate the particular variety of anxiety that comes in about ten minutes. There's a feeling that something has happened to the missing person, for one thing, and, for another, there's an increasing realization that you yourself are wasting time. If you start out to look up the delinquent, the case becomes practically hopeless. The needle in the haystack is easy compared to that search. When the reunion does come at dinner time in the hotel or pension, explanations are received with tears or haughty disdain. Oh, I know; I've been through it."

A Kaleidoscope of Fashions.

For my part I commend a quick changing fashion and could I have chosen my period would have fixed on the fickle years of the first empire, when fashions shifted from week to week, and that, too, with such fine shades of difference that only the most frivolous could follow them. Then the great conqueror brought to Paris finery from the ends of the earth, muslins from India, garlands of roses from Bengal, stuffs shining with gold and silver from Cairo; from Turkey, of course, turbans, and from the far east shawls—shawls from Kashmir, from Persia and from the Levant; shawls particolored, blue—bright blue—and red and green and black and the clear yellow of the sun; shawls patterned with all the interlacings of Asian caprice and fit not only to hang from the shoulders of the fair, but to give a coquette of eastern fancy day long visions of the orient. From the past, for all time as well as all the earth was then Napoleon's, came the fashion of the troubadours—chapeaux à Cresneaux, sleeves à la mameluk, cheveux à l'enfant, lending to a very modern period who can say what charming Gothic airs? How do not such revolutions of fashion enlarge the feminine heart and teach it to live in all ages and all climates!—Lucy M. Donnelly in Atlantic.

A Simple Salad.

Cabbage scorned as plebeian takes on an air as a salad—not cold slaw or hot slaw, but a crisp, easily mixed salad with French dressing.

Cut the cabbage with fine grater and put it in ice water for an hour before serving. Dry on a clean napkin and cover with a highly seasoned French dressing about ten minutes before serving.

If a clove of garlic is rubbed over the bowl in which the dressing is made, the flavor is much improved for many persons.

While one would not serve this salad at a formal meal, it makes an appetizing lunch dish.

A Pan Broil.

When it is not convenient to open the lid of a stove, as on ironing day, a beefsteak or chop can be given a pan broil.

Have the pan very hot. Put the meat in it and turn almost immediately to the other side until seared. Keep turning the meat occasionally till it is done, though this need not be quite so often as when the steak is over live coals.

A Spanish Ghost Story.

The atmosphere of Spain agrees most perfectly with all sorts of spirits, and a delightfully ghoulish story is told of the punishment of a bold, bad man who killed a friar. At the time of the crime the murderer escaped to Portugal, where he remained so long that on his return nobody recognized him. One morning, when he was walking along the street, he saw a fine sheep's head in the market place and, fearing it might be purchased while he went home for a servant, he secured it, but, ashamed to be seen carrying a package, he concealed it under his cloak. Unfortunately, blood trickled from the head, and a member of the holy brotherhood, perceiving it, stopped him and asked, "What bearest thou, cavalier?" "Nothing," was the mendacious reply, which naturally excited suspicion, and the monk cried, "My brother, thou hast committed unlawful homicide beneath thy cape." And behold, when the cloak was torn aside there was—the head of the murdered friar!—Los Angeles Times.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First, these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas bloating, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by all dealers.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet the requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

A Tiny State.

The miniature republic of San Marino is a mere dot on the map of Europa, being the smallest state in the world as well as the oldest independent republic. Its area is thirty-eight square miles, only little less than twice that of the island of Manhattan. It lies entirety in Italy, but is wholly independent. Its situation is on the easterly side of the Etruscan Apennines and about twelve miles from Rimini, on the Adriatic sea. The frontier is only twenty-four miles in length, and the population would make only a small city ward, numbering less than 12,000. There is no public debt, and the annual expenses met by taxation amount to $60,000. The country has bronze and silver currency, coined by Italy, 158,000 lire of the latter and 105,600 of the former. The principal exports are wine, cattle and stone. The military force of the republic numbers 95 officers and 950 men.

Still Possible.

Maude—Well, I've no reason to doubt it, although I understand he hasn't a dollar to his name.

Turn About.

Dr. Sharpe—I say, Mr. Dooley, you've a long time paying me your account.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 20th specifications of the Commissioners, dated for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontashine, in the province of Quebec, 196.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, which point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontashine, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.-Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 2.6 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.13 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also at the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of material and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1,. District "C"	$150.000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150.000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & F"	150.000
Sec No. 4, District "E"	150.000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200.000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100.000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners, to sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the fire regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the laws and regulations respecting fires in the different provinces wherein the work is being performed.

If the Earth Should Stop.

The stopping of a projectile always results in the generation of heat. The velocity and weight of a projectile being known, the amount of heat developed by its stoppage can be calculated. In the case of large bodies moving rapidly the result of the calculation is something astounding. For example, the earth weighs 6,000,000,000,000 tons and travels in its orbit at the rate of over eighteen miles a second. Should it strike a target strong enough to stop its motion the heat developed by the shock would be sufficient not merely to fuse the earth, but also to reduce a large portion of it to vapor. It has been calculated that the amount of heat generated by a collision as colossal would equal that obtained from the burning of fourteen globes of coal each equal to the earth in size. And should the earth after its stoppage fall into the sun, as it certainly would do, the amount of heat developed by its impact on the sun would be equal to that generated by the combustion of 5,000 earths of solid carbon.

A Mark of Respect.

Andrew Carnegie was entertaining a Montenegrin prince at Skibo castle. The morning after the prince's arrival a party of guests set out in a huge motor car for a long run, and as they whizzed past an inn a great crowd of highlanders rose from the benches before the inn and saluted.

The prince seemed amazed at the highland dress.

"Why," he asked, "do these men go bare legged?"

"It is a local custom," said Mr. Carnegie, "a mark of respect for you, sir. In some places people take off their hats to show honor to distinguished visitors; here they take off their trousers."

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat, and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen circling from one end of the street to the other.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

He Meets His "Soul Mate"

But a Case of Too Much Mother-in-law.

Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 27.—Ferdinand P. Earle, an artist, who less than a year ago discarded his wife and son that he might marry Miss Julia Kuttner, whom he called his "soul mate," was separated from her Tuesday, when on a charge of grievous assault upon her he was committed to the Orange County jail here to await action by the October grand jury. With her month-old child the woman left Monroe about the time he was arrested to go to her mother's home in New York.

NURSE SWORE OUT WARRANT.

Earle's arrest was on a warrant sworn out by Miss Ina T. Berry, a nurse, of New York, who has been in attendance upon Mrs. Earle since before the birth of her child last month. It follows alleged assaults that, the nurse says, began prior to the baby's birth, and which, according to the sworn complaint to which Earle pleaded guilty before Judge Gilbert Carpenter, at Monroe, today, have practically been continuous. According to this statement, Mrs. Earle, while her baby was less than a fortnight old, was compelled to leave her bed and stand for nearly two hours while Earle lectured her on her general unworthiness.

NEIGHBOR ANSWERS CRIES.

On other occasions, the complaint says she was beaten about the head and face and body until the services of a physician were necessary. Earle is also accused by neighbors of having blacked her eyes.

That there was trouble in the Earle household first became known in Monroe last Sunday. Thomas Hayes, who lives near the Earl place, was aroused about midnight by cries of "murder" and "help!" He grasped a shotgun and started for the Earle home, whence the cries came. On the way two of Earle's Gray Dane dogs attacked him. He killed both of them and went to the Earle house. Earle, half clad, stood on the verandah.

"I heard cries for help and I came," replied Mr. Hayes.

"Well," said Mr. Earl, "it is very good of you, but there is no trouble here. It's a false alarm."

KEPT MRS. EARLE A PRISONER.

Mr. Hayes reported the incident in town yesterday, when it developed that for some days the Earle place had been a sort of armed camp. Mrs. Earle being kept a close prisoner with her baby in one part of the house, while her mother, Mrs. Amelia Kuttner, and her brothers, Alfred and Charles, were in another part. Alfred and his mother repeatedly protested against the treatment being accorded Mrs. Earle, and Alfred, according to his evidence in Monroe today had a great deal to put upon him for his pains.

TOO MUCH MOTHER-IN-LAW.

When it was thereupon explained to him in court that he must furnish $500 bail for his appearance before the Grand Jury, Earle replied that he did not wish anything but permission to see his wife and baby before he was taken away. This, he was told, could not be permitted. Then he asked permission to send a note. This was granted and a servant left with the missive. Almost immediately came an answer from Mrs. Earle.

In substance it told the artist she was done with him forever; that she had been disillusioned by his abuse and wished never to see or hear from him again, but that he would ever be welcome to see their child. Earle read the note, and turning to the sheriff, said;

"I see it all now. There is too much mother-in-law in this. I am ready to go with you."

HIS SERVICES.

What Became of All the Bills He Introduced in Congress.

"Yes, my fellow citizens," said the political candidate, "if you have paid any attention to the work of congress you will have noticed that during the past session I introduced twenty-two bills, each of which was intended to benefit this community. I stand before you today with the proud consciousness of having served you faithfully and to the best of my ability. These twenty-two bills would, if they had been passed, have made this one of the most favored districts on God's green earth, and"—

"Oh," yelled a man in the gallery, "we know you introduced 'em, all right, but what happened to 'em after that?"

"Gentlemen, I appeal to your sense of honor. Do you consider it fair that I should be interrupted in this manner? Is it right that I should"—

"There ain't no harm in answerin' the question, is there?" asked another of the statesman's hearers.

"Well, sir, I will tell you what became of those bills, my fellow citizens. Every one of them was printed in the Congressional Record, where, if you will look over the files, you may find them today. But to revert to the real question, gentlemen, I do not hesitate to promise that no man living in this, the most splendid district in our grand old state, shall appeal to me in vain if you shall deem it best to send me back to Washington, where I have served you with such signal ability."

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness, except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds.

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 4,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts at three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, frame, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,454 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $662.50.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $150,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once, this is sweet and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 35 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 35 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run to debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 2 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 5 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $1,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,040 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Clean Up Inside

In spite of all your careful habits, its safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Sangster, of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine; they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills—to-day—25c at all dealers.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Trent Valley Canal

Speaking of the Trent Valley Canal, the Belleville Ontario says :—"There are only fifty-eight miles of canalized streams to be made navigable, and upon thirty miles of this, from Campbellford to Trenton, work is being rapidly pushed, and surveys have been made of the northern missing link, which, when completed, will open up continuous barge navigation from Port William and Port Arthur, the present distributing point of Northwest wheat, to Liverpool, the chief ultimate market. This will give a route for our wheat, and for an expenditure of ten or twelve millions, four hundred or five hundred miles shorter than the Erie Canal, which will require the expenditure by the United States, of $101,000,000 to make it of even inferior carrying capacity to the Trent waterway."

Eminent Doctors Praise Its Ingredients.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of The Eclectic Medical Review says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription" :

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back. With leucorrhœal chronic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, painful menstruation and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods) arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If some or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general debilitement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root :

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhages, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Breach of Promise Case

Prominent Citizen Charged with Trifling with a Widow's Affections

For some time, it is alleged, one of our prominent citizens has paid more or less attention to a young and beautiful widow of this city, forgetting, or at least not heeding the advice of the immortal Mr. Weller to his son Samuel, to "beware of the widders."

He now claims that he was not serious in his intentions and that he was not attached to her, but however that may have been the widow became attached to him, and as he seems to have lost interest in the matter she has attached his property, which is a form of attachment that he does not enjoy.

The result is, that he finds himself the defendant in a first-class breach of promise case and his questionable attitude towards the widow will be given an airing in the near future

The parties in the case are so prominent that it is feared that no court room will hold the vast crowd curious, by attending the trial, so it will be held in the Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening, September 11th, under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A., for whose benefit the proceeds will be devoted.

In other words, it will be a mock court trial, and it promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of many years, as a large number of our leading people will participate in the proceedings.

The committee having the trial in charge have engaged Col. A. V. Newton, the well known lawyer-lecturer of Worcester, Mass., to attend to the details and personally conduct the entertainment.

Coll. Newton has had remarkable success in conducting similar entertainments in the larger cities of the United States as well as a number in Canada, and without doubt the breach of promise trial will be here as elsewhere, an event long to be remembered with pleasure.

Young's Point Saw Mill was Destroyed by Fire

Young's Point, Aug. 28 — The Young's Point saw mill has again been destroyed by fire On Thursday morning when Mr. Webb, one of the employes, was starting the fire in the furnace to prepare power for the day's run, he noticed a small blaze in the mill He hurried down to the village in search of assistance, and when he got back the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to stop its progress and the entire mill was destroyed

A quantity of lumber piled in the vicinity was also burned, but the shingles and most of the products were saved.

The building being entirely of wood was favorable for a fire and it disappeared with rapidity. The machinery in the engine and boiler room was damaged, and the saws, carriages, etc., were destroyed

The mill belonged to Messrs. A. Dunn and Ed. Young, and the loss will be partly covered by insurance Mr. John H. Miller, 324 Water St., was the sawyer, and he assisted in saving the tools.

Duck Shooting Will Soon be Here

Already the sportsmen of this city are getting ready for the duck-shooting season and many of the old guns have been taken down off the wall and clean d The ducks appear to be very plentiful this season, and when the season opens on September 1st a large number of local sportsmen will launch out bound for Rice Lake or some other rendezvous where the birds are plentiful.

Those who have had occasion to take a trip down the Otonabee say that the ducks may be seen in large flocks flying towards their feeding grounds. This, along with other signs, goes to show that those who go shooting will not go in vain.

Why Do Women Worry

First Sign of Failing Health

Worry is a disease—and it's more—it produces other diseases, because it breaks down the nerves and saps the vitality of the body.

When a pity women don't realize that if they were well—if the blood was nutritious—if the nerves were strong—if all the organs were active—then the little things that irritate and prey on the mind wouldn't receive a moment's thought.

The woman who worries has a poor appetite—she sleeps poorly. If it only lasted for a day or two it might be of small consequence—but she grows limp, miserable, unhappy — worse day by day.

She needs Ferrozone which cures worry by curing the conditions that render worry possible. For nervous, weak women, no tonic is so good; thousands it has cured just like Mrs. M. E. Ethrington, of Troy, who writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, fagged, and completely worn out No doubt it is quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong and in fact I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

This is why it gives color, clearness to the skin, buoyancy to the step, brightness to the eyes—because with good digestion and activity of the body in all its parts there's health Price 50c per box at all dealers.

Mr. Harry Long Upset in Chemong Lake

Chemong, Aug. 29 — Mr. Harry Long, while fishing in Chemong Lake on Thursday afternoon, was accidentally upset seventy-five yards from shore, according to bystanders and had a narrow escape from drowning. He was still fishing from a canoe, when the accident, which he cannot explain, occurred.

Mr. Long could not swim, but fortunately grabbed the canoe and hung on. He called for assistance, and two young men, Messrs. E and C. Tilford, who happened to be near, hurried out in a skiff and brought Mr. Long to shore and safety. Little the worse for his unpleasant experience.

Rogers and Mohl will Meet Friday Night

Those who saw Friday night a wrestling bout between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl will be glad to learn that they will have an opportunity this week of seeing the big fellows in action once again, this time under the Graeco-Roman rules, which is Mohl's favorite style. At the conclusion of Friday night's match, Mohl stated to the crowd that he would like an opportunity to meet his conqueror at the Graeco-Roman game and Rogers immediately expressed his willingness. The result was that the managers of the two men got together afterwards and arranged a match to take place here in the Brock street rink next Friday night under Graeco-Roman rules as Mohl requested.

Mohl is confident that he can beat the Yankee under that style. He has been beaten only once at Graeco-Roman, Lundin, the terrible Swede accomplishing the trick Mohl was the only man to defeat Cheseu, the French Graeco-Roman wrestler in Montreal last spring, and has no superiors at that style. Rogers, however, thinks that he can defeat the German under any other rules

Mohl left Saturday for Buffalo but will be back next week for the match. Rogers will spend the week here and intends to train vigorously during the period, asking as many local men as possible to work him out

New Agitators Want Home Rule in Ireland --Loyalty of the Irish

Once Opposed to the National Aspirations They are Now Pledged to a Man to Realize Them

London, Aug. 31.—The recently founded Irish Imperial Home Rule Association, whose motto is "Federation, not Separation", has issued a statement setting forth its aims, the chief of which is the establishment of a Parliament in Ireland, and of an executive responsible to it for the internal administrative government of Ireland, definitely subject and contributory to the imperial Parliament in matters of imperial importance.

"Extravagant and unsympathetic Irish governent in the past has", the statement says, "identified imperialism, in the minds of Irishmen with Irish national decay. The reaction from this misunderstanding has, unfortunately, placed Irishmen in the position of appearing to be opposed to the idea of empire.

"Out of this dual misunderstanding a deadlock has arisen, and toward its dissipation the association hopes to demonstrate the truth of the proposition that the institution of Irish self-government is not only necessary to the domestic welfare of Ireland, but is demanded by the progress and consideration of the empire to the foundation of which Irishmen have so largely contributed."

AN ORANGEMAN'S VIEWS.

In this connection Lindsay Crawford, grand master of the Independent Orangemen of Ireland, contributes an interesting paper to the Daily Chronicle. Mr. Crawford says:

"Ireland has entered on the last and most interesting phase of her centuryold struggle for self-government, and forces hitherto antagonistic are converging on the national highway that leads to Home Rule with the empire. The main causes of internecine strife and division,—the Church, the landlords, education—have, one by one, been removed, from the sphere of controversy, and many of those who fought on opposite sides in the Church and land ware are now to be found on the same side preparing for the final assault on the remnant of the ascendancy that is intrenched behind Dublin castle.

"For the first time since the union the political struggle in Ireland has assumed a distinctively national aspect, untrammeled by considerations that, in the past, tended so much to divide the Irish people into hostile religious camps. There are now only Dublin castle and the parasites who there batten on the decay of the Irish nation. This is the last line of defence of unionism in Ireland, and it is manned almost exclusively by the professional classes and permanent officials. Dublin castle will appeal in vain to the forces that in the past propped up the ascendancy. It is cut off from the main currents of national life, and has few friends even on the unionist side.

IRELAND FOR THE IRISH.

"From the time when Castereagh's intrigues forced Ireland into a parliamentary union with Great Britain the agitation has assumed many phases and been conducted under various guises, but, stripped of externals and artificialities, it stands to-day, as in the days of O'Connell, for national freedom within the empire—for the right of Ireland to develop along Irish lines, and to realize within herself, and within the limits of empire, her own national life and individual characteristics. Reduced to a well-known political formula, it simply means 'government according to Irish ideas.' It is at this interesting juncture in the affairs of Ireland that two new movements have originated—one in Belfast, the other in Dublin. The former, composed mainly of independent Orangemen, is the northern union, and is an association of Ulstermen, for the promotion of unity and co-operation among all Irishmen working for the better government of Ireland. It takes a situ basis Mr. Redmond's resolution of March 28th last. The Irish Imperial Home Rule Association is the outcome of the devolution campaign and the Liberal revival in Dublin. It promises to be a powerful body. The commercial and professional community in Dublin is largely represented on its roll of members. Imperial Home Rule is the first plank in its program. The objects of the association have been defined and limited as follows:—

(a) To advance the internal development and consolidation of Ireland, and establish her position as a part of the British Empire.

"(b) To promote the establishment of a Parliament in Ireland, and of an executive responsible to it for the internal and administrative government of Ireland, definitely subject and contributory to the imperial Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland in matters of imperial importance.

"(c) To obtain such concessions and measures of economic readjustment from Great Britain as may be consistent with imperial self-government.

"(d) To develop Irish economic and commercial resources and to encourage the growth of such characteristics and qualities as ar enecessary to advantageous self-government and national economic independence."

"The Irish Imperial Home Rule Association is a practical attempt to prove to Englishmen that the Irish question has a personal aspect for themselves, and that it involves the pressing problem of parliamentary reform. The growing inefficiency of Parliament and its inability to grapple at one and the same time with local, national and imperial affairs has been frankly acknowledged by leaders on both sides of the House of Commons. The association rightly claims that 'a contented and prosperous Ireland would be an Imperial Ireland.' 'Irishmen,' they contend, 'are as truly imperialists as Englishmen,' and 'they must combine to say so.' As Mr. Lloyd George stated in Belfast, the Irish would be loyal people 'if they had only a dog's chance.'

The Unionist objections of 'disloyalty and separation' have hitherto been the main obstacles to a settlement of the Irish problem. It is an absurd libel on the Irish people, who have done so much to plant the flag of empire in the remotest corners of the earth.

Straight Front Corsets--Fat and Neat

The first two stretch wretched minutes into hours of misery for the modish fat woman these days. Her daily program is slow strangulation from 8 p.m., to bedtime.

But this (to others) comical anguish of the well-dressed fat woman in hot weather may be avoided. Let her reduce ten or fifteen pounds and she can wear her stylish garb with comfort at 60 in the shade.

All she needs to do is to ask her druggist for 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex, take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, and in a little while she should be losing from one-half to a pound of fat a day. At that rate she can soon get down to the comfort belt and do it without exertion, disturbance of her habits, or injury of any part. For, understand, this is a harmless home mixture that doesn't cause wrinkles, cost much, or require any assistance from exercising or starvation methods to help it get results.

Have Shot Hindoo Who Gave Away Plot to Kill Minto

Calcutta, Aug. 31.—Gossans, a native who was arrested with 30 others for complicity in the recent bomb outrages, and who turned King's evidence, was today killed by two fellow prisoners in a cell of the Alipur jail.

The evidence given by Gossans revealed a widespread rebellious conspiracy which included plans to assassinate the Viceroy, Lord Minto, and other high officials.

The revolvers with which the man was killed were smuggled into the prison by relatives of the other prisoners.

A Blonde Kissed Governor Hughes

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 1. — Tompkins County farmers gave Governor Hughes a hearty reception when he spoke to them at Trumansburg Fair yesterday afternoon. At the close of his address, even old, disgruntled politicians declared the Governor was all right, that he had made a great speech, and that if he had only given them a little consideration he could get anything he wanted. The feature of the reception was when one striking blonde impulsively threw her arms about the Governor's neck and kissed him.

NO DISPUTE WITH CABINET MINISTERS SAYS THE PREMIER

Denies the Sensational Stories--Upheaval in Cabinet not Imminent--Aylesworth Story is Denied

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attention was called to allegations published in Conservative newspapers of the existence of a serious disagreement between him and Sir Richard Cartwright, and of the prospective retirement from the cabinet of Sir Richard, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and Hon. R. W. Scott.

RIDICULOUS SUGGESTION.

With regard to the report of friction between himself and Sir Richard Cartwright, the Prime Minister declared that the suggestion was ridiculous.

All the other portions of this sensational gossip about prospective cabinet changes were also declared absolutely void of any foundation in fact.

THE AYLESWORTH STORY.

The statement in a Toronto newspaper of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth having telegraphed from Vienna "that there is no betterment in his condition" was also made out of whole cloth.

Sir Wilfrid was also asked if there was any truth in a report that Lord Strathcona was to retire from the Canadian High Commissionership in London, was an earldom, and that his place was to be taken by Sir Montagu Allan.

In reply the prime minister said; "Lord Strathcona has not intimated to me any desire to retire from the Canadian High Commissionership. He did make such an intimation a few years ago, but I begged of him to remain, and he was good enough to yield to my wishes, and so long as his health remains good I desire him to remain."

THE BEST OF FRIENDS.

Kingston, Aug. 31.—The statements put afloat regarding the retirement of Sir Richard Cartwright, through compulsion, from the Federal Cabinet, are looked on here as fairy tales. Should he step out, it will be of his own desire.

Sir Richard is in Ottawa, but will be back in Kingston on Tuesday. In conversation with personal friends he has not suggested any cabinet trouble and has not expressed any opposition to the government's policies. He has been in Ottawa for the purpose of taking part in the cabinet business. His relations with his colleagues are harmonious and Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been, and is still, his constant and abiding friend. Yarns to the contrary are Dog-Day romances.

Begs England to Return to the Unity of the Catholic Faith

Rome, Aug. 31.—Cardinal Vannutelli left yesterday for London to represent the Pope as legate at the Eucharistic Congress, which will open there Sept. 9. Cardinal Vannutelli will deliver an address in Latin before the congress, which will be a strong appeal to England to return to the unity of the Catholic faith. He will recall the bonds uniting England to Rome, from the time of St. Gregory, who called England "Terra Angelorum" (land of angels), rather than "terra anglorum" (land of Anglicans), to the time of Cardinal Vaughan, the founder of the new Cathedral at Westminster, where the congress is to be held.

Although the King will not be mentioned, the pope will send him his respectful homage as a wise ruler.

Cardinal Vannutelli says that he expects the congress to be a great success and an improving demonstration of the Catholic faith. He regretted that Cardinal Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, will perhaps be unable to attend because of his detention in Australia by the reception to the American fleet.

Roberts Was Not Shot by Williams The Police Admit

Was Baltimore Man Wounded by Woman Dressed in Male Attire ?--Escaped in an Automobile

Atlantic City, Aug. 31—The true facts leading up to the Roberts shooting affair are slowly leaking out.

Roberts, who has known Mr. Williams for some time and been friendly with him, came to this city last Tuesday. Here he met Mrs. Williams, and Wednesday evening they went to the Shelburne Hotel for dinner. That was about eight o'clock according to the clerks, and the pair, after dining, started for the board walk. They met Johnson with his roller chair, and engaged him. So trundled them along slowly, while they chatted. There were few on the walk, it then being about 10.30 p.m.

When Johnson had wheeled his fares to Rhode Island avenue, according to Roberts, a white man, with a mask covering his mouth and nose, suddenly sprang from the shadow of a pavilion.

WHAT VICTIM SAID.

In substance, Robert's story is as follows,

"The man leaped to the walk and held a revolver pointed at us. He ordered me to get out of the chair and give him money. My companion was so astonished she could say nothing, and sat astounded, stock still while I stepped out. I sprang at the man, but he fired twice. One of the bullets entered my left side. My assailant then fled.

That was all Roberts would say, except that he was certain the stranger held him up for purposes of robbery, as he carries a considerable amount of money with him at all times. In the hospital, where the surgeons tried vainly to remove the bullet, Roberts did not vary in the story of the shooting. What Mrs. Williams has said about it is known only to the officers who interviewed her.

DENIES THAT HE HAS ENEMY.

The police asked Roberts,

"Do you know of any enemy you have who might himself attack you in such a manner or hire some assassin to "get you?"

"No, I do not," the young clubman answered.

"Do you know of any person who would have anything to gain by disposing of you?"

"No," said Roberts.

The detectives then started to find the woman who was with Roberts, while the chief got from Policeman Rust, who had Roberts taken to the hospital, his version of the story.

"I was about two blocks away on the walk when I heard shots. I rushed up and saw Mr. Roberts sitting in the wheelchair with a woman beside him. I saw no person fleeing, nor did I see any one shooting. Mrs. Williams was weeping. The chair operator was bewildered. Mr. Roberts was very cool. He turned to me and said;0

"'I've been shot. Call an ambulance.'".

POLICE CHIEF SUSPICIOUS.

"I asked Mr. Roberts who had shot him, and he said;

"'A highwayman did it.'

"An automobile was standing near by, and I bundled the wounded man into it. The woman followed to the hospital and I don't know what became of her. On the way to the institution Mr. Roberts said nothing more to me about the affair."

Chief hWalen said last evening,

"There are points about this case that make me believe the real criminal is being shielded.

"Of course I'm not certain," he added, quietly, "but if someone talks maybe we'll land some persons in jail. Mr Roberts told me he's assailant might have known him."

"I'LL KILL YOU."

Baltimore, Aug. 31. — Saturday night a reporter was sent to Long Green to interview Mr. Williams. He had been in Baltimore all day, having come to the city early in the morning and returned to his country home at four o'clock. When he alighted from the train at Long Green he approached the reporter and said;

"I know you and know what you are here for, and if you come near my place I'll kill you!"

The Williams children, who had been with Mrs. Williams in Atlantic City, got back to Baltimore earlier in the day and went immediately to Long Green in charge of servants. Their father had remained in Baltimore to meet Mrs. Williams, who was expected to arrive in the city at a late hour, but he returned home alone.

A brunette tall and graceful in figure, with black eyes, ivory skin, delicately tinted at the cheeks, her beauty is of the uncommon order which always commands recognition. An exquisite sense of the becoming in dress and the elegance of her toilet heightened the charm of her appearance.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Meehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up trusting with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Biliousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vim.

Thousands use Ferrozone—they all improve—get better health—look better—feel better; try it yourself—sold in 50c box's by all druggists.

Monteith Will Stay, A Safe Seat Found

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Rumor has presented the Monteith situation in almost every possible form since the election in June when Ontario's Minister of Agriculture was left without a seat. Mr. Monteith has never resigned his portfolio, and word comes from a reliable source today that he will not take the agent-generalship in London after all, but will retain his place in the cabinet. A member in a safe seat has at last been found, who will relinquish his hold upon parliamentary honors in order to give the Minister a chance. A reward of some kind will of course be forthcoming from the government. The announcement will be made upon the return of Messrs. Whitney and Monteith from England.

POLICE

A young boy named Lesuer stole a horse and buggy in Cobourg on Saturday and drove to this city where he was captured.

Chief Ruse of Cobourg arrived in the city yesterday morning and drove the prisoner in the outfit to the Lakeside town where he will stand his trial.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Awful Accident at Hamilton

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—Several men were terribly burned, one of them perhaps fatally, in an accident at the steel plant this afternoon, caused by the bottom falling out of a pot of red-hot metal which splashed over the workmen. The injured;—John Southern, Fritz Hotterman, Chas. Whitfield, Robert Cooley, John Beveridge. Southern will probably die.

England in No Fear of Foreign Invasion

London, Sept. 1.—Admiral Freemantle, in speaking of the possibility of aerial warships, says:—The invasion of England by airships or aeroplanes may represent a problem of practical politics in the future, but it certainly need not trouble us to-day.

[Airships like Count Zeppelin's or those of our French friends certainly afford subject for thought, and we should not only watch their development, but experiment for ourselves, so as not to be taken by surprise.

If they become formidable, I imagine that we should meet them with similar weapons, but at present and in the near future, an invasion of England by airship is about as practicable as the storming of a fortified position by a flock of sheep.

Assuming one hundred airships like Count Zeppelin's to be capable of carrying 100 men each, that would give 10,000 men—but England could scarcely be invaded by 10,000 men, even if they could carry with them a due proportion of guns and ammunition, not to speak of cavalry; while the cost would be enormous.

In short, it is about as practicable in the present stage of aerial development as Jules Verne's voyage to the moon, and I have not heard that the inhabitants of our satellite, if there are any, have been much disturbed by the intelligent appreciation of future developments of the clever French writer.

Attempted Stabbing During Debate

Belgrade, Sept. 1.—A fierce dispute has occurred in the Servian Parliament during a debate in the commercial treaty with Austria, the inevitable topic, the murder of the King and Queen, supervening. Taunts, insults, and foul epithets were exchanged, and finally M. Dragovitch, a regicide, drew his knife on the Nationalist member, M. Georgevitch, and was with difficulty kept from stabbing him.

Steers Died from Rabies Men Who Handled Them Sent to New York Doctor

Cayuga, Ont., Aug. 31.—A colt belonging to Mr. Gordon Hoover, in the township of Rainham, died recently, and the following day two steers on the same farm showed signs of the same sickness, foaming at the mouth, and otherwise they behaved in a way which led to the belief that they were suffering from some infectious disease. One of the steers died, and the other animal was so bad that it was decided to shoot it. The owner, Mr. Hoover, gave the animals medicine, and in the meantime called in a veterinary who was not prepared to say that the animals had rabies, and thought the symptoms more like anthrax.

Mr. Hoover got some abrasions on his arms while handling the animals, and it was feared that he might have become inoculated with the disease, and as a safeguard he decided to go to the Pasteur Institute at New York.

A day or two later a third steer became ill, and was shot.

A government inspector was called, who ordered that none of the stock be removed from the farm. In the meantime Mr. Henry Urmy, who assisted Gordon Hoover at the shooting of one of the steers, and got some foam on his face, became alarmed lest he also might become infected. After consulting the doctors at the New York institute, he too decided to go there for treatment. It is not known how the animals contracted the disease.

A number of animals not far from Cayuga were reported some weeks ago to have been bitten by a mad dog.

RECORD-BREAKING BY OXYGEN

An English physician is experimenting upon athletes with oxygen. He believes that by reinforcing the "wind" of track performers he will be able to shatter many sporting records. One runner brought before him who ordinarily runs a quarter mile in 52 seconds reduced his time to 50.20 after breathing oxygen for two minutes.

Such tests are interesting physiologically. The value of the oxygen treatment in practical use would depend on the point of view. If the record is everything that is to be considered—and it has to be admitted that the modern tone with regard to races favors this idea—then the oxygen tank must prove a beat-fence in the athletic world. On the other hand, temporarily stimulating appliances have no place in contests intended to try the natural or naturally cultivated strength and endurance of men.

Race track rules bar "doped" horses. Oxygen for human contestants is a "dope", though harmless. The doctor's tank ranks with the windshields of the trotting course as a purely artificial and exterior aid to time performance. In real athletics the work will continue to be done by man himself and not by an exhilarating fluid held on tap at the post.

GREAT BUSINESS

That Canada is developing at a very rapid rate is obvious to everyone, but there are some very amazing figures in the canal statistics for the season of navigation of 1907, which have just been issued at Ottawa. These show the water-borne traffic for that year to have been the largest on record. The total value aggregated 20,513,639 tons, as compared with 16,537,195 in 1906, representing an increase of 25.2 per cent. For the ten-year period the enlargement was 11,925,164 tons, or 71.6 per cent. The traffic increased from 9,460,000 tons in 1897 to 20,500,000 tons last year. The principal expansion in canal traffic last year was the business of the Sault Ste. Marie canal, which showed an increase of 5,64,943 tons over 1906.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Montreal Witness, commenting upon the publication and sale of a picture of the Ontario Parliament buildings with a United States flag floating from a flagstaff in front, declares if there ever was a good occasion for a boycott it would be in this case. Any public notice taken of such a piece of latent treason, would, however, it says, only make it the more profitable to the people who have thought to sell their country for very little indeed. But Canadians have it in their hands to resent the calculated injury. This whole business of flying a foreign flag for the sake of business profit is very sensible, an dshould lose those who do it as much Canadian business as it gains them foreign favor. Some people think there ought to be some public regulations with regard to the use of foreign flags. But, after all, a flag is an expression of sentiment, and if an expression of sentiment, and if any of our people prefer foreign flags it is just as well for those of us who are British and Canadian in sentiment to know it.

Now that the "speaking campaign" for the prospective Federal elections, is about to be opened, it is to be hoped that the representatives of both parties will endeavor to make the attention which the people will give them of lasting value to their audiences. We quite agree with the Farmers Sun that the average Canadian may enjoy hearing one politician "go for" another; but he does not profit by it. Personal contemplation and partizan recrimination might be reserved for serious cases of wrong-doing which impose it upon the critics as a duty. We ought to be able to feel that they take up such a task with genuine regret. Too often they appear to plunge into it with unmistakable glee.

But the platform representatives of the parties might inform the people on the more important features of the national business to their permanent benefit. They could tell them what the Government is doing, and what it isn't doing but might do; and then the citizens who hear them will ever after be able to judge the proceedings at Ottawa from a firmer and more lofty altitude. They would not be compelled so often to take the statements of the debaters for granted; for they would know something about the matter in hand themselves.

If "speaking campaign" which should send the voters to studying the blue books, would be of the greatest national value. One which merely sets them to gibing each other, is a positive mischief. When a speaker bemuses party passions, he not only fails to contribute to the patriotic wisdom of the verdict; but he blinds his hearers against any wisdom which they might otherwise discover somewhere else. Such a course on his part betrays a consciousness that his case is, at the bottom, weak. He has no solid facts to lay before his audiences which would win them to his cause, so he appeals to their inbred prejudices. The wise voter will always be on his guard against such a "stumper". He will see his purpose and more than suspect his shallowness.

The campaign should go to the party with the best array of facts.

August time tells on the nerves. But that sparkless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves," when the stomach, Heart, and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by all dealers.

Next Year's Terrors Revealed by Prophet

London, August 30.—There is no falling off in the number of disasters predicted by "Old Moore" in his almanac for 1909.

The sudden striking down of a statesman, a very destructive city fire, a most terrible railway accident, and a "violent storm in the office of a city newspaper," are some cheerful happenings predicted for January, but no hint is given as to the nature of the last-mentioned eruption.

February is earmarked for a dreadful theatre or public building catastrophe in the Manchester district. March will be a bad month for rulers. April will bring disgrace and death to a prominent financier, a tube accident in New York is predicted for May, and the discovery of mountains of silver ore in Mexico will upset the bullion market in June, a month which will witness alarming riots in Liverpool.

In July an earth tremor will shake Birmingham, there will be a railway disaster and an excursion boat calamity in the Irish Sea.

Many members of Parliament will pass away in August, "causing much election excitement", and there will be a terrible disaster in Hull or Grimsby, and "fashions will run very eccentric this month with the ladies."

An awful earthquake in the West Indies is promised for September, and explosions may be expected in the north during the month.

The American eagle is expected to scream loudly in November, but otherwise this month will be comparatively quiet, and the year will end with hard times on the east coast.

New in Brief

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 31.—Negro editors will to-day gather in Pittsburg for a general convention during the next three days, at which the political situation, as it affects the colored race, will be the principal subject of discussion.

St. Thomas, Aug. 31.—Two bell boys, James Roberts, 16 years, of Brantford, and Gordon Attridge, 14 years, of Wyandotte, Mich., employed at the Grand Central Hotel, were arrested, charged with stealing brass off the Wabash engines standing in the yards here. It is stated that they stripped one engine of all removable brass. Two junk dealers, Abraham and Isaac Schanl, dealers, were arrested, on a charge of receiving the goods, knowing them to be stolen.

Chicago, August 31.—The project of a canal from Chicago to Toledo, Ohio, cutting 160 miles from the present lake route, has been taken up by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

E. S. Conway, chairman of the Association Deep Waterways Commission, who is in charge of the movement, announced yesterday in a letter to Mayor Brand Whitlock, of Toledo, that as soon as the Great Lakes to the Gulf plan is well in hand, the energies of the association will be devoted to this proposed waterway.

The canal, as proposed, would be 244 miles long, and twenty feet deep. It would start below South Chicago, cut across Michigan, and strike the lake above the entrance of the Maumee River, ten miles below Toledo. From this point traffic could be diverted up the river to the great elevators at and above Toledo, or a straightway run for Buffalo and Lake Ontario would be open.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The authorities have discovered what seems to be an excellent method of putting an end to the caterpillar plague, which is having such disastrous effect on the local forests. They have discovered a way to catch the brown nun moths that lay the eggs by which the caterpillars come. They make use of what they call the electric light trap. This consists of two large and powerful reflectors placed over a deep reservoir and powerful exhaust fans. The whole has been erected on top of the municipal electric plant. At night two streams of light are thrown from the reflectors on the wooded mountain sides half a mile distant. The results have been astonishing. The moths drawn by the brilliant light, come flutetering in thousands along the broad rays of light. When they get within a certain distance of the reflectors the exhaust fans take up their work and with currents of air swirl them downward into the receptacle. On the first night no less than three tons of moths were captured. It has been decided to build another trap on the Rathaus tower and the light with the moths will be continued.

The forests of central Europe have from time to time been ravaged by moths from Russia, whose larvae denude trees of their foliage. The splendid pines of the Lausitz mountains are this year threatened with extinction.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

An Unsought Pardon.

Among the stories of that former governor of Texas familiarly known as Sam Houston is more than one amusing tale.

There was a financial agent of the penitentiary who had warmly opposed the election of Governor Houston, but was particularly anxious to retain his own pleasantly lucrative position. Consequently the new governor was soon in receipt of a petition in which the man's years of faithful service and special qualifications for the place were set forth in glowing terms by himself.

The governor sent for him and said gravely, "It appears from this petition that you have been in the penitentiary eight years."

"I have," was the reply.

"And during that time you have performed faithfully every duty that has come in your way to the best of your ability?"

"I have," answered the agent, his courage swiftly rising.

"Then, sir," said the governor, with the air of one conferring a priceless favor, "I pardon you out."

Put Out of Commission.

Abernethy was supposed to influence people by a brusqueness amounting to absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very valuable lady took her daughter, who was ill, to see him.

"Which of you two wants to consult me?" said Abernethy.

"My daughter," replied the elder woman.

Abernethy then put a question to the girl. Before she had a chance to reply her mother began a long story. Abernethy told her to be quiet and repeated his question to the girl. A second time the woman began a story, and a second time he told her to be quiet. Then she interrupted him a third time.

"Put your tongue out," he said to the mother.

"But there's nothing the matter with me," she exclaimed.

"Never mind, put your tongue out," he commanded.

Thoroughly overawed, the woman obeyed.

"Now, keep it out," said Abernethy, and he proceeded to examine the girl.—Good Magazine.

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

Corrected.

When they had finished she observed that he did not fold his napkin. Discussed, she said:

"We always fold our napkins here."

"Yes, my dear," said the bishop "but that is because you use them again. In the case of a visitor you don't do that."

"Oh, yes, we do," said the little girl.—New York Life.

A Fulfillment.

They said he'd make his mark 'mongst men,
It was a prophecy profound,
He bought himself a fountain pen
And when he shook it now and then
Made marks on every one around.
—Washington Star.

A Query.

"That so?" Automobilist or just a decent crook?"—Judy.

A Possible Explanation.

"So many lies stalk in discourse!"
Remarked the observant youth.
"Perhaps that's why, however we try,
It's hard to tell the truth."
—Catholic Standard and Times.

From Her Standpoint.

"What are 'mournful numbers?'"

"They are the figures which a woman sees when she has to give her real age."—New York Press.

Keep It to Yourself.

Aye, "know thyself!" Naught matters so
You gain that information.
But then don't let your neighbors know.
You'd lose your reputation.
—Philadelphia Press.

Defined.

"Uncle Henry, what are pajamas?"

"Pajamas, my boy, are the masculine substitute for the bloomer costume."—St. Louis Republic.

When Experts Disagree.

These experts prove his lack of brain.
The reason that they don't agree
Depends upon the pay, you see.
—Des Moines Register.

They Killed Him.

Smithson—Poor chap! I understand that he was clubbed to death.

Jonesby—Yes. He belonged to four, I think.—Judge.

No Rest For the Weary.

If a man sits down at out of sun
To count the things that he has done
His good wife will suggest a few
More things that he ought to do.
—Detroit Tribune.

A Way Out.

"Scientists say the supply of coal is nearly gone. Then what'll we do?"

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First, these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That's wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by all dealers.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

SUNSET AT GUAYAQUIL.

The days and nights at Guayaquil are of equal length. The sun knocks off promptly at 6 o'clock in the evening and gets up at 6 in the morning with equal regularity the whole year around. There is no twilight, no gloaming, no interval whatever between daylight and dark—only a brilliant illumination, the sudden disappearance of a red ball into a blue ocean, a spread of flame color over all the western sky for a few minutes and a purple haze in the east.

Then the surface of the ocean, like the heavens, is lighted with millions of strange and shifting stars, for the water is so impregnated with phosphorus that each tiny wave is tipped with light, and the foam that follows in the wake of the vessel is often like a stream of fire. Sometimes you can see porpoises swimming along the bow of the vessel livid with phosphorescent light and followed by a streak of sparks like a comet's tail.

The Southern Cross, with the right arm tipped out at proper angle, lies straight ahead in the midst of myriads of unknown worlds that look strange to those accustomed to the northern constellations. Under the left arm is a large black spot in the heavens, brightened by only a single modest star, which the sailors call "the devil's dinner bag." Over the stern of the vessel in the early evening you can plainly distinguish the familiar constellation of the Great Bear, but it goes to bed with the children.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked out he envelope Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 20th, specifications of the Commissioners, quired for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontuchase, in the province of Quebec, 196.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontuchase, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—from a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 2.6 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.13 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also at the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. B. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1.,	District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2,	District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3,	District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4,	District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5,	District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6,	District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the fire regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the laws and regulations respecting fires in the different provinces wherein the work is being performed.

By order,

P. E. RYAN.
Secretary.

The Flight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, interrupted by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers of the Lick observatory to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that a hundred years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat. If it were near by it would seem to become rapidly smaller.—Chicago Record Herald.

What He Did Know.

St. Thomas' Episcopal church, in Fifth avenue, has under its jurisdiction an east side chapel. One of the features of the chapel is a gymnasium, in which boys are trained in all of the branches of physical culture. Some of the boys are quicker in this sort of training than they are in the more polite talk of the west side boys.

The rector of St. Thomas', the Rev. Dr. Stires, visits the chapel frequently and is fond of talking with the lads about their work. He said to one little fellow who hails from near the East river:

"Well, my son, they tell me you won quite a victory in your last contest with the boys of a rival school."

"I don't know 'bout that, but w'en we went up ag'in dat bunch from St. Pat's we put it all over 'em, and dey ain't never peeped since."—New York Sun.

Restlessness.

Mere restlessness is not a matter for which physicians are often consulted. It is on the face of it an unimportant malady, but when it exists in sufficient intensity to form the subject of complaint and to induce the sufferer to seek advice it is usually found to be the superficial indication of a grave underlying condition.—Hospital.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. This tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—relieves blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

FEMININE VANITY.

The Jewish and Egyptian Women Were Arrant Coquettes.

Feminine vanity is not the product of our effete civilization, but is as old as the history of the world.

The Jewish and Egyptian women were arrant coquettes and well versed in the artificialities of the toilet. When Jezebel learned of the approach of Jehu she sought to enhance her charms by painting her face and blackening her eyes with antimony.

Judith before she proceeded on her murderous mission to the tent of Holofernes bathed and perfumed her person with infinite care and wrapped herself in a splendid veil, in whose voluminous folds she concealed her cruel weapon. The Roman belles of the empire dyed their hair blond, red and even blue, according to the caprice of the moment. They used cosmetics of every kind to excess and, like the Moorish women, augmented the luster of their eyes by means of antimony. They also penciled their eyebrows with a bodkin blackened in the smoke of frankincense.

Wealthy women bathed in asses' milk and slept with their faces poultriced with bread steeped in asses' milk in order to efface wrinkles. Even poets sang the praises of certain cosmetics, and Ovid wrote a laudatory poem on the merits of a preparation which, he asserted, preserved the freshness of the skin to old age. It was a curious mixture and was compounded of lily roots, yolks of eggs, hartshorn, gum benzoin, flour and honey, which were all boiled together.

Pliny mentions a species of face powder made of earth from the island of Chio dissolved in vinegar. Juvenal writes that the countenances of the Roman women were disfigured with this supposed beautifier. Among the Roman ladies it was the fashion to be very pale, as red cheeks were not deemed aristocratic. To attain this desirable pallor a quantity of chalk was rubbed on the face.

Many of the cosmetics in use in Greece and Rome have been discovered among ancient relics. Antimony, the oldest of them all, has been found in the utensils belonging to the stone age.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the doorknobs all over the house are kept polished. The escutcheon on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chintz, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light is bad both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $150,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $150,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of Bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds.

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the cellar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $30,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $562.56.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 30 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $150,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them hold promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Shoshone ever were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Obituary

MARGARET McINTYRE.

Keene, Aug. 31.—The death occurred at the family residence on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock of Miss Margaret McIntyre. The news of her death came as a great shock to her friends as it was thought that she was getting nicely over her attack of typhoid fever from which she had been suffering for almost two weeks. But Saturday evening she took worse and sank rapidly. The deceased was thirty-one years of age, she was very well known and very popular and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

She leaves besides her mother Mrs. R. McIntyre, two sisters, Annie and Ella and three brothers, John, Robert and George, all of Keene.

The funeral service will be held at the family residence at three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon after which interment will take place in Keene cemetery. Rev. D. D. McDonald will conduct the services.

MRS WM. MACDOUGALL

Keene, Aug. 31.—The death occurred on Saturday of Mrs. William Macdougall, one of the oldest residents of the township at her late residence at Mather's Corners. The deceased was a Presbyterian and was of Scotch parentage but came to this country at an early age and has been a resident of Otonabee for many years. Her husband predeceased her by almost twenty years. She is survived by two daughters. Miss Katie who lived with her mother and Mrs. J. M. Drummond.

OWEN R. STACEY

Lindsay, Aug. 29.—After an illness of nearly two years Owen Rutherford Stacey passed away last evening at his late home on Durham street. Deceased was forty years of age and leaves a mourning widow.

For many years the late Mr. Stacey conducted a general store in Lifford, but illness caused him to retire to Lindsay. He has been residing in town for the past two years, most of which time he was an invalid.

Deceased was a Methodist in religion, and was a member of the Masonic Order and of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Took His Breath Away

American Amazed at Our Great Northwest

Special to The Times.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Oscar P. Oliver, a prominent Seattle resident, who has charge of the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition in 1909, in passing through Winnipeg this week, said:—

"I am amazed at the wealth, the development and the evident wonderful future of this great domain. When I am told that this part of the Canadian west will supply the world this season with more than a hundred million bushels of wheat, I am not at all surprised, because I have just traveled over it, and I see in it possibilities that simply stagger the imagination. The granaries of the whole world could be filled with the products of this land and then there would be still some uncultivated soil left. At least this is the way that it impressed me, and others were similarly impressed.

"For hundreds of miles along the Canadian Pacific I noticed we were, as it were, attended by rivers, lakes and other streams, all giving promise to the settler of the future that he will not lack the necessary moisture to make his land productive.

"Winnipeg simply took my breath away. I was prepared to see a fine town, with substantial buildings and fine stores. But I was not prepared to see the largest department store, the finest hotel, and the best paved streets west of Chicago."

Twenty-Seven Lost on Wrecked British Ship

(Special to The Times.)

Neath, Wales, Sept. 1.—The British bark Amazon, for Iquique, from Fort Talbot, has been wrecked near the latter port.

Only five of her crew of 32 were saved.

Six bodies already have been washed ashore.

More Than Required

Too Many Harvest Hands in the Northwest

Special to The Times.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—A good deal of trouble has been caused in the west past by so many of the harvest hands determining to ride as far as their tickets would carry them, even though they passed many points where help was greatly needed in the fields. The congestion at Regina and Brandon on the main line has been such that might have been avoided had all tickets been assigned to Winnipeg. The facilities for quickly distributing the men and placing them where needed could be far better handled at the "Gateway City."

Dorando Back to Work

Milan, August 31.—The citizens of Dorando's native town have presented him with a crest of solid gold bearing the inscription thereon "To our hero Dorando, the world's champion." Dorando is at his old work in the bakery of a local confectioner's preparing sweetmeats for the public.

Fortune in Wheat

Special to The Times.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Rev. Mr. Hall, of Otterburne, Man., a town thirty miles south of Winnipeg had 1,000 acres in wheat. He has just completed threshing 30,000 bushels, which he sold at $1.10 delivered at Fort William. It grades No. 1 northern.

Young Man Fell Six Storeys to a Terrible Death Yesterday

Toronto, Sept. 1.—In the narrow lane between the Empire Building at 64 Wellington street west and the offices of Cockburn & Rae, bruised and bleeding, lay the dead body of Hugh Percival de Mercado this morning. Death was caused by a fall from a sixth storey window in the Empire Building.

The young man in falling struck the protruding window of the floor below. This threw him out and he hurled head first to the cement side walk beneath, where death was instantaneous. The ambulance was sent for, but was not used, and the body was conveyed to the morgue in the police wagon.

The young man was a clerk in the office of Mortimer & Stewart, manufacturers' agents. He and C. J. Fine were in the office at 11.10 today, when the accident occurred. Fine's story was as follows;

"De Mercado was at the typewriter, when he asked if there was a morning paper about the office. I said that there was one in Mr. Mortimer's office. I went in, and then heard him scream, 'Catch me!' Rushing out, I saw him disappearing out the window, and grasped him by the foot with one hand, but was unable to hold him, and he fell headlong down to the ground. I hurried downstairs, but he was dead when I arrived."

A curious incident connected with the affair was that the dead man had clasped tightly in his left hand a bunch of hair. The hair resembles his own in color, being a dark brown, but is hardly as curly, and seems softer. In all likelihood, in the frenzy of terror which possessed him when he fell, he tore the hair from his own head. The crushed and bleeding scalp, however, gave no evidence of this city.

The police have taken charge of the hair, and the matter will be investigated at the inquest, which will take place in the morgue tonight.

Mr. Mortimer, Mercado's employer, was terribly shocked by the accident. "He was an exceptionally good boy," said he. "Customers coming in have often spoken to me in praise of the lad."

The dead man was a native of Kingston, Jamaica, and came here nearly three years ago. He roomed at 223 Church street, and was about 28 years of old. He has no relations in Canada. Alvin Garcia, a friend, has notified his relatives in Jamaica of the accident.

One Hundred and Ten Million Bushels of Wheat Estimated

The Northwest Crop now About Harvested --Will Grade High

About 40 Bushels to the Acre

Special to The Times.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Received reports on the wheat production of Western Canada already show that the 110,000,000 bushels estimated will be realized. The Alberta Railway and Irrigation Co. says:

"The indications are that all fall wheat in this district will grade high, mostly No. 1, and the yield will be very heavy. We do not think any of it will thresh out at less than 30 bushels to the acre, and the majority of it will run very much more. One field already threshed has turned out over 40 bushels, and was sold on cars at 74 cents per bushel. A 160-acre field threshed out 4,800 bushels. Another field turned out a shade over 5,000 bushels from 160 acres. This yield is 45 bushels to the acre. It graded No. 1 and was sold for 80 cents on cars at Lethbridge. These figures are not guesswork, but very careful measurements of land and out-turn made to get accurate results."

The Calgary correspondent of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. writes that a large field of fall wheat on the Stettler branch has been cut and threshed, with a yield of 32 bushels to the acre, and that a field of 1,200 acres in the vicinity of Gourin has been cut and threshed, running about 40 bushels per acre.

SERIOUS STABBING AFFRAY AT FENELON FALLS--TWO ARRESTS

Canadian Youths Fought Detroit Boys while Out Walking with Girls

Twenty Eight Stitches were Required

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Sept. 1.—Two Detroit youths are in custody here charged with stabbing two Fenelon Falls young men, St. Nicholas and J. Barry. The stabbing is alleged to have been the result of a fight with fists which took place while the Detroiters were out walking with a couple of girls. The Fenelon Falls youths were stabbed four or five times each, and 28 stitches had to be put in Nicholas' wounds. The Detroiters escaped after the affair, but were arrested later while in bed at their boarding house.

(Special to The Times.)

Lindsay, Sept. 1.—A serious stabbing affray occurred at Fenelon Falls last night about 8.45, when, as a result of a fisticuff encounter, two Detroit youths are alleged to have made a vigorous set-to upon two Fenelon Falls young men with knives, wounding the latter very seriously.

The Fenelon Falls young men, S. Nicholas and J. Barry, were stabbed four and five times respectively, and it required 28 stitches to sew the wounds of young Nicholas up.

HAD CROWDED THEM.

(Special to The Times.)

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Sept. 1.—Last night two young men of this place, Sam Nichols and John Barry, about 18 years old, were walking about the streets. Percy Nettleton and another young fellow, visitors to the town, were doing likewise. Nettleton was a former resident, but the other was a stranger.

Nichols and Barry were said to have been annoying the other two by trying to crowd them off the sidewalk whenever they met, which was several times during the evening. Nettleton resented this to such an extent that the last time he and his friend met this other two, who were somewhat their physicall superiors, he was ready for business. A short scuffle ensued, and then Nettleton pulled a sharp knife out of his pocket, and began to slash Nichols. Nichols tried to get away, but before he escaped had received a severe cuts in his left shoulder, and several nasty jabs in his left arm and side, and a couple near the ear.

When Nichols escaped Nettleton attacked Barry, who had been engaged in a tussle with his companion, and gave him two or three severe jabs also.

The two visitors returned to their lodging house, near the scene of the fracas, and were making preparations to decamp when arrested by Constable Jones a few minutes afterwards.

Nichols went to his home on Murray street, where Dr. Wilson attended him, and Barry, whose injuries are slight, was attended by Dr. Graham.

Nettleton and his companion are to be tried this afternoon by Magistrate Moore of Lindsay.

The Romaine Street Sewer Trouble

At the Board of Education meeting held last night City Engineer Hay stated that upon instructions received from the Board of Works, Mr. Evans had inspected the sewer on Romaine and Aylmer streets with which the King Edward school is connected. Mr. Evans undertook to clean out the accumulation of sand, but it came back as fast as he could remove it. The Board adopted a resolution recommending immediate action to provide other means of draining the district. This will be decided upon at the next meeting on September

Two Children and Their Mother were Drowned

—New York, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Richard Rudermacher, thirty-two years old of Brooklyn, and her two children, Ida, eleven years old, and Richard, four years old, were drowned at Broad Channel, Jamaica Bay, last night. The family, have been summering on the shores of the bay, and it was the custom of the children to fish from a float in front of their home. The children were so engaged last evening when the boy accidentally toppled overboard. Ida screamed and then jumped overboard to save him.

The girl managed to reach her brother, but was dragged under the surface just as Mrs. Rudermacher, who had been attracted by the girl's cry, reached the scene. The mother, without hesitation, dived after the children, fully dressed though she was. None of the three came to the surface again.

How to Test Your Kidneys

If any of your family have been troubled with kidney disease make a test of the urine and satisfy yourself whether you need a good remedy before the disease has cause serious complications.

Tomorrow morning put some urine in a glass or bottle and let it stand for twenty-four hours.

If it shows particles or germs floating about, is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish sediment, then your kidneys are diseased.

Commence at once to take Ferrozone to arrest these unnatural conditions.

Ferrozone is especially intended for the immediate relief and cure of kidney and bladder troubles, and its health-giving properties will be felt at once in new blood healthy circulation, general strengthening of the system.

Ferrozone quickly corrects urinal disorders, headache, and pain in the back. It improves the appetite, digests the food, makes it nourish the nerves, makes them strong and enduring, and fits one for lots of hard work.

Don't be misled by cheap, so-called kidney cures offered by dealers for the sake of extra profits. There is only one safe and reliable specific for Kidney, Bladder, Liver and urinal troubles, and its name is Ferrozone.

Refuse your blank to accept a substitute, and insist on your druggist supplying "Ferrozone;" price 50c per box at all dealers.

Eight Hundred of Shah's Troops Were Killed or Wounded in Battle

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—A special despatch received here from Teheran says it is reported from Tabriz that Satan Khan has inflicted a decisive defeat upon the troops of the Shah, in which the Government soldiers lost 800 men in killed and wounded.

Civil war is raging anew in Tabris Province.

The negotiations for a Persian State loan, to be placed in Great Britain, France, and Russia, have come to naught, as the Shah refuses European control of the finances of the empire.

American Invasion

Western Canada Receiving Many from the U. S.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—That the American invasion of Western Canada is still in full swing was indicated this week by the arrival at the C.P.R. depot from the Twin Cities of the largest individual party of American land buyers that has ever come to the city. The travellers were accommodated in five sleeping cars, with dinner, which constituted a special train. Almost all the members of the American party were successful American farmers who have been engaged in cultivating either their own or rented farms.

Newspaper Men's Visit

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 2.—Special to The Times.—Your correspondent met the special train bringing the National Editorial Association party into Canada on Wednesday last at Fort Frances, on the border. One hundred and sixty members, representing publications from nearly every state in the union, were in charge of Mr. Wm. J. White, Dominion Commissioner of Immigration in the United States, who, co-operating with J. Bruce Walker, at Winnipeg, prepared the itinerary which will take in the following cities and towns in Canada:—Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Dauphin, Kamsack, Humboldt, Saskatoon, Roathern, N. Battleford, Vermilion, Vegreville, Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary, Banff, McLeod, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Indian Head, Regina, Arcola, Souris, Brandon and Carberry.

This is the first opportunity ever presented to the members of the National Association to visit Western Canada, and a right royal welcome is being extended to them at every place stopped at.

Ontario Liberals will Meet on September 9

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Over one hundred of the Liberal M.P.'s and M.P.P.'s, candidates and defeated candidates, and other prominent party men, will gather on the Temple Building on Wednesday, Sept. 9th, in the morning and afternoon, at the fourth annual meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario. This association was started in 1904 as a result of the Liberal convention in Massey Hall.

"It will be a business session purely," said Mr. H. M. Mowat, K.C., the president since the beginning, after his arrival in the city today from a holiday in Prince Edward Island.

"Will a new platform be discussed?"

"Not so far as I know."

"There may be an impromptu discussion; that is all. The meetings will be private, and we will also take up questions of organization."

Mr. F. G. Inwood, the general secretary, declared that a convention would be left to the Liberal members in the Legislature.

In The Realm of Sport

Never in the history of sport, not even the walking match has such interest been shown as in the case of the wrestling match between Yankee Rogers, the American champion and Fritz Mohl, the German giant, who made so many friends in Peterborough during his brief stay. His great bowling alley stunt is still the talk of the town, whist the resistance he offered to the wily "Yankee" showed him to be a man of more than average skill in the grappling game. When it is considered that this same Mohl was up against the man, who in the last two years has spoiled the records of four American champions; Dan McLeod, Fred Beck, Farmer Burns and Tom Jenkins. It must be admitted by friends and foe alike that he did splendid. This same Rogers has beaten men from all countries where wrestling is in vogue, all champions in their class and including amongst others, Alp, Steurs and Auvray of Belgium; Jim Smart and Jim Parr, England; Perrille and Silvia, Italy; Pietro, Maupas, and Pierre, France; Fritz Mohl, Faust, Stiegmuller, Carl Busch from the Fatherland; Karl von Delivuk, present champion of Canada and Austria, and every American wrestler of note on this continent, with the exception of Frank Gotch, who as everybody knows is the champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of the world; gaining the title after his sensational victory over George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," in Chicago, in April of this year.

Many sporting writers and judges of wrestling in America, think that Yankee Rogers is bound to be the world's champion before the present season closes and doubtless this is a fair view to be taken of the case. Yankee is young, fast, clever, scientific and fearless when on the mat, whilst one glance at his massive physique, shows he is more than strong.

Next Friday's bout, will be one worth seeing, when they will come together in the Graeco-Roman style.

Mr. Chris Graham yesterday received a telegram from Mr. Mohl, who is at present in Buffalo, to the effect that he is willing to bet five hundred dollars on his chances, but wants slight odds.

Night Nurse

Kept in Perfect Trim by Right Food

Nursing the sick is often very burdensome to the nurse.

Night nursing is liable to be even more exhausting from the fact that the demands of the system for sleep are more urgent during the night hours.

A Va. lady, called on to act as night nurse in the family, found the greatest support from the use of Grape-Nuts food. She says;

"Our acquaintance with Grape-Nuts began eight years ago. We bought the first package sold in this place, and although we began as skeptics we became converts to its striking food value.

"I used Grape-Nuts first, to sustain me when doing night nursing for a member of the family. I ate a teaspoonful at a time and by slowly chewing it I was able to keep awake and felt no fatigue.

"Soon I grew to like Grape-Nuts very much and after our patient recovered I was surprised to find that I was not at all "worn out" on account of broken rest. My nerves were strong and steady and my digestion fine. This was the more surprising because I had always suffered with weak nerves and indigestion. My experience was so satisfactory that other members of the family took up Grape-Nuts with like results."

"There's a Reason."

Saw Williams in Atlantic City

Pittsburg, Sept. 1.—Talbot C. Williams, of Roland Park, Baltimore, drove to the Public Safety Building here Saturday night, and said that he had seen and spoken to his cousin, W. G. S. Williams, husband of the woman who was with Charles Roberts when the latter was shot Wednesday night, on the boardwalk at Atlantic City.

According to Talbot Williams's statement, he was about to leave Atlantic City Wednesday night, when he met his cousin on a side street leading to the railroad station. He hailed his cousin pleasantly, and asked him if he was leaving the resort because of the threatened closing of the saloons. Instead of replying in like manner, the man, who was in the shadow, cursed him roundly and told him to move on.

POOR TACTICS

United States immigration officials seem to take delight in being officious and in bringing notoriety to their country by the methods they employ to enforce its immigration laws. It is open to question that they do not at times strain a point in their zeal to prevent people not American born from entering their country. Not infrequently have they in their zeal interfered with the movements of people, who, passing from one part of this country to the other, thought to do so by an American railway line. This was the case of the woman, child, and four men, who the other day, were turned back at Port Huron, and thus prevented from continuing on their journey to the wheat fields west of Winnipeg, whither they were going on a Grand Trunk Harvesters' excursion. Two of these men had work to go to in Manitoba, which further increased the hardship done them by these energetic officials. This is a matter which should be taken up by the Interior Department at Ottawa, that Canadians may be subjected to no further indignities from this source.

GERMANY FEARS FOR HER IDEAL

"Hausfrau" as a term means more in Germany than is applied in a literal translation to the English "housewife". It stands for an institution of ages, a glory of the empire. It expresses the old German idea of woman's place in the economy of affairs. It explains the elation of the land in the possession of an Empress who has declared her devotion to "Kinder, Kirche und Kuche."

No ordinary national thrill is that accompanying the fear that the hausfrau ideal is threatened by the new Saxman decree granting to women equal opportunities with men for the higher scholastic education.

A little knowledge may be anywhere a dangerous thing. A liberal education anywhere should be a preparation, an equipment, the means to a desirable end, and the pursuit of such a training should imply a purpose of usefulness. Granting such a purpose, one really concedes the whole case against which apprehensive Germany protests. It is ridiculous to maintain that a woman with the new ambitions of the age should school herself inflexibly to the role of a tame cat by the sitting-room fire. But it is mischievous when a girl comes out of her college career, aimless, idle-handed, convinced chiefly that by culture and association she has acquired the superiority of a class.

The North American continent, with its multiplying colleges for women, does not find that it has sacrificed the home-maker to the diploma. Germany is not likely to love less the hausfrau of the future if she is able to bear her part in the talks of philosophy, literature and the exact sciences.

West Faces Big Railway Crisis

"There should be seventy-five thousand miles of new road built in the country in the next five years, even to get abreast of current business, and unless commerce is to be tied up in a hard knot that is what will have to be done. It will mean the spending of $1,100,000,000 a year. About sixty-five per cent. of this will be for labor, and the balance for material which is almost entirely labor. Almost every dollar of it will go into circulation, back to the working man, the farmer, the manufacturer, the merchant."

This is the statement of James J. Hill, the great railway magnate, in discussing the railway policy of the West, in an interview with Mr. John M. Mumford. The latter evidently sympathizes with the railway companies, for he prefaces his interview by remarking that "Hatred and distrust of the railroads and hostility to them have been a prevalent disease in the West, where the apostles of unrest have thriven. The clamor against railroad corporations has been unceasing, and the grievances of individuals too numerous to mention.

DON'T DO IT AGAIN.

"But," he continues, "whatever may have been the youthful iniquities of these ...giants, they are held broken now. In an era of search-light publicity and government by commission they will probably be content to go and sin no more. But one thing is as plain as day, they must be allowed to get the people and the railroads must see their mutual interdependence, or the upbuilding of the new West, which today holds out the greatest opportunity in the world, will hobble where it should march like a regiment of dragoons.

WARNS THE PUBLIC.

Naturally, Mr. Hill has much to say, from the standpoint of the railway manager, against the treatment of the great carrying industries of Canada and the United States, and strikes more than one note of warning to which he calls upon the people at large to hearken.

WHAT RAILROADS ARE DOING.

"The railroads are the second biggest interest in the country," he declares. "They purchase twenty-five per cent. of everything that is purchased. They employ one way or another a very large proportion of the working male population; then tell me why every man in the country, whether he be merchant, farmer, manufacturer, or workman, cannot see that all prosperity from the ground up, is knit inseparably with the prosperity and proper maintenance and upbuilding of the railroads? Why are they all led like sheep by a lot of politicians who will sell them out at the drop of the hat?

"The railroad is the most important factor in the country's prosperity, and it makes the smallest profit. A bank can clear thirty, fifty, even a hundred per cent. so long as it pays legal interest, and the government has nothing to say. If a bank does not make money it can liquidate and get out. So can a man in any other business; but a railroad's profits must be limited to a margin on which necessary expansion is impossible, it must be run in the most economical way, it must stand the loss of lean years and make a minimum in the good ones when every other business is coining money, and it must keep on running whether it pays or not. If it cannot make money enough, with those burdens, to meet its obligations, a receiver is put in to run it, and his certificates take precedence of the stock and the bonds. As a certain 'distinguished statesman' said recently, 'we've got the railroads.'

RAILROAD BUILDER'S RISKS.

"People want the railroads to build," continued Mr. Hill, "and yet they put them in a position where building is impossible. How can they build and why should they build? Why should a railroad man acquire his property and its already meagre earnings when the very people who live by it allow a railroad to be treated as if it had no rights that anybody was bound to respect? Let them build their branches themselves and see if they can run them as a profit."

RAILROADS CRIPPLED.

Suspicion and distrust of the great railways by the public has, according to Mr. Hill, resulted in serious crippling of the lines. New construction has fallen off every year since 1901, until now it is down to 2 per cent., while the annual increase in business has been many times that amount. The companies are said to be practically facing a financial crisis.

MUST INCREASE RATES.

Referring to the proposal to increase freight rates ten per cent Mr. Hill was asked if he believed this would relieve the railways from the straits he pictured them as having fallen into.

"Yes, ten per cent would do it," he replied. "An advance of that nature at the present time would be the best and in fact the first real step that we could make toward restoration. It would relieve the tension that at this minute is forcing several railroads into very uncomfortable and very serious situations."

News in Brief

London, Sept. 1.—Telegrams from various parts of the Turkish empire show that the fraternization of Mohammedans and Christians, full to overflowing with revolutionary zeal, still goes on. There was a remarkable scene of enthusiasm in Jerusalem, and perfect orgies of sentiment seem to have broken out in Beyrout, in spite of the fierceness and fanaticism of the Mohammedan mob in that town. At one place in the streets was a large inscription which expressed the new spirit in a verse from the Koran side by side with a verse from the Bible. "The beginning is from God, victory is near"; "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." After this came a sentiment, which was perhaps never written before in public: "Long live the Moslem-Christian brotherhood."

It is reported that at many places and times when people caught sight of a Christian priest and turbaned Moslem in proximity to each other, they were pushed into each other's arms and made to kiss each other.

Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 27.—Ferdinand P. Earle, an artist, who less than a year ago discarded his wife and son that he might marry Miss Julia Kutter, whom he called his "soul mate," was separated from her Tuesday, when on a charge of grievous assault upon her he was committed to the Orange County jail here to await action by the October grand jury. With her month-old child the woman left Monroe about the time he was arrested to go to her mother's home in New York.

NURSE SWORE OUT WARRANT.

Earle's arrest was on a warrant sworn out by Miss Inez T. Berry, a nurse, of New York, who has been in attendance upon Mrs. Earle since before the birth of her child last month. It follows alleged assaults that the nurse says began prior to the baby's birth, and which, according to the sworn complaint to which Earle pleaded guilty before Judge Gilbert Cargeeter, at Monroe, today, have practically been continuous. According to this statement, Mrs. Earle, while her baby was less than a fortnight old, was compelled to leave her bed and stand for nearly two hours while Earle lectured her on her general unworthiness.

NEIGHBOR ANSWERS CRIES.

On other occasions, the complaint says she was beaten about the head and face and body until the services of a physician were necessary. Earle is also accused by neighbors of having blacked her eyes.

That there was trouble in the Earle household first became known in Monroe last Sunday. Thomas Hayes, who lives near the Earle place, was aroused about midnight by cries of "murder" and "help!" He grasped a shotgun and started for the Earle home, whence the cries came. On the way two of Earle's Great Dane dogs attacked him. He killed both of them and went to the Earle house. Earle, half clad, met him on the verandah.

"I heard cries for help and I came," replied Mr. Hayes.

"Well," said Mr. Earle, "it is very good of you, but there is no trouble here. It's a false alarm."

KEPT MRS. EARLE A PRISONER

Mr. Hayes reported the incident in town yesterday, when it developed that for some days the Earle place had been a sort of armed camp. Mrs. Earle being kept a close prisoner with her baby in one part of the house, while her mother, Mrs. Amelia Kuttner, and her brothers, Alfred and Charles, were in another part. Alfred and his mother repeatedly protested against the treatment being accorded Mrs. Earle, and Alfred, according to his evidence in Monroe today had a great Dane set upon him for his pains.

TOO MUCH MOTHER-IN-LAW.

When it was thereupon explained to him in court that he must furnish $500 bail for his appearance before the Grand Jury, Earle replied that he did not wish anything but permission to see his wife and baby before he was taken away. This, he was told, could not be permitted. Then he asked permission to send a note. This was granted and a servant left with the missive. Almost immediately came an answer from Mrs. Earle.

In substance she told the artist she was done with him forever; that she had been disillusioned by his abuse and wished never to see or hear from him again, but that he would ever be welcome to see their child. Earle read the note, and turning to the sheriff, said;

"I see it all now. There is too much mother-in-law in this. I am ready to go with you."

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Minto Cup Trustee P. D. Ross announces that there is no truth in the report that the New Westminster lacrosse team had been given the option of playing the first series for the Minto Cup either this fall or next season. New Westminster reports say that the present holders of the silverware have declined to play in defence of the trophy this year, but Mr. Ross says that if Tecumsehs, should they become N.L.U. champions, wish to go to the Fraser River district in search of the mug they will be given date by the trustees.

Nothing has yet been done, pending the challenge from the winners of the N.L.U. honors, but as soon as the challenge of the Eastern team has been filed and accepted, Mr. Ross will communicate with the British Columbia champions with a view to settling on the dates for the matches.

In the event of New Westminster not going to play this year, they will be requested to send back the trophy, but they are not likely to do this, and from present indications there will certainly be a series for the celebrated chunk of championship silverware within the next month or two.

It's a pity when sick one's drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And the is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead, crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Passengers Saw a Battle of the Deep

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Passengers and officers of the Dominion line steamship Canada, which arrived in Montreal yesterday, tell a strange story of a sea battle. It took place between a whale and a school of porpoises, and in the end the whale was seen floating, apparently dead.

On Sunday last the vessel was nearing the Newfoundland banks, when the lookout noticed a commotion at some distance, and which, on investigation, proved to be a whale churning the water. The animal was showing signs of distress, but doing his best to throw off the insistent little porpoises. The latter clung to the big fellow, however, and in the end, by sheer weight of numbers, conquered.

During the progress of the combat the passengers of the Canada crowded the rail and passed criticisms, noting how the whale at intervals threw up his tail and dived in an endeavor to escape his enemies. At other times the huge mammal arose to the surface with much commotion and spouted water high in the air, expressive of indignation and fury.

The passengers in describing the porpoises' mode of attack, say that the little fellows have sharp dorsal fins, which they used to advantage on the belly of the whale until it was cut to pieces. The countless wounds inflicted therefore had fatal effect, and the whale gave up the fight and died.

Enjoyed His Newspaper Obituaries

Paris, Sept. 1.—Admiral Rojestvensky is said to enjoy hugely the experience of reading the obituaries of himself recently published, when the news of his death was erroneously circulated. They have been sent to him in shoals by press-cutting agencies in all parts of the world, and the Admiral has been amusing himself by having them translated to him. Many of these agencies requested that he should become a client, and, meeting with a refusal, have since, as he relates, sent him only cuttings in which hostility to the "deceased" is expressed. He has since analyzed his interesting if gruesome collection, and finds that Germany spoke most kindly of him, with France a close second. "The English were very hard", he says, "they have forgotten none of my mistakes or faults."

A clever popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere. In a few hours, Preventics are said to break any cold—completely. And Preventics, being so safe and toothsome, are very fine for children. No Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Box of 48—25c. Sold by all dealers.

Put Through His Paces.

The wealthy Briton is confessedly the most fastidious man living as to the quality of his personal domestic service. The concentrated energy with which an Englishman will rebuke his servant for an offense so slight that the average American fails to observe it bears out the above statement. Those who propose changing servants are not content with references and a perfunctory interview with the man or maid under consideration, but insist upon a full dress rehearsal of both manners and appearance. The servant in livery is put through all his paces, must display the sine of his calves, the haughtiness of his pose as well as breeding in handling a card, announcing a guest or serving at the table. Nothing is taken for granted. The master and the mistress sit by and discuss the points of groom or butler as they would those of a high priced horse or valuable dog. Domestics are taken with great seriousness by the upper class Englishmen, and for that reason nothing is left to look in peopling the servants' hall.

Wink at Some Things.

"When you have mastered the gentle art of winking," said Lord Beaconsfield, "you hold the key to success in your hands."

Every one's personality is made up of trivial failings and trivial talents. Foster the good qualities in your friends and subordinates and wink at those failings so dear to their possessors. Not to see everything is a rule which will strengthen friendships and help you to get the best results from your fellow workers.

"He is no good," said the great Napoleon of one of his officers. "He is continually looking into the privates' stew pot?"

"I want a man who can keep his eye on the ultimate result and ignore little failings, never mind how aggravating," said Nelson. And General Gordon once remarked that the man who lost his temper because a private's best face was tied loosely on the day of a battle did more to lose the day than all the enemy's guns.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SUNSET AT GUAYAQUIL.

The days and nights at Guayaquil are of equal length. The sun knocks off promptly at 6 o'clock in the evening and gets up at 6 in the morning with equal regularity the whole year around. There is no twilight, no gloaming, no interval whatever between daylight and dark—only a brilliant illumination, the sudden disappearance of a red ball into a blue ocean, a spread of flame color over all the western sky for a few minutes and a purple haze in the east.

Then the surface of the ocean, like the heavens, is lighted with millions of strange and shifting stars, for the water is so impregnated with phosphorus that each tiny wave is tipped with light, and the foam that follows in the wake of the vessel is often like a stream of fire. Sometimes you can see porpoises swimming along the bow of the vessel livid with phosphorescent light and followed by a streak of sparks like a comet's tail.

The Southern Cross, with the right arm tipped out at proper angle, lies straight ahead in the midst of myriads of unknown worlds that look strange to those accustomed to the northern constellations. Under the left arm is a large black spot in the heavens, brightened by only a single modest star, which the sailors call "the devil's dinner bag." Over the stern of the vessel in the early evening you can plainly distinguish the familiar constellation of the Great Bear, but it goes to bed with the children.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked out be envelope Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 30th specifications of the Commissioners, quired for the construction, in accordance with the plans profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Wayagamack, in the province of Quebec, 196.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Wayagamack, in the Province of Quebec, easterly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 2.6 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.13 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also at the offices of the following District Engineers, viz; —John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions of the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1,	District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2,	District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3,	District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4,	District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5,	District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6,	District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"The agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the fire regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the laws and regulations respecting fires in the different provinces wherein the work is being performed.

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

HIS SERVICES.

What Become of All the Bills He Introduced in Congress.

"Yes, my fellow citizens," said the political candidate, "if you have paid any attention to the work of congress you will have noticed that during the past session I introduced twenty-two bills, each of which was intended to benefit this community. I stand before you today with the proud consciousness of having served you faithfully and to the best of my ability. These twenty-two bills would, if they had been passed, have made this one of the most favored districts on God's green earth, and"—

"Oh," yelled a man in the gallery, "we know you introduced 'em, all right, but what happened to 'em after that?"

"Gentlemen, I appeal to your sense of honor. Do you consider it fair that I should be interrupted in this manner? Is it right that I should"—

"There ain't no harm in answerin' the question, is there?" asked another of the statesman's hearers.

"Well, sir, I will tell you what became of those bills, my fellow citizens. Every one of them was printed in the Congressional Record, where, if you will look over the files, you may find them today. But to revert to the next question, gentlemen, I do not hesitate to promise that no man living in this, the most splendid district in our grand old state, shall appeal to me in vain if you shall deem it best to send me back to Washington, where I have served you with such signal ability."

Turn About.

Some men are so optimistic that they expect to get into heaven on their wives' church record.—Washington Post.

Still Possible.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a deadening poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—I hate to state though—Congress says "Put it on the label if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." (Good! Very good!) Hereafter for the very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

THE LAND OF GRAVES.

Ancient Egyptians Believed in Constant Reminders of Death.

To the Egyptian death was but the beginning of a career of adventures and experiences compared with which the most vivid emotions of this life were tame. He lived with the fear of death before his eyes. Everything around him reminded him of that dreadful initiation into the mysteries of the tremendous after life for which his present existence was but a preparation. His cemeteries were not hidden away in remote suburbs; his dead were not covered with mere grassy mounds or a slab of stone. The whole land was his graveyard; its whole art was of the mortuary. "Are there no graves in Egypt that thou hast brought us into the wilderness to die?" asked the Israelites in derision, and we may believe that Moses winced at the sarcasm.

Egypt is the land of graves, and the whole energy of the people that could be spared from keeping life together was devoted to death. The mightiest tombs in the world—the pyramids—were raised upon the deaths of multitudes of toiling slaves. The hills were honeycombed passages and galleries, chambers, pits, all painfully excavated in honor of the illustrious dead and sculptured and painted with elaborate skill to make them fit habitations for his ghost.

Wherever he looked the Egyptian beheld preparations for the great turning point of existence. The mason was squaring blocks for the tomb chamber; the potter molded images of the gods or bowls and jars to be placed in the grave for the protection or refreshment of the Ka, exhausted with the ordeals of the underworld; the sculptor and painter were at work upon the walls of the funeral chamber, illustrating the scenes through which the ghost was to pass or depicting the industrious life of the departed.

The very temples which cluster along the levels beside the Nile were in a sense but vestibules to the tombs in the hills behind. The sacred lake, now the weedy, picturesque haunt of waterfowl, was then the scene of solemn ferryings of the dead. The temple walls were covered with the terrors of the judgment to come. The houses of the living, indeed, were built of perishing mud, but the homes of the dead and the shrines where supplication was made to the gods who ruled their fate were made to last forever. On these all the strength, the science and the artistic skill of the ancient Egyptians were cheerfully lavished.—London Standard.

An Unsought Pardon.

Among the stories of that former governor of Texas familiarly known as Sam Houston is more than one amusing tale.

There was a financial agent of the penitentiary who had warmly opposed the election of Governor Houston, but was particularly anxious to retain his own pleasantly lucrative position. Consequently the new governor was soon in receipt of a petition in which the man's years of faithful service and special qualifications for the place were set forth in glowing terms by himself.

The governor sent for him and said gravely, "It appears from this petition that you have been in the penitentiary eight years."

"I have," was the reply.

"And during that time you have performed faithfully every duty that has come in your way to the best of your ability?"

"I have," answered the agent, his courage strikly rising.

"Then, sir," said the governor, with the air of one conferring a priceless favor, "I pardon you out."

Put Out of Commission.

Abernethy was supposed to influence people by a brusqueness amounting to absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very voluble lady took her daughter, who was ill, to see him.

"Which of you two wants to consult me?" said Abernethy.

"My daughter," replied the elder woman.

Abernethy then put a question to the girl. Before she had a chance to reply her mother began a long story. Abernethy told her to be quiet and repeated his question to the girl. A second time the woman began a story, and a second time he told her to be quiet. Then she interrupted him a third time.

"Put your tongue out," he said to the mother.

"But there's nothing the matter with me," she exclaimed.

"Never mind, put your tongue out," he commanded.

Thoroughly overawed, the woman obeyed.

"Now, keep it out," said Abernethy, and he proceeded to examine the girl.—Good Housekeeping.

The Greatest Man.

Who is the greatest man who ever lived? The question went round a dinner table, and controversy raged from the fish onward. There were two who plumped for Julius Caesar, two more for Napoleon; one, thinking of statues, said Shakespeare, and somebody else, who did not get a hearing at all, murmured Buddha at intervals, while most of the people present who did not know Greek said Aeschylus. But Aristotle won easily. It was not a particularly scholarly assemblage, and one wondered rather how many of Aristotle's enthusiastic devotees could have quoted accurately from him—had ever read him, indeed—since they left college. And all the while probably the greatest man of all ages is pegging away among us unnoticed, unrecognized, while we snapshot and interview all the little men or go back to some one who has been dead long enough for us to find out that we may safely praise him.—London Chronicle.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of Bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These Bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $50,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $562.50.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,462.57 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,560 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Weary, Worn Out Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton, of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned off the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

About 7.45 last evening the firemen were called over to Rogers st., Ashburnham, to extinguish a fire in the rear of a house. Not much damage was done.

Assignment Made

Mr. Wm. Wheeler, who has been carrying on a business in Ashburnham as baker and confectioner, has made an assignment to Jas. Edgar. A meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, solicitor for the asignee on Thursday, Sept. 10, at two o'clock.

New Collegiate Opens

The new Collegiate Institute opened yesterday with a full attendance in each Form. All the teachers were there with the exception of Mr. Stubbs, who was called away to Stratford by the death of his father. There are ten rooms now occupied by the pupils, and the rest of the school will be finished in a short time. The work is certainly a credit to the committee in charge.

Operated on at St. Joseph's

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. P. Cahill of Parnell street, met with a very serious accident while playing on the verandah of her house. In some manner she fell off, breaking her arm in the fall. Dr. Neal was called in and attended to the little sufferer who is now doing as nicely as could be expected.

Funeral of Late Geo. Young

The remains of the late George Young, who met such a distressing death in Brandon, Man., was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Little Lake cemetery. The funeral procession was the largest ever seen in Peterborough for some time.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Moonlight to Bobcaygeon

The steamer Otonabee ran an evening trip from Chemong Park on Monday evening last which was very largely patronized. About eighty persons embarked at Bridgenorth, and a large number at Indian Village and Ganbohra Narrows. The steamer reached Bobcaygeon at 9.30 where a pleasant hour was spent in dancing. All through a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late Eugene Daly, was held yesterday from his residence on Wellington street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Kelly and Rev. Dr. O'Brien (officiating at the grave. The pall bearers were; Messrs. Wm. Morrell, Patrick Kane, Robt. Begley, Jas. Dunn, M. Neary, and Edward Flaherty, intimate friends of the deceased.

Made a Record Run

The time made by the fire brigade in the run to Mr Thompson's residence was almost a record. From the time the alarm was sounded until the first team arrived, only three minutes elapsed. Mr. R. C. Braund took the turn out of curiosity to find out what the new brigade could do. He considered that their performance was a good one, and was greatly pleased with the time made. Mr Braund congratulated the Fire, Water and Light Committee on the condition of the department as shown in that instance.

Tried to Force It

Thought System Would Soon Tolerate Coffee

A Boston lady tried to convince herself that she could get used to coffee, and finally found it was the stronger. She writes,

"When a child, being delicate and nervous, I was not allowed coffee But since reaching womanhood I began its use, and as the habit grew on me, I frequently endeavored to break myself of it, because of its evident bad effects.

"With me the most noticeable effect of drinking coffee was palpitation of the heart. This was at times truly alarming, and my face would flush uncomfortably and maintain its vivid hue for some time.

"I argued that my system would soon accustom itself to coffee, and continued to use it, although I had a suspicion that it was affecting my eyesight, also. The kidneys early showed effects of coffee, as I found by leaving it off for a few days, when the trouble abated.

"Finally a friend called my attention to Postum. At first I did not like it, but when made right—boiled 15 minutes until dark and rich—I soon found Postum was just what I wanted. No flushing of the face, no palpitation, no discomfort or unconvenience after drinking it.

"Of course all this was not felt in a week or two weeks, but within that time I can truthfully say a marked difference had taken place and a good deal of my nervousness had vanished.

"At present time my health is excellent, due to a continued use of Postum, with a general observance of proper hygiene. Of nothing am I more convinced than that if I had continued drinking coffee, I should be today little less than a nervous wreck, and possibly blind."

"There's a Reason."

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on his bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English; this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

Large Crowds at the Exhibition

The formal opening of the Toronto Exhibition took place yesterday with Sir Louis Jette, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec officiating.

No doubt the large crowds will continue to arrive from all parts to see the cream of the nation's exhibits.

Labor Day Sports to be Held in Lindsay

The big athletic meet to be held in the Agricultural Park in Lindsay, September 7th promises to be the largest thing of its kind ever ran off within the borders of Victoria County. It is ascertained that the mighty Longboat will be on hand together with Simpson the local boy, and Percy Sellen of the C.A.A.U. It will be remembered that Simpson was "developed" at a former meet under similar auspices and it may be that Lambkin may find his Waterloo from the southern recruit. A large number of local boys from the T.A.A. and Y.M.C.A. will attend and will strive to bring back laurels to the city.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And it is from the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

Peterboro' Exhibition Should be a Success

The greatest industry and system is being employed by the directors of the Peterborough Fair in connection with making arrangements for the exhibition. The fair will undoubtedly be the biggest success of any ever held here and this is not simply publicity talk but a real matter of fact statement. Last year the exhibition was the best in the history of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society and this year it promises to far surpass that of last year.

The prize list is a prosperous looking booklet and many specials have been contributed.

The horse races will be a feature and on account of the substantial purses a large number of horses will start.

The grandstand performers have been selected with a view to securing artists of real merit and the different classes of exhibits from fancy work to live stock promise to be splendidly represented.

Mr. F. J. A. Hall, the energetic secretary, is keeping very busy in the interests of the fair and distributing the advertising literature far and wide. He is in Toronto attending the Exhibition there and is having the big bills posted and giving out prizelists to exhibitors.

Program for Harrier's Big Indoor Meet

The executive of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers met Monday night in the Examiner office to make preparations for the big indoor meet to be held in Brock street rink Thursday night, Sept. 17, and which proves to be the opening event of the season. The Harriers have the assurances that Tom Longboat, Bobby Kerr, Lou Seibert, E. R. Archibald and others of the Toronto and Hamilton cracks who formed part of the Canadian Olympic contingent will be here to take part in the events, for which valuable prizes will be given. Mr. J. H. Crocker, who was the manager of the Canadian team in England, will be present and will act as starter for the events.

All entries must be in the hands of the secretary, Mr. H. M. Glover, at the Examiner office on or before Sept. 12.

Following was the program decided upon;

1. Boys' race for boys under 18—220 yards.
2. Half-mile handicap.
3. Fifty yards handicap. Bobby Kerr on scratch.
4. Boys' race for boys under 18.—One mile.
5. Mile walk; open.
6. 220 yards handicap. Bobby Kerr on scratch.
7. Exhibition pole vault, by Archibald. British and Canadian champion.
8. Mile race; open.
9. Three-mile race, special; Longboat vs. Simpson.

Wedding Bells

A pretty wedding was celebrated at the George street church yesterday when Miss Eva, daughter of the late Sampson Ivey, was united in marriage to Mr. W. N. Blewett, merchant of Buckhorn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson in the presence of the immediate friends of the young couple.

The bride was charmingly attired in Sun Toy cream silk, over taffeta, with lace bertha. Her going away dress was of blue cloth with a silk blouse and silk Battenburg lace yoke. She also wore a hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Blewett, left on the 4.38 C.P.R. train for Toronto, and other points and after their honeymoon will reside at Buckhorn.

Japan is Uneasy Over Presence of the American Fleets

Mikado Scents Hidden Menace in Two Fleets in the Pacific

Public Opinion Aroused

New York, September 3.—Ambassador Takahira went to Oyster Bay last Saturday to sound President Roosevelt on the question of a Chinese-American alliance. Baron Takahira wanted to know whether the President favored such a compact. It not he was anxious to have Mr. Roosevelt give out a statement that nothing of the sort was contemplated. He not only desired to get the President on record, but wanted to have the President speak first.

Baron Takahira, it is understood, told the President bluntly that he had been ordered by the Mikado to inform Mr. Roosevelt that the presence of two American fleets in the Pacific was causing much concern to the Tokio Government. This coming on top of the agitation in certain quarters for a Chinese-American alliance, the Baron said, had aroused public opinion in his country to such an extent that changes might have to be made in the plans for the reception of Admiral Sperry's fleet in Japanese waters.

It has been well known in diplomatic world that the Mikado was deeply concerned over the presence of two American fleets in the Pacific, and that the suspicions of Japan were aroused that the fleets were there to back up an alliance between the United States and China, which would remove China for all time from the field of territorial aggression, either by Japan or any other nation, and would keep the open door effectually open for ever.

That developments or world wide importance are impending is also indicated by the fact that Takahira spent yesterday and will spend part of to-day with Secretary Root at his home in Clinton, N. Y.

So far no inkling as to the attitude of the administration or statement of the President's views has been given out.

More Mystery in Roberts Shooting Case in Atlantic City

Atlantic City, Sept. 2.—Charles B. Roberts was not shot at the time and place reported in previous despatches, if a story which has come out is true. It had been reported that he was attacked on Wednesday night at about 10:30 o'clock near Rhode Island avenue, an isolated section of the long prom nade. The police have heard that the attack on him occurred on Tuesday night, before nine o'clock, near South Carolina avenue and the Boardwalk, between the two big piers, almost under the lights of the Savoy theatre.

The account of the shooting did not become public until Thursday. According to the new version, it was nearly two days before the public learned of it. This delay is said to have been due to an effort to prevent Atlantic City from getting more unpleasant notoriety following Governor Fort's attack on the gambling and drinking at the resort.

NOT A HIGHWAYMAN.

The man who shot Roberts was a member of either family and was not a highwayman, according to the information now held by the Atlantic City police. The police believe he was an admirer of Mrs. Williams, who was jealous of Roberts. Chief Woodruff and Chief of Detectives Whilen are waiting only to secure absolute proof before they arrest him.

The real identity of the assailant is known to both Mrs. Williams and to Roberts, according to the informant who gave the foregoing facts.

It has been learned that the alleged highwayman did not lie in wait at the south New Hampshire avenue junction of the Boardwalk, but that he followed the chair in which were Roberts and Mrs. Williams from a point close to the Hotel Brighton to the point where the shooting took place. His movements have been traced.

Roberts is still holding his own, but his condition is critical. His physicians declare that they will make no further effort to take out the bullet unless he has a sudden sinking spell that would indicate the wound to have become diseased. The police have not yet got an official ante-mortem statement.

MRS WILLIAMS' STORY.

Mrs. W. S. G. Williams, in the presence of her sister, Mrs. Sherlock Swann, wife of the president of the Baltimore Police Board, described in detail the shooting of Charles B. Roberts, jr., who was wounded on Wednesday night on the Boardwalk at Atlantic City while in her company.

"It was an attempt at robbery, pure and simple," she declared, "and Mr. Roberts was shot because he refused to comply with the demands of the man in the mask, who had ordered him to give up his money.

"When the shooting occurred I had left my little daughter at the Hotel Brighton, not more than twenty minutes before. Mr. Roberts was going along with me in the rolling chair. We got to a place where the board-walk was rough and the chair bounced a good deal. I suggested that we turn back. The chair was a covered one, and Mr. Roberts rapped on the glass, and told the negro chair man to turn around. Just as he did so the chair stopped and a masked man thrust a pistol into the chair, having first opened the window on the ocean side, and ordered us to get out.

"I was on the side of the chair towards the ocean, and without a word got out and held up both hands. Mr. Roberts followed me, and as soon as he had emerged from the chair the man told him to give up his money. I had a little chatelaine bag attached to my wrist, but the man made no effort to get this.

ROBERTS SHOWED FIGHT.

"When ordered to give up his money, Mr. Roberts declared he would do nothing of the kind and started after the man. I was scared, and begged Mr. Roberts to give the man what money he had, but Mr. Roberts instead rushed at the man, who was covering him with a pistol, and stood a few paces off. As Mr. Roberts started forward the man fired two shots, one of them taking effect. At the moment I did not know that Mr. Roberts was shot, and doubt if he realized it. Although struck by one of the bullets he kept on toward the man without pausing, and the villain ran and escaped in the darkness.

"If it had been any one whom we knew well do you not think we would have recognized the voice at once? If it had been my husband, as they have tried to insinuate, or my brother, it would have been impossible for either to have disguised his voice so that both Mr. Roberts and I would fail recognize it."

Mrs. Williams was asked regarding a statement she was alleged to have made to Chief of Police Woodruff, of Atlantic City, in which she was reported to have said her husband had not been to Europe at all, but had been in a sanitarium.

"I never said anything of the kind," declared Mrs. Williams. "Mr. Woodruff has been reported as saying a great many things, and has attributed some statements to me. To this very day I have never seen Mr. Woodruff. Any interview with me that he has given would, of course, be a fabric of his own imagination."

Married Two Women and Possibly Third

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 3.—Convicted of having married two women and possibly three or four, Nathaniel Self, of London, Ont., was sentenced to five years in Kingston for bigamy.

Self, who was masquerading here under the name of Geo. Ferguson, was arrested two weeks ago on complaint of his first wife, now residing in London, where Self deserted her with her children.

Becoming financially embarrassed, the absconding husband wrote to his first wife for money, and this was his undoing.

Self was staying at a hotel with Miss Lillian Norrish, of London, whom he had married a short time ago.

The police believe he also has wives in Woodstock and Paris.

Roller Skating Rink Will Open Tonight

The Auditorium, Peterborough's new roller skating rink will be thrown open to the public tonight, and no doubt a big crowd will be on hand for the event. The new rink is located in the old Bridge Works' buildings on George street, immediately north of Dalhousie street, and is large and splendidly fitted out with a grand floor. A new and improved style of skates will be used. Mr. W. E. Gengo, the proprietor, has had much experience with rinks of this kind and no doubt this venture will prove a success.

Azor Northey Nearly Drowned at Lakefield

Mr. Azor Northey of Lakefield, was nearly drowned yesterday afternoon while fishing above the dam. The man accidentally fell into the water and was carried down the river for nearly 200 yards, where he fortunately got hold of a passing log. After hanging to the log for some time he was noticed by some men, who quickly came to his rescue and extricated him from his perilous position.

Duck Season Now In Full Swing

The duck season is now in full swing and the nimrods from far and near are in their seventh heaven. Shot guns old and new, have been taken down from the walls and cleaned, and are now all ready for use. The camping kit is also made ready, and the hardware merchants are making their fortunes in the sale of guns, ammunition, tools, etc. Many men from Peterborough intend to start out in a day or so, and they are sure of having 'duck meals" for the next two weeks.

Capt. Hains' Seven-Year-Old Boy Will Testiy for His Father?

New York, Sept. 2.—Seven-year-old Peter Hains, eldest son of Capt. Peter C. Hains, who, with his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, is accused of the murder of William E. Annis, will be called as one of the principal witnesses at the trial of his father, so said Joseph A. Shay, of counsel for the Hainses, after he had conferred with Gen. Hains.

It is alleged that the child has told of having seen Annis with Mrs Hains at Fort Hamilton while Capt. Hains was in the Philippines. Mr. Shay refused to go into the particulars of the story.

"You will have to wait until John F. McIntyre gets back," he said. "Mr. McIntyre is away investigating matters of great importance in connection with the defence. All I will say is that the boy knows a good deal about what transpired in his father's absence. We would, under ordinary circumstances, prefer not to make use of so young a child as a witness, but when you realize that a human life is at stake you will see how necessary it is for us to take the step."

On the night of the murder Mrs. Peter Hains and her mother, Mrs. Libby, came from Westbrop Highlands to this city, and the next morning went to Fort Hancock with the intention of taking the three Hains children to Boston. They saw the children at Fort Hancock on the Sunday after the murder, and talked with them. No attempt was made to take the children away that day, it is said

"I WILL STAND BY PA."

Peter, it is said, told his grandmother that his own mother had asked him to stand by her under all circumstances.

"No," said the boy, in response to his mother's pleadings. "I will stand by my papa."

Another dramatic feature of the trial will be the appearance on the witness stand of Capt. Hains' aged mother. She will be called to prove that after the captain learned from the lips of his wife of her alleged infidelity he acted like one bereft of reason.

A CHANGED MAN.

"My son's anguish was terrible after he returned from the Philippines," said Mrs. Hains, sr., to Mr Shay. "He came back, absolutely believing in his wife, and nothing but her own confession would shake his belief. He had brought back valuable presents for her, and he had had been looking forward with pleasure to their meeting. Then came this awful revelation. My son was like a changed man. I remember how he came to me, his mother, and how he had laid his head on my lap and sobbed and cried and moaned.

"Oh, isn't it terrible! Is it possible! My Claudia, my Claudia! How could she be so false to me! If she only hadn't admitted it all! Oh, that awful, terrible scoundrel!"

"My son," went on Mrs. Hains, "continued to rave against the man who had wrecked him. One night he came into my room moaning and crying and calling his wife names. 'Oh, how cruel,' and also the mother of my children!' he called out.

BETTER DEAD IN BATTLE.

"I tried to comfort him, but the effort was vain. We were terrified because of my son's actions, and I begged Thornton to watch his brother and not leave him out of his sight.

"The newspapers have said about me that I have been heart-broken since I learned of the shooting. That is not true. I have been heart-broken since my son came back from the West. Had they brought me news of his death on the battlefield it would not affected me as it did when I was compelled to witness his anguish and his mental breakdown."

Mr. Shay said yesterday that he did not believe the defence would be ready before the latter part of November.

As soon as Justice Garretson convenes court Mr. Darrin will ask that a special grand jury be impannelled, and then the Hains case will be submitted as soon as the grand jury is sworn. An indictment will be but the work of a few minutes. Mr. Darrin insists that the case needs a speedy trial.

DARRIN SEES JEROME.

District Attorney Jerome and District Attorney Ira C. Darrin, of Queen's, who will have charge of the prosecution of the Hainses—Capt. Peter C. and T. Jenkins—discussed for more than an hour Monday the general features of the Hains case, and the points in common they may have with the Thaw and other murder cases of which Mr. Jerome has had an intimate knowledge.

Mr. Darrin called on Mr. Jerome for the purpose of getting from him any aid or advice in the prosecution of the Hainses.

A Local Man's Hard Treatment

Mr R. Redmond, of 469 Donegal street, called on the Times yesterday and made very serious complaints regarding the way he was used by the civic authorities. He is continually molested by the smaller generation, who take a special pride in breaking his windows, stealing his fruit, etc., and even going so far as to pelt him with mud and stones. He has laid the matter before the police on several occasions but no attention has been paid to his complaints. Mr. Redmond has been a respectable citizen of the city for nearly fifty years and has been continually subjected to ill treatment. It is almost time that the police authorities should take steps in order to protect this man and give him every right that a law-abiding citizen should receive.

Harvesters Cannot Get Work in the West

At least one hundred men who went from the Maritime Provinces to the West, were unsuccessful in obtaining work on the farms near Brandon. The mayor of Brandon was notified and assured the harvesters that steps would be taken to see that they were provided for. The C.P.R. authorities have agreed to ship the men back to their homes for the paltry sum of $8.

Inquest Into the Death of the Late John Greer Resumed Last Night

The adjourned inquest into the death of the late John Greer, was resumed last night.

Mr. Robert Dean, proprietor of the Peterborough Dye Works, was the first witness called. He stated that he had about 21 years experience with gasoline. It is a dangerous substance. The direct danger is in using it in a too small and badly ventilated room. If the room was overheated, gasoline is so inflammable that the fumes would take fire. It will explode sometimes without coming in contact with any burning material. He had no accidents from gasoline in his experience. The witness never knew of an explosion resulting from the friction caused by rubbing clothes together.

Mr. Bruce Ricky, proprietor of "My Valet," was called. He took over the busin as on April 11th. Neither he nor his partner had had any experience with gasoline before going into business. The room in which the accident occurred would be about 18 x10 feet and 8 feet high. It is ventilated by a large window, and when using gasoline the door was opened. At the time of the accident the window was opened to its full extent. The deceased was alone in the room. Witness said that the deceased's experience with gasoline extended over a period of four months. Smoking was never permitted in that room. He was sure the deceased was not smoking at the time. Before he died he told his mother he had not been smoking. The largest quantity of gasoline ever kept on the premises was five gallons. It was kept in air-tight cans.

Mr. Jas. Greer, father of the deceased, and Mr. Rickey's partner, was called. He was absent from the city at the time of the accident. He had made inquiries but could not arrive at the cause of the accident. Witness did not think it required a life time to know how to use gasoline.

Louis Le Bar, presser at "My Valet," stated that the first he knew of the accident was at twenty-five minutes to one. He telephoned for a doctor. When with as went where the injured man was he said, "Hello, Lou," but said nothing of the explosion.

Fire Chief Howard stated that he arrived at the fire at 12.40 o'clock. The building was on fire, but the firemen had got it under control. He saw the deceased. He had not had any experience with gasoline, but had witnessed a number of accidents resulting from it. It is the gas arising from gasoline that causes the trouble.

Mr. Walter Wiley, former proprietor of "My Valet," stated that his experience with gasoline extended over a period of 15 months. As far as the witness could learn from his father who died as a result of a gasoline explosion at "My Valet," before he passed away that the accident was caused by the late Mr. Weary rubbing his feet on the floor and might have ignited a match causing the flames to flare up. On Friday, witness said that he saw the deceased in the yard smoking; but before he went inside, he put the pipe in his pocket. Witness stated that he had often smoked while working with gasoline and had put his lighted pipe right into the gasoline. The real danger was with the fumes.

Misses Wade and Robinson, employed in the pressroom, stated that they saw the deceased about 11 o'clock on Saturday morning. They had seen him smoking a pipe. The inquest was then adjourned till next Wednesday night at eight o'clock.

Bank Clerk Fled with a Parcel of $1,200 in Bills

Kingston, Sept. 2.—A young clerk in the employ of the Metropolitan Bank at Harrowsmith, is missing, and with him has disappeared a parcel containing twelve hundred dollars in bank bills.

The clerk, whose name has not been given out, partly because his family, which resides at Harrowsmith, is so respectable, was given the parcel to send to the head office at Toronto. Instead of doing so, he appears to have pocketed it and made a dash across the border. He went through Kingston the night the parcel was stolen, and was undoubtedly in the United States by the next morning.

Detectives employed by the guaranty company, who put up his bond, the London Guaranty and Accident Company, are not upon his trail. The lapse of a week, however, without a capture, is disheartening. The delay in giving publication to the facts may make his flight easier, but the detectives think it may lull the fugitive into a sense of security.

The missing bank bills are of various denominations. They are not new or unsigned, nor on one bank only. Their numbers are not known it is said, and little difficulty would be experienced in passing them.

NO PEACE IN IRELAND TILL BRITAIN FURTHER YIELDS

John Redmond Says Congestion Must be Met by More Land Legislation--Uttered a Warning to British Government

Dublin, Sept. 2.—At a meeting yesterday of the Central branch of the United Irish League, John Redmond, who presided, dilated upon the importance of the last parliamentary session so far as Ireland was concerned. He considered the Irish University bill one of the greatest emancipating measures of the century, and he should always be proud of his share in its adoption. Ireland, he said, would receive nearly four million dollars a year under the old age pension bill, which would benefit seventy thousand people in Ireland. These and other measures were the substantial results of their parliamentary work.

He uttered a warning to the British Government, however, that there was still important work to be done in connection with land legislation and the congested districts, failing which, the Nationalists could not be responsible for the maintenance of peace in Ireland.

A resolution was adopted embodying the customary demand for home rule. Another resolution offered by John Dillon was unanimously adopted thanking their kinsmen in the United States for the invitation extended to John Redmond and Joseph Devlin to attend the convention of the United Irish League of America to be held in the fall at Boston.

Speaking later on the subject, Mr. Redmond said that their visit to America must be brief owing to the necessity of their return for the reopening of parliament.

Police Court

At the police court yesterday morning Mr. A. A Taggart was charged with selling and practising medicine without having the proper authority to do so. He pleaded not guilty in his own behalf. Mr. Herb Wood son of Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution. The first witness called was Mr. Bolton Cunningham who testified he had known Mr. Taggart for some time but never had bought any medicine from him. Mr. Taggart had given him a pill about six months ago for a headache. He had also sold his wife some medicine for her daughter Ruth. This transaction occurred last January. The doctor did not make a diagnosis of her case. The next witness called was Mr. Walton, who had procured a bottle of sugar-coated pellets for Indigestion. He testified that these did not do him any good, and he threw the remainder in the stove. Mr. Wood asked if the defendant had attended to, or, had sold any other person medicine within the last six months, and witness testified he had. The Magistrate wanted a fuller account of the proceedings and enlarged the case till Oct. 1st.

IMPURE BLOOD

Clogs the Kidneys
Slows the Heart
Fthe Braagsin

Weakens Every Part of the Body. Causes Organic Diseases.

Just as strength is the natural outcome of pure blood, so is debility and sickness the result of impure blood.

To know how quickly how surely Ferrozone cures, to see how it rebuilds and restores, you have only to read the following letters—read them carefully—see if the symptoms resemble yours.

Miss Evelyn M. Gantz of Kingston, writes: "I have had an attack of blood disorder which broke out in horrid looking pimples. They were ugly red disfiguring blotches that ruined the appearance of my face. I tried all sorts of medicine, but the pimples didn't leave. I was recommended Ferrozone and gave it a trial. I noticed an improvement after the second box, and kept up the treatment which finally cleared my skin. As the result of Ferrozone I have a clear healthy complexion and can recommend it to all other young women similarly affected."

Another young lady well known in society circles of Springfield, who, derived exceptional benefit from Ferrozone, says: "I felt it my duty to make known the value of Ferrozone. My trouble was poor weak blood, and as a consequence my lips were pale, and my cheeks had no color. I wasn't at all strong, and required a bracing tonic. Ferrozone soon brought color to my cheeks, improved my appetite and made me stronger than I had been in years. I favor Ferrozone because it is so simple to take and works so quickly.

No blood remedy exists that has the power to cure, to heal, to restore like Ferrozone; try it. 50c per box at any drug store.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, breathlessness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the form full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and mental systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair home, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

Wild Rush For the Western Lands

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—The amended Dominion Lands Act became operative today, and there was a great rush in the seven districts affected by the Act. Approximately 300,000,000 acres of odd-numbered sections were open for location.

The principal feature of the measure is that which enables homesteaders of 160 acres to double their holdings, and it is quite evident that nearly all are availing themselves of the privilege.

The rush was enormous. At Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Prince Albert, crowds fought for places in the line all night. The police were required at all the larger places. Many homesteads given away free are worth $6 to $10,000. It is the last big rush for lands which can ever be witnessed in North America.

British Columbia Must Shift for Herself and Rise Above Partyism

Vancouver, Sept. 2. — The World (Liberal), yesterday evening came out with an editorial which commenced by asking, "Is the time ripe for a parting of the ways? Will British Columbia, no longer trusting to either great political parties parties for justice and appreciation of her needs, have to depart from beaten paths and carve for herself a new road through the wilderness of graft, stupidity, and selfish greed to a land of new political prosperity?"

The article then refers to the past indifference of the Liberal party and refers to the broken promises of better treatment as soon as the condition of affairs is better known, claiming these promises kept them in line when it was plain as A B C that her needs were being sacrificed to the good of the party.

After denunciation of those who obey the party call through quick and thin, the World questions whether politicians can longer be trusted. It then declares,

PETERBOROUGH SEPTEMBER 5 1908

CANADA THE EMPIRE'S FOOD PROBLEM

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission. According to the estimates of the deputy minister of agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress, Canada, by the year 1913, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 250,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported into the United Kingdom from British possessions and foreign countries respectively:

	British Possessions		Foreign Countries
Wheat	15	22	85	68
Meat	21	24	79	76
Butter	19	21	80	79
Cheese	54	75	46	25

It will thus be seen, says an exchange, how in the matter of food products the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy minister's estimate may be rather high, it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States must, before many years pass, cease to be a wheat exporting country and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1886 the exports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £22,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £21,000,000, but in the five years ended 1906 they had grown to over £36,000,000, and last year reached close on £50,000,000.

SOCIALISM

Sooner than we reckon on there will be three instead of two great parties striving for the mastery in the government in the United States. The third party, which is coming to the front with leaps and bounds, is the Socialistic.

Singularly enough, with absolutely free speech and an unhampered press, Socialism has made slower growth in this republic than in the countries of the old world. In several of the governments of Europe they are so strong a minority as to have the balance of power. In the British House of Commons there are 82 Socialists; in the German Reichstag there are 43; no less than 54 sit in the French Chamber of Deputies. These are the legislative bodies which are nearest like our House of Representatives. In similar bodies in Austria, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and even Russia the Socialists are well represented. In every country with an elective form of government save the United States they find seats in the halls of legislature, but as yet no Socialist has been sent to Washington, at least as such.

But they are growing in numbers in the United States. Twenty years ago they cast only about 2,000 votes. Six years ago they cast nearly 230,000. In 1904 their vote totalled 450,000. This year they hope to swell it to close to a million. How long at this rate will it be before they have a strong representation in Congress? Indeed, how long will it be before they will have a right to contend in earnest for the Presidency?

Fortunately many of the theories of the old-time Socialists have either been abandoned or toned down, so that the word Socialism does not carry with it nearly the same terror to vested interests and individualism as of old. In fact, there are many persons who do not claim to be Socialists and who would hotly resent the imputation who possess opinions and advocate measures which the Socialists were the first to bring out and which only a few years ago would have stamped their advocates as dangerous malcontents carried away by an impossible dream. Perhaps by the time the Socialists are in power they will have come nearer to the conservative level, or the conservatives will have approximated them in their desire for change of system, and so the bloodless revolution may not be so very dreadful after all.

THE EMBARGO OF CANADIAN CATTLE

Although the British government has officially refused to accede to the request that the embargo on the importation of cattle from the Dominion should be removed, there seems to be some change in public opinion in Great Britain in favor of such action. Of course among the agricultural community there opposition to the proposal is general, as was to be expected. In Ireland also, as a cattle raising country, the request is not looked on with favor. But the increase in the cost of meat in Great Britain has caused the subject to become of more interest to the people, and some of the leading newspapers, both in London and the Provinces, are discussing the matter very fully and with an evident leaning in favor of some modification of the present regulations. The "Western Daily Press", at Bristol after summing up the case for and against the embargo, in effect says it should be lifted under precautionary regulations. We are inclined to think that there is evidence of a growing public opinion in the Old Country in favor of some relaxation of the present regulations, so obnoxious in Canada, because it is held here that they are not justified by the facts and could be removed without any danger of disease being spread among the domestic herds by the importation of Canadian cattle.

DISCONTENT IN JAPAN

Since the war with Russia the standard of living in Japan has increased 200 per cent. and the people are grumbling about their poverty. It takes a great deal more now to satisfy a Jap than it did before. Mere existence, which was all that was asked by the masses, is no longer sufficient. The people demand more and better food—more of what we occidentals call the comforts. Their eyes are opened and the old standard will never again be acceptable. The people are heavily taxed, for the expenses of the war were enormous, and they are objecting to the burden. A wave of Socialism is sweeping over the land. Japan is making rapid strides in civilization, but her people are more unhappy than ever. She has conquered Russia; she soon may have to conquer herself.

THE NEWSPAPER IN CHINA

One remarkable feature in the reform movement in China is the amazingly rapid development of the newspaper press. Seven years ago China had no newspapers except those started and controlled by foreigners. To-day there are more than 300 native journals. Pekin has a prosperous daily, started, edited and controlled by Chinese women—think of it! The government is encouraging the new-born appetite for news and is giving the newspapers every aid. The mass of the Chinese population cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper, but there is enough who can to make publication profitable. It is a common thing in the cities to see groups of men gathered on the street corners listening eagerly while some favored individual stands and reads a newspaper aloud.

Once China gets used to newspapers she will be in touch with the world and Europeans will no longer be "foreign devils."

RETURN OF PROSPERITY

The commercial horizon is clearing striking evidence of the return of business activity on this continent and especially in the neighboring republic was shown when the sales of steel billets and pig iron in Pittsburg announced yesterday made this the best half week in ten months. Thus the mercial barometer of America clearly indicates better conditions that have prevailed for nearly a year. It is further significant that large firms who had placed orders for pig iron, when they had reason to believe there would be a rise in price, in some cases trebled their orders. The Industrial Managers have thus given testimony that they discern an upward trend of things, and as their predictions before have been generally realized, the people have reason to expect better times shortly.

New in Brief

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—The Winnipeg Commercial says: In reference to the reports of frost damage appearing recently in the eastern papers, we would say that they are, to say the least, very misleading. In a few sections slight frosts in small patches have occurred, and the total injury is insignificant as compared with the area under crop. Damage from hail has also been slight. These are things that happen every year to a few unfortunate farmers. Even in the big crop year of 1906 considerable damage was done by the frosts and hail, but what is a few thousand bushels in a crop of one hundred million? The objectionable feature of the despatches to the outside press is that they read as if the whole area were affected by every little local storm, hail, drought or other element."

circulating for some time that an Exhibition at Shepherd's Bush would become a more or less permanent institution, and the possibility an Anglo-American or Anglo-German exhibition might find its home there next [illegible]. Mr. Imre Kiraly, however, has given a complete denial to the stories. To an interviewer, he has stated that no suggestion has been made for a further exhibition, and there was no truth in the rumor of an American exhibition being held there next year. The exhibition, he said, might be extended beyond October—just for a few weeks. All of the exhibits, however, would be removed by Christmas, and every structure—including the stadium—would be demolished by next March.

The Hague, Sept. 1.—The twenty-eighth birthday of Queen Wilhelmina and the tenth anniversary of her coronation as ruler of The Netherlands, will be celebrated with great rejoicing by the people of Holland to-day. In the city business will be practically suspended and the day given over to merry-making. The joy of loyal Dutchmen is increased by the report that the queen will soon be visited by the stork. Two or three times previously such a report has gone forth, only to end in disappointment. Unless an heir is born to the queen, the throne will pass to the German branch of the royal family and Dutchmen fear that this will result in finally making their country a German dependency.

The queen was married in 1901, to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. Her married life has been marred by many quarrels, and this has served to excite the wrath of the subjects of the queen, with the result that her consort is perhaps the most unpopular man in Holland.

London, Aug. 31.—The reply of the Netherland's government to President Castro's last will, it is understood, is in substance that the Dutch cruiser Gelderland did not salute the Venezuelan flag upon entering La Guaira, because under international naval practice a war vessel does not salute a flag in a foreign port if she had entered that port and saluted within a year. The Gelderland had done this. Besides it is declared, it was not known whether the forts would reply should the Gelderland salute them, and all chance of further embarrassment was saved by the cruiser keeping within the international precedent of saluting once a year.

As for the alleged insults to the Venezuelan consul at Willemstad, Island of Curacao, the gentleman so insulted, it is stated, was never accepted by the Dutch government as consul, hence he could not officially be styled consul, and was in Curacao simply as a citizen of Venezuela. The Dutch colonists at Curacao expressed great indignation when following the arrest of a man distributing leaflets denouncing the Holland Government, the man said he was hired by the so-called Venezuelan consul.

In conclusion, it is said, the treatment of M. D. Reus, the Dutch Minister at Caracas, who was expelled by President Castro, was irregular, according to international etiquet as President Castro, instead of sending M. De Reus his passports and expelling him from the country should have informed the Netherlands government that her minister was no longer persona grata and should have requested his recall.

St. Catharines, Aug. 31. — Captain Daniel O'Brien, who commands the C. P. R. steamer Manitoulin, running from Fort William, Ont., to Duluth, was here a day or two ago looking up old acquaintances and friends, after an absence of 28 years. He was born in St. Catharines.

When a youth he went across the line, joined the Northern army in the civil war, saw a good deal of service, came back to Buffalo, and was finally induced by the Fenians to join their army. He was with the ill-fated force which was defeated by the Canadian troops. Since then he has visited every quarter of the earth. Very often he has taken his vessel out of the harbor in Lake Superior when other captains were afraid to venture out.

One of the friends he visited here was Thomas O'Donnell, who fought with the Canadian troops. The old friends—our old enemies—had a hearty handshake and did a good deal of "fiddling" of each other on the score of the Fenian Raid, in which, naturally, Mr. O'Donnell had the best of it.

Pekin, Aug. 31.—An edict was issued yesterday setting forth in detail the stages that will be reached each year in the conversion of the form of government in China to the foreign system, and assuring the people in the name of the emperor that a constitution will be granted nine years hence.

Recently there has been a formidable movement in the provinces looking to the securing of a constitution, and Provincial delegations which have come to Pekin for the purpose of making inquiry into the matter have been treated with great respect by the members of the grand council.

These delegations received also from Yuan Shi Kai, a grand councillor, who is also a member of the Board of Foreign Affairs, assurance that a constitution will be granted as promised.

Recent affairs in Persia and Turkey have been cited by the members of the delegations who declare that China should in no way be behind these countries.

London, Aug. 30.—Doctors are, it seems, left hopelessly behind in the race for long life by clergymen. Ministers of all denominations taken in the aggregate live longer than any other class of persons. If you cannot enter holy orders the next best way of becoming a centenarian is to take up gardening or turn gamekeeper, farmer, or railway engineer. These, according to Dr John Tatham's report to the Registrar-General on the mortality in certain occupations during the three years from 1900, just issued, are the callings which offer the best prospect of longevity. At the other end of the scale come the general laborer, the tin miner, the baker, and the hotel servant, and about midway are the physician, the undertaker, and the optometrist. As compared with lawyers, Dr. Tatham records, medical men die more rapidly at every stage of life, while, as compared with the clergy, their mortality is enormously in excess. Tuberculosis, phthisis, and disease of the respiratory organs are the only causes of death that are substantially less fatal to medical men than to males in the aggregate. Diseases of the nervous and circulatory systems contribute the largest share to the mortality of medical men, due, no doubt, to their anxious and arduous occupation. A form of thanks is given in the particulars relating to commercial travelers. They fall victims to alcoholism in greater proportion than to all occupied and retired males by 38 per cent., whilst their mortality from liver disease is more than double that standard. But the gout, liver disease, accident, and suicide was considerably less in the last period than in 1880-82. In the previous supplement it was remarked that there was no other occupation in which the ravages of cancer approached that among chimney sweeps. It is still noteworthy that although the mortality from that disease has fallen by nearly one-fourth part, chimney sweeps are still subject to the highest fatality from this disease, although among several other occupations, such as servants in London, brewers, furriers, general laborers and seamen, the mortality does not fall far short of that of chimney sweeps. It is a subject whom, as Dr. Tatham points out, deserves further attention. For the first time in these returns the question of the mortality among women workers is dealt with exhaustively; though it is a matter full of difficulty. For instance, the case of a domestic servant, the daughter of a bricklayer who has returned home permanently invalided, is given. She is thenceforward regarded as unoccupied, and in the event of death will be registered as a bricklayer's daughter, no mention being made of her previous occupation. In the case of a married woman this cause would appear to operate even more strongly, the deceased woman being described simply as a wife or widow, without mention of her husband's occupation, but without mention of her own. It is rather curious that actors, authors, and journalists have no place in the tables, even in the index. Even numerically they must be almost as important as, say, costermongers, wig makers, and chimney sweeps, who are all included.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

The Chase is Now Falling Off

CHASE IS FALLING OFF

Atlantic City, Sept. 1.—Because of the continued improvement in the condition of Charles Boyle Roberts, the Baltimore clubman, the prospects of establishing the identity of the man who shot him on the boardwalk are diminishing. The authorities say they are now convinced that if Mrs. W. S. G. Williams and Roberts cling to their statements the identity of the mysterious assailant will never be known unless revealed by accident.

Efforts to have the whole case abandoned have been increased. It was stated at the Hotel Brighton that Mrs. Williams and her relatives and Mrs. Roberts and her relatives had departed. While not denying the announcement of departure, the police say that Mrs. Williams and others who might be wanted as witness in the event of an arrest could be summoned to headquarters on short notice.

"YES, OF COURSE, A ROBBER."

Mrs. Nani El Corey, a daughter of T. Akers, an Oriental shopkeeper on the Boardwalk near Vermont Ave., gave a new version of the shooting today.

"On last Wednesday night at about half-past ten o'clock," she said, "I was taking a chair ride on the Boardwalk near Pacific avenue, when I was startled by a pistol shot. Through the mist I could see the figure of a man and a woman and could discern a chair being blown along by the wind. My chair pusher rolled me to within a few feet of the couple, and I heard the man say 'I've been shot.' A policeman came running up and I jumped out of my chair. 'Can I be of any assistance?' I asked the woman. She appeared to be remarkably cool and collected, and she said, 'We are held up by a robber.' Then the man, who was holding his hands beside his side, said, 'Yes, yes, of course, a robber; that's it.'

HOUND OF DOGS.

Mr. Williams is fond of the dogs on his place, some of which are blooded hounds, but hunting make no particular appeal to him, and he has never cared for the use or practice of firearms. Frequently when his valet, who is devoted to him, goes out shooting, Mr. Williams will walk along, never carrying a gun himself, but loving to romp with the dogs, and to see them run. He is rather fond of driving. He and his wife used to go automobiling a good deal, but two or three months ago Mr. Williams sold his big touring car, and since then whenever they indulged in the sport they hired a machine.

The Williams estate of about three hundred acres at Long Green, on the Hartford turnpike, is one of the best farms in this section of the country and is in a fine state of cultivation. The mansion is an old Colonial stone house, tastefully furnished with rare old mahogany antiques, one of the most striking features being a magnificent portrait of Mrs. Williams painted by an eminent foreign artist.

ALIBI IS PROVEN.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 31.—In his law office in the Fidelity Building Saturday afternoon, W. G. S. Williams was put through an exhaustive sweating by Detectives Barney, Hammersley, and Wilson, the latter from Atlantic City. No warrants were in the hands of the detectives and no arrest was made. The interview ended by an agreement of Mr. Williams to allow the officials to go to his home in Long Green, and interview all of the servants to convince them of the truth of his alibi.

In a statement, disconnected at times because of his physical condition, Mr. Williams declared that he had not been in Atlantic City since he returned from Europe, that he had nothing to do with the shooting of Roberts and deplored what had occurred. He said he had been at his home in the Long Green Valley from Wednesday morning until Thursday morning and had been in bed most of the time.

His valet-butler, a negro named Mitchell, declared positively that he had been with his master from Wednesday noon, constantly, that he had put him to bed on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, and had attended him at different times during the night and had been constantly with him until Thursday morning, when he seemed to be sleeping better.

Illness Reported.

(Special to the Times.)

The South Carolina lepar, whose terrible affliction was discovered by the Washington health authorities some days ago, visited Early's isolated quarters on the banks of the Potomac to bid him a farewell. Arriving at the tent, she approached to within a distance of about twenty feet and conversed with her husband. The scene was most affecting. Mrs. Early expressed a willingness to go with her husband to the leper colony to care for and comfort him as best she could. Early, keenly sensitive of the fate in store for him, explained to the wife that he wished her to return to their former home and care for their children and that he would not wish her to sacrifice herself for him.

Separated as they were, they bade each other an affectionate farewell and Early retired to his tent to await deportation to Louisiana, while his wife was driven back to the Salvation Army headquarters, where she is being cared for during her stay in Washington.

Early contracted the disease in the Philippines, where he served as a soldier.

Mrs. Hains will Give Evidence

New York, Sept. 1.—Attorneys for Mrs. Peter C Hains, Jr., wife of Captain P. C. Hains, Jr., U.S.A., charged with his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, with the murder of William E. Annis, are preparing a statement, to be given to the public this week, setting forth her account of the events that preceded the shooting of Annis by Captain Hains on August 15. This will be the first statement made by Mrs. Hains since the shooting, except her general assertion to the effect that her course would be governed by the best interests of her children. Mrs. Hains is with her parents at Winthrop, Mass., where she went after the killing of Annis.

SAYS HE IS INNOCENT.

Thornton J. Hains said to his attorney, Shay, as he left in Long Island City;

"I would like to have the public know that I had absolutely no part in the shooting of W. E. Annis. I have been pictured as a demon who hatched up a murder plot. I wish I could convince the people that I tried in every way to dissuade my brother from taking any revenge upon Annis other than through the divorce suit Peter brought against his wife.

"I don't see why I should be blamed for all this when I'm innocent. I talked earnestly with Peter at the time of his wife's confession, and told him the divorce was the only redress he had. When we went to bayside that day Peter did not mention Annis once. I had not the slightest idea he intended shooting him. I am sure he did not have the notion himself until he saw Annis in his boat. Then he was seized with the impulse."

CAPTAIN HAINS' PAY.

Discussing the status of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., in the Army and Navy Register, a service paper, says;

"The department is aware of Captain Hains' predicament, but further than that they will take no notice of his case until it has been disposed of by the New York authorities. Whatever question arises or whether discipline will be meted out to him in case of acquittal by the civil authorities will depend upon the circumstances as they arise. The law provides that the pay of an officer of enlisted man under such circumstances stops with the date of his arrest. In case of acquittal the pay for the full time will be given him, but if convicted he receives no money from the government."

Ghosts at Work

Chatham, Sept. 1.—The alleged grave robbery case, in which a young girl from Chatham Township is supposed to have been stolen from her resting place in the Maple Leaf Cemetery, is attracting wide attention in this district. It is supposed that owing to the mysterious nature of the disease from which the girl died some of the medical fraternity tried to secure the body.

The girl died of something like Addison's disease, which is a very rare malady. On this account her body would be of great value to surgeons.

News in Brief

Leghorn, Aug. 31.—It is reported that the armored cruiser of 10,000 tons, a sister ship of the Italian cruisers Pisa and Amalfi, being built by the Orlando Dockyard here, is intended for the Japanese government.

Commander John B. Bernadou, the American naval attache at Rome, some time ago sent a report on the subject to Washington.

Prince Louis of Battenberg, while visiting the Orlando Dockyards a few days ago, asked who was the purchaser of the cruiser, but Signor Orlando avoided giving the prince a precise answer.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Over one hundred of the Liberal M.P.'s and M.P.P.'s, candidates and defeated candidates, and other prominent party men, will gather in the Temple Building on Wednesday, Sept. 9th, in the morning and afternoon, at the fourth annual meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario. This association was started in 1904 as a result of the Liberal convention in Massey Hall.

"It will be a business session purely," said Mr. H. M. Mowat, K.C., the president since the beginning, after his arrival in the city today from a holiday in Prince Edward Island.

"Will a new platform be discussed?"

"Not so far as I know."

"There may be an impromptu discussion; that is all. The meetings will be private, and we will also take up questions of organization."

Made a Record Run

The time made by the fire brigade in the run to Mr. Thompson's residence was almost a record. From the time the alarm was sounded until the first tram arrived, only three minutes elapsed. Mr. R. C. Braund took the time out of curiosity to find out what the new brigade could do. He considered that their performance was a good one, and was greatly pleased with the time made. Mr. Braund congratulated the Fire, Water and Light Committee on the condition of the department as shown in that instance.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 29th day of September, 1910, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and specifications of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Weymontachingue, in the province of Quebec, 196.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D" westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Weymontachingue, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros' contract, north of Lake Nipigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F." —From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros' contract north of Lake Nipigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 23 west of what is known as Pamscola Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 211 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nipigon, Ont; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1., District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2. District "C"	150,000
Sec No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec No. 4. District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional Commissioners, and to furnish the additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted to be made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall commence work within thirty days after the date of the signing of the contract, and shall complete the same within the time specified, and shall keep a sufficient number of men employed and sufficient plant on the work to ensure the completion thereof within the time specified, and shall not assign the contract without the consent in writing of the Commissioners."

"The contractor shall commence on the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Ottawa, 15th July, 1910.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds.

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 6,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 600 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,000 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $262.50.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the floors of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is great and promises to be quickly sold.

Feb. 11th, 1908.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Respectfully,

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $17,461.37 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

How to Tell

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grew irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every 'little duty' a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharps twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite and loss of sleep. Reach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured

Was to Have Fled Fiance

Brandon, Sept. 2.—There is a sad sequel to the accident that befell George Young of Peterborough, at the C.P.R. depot Wednesday last, when he lost his life beneath the wheels of a train. Young was on his way to Birtle, to meet his intended bride, Miss Seery. The young lady on receiving the news of her fiance's death, decided to accompany the remains to Ontario on the present at the at the interment, and she is now on the journey.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Any way test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Fell and Fractured Hip

Miss Janet Riddell, a lady well advanced in years who lives at 577 Dickson street, met with a very painful accident Tuesday, which will confine her to her bed for some time. Miss Riddell was stooping over to fix her skirt at the bottom when she slipped and fell heavily on the pavement near her home, fracturing her hip in the fall. She was picked up and carried into the house and the Dan Spence ambulance was called for and conveyed the unfortunate lady to the Nicholls hospital. Dr Morgan attended to her injuries. She is resting easily today.

Wedding Bells

One of Peterborough's most charming and popular daughters became a bride yesterday afternoon in the person of Miss Mabel Bradburn, daughter of the late Thomas Bradburn, who at a delightful September wedding was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Melzar Spry, of Toronto, son of the late Daniel Spry of Barrie. The ceremony took place at 2.30 o'clock at "The Oaks," Mrs. Bradburn's beautiful residence on London street, in the presence of some 125 guests, many of whom had come from distant points to be present on the auspicious occasion.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's church, performed the ceremony in the spacious drawing room which was tastefully decorated for the event with pink and white asters and ferns and palms, the bridal pair standing beneath a canopy while the nuptial knot was being tied.

The matron of honor was Mrs. F. D. Bowen sister of the bride. The two charming bridesmaids were Miss Clara Spry of Barrie, the groom's sister, and Miss Edith Bowson, also of Barrie. Little Misses Dorothy Hill and Marjorie Bowen made two pretty flower girls. The task of assisting the groom fell to Mr. Arthur B. Forster of Toronto.

The fair young bride was attired in a chic sheath costume of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and Carrickmacross lace. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and Lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor's attractive gown was of lace over white satin with satin and gold trimmings while she carried a bouquet of pink asters.

The bridesmaids' costumes were of mulls and lace over silk, their bouquets being of pink asters. The little flower girls also wore dress a mulle and lace over pink silk, but instead of bouquets they carried shepherds' crooks.

MAHON—SMITH.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at 30 Aberdeen avenue at ten o'clock yesterday morning, when Miss Georgina Lavina Smith, third eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs William Smith, was united in marriage to Mr Edward K Mahon, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs Thomas Mahon, Woodstock, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robt Pogue, of St Paul's church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Smith, and the groom was assisted by Dr. King. During the ceremony the bride's sister, Mrs. Gould of North Bay, played the wedding march.

Immediately after the tying of the nuptial knot Mr. and Mrs. Mahon left on the 11.45 train for Nelson, B.C., where Mr. Mahon has accepted a position and where they will live in future.

McAULIFFE—McCARTHY

St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning, was the scene of a pretty wedding, the principals being Miss Anne McCarthy, daughter of Mr Jeremiah McCarthy, 295 Lake street, and Miss Florence McAuliffe, formerly of Peterborough, but now of the St Francis Xavier College, New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin at eight o'clock, and was witnessed by many friends of the contracting parties.

The bride wore a travelling suit of brown cloth and hat to match. She was attended by Miss Helen Kane who was attired in cream silk poplins. Mr. Barney Blastorah, of Harwood, was best man.

After the wedding the party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a dainty breakfast was served.

Mr and Mrs. McAuliffe left on the 11.45 C.P.R. train for New York where they will reside. They received many handsome presents from their friends.

A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and wonderment from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Bierpreiser, Two Innocents Abroad, The Boxing Dance, The Italian Troubadours, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Rialto, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Soubrettes, Motor Beauties, The Dutch Girls, The Sabot Girls, The English Girls, The New York Girls,—and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-Bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

CROWD HEARD AMES. M.P.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Mr. Ames of Montreal delivered his illustrated lecture on the suicide of Liberals in the Labor Hall last night, which was crowded, and the audience was extremely interested, but it is a moot point whether it had any real effect, as most of those there probably were already prejudiced. There was no great demonstration.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is not a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

"ALL DEALERS"

Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole list of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure triple-refined glycerine.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. For 50 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fenelon Falls Youth was Unable to Appear in Court Wounds Were Too Deep

Lindsay, Sept. 3—The two young men accused of stabbing were brought before County Magistrate Moore, and the case was adjourned until Tuesday next, on account of the inability of the victim to be present. The only evidence taken was that of the two doctors who dressed the wounds of Barry and Nicholls. Mr. F. A. McDiarmid of Lindsay, defended the prisoners and applied for bail. This was fixed at $500. The amount could not be raised probably because the boys are entire strangers, and Constable Jones brought the two lads to Lindsay jail.

Both Denton and Littleton came into the court room fresh and debonair and unmindful of the curious glances cast their way. They were dressed nobbily, with turned-up trousers and vividly colored stockings, buttoned ruffs on their coats, and altogether the picture of "summer boys," as portrayed in magazines. Their extreme youth and slight physique were noticeable.

The charges were read against them of inflicting grievous bodily harm on John Barry and Simuel Nicholls with a knife. Dr. Graham, as to John Barry, stated it would be several days before his patient would be able to be out. Dr. Wilson said it would be dangerous to move Nicholls for the next few days, but that he would be alright within a week's time.

CAME FOR SOME SHOOTING.

It was on Friday last that Denton and Littleton arrived in Fenelon Falls from Detroit to enjoy a duck shoot and some fishing. Littleton had lived at the Cataract village in former years, but has since resided across the border. He is the one who is said to have done the stabbing. His companion, Denton, is the larger of the two and was born in the Southern State of Alabama, although he has been working in Detroit for some time past.

The boys boarded at a local restaurant and had been busy preparing for the opening of the duck-shooting season. A new gun and decoys had been bought and their canoe fitted up with provisions. Everything was ready on Monday evening for a start bright and early on the following morning. But it was not to be.

MET YOUNG LADIES.

On Monday evening the visiting duck-shooters met two young ladies of the village, with whom they were acquainted. Gracie Fountain and Tilley Wood are the names of the little maids over whose pretty heads the row probably occurred. The boys were on the point of going home, when a suggestion was made to visit the G.T.R. depot, and the plan was carried out.

It was when the four were returning to the village proper that Barry and Nicholls first came on the scene. Here the drift of the story separates. One side, that of the complainants, is that they asked for half of the sidewalk, and were replied to with jeers, after which the fight occurred. The accused claim that the village boys walked past them, up and down, several times, addressing at the time insulting remarks to them. Then the villagers made a rush, and the "scrap" ensued.

GETTING WORSE OF IT.

The heavier built local boys had the advantage over the city bred youths, and the latter were clearly getting the worst of it. Suddenly the younger lad slipped his hand into his pocket and pulled out a keen-bladed jack-knife and lunged fiercely at his antagonist. Again and again he struck out with the knife, and each time the razor-like blade cut through the garments of his opponents and inflicted several wounds. When his man was finished, the now thoroughly infuriated young fellow turned to the assistance of his companion, and drove the knife at the youth who was struggling with him. Finally the local youths, Barry and Nicholls, took flight. Then the Detroit boys hurried off, but the news spread like wildfire, and they were followed by a large crowd of excited youngsters and men, who had witnessed the battle "afar off." The two were chased for a considerable distance. They hurried over the bridge and washed the blood off their hands in the canal. They next went to their lodgings, and were packing up when Constable Jones made the arrest.

TOLD THEIR PARENTS.

Meanwhile the two injured boys had struggled to their homes, where they told the story to their parents. Chief Jones was immediately notified, and went straight to the boys' boarding-place, where the arrests followed. The boys maintained that they struck out in self defence, but were taken to the village lock-up, where they spent the night in uncongenial quarters.

The entire village was aware of the affair before many hours, and much feeling was aroused. The fracas was the main subject on conversation on the street.

The two injured lads work in a local sawmill and are well known.

"I never knew those lads to be in any scraps of that kind before," observed a citizen.

Referring to the cut in the face of Nicholls, Dr. Wilson stated that if the wound had been a trifle higher up and a little deeper, the victim would assuredly have bled to death. As it was he lost a large quantity of blood and is very weak.

TALKED THROUGH BARS.

During the day the prisoners in the cells were kept from being lonely by a throng of young fellows, who watched through the bars of the "coop" and talked with the prisoners. They bade them a sad farewell as the constable took Denton and Littleton off to the train.

The trial on Tuesday next will be attended, it is probable, by hundreds.

A Devilish Act

C.P.R. Train Crew at Hochelaga Discover Peril Just in Time

Montreal, Sept. 4.—A criminal attempt to interfere with a railway train was made last night by parties unknown. As a train of freight cars was pulling out of the C. P. R. yards, in Hochelaga, it was noticed by the brakemen that the pneumatic brakes were not working properly. The train was stopped and it was found that about 50 rubber air tubes had been maliciously cut under the cars. If this had not been noticed in time the train crew believe it would have been the cause of a serious wreck, with loss of life. The detectives have been notified and arrests are likely to follow.

Bomb Thrower was Caught in New York

New York, September 4.—Awakened by the cracking of a match in the nail, Giovani Congialani, who slept all night in his bakery in Prince street, to guard his little shop against a Black Hand attack, rushed into the hall in time to be hurled to the floor by the explosion of a bomb. He caught a glimpse of a figure starting out of the hall and up the street and shouted for the police, who quickly captured the fleeing man.

The man, who gave his name as Salvators Saliana, was bleeding from many wounds. The bomb, which had evidently exploded prematurely, was filled with nails and slugs. There were 23 families in the tenement, all of whom hurried into the street in terror when the explosion occurred, but none were injured.

Premier Scott Sued

Regina, Sask., Sept. 4.—A writ was issued yesterday by W. H. Laird, against Walter Scott, premier of Saskatchewan, for $25,000 damages for alleged libel. This follows the criminal action taken by Mr. Laird against Mr. Scott during the recent election, when the Premier charged Mr. Laird with being a grafter while holding office in the city council.

Shot Tramp Was Not the Bank Burglar

Montreal, Sept. 3.—What was yesterday thought to have been an encounter between the desperadoes who blew up the Provincial Bank at St Eustache, and the local detectives in the woods near St. Constant, is today believed to have been only a meeting between some tramps and the detectives.

The man-hunt organized by the detectives has failed to locate any dangerous suspects, and while a number of arrests have been made, the suspects had not much trouble in satisfying the police that they were only tramps. The man who shot at Detective Pusie near St. Constant yesterday afternoon is now believed to have been a local character known as "Frise" because of his curly hair. Frise had been camping for some days just outside of St. Constant. Detectives Pusie and Brosseau came on the party unexpectedly.

FIRED AT CLOSE RANGE.

Detective Pusie grabbed Frize by the arm, but before he could down his man, Frize had pulled his revolver and fired a shot at close range, the bullet just grazing the detective's eye, blinding him for the moment. Frize then ran away, but was thought a shot from Detective Pusie's revolver had struck him in the arm. The people around St. Constant are satisfied that Frize had not been away from St. Constant for at least a week, and could not have been near St. Eustache where the bank robbery took place.

SCOURED THE WOODS.

The man hunt lasted right into the night, and the woods about St. Constant were well scoured. Detectives Quin and Brosseau were reinforced by Detectives Leger, Savard, and Mercer from Montreal, while farmers from all round armed themselves with rifles. It was some time after the shooting before the party was organized, and as the four tramps in the party with Frize, who did the shooting, knew the country very well, they were able to get well out of reach, and were not so much as sighted during the hunt. Some tramps were arrested on the railway track, but were not held for more than a few moments.

DETECTIVES STILL AT WORK.

St. Constant is near the U. S. boundary line, south of Montreal, and it would not take the robbers many hours to get into a safe country. On this account the detectives here do not believe that they would allow themselves to be seen during the day. This morning the detectives are working out from La Prairie on some clues, but so far there has not been any indication that they are after the right men. The police here believe the safe-blowers who operated at St. Eustache had laid all their plans very carefully, and that there is little chance of their being captured at all.

Detective Brosseau of the Provincial force had his right foot run over by a hand car while on the way in from St. Constant, where he was in quest of the robbers who broke into the St. Eustache branch of the Banque Provinciale last Sunday. This brave only one man at work on the case, and he is the man who is supposed to have been so badly wounded in the encounter with a couple of tramps yesterday afternoon.

MEN ENGAGED IN THE "WHITE SLAVE" TRAFFIC CAPTURED

Two Men Wanted in the United States on Charges of Immoral Traffic Arrested in Toronto and Rushed Across the Border

Toronto, Sept. 3.—For nearly a month United States officials have been endeavoring to get Isaac Ullman, aged 45, and Joseph Keller, aged 30 years, into United States territory, in order that they might be proceeded against on charges of procuring or participating in the "white slave" traffic. Under a warrant signed by Hon. W. R. Scott, Secretary of State for Canada, the men were early this morning captured at their boarding house, 181 Richmond street west, placed in an automobile, and conveyed to Niagara Falls, New York, under the Immigration Act.

United States Deputy Marshal William R. Bryan of Chicago, was in charge of the party which was composed of Canadian and United States secret service men and the prisoners.

SOUGHT REFUGE IN TORONTO.

The officials of the Immigration department at Washington, have been in communication with Crown Attorney Corby since August 8. Ullman and Keller were under indictment by the grand jury of Chicago, for bringing girls from Europe into the United States for immoral purposes. They escaped, and sought refuge in Toronto. The evidence against them in possession of the United States courts was submitted to Mr. Corby, who in turn forwarded it to the secretary of state. Action was immediately taken, and papers bearing the seal of the secretary of state, were made out for their deportation.

After the papers were made out the question which confronted the officials was; How shall the men be got across the line.

Keller was employed as a selling agent by the Singer Sewing Machine Company. When he entered the employ of the concern, Mr. Lyons, manager of the store at 112 Yonge street, asked for bonds. Keller had no trouble in securing references, and was considered a shrewd and energetic employe. The U.S. officials approached Mr. Lyons with general propositions by which they could come into possession of him. Glowing stories of mining operations in Pennsylvania were unfolded for Keller's benefit, but he would not bite. Great opportunities of quick fortunes to be made in Pittsburg were discussed before him, but he refused to have anything to do with them.

KEPT A BOAT READY.

A boat, presumably a large gasoline launch, was kept for weeks at the foot of Yonge street in the hope that he would be induced to take a spin, and thus be conveyed to the other side of the lake. To no avail. Detectives, secret service and other department men had their heads together, with the result that last night Detectives Moffat and Sockett arrested the men on the deportation warrant and handed them over to the U.S. authorities.

Ullman kept a small store, and both seemed always to be well supplied with money. Word of the efforts of the authorities reached them, and they consulted Mr. T. C. Robinette, K.C., who told them that if they wanted to avoid arrest they had better stay right in Toronto.

Mr. Corby was seen at his home last night, and after his final consent given, the arrests were made. The U.S. men had a big automobile, and at 10 o'clock Keller was taken. Ullman who captured at midnight, and both men were held at No. 1 police station.

WHY THEY HUSTLED THEM.

Mr. Corby explained to a reporter this morning that the Extradition Act did not cover this offence, hence the appeal to Ottawa.

"The warrant of the Secretary of State is supreme," said Inspector Duncan. "It was great work on the part of the department, and in the best law by which to get rid of undesirables. The men had committed no offence in Canada and so could not be touched.

"Why," he continued, "there is a man in Toronto today whom the U. S. police have been trying for four months to get. He lives like a prince on an income of $10,000, a month, derived from immoral houses. The police have appealed to the Federal authorities, and perhaps they may get him now."

The men boarded with Elias Dunkelman, a button-hole maker, on Richmond street. Mrs. Dunkelman said this morning that the men did nothing to create suspicion while they were with her.

In The Realm of Sport

The following athletes will represent St. Peter's T.A.S. at the big athletic meet to be held at Lindsay on Labor Day; Neary, Gauthier, O'Donnell, Knapp, O'Brien, Masterson and others who will be picked by the committee before the big event is pulled off.

No doubt a large crowd will be on hand this evening to witness one of the most spectacular physical feats ever performed before a Peterborough audience. "Yankee" Rogers, champion catch-as-can wrestler of America, will meet Fritz Mohl, champion of Germany, in a bout best two out of three falls Graeco-Roman style. Much talk has been floating around since these two men met a week ago and no doubt a large crowd will be on hand at the Brock street rink to witness a match where strength, physical development and science is combined. In connection with the big bout there will be a few preliminaries, and Mr. Gisbon, bandmaster of the 57th Regimental Band assures the people that a splendid musical treat will also be provided.

The New Auditorium Roller Rink Opened Last Night

Last evening marked the opening of what promises to be one of Peterborough's most popular places of amusement, when the new roller rink opened its doors to those who indulge in this favorite pastime. Almost 400 people were skating, a large number being of the fair sex. The rink was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, and presented a neat appearance. Much credit is due to Prof. G. W. Greene, the popular proprietor and manager, who has spared no pains in making the undertaking a grand success. The rink will be open to the public from 10 to 12 in the morning, 2.30 to 5 in the afternoon, and from 7.30 to 10 in the evening. Mr. Greene will have skating competitions in the near future, and no doubt a keen interest will be shown as to whom can "roller" the best.

Rogers and Hays Defeated Gutterson and Hamstead

At the P.B.C.'s bowling alley last evening quite an interesting game took place, the contestants being Yankee Rogers and Mr. J. B. Hay against Mr. Gutterson and Mr. Hamstead. Messrs. Rogers and Hays were successful in taking first place. A large crowd of spectators were on hand to witness the match.

A Terror to Criminals

A new terror for criminals has been evolved by the French police authorities, who have introduced the cinematograph as a means to force prisoners to sudden confession. Its first introduction was a few days ago in connection with the recent murder of M. Remy, a banker. Courtois, who was the murdered man's valet, has confessed to participation in the crime, and stated that he and the butler, Renard, entered the banker's room and stabbed him to death. Renard however, has consistently denied this, and the examining magistrate has been unable to wring a confession from him, although he has tried to do so by every means in his power. With a view to frightening Renard into confession by enacting his crime before him, the murder was reconstructed in the Palais de Justice recently before a cinematograph. The room was arranged as much like the banker's bedroom as possible. Courtois stripped and a detective also stripped and impersonated Renard. A second detective in the bed impersonated the unfortunate banker. The two men impersonating the criminals then fell upon the banker with such savagery that his body was thrown to the ground and rolled into the position in which it was found after the murder. The cinematograph has reproduced the murder very realistically, and a special performance of the crime as it appears upon the film will be given before Renard and the examining magistrate hopes that the surprise and horror of it will make the wretched man confess.

Power Systems to Race to the Eastern Towns?

Rumor Says Electrical Development Company is to Extend Line to Cobourg

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The Electrical Development Company are said to be contemplating a race with the Hydro-Electric Commission to secure the contract for supplying eastern towns with power. It was stated this morning that an emissary of the company had left to-day for Whitby with the idea of promising an extension of the power line to that place. As another inducement, the Scarboro suburban line, likewise a Mackenzie enterprise, was to be extended to Whitby.

Sir Henry Pellatt emphatically denied that there was any truth in the story. "It would not pay us to extend to there," he said.

The Hydro-Electric Commission will proceed at once to secure formal applications for power from Bowmanville, Whitby, Cobourg, Port Hope, and other eastern towns. The line to the east will soon be an accredited part of the Commission's plans if the towns on the route show the expected desire for power. It is said that several deputations from eastern places will wait on the Commission within the next two weeks. The idea is to have the by-laws voted upon in January.

SAMUEL GOMPHERS.

Gompers Stumps for the Democrats

Fort Worth, Texas, September 4.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, last night opened his campaign for the Democratic National ticket. He began with a defence of unionism, and diverted to a discussion of strikes, saying that the strike was the weapon of labor to be used only in cases of extreme necessity. He closed with an appeal for every man present regardless of party affiliations, to vote for Bryan.

"There's a Reason"

Power Commissioners will Meet Soon to Discuss the Eastern Line

All Places in the Power Zone will be Invited to Send Delegates

From Kingston to Windsor

Toronto, Sept. 3.—The Hydro-Electric Commission are calling for tenders for fourteen transformer stations for the Niagara power line, and the specifications approved by the commission to-day call for transformers and switching apparatus to handle 110,000 volts, a higher voltage than is being handled anywhere else in the world. In this respect the plans of the commission are absolutely unique.

POWER MEETING NEXT WEEK.

Moreover, in order to extend the scope of the already vast undertaking, and run the power line eastward, and perhaps northward, President Dyer, of the Power Union, has called a meeting of all municipalities interested for Toronto next week. All places in the power zone will be invited to send delegates, and plans will then be laid for extending the work of the commission over a large territory, perhaps as far east as Kingston.

MEANS A MILLION DOLLARS.

The tenders for the transformers and electrical apparatus for the municipalities which have contracted for power involve an expenditure of about a million dollars. They will be received up to 6 p.m. on September 26. When the transmission line is built and the stations in operation, municipalities will be able to get power in their own plants by simply tapping the stations with their own distribution plants.

The meeting of the commissioners this morning was a very important one, as it approved of the specifications submitted by Consulting Engineer Ross. Mr. Ross stated this morning that the plant of the Grand Rapids and Muskegon Power Company, which has been operating in Michigan for seven weeks, has held the record for the high voltage handled—100,000 volts, or ten thousand less than Ontario's proposed voltage. This plant has been subjected to the influence of several severe electrical storms, but has not been injured in the slightest.

Mr. Ross made a significant statement to a reporter today. "The higher the voltage," he said, "the less loss there is in transmission. Thus if the voltage is twice as great, four times the amount of power can be transmitted with the same power loss. Our proposed plant could distribute power feasibly from Windsor to Kingston. As it can transmit four times the amount of power with the same loss as a 55,000 volt plant, you can see how superior our facilities are to those of the Electrical Development Company for reaching the east."

Men Require Nerve and Blood Tonic

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES!

The daily grind of life burns up a man's vitality faster than he renews it.

He gets shaky, starts at trifles, tosses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

He needs Ferrozone!

Its first action is upon digestion. It stimulates secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so it can be quickly assimilated.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferrozone is marvelous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did Mr. Karl B. Newsome of Rothesay, who writes; "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferrozone which saved my life after a severe siege of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I couldn't work, and found that three doctors did nothing for me. My druggist recommended Ferrozone as the best preparation for nervous troubles, so I commenced with one tablet at meals. Every box of Ferrozone I took did me more good than the previous one, and it wasn't very long before I was strong enough to move around again. In three months I was completely cured. Ferrozone braced up my nerves, gave me a strong, healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvellous restorer and tonic.

45 Cars of Navvies Pass Through City

One of the strangest trains that have passed over this section of the C.P.R. was seen Wednesday afternoon. It was composed of 45 boarding cars which had been used by Italian laborers in Western Ontario. They had been collected from Kenora, Coldwater and other places and were going to Quebec where further construction work is to be done. The train was stalled in the city for ten minutes.

There were 45 cars in the train and all were occupied. They were 20-ton old style cars, smaller than those now in use. From the roof of each or from the sides a stovepipe protruded, and the usual windows had been cut

Raced Horse with Train and Animal Was Completely Cut in Too

Lindsay, Sept. 3.—Mr. Dean, a resident of Manvers Township, and two companions, had a narrow escape from death. They were driving near Garden Hill, and endeavored to cross the track before the approaching G.T.R. passenger train.

A race ensued between the horse and the engine, and they met on the crossing at the same time. The animal was cut completely in two and the occupants of the buggy had a very narrow escape. They were precipitated almost under the wheels of the engine.

A Joint Trial for the Hainses--Mrs. Hains Silent

New York, Sept. 3.—It has been decided to place Capt. Peter C. Hains and his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, on trial, at the same time in the Queen's County Supreme Court this fall for the murder of William E. Annis. The brothers will go on the witness stand—Capt. Hains to tell of the alleged confession made to him by his wife as to her conduct with Annis at the time the captain was away from Fort Hamilton. Thornton Hains to insist that he did not know that his brother had murder in his heart when he went with him to the Bayside Yacht Club the day of the killing.

"As far as Thornton Hains is concerned," said Mr. Shay, "he should never have been arrested, and there is a possibility that once the grand jury hears the facts in the case that they may decline to find an indictment against him."

Mr. Darrin expects to call as a witness the young man who drove the captain and his brother to the clubhouse. In the carriage there was found, after they had left it, a box containing thirty-seven cartridges of the same calibre and manufacture as those used by Capt. Hains. Mr. Darrin will insist that Capt. Hains loaded his pistol while in the carriage, and that his brother, Thornton, must have witnessed the act.

"We will show just the contrary," declared Shay. "We know that Thornton did not see the pistol loaded, and we know where and when Capt. Hains loaded the revolver. His brother was not present at the time. Capt. Hains will fully explain all this."

Capt. Hains is still in a very nervous condition, it is reported at the Long Island City jail. Thornton Hains is trying his best to cheer his brother, but the latter is inclined to be down-hearted, although it is said that he enjoys an excellent appetite.

District Attorney Darrin, of Queens county, in charge of the prosecution, said Tuesday he had not obtained any response in his efforts to communicate with Mrs. Hains, and that he did not know whether she would be willing to talk with him about the case.

John F. McIntyre and Joseph A. Shay, attorneys for the defence reiterated their statement that they were indifferent as to Mrs. Hain's attitude. The promised statement from Mrs. Hains was not forthcoming

THE TRENT CANAL

The Globe has this to say of the important waterway:

"The Minister of Railways has just made a trip along the Trent Valley Canal from Peterborough to Orillia, and his announcement to the public as the outcome of what he saw is that the canal ought to be completed with all practicable speed. It has cost a large amount of money already, and yet it is only an inland system in the strictest sense of the term. It is navigable from all points on Lake Simcoe and Muchiching to Hastings, some distance below Rice Lake, but it does not open into either the Georgian Bay to the west or the Bay of Quinte to the east. Mr. Graham was quite right in saying that this condition of things must come to an end.

"The worst of the engineering difficulties to be faced in the construction of the canal have been overcome. There are two lofty elevations that have to be surmounted, but this part of the work has been practically completed in a way that has for the past few years been attracting a host of tourists, including many hydraulic engineers, to see the Peterborough lift lock in actual operation. Some of the other locks will have to be enlarged before the canal is made thoroughly efficient, but the most important parts to be undertaken are the extension from Rice Lake down the Trent River and from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay. It was mainly to these remnants that the Minister's announcement is applied.

"Two remarks are suggested by the past history and the present condition of the canal. One is that however skeptical people at a distance may have been about either the feasibility or availability of the undertaking, the people who live in the Trent Valley believe in it, and they are in the best position to judge. They have made a long and careful study of the route and have never been afraid to put up a defence for it in Parliament or anywhere else. There is good reason to believe that for grain and lumber-laden barges from Georgian Bay to Montreal it will always be part of an economical transportation route, quite efficient enough to act as a check on railway rates. It will probably have a good deal of local traffic besides, especially in the carrying of tourists through the beautiful Kawartha Lakes.

"The other remark is that Parliament, having done so much, cannot stop short now. If the canal were not carried to the Georgian Bay in one direction and the Bay of Quinte in another, the original intention would have to be abandoned, for it is inconceivable that any such object should ever have been commenced unless with a deliberate purpose to finish it. The delay that has taken place may admit of explanation; further delay would admit of none, and therefore it is satisfactory to have from the Minister of Railways the most explicit assurance that no time will be lost in completing the undertaking.

A LESSON FROM OUR NEIGHBOR

Canada should profit by the experience of the State of New York, which has found out that the awarding of the contracts for large canal engineering projects in small sections at different times is more expensive and less satisfactory than awarding the contracts all at once. This is the experience of the Empire State in connection with the enlargement of the Erie Canal. When the Dominion Government, therefore, is prepared to undertake the construction of the proposed Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal, or other similar projects, as it must do before long, the lesson that can be learned from across the line should cause them to adopt the policy of awarding all the contracts at the same time and of pushing the work vigorously to completion.

"Instead of the work being planned in 'big mouthfuls', as is the usual custom in large canal engineering projects," writes Edward Hungerford in Harper's Weekly, concerning the enlargement of the Erie canal, "it was apportioned in tiny morsels, million dollar single contracts being the rule."

"The earliest contractors have taken their time, knowing full well that a time limit for their work on a canal that may not be finished within a century is farcical. They have proceeded in many cases without sufficient mechanical facilities, and in other cases with an unnecessary and frightfully expensive duplication of mechanical plants. 'A proper digging plant for a trench the size of the proposed barge canal will cost from one to three hundred thousand dollars. No contractor on a million-dollar job, with the law permitting him no assurance of a second contract, cares to spend a great sum on his plant and equipment. As a result, he struggles along with inferior tools, duplicates his plant extravagantly, and has in several instances bankrupted himself in the endeavor. Many of the largest and most representative of American contractors are refusing to touch the Erie job for this very reason. They want mouthfuls, not dribbles. Some of the contracts already advertised have had no bidders."

It would be wisdom then on the part of the Government not to commence any work until there is some definite assurance that it can be completed without further delay.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Although the British Government has officially refused to accede to the request that the embargo on the importation of cattle from the Dominion should be removed, there seems to be some change in public opinion in Great Britain in favor of such action. Of course among the agricultural community there opposition to the proposal is general, as was to be expected. In Ireland also, as a cattle raising country, the request is not looked on with favor. But the increase in the cost of meat in Great Britain has caused the subject to become of more interest to the people, and some of the leading newspapers, both in London and the Provinces, are discussing the matter very fully and with an evident leaning in favor of some modification of the present regulations. The "Western Daily Press", at Bristol after summing up the case for and against the embargo, in effect says it should be lifted under precautionary regulations. We are inclined to think that there is evidence of a growing public opinion in the Old Country in favor of some relaxation of the present regulations, so obnoxious in Canada, because it is held here, that they are no justified by the facts and could be removed without any danger of disease being spread among the domestic herds by the importation of Canadian cattle.

Since the war with Russia the standard of living in Japan has increased 200 per cent. and the people are grumbling about their poverty. It takes a great deal more no wto satisfy a Jap than it did before. Mere existence, which was all that was asked by the masses, is no longer sufficient. The people demand more and better food—more of what we occidentals call the comforts. Their eyes are opened and the old standard will never again be acceptable. The people are heavily taxed, for the expenses of the war were enormous, and they are objecting to the burden. A wave of Socialism is sweeping over the land. Japan is making rapid strides in civilization, but her people are more unhappy than ever. She has conquered Russia; she soon may have to conquer herself.

One remarkable feature in the reform movement in China is the amazingly rapid development of the newspaper press. Seven years ago China had no newspapers except those started and controlled by foreigners. To-day there are more than 300 native journals. Pekin has a prosperous daily, started, edited and controlled by Chinese women—think of it! The government is encouraging the new-born appetite for news and is giving the newspapers every aid. The mass of the Chinese population cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper, but there is enough who can to make publication profitable. It is a common thing in the cities to see groups of men gathered on the street corners listening eagerly while some favored individual stands and reads a newspaper aloud.

Once China gets used to newspapers she will be in touch with the world and Europeans will no longer be "foreign devils."

The commercial horizon is clearing striking evidence of the return of business activity on this continent and especially in the neighboring republic was shown when the sales of steel billets and pig iron in Pittsburg announced yesterday made this the best half week in ten months. Thus the mercial barometer of America clearly indicates better conditions that have prevailed for nearly a year. It is further significant that large firms who had placed orders for pig iron, when they had reason to believe there would be a rise in price, in some cases, trebled their orders. The Industrial Managers have thus given testimony that they discern an upward trend of things, and as their predictions before have been generally realized, the people have reason t expect better times shortly.

New in Brief

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—The Winnipeg Commercial says: In reference to the reports of frost damage appearing recently in the eastern papers, we would say that they are, to say the least, very misleading. In a few sections slight frosts in small patches have occurred, and the total injury is insignificant as compared with the area under crop. Damage from hail has also been slight. These are things that happen every year to a few unfortunate farmers. Even in the big crop year of 1901 considerable damage was done by the frosts and hail, but what is a few thousand bushels in a crop of one hundred million? The objectionable feature of the despatches to the outside press is that they read as if the whole area were affected by every little local storm, rain, hail, drought or other element."

circulating for some time that the exhibition at Shepherd's Bush would become a more or less permanent institution, and that possibly an Anglo-American or Anglo-German exhibition might find its home there next year. Mr. Imre Kiraly, however, has given a complete denial to the stories. To an interviewer, he has stated that as suggestion has been made for a further exhibition, and there was no truth in the rumor of an American exhibition being held there next year. The exhibition, he said, might be extended beyond October—just for a few weeks. All of the exhibits, however, would be removed by Christmas, and every structure—including the stadium—would be demolished by next March.

The Hague, Sept. 1.—The twenty-eighth birthday of Queen Wilhelmina, and the tenth anniversary of her coronation as ruler of The Netherlands, will be celebrated with great rejoicing by the people of Holland to-day. In the city business will be practically suspended and the day given over to merry-making. The joy of loyal Dutchmen is increased by the report that the queen will soon be visited by the stork. Two or three times previously such a report has gone forth, only to end in disappointment. Unless an heir is born to the queen, the throne will pass to the German branch of the royal family and Dutchmen fear that this will result in finally making their country a German dependency.

The queen was married in 1901, to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. Her married life has been marred by many quarrels, and this has served to excite the wrath of the subjects of the queen, with the result that her consort is perhaps the most unpopular man in Holland.

London, Aug. 31.—The reply of the Netherland's government to President Castro's last will, it is understood, is in substance that the Dutch cruiser Gelderland did not salute the Venezuelan flag upon entering La Guaira, because under international naval practice a war vessel does not salute a flag in a foreign port it sh had entered that port and saluted within a year. The Gelderland had done that. Besides, it is declared, it was not known whether the facts would reply should the Gelderland salute them, and all chance of further embarrassment was saved by this course keeping within the international precedent of saluting once a year.

As for the alleged insults to the Venezuelan consul at Willemstead, Island of Curacao, the gentleman so insulted, it is stated, was never accepted by the Dutch government as consul, hence he could not officially be styled consul, and was in Curacao simply as a citizen of Venezuela. The Dutch colonists at Curacao expressed great indignation when following the arrest of a man distributing bills denouncing the Holland Government, the man said he was hired by the so-called Venezuelan consul.

In conclusion, it is said, the treatment of M. De Reus, the Dutch Minister at Caracas, who was expelled by President Castro, was irregular, according to international etiquet as President Castro, instead of handing M. De Reus his passports and expelling him from the country should have informed the Netherlands government that her minister was no longer persona grata and should have requested his recall.

St. Catharines, Aug. 31. — Captain Daniel O'Brien, who commands the C. P. R. steamer Manitoba, running from Fort William, Ont., to Duluth, was here a day or two ago looking up old acquaintances and friends, after an absence of 28 years. He was born in St. Catharines.

When a youth he went across the line, joined the Northern army in the civil war, saw a good deal of service, came back to Buffalo, and was finally induced by the Fenians to join their army. He was with the invading force which was defeated by the Canadian troops. Since then he has visited every quarter of the earth. Very often he has taken his vessel out of the harbor in Lake Superior when other captains were afraid to venture out.

One of his friends he visited here was Thomas O'Donnell, who fought with the Canadian troops. The old friends—or old enemies—had a hearty handshake and did a good deal of "kidding" of each other on the score of the Fenian Raid, in which, naturally, Mr. O'Donnell had the best of it.

Pekin, Aug. 31.—An edict was issued yesterday setting forth in detail the stages that will be reached each year in the conversion of the form of government in China to the foreign system, and assuring the people in the name of the emperor that a constitution will be granted nine years hence.

Recently there has been a formidable movement in the progress looking to the securing of a constitution, and Provincial delegations which have come to Peking for the purpose of making inquiry into the matter have been treated with great respect by the members of the grand council.

These delegations received also from Yuan Shi Kai, a grand councillor, who is also a member of the Board of Foreign Affairs, assurance that a constitution will be granted as promised.

Recent affairs in Persia and Turkey have been cited by the members of the delegations who declare that China should in no way be behind those countries.

London, Aug. 30.—Doctors are, it seems, left hopelessly behind in the race for long life by clergymen. Ministers of all denominations taken in the aggregate live longer than any other class of persons. If you cannot enter holy orders the next best way of becoming a centenarian is to take up gardening or turn gamekeeper, farmer, or railway engineer. These, according to Dr. John Tatham's report to the Registrar-General on the mortality in certain occupations during the three years from 1900, just issued, are the callings which offer the best prospect of longevity. At the other end of the scale come the general laborer, the tin miner, the bawker, and the hotel servant, and about midway are the physician, the undertaker, and the tobacconist. As compared with lawyers, Dr. Tatham records, medical men die more rapidly at every stage of life, whilst, as compared with the clergy, their mortality is enormously in excess. Tuberculosis, phthisis, and disease of the respiratory organs are the only causes of death that are substantially less fatal to medical men than to males in the aggregate. Diseases of the nervous and circulatory systems contribute the largest share to the mortality of medical men, due, no doubt to their anxious and arduous occupation. A sign of the times is given in the particulars relating to commercial travelers. They fall victims to alcoholism in greater proportion than do all occupied and retired males by 38 per cent., whilst their mortality from liver disease is more than double that standard. But the gout, liver disease, accident, and suicide was considerably less in the last period than in 1880-82. In the previous supplement it was remarked that there was no other occupation in which the ravages of cancer approached that among chimney sweeps. It is still noteworthy that although the mortality from that disease has fallen by nearly one-fourth part, chimney sweeps are still subject to the highest fatality from this disease, although among several other occupations, such as servants in London, brewers, furriers, general laborers and seamen, the mortality does not fall far short of that of chimney sweeps. It is a subject which, as Dr. Tatham points out, deserves further attention. For the first time in these returns the question of the mortality among women workers is dealt with exhaustively; though it is a matter full of difficulty. For instance, the case of a domestic servant, the daughter of a bricklayer who has returned home permanently invalided, is given. She is thenceforward regarded as unoccupied, and in the event of death will be registered as a bricklayer's daughter, no mention being made of her previous occupation. In the case of a married woman this cause would appear to operate even more strongly, the deceased woman being described simply as a wife or widow, without mention of her husband's occupation, but without mention of her own. It is rather curious that actors, authors, and journalists have no place in these tables, even in the index. Even numerically they must be almost as important as, say, costermongers, wig makers, and chimney sweeps, who are all included.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Washington, Aug. 31.—A most pathetic scene, illustrating the devotion of a wife and mother to her husband, was enacted here Saturday when Mrs. John Barry, the wife of

The White Plague

The City of Detroit is Preparing to Fight It

Detroit, Sept. 1.—Because of the demand created by the tuberculosis clinic maintained for the past two years by the local Board of Health, Dr. Guy L. Kiefer health officer, has established a Sanitorium Tent Colony on a site which was recently acquired by the city for the establishment of contagious disease and tuberculosis hospitals. The sanitorium is temporary, in that it is to be supplanted by permanent buildings as soon as they may be completed, and it is a direct response to the pleas of scores of comparatively poor victims of tuberculosis, who wish for a chance to try an open air life.

The new sanitorium consists of an administration building and eight registation tubercolosis tents, each capable of accommodating two patients. The administration building will accommodate 16 more patients, giving the institution a total capacity of 32. The tent colony was opened for business Wednesday and every cot in it at once had a patient. The primary objects of the sanitorium are the prevention of the development and spread of tuberculosis and the cure and education in sanitation and care of the sputum of those afflicted. It is aimed to keep patients a month or six weeks and if they are sufficiently improved to return them to their homes. Incipient cases are to be cured outright. All will be taught how to live so that the health of others will not be endangered.

THE FREE CLINIC.

The establishment of the sanitorium is, as said, the outgrowth of the free clinic, which has been maintained by the city. At this clinic advice and treatment and a diet of milk and eggs are furnished all who are unable to pay. Last year the Common Council and the Board of Estimates allowed $600 for the milk and egg supply, and the council subsequently gave a little more money. This year the appropriation was increased to $1,200. The incipient patients who are able to go to the Board of Health building are told how to take care of themselves, how to protect their neighbors against infection, and how to sleep as nearly as possible in the open air. In addition to all this, the Visiting Nurses' Association has detailed a nurse to look after those who are confined to their homes and to investigate domestic sanitary conditions.

TO ACCOMMODATE 200 PATIENTS.

The first tent of the new sanitorium was pitched last February and the successful treatment of patients in it led to a public demand for the erection of other tents. The tents used in the colony are 14 feet square and are of frame construction for about two-thirds of their height. They are arranged so that they may be heated in winter, and when the cold forces a fire and a closed flap, the patient changes his mode of sleeping. He imposes his head in a stocking cap, and rums his cot up to one end of the tent, so that his head and shoulders stick through the flap into the open air. This effectually protects him from foul air.

The patients will remain in these tents until permanent buildings are erected. It is intended to make provision for at least 200 patients. Many separate frame buildings, with accommodations for 12 patients, are to be erected.

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung fraking mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Accept no other. Sold by

Humor

A Western judge sitting in chambers seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyers' hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, asked: "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel. "I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money; "call the next case."

He had not the patience of Mr. William Clark, who, after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act, quietly observed when they had done, "That act has been repealed."

The Rev. Samuel Pearson, of Portland, Maine, was a witness in a divorce case. "Mr. Pearson," asked the judge, "were you on this bench in my place and acquainted with all the circumstances of this case, would you grant this divorce?"

"Most certainly, your honor," replied the minister.

"But, how do you reconcile this statement with the injunction, 'What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder?'"

"Your honor, I am satisfied that the Lord never joined this couple," replied the clergyman.

During the last season a traveller in the south stopped at a small town to make a purchase. The storekeeper could not make the correct change for the bill he had tendered, so the traveller started to search of some one who could, sitting beside the door, watching was an old colored man, to whom he said: "Uncle, can you change a $10 bill?" The old fellow looked up for a moment, then he scratched his cap, and replied: "Deed, an' Ah can't hoss, but Ah specalate de honor, just de same."

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

Flinty Plant Covers.

When Sir Humphry Davy was a boy about sixteen, a little girl came to him in great excitement:

"Humphry, do tell me my these two pieces of cane make a tiny spark of light when I rub them together?"

Humphry was a studious boy, who spent hours in thinking out scientific problems. He patted the child's curly head and said:

"I do not know, dear. Let us see if they really do make a light, and then we will try to find out why."

Humphry soon found that the little girl was right. The pieces of cane if rubbed together quickly did give a tiny light. Then he set to work to find out the reason, and after some time, thanks to the observing powers of his little friend and his own kindness to her in not impatiently telling her not to "worry," as so many might have done, Humphry Davy made the first of his interesting discoveries. Every reed, cane and grass has an outer skin of flinty stuff, which protects the inside from insects and also helps the frail looking leaves to stand upright.

Table Manners in Old France.

Could we restore for half an hour the dinner table of old France and obtain half a dozen instantaneous photographs of a royal banquet at any era between the reigns of Francis I and Louis Quatorze such a "cataract of laughter" would be heard as might disturb the serenity of Louis in paradise. The duchess, her napkin tied securely round her neck, would be seen mumbling a bone, the noble marquis surreptitiously scratching himself, the belle marquise, withdrawing her spoon from her lips to help a neighbor to sauce with it, another fair creature scouring her plate with her bread, a gallant courtier using his doublet or the tablecloth as a towel for his fingers and two footmen holding a yard of damask under a lady's chin while she emptied her goblet at a draft. During a feast of inordinate length it was sometimes necessary to substitute a clean cloth for the one which the carelessness or bad manners of the guests had reduced to a deplorable condition. —"An Idler In Old France."

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to shake him into snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters ranging in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," elucidated the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overindulgence we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best pleces we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

A Mark of Respect.

Andrew Carnegie was entertaining a Montenegrin prince at Skibo castle. The morning after the prince's arrival a party of guests set out in a huge motor car for a long run, and as they whizzed past an inn a great crowd of highlanders rose from the benches before the inn and saluted.

The prince seemed amazed at the highland dress.

"Why," he asked, "do these men go bare legged?"

"It is a local custom," said Mr. Carnegie, "a mark of respect for you, sir. In some places people take off their hats to show honor to distinguished visitors; here they take off their trousers."

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat, and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen circling from one end of the street to the other.

A king's draftsman is a personage of no small importance. Certainly the draftsman to her late majesty, Queen Victoria, had a befitting sense of the dignity and responsibility of his position. On the occasion of the jubilee in 1887 he was asked if he was striving any of the royal and imperial guests at that time quartered in Buckingham Palace. "No, sir," was his reply. "I am his Queen's draftsman; I don't dress 'em myself."

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 28th September, 1910, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz:—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Weymontachie, in the province of Quebec, 19.38 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Weymontachie, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 11.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros.' contract, north of Lak Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point on the west bank of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.15 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz:—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of material and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows:—

Sec. No. 1., District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2. District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	150,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional sessions, and to furnish the additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract accord ng to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and prices."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Ottawa, 13th July, 1910.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1910, and maturing January 11, 1915. These bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank Chicago, Trustee.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.87 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $6,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,450 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $362.50.

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once, this is small and promises to be quickly sold.

Banco de Sonora, Hermosillo, Mex., Feb. 11th, 1910.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Make reservation of stock, if you do so more. But, remember, this present offer at stock at Half a Cent a share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 4 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 3 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,681.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Appetite Gone Nerves Badly Run Down

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter surely tried her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Watmers, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, billiousness and depressing headaches. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfect. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring, vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essences in vegetable life—are safe for young and old, and guaranteed to a bodie renewed activity and strength. Partridge Shooting Prohibited

There will be no partridge hunting in Ontario this year Game Warden Loveday of New York, has received from Toronto a notice that the hunting, taking or killing of grouse or partridge in the Province of Ontario is prohibited until the fifteenth day of September, 1909.

The prohibition of partridge shooting for the coming season will be approved by most sportsmen, as it is realized that the birds are in danger of extermination.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway, test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Wedding Bells

A quiet wedding took place yesterday morning at the parsonage of the Charlotte street Methodist church, when Rev. G. W. Henderson united in marriage, Miss Ada Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, Pearl avenue, city, to Mr. James H. Vallery, Peterborough, formerly of Kingston. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match. The groom presented the bride with a gold expansion bracelet set in pearls. The bride also received many useful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Vallery left on the 11.40 G.T.R. train for Toronto and other points west. On their return they will reside at 290 Sherbrooke street.

Among the many beautiful presents was a china dinner and tea set from Perkins, Ince & Co., where the groom is employed.

DUMMITT—CURTIS.

A pretty wedding was quietly celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Charlotte street Methodist church parsonage, when at three o'clock Miss Alice Ruth Curtis, daughter of Mr. Harlan Curtis, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles J. Dummitt, Park street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Henderson, in the presence of a few friends of the young couple. The bride, who was unattended, was dressed in point d'esprit and wore a hat to match. Her traveling dress was of lady's blue broadcloth and she also wore a hat to match.

After the ceremony luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, 323 Simcoe street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dummitt left on the afternoon C.P.R. train for Toronto and Niagara Falls.

Entries for Fall Fair

The entries for the horse races for the fall fair must be handed in to the proper committee not later than the 15th of this month. At a meeting of the directors held last night, it was decided that the rules and regulations regarding the horse races must be strictly adhered to. In former years this was not done and the management have come to the conclusion, that things would go along a great deal smoother, if stronger steps were taken for the horse owners to pay strict attention to the rules governing the races.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for women's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion, and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from labor very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and wonderment from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Interpreter, Two Emigrants Abroad, The Boxing Dance, the Italian Trouba dours, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Rialto, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Soubrettes, Motor Beauties, English Girls, The New York Girls, — and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-Bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

Closing Exercises of Graduating Classes

At the Conservatory of Music Hall yesterday afternoon, the nurses-in-training of the Nicholls Hospital, assembled and went through a "bandaging competition," which proved very successful. The winner of the competition together with those who took honors will be announced later. Last evening the closing exercises were held in the same hall. A musical program was also contributed. Miss Helen Davies gave a very pleasing solo, and Misses Kitty Leary and Gladys Steward played in ensemble. There were some five nurses graduated.

Word has been received here of the death by his own hand of Wm. J. Crowe of Chesley, Ont., who has relatives in Dummer township, being a second cousin of Mr. Jos Crowe, the well known driver of the Warsaw stage. Harry Crowe, the father of the deceased, was born in Dummer, and the family is well known there. A despatch gives the following account of the tragedy.

Chesley, Ont., Sept 2.—William J Crowe a prominent young cattle dealer of this town, committed suicide here some time this afternoon by blowing his brains out in his barn. The last seen of Crowe in Chesley was last Friday. He was seen at different neighboring towns since then and it is supposed he returned home some time last night. He leaves a widow and two children.

Peterborough Man Fell Off Street Car in Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 4.—N. B. Campbell, aged 56, of Peterborough, fell from a west-bound King street car at York street last night and dislocated his right shoulder. The injury was attended to at St. Michael's Hospital.

Maniac Attacks Girl on Auditorium Top

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Poised in the grasp of a maniac over the rail of the Auditorium tower, about to be hurled to the street, a girl looked into the face of death at 12.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Almost three hundred feet below the afternoon crowds hurried along in Michigan avenue, unconscious of the drama which was being enacted over their heads. Faintly borne to them came sudden cries, muffled by the distance, until none could recognize them as the shrieks of the lunatic, as he fought with those who had rescued his victim.

A desperate battle was raging on the tower, and it ended only when the maniac, having succeeded in throwing the girl down the narrow flight of stairs leading from the pinnacle, was overpowered by five men who had come to the aid of the first rescuer.

The insane man was J. E. Shilling of 318 North Catherine street, Lagrange, and the girl was his daughter, Marie Shilling, 21 years old.

ANOTHER STRUGGLE SIMILAR.

Similar in dramatic features was another death struggle enacted in Chicago, which had its consequence Friday night in the demise at the South Chicago Hospital of one of the combatants. That tragedy was enacted on the narrow space at the brink of a raging blast furnace, in which both the actors faced the fate of a fall of 150 feet into the flames of the furnace.

Shilling recently had been released from the insane asylum at Kankakee. He had become violent again, and relatives intended to return him to the asylum. Yesterday morning he pleaded to be allowed to come to come to Chicago to pay his life insurance premium. He was allowed to go with his daughter as an escort. After paying the life insurance he said he wished to go to the Auditorium tower to view Chicago. His daughter consented.

On reaching the tower Miss Shilling approached the railing and stood gazing out over the lake. Her father seated himself near the wall. He remained thus a few moments, staring idly about, then arose stealthily and crept toward the girl, whose back was turned.

POUNCES ON DAUGHTER.

Others were on the tower, but their attention was directed to the view, and they failed to observe Shilling's purpose. Uttering a cry he pounced upon his daughter, seizing her around the waist. With maniacal strength he thrust her above his head. There he held her, while she kicked and scratched his hands and shrieked for help.

Well over the balustrade, her fate seemed certain. Before Shilling could disengage her grasp from his shoulders, however, one of the men who had rushed to the rescue when they heard his cry and the girl's screams had grasped him and dragged him back.

Bayne of Colchester Was Sent Up for Trial for Bribery

Truro, N.S., Sept. 4. — Stipendiary Magistrate Crowe today gave decision in the Bayne bribery case.

Mr. A. C. Patterson stated to the court that A. L. Davidson, Conservative organizer was present and wished to make a statement. Mr. Davidson rose, and said he had no connection with this matter. The magistrate said he was not entitled to be heard further.

REVIEW OF EVIDENCE.

His worship then reviewed the evidence, stating that certain witnesses were aware that they were given sums of money and considerations in Stanfield's interest and the evidence was uncontradicted. It said anyone who heard the evidence could come to no other conclusion that rum and money were given for the purpose of influencing the electors, and that it was of no consequence where Bayne got the money and the rum if they were used for the purpose charged against him.

The court stated further that the money was not the property of Bayne alone. By the testimony of the witnesses it came from a friend on the outside, and if furnished in this way it must strengthen the belief that it was for the purpose of corrupting the electors.

NO ALTERNATIVE OPEN.

There was no other course open to him, the magistrate said, but to commit the defendant for trial.

Mr. Davidson again attempted to speak, but the court would not permit it, whereupon Mr. Davidson filed a document which the magistrate declined to make public.

TOWN OF ST. REMI, QUE., NOW IN SMOKING RUINS

Montreal, Sept. 4.—At 6.30 this morning fire broke out in the store of Mr. Ladure at St Remi, from some unknown cause, and rapidly spread to adjoining buildings, threatening to sweep the entire town. A hurried call for assistance was sent to Montreal, and several fire engines fully equipped, left on a special train early this morning for the scene of the fire.

Among the destroyed buildings are the restaurant of Alex. Tayrent, Dr Trudeau's office, the residence of Mr. J. D. Black, the Ste. Marie store, and the residences of Mr. A. Tallion and Mr. Lesame.

The townspeople put up a lucky fight, but were badly handicapped for the want of proper apparatus.

The Montreal fire brigade soon got several streams of hose into action, and at noon the fire was said to be under control. As yet the loss can hardly be estimated, but will likely be in the neighborhood of $30,000.

A despatch from St. Remi this afternoon states that the fire there this morning was more serious than early despatches declared.

Fully a third of the town was wiped out.

Most of the buildings destroyed were private residences.

The loss is placed at $150,000, and the total insurance amounts to only $79,000.

St Remi is about 25 miles south of Montreal, and has a population of nearly 1,200 people, with one bank.

4,000 Houses in Japanese City Destroyed by Fire

Tokio, Sept. 4.—Despatches from the city of Niigata in the Ichigo Province, 160 miles north-west of this city, tell of a fire which occurred yesterday, in which four thousand houses were destroyed by the flames.

Fearful scenes of destitution and suffering are reported as a result of the disaster and the government is rendering every possible assistance to the inhabitants of the city.

Niigata is a seaport on the eastern side of the large island of Nippon on which Tokio is situated. It is considerably to the north of the capital. It has a population of about 55,000. More than a third of the houses in the city have been destroyed.

Boardwalk Victim Demands that Vengeance be Left to Him

Manager of Detective Agency Declares Police are Under Pledge of Secrecy

Roberts Told Who Shot Him

Atlantic City, Sept. 4.—The assailant of Charles B. Roberts is known, and has been known since the night when the Baltimore banker and clubman was shot down on the boardwalk while in company with Mrs. W. S. G. Williams, of that city. The person who identified his would-be slayer was Roberts himself in an ante-mortem statement. The pistol with which the shooting was done has been located, thus completing the chain of evidence. The man who shot Roberts is technically under arrest.

These facts were vouched for last night by the manager of a local private detective agency which was called in to assist the Atlantic City police in clearing up the mystery. This agency does not deal with crime but makes a specialty of gathering evidence for divorce cases. When the police determined that jealousy was the motive for the attempted assassination of Mr. Roberts they employed the private detectives to clear up that end of the case.

THEIR HANDS TIED

It is claimed by the manager of the detective agency that a remarkable condition of affairs has tied the hands of the police, and that only the death of Roberts will allow them to make arrests and prosecute the man and a woman confederate named by Mr. Roberts in his ante-mortem statement.

Before making his statement, Mr. Roberts exacted a pledge from the hospital physicians and the detective representing the police department that no action would be taken in the event of his recovery; that the matter of dealing out punishment to those who had wronged him be left entirely in his hands, according to the manager of the detective agency and the American's informant.

Then with the belief that he had but one chance in ten to survive his wound, Mr. Roberts is said to have named the man and woman who hounded him on the boardwalk until he was driven to desperation and attacked the man with the result that the latter drew a revolver and shot.

It is said that Dr. Marshall is determined to keep faith with Mr. Roberts and will not let the written statement out of his hands, and has declined to exhibit it to any one. It will be returned to Mr. Roberts in person should he recover.

Evidence in support of this astonishing version of the case was found today by an American correspondent. It lends an even more mysterious complexion to the case, and supports the theory that every one concerned is working in a harmonious agreement to suppress the facts.

Last night Howard Lewis, the negro chair pusher, who was wheeling Mrs. Edward Casey on the walk when they met Mr. Roberts directly after he had been shot, gave what he claims to be Jackson's true version of the affair. It differs entirely from the statements made for publication by Jackson and attributed to him by the police.

"Jackson told me," said Lewis last night, "that while he was wheeling Mrs. Williams and Mr. Roberts up the boardwalk, they were followed for a short distance by a man and a woman. Then the man approached the chair and spoke to Mr. Roberts, and the latter got out, ordering Jackson to wheel Mrs. Williams ahead.

"Mr. Roberts and the man walked behind Jackson, and the woman followed, a few paces back. Mr. Roberts and the man engaged in earnest conversation, which lasted while they were walking about half a mile. Then Jackson says that Mr Roberts suddenly turned on the man, and in a loud and angry voice declared:

Brutal Murder Confessed--A Horrible and Gruesome Crime

Actor's Crime was One of the Most Terrible Recorded in Years

Mutilated Corpse Found in a Trunk

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—But few points in connection with the most horrible and gruesome murder in the annals of crime in Greater Boston, that of Mrs. Honora Jordan, an actress, known on the stage as Irene Shannon, by her husband, Christ. S. Jordan, remain to be cleared up by the police today, although the severed portions of the woman's body were discovered only last night. The confession of the husband to the police following his arrest after the accidental discovery of the mutilated torso of his wife in a trunk, which he caused to be placed in a room at 7 Hancock street, this city, was believed to be a substantial recital of the incidents of the brutal crime, but several minor details of his confession conflict with each other, and his story was unconnected in parts.

As a result of his examination by the police at the headquarters in this city last night, he disclosed all the apparently important facts in connection with the murder, and gave the information which led to the discovery of the thigh and scalped head of the murdered woman—the only parts not contained in the trunk at his home at 509 Medford street, Somerville. He also gave a plausible reason for his crime, in a remark by his wife, which was incited, according to his story, by her belief that he was unfaithful. He stated that, following her epithet he struck her, knocking her down a flight of stairs. He claimed that this blow was the only cause by which he is responsible so far as he knows, for her death as following this striking her he remembered nothing until the next morning, when, on awakening, he found her body at the foot of the stairs. At this latter time, however, his wife's neck was slashed from ear to ear.

HER THROAT WAS CUT

On this portion of his confession the police placed the least credence, and their efforts in today's investigation is centered in a search for another strong razor, while the medical examiner carefully examined the body for marks of the blow which caused her death. The evidence of the gashing of the neck was plain, and it may be that this caused the woman's death, but Jordan's denial of any knowledge of this act made the matter one for close attention. His story of aphasia following the blow which knocked Mrs. Jordan down the stairs is also a point upon which the police have had particular stress in their instructions to the medical examiner during the latter's examination of Jordan himself, as it was supposed that he might be a victim of drugs. This latter idea has gone.

EVIDENCE OF INSANITY

Attorney Scharton, who has been procured for the defence of Jordan by his brother-in-law, Jesse L. Livermore, the cotton market operator of New York, states that he already has evidence of Jordan's mental derangement several weeks before the murder, and in this case the murderer's insanity may account for some of the lapses in his confession, although as a whole, it is remarkably clear.

In anticipation of a plea of not guilty when Jordan was arraigned before Judge Wentworth in the Somerville police court today, the police had arranged to ask for a continuance of the case, while a plea of guilty would mean his committal to the East Cambridge jail to await a hearing by the grand jury.

Local Option Campaigns will be Carried on in Over 50 Municipalities

Local option battles are to be fought in over fifty municipalities on January 1. Yesterday afternoon the Campaign Committee of the Dominion Alliance met and made plans for the fight. They find that in many places the three-fifths clause has hampered the order of the local organizers, and they feel that they are fighting against unfair odds.

Huron, Oxford, Durham, Northumberland, and Hastings counties are to be the chief battle grounds. The list of places where there will be a fight, is as follows; Ans, Ashfield, Athens, Aylmer, Barton, Bayfield, Bayham, Blyth, Bobcaygeon, Bowmanville, Brampton, Charlottevill, Chatsworth, Chesley, Clinton, Colchester south, Dunwich, Dutton, Eaganville, Elkfrid, Elzver and Grimsthorpe, Emo, Exter, Forest, Hagerman, Himsworth North, Hungerford, Goderich, Ingersoll, Iroquois, Madoc, Marmora and Lake, Minden, Old n, Perry, Sidney, Strathrow, Thurlow, Tillsonburg, Trenton, Tudor and Cashel, Tweed, Wellington, Wingham, Wollaston, Woodstock, Yonge and Escott Front, Yonge and Escott Rear, Zorra East.

The C. P. R. Strike

The Times has a few words to say regarding the machinists' strike on the C.P.R. We have been accused of favoring the company. The fact is this journal has taken the position that if the newspapers had kept out of it, there would have been no strike. It is the publicity given by the press that has, we believe, kept the thing alive, otherwise it would doubtless have petered out long since. Hence our news columns have contained little information regarding the progress of the trouble. We would like to define our position in this matter clearly; when an impartial board of arbitrators decided that the machinists were wrong in their demands, the latter should have been manly enough to abide by the verdict. To strike under such circumstances was to defy public opinion and forfeit all claims to popular sympathy. The fact of having agreed to arbitrate and subsequently refusing to abide by the result does not appeal to the sympathy of the masses.

In The Realm of Sport

Last night before an audience of 600 people Yankee Rogers, champion heavyweight of America, won from Fritz Mohl, champion of Germany, in the best two out of three falls, Graeco-Roman style. The bout was interesting from start to finish and proved a good night's sport for the hundreds of people assembled in the rink. The bout started at 9.05 p.m. and Mohl after a hard earned struggle, secured the first fall in 29 minutes. The crowd almost went crazy, and the cheering could be heard for blocks away.

After a ten minutes' intermission the two men went on the mat again, Mohl determined to take the second fall and claim the title of champion of America. Graeco-Roman style. However his firm determination was abandoned when Rogers took a hold on him and floored him in eleven minutes and a half. Before this fall Mohl was knocked unconscious by coming in contact with the boards. After he regained his strength Rogers easily threw him.

When the referee called the men together Mohl was not hardly fit to go on, but his German nature forced him to, resulting in his being thrown in four minutes and sixteen seconds.

This no doubt proves Rogers the better man of the two no matter which style they wrestle. We have reason to believe that in time to come Rogers will be the undefeated champion of the world. By his exhibition last night he showed he was accustomed to any method of grappling.

The preliminaries were also good. Mr. A. C. Yokome and Mr. R. Long came together in a ten-minute bout, resulting in a win for the former, who downed his opponent in two minutes.

Jack Wilson and Tom Crowe were matched to wrestle fifteen minutes, but neither man secured a fall. This exhibition was real interesting, as it consisted of every wrestling style imaginable. At the conclusion of this match, Mr. W. B. Naylor announced that Hassan Abdillah, would meet Bartubis here on one of the days of the fair. The wrestling crowd days of the fair. The wrestling craze has spread throughout the Peterborough sports, and no doubt a large crowd will be present to see "Gene" in the next bout.

He was surprised at how the pains healed. took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a number of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, hoarseness of the back, swelling of the glands, pains of the bones, scalding, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 6 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I cordially can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish."

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why its medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

Andrew Carnegie to Spend Millions More

New York, Sept. 4.—A despatch to the Sun from Pittsburg says: At a recent conference held at Skibo Castle Andrew Carnegie made arrangements for the completion of the Carnegie Technical School at Pittsburg on a colossal scale. He plans to make it the greatest school in the world—his real monument.

It is said that Mr. Carnegie had authorized the expenditure of $10,000,000 more.

Judge Joseph Buffington and Joseph McKelfe, jr., who were called to Scotland to confer with Mr. Carnegie, have returned with broad smiles, but they say they will reserve the good news for the trustees to give out at a meeting soon to be held.

The Carnegie Schools, which are caring for 1,200 students, have been found altogether inadequate to the demands, and Mr. Carnegie has held several conferences with trustees regarding the best way to extend the schools.

About $10,000,000 has been expended already on the schools, and those in charge have not been hampered for funds.

Sinkin Sensationsg in the Stomach

DO THEY AFFECT YOU?

These unpleasant feelings of weakness and collapse indicate that the sympathetic nervous system is out of order.

The cause is impairment of nerve tone, arising from failure of the stomach to perform its work.

Acute indigestion follows and the natural result is mental depression, and a feeling of collapse and extreme weakness.

It acts at once upon the digestive and assimilative organs—it fortifies the stomach—makes the blood nourishing, gives it a rich, red color, the best evidence of health.

"For ten years I suffered acutely from stomach troubles," writes Mr. Maxwell Thompson, of Toledo. "I always had a headache and dull feeling after meals. My appetite was poor, and I didn't relish food. It was all due to a weak, defective stomach. I read about Ferrozone and ordered six boxes from my druggist. It was no time at all before I felt much better, and when all the Ferrozone was used I really took a new lease of life. I am stronger, brighter, and feel more like work than before trying Ferrozone. It is a splendid tonic, the best I ever used."

A NEW PATENT LAW

The new patent law of Great Britain, which is of inestimable importance to this country, goes into operation this week. It stipulates that foreigners who may obtain British patents must manufacture the patented goods on British soil. On and after next Friday anyone, on application, to the comptroller of patents, may cause to be revoked any patent granted four years or more ago to any foreigner who manufactures the goods in question "exclusively or mainly" outside the United Kingdom. As American and German manufacturers are doing a large business in England, they stand to be forced to spend millions of dollars in the construction of plants in Great Britain, as provided by the new act. Last year England granted 3,648 patents to Germany and 2,811 to the United States. Over 2,000 British patents have been granted within the past three years to foreigners. Not one of these patents has hitherto been "adequately worked" in the United Kingdom. Among American manufacturers who are particularly hard hit by the new law are makers of type-writers, cash registers, all kinds of fine steel working machinery, elevator and pneumatic tube parts in addition to a thousand and one small articles sold by Americans under the protection of English registered patents. Many American and German firms have arranged to open branch factories in England to comply with the law.

According to an estimate of Sir Alfred Jones, says the Brantford Expositor, Great Britain will benefit to the extent of $125,000,000 by the working of the new act. How much the United States and Germany will suffer is a matter of conjecture, but it is certain that these countries will feel the effects of the law, as to comply with its provisions it will be necessary for the American manufacturers, for instance practically to move a part of their factories to England and to employ British labor to do the work that is now being done by Americans.

It comes out that Chinese laborers are not allowed to come into the country and compete with Japanese labor because they have a lower standard of living than the Japanese, and can do harder and more work for the same money than the Japanese of the same class. So Japan stands off the Chinese just as some of the white nations desire to stand off the Japanese. Apparently it is not a matter of color merely.

The G. T. R. Surveys Benefit Woodville

Woodville Advocate: Most of the present summer the G.T.R. has had a party of surveyors at work in this section trying to arrange a new route that would take some of the kinks and grades out of the line between Brechin and Lindsay it would seem the work is now completed and final line run. It is somewhat of a commentary upon the policy which animated the old Midland railway in its construction and which caused the avoidance of the village of Woodville to know that the present survey has practically confirmed the original route of that railway but which, it is said, was afterwards abandoned for spite as being the best possible, in point of levels and practicability and to all intents and purposes it is to be adopted. From Brechin the proposed line debouches to the east, avoiding the heavy grade at Gamebridge and joining the present track just east of the Trent Canal which it follows to near the town line of Eldon where it again turns southeast, avoiding Lornaville, and again joins the present line to a point a short distance south of the station it turns east and crosses Mariposa by the lowland south of the village to a point below Grasshill, where it again joins the Midland-Port Hope line. This is in fact almost identical with the original survey of the Port Hope and Beaverton Railway which later became the Midland railway with these changes. Woodville stands to benefit others which will materially effect the interests of the village community which has sprung up about the Junction at Lornaville with the Junction at Woodville, will come an increased importance and no doubt population and business. Whatever the changes Woodville stands to benefit thereby and will not be long delayed.—Woodville Advocate.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Thaw Not Wanted Demoralizing Influence

Albany, N. Y., September 4—A protest is made in a report submitted to the State Commission of Prisons by Secretary George McLaughlin against the further confinement in the Dutchess county jail at Poughkeepsie of Harry K. Thaw, acquitted on the charge of murder, on the ground of insanity. The report says, among other things, that Thaw's presence in the jail "demoralizes the discipline of the institution."

After calling attention to the presence of Thaw in the jail, the report says in part:

"He has been held in this jail several months pending the outcome of litigation, which looks as though it might be interminable. His presence in this jail is embarrassing to the sheriff and objectionable on many accounts. The sheriff has no room for him except in the padded cell; even this he needs for temporary uses, and it would be an entirely unfit place in which to confine a man for months.

"MUST BE ISOLATED.

"Having been adjudged insane with homicidal tendencies, the sheriff would not be justified in confining him with the other prisoners. He cannot keep him in the quarters intended for boys. To do so would compel him to keep the boys with the adult prisoners, which the law forbids. He cannot keep him in the hospital room for two reasons. First, it is not sufficiently secure; second, it cannot be spared for the permanent occupancy of Mr. Thaw.

"The result is that the sheriff has to give him an entire corridor with the 18 cells adjacent, in the principal jail for men. He consumes a large amount of the time of the jailer in escorting him to Fishkill Landing, White Plains and other places to attend hearings before the court and before referees, time which the jailer needs for his other duties.

"There is a good deal of talk that some of these hearings are fake suits, instituted by his friends to give him these outings.

CAUSES JEALOUSY

"His presence here demoralizes the discipline of the institution. He sleeps in the corridor, not in the cell. He has all the features and paraphernalia of a business office. He orders his food from the hotel, which has to be brought to him three times a day. Silly people send him bouquets of flowers. He is allowed the use of a whole corridor, constituting one-quarter of the entire principal jail for men, while the other prisoners are crowded, two in a cell frequently.

"All these things are under the observation of the other prisoners and create dissatisfaction, a belief that men with money constitute a separate class, even in prison.

"These things produce an ugly feeling of discontent and rebellion among the other prisoners."

New in Brief

Dublin, September 3.—The theory of Scotland Yard that a female "Raffles" with the entree to the highest social circles is responsible for numerous jewel robberies this season, is strengthened by additional mysterious thefts during the horse show.

The great robberies are reported, once from Shelbourne Hotel where $3,000 worth of gems were taken, and another from the Hotel Metropole, where jewels valued at $2,500, were stolen from Lady Annesley.

Lord and Lady Annesley have so sedulously guarded the theft that the police are convinced the victims know something of the perpetrator's identity.

J. A. Cummings, while asleep walked off train No. 95 at a small station called Kama, 100 miles east of Fort William, and was killed. Cummings was a switchman employed in the Fort William yards, and had been at his home in Fergusondale, Ont., for his holidays.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—The Provincial detectives believe that they are at last on the track of the men who robbed the St. Eustache branch of the Banque Provinciale on Sunday morning last. A private message to detective headquarters received this morning from St. Constant, states that Detectives Brosseau, Lapointe and Sampson have started into the woods in search of two men who went into the village yesterday and bought a supply of provisions, immediately making tracks for the woods. From their appearances and actions while in the village it is thought that they are the companions of John Pupsey, who has been captured, and is being held by the police in connection with the case.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 2.—The police of McKeesport say they believe the body of the unknown man who did not believe the defence would be ready before the latter part of November.

As soon as Justice Garretson convenes court Mr. Darrin will ask that a special grand jury be impanelled, and then the Hains case will be submitted as soon as the grand jury is sworn. An indictment will be but the work of a few minutes. Mr. Darrin insists that the case must have a speedy trial.

DARRIN SEES JEROME

District Attorney Jerome and District Attorney Ira C. Darrin, of Queen's, who will have charge of the prosecution of the Haineses—Capt. Peter C. and T. Jenkins—discussed for more than an hour Monday the general features of the Hains case, and the points in common they may have with the Thaw and other murder cases of which Mr. Jerome has had an intimate knowledge.

Mr. Darrin called on Mr. Jerome for the purpose of getting from him any aid or advice in the prosecution of the Haineses.

A despatch from Ingersoll says:—Harry Cline, the little thirteen-year-old son of Mr. W. A. Cline, of this town, is being looked upon as a young hero. While swimming across the Thames River, east of here, on Wednesday, with his eight-year-old son, Melvin, on his back, Harry's father was seized with a cramp. He became unmanned and sank with the youngster. Harry, who was on the bank, stripped off his clothing, and diving, rescued both father and brother from the fifteen feet of water that is found at that spot. Mr Cline and his three boys were out fishing and were attempting to cross the river in order to make a short cut to town when the accident happened. The younger lad could not swim.

A BAD PLAN OF TRAVEL.

The Scheme That Worried One Woman on Her Trip Abroad.

"When I hear of people joyfully making plans for their first trip abroad," said a man who has made many a transatlantic voyage, "I am tempted to give them a little bit of advice, based, of course, on my own observations, but particularly upon a remark made to me by a middle aged woman whose seat in the saloon was next to mine on my return trip last summer. This woman had a husband, and it was to him that she referred in answering my question one day. I asked her what she had been doing on the other side. She looked half quizzically, half reproachfully, at her spouse and said, "Well, my principal occupation was trying to keep track of John.'

"It developed that her concern was not over what John might do in European capitals, but simply related to the difficulty each had in meeting the other after pursuing their several ways in a strange city, she to browse among the shops and he, an inveterate sightseer, to visit this, that and the other spot of interest. Their general scheme, as I was informed, was to diverge, say, in the morning, following their respective bents and arranging to meet at a certain place at a certain time. The plan sounds feasible, but it is experimental, and, as both of them found, it was an experiment that didn't work well. First one would be delayed and then the other, and if you have ever waited for a person in a foreign city you can appreciate the particular variety of anxiety that comes in about ten minutes. There's a feeling that something has happened to the missing person, for one thing, and, for another, there's an increasing realization that you yourself are wasting time. If you start out to look up the delinquent, the case becomes practically hopeless. The needle in the haystack is easy compared to that search. When the reunion does come at dinner time in the hotel or pension, explanations are received with tears or haughty disdain. Oh, I know; I've been through it."

A Kaleidoscope of Fashions.

For my part I commend a quick changing fashion and could I have chosen my period would have fixed on the fickle years of the first empire, when fashions shifted from week to week, and that, too, with such fine shades of difference that only the most frivolous could follow them. Then the great conqueror brought to Paris finery from the ends of the earth, muslins from India, garlands of roses from Bengal, stuffs shining with gold and silver from Cairo; from Turkey, of course, turbans, and from the far east shawls—shawls from Kashmir, from Persia and from the Levant; shawls particolored, blue—bright blue—and red and green and black and the clear yellow of the sun; shawls patterned with all the interlacings of Asian caprice and fit not only to hang from the shoulders of the fair, but to give a coquette of eastern fancy day long visions of the orient. From the past, for all time as well as all the earth was then Napoleon's, came the fashion of the troubadours—chapeaux a Cresseux, sleeves a la mameluk, cheveux a l'enfant, leading to a very modern period who can say what charming Gothic airs? How do not such revolutions of fashion enlarge the feminine heart and teach it to live in all ages and all climates!—Lucy M. Donnelly in Atlantic.

No Hitch.

"How did the wedding come off today?"

"Without a hitch."

"Glad to hear it."

"I said without a hitch. The bride backed out at the last minute."

Not Written.

Like a Bicycle.

"What does the doctor say is the matter with Mirandy?"

"He says she has pneumatic tendencies and that she is threatened with spiral trouble."—Baltimore American.

Restlessness.

More restlessness is not a matter for which physicians are often consulted. It is on the face of it an unimportant malady, but when it exists in sufficient intensity to form the subject of complaint and to induce the sufferer to seek advice it is usually found to be the superficial indication of a grave underlying condition.—Hospital.

Woman Takes Cold Bath at 108 Years of Age

New York, Sept. 4.—"I am able to celebrate my 108th birthday to-day because I have taken a cold plunge every morning of my life for 100 years. If it wasn't for the cold water and because I don't wear corsets, I am convinced I would have died half a century ago."

In this way Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, who has been ill only twice explained her long life to-day. She lives at 667 Adelphi street, Brooklyn. Mrs. Hunt walks a mile daily, climbs three flights of stairs to her room nightly, eats three square meals a day and takes her cold baths unassisted. Her only defect is total blindness, due to cataracts. She explained that her hobby in life had been fresh air.

"That and cold water and no corsets will keep anyone alive for a century," declared Mrs. Hunt. "I always sleep with my window open at night even in the coldest days in winter and no matter how cold it is, I sleep with light bedclothing.

"Corsets are an abomination. Young women ruin themselves by wearing such devices. I dare say corsets cut twenty years from every woman's life."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Stop That Cold

To check slight colds or Grippe with "Preventics" seems very similar to "Prevention." To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but they usually act the same to prevent, as to cure. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day, Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 10c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. A Cure For Despondency.

A large, fleshy man with whiskers told me of a sovereign cure for despondency the other day. He had a number of girls in his employ, among them one that he knew was in struggling circumstances and supporting a sick mother on a none too healthy salary. She had come into the store and laid her purse and somber widow hat on the counter while she did something about the place. The large fleshy man got between her and the purse, and when she was not looking he slipped a five dollar bill into it and moved unconsciously about his business. In the afternoon he noticed that she had a red spot in each cheek, and she was heard asking other girls if they believed in fairies. She never solved the mystery—it was two years ago—and never will unless she reads this. But the five dollar bill was very useful in its little way, and the large despondent man felt so good for two whole days that he hip-hopped on the sidewalk on his way home.—Minneapolis Journal.

Living on Next to Nothing.

Most people do not need the evidence of recently published statistics to prove to them that it costs more to live in London than it once did. But it is doubtful if any Londoner now living was ever able to do it on £30 a year, as Boswell's poor Irish painter did. "He allowed £10 for clothes and linen. He said a man might live in a garret at 18 pence a week. Few people would inquire where he lived, and if they did it was easy to say, 'Sir, I am to be found at such a place.' By spending threepence at a coffee house he might be for some hours a day in very good company. He might dine for sixpence, breakfast on bread and milk for a penny and do without supper." Of course expenses can always be reduced to a minimum by doing without things. The question is, Which of our various expenses is unessential? Boswell's Irishman hinted at one. "On clean shirt days he went abroad and paid visits," says his ingenious chronicler.—London Chronicle.

STRANGE DARK STRIPES

The young lady was taken suddenly ill, and the family physician could not tell what was wrong. One of her ears swelled up, and an operation was performed to find out the cause of the swelling. The wound bled profusely, and immediately after the operation the girl's skin became marked with strange dark stripes. These stripes made their appearance over her whole body. Shortly after wards she died, and was buried last week, but not before a number of prominent surgeons had examined the case, and had become deeply interested.

HORSE'S HOOFS PADDED.

The two men who were hired by the father of the girl to watch the graves, to ward off possible ghouls, are prepared to swear that a carriage bearing two masked men, with the horse's hoofs padded, visited that portion of the cemetery while they were on their way to resume their nightly watch. The visit of the carriage happened at 11 o'clock, and one of the men should have been on guard at that time, but he became frightened and refused to watch alone. It was while he was away for his partner that the robbery is supposed to have taken place.

A Western judge sitting in chambers seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyers' hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, asked: "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's council. "I'll pay it," said the judge handing over the money; "call the next case."

He had not the patience of Sir William Clark, who, after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act quietly observed when they had done, "That act has been repealed."

The Rev. Samuel Pearson, of Portland, Maine, was a witness in a divorce case. "Mr. Pearson," asked the judge, "were you on this bench in my place and acquainted with all the circumstances of this case, would you grant this divorce?"

"Most certainly, your honor," replied the minister.

"But how do you reconcile this statement with the injunction, 'What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder?'"

"Your honor, I am satisfied that the Lord never joined this couple," replied the clergyman.

The two and a half year old son of Duncan McLean, Rodney, fell into the cistern at home, and was drowned.

Why We Are All Mimics.

"If we did not cough in church, the human race would not exist." And the professor, twiddling a piece of chalk in his hand, regarded the sophomores with a quizzical smile.

"What I mean," he continued, "is that the cause of coughing is the cause of our survival. That cause is mimicry. Mimicry is a better life preserver than fleetness or strength. For by mimicry we manage not to attract attention, and in prehistoric times they who attracted attention were hunted down by the tribe and roasted for dinner or hunted down by the saber tooth tiger and taken raw.

"Since those dark days mimicry has been instinctive with us. Mimicry is what causes us to follow the fashions. It causes us, when in England, to say 'cawn't' and 'lawf.' If your friend yawns, you yawn—that's mimicry. If he laughs, you laugh—mimicry again. If he snuffles, you snuffle—mimicry. And if he coughs in church, straightway you and all the rest of the congregation cough, the reason being the same one which saved our forefathers from extermination."—New York Press.

Famous Floggers.

Among English schoolmasters whose names have come down to posterity with the dubious reputation of great floggers Dr. Busby of Westminster school is the generally acknowledged chief.

Of him it is recorded that, one of his head boys having insulted a young French viscount who came to the school to demand satisfaction, he flogged the viscount first for the bloodthirsty intentions and next his friend who was the bearer of his challenge.

Dr. Valpy, too, who edited an edition of the classics, was a potent wielder of the red. Archdeacon Groom, who was a pupil of his, tells a story in illustration of his prowess. One of the boys had been flogged by the redoubtable deminie, and the lad's father came to complain.

"Sir," said Valpy to him, "I flogged your son because he richly deserved it. If he again deserves it, I shall flog him again, and," rising, "if you come here, sir, interfering with my duty I shall flog you."

The parent fled.

A Famous Architect's Trick.

When Sir Christopher Wren was building the town hall of Windsor, a fidgety member of the corporation, so the story goes, insisted that the roof required further support and desired the architect to add more pillars. In vain did Sir Christopher assure him that the danger was imaginary. He knew better. The alarm spread, and the great architect was worried into adding the desired columns.

Years passed, and in later times, when architect and patrons were dead, cleaning operations in the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by two inches, though this was not perceptible to the gazers below.

By this ingenious expedient did Wren pacify his critics, while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady helping herself to his provisions. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said:

"Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Next day it was an egg, and so on. Every day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Of course there was never any reflection in Pat's bill. One Saturday his bill came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, bundled up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm sloping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.

Beautifully Arranged.

Brown—Well, you've got the quarter. Is your sister coming down?

"I've arranged it beautifully, old chap. I told her it was you first, and she said to tell you she was out, and then I said I was fooling and that it was Charley Jones, and you ought to have seen her hustle to get into a clean shirt waist! She'll be right down!"

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

Missed a Chance.

"But, Tommy," said his mother, "you asked for two cakes and I gave them to you. Aren't you satisfied?"

"No, I ain't," growled Tommy. "You was so easy I'm kickin' meself now 'cause I didn't ask fur four."—Philadelphia Press.

Driven to Drink.

His Friend—Ah, some powerful portrayal of baffled passion, I suppose!

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. (6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile [illegible] of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.1 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows:—

Sec. No. 1., District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150,000
Sec No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional sureties, and to furnish the additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"The agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall commence work within [illegible] days after the date of the contract, and shall complete the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, [illegible] only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, provided the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 6,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, frame, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $4,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $668.59.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $750,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the mine connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash bounds new.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

W. I. Arnot Argues in Weak Pale, Nervous Condition to Robust, Hearty, Health

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jewett, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—at very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent nervous attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr Hamilton's Pills.—They possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills which revitalize, delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficent aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Remains the Same

Well-Brewed Postum Always Palatable

The flavor of Postum, when boiled according to directions, is always the same—mild, distinctive, and palatable. It contains no harmful substance like caffeine, the drug in coffee, and hence may be used with benefit at all times. "Believing that coffee was the cause of my torpid liver, sick headaches and misery in many ways," said an Ind. lady, "I quit and began the use of Postum about a year ago.

"My husband and I have been so well pleased that we have continued to drink Postum ever since. We like the taste of Postum better than coffee, as it has always a very pleasant flavour, while coffee changes its taste with about every new combination of blend.

"Since using Postum I have had no more attacks of gall colic, the dizziness has left my head, and the old, common, every-day headache is a thing unknown. There's a Reason."

Purchased a Handsome Residence

Mrs. Popham of Chemong has purchased Mr. Wallis Brock's handsome residence on Homewood avenue. This house is considered to be one of the finest residences in the city. Mrs. Popham and family will reside there in the near future. The adjoining lands which is also owned by Mr. Strickler has been sold to Mr. Tisdale the confectioner.

Early Closing

The inhabitants of Lindsay are advocating an early closing throughout the town. This scheme has been so successful within the last two months that they expect it will continue throughout the winter. Mr. H. Gough stated that little business is carried on in any store between the hours of five and six, and hopes all the stores that closed early in the summer will continue doing so throughout the winter.

Witnessed Mercado's Terrible Death

Mr. M. J. Maher of the firm of Hogg & Maher in Lindsay, was in Toronto the other day, and was an eye-witness of the terrible death of Percy Mercado, who fell from a sixth storey window in the Empire building in that city, and was dashed to the pavement below. The sad affair took place at 11.30 a.m., and as the unfortunate man fell he shouted and a couple of men ran forward but were unable to save him.

COMELY MATRONS PRAISE PERUNA

KENTUCKY
OREGON
OHIO.

The only valuable testimony which any household remedy can have is the testimony of those who have used it. It is worse than useless to discuss Peruna from a theoretical standpoint. It is what Peruna will do, not what people say about it, that constitutes evidence. The housewives of the United States know what Peruna will do. They have tried it. They have realized its benefit in the family. They are the ones that are competent to speak of it. Self-appointed critics know nothing of it whatever.

The Testimony of These Three Housewives Demonstrates Beyond All Cavil That Peruna is a Safe and Useful Remedy.

Gained Flesh on Peruna.

Mrs. Hattie Hamilton, R. F. D. No. 2, Sparta, Ky., writes:

"I have taken two bottles of Peruna and commenced on the third one. I did not really need the third one, but thought it best to take another bottle.

"I have always weighed 102 pounds, but since I began taking Peruna I weigh 120, for the first time in all my life, and I am now thirty-three years old. Your medicine has surely done me a great deal of good, and I have recommended it to several others who have begun taking it.

"My mother, who is seventy-six years old, had grown so weak she could scarcely walk. She took two bottles of Peruna and is fleshier and looking well."

Internal Catarrh

Mrs. M. F. Jones, of Burning Springs, Ky., writes:

"No family should ever be without Peruna, for it is an unfailing cure for colds, and it is an excellent remedy to prevent and relieve croup.

"And to speak from a standpoint of experience, I can candidly say that it is the remedy for internal catarrh. I shall not hesitate to recommend it, especially to all suffering women.

"Peruna has caused full confidence and a permanent stay in our home."

Constipation, Torpid Liver.

Mrs. Anthony Rauch, 306 N. Walnut street, Bucyrus, O., writes:

"I was suffering from obstinate constipation and torpid liver, when I took your advice and purchased six bottles of Peruna and Manalin. When I had taken only one bottle I felt much better, and since I have taken two more bottles I feel entirely well, but I will continue taking the medicine for a short time to make sure of my cure.

"I think Manalin is one of the finest remedies for constipation that I ever tried. I will never be without it. It has made me so strong. I can do a day's work and never tire. I am so glad I do not get those dizzy spells any more. I haven't had one since I took your medicine.

"I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me. All sick people should give it a fair trial."

Kidneys and Bladder.

Mrs. Gus. H. Carlson, Box 201, Ortonville, Minn., writes:

"I had catarrh of the kidneys and bladder. I have taken Peruna until now, and I do not think I need to take it any longer.

"I feel well, and my tongue is clear, and I have no bitter taste in my mouth. I am very thankful for Peruna."

Peruna Their Family Medicine.

Mrs. Anna C. Hyde, 712 E. Yamhill street, Portland, Oregon, Vice President Literary and Educational Organization of New Hampshire, writes:

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna as an all-round good family medicine, and one that is safe to give children. I give it to mine at the least suggestion of a cold, and take it myself to build up my strength and nerves.

"My sister, who is living with me, uses Peruna, too, and she is loud in its praises.

"Your medicine is certainly worthy of praise."

Backache, Headache.

Mrs. Tressie Nelson, 609 N. Fifth Ave., Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"As Peruna has done me a world of good, I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eye of some woman who has suffered as I did.

"For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going.

"A good friend advised me to use Peruna and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made a new woman of me and I have no more pains and life looks bright again."

Catarrh of Bowels.

Mrs. Maggie Durbin, 1832 North street, Little Rock, Ark., writes:

"I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said consumption of the bowels. One doctor said he could cure me. I took his medicine two months, but it did me no good.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, so I continued its use, and it has cured me sound and well.

"I can recommend Peruna to anyone, and if anyone wants to know what Peruna did for me if they will write to me I will answer promptly."

Quarrelled at the Wedding Feast

Peabody, Sept. 1. Much excitement was at the height in the village of Thomas Cassidy, Victoria Road, the other night. A drive was in progress and the company were having a jolly time when a row rose.

The village youths had evidently called for eight, but the supply of thirst destroyer in the stable was all too meagre for a hurried call, and a suspicion was immediately directed against William McNamara, another youth who was present.

In the scuffle they went into the house, and Mrs. Cassidy received a bad beating from the woman in the stable. An adjournment was made to the house and the battle was commenced again. The supper table was temporarily spread aside and in the middle of the fight the parties stumbled into it with the result that the delicious viands were scattered all over the floor. The owner of the house, Thos. Cassidy, had a narrow escape from being trampled on by the combatants.

Fear is of the carnival in all its thoroughness as expected.

The Sheffield choir is coming to Canada 240 strong and the event will be one of the outstanding features of the season of music in this country. They would, no doubt, be greeted by a large audience if they came to Peterborough. It is hoped that the efforts of the persons who are trying to bring the choir here will be successful.

Obituary

Lindsay, Sept. 1. J. C. Craig, one of the best-known residents of Victoria county, died at the Ross hospital here Tuesday after a very short illness. He was ill only an attack of typhoid fever. For some eighteen years he has been carrying on the undertaking business in the village of Kinmount. He was also interested in a planing mill with the Gurney Manufacturing Company of Toronto, as sash manufacturers. The late Mr. Craig was fifty-three years of age and married. He was one time a resident of Lindsay, and later on at Fenelon Falls. Mr. Geo. Craig, of Toronto, is one of his brothers, the others being W. F. Craig, of Craig & Aveson, Winnipeg, of Kinmount, and Thomas and Robert of British Columbia.

At Bancroft about 2 o'clock yesterday morning Albert Kearns house was burned to the ground. Mr. Kearns was away at a funeral and Mrs. Kearns and two children had a narrow escape.

ORANGE LILY TRADE MARK

A Wonderful Remedy

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of female disorders, falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, painful and suppressed menstruation, etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an Applied Treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help but have a beneficent influence. I receive from forty to fifty letters daily, speaking of the benefits received. It is perfectly safe and sure and I feel that it will do what is claimed for it. I will send, absolutely free, a 75 cent box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address with stamp.

HON. J. R. STRATTON THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF THE LIBERALS TO CONTEST WEST PETERBORO

Nominated at the Liberal Convention in the Opera House on Saturday Afternoon

Regret the Resignation of R. R. Hall

Saturday afternoon marked the beginning of one of the "hottest contested" political campaigns which will ever be held in Peterborough. It was the Liberal mass meeting that took place in the opera house at 3 o'clock and after two hours sound drumming and speech making the doors closed for the evening. After the speakers and some of the executive arrived on the platform, the meeting was formally opened by a brief address from the chairman, Mr. J. J. Hartley B. said the Liberals of Peterborough were assembled to nominate a candidate for the Dominion House. He also related the good works which was done by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his supporters.

Never in the history of the Dominion since confederation had the country prospered as under the rule of this fearless, energetic ruler. Concluding he said he was ready to receive nominations for a member for West Peterborough.

Hon J. R. Stratton was the next speaker. His speech was a continuation of what Mr. Hartley had said. Nowhere under the rising and setting sun had any country prospered as under the power of the Laurier Government judging from the good work Mr Hall had done he was sure he deserved the hearty support and co-operation of the electors of West Peterborough a second time. The present member was influential in bringing about many good changes which in every way strengthened the welfare of the citizens as a whole. The new armories, revised tariff commission resulted from the untiring efforts of this gentleman. He was sure no other man in the audience or in "West Peterborough, was more fit for the position as candidate than Mr. Hall He then nominated Mr. Hall to run as candidate for West Peterborough and his nomination was soon seconded by Mr. Tom Hunter.

Mr. Hall was then called upon to address the audience. He felt very grateful that the electors saw fit to nominate him a second time as their representative in the Dominion House. He assured them he had done all in his power to further the interests of the people as far as he was able. He spoke about the rapid progress of the Trent canal, the drowned lands remuneration the revised tariff commission and the renovated mail delivery system. The peace and free privileges which the inhabitants of Canada now possess will never be enjoyed again if the Laurier Government is snowed under. Therefore it is up to the citizens to support the present constituency. There were at least 25,000 people in West Peterborough, who received mail through the post office. The new mail delivery which was instituted not long ago was certainly the result of Mr. Hall's energetic work. The government in the last four years had expended $100,000 to pay partly the losses which resulted from the drowned lands. Since 1904 the trent canal has undoubtedly progressed. Thirty-seven miles of this magnificent waterway. Those who suffered any by the drowned lands have already been paid the handsome sum of $100,000 as a remuneration for their losses. Mr. Hall said that his private affairs have detained him from accepting the nomination for a second time. He had much pleasure therefore in nominating the Hon. J. R. Stratton to run as candidate for West Peterborough. Mr. Hall's nomination was seconded by Mr. Joseph Denno.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was the next speaker on the platform. He assured the people that no better government had ruled Canada since confederation than the Laurier Government. But, he asked, "Why should the conscientious citizens support a man who was the cause of the downfall of the Ross Government? Applause. He hoped the Laurier Government would return again to power, but was not in favor of a man like Mr. Stratton as one of the supporters. Mud would not stick to Laurier Government as it did the Ross Government. He would therefore strictly oppose Mr. Stratton in the coming election.

Mr. Andrew McFarlane was the next speaker. He asked why should a man like Mr. McWilliams, who couldn't get the nomination, be opposed to a man such as Mr. Stratton who was more fit for the nomination than himself. (Cheers)

Mr. Stratton again appeared. He was thankful to the electors for the appreciation shown him. He had listened to what Mr. McWilliams had said, and if there was one who could point out any thing which would in any way tend to put him down as a fraud, to come forward and let everyone hear it. Needless to say all kept their seats. Mr. Stratton had spent all his life in public affairs, and in all that time not a thing has he done which he is ashamed of. He therefore stated he had much pleasure in accepting the nomination and assured the assembly that on the night the last vote was polled the Laurier Government would be proclaimed victorious and he, himself, as one of its supporters.

Mr. Dan'l O'Connell, was the next man who demanded the attention of the audience. He had learned with regret that Mr. Hall could not see his way clear in accepting the nomination a second time. No man in the government today had done so much, had worked so hard as Mr. Hall. He spoke about the various things that Mr. Hall was influential in bringing about that in every way bettered the people. In conclusion therefore he was glad to see that his successor was a man who was in every way fit for the position.

The Hon. Senator Cox said a few words and said he was glad to see some old faces in the audience, who were years ago, and were yet intimate friends of his. He has been in business life for nearly half a century and has always taken a deep interest in elections, particularly those of West Peterborough. The meeting was then brought to a close, by giving three hearty cheers for the King and the speakers.

Old Man of 78 Slays His Wife and Suicides

Bridgewater, Mass., Sept. 5.—Kimball E. Sheldon, a well-known resident of East Bridgewater, killed his wife and then committed suicide today.

A milkman found the house door open this morning and detected an odor of gas.

When the house was entered the body of Mrs Sheldon was lying on the bed with a deep wound, as if made by a blunt instrument, on the head, while the body of Mr. Sheldon was in an adjoining bath room, which was filled with gas from a wide open gas jet. It was the opinion of the medical examiner that Mr. Sheldon killed his wife and then committed suicide.

Sheldon was 78 years old and his wife two years younger. Mr. Sheldon was seen on the street last evening. At that time he seemed in a normal state of mind and conversed freely with many of his acquaintances. He went home about eight o'clock and nothing more was heard of him until today.

As the milkman was leaving a note Dr. A. L. Shirley acted the house and the two made another investigation. Dr. Shirley had received in the morning mail a letter from Mr. Sheldon, asking the physician to come over to the Sheldon house in the morning and the doctor, in his affairs and to notify Maurice Smith, Mr. Sheldon's nephew, at Bridgeport, Conn., of what had occurred. As soon as Dr. Shirley received the letter he hurried to the house.

According to friends of the family, Mr. Sheldon was worth more than half a million dollars several years ago, but lost much of his wealth in an unfortunate speculation.

People of Johnston, P.A., in Great Distress as Result of Drought

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—Suffering from lack of water for domestic purposes, suspension of manufacturing with attended loss of wages, blighting or complete destruction of crops, and lack of water for live stock, such as probably has never before been experienced, is reported from every county in Western Pennsylvania and the border counties in Ohio and Western Virginia.

There is imminent danger of the loss of live stock, much of which is already being driven many miles to running streams. There are also grave fears of disease epidemics through the use of stagnant water or the lack of water with which to observe the most ordinary hygienic rules.

Probably the most serious condition prevails in Johnstown and vicinity. In that city last night, the municipal creamatory burned to the ground because the fire department could find no water to turn on the flames.

Only one of three reservoirs used to supply the town contains water, and this and the creek that supplies it is rapidly being depleted.

MINES SHUT DOWN

The mines of the Berwind-White Co. in Cambria County have been suspending one by one until between 2,000 and 3,000 miners are idle. Yesterday the company's car repair shop at Hollidaysburg shut down, throwing out an addition 150 men.

At Saltsburg and Raton, wells are being sunk in search of water.

In Washington and Greene counties the corn crop is already blighted.

BUCKWHEAT A FAILURE

In Clearfield county no rain has fallen for four weeks and the buckwheat crop, one of the staples of this territory, will be almost a total failure.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Opens Campaign at Sorel, Quebec

Sir Wilfrid Appeared in Splendid Form to Address a Large Gathering

Silent as to the Date of Election

Sorel, Que., Sept. 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier had nothing new to tell the people of Canada in his opening speech of the present campaign which he delivered in Sorel this afternoon, as he did in 1904, evidently relying on the enthusiasm of the people of this town, which has been built up by the establishment of the dry government shipyards, to make an enthusiastic opening of his tour.

Sir Wilfrid appeared to be in splendid form, and spoke with all his old time vigor and good humor.

He did not announce anything as to the date of the elections, but warned the faithful of the Richelieu Valley to be on the qui vive, that they might be ready when the call to battle sounded.

There was a big crowd at the market place for the open air address, which was delivered from the platform in front of the market building. A shipload of Liberals came from Montreal, with bands and everything necessary to create enthusiasm, and the meeting was a very orderly one.

Cheers were given when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was called to the front and presented with the traditional red ribboned address and duly kissed the young lady who presented him with a huge bouquet of crimson roses.

The crowd was orderly and interested, but not wildly enthusiastic, but

All the Animals on this Farm Go Mad

Beamsville, Sept. 4.—A report comes from the township of Robinson, Haldimand county, that there is no doubt that several cases of rabies have been found in live stock on the farm of Mr. Gordon Hoover. A colt took sick and died mysteriously, and the following day two young steers developed the same symptoms, foaming at the mouth and showing every sign of being inflicted with some infectious disease. A day or two later another steer became sick and was shot. Mr. Hoover and Mr. Henry Verny, while putting the animals out of their misery, got some of the foam on their hands and face, and became alarmed that they also might become infected. After a consultation with the doctor they decided to go to the Pasteur Institute in New York for treatment. The Government inspector has forbidden any of the animals to be removed from the farm.

It is not known how the animals became infected, but a mad dog was running loose in the vicinity not long ago, and the beasts in all probability bit several of the cattle.

Mr. J. H. Thorp Prophesies a Great Future for Peterborough

A Times reporter had an interview with a prominent business man of Chicago on Saturday, who is spending a few days in Peterborough before going north to Cobalt, the land of silver and riches. He has heard a good deal about Peterborough, and judging from what he has seen of it he considers it to be a city of good industry and prophesies a successful future.

He has travelled throughout the United States and Canada a great many times, and among the small cities he has seen picks Peterborough as his favorite. She possesses the largest electrical plant in Canada known as the Canadian General Electric Works, when in "full blast" gives employment to over a thousand people. Peterborough may also boast of having one of the eight wonders of the world, namely the hydraulic lift lock. The Trent Valley canal, which runs through Peterborough is also considered by the American citizen a great means of increasing the progress of Ontario. Last year the American tourists spent over $10,000,000 in the State of Maine alone, admiring its beauties and judging at its resorts. He believes when the Trent Canal is completed that the boats from the Great Lakes will cruise up the waters to Peterborough, and there deposit and receive goods.

Peterborough has consumers and serves a large population than she now has, but he does not seem to worry if a large increase doesn't occur soon, it will keep her back. For a city of 15,000 good, honest and industrious people she can claim the title of being one of Canada's most ambitious centers.

Killed by Tongue of a Threshing Machine

Huntsville Ont., Sept. 5.—Alexander Gardener, a young man about 30 years of age, died last night as the result of injuries received on Wednesday.

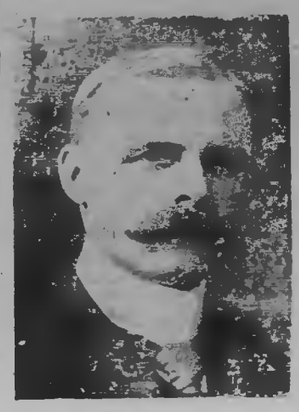
Gardener, who owns a threshing outfit, was setting his machine at the home of George Bradley, about two miles from Huntsville. The separator was being hauled backwards into the barn when the tongue flew from the hands of the man in charge striking Gardener on the side of the head.

The unfortunate man was rendered insensible, and did not regain consciousness. He died at 7 a.m. Friday.

Great damage has been done in England and along the coast by terrific storms during the last two days.

France and England Irritated by Course Adopted by Germany

R. R. HALL, M. P.,



Who is Resigning from Political Life

Sir Wilfrid was supported by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Hon. Jacques Bureau, and a whole host of lesser notables who crowded the platform.

Sir Wilfrid attacked the opposition, declaring that ever since last election they had done nothing but devote their attention to digging up scandals and exploiting them.

He strongly objected to this, and said:

"I can tell the opposition that if a few black sheep have strayed into our field, it is our duty, not theirs, to turn them out."

ON HISTORIC GROUND.

In opening, the premier referred to the fact that on several other occasions he had opened his campaigns in the historic Richelieu Valley.

This place has witnessed the struggle that resulted in the securing of constitutional government for Canada, and he regarded it as fitting that the Liberal Government should first appeal to the descendants of those people who had always worked for that freedom which was typified by the Liberal cause.

He proceeded to refer to the encroachments that his sixty years had made upon him and pleaded that the people of Canada should return his government again in order that he might be permitted to finish his life-work for the country.

"I am getting old and my hair is whitened with the snow of many winters," said Sir Wilfrid. "But although I may be old, my heart is still young, and I am both able and willing to devote years to come to the service of my country, to which I have devoted my whole life."

Think the Kaiser Seeks to Steal a March in Morocco Affair

The French Press Very Indignant

London, Sept. 3.—It was learned today that the British government is holding aloof from Mulai Hafid, the new Sultan of Morocco, for the present but that it proposes to recognize him in due time. Britain's offer of friendship is irritated by the move adopted by Germany, which has practically an attempt to gain influence over Mulai Hafid by steps and a message to the other powers. Conferences are now going on between Great Britain, France and Spain, and there is no doubt but that Great Britain and France will act together.

EXPLANATION FROM BERLIN

Berlin, Sept. 3.—The views of Germany concerning Morocco, I may be explained today as limited to the suggestion to the signatories of the Algeciras act that the time has arrived to recognize Mulai Hafid as sultan of Morocco.

Official amusement is expressed at the attitude of the French and English newspapers on the occurrence. They say although Germany had done something outside her privileges instead of something that one of the signatory powers must do if the Morocco situation is to be cleared up.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The Petit Republique says regarding the Franco-Spanish note regarding conditions to be exacted from Mulai Hafid which was despatched on Friday, that Germany's assent must still be presented to all signatories of the Algeciras act to it.

The Rice Crop Being Harvested

The rice crop on Rice lake and tributaries is very good. Owing to a new inspector watching the harvesters at Indians, and there are at present twelve or fourteen camps on Buoys' Island, at the mouth of Indian River. The procedure of harvesting is simple, if it does the harvester in a canoe is one with a stick. The canoes are propelled among the rice reeds, a bunch of rice is grasped and the heads bent over the edge of the canoe and bang it on off fall into the bottom of the craft. The process is kept at till a shipload is gathered. The rice is taken to camp, where it is winnowed by the primitive method of tossing handfuls in the air, the wind blowing away the chaff in the ascent and descent. The rice is then tested and prepared finally for the market or for home consumption.

Ontario and the East Responsible for the Recent Ruffianism

Regina, Sask., Sept. 5.—The good people of Canada have been properly shocked recently at the terrible doings of boys from home, boys from the cities, towns, villages, and the country concessions back east, who at home were regarded as decent fellows, and who went west as harvesters. One cannot remain long in the West without discovering the influence of the farm hom of Ontario upon Western life in all its phases. The farms of Ontario supplied, for the greater part, the pioneers of this community. These farm homes placed their impress upon us before they went forth to make their impress upon the communities of the West. That the impress was a good one, the institutions of the West are proofs. For the most part, the same class of home responsible for these pioneers is responsible for the harvest hands whose doings have shocked Canada.

A good deal of the uproar over these doings reminds one of the two country boys who went to town with ten cents between them, wherewith to celebrate their adventures. So they shared a five cent glass of beer and took turns in pulling at a five-cent cigar. As they walked along, in the pride of their debauchery, one of them remarked, "Wouldn't dad raise Cain if he knew we were on this spree!" A similar spirit was working in many of the harvest hands.

The responsibility belongs to Canada, and in a more especial sense to Ontario. It was the duty of Ontario to have prevented such an outbreak or to have suppressed it with a firm hand. West of the future Ontario has an immense stretch of unorganized territory already and it is to be extended further up to James Bay. Away to the north of the C.P.R. the Transcontinental Railway is being pushed through the wilderness. The same thing is happening in Quebec. The question must be faced at once by these provinces, if law and order are to hold.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comforts instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs directly feminine in particular. Over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

FRAUDS BY SHORT WEIGHTS

According to an article in the National Food Magazine, the people of the United States are being defrauded to the extent of $210,000,000 every year, simply through the practices of those merchants who give short weight. This is an average of $3 a year for every man, woman and child in that country. The victims rarely know of the fraud, though they may suspect it. In some cases they may weigh or measure their purchases after they get home, but in far too many instances this is either neglected or impossible and the frauds continue. It is interesting, to say the least, to know how these deceptions are practiced, even though nothing is done to remedy them. One of the most extensive of the short weight frauds is in the putting up and selling of what are known as "point packages". Some of these weigh a full pound, others are half an ounce or an ounce short. This amounts to almost nothing to the defrauded purchaser, but to the firm putting up millions of packages the shortage aggregates a great profit.

Many of the alleged "quart bottles" are so far short of being full quarts that five of them will not hold more than a gallon. The same shortage can be detected in not a few of the pails and firkins in which fish, lard and butter are sold. There are so many of these that it is now the custom to sell such commodities, not by the pint, quart or gallon, but by the bottle, the can, the pail, the tub or the cask.

(The same conditions apply to Canada and precautions should be taken by housekeepers to weigh and measure all goods received for family consumption.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The new patent law of Great Britain, which is of inestimable importance to this country, goes into operation this week. It stipulates that foreigners who may obtain British patents must manufacture the patented goods on British soil. On and after next Friday any person on application to the comptroller of patents, may cause to be revoked any patent granted four years or more ago to any foreigner who manufactures the goods in question "exclusively or mainly" outside the United Kingdom. As American and German manufacturers are doing a large business in England, they stand to be forced to spend millions of dollars in the construction of plants in Great Britain, as provided by the new act. Last year England granted 3,648 patents to Germany and 1,981 to the United States. Over 2,000 British patents have been granted within the past three years to foreigners. Not one of these patents has hitherto been "adequately worked" in the United Kingdom. Among American manufacturers who are particularly hard hit by the new law are makers of typewriters, cash registers, all kinds of fine steel working machinery, elevator and pneumatic tube parts in addition to a thousand and one small articles sold by Americans under the protection of English registered patents. Many American and German firms have arranged to open branch factories in England to comply with the law.

According to an estimate of Sir Alfred Jones, says the Brantford Expositor, Great Britain will benefit to the extent of $125,000,000 by the working of the new act. How much the United States and Germany will suffer is a matter of conjecture, but it is certain that these countries will feel the effects of the law, as to comply with its provisions it will be necessary for the American manufacturers, for instance, practically to move a part of their factories to England and to employ British labor to do the work that is now being done by Americans.

The Globe has this to say of the important waterway:

"The Minister of Railways has just made a trip along the Trent Valley Canal from Peterborough to Orillia, and his announcement to the public as the outcome of what he saw is that the canal ought to be completed with all practicable speed. It has cost a large amount of money already, and yet it is only an inland system in the strictest sense of the term. It is navigable from all points on Lake Simcoe and Couchiching to Hastings, some distance below Rice Lake, but it does not open into either the Georgian Bay to the west or the Bay of Quinte to the east. Mr. Graham was quite right in saying that this condition of things must come to an end.

"The worst of the engineering difficulties to be faced in the construction of the canal have been overcome. There are two lofty elevations that have to be surmounted, but this part of the work has been practically completed in a way that has for the past few years been attracting a host of tourists, including many hydraulic engineers, to see the Peterborough lift-lock in actual operation. Some of the other locks will have to be enlarged before the canal is made thoroughly efficient, but the most important parts to be undertaken are the extension from Rice Lake down the Trent River and from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay. It was mainly to these remnants that the Minister's announcement is applied.

"Two remarks are suggested by the past history and the present condition of the canal. One is that however skeptical people at a distance may have been about either the feasibility or availability of the undertaking, the people who live in the Trent Valley believe in it, and they are in the best position to judge. They have made a long and careful study of the route and have never been afraid to put up a defence for it in Parliament or anywhere else. There is good reason to believe that for grain and lumber taken barges from Georgian Bay to Montreal it will always be part of an economical transportation route, quite efficient enough to act as a check on railway rates. It will probably have a good deal of local traffic besides, especially in the carrying of tourists through the beautiful Kawartha Lakes.

"The other remark is that Parliament, having done so much, cannot stop short now. If the canal were not carried to the Georgian Bay in one direction and the Bay of Quinte in another, the original intention would have to be abandoned, for it is inconceivable that any such object should ever have been commenced unless with a deliberate purpose to finish it. The delay that has taken place may admit of explanation; further delay would admit of none, and therefore it is satisfactory to have from the Minister of Railways the most explicit assurance that no time will be lost in completing the undertaking.

Canada should profit by the experience of the State of New York, which has found out that the awarding of the contracts for large canal engineering projects in small sections at different times is more expensive and less satisfactory than awarding the contracts all at once. This is the experience of the Empire State in connection with the enlargement of the Erie Canal. When the Dominion Government, therefore, is prepared to undertake the construction of the proposed Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal, or other similar projects, as it must do before long, the lesson that can be learned from across the line should cause them to adopt the policy of awarding all the contracts at the same time and of pushing the work vigorously to completion.

"Instead of the work being planned in 'big mouthfuls', as is the usual custom in large canal engineering projects," writes Edward Hungerford in Harper's Weekly, concerning the enlargement of the Erie canal, "it was apportioned in tiny morsels, million dollar single contracts being the rule."

"The earliest contractors have taken on their time, knowing full well that a time limit for their work on a canal that may not be finished within a century is farcical. They have proceeded in many cases without sufficient mechanical facilities, and in other cases with an unnecessary and frightfully expensive duplication of mechanical plants. A proper digging plant for a trench the size of the proposed barge canal will cost from one to three hundred thousand dollars. No contractor on a million-dollar job, with the law permitting him no assurance of a second contract, cares to spend a great sum on his plant and equipment. As a result, he struggles along with inferior tools, duplicates his plan extravagantly, and has in several instances bankrupted himself in the endeavor. Many of the largest and most representative of American contractors are refusing to touch the Erie job for this very reason. They want more profits, not dividends. Some of the contracts already advertised have had no bidders."

It would be wisdom then on the part of the Government not to commence any work until there is some definite assurance that it can be completed without further delay.

Sooner than we reckon on there will be three instead of two great parties striving for the mastery in the government in the United States. The third party, which is coming to the front with leaps and bounds, is the Socialistic.

Singularly enough, with absolutely free speech and an unmuzzled press, Socialism has made slower growth in this republic than in the countries of the old world. In several of the governments of Europe they are so strong a minority as to have the balance of power. In the British House of Commons there are 31 Socialists; in the German Reichstag there are 41; no less than 54 sit in the French Chamber of Deputies. These are the legislative bodies which are nearest like our House of Representatives. In similar bodies in Austria, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and even Russia the Socialists are well represented. In every country with an elective form of government save the United States they find seats in the halls of legislature, but as yet no Socialist has been sent to Washington, at least as such.

But they are growing in numbers in the United States. Twenty years ago they cast only about 2,000 votes. Six years ago they cast nearly 230,000. In 1904 there vote totalled 450,000. This year they hope to swell it to close to a million. How long at this rate will it be before they have a strong representation in Congress? Indeed, how long will it be before they will have a right to contend in earnest for the Presidency?

Fortunately many of the theories of the old-time Socialists have either been abandoned or toned down, so that the word Socialism does not carry with it to-day the same terror to vested interests and individualism as of old. In fact, there are many persons who do not claim to be Socialists and who would hotly resent the imputation who possess opinions and advocate measures which the Socialists were the first to bring out and which only a few years ago would have stamped their advocates as dangerous malcontents carried away by an impossible dream.

Perhaps by the time the Socialists are in power they will have come nearer to the conservative level, or the conservatives will have approximated them in their desire for change of system, and so the bloodless revolution may not be so very dreadful after all.

Although the British Government has officially refused to accede to the request that the embargo on the importation of cattle from the Dominion should be removed, there seems to be some change in public opinion in Great Britain in favor of such action. Of course among the agricultural community there opposition to the proposal is general, as was to be expected. In Ireland also, as a cattle raising country, the request is not looked on with favor. But the increase in the cost of meat in Great Britain has caused the subject to become of more interest to the people, and some of the leading newspapers, both in London and the Provinces, are discussing the matter very fully and with an evident leaning in favor of some modification of the present regulations.

The "Western Daily Press", at Bristol, in summing up the case for and against the embargo, in effect says it should be lifted under precautionary regulations. We are inclined to think that there is evidence of a growing public opinion in the Old Country in favor of some relaxation of the present regulations, so obnoxious in Canada, because it is held here that they are not justified by the facts and could be removed without any danger of disease being spread among the domestic herds by the importation of Canadian cattle.

Since the war with Russia the standard of living in Japan has increased 20p per cent, and the people are grumbling about their poverty. It takes a great deal more now to satisfy a Jap than it did before. Mere existence, which was all that was asked by the masses, is no longer sufficient. The people demand more and better food—more of what we occidentals call the comforts. Their eyes are opened and the old standard will never again be acceptable. The people are heavily taxed, for the expenses of the war were enormous, and they are objecting to the burdens. A wave of socialism is sweeping over the land. Japan is making rapid strides in civilization but her people are more unhappy than ever. She has conquered Russia, she soon may have to conquer herself.

One remarkable feature in the reform movement in China is the amazingly rapid development of the newspaper press. Seven years ago China had no newspapers except those started and controlled by foreigners. To-day there are more than 300 native journals. Pekin has a prosperous daily, started, edited and controlled by Chinese women—think of it! The government is encouraging the new-born appetite for news and is giving the newspapers every aid. The mass of the Chinese population cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper, but there is enough who can to make publication profitable. It is a common thing in the cities to see groups of men gathered on the street corners listening eagerly while some favored individual stands and reads a newspaper aloud.

Once China gets used to newspapers she will be in touch with the world and Europeans will no longer be "foreign devils."

The commercial horizon is clearing. Striking evidence of the return of business activity on this continent and especially in the neighboring republic was shown when the sales of steel billets and pig iron in Pittsburg announced yesterday made this the best half week in ten months. Thus the mercial barometer of America clearly indicates better conditions that have prevailed for nearly a year. It is further significant that large firms who had placed orders for pig iron, when they had reason to believe there would be a rise in price, in some cases trebled their orders. The Industrial Managers have thus given testimony that they discern an upward trend of things, and as their predictions before have been generally realized, the people have reason to expect better times shortly.

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission. According to the estimates of the deputy minister of agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress, Canada, by the year 1912, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 500,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported in the United Kingdom from British possessions and foreign countries respectively:

	British Possessions		Foreign Countries
	1902-6	1902-6	1902-6	1902-6
	P.C.	P.C.	P.C.	P.C.
Wheat	15	22	85	68
Meat	21	24	79	76
Butter	10	21	90	79
Cheese	54	75	46	25

It will thus be seen, says an exchange, how in the matter of food products the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy minister's estimate may be rather high, it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States must, before many years pass, cease to be a wheat exporting country and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1836 the exports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £12,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £11,000,000, but in the five years ended 1906 they had grown to over £16,000,000, and last year reached close on £50,000,000.

It comes out that Chinese laborers are not allowed to come into the country and compete with Japanese labor because they have a lower standard of living than the Japanese, and can do harder and more work for the same money than the Japanese of the same class. So Japan stands off the Chinese just as some of the white nations desire to stand off the Japanese. Apparently it is not a matter of color merely.

A Popular Excursion

The long talked about excursion which has proved such a success in former years amongst the Indian residents of Chemong will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 15 per Steamer Otonabee. The excursionists will leave Bridgenorth at 6.30 a. m. and will go over the Kirkfield Lift Lock and thence to Lake Simcoe. They will visit the Indian settlement at Rama. The return trip will be made on Thursday and they expect to arrive home the same evening. Mr. Daniel Whetung, Sr., has charge of the excursion party.

A mad man caused a panic on the London stock exchange yesterday by firing three shots from his revolver into the building.

Bounced Through.

Sergeant Wilkins once defended a breach of promise case for a singularly ugly little man, which case he told the defendant, after reading his brief, must be "bounced" through. And the sergeant did bounce it through.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said at the close of a most eloquent speech, "you've heard the evidence for the plaintiff, and, gentlemen of the jury, you have admired that most bewitching lady, the plaintiff herself. Gentlemen, do you believe that this enchanting, this fascinating, this captivating, this accomplished lady would for one moment favor the advances or listen with anything save scorn and indignation to the amorous protestations of the wretched and repulsive homunculus, the deformed and degraded defendant?"

"Mr. Sergeant Wilkins! Oh, Mr. Sergeant Wilkins!"

"Silence, sir!" replied the sergeant in a wrathful undertone. "Gentlemen," he continued, bringing his fist heavily down on the desk before him, "do you think that this lovely lady, this fair and smiling creature, would ever have permitted an offer of marriage to be made to her by this miserable atom of humanity, this stunted creature, who would have to stand on a sheet of note paper to look over twopence?"

Instant verdict for defendant.—Lo

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself but in the nerves that control and guide each particular Organ. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To restore the Kidneys, alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

THE INNOCENT FOX.

Blamed For Offenses Committed by His Wicked Cousins.

We are often told of the fox as a destroyer of geese, but I should like to hear the story of some eyewitnesses as to his work in this direction. It is very easy to find fox tracks about the remains of a bird and then say a fox did it. I believe that many of the offenses laid at his door are committed by weasels, mink and wildcats, or lynx.

During a part of the year I have known foxes to spend a part of each day digging among potato hills in a retired hollow for white grubs or mice in the adjoining fields and to return to the mountain at nightfall, passing a farm which was almost covered with young poultry out for grasshoppers. From an experience of about ten years in a locality where foxes abound I am convinced that this animal destroys but few, if any, chickens. Our trouble there was, first of all, hawks, then skunks, owls and raccoons. The fox never invaded the chicken coops or broke up the sitting turkeys out at the base of the mountain. Of course in winter a fox may sometimes trap a grouse in the snow at night, but who has ever seen a fox actually catch a grouse? Come, now, brothers of the forest, be honest and own up. I would be glad to learn how the fox does the trick, if any one has seen it done.—Forest and Stream.

Hercules' Labors.

The twelve labors of Hercules were: To slay the Nemean lion; to kill the Lernean hydra; to catch and hold the Arcadian stag; to destroy the Erymanthian bear; to cleanse the stables of King Augeas; to destroy the cannibal birds of Lake Stymphalus; to capture the Cretan bull; to catch the horses of Lycaeides; to get possession of the girdle of Hippolyte, queen of the Amazons; to capture the oxen of the monster Geryon; to get possession of the apples of the Hesperides and to bring up from the infernal regions the three headed dog Cerberus.

News in Brief

London, Ont., September 3.—Thirty-nine infants have succumbed to the epidemic of cholera infantum which is raging in London. Such a large infant death roll was never known here before at any one time. More than 300 babies are still very seriously ill and the hospitals have all the cases they can look after.

Victoria, B. C., September 4.—Advices from Japan state that the sunken battleships Yashima has been located by the steamer Saruhashi Maru, a salvage vessel, sent by the navy department to search for Japanese warships lost during the war with Russia, and investigations are being carried on to ascertain if the battleship can be raised. The Saruhashi Maru has also located the Russian warship Sebastopol, and the approximate place where the cruiser Takasago sank has been located. She is now searching for the battleship Hatsuse.

The sinking of the Yashima and Hatsuse was due to the placing of mechanical mines by Rear-Admiral Wiren on May 21, 1904. The Russian officer observed that the Japanese warships while engaged in beleaguring Port Arthur cruised continually over the same ground, and a mine field was laid into which the vessels steamed, and the Yashima, Hatsuse and cruiser Yoshino went down the same morning, all with heavy loss.

News of the sinking of the Yashima was suppressed for six months by the Japanese Government, and reports of her loss were always officially contradicted, with the result that not until news of her destruction was published in the official reports at the close of the war was it generally known that she had been sunk when the Hatsuse and Yoshimo went down.

Advices from Vladivostock state that the six Japanese of the crew of the seized sailing schooner, Myic Maru, sentenced to be shot, have been reprieved. Russian official advices state that the schooner was captured while in the act of raiding the Copper Islands and her crew were also guilty of landing at Kurinka, a village on Medni Island, and pillaging the village houses.

The young lady was taken suddenly ill, and the family physician could not tell what was wrong. One of her ears swelled up, and an operation was performed to find out the cause of the swelling. The wound bled profusely, and immediately after the operation the girl's skin became marked with strange dark stripes. These stripes made their appearance over her whole body. Shortly afterwards she died, and was buried last week, but not before a number of prominent surgeons had examined the case, and had become deeply interested.

FOIBLES OF MUSICIANS

Eccentric Moods and Manners of the Great Composers.

THE MADNESS OF GENIUS.

Beethoven's Strange Abstraction and Queer Habits—The Odd Contrast That Mozart Insisted on Signing. Meyerbeer Inspired by Thunder.

When listening to the wonderful strains of Beethoven's immortal symphonies and sonatas it is difficult to imagine that they could come from the pen of such an eccentric man. Though musicians are, as a rule, men with many peculiarities, Beethoven was probably the most extraordinary of them all.

He wrote his music in all sorts of places—when dining, walking or conversing with a friend. Often in the midst of a crowded street he would stop and write furiously for a few minutes on the back of a letter or an envelope, oblivious to the bustling crowd about him. Some of his greatest themes were composed when he was walking along in the pouring rain, for in the worst weather he was a familiar figure in the streets of Vienna, and, though often the object of much ridicule and many gibes, he was profoundly inattentive to his surroundings, as his mind was wholly occupied with his music. His friends were not unaccustomed to have him break off in the midst of a conversation and begin to write rapidly some motif which had presented itself to him.

This great composer would play for hours at a stretch, and in order to cool his hands, which often became feverish, he would seize a water jug and walk about the room, pouring the water first on one hand and then on the other, utterly ignoring the fact that there was no receptacle to catch it. This was the cause of many of his hasty retreats from his lodgings, for the slightest complaint would cause him to give notice to quit, so puerile was he at times. As a result he sometimes was paying for no fewer than three different lodgings at the same time, which, after engaging for a month, he had abruptly left in a day.

Though Haydn ranks next to Beethoven on the list of eccentric musicians, still their peculiarities were very unlike. Beethoven lived in the midst of disorder and confusion, while Haydn averred that he could not compose a line unless everything in his study was in its exact place. Even every ornament must be where it belonged.

He always rose early to write, for he found his greatest inspiration when the birds were singing in the dewy morning hours. His most extraordinary characteristic, however, was to don his full court dress, with bob wig, hat and ruffles, and put on his finger a certain ring before he wrote a line, for he declared that he had not a musical idea unless so attired.

Mozart cannot be called eccentric in the same sense as the two mentioned, for they were very retiring—in fact, reclusive—while he was to a great extent a man of the world. To him, however, must be credited one of the strangest documents that perhaps have ever been written.

He became engaged to a young woman, and at the request of his future mother-in-law he drew up in the presence of an attorney a contract which bound him to marry one of the woman's daughters within three years, the said daughter always having the liberty to refuse the composer if she wished to marry another. But in case Mozart was unable to carry out his intention through lack of the necessary funds or through the woman's refusal he pledged himself to support her in the condition of a stranger, no matter where or how she lived, all her life. His support was to be a fixed sum paid quarterly or half yearly.

Wagner, too, was not exempt from peculiar fancies. His mind seemed to run to the gruesome, and during his lifetime he had his grave constructed. It was in the garden back of his home, and he would often go and look at it that he might not forget its existence. But the worst of it was that he constantly insisted that his friends should remember it, too, and when he was entertaining them at dinner he would suddenly break off the conversation and begin declaiming on eternity and the grave.

"My friends," he would say, "in the midst of life we are in death. Death is a lot that we all must face, even so great a man as myself. I, too, must die. I should like very much to show you my grave, if you will allow me."

And, starting from the dinner table, he would lead the way, followed by his guests, to the corner of the garden where his grave was, and there he would give his companions further dissertations on eternity.

Funerals in Peru.

According to social usage, women in Peru cannot attend funerals, and they do not appear at weddings unless they are very intimate friends. When a funeral procession passes through the streets the coffin is carried upon the shoulders of the pallbearers; who are followed by an empty hearse drawn by two, four or six horses, according to the means of the mourners and their desire for display. All the male members of the family and friends of the deceased follow on foot, with a line of empty carriages behind them. As long as they are in the presence of the dead it is considered a proper and necessary evidence of respect to walk. After the body has been committed to the grave those who attend the funeral are brought home in carriages.

Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Weymontachie, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 11497 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Pauquer Bros.' Ab.t.b. contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Pauquer Bros.' contract, north of Lake Nipigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Pauquer Bros.' contract north of Lake Nipigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910

(6) District "F"—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about [illegible] of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 211 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nipigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1, District "C"	$150.000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150.000
Sec No. 3, District "D & F"	150.000
Sec No. 4, District "E"	150.000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100.000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of any party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional Commissioners, and to furnish the additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure, and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract:—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"The agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall commence with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1908, and maturing January 11, 1913. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico. Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.47 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $40,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,460.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,464 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $560.00.

The Money Derived from the Sale of these Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly, than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 50 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid promise of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now up n, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $9,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

What Every Woman Requires for Headache Languor

Mrs. Mary Flanagan Of Advice that is Sound, Useful True.

Has your strength given out? Do you feel languid and tired this spring?

Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework? Thousands feel just the same—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanagan of Edgar Junction — here is her experience. "I will never again suffer the tortures of deadening spring illness — never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, tireless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Women who are continually pale, bilious and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing down pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c at all dealers.

Had a Run to East City

About 5.45 o'clock on Saturday evening the local fire brigade was given a run to Burnham street, Ashburnham. Some disobedient, careless, "quick-foot d rascal while smoking a "coffin nail," fortunately managed to let a spark fall from his ready mad smoke fall into the dry grass along the C.P.R. tracks and on seeing the result quickly made use of his running apparatus and hasn't been seen since. The firemen, however soon extinguished the blaze which did more good than harm, but the youthful fire bug couldn't see it in that light.

Will Manufacture Under Same Roof

About the first of October the most easterly building of those of the Peterborough Cereal Company will be occupied by Messrs. Collier and Cunningham, for the manufacture of their electrical inventions, and the Diamond Calk Horseshoe. An arrangement has been made by the Diamond Calk Horseshoe Company, of which M. H. P. Kennedy is president, with Messrs. Collier and Cunningham, by which the two will operate under the one management, but still retain their individuality. On the ground floor a machine shop is being fitted up for the manufacture of the horseshoes. This work is now being carried on in the Collier-Cunningham factory on Hunter street. In the new shop, however, the work will be much more extensive.

Obituary

The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Marie Anne Pitrie, relict of the late Mr. W. H. Chamberlain, on Friday evening. The deceased has been ailing for time, and finally succumbed to Bright's disease.

The late Mrs. Chamberlain was 57 years of age, and was born at St. Constant, Que. She has been a resident of Peterborough for the past forty years, and about thirty-eight years ago her marriage was celebrated here. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ed. Conroy, Ashburnham; also by her sister, Mrs. Jos. Picard, Lock street; Mrs. Victoire Daigneau, of Tilbury, and two brothers, Nelson, of Saginaw, Mich.; Augustine, of Toledo, O., and Louis, of Ogdensburg.

The funeral will be held this morning at nine o'clock, from the residence of her daughter, 435 Mark street, Ashburnham.

Local Boy at Camp had Miraculous Escape

Camp Barriefield, Sept. 4.—Driver Callihan, of Peterborough, had a miraculous escape from death on Monday when two teams of horses ran away with one of the guns of the 24th Field Battery. In their mad dash he was thrown between the horses and the pole of the limber, and certainly was fortunate in his escape.

After the animals were brought to a standstill Driver Austin, of Bouro, undertook to drive Callihan's team, as the latter was somewhat injured.

When the horses went around the flank to form up in their proper place they almost immediately started off again and ran about a mile with the heavy gun. Driver Allen was partly thrown off, but pluckily held on to a horse's wither until they were brought to a sudden stop by being upset with the gun in a badly mixed up heap. The horses were unhitched and taken to the camp. Drivers Callihan and Allen both escaped serious injury, and the horses came through the mad dashes with a few scratches.

It's a pity when sick once drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

WEST RIDING CONTEST

At the Liberal nominating convention on Saturday, a report of which appears elsewhere, there was a very large attendance and considerable enthusiasm. Hon. J. R. Stratton was nominated with practical unanimity. He accepted the nomination. Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., retiring on account of the demands of his private business requiring more of his time than, as a representative, he felt he could give.

From the winning point of view the Liberal choice is generally regarded as a good one. Mr. Stratton represented West Peterborough in the Legislative Assembly for about twenty years and even his most bitter political opponents admit that he faithfully and loyally represented his riding, losing no opportunity of turning everything that would benefit Peterborough, Peterborough's way.

The outcome of the impending contest which may be held to date from today, should, we believe, not be difficult to forecast. What the contest will be waged with vigor, not to say bitterness as we believe it is generally thought that Mr. Stratton will be returned by a fair majority—its size depends upon the character of the organization, and from Mr. Stratton's intimate knowledge of the riding and of the factors, and his thoroughness we have reason to believe that the important matter of organization will not be neglected.

Got Drunk on His Way to the Goal

To be liberated from jail Friday morning, brought before Magistrate Edmison during the day, sentenced to six months in the county jail, allowed to take himself up to the jail with the warrant of committal in his pocket, get drunk on the way, to fall into the clutches of the city police and to spend the night in the police station, is a resume of the somewhat unusual adventures of Frederick Rawlings, who appeared before Magistrate Dumble at police court Saturday morning on a charge of being drunk. Rawlings, it will be remembered, was given 30 days in the county jail because of an argument he had with the superintendent of the House of Refuge. He got out Friday, and desiring to go back to the haven on the hill, appeared before the county magistrate and was accommodated with a six-month's sentence. He promised to go right back to the jail and accordingly was given a warrant of committment and started out. On the way he fell among boon companions and as a result forgot he was headed jailwards and was in the midst of a glorious jag when the city police unfeelingly "butted into the game," and escorted him to the central lodging house Saturday morning he told the magistrate he would rather go to jail than be in the County House of Refuge, and accordingly he was waltzed up to Court Nesbitt by P. C. Mebarry. "Give him a bath every day," said the magistrate, as he left the court room. "That will kill him quick."

Many Excursions To-day

Labor Day will not be so popularly celebrated in Peterborough this year as in former years. However this city will not be at the tail end of amusement. There will be an excursion to Idyl Wyld under the auspices of the I.O.F. The excursion boat, steamer Dionaea, will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 2.15, and the street railway wharf at 2.45.

The steamer Water Lily will make a trip over the lift lock to Stony Lake, leaving the Wolfe street wharf at eight o'clock. Dinner will be served at Mt. Julian.

The steamer Monarch will leave the Wolfe street wharf at nine o'clock when she will make a cruise around Rice Lake, calling at Gore's Landing and Idyl Wyld, and returning at half past seven.

The new roller rink should be well patronized also. Mr. Gano the popular manager and proprietor, has spared no pains in making this auditorium a success and no doubt a large crowd of skaters will be on hand to "waltz it around again Willie."

The Crystal will also exhibit a first-class moving picture show, morning, afternoon and evening.

The people who intend to spend the day out of town will make their headquarters at the Toronto Exhibition or at Lindsay. At the latter place the C.L.S. of that town will run off a field day of sports and games in which the mighty red-skin Longboat will compete. No doubt a large crowd will be on hand to witness these sports in the Scugog town.

A Fast Boat

The Bobcaygeon Independent says that "a motor boat went through that place last Friday and attracted great attention. She was the Miss Fidgetty and a very fast party she was. She has been cutting quite a dash around Stony Lake and Chemong, and left here at a 22 mile an hour clip that threw the spray over the passengers in a shower. The wheelman has a glass shield like those on autos, and the passengers wore rubber coats. She went to Lindsay to be loaded on the train for Toronto, where she will display her capacity for swiftness during the exhibition on the bay. If the C.P.R. were to make a loading way there it might become a general point for the transshipment of boats."

CHRONIC ULCERS COVERED HER BODY & CRIPPLED HER.

HOW ZAM-BUK CAME

How Zam-Buk cures chronic ulcers and sores is seen by the following experience of Mrs. Beers, of L'Original (Ont.) She says: "Some years ago ulcers and sores broke out on my legs and different parts of my body, and spread to an alarming extent, causing me great agony. I began to try salves, oils and medicines of various kinds, but the sores refused to heal. I then consulted a medical man, who treated me for some time, but the ulceration continued just as bad as ever. An other medical man was consulted, then another, and one after another until I had tried five different Doctors. All gave me up in despair. The ulceration and the skin disease were getting worse all the time, so I then went into the Hospital. I was there five months and came away very little better. I next went to another Hospital, and stayed there three months—again with no success. By this time my legs were covered with sores, my knees seemed all picked out with ulcers, and I could not walk without the use of a cane and a crutch. I was in such a shocking condition that I was longing for death.

"I saw a report of the value of Zam Buk and I obtained a small supply. This did me so much good I bought a further supply. A few weeks steady use of this wonderful balm healed the ulcers, removed the sores and I am to-day completely cured. For many years I was obliged to use a cane and crutch to walk. Now I have thrown both cane and crutch away, and feel as well and vigorous as at the age of 30."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES!

Zam-Buk heals all skin diseases—eczema, scaly sores, ulcers, ringworms, poisoned wounds, barber's rash, pustules, face blemishes due to blood poison, rheumatism and neuralgia. It heals cuts and lacerations, stops bleeding, cures piles, sores, fistula, redness, enlarged veins. Relieves burns and scalds, and it is an excellent "first-aid" remedy. It is highly antiseptic. The best balm for children's injuries and skin diseases. All druggists and stores sell it at 50 cents a box, or from ZAM-BUK CO., TORONTO, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

TENDERS FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

Sealed Tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Public Building, Whitby, Ont.," will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m. on Tuesday, September 22, 1908, for the construction of a public building at Whitby, Ont.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the post office, Whitby.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
NAP. TESSIER,
Secretary.

On account of Labor Day, there will be no issue of The Times tomorrow.

Mr. Corney Burns Going West

Mr. Corney Burns, captain of the Peterborough Ball team, is about to leave town for the West. It is not Corney's object to enlist as a harvester, but to manage a baseball organization in McLeod, Alberta. During his stay in Peterborough of over three years Corney has made many friends. On and off the "diamond," he has always acted the gentleman, and will no doubt be missed next season by the baseball fans especially among the "fair sex."

Corney intends to bring down a couple of this year's Pets with him, which will no doubt strengthen his team considerably.

A Distinguished Visitor in the City

Dr. J. W. Thirtle of London, England, who is at present staying at the Barnardo Home was called upon by a Times reporter, and gave a very interesting account of his brief visit in Canada. His object is to observe on the spot the work of the late Dr. Barnardo "the father of orphans."

Dr. Thirtle is associate editor of the Christian, which is published in England once a month, and has a large circulation throughout the entire world. Dr. Thirtle has given lectures on various occasions throughout Canada, and the United States on questions raised by modern Biblical criticisms, and is also enquiring into the progressive operations of various churches and christian organizations. He considers the work done by the late Dr. Barnardo "the noblest work that one of God's creatures could possibly undertake." The thousands of homeless boys and girls whom he has taken almost from the verge of ruin to the dignity of respectable men and women, cannot be estimated. His name is in the mouths of everyone in England and no doubt will always be. We are certainly pleased to have Dr. Thirtle in our midst, and hope he may deem it opportune to visit Peterborough soon again.

Will the person who picked up a brooch studded with pearls and a turquoise on Friday last, kindly return same to The Times Office, and receive reward.

—The regular meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday evening, in the council chambers.

A Hard Knock for the Aldermen

During the hearing of a case before him Saturday morning, in which the question of flushing sewers came up, Magistrate Dumble made some comments upon the council and the way in which it carried on its work.

"When will this city learn to do things as they should be done?" he asked. "I have never seen a sewer flushed this year."

He advised the parties involved in the case to wait upon the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and endeavor to have the sewer in question, which runs along the lane behind the stores on the east side of George street, between Brock and Hunter streets, flushed.

"Don't depend on any agreement with the council," he remarked, "unless it is in the shape of a hard and fast bylaw."

FIRE CHIEF HOWARD TO HAVE HORSE AND RIG

To Facilitate Closer Attention to His Duties--Cavan Township Wants Peterborough to Contribute $1,000 to Complete Road Through Cavan Swamp

The city fathers met in regular monthly session last night when there were present, Mayor Harry Russ, and Aldermen Elliott, Morgan, J. J. Turner, jr., Gillespie, Butler, Tovey, Neill, Bradburn, Morrow and Phelan.

Before going into session the aldermen met in Committee of the Whole, when Reeve McNeill, Deputy Reeve Kelly, Councillors Shields, Hooden Vance and Berry of Cavan, addressed the committee with a view to getting from this city a grant of $1000 to complete the work of draining the Cavan swamp and building a highway there through to the city of Peterborough. All of the speakers pointed out that when this road is completed considerable Cavan township trade would be diverted from Lindsay to Peterborough. Residents in the north and north-western portion of Cavan now have to make a detour of eight miles around the Cavan swamp in order to reach this city, hence they are reluctantly compelled to trade with Lindsay. The new road would save these eight miles, which would undoubtedly prove in the interests of Peterborough, and consequently citizens of Cavan feel that Peterborough should assist financially in the undertaking. Deputy Reeve Kelly pointed out that the township of Cavan is now at its borrowing limit, and unless financial aid is forthcoming, work on the road which is now nearing completion will have to cease. The scheme would never have been taken up had not a previous Peterborough council assured Cavan council of a grant of $1000. The total cost of this work will be $18,000.

The committee assured the deputation that this matter would receive serious consideration.

Subsequently the committee expressed themselves favorably to granting $1000 to complete the above work, but City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall remarked that as Cavan is not an adjoining township, Peterborough has no authority whatever under the Municipal Act to grant them financial assistance. Consequently this matter was left in abeyance pending further information.

WAGON FOR FIRE CHIEF.

Chairman Ald. Johnston of the Fire, Water and Light Committee here submitted that sixty-six hundred odd dollars have already been spent by his department out of their appropriation of $7000. And, according to Chief Howard's estimate, $4,000 more will be required to run the fire department the remainder of the year. This unasked overdraft is created by reason of so many supplementary expenditures called for since the estimates were struck.

Chief Howard pointed out that many of the items needed by the fire department are absolutely uncontrollable. Then it was necessary in the interests of the public that he have a chief's wagon furnished at a cost of $200. There is a spare horse in the stables. He wants, he said, to earn his salary, but cannot do so with adequate material with which to work. He needs a rig in which to make his tours of inspection, to see that premises are kept clear of combustable refuse and thus avert fires likely to occur from such causes. Had he been provided with a chief's wagon, and thus, with its aid, got his tours of inspection systematically under way, he would venture to say that the last victim of gasoline explosion would be alive today. He would like the rig so constructed as to carry a chemical tank and hose, so that in case of a small blaze he could drive to the scene and extinguish the fire without calling all the brigade out. It would also be a valuable aid to him in inspecting the city light and power wires. In fact, he concluded, he could not possibly undertake all his many duties satisfactorily unless furnished with a chief's wagon, and should he be granted such a conveyance he would economize as much as possible in every direction.

Ald. Neill moved, seconded by Ald. Turner,—That the committee advertise for tenders for a chief's wagon and harness, and have power to act in the matter.—Carried.

The matter of the necessary overdraft was left in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

IN MONTHLY SESSION.

The council here went into regular monthly session, and the minutes of the preceding meeting, which had been typewritten and distributed amongst the aldermen, were taken as read.

GUARANTEE QUESTION.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Neill,—That all rubber hose be stenciled, showing the date of delivery and year such hose was purchased, so that a proper record can be kept of the guarantees.—Carried.

MORE MONEY WANTED.

Ald. Phelan, chairman Board of Works, submitted a report of work under way, and not yet started and which must be completed this year. Such work will require a supplementary appropriation of $6970 for this year, which was acquiesced in by the council.

ROMAINE ST. SEWER.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Neil,—That the sewer on Romaine street be read, and the work thereon be constructed at once.

Ald. Bradburn offered that this course would be unwarrantable as he thought a sewer on Romaine street is impracticable. The whole matter had better be left in abeyance until Park street sewer is constructed.

Ald. Morrow said accommodation had to be provided for the King Edward school and at once; he had not heard that a sewer on Park street was impracticable.

Ald. Neill understood that the failure of the present sewer to be due to bad workmanship.

Ald. Phelan remarked that Mr. Chipman, Toronto engineer, had been communicated with on this matter; he is in Winnipeg, and a reply from him is expected in a few days.

After further discussion on this question, Ald. Morrow's resolution was withdrawn, and the committee instructed to report as to the practicability of a satisfactory sewer on Romaine street.

BYLAWS.

The following bylaws were passed: An agreement with Edward Finnie for a sewer through his property; one to cover an agreement with the G.T.R., an agreement with the Hydraulic Power Co., and bylaws to authorize the constructions of granolithic walks and sewers. A bylaw to increase the salary of Robert Wilson, caretaker of city buildings, to $625, dating from July first, last, was carried.

Council here adjourned.

Breach of Promise

Participants in Mock Trial at the Conservatory

On account of the importance of the case, the committee having charge of the details of the great Mock Court Trial, to be given under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. in the Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening, September 11th, have secured the services of Col. A. V. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., as prosecuting attorney while the defendant not to be outdone, has retained Mr. Walter Davidson, to defend his hitherto good reputation. Col. Newton is widely known as an eloquent off hand speaker, but Mr. Davidson will make the battle of his life and will undoubtedly make it exceedingly warm for the gentleman from Worcester.

As there is a general desire to know those who are to take part in the trial we publish the list in full with the exception of the defendant. It will be a long time before so many of our prominent people are again seen in just such a relation and it will be well for all who desire an evening of rare enjoyment to be present and hear what they have to say about the Breach of Promise Case. This is the make-up of the court

Judge—Mr. R. F. McWilliams.

Clerk—City Clerk Mr. S. R. Armstrong.

Plaintiff—Miss Ruth Carlisle.

Defendant's Attorney—Mr. Walter Davidson.

Three-Year-Old Boy Burned to a Crisp

St. Thomas, Sept. 8.—Kenneth Dyker, three and a half years old, was burned to death at ten o'clock this morning.

His mother left him to take charge of a year-old baby, while she went to a neighbor's. The child got matches and set the woodshed on fire.

Rescuers found the doors locked from the inside and only the younger baby was saved.

Will Reveal All Masonic Secrets if Glasgow Does Not Aid Unemployed

Glasgow, Sept. 8. — The Socialist leaders in the agitation among the unemployed which has been going on here for several days past, still maintain a threatening attitude and, keeping constant vigilance and the employment of a large force of extra police.

Last night one of the leaders, after asserting that it had been decided to make a series of midnight marches into the wealthy sections of the city, made the extraordinary threat that, unless the municipal council did something practical for the unemployed within a month, he would reveal all the secrets of the Masonic organization, and put every man, woman, and child in Glasgow in possession of all the tokens, grips and passwords of the order.

Veteran Turf Reporter Attempts Suicide--Inflicted Forty-Four Gashes

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Down on his luck, and determined to die, S. B. Wemms, 51 years of age, a New York newspaper man, tried three different methods of suicide early this morning in the Queen City stables on Queen street east, opposite the Woodbine, first cutting his throat with a grass sickle, then ripping open his wrist with a saw, and then striking himself on the head with a hatchet. After having done all three things he battered his head against the stone wall, and got the doctors at St. Michael's Hospital declare that he will not die as a result of the injuries he inflicted. He has forty gashes in his head.

WELL-KNOWN HORSEMAN.

Wemms, who gave his address as 118 Cass street, Buffalo, is well-known all over America amongst horsemen and newspaper men. He comes from Louisville, Kentucky, where his father is said to have known horses better than any man in that part of the United States. Wemms was drawn into newspaper work, and soon became the turf authority, practically, for New York, filling important positions on all the leading papers in that city. For fifteen years he was located at New Orleans, where his work on horse affairs was taken as the correct thing. Later he was employed every spring up and down the Coaster States writing up the yearlings. He finally became such a good judge of horseflesh that he selected horses for Whitney and other leading racers.

CLOCKED THE HORSES.

During the last years Wemms has been employed by the New York Morning Telegraph for a short time as manager of the Chicago branch of that paper. More recently he took to drinking heavily, and has been receiving minor positions with the Telegraph. He has been in Toronto at the Woodbine meets for years. Since his arrival here a week ago he has spent most of his time while not drinking in clocking the horses on the Woodbine track.

He has been without money, borrowing what he spent from stablemen acquaintances. Yesterday he seemed all right, and no one expected the rash act that he committed.

A newspaper man called at the Queen City stables this morning shortly after Wemms had been removed to the hospital. The stable boss told the story of the affair.

VERY HARD UP.

"I noticed Wemms about a week ago," said the, "I have known him for years, and we have always been good friends. He borrowed small sums of money from me, and seemed to be very hard up. Last night he told me he had no place to sleep, so I allowed him to stay in the barn. One of the boys discovered him lying on a bale of hay this morning. He tried to rouse him, but he would not come, so someone brought Dr. Young from 1916 Queen street east. When the doctor came Wemms began to talk.

A Popular Place of Amusement

Large crowds attended the new auditorium roller rink on Labor Day. In fact this was the chief place of amusement, the rink being open morning, afternoon and evening, with band in attendance during the afternoon and evening.

Roller skating in Peterborough has certainly "caught on," and this season with a splendid new rink, with its whitened walls and gaily decorated with flags and bunting, together with a perfect floor over which the skaters glide, the rink is being liberally patronized.

A special feature for which the management receive great credit, is the quality of the skates used. Prof. Genno who has had many years experience with the roller has equipped the skaters with the best skates that can be had and consequently no dust accumulates on the floor as with the wooden rolley that is used in the majority of rinks and which causes the dusk to gather on the floor and float through the air. The new rink is splendidly ventilated both from the sides and the roof. A balcony for the band has been erected at the north end of the rink, and one for spectators is in course of erection at the south end. The rink is being so well patronized that the proprietor has found it necessary to enlarge the floor capacity for the skaters, in fact everything that is essential to make an up-to-date roller rink is being carried out, and the new rink promises to be one of the most popular amusement places in the city.

Mad Dog Was Shot in Cathedral--Caused Panic Among the Mourners

Scene at St. Michael's Yesterday Morning During Funeral Ceremonies--Mourners Climbed Up on Seats

Toronto, Sept. 8.—A mad dog, running furiously up and down the aisles, caused a panic among the mourners at a funeral service in St. Michael's Cathedral, corner of Shuter and Bond streets, about nine o'clock this morning.

The dog tore past the door-keepers and, frothing at the mouth, ran yelping into the building among the people gathered there for requiem mass.

The animal dodged through the seats, and some of the mourners, realizing their danger, climbed up on the seats. Then a policeman was called in, and a chase, noisy enough to be out of all proportion with the solemnity of the occasion ensued. The dog refused to make for any of the exits. Then the officer brought his revolver into action and shot the canine. The wound was not fatal, but it stayed the animal's wanderings sufficiently to allow the policeman to take hold and carry it out of the edifice. The animal was then despatched with a shovel.

The funeral was that of T. Massasalo, an Italian who died on Sunday at 37 Terauley street.

The chaos of the mad dog occurred prior to the mass. In the general excitement which occurred, men shouted and women screamed, and there was a rush for the exits of the church, but, fortunately, the animal was removed before any accident of a serious character occurred.

The funeral was in charge of the F. W. Matthews Co.

Lindsay C.L.S. Society Athletic Meet

The Catholic Literary Society held one of the grandest meets on Labor Day ever run off within the borders of Victoria County. Starting from the great Marathon race to the baseball match everything was pulled off in a most satisfactory manner.

Longboat the mighty red skin, was there together with Percy Sellen and Fred Simpson. The ten-mile Marathon was undoubtedly a great race. It started about three minutes to two o'clock at the foot of Kent street, and before ten minutes to three the first runner had reached the tape. Longboat won the race with ease and next to him came Black of Toronto, with Percy Sellen close at his heels. Fred Simpson next reached the finish and following him was young Albert Smoke of Chemong.

The rest of the sports including foot races, jumping and shot putting were mostly carried off by the Irish Canadians. Seburt, Kyle and Langstaff figuring prominently. The Peterborough boys did as well as could be expected O'Brien and Sullivan of the T.A.S. and Fowler of the Y.M.C.A. brought home laurels. The baseball match which was won by a picked team of Lindsay, was exciting from start to finish, and at some points the umpire, Dick Butler was somewhat exciting. All through the games were a grand success, and the Lindsay people are no doubt to be congratulated for holding such a successful meet.

Roy McKelvie Instantly Killed by Accidental Discharge of Gun

Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, Sept. 8.—A terrible fatality, which has cast a gloom over the east end of the lake, occurred near here last evening, when Roy McKelvie, second son of Mr. J. McKelvie, of Norwood, proprietor of "Belvidere," summer hotel at Crowe's Landing, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shot gun.

The unfortunate young man, who was well known to the summer frequenters at the lake, left the Landing about 6.30 o'clock last evening, in company with Walter Crowe and John Harrison, two young men residing in the neighborhood, to try a shot at the wild ducks, their destination being an inlet locally known as the "duck pond," and situated along the Dummer shore, about a mile west of this place. Harrison and Crowe were just leaving the Landing when McKelvie shouted down to them and asked to be taken along. They waited for him, and the three set out in a skiff for the spot where they thought there was a chance of getting a shot or two at the ducks during the evening flight. On reaching the duck pond the young men left their boat and stationed themselves along shore. McKelvie took his place on a high rock and the other two were some distance away from him. The boy had his loaded shot gun with him, and was sitting with it across his knee while he smoked his pipe. Suddenly the others heard his gun go off, and looked around for the ducks. Not seeing any they looked towards the rock where they had left their companion, and saw him take off his hat and fall backwards. Hurrying to the spot they found him dead, with his left side torn by the shot and with the clothing around the wound on fire, as close had been the muzzle when the gun was discharged.

It is thought that the shot gun slipped off his knee while he was smoking, and was sliding down the rock when he seized it, and in drawing it to him discharged the piece, the contents striking him in the left breast and killing him almost instantly.

The accident is particularly sad, inasmuch as the young man was to have been married today, and was leaving Crowe's Landing this morning, after spending the summer there. In fact the Majestic made a special trip up to Crowe's Landing last night in order to take the unfortunate young man away this morning.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of as unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it on a class all by itself, inasmuch as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what part or organ may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now, our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the like stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 20 feet wide for a distance of 115 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $56.00 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

THE AERIAL EXPERIMENT ASSOCIATION

In the September issue of The Review of Reviews, George H. Guy, in the course of an article on "Real Navigation in the Air" gives a good deal of information relative to the Aerial Experimental Association of Hammondsport, N. Y., an organization with which Prof. and Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell are closely identified. The moving spirit in the experiments is Mr. Glenn H. Curtis, who a few weeks since, won the Scientific American trophy for the first public aeroplane flight of a kilometer in a straight line. Mr. Curtiss designed his own engine, producing one of very light weight. One of these motors drove the first successful airship in America, and another was the first to drive a helicopter into the air. During the past year he has made over 550 motors, of which fifty were for aerial experimental work. Riding one of his motorcycles at Ormond Beach, Florida, he travelled the fastest mile ever covered by a human being, going the distance in twenty-six and two-fifth seconds.

What the association has done is well known. First it turned out the Red Wing, which made a flight of 45 feet, and then ended its career by a crushing fall on the ice of Lake Keuka. The White Wing, on improved lines, soon followed, and a few months after the June Bug was built, representing the most efficient type of aeroplane constructed in the United States, yet known to the public. In winning the trophy on July 4, the machine rose quickly and sped rapidly on at a height of twenty feet. As it neared the finishing point it dropped to about fifteen feet, made a wide sweep to the left and alighted without damage in a rough field. The distance traversed was a mile, and the time was one minute, forty-two and three-fifth seconds, corresponding to an average speed of thirty-five and one-tenth miles per hour.

Since the flight for the trophy was made Mr. Curtis has made some radical changes in construction, and it is just announced that he is testing a method of keeping the motor cool indefinitely, which promises to have a far-reaching effect on the possibilities of long distance flight.

It is not easy to see just now what will be the commercial value of the aeroplane, says the Brantford Expositor, even if it is found to be entirely practicable, because it cannot carry heavy loads, and very long flights are improbable. For real practicable work the dirigible balloon is the most promising. However, as Prof. Bell told the people of Brantford, he and those who are experimenting with them, are not concerned at present as to what may be the tangible worth of what they are after. They are content with working out a great principle, of "getting into the air", with machinism which is heavier than air, and they are willing to leave the "then what" to be answered when the time comes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Years ago the Grand Trunk promised to give Omemee in Victoria county a certain station service. For years it has defaulted. Now the Railway Commission orders that the company must restore the service or pay back the $2,000 which the municipality voted when the road was built. Sam Hughes did it. If we had a member like Sam Hughes in Ottawa we might get back that $60,000 which we paid for a Central station 'steen years ago.

The Netherlands Government seems to hesitate in going to extremes to bring Venezuela to time for the affront offered to the Dutch minister. Perhaps President Castro has enough right on his side to make quiet methods preferable to warlike ones in dealing with him.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, it is announced, will take power to increase its capital by $5,000,000. Those who should know most about the country's business evidently do not expect the clouds now darkening the commercial sky to be long in rolling away.

Canada is probably the only country in the world in which two such strong white races as the English and French could celebrate historic events which include the transfer of sovereignty from one to the other in such excellent spirit and with such unanimity of loyalty to the new nation which has grown up from the efforts of both. The climax of the fetes was a dramatic one. At the close of the pageant given especially for the Prince of Wales the armies of Wolfe and Montcalm marched across the Plains of Abraham and the living descendants of the British general deposited a wreath inscribed to the memory of Montcalm. Then the living descendants of the French general deposited another wreath inscribed to the honor of Wolfe. This, in the presence of the heir to the British crown and of the loyal Canadian, French-speaking and English-speaking, spectators, acknowledging British sovereignty, but at the same time paying tribute to the historic glories of the French name, exemplified the spirit of the occasion.

Nobody seems to know these days what's going to happen to the great and historic Marathon race. Ever since it was run in London in July the hammer has been swinging vigorously, and the booster has been busy, too. The finish was killing to the athletes themselves, and almost sickening to the thousands of spectators.

J. H. Crocker, the manager of the Canadian team, has declared strongly against such an exhibition. A writer in the Athletic News, an English sporting paper, takes an opposite stand. Here is his opinion:

"Expressing merely a personal opinion, I think a good many cycling writers have been overdoing it a little in depreciatory comments on the Marathon race, and I am sorry to see that F. T. Bidlake has joined in the chorus with his tirade about 'these modern mock Marathon flag-trotters stirring tears of pity for their miserable plight as they crawled ignominiously to a wrangled finish.' This is picturesque enough, but hardly shows enough catholicity of spirit for my fancy. I agree that the prize ov said the Marathon business, and that far too much was made of the man who won but didn't win, and of the man who won but didn't get home first. I also agree, up to a point, with Bidlake's verdict that the sight of the trained cyclists arriving at John o' Groat's tired but triumphant, joyous and free from collapse, is a sight to 'outdo' the Marathon staggerings as the light of the sun excels a flickering rush.

"But there I stop. I cannot go on to agree that the Marathon business is acrobatic and artificial. I, too, saw the Marathon race, and in the intense heat it had no doubt its painful side. I have also seen world's cycling championships fought out behind motor-paced instruments, and if I had both to see again I should hold up both hands for the Marathon event. In the course of many years then I am going to confess to no odd point I have seen a speed many sporting events of one kind or another, and experienced many a thrill at a fine finish in a cycling race, but I have never seen a more sick-making or disgusting travesty of sport than the hundred kilometres race for the world's champion ship at the Crystal Palace four years ago. Since then I have never seen a motor-paced cycling event, nor will ever willingly do so again. All the 'sport' there is in it is that of putting several engines on a track and seeing which will run the fastest for something over an hour. The cycling is nothing, because the worst rider would win if he had the best engine in front of him.

"If this, and the morbid, half-expectation of a smash-up, is our modern idea of sport, give me the Marathon of the ancients. The more you make a sporting event depend upon the man alone—his speed, his stamina, his judgment, and his great-heartedness, so to speak, the more truly you approach the ideal of what such an event should be. That is why football and cricket rightly make such an enormous appeal. And, judged by such a standard, surely the Marathon race is worthy to be continued, for there it is the man, and the man only, who counts for victory or defeat."

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Sheop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-ene never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Sheop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning druggists everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

Sentenced to a Long Term in Penetentiary

Seven years in the Kingston Penitentiary for assault and two years for robbing his victim, Abraham Aboud, an Assyrian peddler, of $100, is the sentence that his worship Magistrate Edmison imposed on James Baldwin at the session of the County police court, the sentences to run concurrently. The particulars of the assault, which was a particularly brutal one, have appeared at some length in these columns.

Baldwin struck the peddler three times on the head with a club and took $100 from him. As a result of the vicious blows, Aboud was in a serious condition for some time and the physician who is attending him in Norwood where he is living, states that his state of health is still precarious as a result of the assault.

The evidence against Baldwin, who has served some time before was very strong. He was defended by Mr. H. F. McWilliams who appeared in court in his interests yesterday morning, and County Crown Attorney Wood and Mr. D. O'Connell were there for the Crown.

The court met at 11 o'clock and the session was a short one. Very little was said by the counsel for either the defence or Crown as both sides had made a thorough investigation during the trial.

When the sentence was delivered the prisoner said nothing, with the exception that he would like to stay in the county jail until he could have an opportunity of seeing his wife. Judge Edmison stated he had no power to act on the request and that it was a matter to be settled by the sheriff and jailer.

The Hamilton manager of the Meadows-Williams Company, which failed recently, stated yesterday that he thought the total loss to Hamilton clients would be between $40,000 and $50,000.

Fifty Plant Genera.

When Sir Humphry Davy was a boy about sixteen, a little girl came to him in great excitement:

"Humphry, do tell me may these two pieces of cane make a tiny spark of light when I rub them together?"

Humphry was a studious boy, who spent hours in thinking out scientific problems. He patted the child's curly head and said:

"I do not know, dear. Let us see if they really do make a light, and then we will try to find out why."

Humphry soon found that the little girl was right. The pieces of cane if rubbed together quickly did give a tiny light. Then he set to work to find out the reason, and after some time, thanks to the observing powers of his little friend and his own kindness to her in not impatiently telling her not to "worry," as so many might have done, Humphry Davy made the first of his interesting discoveries. Every reed, cane and grass has an outer skin of flinty stuff, which protects the inside from insects and also helps the frail looking leaves to stand upright.

Table Manners in Old France.

Could we restore for half an hour the dinner table of old France and obtain half a dozen instantaneous photographs of a royal banquet at any era between the reigns of Francis I and Louis Quatorze such a "cataract of laughter" would be heard as might disturb the serenity of Louis in paradise. The duchess, her napkin tied securely round her neck, would be seen mumbling a bone, the noble marquis surreptitiously scratching himself, the belle marquise, withdrawing her spoon from her lips to help a neighbor to sauce with it, another fair creature covering her plate with her bread, a gallant courtier using his doublet or the tablecloth as a towel for his fingers and two footmen holding a yard of damask under a lady's chin while she emptied her goblet at a draft. During a feast of inordinate length it was sometimes necessary to substitute a clean cloth for the one which the carelessness or bad manners of the guests had reduced to a deplorable condition. —"An Idler in Old France."

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but says it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters romping in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," elucidated the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Brains are pleasant, but if by being overambitious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best pieces we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

Practical Dealing.

"Look here, Lucy," exclaimed Mr. Hardcopple; "this is no time to be practicing on the piano. It's time to prepare dinner."

"But, pa, I am interested in scales," pouted Lucy as she pounded the keys.

"Interested in scales, eh? Well, I've a task for you. Go down in the kitchen and help your ma scale fish."—Detroit Tribune.

Their Achievements.

"He had three daughters. One married a French chauffeur"—

"I see! Quite romantic."

"The second married an Indian, a descendant of a chieftain"—

"I see! Quite aboriginal."

"But the third married a plain American business man."

"H'm! Merely eccentric, I should say."—Puck.

Accounted For.

Mrs. J.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had the habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon the table her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yassum," replied Mary; "I opened it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Long Story.

Abram—Say, old man, what did your wife say to you when you got in last night?

Wromdo—Oh, are you just starting on your two weeks' vacation?

Abram—No. Why?

Wromdo—Then you won't have time to listen. I can't talk as fast as she did.—Houston Post.

Judge Choquet yesterday sentenced Joseph Simard to three years in the penitentiary. He was caught stealing apples by a farmer at Longueuil, and shot the farmer in the leg when he objected to Simard's thieving.

A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday, Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and wonderment from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Interpreter, Two Innocents Abroad, The Boxing Dance, the Italian Trouts dance, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Ribbon, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Soubrettes, Motor Beauties, English Girls, The New York Girls, —and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-Bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Sheop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Driver Dominic O'Malia, of St. Kitts yesterday received word that his son, Andrew, had been killed by falling from an eighty-foot building in New York, on which he had been working as a carpenter.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to their origin. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and purge of this deplorable disease.

In Germany, with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt, I found the best ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it will surely cures all possible cases of this horrendous wrack shrouded disease. Those sand-like granules will cause a way under the action of this remedy a quarter as does sugar when added to pure water. All these, when dissolved, these poisonous waste matter pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. No more pain and need no other system to gather together with. Soon help. A Cure For Despondency.

A large, fleshy man with whiskers told me of a sovereign cure for despondency the other day. He had a number of girls in his employ, among them one that he knew was in struggling circumstances and supporting a sick mother on a none too healthy salary. She had come into the store and laid her purse and somber widow hat on the counter while she did something about the place. The large fleshy man got between her and the purse, and when she was not looking he slipped a five dollar bill into it and moved unconsciously about his business. In the afternoon he noticed that she had a red spot in each cheek, and she was heard asking other girls if they believed in fairies. She never solved the mystery—it was two years ago—and never will unless she reads this. But the five dollar bill was very useful in its little way, and the large despondent man felt so good for two whole days that he hip-hopped on the sidewalk on his way home.—Minneapolis Journal.

Living on Next to Nothing.

Most people do not need the evidence of recently published statistics to prove to them that it costs more to live in London than it once did. But it is doubtful if any Londoner now living was ever able to do it on £30 a year, as Boswell's poor Irish painter did. "He allowed £10 for clothes and linen. He said a man might live in a garret at 1s pence a week. Few people would inquire where he lived, and if they did it was easy to say, 'Sir, I am to be found at such a place.' By spending threepence at a coffee house he might be for some hours a day in very good company. He might dine for sixpence, breakfast on bread and milk for a penny and do without supper." Of course expenses can always be reduced to a minimum by doing without things. The question is, Which of our various expenses is unessential? Boswell's Irishman hinted at one. "On clean shirt days he went abroad and paid visits," says his ingenious chronicler.—London Chronicle.

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Accept no other. Sold by

News in Brief

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 3.—Several weeks ago a young lady died of Addison's disease, one of the rarest and most baffling maladies known to medical science.

The doctors took so deep an interest in the case that her parents fearing that her grave would be disturbed, set two men on the watch.

The horses' hoofs were muffled, and the drivers were masked.

The grave will probably be opened to see if the body has been stolen.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 6.— William Owen Sossaman, a 17-year-old boy, was killed last night by Hardy Leach, aged 16, in a mimic duel. Several boys were playing in the yard, and when one of them produced a revolver Leach is said to have gone into the house and securing another, proceeded to unload it, as he thought.

As the mock "affair of honor" was about to be enacted, Sossaman in heroic fashion, ran between the principals. At that moment the pistol, held by Leach, was discharged, killing Sossaman. Leach is being held pending action by the coroner's jury.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—After suffering for many years from paralysis, Mr. Joseph Chambers, of 45 Brunswick avenue, died at his residence yesterday.

Mr. Chambers was, until his illness a member of the firm of Douglas and Chambers, who conducted the Traders' Hotel on Yonge street. He was born in East Toronto about sixty years ago of Irish parents. During his earlier days he was employed as a conductor on the Grand Trunk Railway, but about 25 years ago entered into business. His venture proved successful and for twenty years he was one of the best known business men on Yonge street.

He was married, but had no children, three surviving him being his widow, three sisters, and two brothers. One brother lives in the city, and the other is a resident of St. Louis, Mo. Of the sisters, one lives in Peterborough, and the other in the city. They have all been notified of Mr. Chambers's decease, and it is hoped they will be able to reach Toronto in time for the funeral, which takes place on Saturday, to St. James' cemetery.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother in too busy to take out of the tablecloth between luncheons by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the doorknobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chints, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light in bed both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

THE INNOCENT FOX.

Blamed For Offences Committed by His Wicked Cousins.

We are often told of the fox as a destroyer of grouse, but I should like to hear the story of some eyewitnesses as to his work in this direction. It is very easy to find fox tracks about the remains of a bird and then say a fox did it. I believe that many of the offences laid at his door are committed by weasels, mink and wildcats, or lynx.

During a part of the year I have known foxes to spend a part of each day digging among potato hills in a retired hollow for white grubs or mice in the adjoining fields and to return to the mountain at nightfall, passing a farm which was almost covered with young poultry out for grasshoppers. From an experience of about ten years in a locality where foxes abound I am convinced that this animal destroys but few, if any, chickens. Our trouble there was, first of all, hawks, then skunks, owls and raccoons. The fox never invaded the chicken coops or broke up the sitting turkeys out at the base of the mountain. Of course in winter a fox may sometimes trap a grouse in the snow at night, but who has ever seen a fox actually catch a grouse? Come, now, brethern of the forest, be honest and own up. I would be glad to learn how the fox does the trick, if any one has seen it done.—Forest and Stream.

Funerals in Peru.

According to social usage, women in Peru cannot attend funerals, and they do not appear at weddings unless they are very intimate friends. When a funeral procession passes through the streets the coffin is carried upon the shoulders of the pallbearers, who are followed by an empty hearse drawn by two, four or six horses, according to the means of the mourners and their desire for display. All the male members of the family and friends of the deceased follow on foot, with a line of empty carriages behind them. As long as they are in the presence of the dead it is considered a proper and necessary evidence of respect to walk. After the body has been committed to the grave those who attend the funeral are brought home in carriages.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 28th of September, 1910, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and specifications of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz:—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontachine, in the province of Quebec, 196.36 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontachine, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros.' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 128 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 20 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.19 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz:—John Aylen, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. B. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows:—

Sec. No. 1, District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, if any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract:—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, so far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained on cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Ottawa, 13th July, 1910.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1910, and maturing January 11, 1915. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness, except this present Bond issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 6,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 400 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $5,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,400 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $600.00.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 80 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated—an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

Banco de Sonora, Hermosillo, Mex., Feb. 11th, 1910.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid fair to becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Respectfully,

BANCO DE SONORA,

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 50 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 2½ a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 5 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,500 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Clean Up Inside

In spite of all your careful habits, its safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a disturbing condition in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Hampton, of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite and lived from indigestion and gas, had sores pulse in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvelous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine; they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills—to-day—25c at all dealers.

Obituary

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cunningham, 151 Lock street, will learn with deep regret of the death of Eva Grisdale, their youngest daughter, six months old. She passed away at seven o'clock yesterday morning from pneumonia. The funeral will be held today from the family residence at 3 p.m. to the Little Lake cemetery.

Presented with a Suit Case

Monday morning at Mr. W. Rundle's barber shop George street, Mr. Colin H. Farry was presented with a handsome suit case by a number of his friends. Mr. Farry is leaving Peterborough in a few days for London, where he has accepted a lucrative position. Mr. Farry is about to be married and his friends took this means of remembering him. He has resided in this city about three years and during that time has made a large number of friends who will learn with deep regret of his departure from Peterborough.

Fat Folks' Hot Weather Comfort Secret

The only way to be comfortable, if fat, in hot weather, is to get thin—that is, reduce. This is paradoxical, but it is true—and they say the truth is bitter. Truly, to face the necessity of reducing by means of exercise or starving is a bitter prospect for any overfat person, man or woman. But, cheer up, those old methods are passe—out of date.

Nowadays, the well-informed fat people who want to take off enough flesh to make them feel unstuffed within and unburdened without go to the nearest druggist, from whom, for a small sum, they get 1-2 ounce Marmola, 1-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 1-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. This they take quietly for awhile, a teaspoonful at a time, after meals and at bedtime, and pretty soon find themselves losing their excess flesh at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day.

They eat the same food and don't need to exercise, and yet they get thin. Moreover, they do not accumulate wrinkles or acquire an abusive stomach in the process. This harmless home mixture just bothers the fat—not the baker. In this it is different, very different, you'll agree, from the usual "remedy."

Extra Trains Daily, Except Sunday

For the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, the Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged the following service, Aug. 27th to Sept. 14th, inclusive, extra trains daily except Sunday. Going to Toronto: Leave Peterborough at 5.25 a.m., 5.55 a.m., 7.40 a.m., 4.30 p.m., and 5.05 p.m. Returning from Toronto: Leave 9 a.m., 2.30 a.m. Local, Sept. 1 to Sept. 12th, inclusive, except Sundays, at 6 p.m. 10 p.m., and 10.30 p.m. Avoid rush at depot, and secure tickets at your leisure at City Ticket office, W. McBrien, agent.

57th Regt. Now Capt. and Paymaster

The latest militia general orders contain the announcement of the appointment of Mr. C. S. Clarry to the honorary rank of Captain and paymaster of the 3rd Dragoons. Mr. Clarry is being congratulated upon his promotion to this important office in the regiment of cavalry with which he has been more or less connected for a number of years. He has served in the rank as a staff-sergeant, and as a lieutenant, and is therefore well acquainted with the officers and men of the 3rd Dragoons. The office of paymaster of this regiment was for a great many years filled by Maj. J. G. Hagerman, of Cobourg and more recently by Capt. Willoughby of Colborne. Capt. McDonald of Pictou is acting paymaster during the present camp. There are now a number of 3rd Dragoons officers residing in Peterborough, including Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, Major W. D. Johnston and Major W. T. Ball, who are on the retired list. Major Thos. Johnston, Major P. A. Davis, Capt. S. T. Medd, Capt. R. B. Poole, veterinary officer; Honorary Captain and Chaplain E. A. Langfeldt, Lieut. Jos. J. Duffus and Capt. Robt. Gregtgore.

A Splendid Proposition

The Woodside-Eureka Mining Co., has Entered the Canadian Field

We call the attention of the investing public to the advertisement of the above company which appears on our first page. This Company is in the hands of good men, who are developing the mine with energy and prudence. The property is one of the best in California and will, we believe, be a big dividend payer in the near future.

Full particulars may be obtained regarding this valuable proposition by addressing the Company, 605 Kamm Building, San Francisco, Cal.

A Night of Terror and Deep Anxiety in Duluth--Village Hemmed in by Fire

Grand Marais is in Great Danger--People of Hibbing Fought All Night and Saved Their Town

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 9.—It was a night of terror on the range and one of deep anxiety in Duluth, but today conditions appear to have changed for the better. All yesterday afternoon and last night fires threatened half a dozen of the largest towns on the range.

More than one thousand residents of Hibbing fought back the flames all night long, stamping out brush fires and wetting down the fields about the town to keep the fire from spreading. This morning the town is reported safe

ALL READY FOR FLIGHT.

Similar experiences are reported from a dozen other range towns but so far as is known there have been no others destroyed. Bovey had as hard a fight as Hibbing, and the residents of Coleraine, two miles away, had to go to their assistance. All business was suspended, the schools closed and citizens, after packing a few valuables, ready to flee at a moment's notice, fought the fires all night. At Aurora, Nashwauk, Buhl, Wrenshall and several smaller towns and villages the same story was repeated.

This morning reports are more optimistic. The wind is dying down, and the fires appear to be gradually burning themselves out. Great vigilance is still necessary, however.

GRAND MARAIS IS HEMMED IN.

The most dramatic incidents of the entire fire promise to develop around Grand Marais. The United States gunboat Gopher, carrying fifty members of the naval militia, left last night for Grand Marais to rescue the settlers along the north shore. The little village of six hundred people is entirely shut off from communication by means of telephone or telegraph, and it will be 24 hours at least before anything is heard of its fate. Passengers on the last boat reported that the fires were rushing toward the lake and gradually hemming in the place.

Sultan of Turkey will be Deposed

New York, Sept. 10.—Nakie Moutran Pashat, principal financial backer of the Young Turk movement and ultra-enthusiast himself, announced at a meeting of Turkish Liberalists at the Hotel Plaza here, that Abdul Hamid will be allowed to rule over the Ottoman Empire one month more. If the Sultan refuses to abdicate in that time, he will be deposed, peacefully if possible, forcibly if necessary. The Sultan is little more than a figurehead today, however, he is the head of the Moslem faith, and for that reason his person is sacred. His successor will be his younger brother, Rashad Effendi, who is 33 years old, and a pronounced constitutionalist.

Dowager Queen Objects

Duke of the Abruzzi Wishes to Marry Miss Elkins

Rome, September 10.—The Milan Unione, a clerical paper, publishes an article, which has been reproduced by the whole Italian press, to the effect that the Duke of the Abruzzi will probably soon go to the United States to make definite arrangements for his marriage with Miss Katharine Elkins, the daughter of United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, and that it is reported the ceremony may take place on January 29, the Duke's birthday.

According to the Unione, the Count of Turin, a few days ago visited Dowager Queen Marguerita at Gressoney, where she is spending the summer, and attempted to overcome her opposition to the marriag eof his brother, the Duke of the Abruzzi, to Miss Elkins.

Queen Marguerite answered that her views on the question had not changed, and she refused to give her consent to the marriage. She objected to such an alliance also because she believed many Americans thought that the Duke of the Abruzzi had sought marriage with Miss Elkins when he found that the American girl would come into a large estate.

C.P.R. Do the Right Thing

Upon the Provincial Department of Agriculture drawing the C. P. R. Company's attention to the the congestion which existed at various points in the West, Second Vice-President Whyte immediately wired instructions to agents to waive the thirty days' employment clause and issue return tickets at the reduced rates to harvesters desirous of returning home. In taking this course the C. P.R. did the right thing, as it generally does, and, coupled with their action in cancelling the rest of their excursions, shows that the Company are giving the people a square deal.

Time is Near When Airship Fleets will be Used In War

New York, Sept. 9.—In the opinion of Colonel James Templer, former superintendent of the balloon factory of the British army, at Aldershot, who talked at the Waldorf last night on military aeronautics, it will be only a comparatively short time when the United States and other countries will have large fleets of large dirigible balloons for emergencies of war.

The colonel arrived in town yesterday after witnessing the tests of Captain Thomas S. Baldwin's war balloon at Fort Myer, Virginia. He said countries like the United States and England, instead of having only two or three little dirigibles, carrying two or three men each, would ultimately be content with nothing else than several hundred war balloons.

"I was delighted," said the colonel, "with Captain Baldwin's balloon, as it was just the right shape and size efficiently to train men, and it certainly was a great personal success for Captain Baldwin—who, by the way, is a splendid chap—as hitherto that size ballon has never been made so that it could be both dirigible and buoyant. The fact of its taking up two men rendered the ascent made by Captain Baldwin and Lieutenant Lahm very surprising to me and a most unqualified success.

"I am delighted to think that it is under consideration that Captain Baldwin is to receive instructions to build a larger dirigible balloon for your war department as soon as the money can be obtained. This matter should be pushed with all possible facility."

Colonel Templer said that the efficiency of the balloon detachment, as displayed during the recent tests, was "very marked," and that the balloon men, being all signal men as well as engineers, would render their balloon service of the greatest possible value in any future campaign.

He was impressed, he said, with the hydrogen gas generators at Fort Myer, operated on the electrolytical principle, which, he explained, was the process of breaking up water by the electrical current and bottling off the hydrogen into reservoir tubes, so as to have it always ready when required for balloons.

Brigadier General James Allen, chief of the United States signal corps, pointed out to Colonel Templer, before sailing for France last Saturday that the signal corps should be equipped with a large number of these tubes, as it is known that England has more than one million feet storage always ready, and France and Germany about the same.

Should be Under Strict Inspection by the City Authorities

The adjourned inquest into the death of the late John Greer, was resumed last night. The first witness called;

MR. H. A. PARKER

Stated he had much experience with gasoline for twenty-seven years, and when told by Crown Attorney Wood, it was dangerous, stated it was not if used right. The larger the room is the more safer it would be to use gasoline. He never had any explosions in his dyeing and cleaning houses. There is a vapor which arises from gasoline that if it comes in contact with even a spark an explosion would surely result. He had heard of the two accidents in "My Valets," and felt sure that something must have been there to ignite the gasoline.

MR. D. RICKEY.

Stated the room was about 16 feet wide.

MR. IRWIN

Testified that his occupation was a barber, and several times had passed by "My Valets." He saw the deceased cleaning something near the window on Friday, the day before the accident. He was smoking a pipe when Mr. Irwin was speaking to him.

MR. GEO RECORD

Is in the same business and had experience with the use of gasoline for about two years. He stated that only one thing that would cause gasoline to explode is for it to come in contact with a flame. Gasoline can be boiled. Witness stated he had boiled the substance, and no serious result ever happened. He had worked in a place where 1000 gallons of gasoline were used per week. He stated he used about four barrels per week.

This ended the evidence and the jury after a sojourn of forty minutes brought in the following verdict;—

That John Greer came to his death from causes not made clear to us, but in our opinion he had not sufficient experience in the handling of this dangerous explosive as to allowed the management of the branch of the business. We would recommend these places where gasoline and other explosives are handled, should be under strict inspection by the city authorities.

LANDS WORTH A MILLION SOLD BY MAN WITH NO TITLE

Walkerville Disturbed by Claims of Heirs of Man Who Sold Extensive Lands--He was Entitled to Only Life Interest

Walkerville, Ont., Sept. 9.—It is said that a hitherto unnoticed clause in the will of Luke Montreuil, who fifty years ago was the owner of farm property now comprising a considerable part of this town, seriously affects the title of the present holders of the different plots of land sold from the original holdings of the Montreuil family.

The elder Montreuil willed it to his son Luke, now over 80 years of age, with the evident intention that the latter should only have a life interest and that it should then descend to his children, and if he died without issue it should revert to the brothers and sisters of Luke and their heirs.

The property extends along the river front for half a mile and is covered with residences and some of the largest factories in town, and is estimated to be worth upwards of one million dollars.

The utmost secrecy has been maintained by parties interested, their efforts being to arrange a settlement by inducing the heirs of Luke Montreuil, about seven in number, to sign off their interests in the property affected.

Some of the heirs at last declared that they will not sign off, but will insist on returning the money given their father, who sold under a misapprehension, to the purchasers, and retaining the property.

Women Dropped from Windows of Burning Building and will Die

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—One man was burned to death, two women were seriously injured and several others more or less badly burned early today in a fire which destroyed the men's and women's buildings of the Philadelphia Cricket Club at Cheatnut Hill, a suburb. There were only employes in the building when the fire started.

Seriously injured—Mrs. Hollis, caretaker, and Mrs. Driscoll, Mrs. Hollis' guest.

The victims of the fire occupied the rooms on the second floor of what is known as the men's building. When the women were awakened by the fire all chances of escape was past. Their bedroom windows were fully thirty-five feet above the ground. After frantically calling for help, they made a rush for separate windows. Mrs. Driscoll was the first to drop, and was followed quickly after by Mrs. Hollis.

Bands of rescuers were immediately formed, but could not reach McHenry.

There never has been and never will be a particle of coffee in Postum, unless put there after leaving the factory!

The strongest proof of the above is an analysis by a real chemist and a visit to the factory where "the door is unbolted" and all may see, as thousands do, how we make Postum and what we make it of—CLEAN, HARD WHEAT and a small amount of molasses. But – we include the outside coat of the wheat, which contains the Phosphate of Potash – the natural food for brain and nerves—grown in the wheat!

This, and the special roasting and blending process we invented, combine to make the "Postum Flavor" quite like coffee but by careful tasting the real Postum flavor appears distinct. Every Real Chemist knows it. Experience proves

Greatest Crops on Record in Canada and the United States

Big Business Revival is Now at Hand--The Future is Most Promising

United States Crop will Reach $4,000,000,000--Mills Re-Opening

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Slowly but surely the business of th ecountry is expanding and giving evidence of renewed life and vigor. The Chicago Association of Commerce, which has been conducting a general investigation of condit one throughout the country, has collected information which conclusively shows that business is returning to the normal and that the future is most promising.

Good and in some cases bumper crops, bringing uniformally high prices, are being harvested and moved. The activity, first visible in the districts where the greatest wealth of the nation is produced, is radiating everywhere and every branch of industry is responding in varying degree to its touch.

Combined with this is the feeling of confidence in the industrial centres that the business depression of last year has run its course and that the reaction is at hand. In the last month, in industries widely variant, the evidences of returning confidence and commercial activity have been shown.

NEARLY A $4,000,000,000 CROP.

The August report of the government places an approximate valuation of $3,720,314,340 on the crops of the year. The figures may be revised to a somewhat lower total, but still will be indicative of the healthful situation in the farming area. The railroads are declared by their officials never to have been better equipped for the rapid transportation of the crops to market. In addition to the equipment available, orders for approximately 12,000 cars to replace worn out stock and to accommodate increasing business, have been or soon will be placed by the roads. A decided increase in passenger and freight traffic within the last six weeks also is recorded by the railroad officials.

The banking world is feeling the stimulus of the commercial awakening and the clearings of the Chicago banks, although still below the totals of a year ago, are recovering steadily and are expected to attain the normal average in a few weeks. In this connection it is stated that the increasing calls for money, denoting the business revival may shoot stiffin the rates that had fallen off during the period of financial stagnancy, now declared to be passing.

The iron and steel industries are putting forth fresh evidences of activity weekly. Contracts are being placed freely for steel, the call for cars, freighters, structural steel and other supplies having caused the opening of several mills that had been closed for many months. Rolling operations are now active in this city and a big fall business is predicted by the builders. A call for the better grade of goods is almost universal, according to an official of one of the leading clothing houses, which is accepted as proof that the era of economical striving has ended. From their hundreds of salesmen, widely scattered throughout the states, reports of trade awakening, confidence and optimism are pouring in upon the manufacturers and are accompanied by substantial testimony in the shape of goodly orders.

100 Per Cent. Profit, Monthly, for Years and value advanced from 10 cents to $5.00.

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now Our Company owns outright without encumberance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 20 feet wide for a distance of 150 feet in depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $56.00 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

Even Her Blood Turned to Water

When Dying of Pernicious Anaemia

But Life Was Saved by

Ferrozone

Probably very few cases are on record in which an absolute cure has been made of pernicious anaemia.

But Ferrozone did cure Miss Elaine Stanhope—cured her absolutely, and her mother Mrs. G. Stanhope of Rothesay, Ont., says the following;

"My daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength till too weak to attend school. The doctors prescribed different bottles of medicine but Elaine kept getting worse instead of better. She had Anaemia and we were afraid for a while that she might never rally. We read of a similar case, that of Miss Decoeur of Sterling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and that induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three bottles of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six bottles were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure, and I am convinced that there is no better blood-maker than Ferrozone. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained five pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of sports. The credit of her recovery is entirely due to Ferrozone."

Every grown girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone.

Complexion soon becomes perfect, nerves get new strength, tiredness vanishes—perfect health is the reward for using Ferrozone, which is sold by all druggists—price 50c. per box; don't fail to try it.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The reports from the North-West provinces seem to indicate that the wheat crop will be somewhat larger than was estimated a week or two ago The North-West Grain Dealers' Association at Winnipeg gives the area under wheat as 16,655,000 acres, and places the average yield per acre at 17.7 bushels, which would make the total crop 167,184,000 bushels. There has been some damage by frost in certain districts, but what it will amount to has not yet been ascertained. By to-day it is estimated that 75 per cent. of the wheat crop will be cut. Barley and oats are estimated as likely to yield together about 170,000,000 bushels. The suspense as to the results of the harvest will soon be terminated as accurate statistics of the yield in the different districts will shortly be available, and there seems to be every probability that the harvest as a whole will be a satisfactory one.

While the continuance of the strike of the machinists on the Canadian Pacific Railway is causing some anxiety lest the company should be hampered in moving the crop, the railway officials declare that they will be able to furnish all the transportation facilities that may be required. The other detail connected with the movement of the crops to the seaboard, that of the cash required to finance the operation, appears to be satisfactorily arranged. The banks are in a strong position, and there seems to be no doubt that their resources will be equal to any demand that may be made upon them.

As regards the general business situation throughout the Dominion, we think it may be said to be gradually improving, and the suspense about the crops being removed will almost certainly have the effect of increasing confidence and encouraging enterprise. Although the weekly traffic returns of the railways still continue to show heavy decreases in gross earnings as compared with those at the same period last year, the decreases are gradually becoming smaller and the movement of a large crop should make a favorable change in the matter. The general volume of business, as reflected in the weekly bank clearings, still continues to fall below that of last year. This was to be expected, since speculation has been so greatly curtailed. The lower prices of many staple commodities must necessarily also have considerable effect in reducing the amount of money changing hands in ordinary business transactions and thereby lessening the amounts that pass through the clearing houses.

THE UNITED STATES SENATE

Twenty-two of the States in the Union have formally applied to the Federal authorities at Washington to hold a constitutional convention to approve an amendment to the Constitution whereby the election of Senators may be by direct vote of the people instead of by the State Legislatures. Mr. Bryan has declared himself in favor of this change and pledged himself, if elected, to call an extra session of Congress for the purpose of carrying the necessary legislation to make the reform. But under the Constitution the desired convention can only be held if requested by two-thirds of all the States. That would require 31 States, so that the adhesion of nine more States is required. It seems to be thought that these additional States will be secured.

The Republican National Convention, when in session a few weeks ago, rejected a similar proposal, although the Republican candidate, Mr. Taft, had expressed an opinion favorable to such a change. The Senate, as was to be expected, is opposed to any change in the method whereby its members are elected. But it seems to be probable that popular sentiment will become so strong in favor of the reform, that before long the necessary constitutional amendment will be passed by Congress.

SOCIALISM

Sooner than we reckon on there will be three instead of two great parties striving for the mastery in the government in the United States. The third party, which is coming to the front with leaps and bounds, is the Socialistic.

Singularly enough, with absolutely, free speech and an untrammeled press, Socialism has made slower growth in this republic than in the countries of the old world. In several of the governments of Europe they are so strong a minority as to have the balance of power. In the British House of Commons there are 82 Socialists; in the German Reichstag there are 43; no less than 54 sit in the French Chamber of Deputies. These are the legislative bodies which are nearest like our House of Representatives. In similar bodies in Austria, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and even Russia the Socialists are well represented. In every country with an elective form of government save the United States they find seats in the halls of legislature, but as yet no Socialist has been sent to Washington at least as such.

But they are growing in numbers in the United States. Twenty years ago, they cast only about 1,000 votes. Six years ago they cast nearly 130,000. In 1904 there vote totalled 435,000. This year they hope to swell it to close to a million. How long at this rate will it be before they have a strong representation in Congress? Indeed, how long will it be before they will have a right to contend in earnest for the Presidency?

Fortunately many of the theories of the old-time Socialists have either been abandoned or toned down, so that the word Socialism does not carry with it to-day the same terror to vested interests and individualism as of old. In fact, there are many persons who do not claim to be Socialists and who would hotly resent the imputation who possess opinions and advocate measures which the Socialists were the first to bring out and which only a few years ago would have stamped their advocates as dangerous malcontents carried away by an impossible dream.

Perhaps by the time the Socialists are in power they will have come nearer to the conservative level, or the conservatives will have approximated them in their desire for change of system, and so the bloodless revolution may not be so very dreadful after all.

FRAUDS BY SHORT WEIGHTS

According to an article in the National Food Magazine, the people of the United States are being defrauded to the extent of $240,000,000 every year, simply through the practices of those merchants who give short weight. This is an average of $3 a year for every man, woman and child in that country. The victims rarely know of the fraud, though they may suspect it. In some cases they may weigh or measure their purchases after they get home, but in far too many instances this is either neglected or impossible and the frauds continue. It is interesting, to say the least, to know how these deceptions are practiced, even though nothing is done to remedy them. One of the most extensive of the short weight frauds is in the putting up and selling of what are known as "pound packages". Some of these weigh a full pound, others are half an ounce or an ounce short. This amounts to almost nothing to the defrauded purchaser, but to the firm putting up millions of packages the shortage aggregates a great profit.

Many of the alleged "quart bottles" are so far short of being full quarts that five of them will not hold more than a gallon. The same shortage can be detected in not a few of the pails and firkins in which fish, lard and butter are sold. There are so many of these that it is now the custom to sell such commodities, not by the pint, quart or gallon, but by the bottle, the can, the pail, the tub or the cask.

The same conditions apply to Canada and precautions should be taken by housekeepers to weigh and measure all goods received for family consumption.

DISCONTENT IN JAPAN

Since the war with Russia the standard of living in Japan has increased 200 per cent and the people are grumbling about their poverty. It takes a great deal more now to satisfy a Jap than it did before. Mere existence, which was all that was asked by the masses, is no longer sufficient. The people demand more and better food—more of what we occidentals call the comforts. Their eyes are opened and the old standard will never again be acceptable. The people are heavily taxed, for the expenses of the war were enormous, and they are objecting to the burden. A wave of Socialism is sweeping over the land. Japan is making rapid strides in civilization, but her people are more unhappy than ever. She has conquered Russia; she soon may have to conquer herself.

One remarkable feature in the reform movement in China is the amazingly rapid development of the newspaper press. Seven years ago China had no newspapers except those started and controlled by foreigners. To-day there are more than 200 native journals. Pekin has a prosperous daily, started, edited and controlled by Chinese women—think of it! The government is encouraging the new-born appetite for news and is giving the newspapers every aid. The mass of the Chinese population cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper, but there is enough who can to make publication profitable. It is a common thing in the cities to see groups of men gathered on the street corners listening eagerly while some favored individual stands and reads a newspaper aloud.

Once China gets used to newspapers she will be in touch with the world and Europeans will no longer be "foreign devils."

A NEW PATENT LAW

The new patent law of Great Britain, which is of inestimable importance to this country, goes into operation this week. It stipulates that foreigners who may obtain British patents must manufacture the patented goods on British soil. On and after next Friday anyone, on application, to the comptroller of patents, may cause to be revoked any patent granted four years or more ago to any foreigner who manufactures the goods in question "exclusively or mainly" outside the United Kingdom. As American and German manufacturers are doing a large business in England, they stand to be forced to spend millions of dollars in the construction of plants in Great Britain, as provided by the new act. Last year England granted 2,808 patents to Germany and 2,782 to the United States. Over 30,000 British patents have been granted within the past three years to foreigners. Not one of these patents has hitherto been "adequately worked" in the United Kingdom. Among American manufacturers who are particularly hard hit by the new law are makers of type-writers, cash registers, all kinds of fine steel working machinery, elevator and pneumatic tube parts in addition to a thousand and one small articles sold by Americans under the protection of English registered patents. Many American and German firms have arranged to open branch factories in England to comply with the law.

According to an estimate of Mr Alfred Jones, says the Brantford Expositor, Great Britain will benefit to the extent of $125,000,000 by the working of the new act. How much the United States and Germany will suffer is a matter of conjecture, but it is certain that these countries will feel the effects of the law, as to comply with its provisions it will be necessary for the American manufacturers, for instance, practically to move a part of their factories to England and to employ British labor to do the work that is now being done by Americans.

A LESSON FROM OUR NEIGHBOR

Canada should profit by the experience of the State of New York, which has found out that the awarding of the contracts for large canal engineering projects in small sections at different times is more expensive and less satisfactory than awarding the contracts all at once. This is the experience of the Empire State in connection with the enlargement of the Erie Canal. When the Dominion Government, therefore, is prepared to undertake the construction of the proposed Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal, or other similar projects, as it must do before long, the lesson that can be learned from across the line should cause them to adopt the policy of awarding all the contracts at the same time and of pushing the work vigorously to completion.

"Instead of the work being planned in 'big mouthfuls', as is the usual custom in large canal engineering projects," writes Edward Hungerford in Harper's Weekly, concerning the enlargement of the Erie canal, "it was apportioned in tiny morsels, million dollar single contracts being the rule."

"The earliest contractors have taken their time, knowing full well that a time limit for their work on a canal that may not be finished within a century is farcical. They have proceeded in many cases without sufficient mechanical facilities, and in other cases with an unnecessary and frightfully expensive duplication of mechanical plants. A proper digging plant for a trench the size of the proposed barge canal will cost from one to three hundred thousand dollars. No contractor on a million-dollar job, with the law permitting him no assurance of a second contract, cares to spend a great sum on his plant and equipment. As a result, he struggles along with inferior tools, duplicates his plant extravagantly, and has in several instances bankrupted himself in the endeavor. Many of the largest and most representative of American contractors are refusing to touch the Erie job for this very reason. They want mouthfuls, not driblets. Some of the contracts already advertised have had no bidders."

It would be wisdom then on the part of the Government not to commence any work until there is some definite assurance that it can be completed without further delay.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Life and Property Unsafe in Russia

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The police of Russia are used for the purpose of harassing political enemies of the Government and not for the protection of life and property, while something akin to a reign of terror exists among the people most of the time, that is the deduction of Detective Mike Mills, Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler's criminologist, who returned Sunday from the duty of taking a Russian murderer from Chicago to Russia.

Detective Mills decided that a whole conscription of Russians had been charged by Osawatka because some one had stolen whitewashing implements from a church which was being renovated, or that he had seen twenty boys and men executed. His was quoted as having made these and other sensational statements. But the detective stated that conditions are actually so bad in the domain of the czar that it is quite unnecessary for the traveller to exaggerate his experiences.

LIFE AND PROPERTY UNSAFE.

"Things are very bad in Russia", said Detective Mills, "and there's a kind of reign of terror there. The police are used to persecute men and women who say something against the czar or government, and accordingly the police force has no time to protect life and property. The functions of the American and Russian police are entirely unlike. The consequence is that life and property don't get much protection in Russia.

"There are many executions in Russia of which the world never hears. In Libau, Odessa and some other cities I visited I was told there are twenty or more executions of military prisoners every day.

"Sometimes boys and men are shot within a few hours after their arrest. These prisoners call themselves revolutionists, but in many cases are blackmailers and terrorists. They write threatening letters to persons with property, demanding sums of money, and if they don't get what they ask for they carry out the threats in their letters.

"At Merzalkowa, near Odessa, there was for a time a fire in one or another of the buildings of a wealthy merchant every night. Finally a lieutenant of Cossacks called together the people in the public square and told them every building in the town would be fired if the merchant had any more trouble. The fires stopped.

INNOCENTS FLOGGED.

"In one town some whitewashing implements were stolen from a church that was being repaired. Several innocent persons were flogged in the hope of finding the thief.

"The financial condition of the country is pitiable. The masses of the people are very poor, and beggars seem to infest the whole empire."

Mills took to Russia Meffodi Zelmaschow, a Russian fugitive wanted in Libau for killing four peasant women. At Libau Mills gave his prisoner to the Russian authorities and the man was executed within a week.

American Tribe of Wealthy Indians

Pawhuska, Okla., Sept. 5.—Indians of the Osage tribe, the "richest people in the world," are to-day going about wearing broad smiles and with pockets full of bills, as a result of the payment of the fall instalment of oil and gas royalties. Each of the 2,300 Osages, from aged chief to the newest papoose, share in this distribution.

Scarcely a month passes but that the Osage Indians are called upon to come and get a designated sum of money, the payment of an annuity of one of the many funds in which the tribe shares. Besides their royalties from oil and gas the Osages share in an immense fund vested with the national government and various tribal funds, such as the revenue from grazing and agricultural leases and various other sources.

These Indians accept the money as a matter of course, never having known what it means to be "broke" in the accepted meaning of the term.

A clever popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere. In a few hours, Preventics are said to break any cold—completely. A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and wonderment from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Interpreter, Two Innocents Abroad, The Boxing Dance, the Italian Trouba dours, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Rialto, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Soubrettes, Motor Beauties, English Girls, The New York Girls, and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-Bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

Suicide Was Not Local Man

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—The Pittsburg suicide, who was at first believed to be Ernest Lockwood of Toronto, and later Ernest Harwood of this city until these men were found alive, has now been taken to be R. G. Langrill of Hamilton. Langrill, who is well known here, having been employed in newspaper work and later identified with a mining company, disappeared from Hamilton a month ago. His mother will go to Pittsburg to see if she can identify the remains.

Langrill was married to Dolly Stevens, a Brantford girl, who later got a divorce. She is now in Minneapolis.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. For lively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in its every activity, diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—may be weak, and more active, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have their most controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this palsied, pulsating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this peculiar preparation—is alone directed to these weak and wasted nerve centers. It builds them—feeds them—makes them strong. It gives heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strong kidneys, strong nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Honor Martyr Queen

Vienna, Sept. 18.—Memorial services of a most solemn nature were held to-day in many Vienna churches, in memory of the Empress Elizabeth, who was assassinated by an anarchist in Geneva ten years ago to-day. Elizabeth was a daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria and was married to Emperor Francis Joseph in 1854. She was universally loved and respected by the people of the dual monarchy and her memory is still held in affectionate reverence.

Wilbur Iron Mine Has Closed

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—The Wilbur iron mine, on the line of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, has closed down and is again in the hands of its owner, Wm. Caldwell, of Toronto.

Are Now Rid of the Douks

Yorkton, Sask., Sept. 9.—The last of the fanatical Doukhobors have been taken back to their villages on the C. N. R. Their leaders were arrested and imprisoned. Some time ago their children were taken from them and placed in villages, the remainder living of their mode of life under police surveillance, promised to be good if released and the police are now rid of their troublesome company.

An Engineer's Invention

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—In winter the cab windows of locomotives are frosted so that the engineer might as well be blindfolded and many accidents happen.

Engineer James Warner, of the K. & P. Railway, has invented an air blast device and has successfully used it for two seasons on his own engine. It keeps the glass clear.

It is patented and can be installed for a few dollars, but because he has not enough money for extensive promotion he cannot get railway people interested in it.

It is thought here the Railway Commission at Ottawa might do worse than look into this and see what they think of the new device.

News in Brief

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 11.—Because of a recent accident, in which his automobile ran down and killed a deaf mute, John R. Ryan has withdrawn from his proposed race with Barney Oldfield, scheduled for to-morrow, and declared he will never race again. The contest between Oldfield and Ryan was to have been for a side bet of $2,500, and Ryan forfeits $600 through his decision not to race.

Dublin, Sept. 9.—A few days ago an attempt was made to sell 150 acres of meadowing and grazing farm at Ballymoo, County Roscommon. For a considerable time past, efforts have been made to secure the lands for distribution among the neighboring tenants. At the hour fixed for the sale a large crowd, mainly composed of women, collected, and, surrounding the auctioneer, began to blow horns, and to hoot. The auctioneer endeavored to dispose of the meadowing, but the bidders, if any, could not be heard, and he was obliged to leave. A force of police was present.

At the quarterly meeting of the Galway County Council the secretary stated that the amount to be paid by the council in respect to decrees awarded by the Recorder under the Malicious Injuries Act amounted to $4,438. The principal item was the award to the Department of Agriculture in Ireland of $1,250 for the malicious burning of their premises at Athenry. The chairman said that it was the intention of the people of Athenry to petition the House of Commons to get the award to the department struck out, and he advised that the matter be allowed to stand until November, when Parliament would be in a position to consider the petition. The council adopted the suggestion.

A Holy Caravan

Roman Catholic Event of Interest in London

London, Sept. 10.—For the first time since the reign of Mary, a holy caravan of the church of Rome was seen on the streets of London to-day. Cardinal Vincent Vanutelli, a cardinal bishop from the papal curia in Rome, and titular Bishop of Palestine, accompanied by a special retinue suitable to the ecclesiastic rank, proceeded in state to the cathedral where the nineteenth Eucharist Congress to-day commenced its formal discussions.

In addition to the papal legate, eight cardinals and more than a hundred bishops from all over the world are participating in the congress. Each cardinal is accompanied by his own suite, presenting a scene of imposing ecclesiastic splendor. The cardinal's present are Gibbons, Logue, Merah, Lecot, Fischer, Mercier, Ferrari and Natiez.

Presented with a Suit Case

Monday morning at Mr. W. Randle's barber shop George street, Mr. Colin B. Furry was presented, with a handsome suit case by a number of his friends. Mr. Furry is leaving Peterborough in a few days for London, where he has accepted a lucrative position. Mr. Furry is about to be married and his friends took this means of remembering him. He has resided in this city about three years and during that time has made a large number of friends who will learn with deep regret of his departure from Peterborough.

First Dining Car.

"Just forty years ago," said T. C. Newton, a Chicago railroad man, "the Chicago and Alton railroad put on the first dining car ever operated on any railway train in the world." This was on the run between Chicago and St. Louis. If that car could be exhibited now it would create universal merriment. It had oilcloth table covers, the seats were screwed to the floor, and its illumination depended on candles.

"Think of the contrast between that primitive affair of 1868 and the modern dining car, finished in solid mahogany, with gorgeous furniture and a menu as elaborate and cooking as dainty as those supplied by any of the foremost hotels of America. Verily we have been 'going some' in the few decades that have gone by since the Alton's first crude experiment."—Baltimore American.

Camera Eye and Index Brain.

What would you say of a gentleman who having looked once into the face of each of those soldiers that made up the grand army which Napoleon took to Russia and being told the soldier's name would know him, name and face, two years, ten years, twenty years later? Think of a gentleman who could thus have called the muster roll of an army of 100,000 men. Such, however, would seem to be the full power of eye and memory which belongs to Detective William P. Sheridan of Mulberry street, New York, the "man with the camera eyes," and a low estimate declares that he has filed away in his brain, each tagged with the proper name, the pictures of no fewer than 100,000 men.—Broadway Magazine.

Wrecking Windmills a New Industry.

The passing of the windmill in England, antiquated by such recent power producers as the gas engine and electric motor, has given life to a new industry—windmill wrecking. The old windmill builders understood their business and meant their handiwork to last, and so the demolishing of such structures is no simple task. Many of the old mills stood 100 feet high and had eight or nine floors fitted with four runs of stones and contained tons upon tons of brick. Often these huge mills stood close to other buildings, and accidents would be inevitable if the wreckers did not have experience in their tasks.—Popular Mechanics.

A Rather Novel Complaint.

An English traveler once met a companion sitting in a state of the most woeful despair and apparently near the last agonies by the side of one of the mountain lakes of Switzerland. He inquired the cause of his sufferings. "Oh," said the latter, "I was very hot and thirsty and took a large draft of the clear water of the lake and then sat down on this stone to consult my guidebook. To my astonishment, I found that the water of this lake is very poisonous! Oh, I am a gone man; I feel it running all over me. I have only a few minutes to live! Remember me to"—

"Let me see the guidebook," said his friend. Turning to the passage, he found, "L'eau du lac est bien poisonneuse" (The water of this lake abounds in fish).

"Is that the meaning of it?"

"Certainly."

The dying man looked up with a radiant countenance. "What would have become of you," said his friend, "if I had not met you?"

"I should have died of imperfect knowledge of the French language."

A Great Man's Simple Speech.

I was lately told a delightful story of a great statesman staying with a humble and anxious host who had invited a party of simple and unimportant people to meet the great man. The statesman came in late for dinner and was introduced to the party. He made a series of old fashioned bows in all directions, but no one felt in a position to offer any observations. The great man at the conclusion of the ceremony turned to his host and said in tones that had often thrilled a listening senate: "What very convenient jugs you have in your bedrooms. They pour well." The social frost broke up, the company was delighted to find that the great man was interested in mundane matters of a kind of which every one might be permitted to have an opinion, and the conversation, starting from the humblest commonness of daily life, melted insensibly into more liberal subjects.—Arthur C. Benson in Putnam's and the Reader.

An American Admirer.

In a small way an American figures in the journal kept by Rosalie Lamorliere during the revolutionary days of 1793 in France and published under the title, "The Last Days of Marie Antoinette."

Rosalie Lamorliere, a girl of Picardy, was servant to the queen in the conciergerie. "One day," Rosalie has recorded, "M. de Saint Leger, the American, who was coming from the register's office, noticed that I was carrying a glass half filled with water.

"'Did the queen drink the water that has gone from the glass?' he asked.

"I answered that she did.

"With a quick gesture he uncovered his head and drank the water that remained with every indication of respect and pleasure."

A Candle Trick.

Let a candle burn until it has a good long snuff, then blow it out with a sudden puff. A bright wreath of white smoke will curl up from the hot wick. Now, if a flame be applied to this smoke, even at a distance of two or three inches from the candle, the flame will run down the smoke and rekindle the wick in a very fantastic manner. To perform this ceremony nicely there must be no draft or "hanging" down while the candle and is alight.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-em's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy gets, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 20th day of October, 1910, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontaubaine, in the province of Quebec, 196.36 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontaubaine, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros.' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 128 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 26 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.18 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz; —John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions as the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1, District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional sureties, and to furnish the additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract;—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"The agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, so far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

To Canadian Investors

The undersigned has received an allotment of unsold portion of $100,000 of

7 Per Cent. First Mortgage Five-Year Gold Bonds

dated January 11, 1910, and maturing January 11, 1915. These Bonds are offered at par and accrued interest by Metropolitan Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustees.

SECURITY—The Entire Property and Improvements Owned THE URES CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY in the District of Ures, State of Sonora Mexico, Free from Mortgage or Bonded Indebtedness, except this present Bond Issue.

An Unusual Opportunity for Investment in Sound Security

The Ures Consolidated Mining Company offers $100,000.00 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds. This issue of bonds is the only mortgage or bonded indebtedness ever placed on the company's properties.

These bonds are in the denomination of $100.00, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, July and January, and are redeemable on or before five years from date at the company's option at $110.00 and accrued interest.

$100.00 Stock Bonus Given with Every $100.00 Bond

With each bond issued there will be given $100.00 par value of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and in addition thereto there will be placed in escrow with the Trustee additional stock which will be available to the bondholders at their option any time within a period of three years, the bondholder being entitled to surrender his bond any time within said period and receive in lieu thereof stock for every dollar of indebtedness to him on account of said bonds.

The Security Back of these Bonds

The company owns twelve claims situated in the district of Ures, State of Sonora, Mexico, free from mortgage or bonded indebtedness, except the present bond issue.

On one of these properties (The Ramona Mine) 5,000 feet of underground development work has been done, consisting of an inclined shaft to the depth of 60 feet with drifts in three levels to the North and South of the shaft.

An average value of ore worth $11.67 per ton is exposed throughout the mine, from the collar of the shaft to the extreme parts in the drifts, all of which is above water level.

The company has made surface improvements and mine improvements to the extent of $60,000.00 in the way of machinery, skids, trams, steam hoists, mill and nearly everything necessary to make the mining camp complete.

In addition to the absolute ownership of these twelve valuable claims, the company has a lease on the San Jose Mine, adjoining its property, in which the company has been operating in high grade ore.

During the past sixty days the company has extracted and delivered to ore buyers and the bank at Hermosillo, $4,000.00 worth of ore and bullion, the ore having been reduced to bullion through the company's mill, with the exception of 1,000 pounds, which was sold to an ore buyer for $568.50.

The Money Derived from the Sale of These Bonds

This issue of bonds is made for the purpose of securing money at once in order to extend the development work more quickly than the company's present means will permit.

With the high grade ore in sight to the distance of 60 feet to the South of the shaft, the management is assured that within six months from date of making the improvements now necessary the company's properties will be on a self-sustaining and dividend-paying basis.

The Stock which is Given with these bonds will be as valuable as the bonds when the Company has the ready capital to push operations

Men who invest in these bonds will have no cause or reason to regret their action, for the bonds afford an investment in a security which is absolutely safe—much better than ordinary city or country real estate, which is considered perfectly safe if the property put up to secure a mortgage is double the face of the loan. The security given on these bonds is better than 7 to 1, for the Ures Consolidated Mining Company has refused an offer of $700,000.00 for the property upon which this $100,000.00 worth of bonds is issued.

These bonds are an investment with all speculative risk eliminated —an investment with absolute security.

Make your reservation at once. This is small and promises to be quickly sold.

To whom it may concern:—

We hereby beg to state that The Ures Consolidated Mining Company has during the past five years made several deliveries of bullion to this bank, and it is the opinion of mining men here that they have the making of a fair mine, and further, that the properties owned and controlled by them bid fair of becoming paying properties.

From our knowledge of the men connected, we believe they are doing all in their power to bring about the results above mentioned.

Respectfully,
BANCO DE SONORA,
Max Muller, Gerente.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock. If you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Shoshone ever were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $1,461.57 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $81.00 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Burglar's at Downer's Corners

Burglars broke into the residence of Mr. McGregor near Downer's Corners on Saturday, while the family were absent, and made away with some articles. Among the things known to be missing are a gold bracelet belonging to Miss McGregor, a $22 suit of clothes belonging to one of Mr. McGregor's sons, and some preserved fruits. The identity of the thief or thieves has not been discovered up to the present.

Saves House from Flames

Church service at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, was interrupted on Sunday by the news that a bush fire was raging near the banks of the river and threatened to destroy the barn and residence in a clearing of the woodland, belonging to Mr. Sandy Matchett. The house is occupied by Mr. Sherman Mann, who happened to notice the steady advance of the fire and gave the alarm. Had the firefighters been fifteen minutes later it is stated that it would have been impossible to prevent a disastrous fire.

Has Returned to Peterborough

Mr. R. H. Shepherd, formerly with the Canadian General Electric Company, has returned to the city to remain, after having spent the time since last spring in the United States in the employ of the International Paper Company. This company has thirty-three mills affected by the bad times, which Mr. Shepherd reports as acute and general. It is not expected that the cloud of depression will lift till after the elections, if it does then. Mr. Shepherd contemplates remaining in Peterborough, which he must consider better than the land of promise he has left.

Fined Five Dollars for Slapping Wife

For slapping his wife on various occasions, Clarence Hubbel, Havelock, was yesterday fined $5 and costs by his Worship County Magistrate Edmison. The case was tried in Havelock and was of short duration as Mr. Hubbel admitted he had slapped his wife. The magistrate has received another information of a similar nature from Norwood, and strange to to say, the name Hubbel is prominent in it. It will probably be tried in a few days' time.

The Mock Court Trial

Regarding the big Mock Court Trial to be given in Conservatory of Music Hall, under the auspices of the Boys' Department of T.M.C.A., on Friday evening next, would say that the stage of the hall will be laid out as a regular court room with all the accessories and the trial will be conducted in every respect with all the gravity of a supreme court session. The case will be handled on the exact lines of legal procedure, but for all that will be so arranged that the two hours proceedings are likely to furnish the biggest bunch of merriment an audience has had in a long time.

Of course, all hearts will go out in tearful sympathy for the plaintiff, while as for the defendant, it is enough to say that no one would ever have believed it. The jury is distinguished enough to rivet the attention of an audience for a whole evening, and are capable of being an entire show themselves. Altogether this Mock Court Trial promises to be one of the events of the season, both in the interest attaching to it and in the crowd that will attend.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

Editor Morning Times:

Dear Sir,—Be kind enough to grant me space in your morning paper to make the following explanation, of how to operate a fire alarm box.

To send an alarm of fire, open the outside door of the fire alarm box, and pull the hook down once.

It is of vital importance that every citizen should learn how to operate the fire alarm boxes; and if the above explanation is not clear we cordially invite the citizens to visit the fire station where any of the firemen will be pleased to give a practical demonstration.

Any telephone can be used free of charge for sending an alarm of fire. All that is required is to call the Central and tell the operator where the fire is. Or if you wish to speak direct to the fire station the number is 14, on both telephones.

When the operators receive message of fire they turn in three rings to the fire station, and the horses are turned out in readiness to proceed to the fire as soon as the exact location is ascertained.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

Yours respectfully,
W. A. HOWARD,
Chief Fire Dept.

Wedding Bells

MACDONALD—DUGAN.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at All Saints' church yesterday, when Miss Eleanor Stewart Dugan, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Smith, 472 Reid St. was united in marriage to Mr. George Alexander Macdonald, son of Mr. Wm. Macdonald, Woodstock. The ceremony was performed at 11 a.m. by Rev. Wm Major in the presence of the relatives and immediate friends of the young couple.

The bride, who looked charming in a traveling suit of brown with hat to match, was given away by her mother. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Dugan, who wore a pretty suit of blue and hatte-match. Mrs. Peter Kerr, aunt of the groom, played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the church. The groom was assisted by Mr. Charles Anderson, Ashburnham.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Port Hope, taking one of the lake steamers for Niagara, visiting Buffalo, Sarnia and western points. On their return they will reside at 585 Homewood avenue. Many beautiful presents were received from their friends, who join in wishing them a bright and happy married life.

MATCHETT—SMART.

A pretty wedding was celebrated Tuesday afternoon in Toronto at the home of Mr. Joseph T. Smart, 94 Lindsay avenue, when his youngest daughter, Miss Louie, was united in marriage to Mr. Omar S. Matchett, 384 Mark street, Peterborough. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. McIntosh, pastor of Olivet Baptist church, Toronto, and the marriage was solemnized in the presence of many of the friends of the bride and groom. The bride entered the room where the ceremony was performed on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. She wore a pretty costume of ivory faotoy with touches of applique and point d'esprit. She was attended by her sister, Miss May E. Smart, who wore a dress of point d'esprit over silk. Mr. Bertrand McKee of Fort William and formerly of Peterborough, performed the duties of groomsman. The wedding march was played by Miss M. Hodgson, of Port Huron, Mich. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl brooch, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet and to the groomsman a tie pin. The marriage ceremony concluded, the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Matchett have gone to Niagara Falls and Buffalo on a honeymoon trip and they will also spend a few days in Toronto before coming to Peterborough where they will reside at 384 Mark street. Ashburnham. The bride's going away dress was of navy blue lady's cloth with hat to match.

HENDERSON—ANDERSON.

The marriage was solemnized at St. Paul's church, yesterday morning of Miss Winnifred Anderson, only daughter of Mrs. Thomas Anderson, 149 London street, to Mr. Ebert William Henderson, son of Mr. O. K. Henderson, of Almonte, and lecturer in the electrical engineering department of the School of Mining, Queen's College, Kingston. The ceremony was performed at 9.45 o'clock by Rev. Robert A. Fegan, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, the wedding being of a quiet nature on account of recent bereavement in the family of the bride.

The charming bride was costumed in a Mikado Princess dress of white silk crepe de chine, trimmed with fillet net, baby Irish lace and satin. She wore a white hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Alberta Simpson, of London, Ont., a cousin of the bride. She wore a pretty dress of white fillet net over white taffetta silk, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. E. M. Montgomery, of Lanark, Ont. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. H. P. Wanless, of Owen Sound.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left on the 11.45 Grand Trunk train for Toronto and from there will proceed to Kingston via Rochester. The bride's going away suit was of black and white lady's cloth with silk blouse to match, and black hat.

The bride received many beautiful presents—an evidence of her popularity among a host of friends in the city. The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a gold ring set with three pearls and to the groomsman a gold stick pin. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson are both extremely popular and will have the best wishes of a legion of friends.

Otonabee Man Charged with Robbery

A well known resident of Otonabee was charged in the police court yesterday morning with stealing $5 from Gulek Sarakwas, a Russian Jew, on Saturday. He appeared before City Clerk Armstrong, on Saturday, and the case was enlarged until yesterday morning. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and asked to be tried by a jury, but changed his mind later on and consented to being tried by his worship.

Sarakwas, who cannot speak English, had to have an interpreter. His story was to the effect that the prisoner had seen him putting money in his pocket, and had snatched it and run away, whereupon witnesses had given chase, and, catching the prisoner held him until the police arrived.

P. C. Adams testified that when the prisoner had been brought into the police station, he had said that he had been given the money by the Jew for the purpose of buying a bottle of whisky.

P. C. Newhall testified that he had arrested the prisoner at the Munro House on Saturday evening. When he arrived on the scene the Jew had hold of the prisoner and the officer separated the two, whereupon the Otonabee man had tried to run away.

It was stated that the men were under the influence of liquor at the time.

The magistrate remarked that the prisoner had a good character and would allow him to go on suspended sentence. The defendant, however, had to pay the costs of the proceedings, which amounted to $3.75.

On leaving the court room the prisoner walked over to the bench and shook hands with the magistrate and then followed it up by shaking hands with the Jew.

Obituary

MRS. PATRICK O'DONNELL.

At the age of 62 years, Mrs. Patrick O'Donnell, 672 Stewart street, passed away Tuesday evening at six o'clock, after a lingering illness of about ten months' duration. Mrs. O'Donnell was born in Kenismere, and has only resided in Peterborough four years, she was very highly respected in her native township and also by all those who made her acquaintance since coming to Peterborough. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn her loss three sons and three daughters. The sons are James, William and Joseph, Peterborough; and the daughters—Mrs. John Fagan, Chapot, Minn.; Mrs. Edward Phelan, Peterborough; Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson, Toronto. Her brothers surviving are William Curtin, Downeyville; George and David Curtin, Chicago, Ill., and Timothy, of Kenismere. Mrs. Elizabeth James, Dixy, Ill.; Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, Cheboygan, Mich.; Mrs. Jas. Garrity, Little Current, Mich.; Mrs. Patrick Phelan, Peterborough; and Mrs. J. O'Donnell, Emily, are the sisters living.

The funeral will be held from the family residence this morning at 9 o'clock to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

MRS. JAMES A. SLOAN.

Mr. Geo. Sloan has just returned from Depew, N.Y., where he has been attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. J. A. Sloan, who died at Depew on September 3rd. Interment took place at Forest Lawn cemetery, Buffalo on Sunday afternoon at 2.30. Mrs. Sloan and family formerly lived in Peterborough, residing on Stewart street. She leaves behind her her husband, four sons and five daughters. The sons are, W. J., Buffalo; A. J., (Winnipeg; R. B., Chicago, and George, Peterborough. The daughters are, Mrs. G. Comstock, Treherne, Man.; Mrs. Dr. Bell, Buffalo, and Mrs. D. Williamson, Toronto; Mrs. A. N. Pratt, Depew, N.Y., and Miss Edith at home.

HARRY THOMAS FRED LUCK.

At 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning the death occurred of Harry Thomas Frederick, the eight months' old son of Rev. H. B. Luck, pastor at the City Mission, 346 Water street. A funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the City Mission Hall, prior to the funeral which will be held to the Little Lake cemetery.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Sheop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

The I.O.F. Excursion was a Success

The annual excursion of the I.O.F. was held on Labor Day to Idyl Wyld, about three hundred people enjoying the trip. The steamer Otonabee afforded ample accommodation for the excursionists who were loud in their praises of the work that the committee had performed. The sporting events were of central importance during the afternoon. The results were as follows:—

Girls' race, under 10—V. Castle.
Boys' race, under 10—C. Webb.
Girls' race, under 12—S. Webb.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants growing wild in our American forests possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the uncultured Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with headache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly prepared from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for woman's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

A Large New Factory Employing 200 Hands Will be Started at Once

Local Men Submit Proposition to Manufacturers' Committee--Met with Favor--New Concern to Take Place of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company

A new factory employing at least 200 hands at the start is now before the Manufacturers' Committee, and will be submitted to the city council at the next meeting which will be held early next week. The new concern is to take the place in the industrial world of the late Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. Negotiations have been under way for the past year and a half between a number of local men and the R. Williams Co., of Toronto, who own the Wm. Hamilton premises, with a view to purchasing the entire plant and buildings. The Toronto firm held their price too high for the local men and it is now proposed to erect a new building and to instal an entirely new plant.

Messrs. G. Walter Green, A. McFarlane, H. H Collier and J. C. Smith are the promoters of the new concern. Mr. Green purchased the old Rogers property on Bonacord street near Jackson Park with the idea in view, so that the company will be able to start building operations immediately the arrangements with the council are completed. The scheme of the above gentlemen was submitted in a letter to the Manufacturers' Committee of the council on Tuesday night. This is the first time the matter has been made public, and so promising is the proposal that the Manufacturers' Committee fell right in line with it.

Members of the proposed new company met the aldermen and discussed the proposition. Their plans were outlined fully and the committee favored them unanimously. The result is that the matter will be submitted to the council at a special meeting next week.

THE COMPANY'S PLAN.

R. Neill, Esq., Chairman Manufacturers' Committee;

Dear Sir,—I have the pleasure to inform you that Messrs. G. Walter Green, A. McFarlane, H. H. Collier and myself, intend to organize a company with a paid up capital of $100,000, to erect new buildings, install new machinery, and carry on a business in Peterborough similar to that formerly conducted by the Wm Hamilton Mfg. Co., Ltd., which will employ about two hundred men.

We think of asking the city to grant the company a loan of $50,000 to be used as working capital, and in addition to the covenant of the company to be collaterally secured by a first mortgage on the fixed assets of the company.

Interest to be paid annually on the current amount of the loan at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, and the principal to be repaid in ten equal annual installments. The first of the said installments to be paid at the end of the fifth year.

The company also to be granted a very low fixed assessment. With your kind approval we will be pleased to meet the members of your committee and answer any questions and give any further information relating to this proposition, which in the meantime we commend to your most favorable consideration.

Yours truly,

J. C. SMITH.

WILL START AT ONCE

The only change made in the company's proposal is that instead of the city loaning the sum of $50,000 the committee will recommend the council to name $40,000 on the same terms and conditions. If the council act on the recommendation of the committee, the matter will then be submitted to the ratepayers for approval. In the meantime, however, the company will be organized and the building operations will be started and rushed ahead this fall. The promoters of the company are confident that, if the council considers the matter favorably, the people will carry it without trouble. They have reason for confidence too as the loss of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. was a severe blow to the city, and the people will be only too anxious to support a measure which will rebuild what was one of the best factories in the city.

Sir Wilfrid Would Finish His Work

Not many years now remain to me. The snows of winter have taken the place of spring; but, however, I may show the ravages of time, my heart still remains young, and I feel that I have as much strength as ever for the services of my country. In spite of my sixty years, of which so much has been spent in the service of the Dominion, I am sure some time remains for me yet to oppose those sinister combinations, and especially have I a tooth for the unholy alliance between the Castors and the Conservatives.

Our greatest work for the advancement of Canada is the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which means so much for our country's future, and with which I hope my name will be chiefly connected. The more we know about this line the more we see its advantages for Canada. In fact, its advantages are already being felt, as even now it is taking its part in the transportation of the western wheat crop. Within two years we shall see this line running from Edmonton to Winnipeg, opening up traffic to new empires of the north, where generations yet to come will be able to settle and make their live blood. I tell you in all sincerity that I want to carry the coming general election in order to finish this great work, and when it is completed I shall be content to say with the prophet of old; "Lord, now let Thy servant depart in peace."—The Premier at Morel.

Youth Who Used Knife Got Three Months

Lindsay, Ont., Sept. 10. — Three months in the county jail at Lindsay at hard labor was the sentence imposed this morning upon Percy Nettleton, the Detroit youth who stabbed a young Fenelon Falls lad in a fracas resulting from a quarrel over girls. The stabbing was the conclusion of a fight between two local youths and two summer visitors.

Could Not Get Work

Party of Ontario Men Returning from West Disappointed

Fort William, Ont., September 11.—A party of fourteen or fifteen young men that went on harvester trains were in Fort William on Saturday on their way back east. Their story is that they were unable to get any work in the west, and that the C. P. R. provided them with transportation back as far as Ignace, where they were to be put to work. In the party sent back there were about thirty, and when they arrived there and found that they were expected to take the place of strikers, they refused to go to work. As they were without funds, the strikers and townspeople helped them and gave them food. The men are from Ontario points and have been helped along home.

Discuss Quebec Bridge

Engineers at Philadelphia Consult with Phoenix Company

Phoenixville, Pa., Sept. 10.— Maurice FitzMaurice, of London, Eng., and H. E. Vautelet, of Ottawa, Ont., who were appointed by the Canadian Government to supervise the reconstruction of the Quebec Bridge, which collapsed more than a year ago, arrived here to-day. They were in consultation with the officers of the Phoenix Bridge Company and the Phoenix Iron Company, and also P. L. Szelanka, designer of the ill-fated bridge, with whom they went over the revised plans for the new structure.

The I. O. F. Increase is Illegal in New York

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 10. —Judge Benton, in Supreme Court today, sustained the injunction restraining the Independent Order of Foresters from raising their assessment rates.

Justice Benton took the view that the Independent Order of Foresters, in the light of its large reserve fund, is not on the verge of bankruptcy, and that the argument that an increase of rates is necessary to prolonge the life of the order amounts to nothing.

The action was brought in the nature of a test case by Henry J. Simmelink, a member.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The head office of the I.O.F., in the Temple Building, had not learned of the decision when a reporter inquired for information about the effect of the decision, and none of the minor officers could be located.

The decision does not apply to Canada, nor outside of New York State. It will be appealed.

A considerable amount of insurance has been written up by the I. O. F. in New York. One of the older members got a temporary injunction and after this was argued, judgment was reserved. Decision was given today making the injunction permanent.

Scaled Jail Wall

Brantford, Sept. 10.—About a month ago Wm. Parker was convicted on a charge of horse-stealing and sentenced to jail here. He has served nearly a month's time. This forenoon about 11 o'clock he escaped by scaling the jail wall, and officials are now searching the country for him.

Britain's Greatest Battleship Launched Successfully Yesterday

Much Larger and More Powerful Than the Dreadnought

She Makes Eight of That Type

Portsmouth, Sept. 10.—The St. Vincent, the largest and heaviest battleship ever built for the British navy, was launched successfully here today. The weather was fine and the seas smooth, and a great crowd saw the vessel take the water. As the warship slipped from her blocks she was christened by Count de Bonechamp.

Counting the three cruising battleships of the Invincible class, the St. Vincent is the eighth vessel of the Dreadnought type to be launched in this country. The Admiralty has observed its usual reticence with regard to the details of the design and construction of the St. Vincent, but from certain figures that were given out it is manifest that the experience gained from the construction of the Dreadnought has been utilized in this vessel.

It is believed that some of the additional weight of the St. Vincent is to be accounted for by heavier armament for protection against torpedoes, and by improvements giving greater security to those controlling the movement of the ship while in action.

A number of foreign naval attaches attended the launching on the invitation of the Admiralty.

The St. Vincent was laid down in December of last year. She is supposed to be of about 19,250 tons and her cost has been given at $9,500,000.

Galt, London, and Berlin Will Have to Take Another Vote on By-Law

New Power By-Laws will Go to the People in These Places

Draft of By-Laws was Changed

Toronto, Sept. 11.—As the result of a judgment handed out by Justice Anglin today, confirmed the Mayor of Galt in his refusal to sign a power contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission, new bylaws will probably have to be submitted to Galt, London, and Berlin.

Other mayors have refused to sign contracts, but in disposing of these cases the judges deal simply with the right of a mayor to disobey his council. Justice Anglin finds that Galt's voters passed a bylaw with a maximum contract price mentioned; hence that the present contract with no price mentioned could not be legally approved by the council.

Hon. Adam Beck is non-committal as to whether or not the contract has to be re-submitted in the three places mentioned, but it is known that this course must now be taken. Actions to disallow the council's bylaws are already on foot in both London and Berlin.

"It is not a new question," said Mr. Beck today. "We know there was a slip made in three municipalities, but it is only an incident, not vital, and can and will be remedied. All three places would carry the bylaw by a large vote.

"The mistake happened in this way. We sent out a model bylaw to all the municipalities. This bylaw asserted that the figures mentioned were estimates of the commission. In three municipalities, and without the knowledge of the commission, the bylaws were changed so as to make these estimates appear as the final maximum figures. The commission knew nothing about this until after the writs were issued. These municipalities were London, Berlin, and Galt. It was simply a misunderstanding on the part of these municipalities. In Toronto there was no such mistake made, and the writs issued against the city in connection with the power bylaw do not attack it on these grounds."

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Mr. Justice Anglin gave judgment today on Ald. F. Stewart Scott's application for a mandamus compelling Mayor Patterson of Galt, to sign the power bylaw, and contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission. His lordship refuse s the order. Mayor Patterson's successful objection was not brought out in the somewhat similar Berlin case.

"On examination it is apparent that the contract does not conform to the terms of bylaw No 848," says the judgment, a document of 30 pages, "in that, although on a schedule attached to the contract under the heading, estimated maximum cost of power ready for distribution in municipality there appear opposite the name of the town of Galt the figures $22, there is nothing in the contract to make the obligation of the municipality to take and pay for electrical power and to pay its proportion of the cost of transmission to Galt conditional upon the total of such cost not exceeding $22 a horse power per annum.

BOUND TO PAY.

"On the contrary, the contract purports to bind the municipality unconditionally to pay a fixed charge a horse-power for electrical energy at Niagara Falls, and a proportionate share of the cost of a number of other items, which is not determined. Under the terms of this contract, the town, for aught to the contrary appearing in the contract might find itself bound to take power at a price considerably in excess of $22 a horse power per annum delivered in Galt.

Big Hotel for Kingston

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 11.— Dr. Rupert Dupuis, of Chicago, is looking over the city in connection with the proposed hotel here. With him are two Chicagoans, J. Palmer Graves, an architect, and C. F. Henderson, both of whom are interested in the project. They propose to erect a hotel chateau, with probably 250 or 300 rooms— the building, exclusive of furnishings, to cost $250,000 or $300,000.

DARK BROWN TASTE

Your Head Aches
Tongue is Coated
Mouth Tastes Bad
Stomach is Sick.

The Great Liver Pills Are Not Doing Their Duty and You're in the Grip of Nervous Dyspepsia.

A hot bitter fluid, and sour indigested food rises in your mouth.

Your vision is crossed with specks that float before the eyes.

Very shortly you'll have nausea, rank breath, and sleepless nights.

What you need is Ferrozone.

It regulates the gastric juices, put new life into the stomach, braces digestive powers, gives the aid that's so badly required.

Ferrozone is the best treatment because it goes to the root of the trouble, remedies the conditions that cause dyspepsia and thereby cures permanently.

If you want proof, read the experience of Mr. E. P. Davidson, a well known resident of Portland, who writes: "Ferrozone is beyond doubt a most powerful cure for indigestion and weak stomach. Food so badly deranged with me that I was almost afraid to eat. Pastry and starchy foods fermented, caused sour risings and gave me headaches, brown taste and foul breath. I grew weak, my weight run down fifteen pounds and my looks fully indicated all that was wrong. Ferrozone put me on my feet again. It braced me up, restored my digestion and made me a well man."

Doctors and patients alike speak of the merit of Ferrozone; it is different from other remedies, different because it cures so you stay cured. Try it; sold everywhere in 25c. boxes.

The Largest Steamer in Canadian Trade

Launch of the White Star Liner "Laurentic."

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Cable advices from Liverpool announce that the new White Star liner "Laurentic" was launched from the yard of Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Belfast, to-day (Sept. 10th.)

This is an event of more than usual interest in the shipping world, for as previously notified, the "Laurentic" will signalise the entry of the White Star Line into the Canadian trade in conjunction with the Dominion Line, and thus strengthen the connection between Canada and the Mother Country.

The new departure has been heartily acclaimed by all interested in the development of commerce between the Dominion and the United Kingdom, as it is recognized that a Company which has attained the highest reputation in the New York and other important trades will bring to the new connection those qualities of enterprise, foresight and commercial activity, that have made the line so successful in the great Ocean routes.

The launch of the "Laurentic" is also specially interesting on account of the adoption in this vessel of a combination of reciprocating engines with a low pressure turbine, the "Laurentic" being the first passenger steamer designed with this arrangement of machinery. Moreover, it has been generally assumed that the adoption of this novelty in the "Laurentic" is some indication of the owners' intentions with regard to the machinery of other large steamers which they have in contemplation. This arrangement of machinery constitutes the vessel a triple screw steamer, each of the wing propellers being driven by four crank triple balanced engines, and the central propeller by a turbine. The object is, of course, to retain the advantages of the highly perfected balanced reciprocating engines and at the same time get the benefit of the further expansion of steam in a low pressure turbine, whilst avoiding the necessity for an astern turbine, which is essential in steamers fitted with turbines only, whereas in this vessel both for going astern and manoeuvring in and out of port the reciprocating engines will be more than sufficient, as they will develop over three-fourths of the total combined horsepower. It is very appropriate that this practical revolution in steamship machinery, due to the genius of British engineers, should be introduced into the "Laurentic", and thus celebrate in a special manner the introduction of the White Star Line into its latest sphere of activity.

The average tonnage of the White Star fleet is indisputably the greatest in the world. Little reference is needed here to the leviathan steamers constituting the New York and Boston services, but it may not be generally known that its Australian and New Zealand vessels exceed all others in these trades, whilst the largest craft encountered in the Mediterranean also fly its familiar house flag. It should not therefore come as a surprise to learn that the "Laurentic" will be the largest vessel in the Canadian trade. A single-funnelled, two-masted steamer of 14,500 tons gross register, she is 565 feet in length, with a beam of 67 feet, 4 inches and in addition to 300 first-class, 430 second class and 1,000 third-class passengers, will carry a large quantity of cargo.

Needless to say the "Laurentic" — like all the other vessels of the White Star Line, is being constructed throughout on the most improved principles.

Runaway Horse at Niagara Crossed the Steel Arch

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 10.—A cereal mare attached to a buggy from King's livery, across the river, ran away at the freight shade at Suspension Bridge, N.Y., this morning, dashed through a mile of railway yards, dodging cars and engines, ran past the passenger depot, and finally took after a light engine coming across the Grand Trunk steel arch bridge. Keeping between the rails, it met with no mishap until the Canadian side was reached, when it stumbled on the stringers, fell and was caught.

Will Purchase no More Park Lands

At a meeting of the Finance Committee, the agreement with the Peterborough Canal Company was discussed and it was decided to give the company a deed of the land in question on condition that they pay the city $350 in lieu of building a conduit through the property.

There were present, Ald. Morrow, chairman; the mayor, and Aldermen Bradburn and Neill.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Neill, that the Peterborough Canal Company be given a deed of the land mentioned in Bylaw No. 1126 upon the company paying to the city $350 in lieu of constructing a conduit through the property and also paying the city $1 000 in accordance with the terms of the said bylaw, and that the clerk notify the company of the action of the committee, and that the committee wishes an answer at once.—Carried.

The mayor reported that the committee appointed on Tuesday night had seen Mr. H. Best, and that he would sell one acre to enlarge the King Edward Park for $2,000, and land for the extension of Aylmer street for $500, provided the land for the park was purchased.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn and Neill, the committee decided that no more land could be purchased for park purposes this year, but that the mayor be authorized to purchase the land for the extension of Aylmer street at $500.

Charged with Stealing from Mr. C. B. Routley

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Detectives McCall and Savard arrested Ernest Normandin yesterday afternoon while he was at his work in the offices of C. B. Routley & Co., dealers in wall paper, 530 West St. Catherine street.

Normandin is charged with having stolen money and goods from his employers.

A few days ago he is alleged to have made a sale amounting to $13, failing to return this amount to his employers. After he was taken into custody, a mink muff belonging to Mrs. Routley, which was kept in the store, and 30 to 40 rolls of wallpaper were found in his room at 979 East De Montigny street. It is believed that over $60 worth of goods were thus taken away by the accused, and some has been sold by him to painters and paperhangers with whom he was acquainted. He was arraigned before Magistrate Lest this morning and pleaded guilty. He was remanded until next Monday for sentence.

Next Eucharist Congress Will be Held in Montreal

London, Sept. 10.—The Bishop of Montreal, announced at one of the meetings of the Eucharist Congress today that the next congress would be held in Montreal.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—This will be regarded as a very high honor to Canada from a Romanist standpoint, and one indicating a new order of events in the Vatican.

No intimation of the congress coming to Canada had reached St. Michael's Palace in Toronto, when the information was imparted. The purport of the despatch was learned with much interest, but no official statement could be made by the authorities of the Church in Toronto.

Hundreds of bishops and thousands of priests attend the congresses.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The reports from the North-West provinces seem to indicate that the wheat crop will be somewhat larger than was estimated a week or two ago The North-West Grain Dealers' Association at Winnipeg gives the area under wheat as 6,655,000 acres, and places the average yield per acre at 17.7 bushels, which would make the total crop 107,184,000 bushels. There has been some damage by frost in certain districts, but what it will amount to has not yet been ascertained. By to-day it is estimated that 75 per cent. of the wheat crop will be cut. Barley and oats are estimated as likely to yield together about 120,000,000 bushels. The suspense as to the results of the harvest will soon be terminated as accurate statistics of the yield in the different districts will shortly be available, and there seems to be every probability that the harvest as a whole will be a satisfactory one.

While the continuance of the strike of the machinists on the Canadian Pacific Railway is causing some anxiety lest the company should be hampered in moving the crops, the railway officials declare that they will be able to furnish all the transportation facilities that may be required. The other detail connected with the movement of the crops to the seaboard, that of the cash required to finance the operation, appears to be satisfactorily arranged. The banks are in a strong position, and there seems to be no doubt that their resources will be equal to any demand that may be made upon them.

As regards the general business situation throughout the Dominion, we think it may be said to be gradually improving, and the suspense about the crops being removed will almost certainly have the effect of increasing confidence and encouraging enterprise. Although the weekly traffic returns of the railways still continue to show heavy decreases in gross earnings as compared with those at the same period last year, the decreases are gradually becoming smaller and the good yield of a large crop should make a favorable change in the matter. The general volume of business, as reflected in the weekly bank clearings, still continues to fall below that of last year. This was to be expected, since speculation has been so greatly curtailed. The lower prices of many staple commodities must necessarily also have considerable effect in reducing the amount of money changing hands in ordinary business transactions and thereby lessening the amounts that pass through the clearing houses.

Twenty-two of the States in the Union have formally applied to the Federal authorities at Washington to hold a constitutional convention to approve an amendment to the Constitution whereby the election of Senators may be by direct vote of the people instead of by the State Legislatures. Mr. Bryan has declared himself in favor of the change and pledged himself, if elected, to call an extra session of Congress for the purpose of carrying the necessary legislation to make the reform But under the Constitution the desired convention can only be held if requested by two-thirds of all the States. That would require 31 States, so that the adhesion of nine more States is required. It seems to be thought that these additional States will be secured.

The Republican National Convention, when in session a few weeks ago, rejected a similar proposal, although the Republican candidate, Mr. Taft, had expressed an opinion favorable to such a change. The Senate, as was to be expected, is opposed to any change in the method whereby its members are elected. But it seems to be probable that popular sentiment will become so strong in favor of the reform, that before long the necessary constitutional amendment will be passed by Congress.

Sooner than we reckon on there will be three instead of two great parties striving for the mastery in the government in the United States. The third party, which is coming to the front with leaps and bounds, is the Socialistic.

Singularly enough, with absolutely free speech and an unhampered press, Socialism has made slower growth in this republic than in the countries of the old world. In several of the governments of Europe they are so strong a minority as to have the balance of power. In the British House of Commons there are 31 Socialists; in the German Reichstag there are 43; no less than 54 sit in the French Chamber of Deputies. These are the legislative bodies which are nearest like our House of Representatives. In similar bodies in Austria, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and even Russia the Socialists are well represented. In great measure upon an elective form of government save the United States they find seats in the halls of legislature, but as yet no Socialist has been sent to Washington, at least as such.

But they are growing in numbers in the United States. Twenty years ago they cast only about 1,000 votes. Six years ago they cast nearly 230,000. In 1904 there vote totalled 435,000. This year they hope to swell it to close to a million. How long at this rate will it be before they have a strong representation in Congress? Indeed, how long will it be before they will have a right to contend in earnest for the Presidency?

Fortunately many of the theories of the old-time Socialists have either been abandoned or toned down, so that the word Socialism does not carry with it to-day the same terror to vested interests and individualism as of old. In fact, there are many persons who do not claim to be Socialists and who would hotly resent the imputation who possess opinions and advocate measures which the Socialists were the first to bring out and which only a few years ago would have stamped their advocates as dangerous malcontents carried away by an impossible dream.

Perhaps by the time the Socialists are in power they will have come nearer to the conservative level, or the conservatives will have approximated them in their desire for change of system, and so the bloodless revolution may not be so very dreadful after all.

According to an article in the National Food Magazine, the people of the United States are being defrauded to the extent of $240,000,000 every year, simply through the practices of those merchants who give short weight. This is an average of $3 a year for every man, woman and child in that country. The victims rarely know of the fraud, though they may suspect it. In some cases they may weigh or measure their purchases after they get home, but in far too many instances this is either neglected or impossible and the frauds continue. It is interesting, to say the least, to know how these deceptions are practised, even though nothing is done to remedy them. One of the most extensive of the short weight frauds is in the putting up and selling of what are known as "pound packages". Some of these weigh a full pound, others are half an ounce or an ounce short. This amounts to almost nothing to the defrauded purchaser, but to the firm putting up millions of packages the shortage aggregates a great profit.

Many of the alleged "quart bottles" are so far short of being full quarts that five of them will not hold more than a gallon. The same shortage can be detected in not a few of the pails and firkins in which fish, lard and butter are sold. There are so many of these that it is now the custom to sell such commodities, not by the pint, quart or gallon, but by the bottle, the can, the pail, the tub or the cask.

The same conditions apply to Canada and precautions should be taken by housekeepers to weigh and measure all goods received for family consumption.

Since the war with Russia the standard of living in Japan has increased 200 per cent. and the people are grumbling about their poverty. It takes a great deal more no wto satisfy a Jap than it did before. Mere existence, which was all that was asked by the masses, is no longer sufficient. The people demand more and better food—more of what we occidentals call the comforts. Their eyes are opened and the old standard will never again be acceptable. The people are heavily taxed, for the expenses of the war were enormous, and they are objecting to the burden. A wave of Socialism is sweeping over the land. Japan is making rapid strides in civilization, but her people are more unhappy than ever. Mind has conquered Russia; she supremacy-have to conquer herself.

One remarkable feature in the reform movement in China is the amazingly rapid development of the newspaper press. Seven years ago China had no newspapers except those started and controlled by foreigners. To-day there are more than 200 native journals. Pekin has a prosperous daily, started, edited and controlled by Chinese women—think of it! The government is encouraging the new-born appetite for news and is giving the newspapers every aid. The mass of the Chinese population cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper, but there is enough who can to make publication profitable. It is a common thing in the cities to see groups of men gathered on the street corners listening eagerly while some favored individual stands and reads a newspaper aloud.

Once China gets used to newspapers she will be in touch with the world and Europeans will no longer be "foreign devils."

The new patent law of Great Britain, which is of inestimable importance to this country, goes into operation this week. It stipulates that foreigners who may obtain British patents must manufacture the patented goods on British soil. On and after next Friday anyone, on application, to the comptroller of patents, may cause to be revoked any patent granted four years or more ago to any foreigner who manufactures the goods in question "exclusively or mainly" outside the United Kingdom. As American and German manufacturers are doing a large business in England, they stand to be forced to spend millions of dollars in the construction of plants in Great Britain, as provided by the new act. Last year England granted 2,045 patents to Germany and 1,781 to the United States. Over 20,000 British patents have been granted within the past three years to foreigners. Not one of these patents has hitherto been "adequately worked" in the United Kingdom. Among American manufacturers who are particularly hard hit by the new law are makers of type-writers, cash registers, all kinds of fine steel working machinery, elevator and pneumatic tube parts in addition to a thousand and one small articles sold by Americans under the protection of English registered patents. Many American and German firms have arranged to open branch factories in England to comply with the law.

According to an estimate of Sir Alfred Jones, says the Brantford Expositor, Great Britain will benefit to the extent of $125,000,000 by the working of the new act. How much the United States and Germany will suffer is a matter of conjecture, but it is certain that these countries will feel the effects of the law, as to comply with its provisions it will be necessary for the American manufacturers, for instance, practically to move a part of their factories to England and to employ British labor to do the work that is now being done by Americans.

Canada should profit by the experience of the State of New York, which has found out that the awarding of the contracts for large canal engineering projects in small sections at different times is more expensive and less satisfactory than awarding the contracts all at once. This is the experience of the Empire State in connection with the enlargement of the Erie Canal. When the Dominion Government, therefore, is prepared to undertake the construction of the proposed Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal, or other similar projects, as it must do before long, the lesson that can be learned from across the line should cause them to adopt the policy of awarding all the contracts at the same time and of pushing the work vigorously to completion.

"Instead of the work being planned in 'big mouthfuls', as is the usual custom in large canal engineering projects," writes Edward Mungerford in Harper's Weekly, concerning the enlargement of the Erie canal, "it was apportioned in tiny morsels, million dollar single contracts being the rule."

"The earliest contractors have taken their time, knowing full well that a time limit for their work on a canal that may not be finished within a century is farcical. They have proceeded in many cases without sufficient mechanical facilities, and in other cases with an unnecessary and frightfully expensive duplication of mechanical plants. A proper digging plant for a trench the size of the proposed barge canal will cost from one to three hundred thousand dollars. No contractor on a million-dollar job, with the law permitting him no assurance of a second contract, cares to spend a great sum on his plant and equipment. As a result, he struggles along with inferior tools, duplicates his plan extravagantly, and has in several instances bankrupted himself in the endeavor. Many of the largest and most representative of American contractors are refusing to touch the Erie job for this very reason. They want mouthfuls, not tribiets. Some of the contracts already advertised have had no bidders."

It would be wisdom then on the part of the Government not to commence any work until there is some definite assurance that it can be completed without further delay.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach, or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Inspector Mowat Gives Out Some Interesting Information

Inspector Mowat when asked if he had anything to report on Public school matters said that,

When the Public schools opened on September 1st, it was found that certain of the primary forms were overcrowded. Steps have been taken to remedy this and the organization is now fairly complete.

In the King Edward school there are now seven regular forms in addition to the kindergarten and while the forms are well filled there is no, so far, no overcrowding.

In the Park street school there are four forms, all well filled.

In the Ashburnham school there are five regular rooms in addition to the kindergarten and the classes are of the right size for good work.

The Queen Alexandra school was found to be overcrowded in primary part I. form while the third book classes were not sufficiently large for two divisions. This difficulty has been overcome by forming an additional primary class and combining the two third book classes into one. In order to do this a few third book pupils had to be transferred to the Central school and these were sent who live nearest this school.

To relieve the overcrowding at the Central school and South Central an additional class has been formed at the Central school and several transfers have been made from the South Central to the Central school. As a result of these changes the classes are now of such a size that better attention can be given the pupils than could possibly have been given under the old conditions. In all the changes made, the pupils welfare has been sought after.

There are now forty-three teachers engaged on the Public school staff and six kindergarten teachers.

An encouraging feature of the term's commencement is the large number of kindergarten pupils in attendance.

The opening of the Normal school marks an era in the Public school history of Peterborough, and the Board has done everything possible on their part to make the undertaking a complete success, and at the same time to derive the greatest possible benefit from its being in our midst.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

$50,000 Parcel Stolen from Express Co.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 8.—A package entrusted to the care of the Wells Fargo Express Company at Salem, Oregon, by J. R. Albert, president of the Capital National Bank of that city, and addressed to Joseph M. Meyers, at the Portland Hotel in this city, containing jewelry, notes, and other valuable papers representing over $50,000, is strangely missing. That the package reached Portland from Salem on the Southern Pacific train arriving here at 11.30 o'clock on the night of August 21 has been established beyond doubt, but what became of it after that hour is not known.

Supt. Beckwith, of the Portland office of the Wells Fargo Express Company, said today: "We have detectives at work on the case, and will never let up until we catch the thief, no matter how long it may require."

A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and wonderment from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Interpreter, Two Innocents Abroad, The Boxing Dance, the Italian Tenors duet, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Rialto, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Boulevardiers, Motor Beauties, English Girls, The New York Girls, and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-Bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

Clergyman's Wife Leading Double Life

Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—Judge James today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Rev. L. L. Knight, D.D., lecturer, writer, former pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., and former associate editor of the Atlanta Constitution, from Edith Nelse Knight, on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. Mrs. Knight is a prominent society woman of Atlanta, Ga.

The pastor told the court how he spent three years at Princeton and accepted a call to the Washington church.

"When I became a minister of the gospel my wife admitted to me that she had been leading a double life," continued the witness. "She also told me her love for me was cold.

"I wrote her every day asking her to come to me, but she replied always in the negative. I brooded over my home affairs so much that I was a complete wreck and I went to Europe on the advice of experts. When I returned I came to Los Angeles, two years ago. Since I have been here I have written her nearly every day, but she would reply with the most commonplace letters."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Weak Women

The weak and ailing woman, there is at least one way to help. Just what that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical ointment remedy supposedly remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood alterations.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and disinclinations, while the Restorative, upon nervous exhaustion, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic in the system. For positive local help, use as well

News in Brief

Vienna, Sept. 10.—Memorial services of a most solemn nature were held to-day in many Vienna churches, in memory of the Empress Elisabeth, who was assassinated by an anarchist in Geneva ten years ago to-day. Elizabeth was a daughter of Duke Maximilian of Bavaria and was married to Emperor Francis Joseph in 1854. She was universally loved and respected by the people of the dual monarchy and her memory is still held in affectionate reverence.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—The Wilbur iron mine, on the line of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, has closed down and is again in the hands of its owner, Wm. Caldwell, of Toronto.

Yorkton, Sask., Sept. 9.—The last of the fanatical Doukhobors have been taken back to their villages on the C. N. R. Their leaders were arrested and imprisoned. Some time ago their children were taken from them and placed in villages, the remainder tired of their mode of life under police surveillance, promised to be good if released and the police are now rid of their troublesome company.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—In winter the cab windows of locomotives are frosted so that the engineer might as well be blindfolded and many accidents happen.

Engineer James Warner, of the K. & P. Railway, has invented an air blast device and has successfully used it for two seasons on his own engine. It keeps the glass clear.

It is patented and can be installed for a few dollars, but because he has not enough money for extensive promotion he cannot get railway people interested in it.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 11.—Because of a recent accident, in which his automobile ran down and killed a deaf mute, John R. Ryan has withdrawn from his proposed race with Barney Oldfield, scheduled for to-morrow, and declared he will never race again. The contest between Oldfield and Ryan was to have been for a side bet of $2,500, and Ryan forfeits $500 through his decision not to race.

Dublin, Sept. 9.—A few days ago an attempt was made to sell 137 acres of meadowing and grazing farm at Ballymoo, County Roscommon. For a considerable time past, efforts have been made to secure the lands for distribution among the neighboring tenants. At the hour fixed for the sale a large crowd, mainly composed of women, collected, and, surrounding the auctioneer, began to blow horns, and to hoot. The auctioneer endeavored to dispose of the meadowing, but the bidders, if any, could not be heard, and he was obliged to leave. A force of police was present.

At the quarterly meeting of the Galway County Council the secretary said that the amount to be paid by the council in respect to decrees awarded by the Recorder under the Malicious Injuries Act amounted to $4,425. The principal item was the award to the Department of Agriculture in Ireland of $1,295 for the malicious burning of their premises at Athenry. The chairman said that it was the intention of the people of Athenry to petition the House of Commons to get the award to the department struck out, and he advised that the matter be allowed to stand until November, when Parliament would be in a position to consider the petition. The council adopted the suggestion.

New York, Sept. 8.— Alexander Berkman, the anarchist, will spend the next five days in jail. He was convicted in the night court at an early hour this morning of inciting a riot in a meeting at Cooper Union, and was sentenced to the workhouse. May Smith, a woman who was arrested with him, was fined $10.

Berkman, who during the Steel Works strike at Homestead, Pa., a number of years ago, shot Henry C. Frick and served a long sentence in jail for the act, attempted to preach anarchistic doctrines at a meeting of the unemployed under the direction of the Brotherhood Welfare Association. The meeting was organized by J. Eades How, known as "the millionaire hobo," and Dr. Ben Reitman, "King of the Hobos."

Dr. Reitman read a speech which he said had been written by Emma Goldman, and was followed by Charles Oberwager, former president of the Central Federated Union, who severely criticised the anarchistic doctrines in the address. It was while he was speaking that Berkman created a disturbance and insisted on being allowed to speak. Police swarmed into the hall, and after a struggle restored a semblance of order the audience having started a small riot. The woman giving her name as May Smith, attempted to assist Berkman and was arrested.

Emma Goldman, who was arrested, quietly left the hall when told that unless she went sane also would be arrested.

One of the best known mariners of the great lakes, Capt. James G. Parsons, passed away at Goderich on Sunday.

Why We Are All Mimics.

"If we did not cough in church, the human race would not exist." And the professor, twiddling a piece of chalk in his hand, regarded the sophomores with a quizzical smile.

"What I mean," he continued, "is that the cause of coughing is the cause of our survival. That cause is mimicry. Mimicry is a better life preserver than fleetness or strength. For by mimicry we manage not to attract attention, and in prehistoric times they who attracted attention were hunted down by the tribe and roasted for dinner or hunted down by the saber tooth tiger and taken raw.

"Since those dark days mimicry has been instinctive with us. Mimicry is what causes us to follow the fashions. It causes us, when in England, to say 'cawn't' and 'hawt.' If your friend yawns, you yawn—that's mimicry. If he laughs, you laugh—mimicry again. If he sneezes, you sneeze—mimicry. And if he coughs in church, straightway you and all the rest of the congregation cough, the reason being the same one which saved our forefathers from extermination."—New York Press.

Famous Floggers.

Among English schoolmasters whose names have come down to posterity with the dubious reputation of great floggers Dr. Busby of Westminster school is the generally acknowledged chief.

Of him it is recorded that, one of his head boys having insulted a young French viscount who came to the school to demand satisfaction, he flogged the viscount first for the bloodthirsty intentions and next his friend who was the bearer of his challenge.

Dr. Valpy, too, who edited an edition of the classics, was a potent wielder of the rod. Archdeacon Groom, who was a pupil of his, tells a story in illustration of his prowess. One of the boys had been flogged by the redoubtable doctor, and the lad's father came to complain.

"Sir," said Valpy to him, "I flogged your son because he richly deserved it. If he again deserves it, I shall flog him again, and," rising, "if you come here, sir, interfering with my duty I shall flog you."

The parent fled.

A Famous Architect's Trick.

When Sir Christopher Wren was rebuilding the town hall of Windsor, a fidgety member of the corporation, as the story goes, insisted that the roof required further support and desired the architect to add more pillars. In vain did Sir Christopher assure him that the danger was imaginary. He knew better. The alarm spread, and the great architect was worried into adding the desired columns.

Years passed, and in later times, when architect and patron were dead, cleaning operations in the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by two inches, though this was not perceptible to the gazers below.

By this ingenious expedient did Wren pacify his critics, while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady helping herself to his provisions. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said:

"Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Next day it was an egg, and so on, every day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Of course there was never any reduction in Pat's bill. One Saturday his bill came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, bundled up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm eloping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.

Beautifully Arranged.

Brown—Well, you've got the quarter. Is your sister coming down?

"I've arranged it beautifully, old chap. I told her it was you first, and she said to tell you she was out, and then I said I was fooling and that it was Charley Jones, and you ought to have seen her hustle to get into a clean shirt waist! She'll be right down!"

Stumped Through.

Sergeant Wilkins once defended a breach of promise case for a singularly ugly little man, which case he told the defendant, after reading his brief, must be "bounced" through. And the sergeant did bounce it through.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said at the close of a most eloquent speech, "you've heard the evidence for the plaintiff, and, gentlemen of the jury, you have admired that most bewitching lady, the plaintiff herself. Gentlemen, do you believe that this enchanting, this fascinating, this captivating, this accomplished lady would for one moment favor the advances or listen with anything save scorn and indignation to the amorous protestations of the wretched and repulsive homunculus, the deformed and degraded defendant?"

His client looked up from the well of the court and piteously murmured:

"Mr. Sergeant Wilkins! Oh, Mr. Sergeant Wilkins!"

"Silence, sir!" replied the sergeant in a wrathful undertone. "Gentlemen," he continued, bringing his fist heavily down on the desk before him, "do you think that this lovely lady, this fair and smiling creature, would ever have permitted an offer of marriage to be made to her by this miserable atom of humanity, this stunted creature, who would have to stand on a sheet of note paper to look over twopence?"

Instant verdict for defendant.—Tit-Bits.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-no's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy gets, by word of mouth from one to another. And it's in line the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz; —John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

A separate tender must be submitted for each section.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings, and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials, and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1,, District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2, District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & F"	150,000
Sec No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract;—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which fix, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, so far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery in one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,681.97 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,650 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Weary, Worn Out Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton, of Lowestown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The dizziness settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned off the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have clearer blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

What Do They Sure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the stomach affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, bladder, (as catarrh), dyspepsia, bowels (as sluggish bowels), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs, liver or the thyroid or adenoidal glands, it is said to have a specific curative influence in a majority of cases in affecting permanent cures.

"Favorite Prescription" is advised by the proprietors in cases of chronic (long standing) weaknesses, irregularities and painful ailments peculiar to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak overworked, over-worried women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulas of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glycerin extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Visiting Wards of the Government

Lindsay, Sept. 10.—Mrs. E. E. Sharpe, of Lindsay, who has been appointed visitor in the Midland District, to children, who are wards of the government, has been quite busy of late in making the annual visit to the little folks who are in foster homes where they have been placed by the several Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario and by the Provincial Superintendent of the Department, Mr. J. J. Kelso, during the past fifteen years.

The work in Peterborough and Northumberland Counties has recently been receiving attention.

Enlargement of the Hazel Brae Buildings

Hon. Senator Cox's semi-peculiar statement at the Liberal convention Saturday, that, while he was not an electric light, he still took a deep interest in the welfare of the county and city, and "left a good share of any little money he might make in Peterborough," is further justified in his latest benefaction. Senator Cox at his own cost is providing for the enlargement and improvement of the buildings of the Hazel Brae branch of the Barnardo Homes, which was originally donated by him.

Hon. Mr. Cox is providing the means of making an addition of three stories to the present Hazel Brae building. The new annex will be 32x48 feet in area and will consist of three stories. The basement floor will contain the lavatories, laundry, and furnace rooms. The first of the two other floors will be used for the dining rooms and associated apartments, and the remaining floor will be devoted to the sleeping rooms.

New verandahs will also be constructed, the heating system—hereto fore by steam, will be changed to hot water, and in fact, the entire building will be thoroughly renovated, modernized and improved, at an estimated cost of from $12,000 to $15,000, and in keeping with the requirements of the beneficient work there carried on.

Mother and Child

Both Fully Nourished on Grape-Nuts

The value of this famous food is shown in many ways, in addition to what might be expected from its chemical analysis.

Grape-Nuts food is made of whole wheat and barley—is thoroughly baked for many hours and contains all the wholesome ingredients in these cereals.

It contains also the phosphate of potash grown in the grains, which Nature uses to build up brain and nerve cells.

Young children require proportionately more of this element because the brain and nervous system of the child grows so rapidly.

A Va. mother found the value of Grape-Nuts is not only building up her own strength but in nourishing her baby at the same time. She writes:

"After my baby came I did not recover health and strength, and the doctor said I could not nurse the baby as I did not have nourishment for her, besides I was too weak.

"He said I might try a change of diet and see what that would do, and recommended Grape-Nuts food. I bought a pkg. and used it regularly. A marked change came over both baby and I.

"My baby is now four months old, is in fine condition. I am nursing her and doing all my work and never felt better in my life."

"There's a Reason."

The Largest Steamer

nothing that long experience and practical knowledge can suggest being wanting to make her as perfect as possible in all particulars. She has been designed on the cellular double bottom plan, the double bottom extending the whole length of the ship, and being specially strengthened under the engines to give still greater rigidity in the vicinity of the machinery. The vessel has 9 water-tight bulkheads, dividing her into 10 watertight compartments. As, of course, is well known, the double bottom in addition to being an element of strength and security provides space for water ballast, which is also carried in the fore and after peaks.

The passenger accommodation in the "Laurentic" has been carefully arranged, and will vie with anything afloat both as regards beauty and comfort. It is therefore, anticipated that the new vessel will prove a great favorite with the travelling public.

A feature of the entrances and public rooms will be their height and general roominess, and the staterooms will have the same characteristic. The decorations throughout will be of a truly attractive nature, realizing the ideal of the artist—richness and simplicity combined.

A brief description of some of the principal apartments should prove of interest. Commencing with the first-class dining saloon on the middle deck; this will be a very handsome room, decorated and panelled in elaborately carved oak. It extends the whole width of the ship, will seat 160 passengers, and have the popular "well" arrangement overhead, with verandah for the bandstand, for the "Laurentic" will carry her own orchestra, of skilled musicians. The furniture will be in oak, and the floor parquetry.

The spacious first-class lounge on the Upper Promenade Deck is sure to be a favorite resort of passengers. It will be in Louis XV. style, artistically panelled in oak, with a parquetry floor, the latter characteristic also applying to the reading room which is situated on the same deck, and will be exquisitely decorated in White.

The first-class smoke room is also on the upper promenade deck. It will be decorated with embossed leather, and handsomely carved framework will surround the windows. The furniture will be of mahogany and the floor in this instance will be of india rubber tiles.

The sleeping accommodation will be quite in keeping with the excellence of the public apartments. The staterooms will be situated on the lower promenade deck, and also on the shelter deck, and will include a number of cabins en suite, i.e., with private lavatory and bathroom adjoining each suite.

An electric passenger elevator serving four decks will prove acceptable to the Company's patrons, and show that the most exacting needs have been anticipated.

The second-class passengers on the "Laurentic" will find the provision made for their comfort second to none on the Atlantic. It is common knowledge that a considerable number of travellers nowadays do not wish for the acme of luxury to be found in first-class accommodation, but are amply satisfied with the comfort, and still artistic surroundings of the second-class. For these the White Star Line managers, ever watchful of the trend of the times, have specially provided, witness the fine dining saloon, which is on the middle deck, and extending as it does, the whole width of the ship, will seat no fewer than 263 passengers. The library on the lower promenade deck, smoke room on the upper promenade deck are also beautiful apartments, tastefully decorated in polished hardwood, and the spacious staterooms too call for mention.

The third-class quarters will compare favorably with similar accommodation on any steamer afloat, and the dining room situated aft on the upper deck is exceptionally fine, extending the whole width of the ship.

But the "Laurentic", as mentioned, will also carry a large quantity of cargo. There are six cargo holds and the derricks and other appliances for working the ship and cargo of the latest pattern, special attention being paid in the design of this steamer to the requirements of shippers in the Canadian trade. The "Laurentic" will have large refrigerated chambers both for provisions and cargo.

The Marconi system of wireless telegraphy will be installed on this steamer, which will also have a submarine signalling apparatus, the value of each being universally recognized.

From the foregoing particulars it will be seen that in the "Laurentic" the White Star Line is giving of its best; and as the Managers have already publicly intimated that the steamers in the new trade will be maintained in consonance with the highest traditions of its New York service, the results should be of a nature at once gratifying to the White Star Line and the people of the great Dominion of Canada.

The "Laurentic's" sister ship "Megantic" will shortly be launched—also from Messrs. Harland & Wolff's yard—but this twin screw steamer will be propelled by reciprocating machinery alone.

Rev. H. R. Trompour to Succeed Rev. Major

Rev. H. R. Trompour, curate of the Anglican church, of St. John's, N.B., was the choice of the congregation of All Saints' church as successor to Rev. Wm. Major, who leaves at the end of September to assume the position of assistant rector of St. George's church, Montreal. The meeting was one of the largest in the history of All Saints, and was presided over by Mr. Jas. Edgar, People's Warden.

Among the names considered were, Rev. Mr. Patterson of Arthur, Ont.; Rev. R. B. Grobb, of Port Hope; Rev. R. Purdon, of Dunnville, Ont.; Rev. Benj. Oliel, Millbrook; Ven. Archdeacon Bety; Rev. J. A. Tuney, Omemee, and others. Rev. Mr. Trumpour is not only curate of the Anglican Church at St. John's, but is also a teacher in a school for boys.

After the names were duly considered that of Rev. Mr. Trumpour was unanimously agreed upon for submission to the Bishop of Toronto for the approval, which it is expected will be given.

Rev. Mr. Major leaves Peterborough at the end of September, after a ministry extending over four years. He will be greatly missed, not only by his own congregation and in church circles generally, but by the community at large.

THE RING

Speaking of the charges made by Gene Hurtubise, the Peterborough wrestler, that Charlie Conkle, the Hamilton grappler, had backed down on the proposed bout between the pair of them, Conkle stated last night that the big chap was dreaming. "I am willing to meet Hurtubise at any time and at any place and agree to throw him twice in an hour, as I informed his manager, Chris Graham, when Hurtubise accepted my challenge, but when the time came for closing the deal, the Peterborough men failed to make good with the side bet. I am willing to bet $100 or $150 on the side that I can turn the trick on the Peterborough fellow, although he does weigh 30 or 40 pounds heavier. If they mean business let them post a forfeit and I'll be Johnny on the spot. It's up to the Peterborough bunch. I'm willing to book up at any time."

In addition to first base out a close play Jack Thoney fractured his leg, and will be out of the game for several days.

Billy Keeler has secured 2,878 hits since coming into major league company in the fall of 1892. Keeler hit for more than .3 for 10 years in different leagues, thirteen in the major leagues.

That catch by Street o fa ball tossed from the top of the Washington monument was accomplished with a massive catcher's mitt. Paul Hines and others made the attempt with bare hands—a big difference.

The biggest moneymaker of the year will be the New York Nationals, who probably will set a new mark for attendance on their home grounds, and who have shared in many big gates abroad.

In the American league the St. Louis team, unless it falls down badly from now on, will clear more than $100,000. The Browns were on velvet by July 1, and would have reached that stage earlier had they not been pestered by rain on Saturdays and Sundays in April and May.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are insteadily crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Mr. Charles H. Reid Acquitted of the Charge of Breach of Promise

To Marry a George Street Widow, by the Jury in the Meek Trial in the Conservatory of Music Hall Last Night

The Conservatory of Music Hall was crowded to the doors last evening, to listen to one of the most successful "farces" ever presented in a Peterborough playhouse. From the time the clerk opened the court till the order adjourned it, the audience was in a fit of laughter, listening to the testimony given by the plaintiff, defendant and witnesses, and the heroic, life-saving speeches made by Prosecuting Attorney A. V. Newton and Mr. Walter Davidson, who looked after the welfare of the defendant.

Mr Chas. H. Reid of The Morning Times, faced the judge and jury on that awful breach-of-promise of marriage. Although the verdict of the twelve honest men known as jurors was not guilty, does not show that the prisoner really deserved his freedom. The plaintiff was asked first to go into the box. She had resided in Peterborough all her life, or in other words since it was first inhabited by the early settlers, and kept a boarding house on George street, turning out hash to about fifty fussy, good for nothing men like the defendant. One night last July she was coming home about 10.30 o'clock when a terrible object approached her, that much resembled a fiery dragon. As soon as she saw it wild notes of help! fire! police! escaped from her keen, ever piercing tongue. Suddenly she heard footsteps coming down the street, and in a moment she was seized by some uncouth individual, whom she claims to be the defendant. When she saw what had happened, how her life had been saved; and seeing it was leap year proposed to marry the one who was the means of saving her life. He readily consented and escorted her home. By frequent correspondence they still kept acquainted but not for long. The plaintiff had a pretty niece who caught the defendant's eye, and not long after the plaintiff's hopes had been abandoned to spend the hard earned money of the one she really loved. By the advice of her friends she brought her case before the law, but as the verdict will tell little good did it do her.

The defendant stated that his letters to the home of the plaintiff were not for her but for her niece, who unfortunately possessed the same name.

When cross-examined by Colonel Newton whether he had seen the plaintiff after the night of his heroic act, he testified he hadn't. The evidence which his three witnesses gave was considered as useless by the court on the grounds that the plaintiff had bribed them by giving free meals for the last month. Needless to say they'd get them anyway, as all they paid at the meals was attention.

After a sojourn of forty long, tiresome minutes the jury returned with the much astonished verdict of "Not guilty."

Leaving all law-abiding facts aside we must congratulate Col. A. V. Newton on his heroic effort to convict the prisoner. We must not forget the defendant's attorney, Mr. Walter Davidson. His sympathetic plea for the defendant was certainly very effective. Much credit is due him for putting up such a noble fight in behalf of his client.

The following is the make up of the court;

Judge—Mr. R. F. MacWilliams.
Clerk—Mr. S. R. Armstrong.
Defendant—Mr. C. H. Reid.
Plaintiff—Miss Ruth Carlisle.
Defendant's Attorney—Mr. Walter Davidson.
Prosecuting Attorney—Col. A. V. Newton.
Court Officer—Mr. W. R. G. Higgins.
Crier—Mr. Geo. Martin.
Witnesses—Dr. J. Malcolm McCullough, Mr. W. G. Bruce, Mr. F. Simpson and Miss Florence Conveagy.
Jurors—Messrs. J. J. Turner, foreman; A. W. Greenman, J. H. Conseal, A. B. Cunningham, V. Eastwood, E. N. McWilliams, R. M. Glover, R. J. Kidd, R. L. Dobbin, J. F. Thornton, C. G. Graham, A. McFarlane.

Much praise is due to those who worked so hard to endeavor to make the Meek Court Trial a success.

TIRED, OFF COLOR LACKING STRENGTH

You feel real seedy.
No snap, ambition or spirit.
You've noticed your color is miserable.
Noticed that your blood is thin, that you feel the cold, that trifles bother and worry you.
You ought to be vigorous and ruddy—you eat enough, sleep fairly well—but still that listless feeling hangs right on.
To overcome this condition all the vital functions must be stimulated.
You accomplish this by taking Ferrozone.
How it makes the appetite jump.
There follows as a natural consequence an abundant supply of rich, red blood.
Vitality and strength you'll soon find throbbing within you, because your food is digested so thoroughly that it's readily assimilated.
You soon notice that your color is coming back, and endurance too, and soon the joy of life, health, vigor, strength—and with these come the old-time zest for everything that makes life worth living.
Ferrozone is a marvelous body-builder blood-former and strength giver.
Ferrozone, by supplying the aid the body needs to build up, gives the recuperative power that will enable you to do your work easily, and to maintain strength.
Try it for a month.
See if you don't find it just the thing you need to make you strong. Not a man, woman or child who needs more strength, better nerves and surer health who won't find it in Ferrozone. This nourishing tonic makes you feel like new—brings back the feeling of spirit and ambition you had years ago. Try Ferrozone, said everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Met with Serious Accident

At the C.G.E. Works yesterday afternoon Mr. Michael Sharpe, had a very painful accident by having two fingers of his left hand almost torn off. He was at once removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate them. Much sympathy is extended to the young man, as he was a particular favorite among the young men of the city.

Two Large Spots Seen on the Sun

Toronto Observatory Officials Busy Yesterday

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The Observatory had a busy time today satisfying an enquiring public's wonderment as to the prevailing haze, last night's lurid moon, and this morning's blood-red sun, together with the orb's spotted surface.

"Forest fires must be responsible for the haze," said Astronomer Blake. "The smoke, of course, made the moon red and sun blush. The spots on the sun, contrary to the general opinion of the laity, are not due to earthly causes. The earth, you know, is only 1 to 1,000,000 as compared with the sun, and would be lost in a twinkling on the sun's surface.

"Sun spots are due to sun disturbances. Now and then the sun's surface is clear of spots but not often. Only large spots are visible to the eye, unless you use a powerful telescope. Our big telescope has been dismantled since last April, but I have a smaller one that I'll use at noon.

"About these spots, the sun is a molten mass. Well, fragments sheet up. When they drop, somewhat cooled, spots appear on the sun. Glowing hydrogen, too, soars say 200,000 miles.

"The spots, to put it another way, are upheavings in the photosphere. No fire or smoke down here could have that effect, so the sun spots and the haze are from entirely different causes. The sun spots, speaking generally, are fixtures. Occasionally there is a movement, but it's really very slight. We speak of spots, but only relatively. Why, a large spot may be 200,000 miles long, and 100,000 wide. We speak of dark spots, too, but that's a comparative expression. The spots are dark when compared with the rest of the sun, that's all."

SAW TWO DISTINCT SPOTS.

At one o'clock, Mr. Blake told a reporter that he had discovered two very distinct spots on the sun's surface, on the western limb. These spots are surrounded by a dark nucleus, while the one nearest the center of the orb has a white, filmy band across it, with penumbral shadings. The easterly or outer part is followed by a multitude of smaller spots, indicating a very disturbed area.

Mr. Blake measures the diameter of these spots at from 15,000 to 20,000 miles. In the south-east quadrant there is another spot developing.

"These spots may be seen with the naked eye, or with a telescope or opera glass," said Mr. Blake, "but care must be taken to use a smoked glass."

FINE WEATHER.

"Fine weather all week now," said the weather man today. "It's fine all over Canada. There has been a shower in the gulf of St. Lawrence, and some moisture on the Pacific coast, but that's not much in Canada at large. Jacksonville, Fla., had 5.1-5 inches of rain yesterday, but in the United States it's about as dry today as in Canada."

Town of Brockville is Now Menaced by Fire

Brockville, Ont., Sept. 11.—At ten o'clock today Brockville was menaced by a furious bush fire two miles north of the town, and arrangements are being made for a corps to fight the flames.

REIGN OF BLOOD BY ATROCIOUS TURK

Zia Bey, Former Favorite of Sulten, Tells of Many Atrocities--Fears Young Turks--Dreads Discovery in America

New York, Sept. 11.—Zia Bey, Abdul Hamid's one-time favorite former head of the sultan's secret police, who fled Constantinople to avoid punishment when the forces of young Turkey got the upper hand and whose record of murders is a long one, has been in New York. But he fled back to England yesterday on board the Mauretania, fearful lest he should be discovered and perhaps extradited.

Zia Bey came to this country from London last week incognito, of course, and only a few of his fellow countrymen know of his presence here. Suspicious of everybody and dreading the fate awaiting him in Constantinople, he moved from one hotel to another, registering under assumed names. At the Hotel Lafayette on University place he gave his name as L. K. Ignatius. At 257 West Forty-fifth street he was known as Z. B. Koulianine. Gray and Samarin were other alias which he used.

ZIA BEY HYSTERICAL.

Zia Bey was one of the most repellent of the old Turkish regime and belonged to the clique at the Yildiz Kiosk, which organized revolutions for speculation, ordering massacres of peaceful inhabitants, sold public industries, turned the palace of the sultan into a place of murders and tortures, and kept the country for thirty-two years in perpetual terror.

When he was seen at the Hotel Lafayette he was almost hysterical and on the verge of nervous collapse. But he seemed willing to discuss Turkish politics, to talk about the Yildiz Kiosk and to criticise the young Turks. It was most dramatic when he disclosed his identity.

Pounding on the floor with his fist he said;

"Yes, I am Zia Bey, the chief spy of the sultan, the wretch, the rascal, the mischief-maker. I was a fool. I have been cruel, heartless and done many things which a man of conscience would not do. But do not blame me. I was brought up in that life. From my childhood I saw one plotting against the other; I saw graft, cruelty and followed the steps of others for my own promotion. From an obscure Tartar origin I advanced to become the perfect of the police in Constantinople, and was promoted to the Yildiz Kiosk, to deal with the secrets of the government.

"I am not to be blamed for what has been. It was the system, the policy of Abdul Hamid to surround himself with debonair men; they suited him best.

PUTS BLAME ON SULTAN.

"Whatever happened in the palace and in the empire was done by his order. Of course, ministers around him were accomplices, Tevfik Pasha, the grand vizier, Saniek Pasha, commander general; Riza Pasha, Izzet Pasha and Faim Pasha, all of them men of obscure birth and not real Turks, joined hand in hand for wholesale murders and atrocities.

"I was the head spy, next to Faim Pasha, who was executed after I escaped, and whose body was thrown to the dogs in the streets. My duty was to receive reports from the spy bureau and turn them over to the sultan. Abdul Hamid, from morning to late night, passed his time in reading these reports. Then the master would call me in and order me to do away with the man who dare me to do away with the man who was reported having mixed up in a revolutionary plot. When the man was brought to Yildiz Seldom were any questions put to him He was shot or thrown into the Sea of Marmora with an iron ring tied to his feet. His property was confiscated and divided among the palace officials. In fact such booty went mostly to Faim Pasha or myself.

HOW OPPRESSOR WORKED.

"Faim Pasha was my superior in the matters which you call old regime. He was the arch-terror of the land. One day Faim Pasha walked into an Armenian diamond dealer's shop and selected gems worth at least $100,000 and told the dealer that they were to be taken to the palace for the sultan. The gems were neither paid for nor returned to the merchant, instead the man was beaten and threatened with a long term of imprisonment.

"To arrest innocent individuals in order to extort money from their wealthy relatives was a common trick. The Armenian massacres were all premeditated, plotted and carried out by the officers at Yildiz with the consent of Abdul Hamid to enable Nazim and Izzet Pashas to make their fortunes.

"In 1895, when Nazim Pasha was the head of police and I was the professor in Constantinople, the Armenian revolutionary demonstration was planned at the police headquarters.

OLD REGIME STILL LIVES.

"The banishment of the sultan's creatures does not mean that the old regime is ended. Corruption exists now; it is in the heart of a Turk, no matter whether he be young or old. Turks cannot get away from their old traditions and customs. If one of them should cut his mousetache in Turkey, as I have mine, it would be his last day.

"I am a Tartar and have no respect for the Turk. What have they done for humanity? What have they produced? Their religion is foreign. Their language is a mixture of Arabic and Persian. They have no architecture and no original literature. Even the system of government they inherited from the old Byzantine empire."

German Emperor in France for First Time in Thirty-Seven Years

Paris, Sept. 11.—The government today received official information that Emperor William the army manoeuvres at Chesne-Lorraine being at an end, would this afternoon cross the French frontier in an automobile as a "simple tourist" for the purpose of enjoying the magnificent view from the top of the Schlucht Mountains.

Although considerably astonished that Emperor William should choose the present moment for the first visit to French territory made by a German Emperor since the King of Prussia was proclaimed Emperor at Versailles in 1871, the government at once despatched instructions to the customs officials to allow the Imperial auto to pass the frontier without examination and for the proper guarding of the route by gendarmes to prevent any unfortunate incident.

According to the official advices the Emperor will have to traverse only about one hundred yards of French soil in order to reach a point whence he can view the splendid panorama. The view includes the plains of Upper Alsace, the lakes of Longemer and Gerardmer, and the valleys of the Vologne and Moselotte rivers, which flow through pine forests into the Moselle.

Miss Fidgety Trimmed Blue Streak in a Sea

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Yesterday's motor boat race in the lake off the Exhibition Grounds over the National Yacht Club course was a decidedly exciting affair. A choppy south-west sea ran, and made things decidedly lively for the contestants. Only three of the four entries turned out, Smalley, the Brockville boat; Blue Streak and Miss Fidgety of Toronto. It was a foregone conclusion that barring accident the long slim Smalley would win handily. She went away from her rivals at the start, and slowly but surely threw out a lead, but the surprise of the day was when Art Sheldon in Miss Fidgety trimmed the saucy Jack Robinson's Blue Streak. The owners of these two boats are the keenest of rivals. The little varnished craft and the robin's egg blue flyer hooked up at the start, and the way they smashed into the seas in their endeavors to worst each other made the spectators sit up. They drove along at times half concealed by flying spray, when they were headed into the seas, but wet or dry they were held at top speed all the way. Miss Fidgety winning by 40 seconds.

The biggest moneymaker of the year will be the New York Nationals, who probably will set a new mark for attendance on their home grounds, and who have shared in many big gates abroad.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION IN BRANTFORD--SEVEN BURIED IN RUINS

Natural Gas Main Blew Up, Causing Eight Buildings to Collapse--Five Injured Removed from the Ruins

THE INJURED.

Albert Bolstock, at hospital; still unconscious.
Mrs. Bornie, visiting in nearby store, still unconscious, may die.
Joseph Blayberry, at hospital.
Charles Stower.
Lloyd Myers.
Hopes are entertained for the recovery of all the injured.

STILL IN DEBRIS.

Two children of Mrs. Bornie, it is expected they will be taken out alive.

Brantford, Sept. 11.—A terrible explosion, the worse in the history of Brantford, occurred this afternoon at two o'clock, when the south side of Colborne street, near King street, was blown up.

The cause is believed to have been natural gas.

Three people are in the ruins, although it is not known whether they are dead.

Four have been taken out of the ruins injured.

The stores demolished are;
The Chinese restaurant.
Theatorium.
John Bowel's bowling alley.
Henderson's tailor shop.
Williams' restaurant.
O'Neill's feed store.
Harris, broker.
Western Counties' power office, the latter being but slightly damaged.

BUILDINGS ALL COLLAPSED.

The buildings all collapsed and fell into the street.

Two horses were killed.

The fire department is out, but there are no flames.

The loss will be very heavy.

TWO CHILDREN IN WRECKAGE.

At 2.15 Mrs. Bornie was rescued from the ruins. Her two children are still buried. They were all in bed at the time.

Left Widow the Use of Slaves--Violated the Will

Windsor, Sept. 11.—Luc Montreuil, the central figure in the biggest land dispute in Western Ontario for many a year, is a pioneer resident of Sandwich East, being now past eighty years of age.

The property in question has been handed down from Antoine Decompte Labadie, an ancestor of Mr. Montreuil, whose father, Pierre Labidie, had three wives, one being the daughter of the chief of the Sioux tribe. In the will, which is dated May 28, 1806, the testator bequeathed to his wife the use or service of two slaves that she may select, as long as she continues to be a widow.

The claim is now made that Luc Montreuil did not abide by a clause in the will giving him only a life interest in the estate, but sold much of the property, worth well on to a million dollars. Seven children, out of a family of ten, are the claimants, one being Albert Montreuil, deputy collector of Customs at Walkerville. Not only large and valuable tracts owned or controlled by the Walkers, but also several large industrial concerns, as the Ontario Asphalt Block Co., the Globe Furniture Co., and Canadian Bridge Co., are affected. It is also thought that part of the Pere Marquette Railway will be included. On Luc's death the property was to have gone to the children.

One Windsor barrister gave a written opinion a short time ago that the title to the lands in question was invalid. He says a well-known Toronto firm of lawyers passed the titles and issued a printed abstract many years ago.

The tract in dispute runs for about half a mile along the river front, and is thickly populated.

Dr. MacPherson will Practice in Peterboro

Dr. A. W. MacPherson will open an office in Peterborough in the near future. Before graduating from the Toronto University he was on the staff of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and is well known and very popular in this city.

He has been at the Manhattan Maternity Hospital, New York, for the past three months and before that was on the staff of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. Dr. MacPherson arrived in the city yesterday and has not yet decided where he will open his office.

He comes with the reputation of being a skilful practitioner and being a skilful practitioner and should have a large practice in Peterborough and vicinity.

A Splendid Celebration

"Where have you been the night, Andrew?"

"Weel, I dinna richtly ken", answered the prostrate sinner, "whether it was a wedding or a funeral, but whatever it was, it has been a maist extraordinar success."

Cavendish Lumber Co. Have Settled

With the Otonabee Navigation Company for $100

It will be remembered that some time ago the Otonabee Navigation Company entered suit against the Cavendish Lumber Co., to recover damages sustained by a blockade of the latter company's logs in the river at Young's Point. The steamer Water Lily was coming down with passengers for the Peterborough market, and were unable to get through. The navigation company also lost the up traffic that afternoon. Rather than allow the matter to go to the courts the Cavendish Lumber Co., settled for $100, and they have sent their cheque to the Otonabee Navigation Company.

Silver Cup on Exhibition

The Review Cup that goes to the Strathcona Baseball Club, the champions of the Intermediate City Baseball League for the season of 1908, is on exhibition in the window of Lang & Mahor's clothing store. It was won by the West Ends last year, the first season of the league. The display of silverware that the Strathconas always have on hand is an indication of their prowess in the different sports they enter. They are at present holders of the Examiners Hockey Trophy which they obtained by winning the championship of the City Hockey League last winter.

A Wonderful Remedy

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of female disorders, falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, painful and suppressed menstruation, etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an Applied treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help but have a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 40 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing; and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 25 cent box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for ordinary treatment. Address, with stamp,

But now our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 60 feet wide for a distance of 150 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $22.00 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

PROF. GOLDWIN SMITH'S OPINION

Prof. Goldwin Smith writes in the Farmers' Sun as follows:—

Lord Durham felt confident that French Canada would be Anglicized. He seems even to have regarded its Anglicization as indispensable to the success of the union. It is needless to say how far his expectation has been from fulfilment. The French are still French, and French they are likely to remain, all attempt to convert them into Englishmen, either by persuasion or pageantry, notwithstanding. There is a strong National movement now, among them, with a journal bearing the Nationalist title, and a very active and popular politician for its leader. In the war with the Half-Breeds, two French battalions were called out, but were not sent into action, while one of the colonels left his command, and the subsequent attack on the personal character of a British General, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier played a leading part, showed plainly on which side the heart of the French Province had been. But apart from nationality, the Premiership, while it is held by a Frenchman, is inevitably under the influence of a foreign power. A foreign power the Papacy really is, though its political action is based on its religious profession. The passing of the school clauses of the Autonomy Bill through our Parliament by such means as were employed, while the chief disfavor falls on the British members, raises a question which, unwilling as we are in any way to hurt French or Catholic feeling, it is impossible to set aside. The French Province has now enjoyed twelve years of Premiership and has left a stamp on our legislation different from the promotion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, on which the Premier seems to ground his plea for a prolongation of his term of power. No unkindly feeling towards the French Province is involved in considering whether the term has not been sufficiently long.

THE ABUSE OF THE PICTURE POST CARD

Herr Schwartz of Germany is dead. His invention of the postal picture card lives after him and has become many things to many people.

As originally designed, the illustrated postcards offered a medium of educational intercourse between persons living or visiting in different places—even different lands. There were pictures of rivers, mountains, public buildings and sections of towns, usually from photographs. Portrait cards followed naturally. Then came the rush of "art" postals, of freak designs and, inevitably, of cards devoted to improper suggestions and downright obscenities.

In the United States and Canada the Postoffice lines were drawn long ago against postcards of vicious and malicious intent. The cable now reports English sentiment as shocked and angry over the vulgar products of French ingenuity which flood the mails and are displayed in the shop windows of the industrial towns, popular watering-places and some sections of London.

Even with regard to postcards of proper design their collection has become a fad almost of the proportions of a nuisance-in-ordinary.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

Editor Morning Times:

Dear Sir,—Be kind enough to grant me space in your morning paper to make the following explanation, of how to operate a fire alarm box.

To send an alarm of fire, open the outside door of the fire alarm box, and pull the hook down once.

It is of vital importance that every citizen should learn how to operate the fire alarm boxes; and if the above explanation is not clear we cordially invite the citizens to visit the fire station where any of the firemen will be pleased to give a practical demonstration.

Any telephone can be used free of charge for sending an alarm of fire. All that is required is to call the Central and tell the operator where the fire is. Or if you wish to speak direct to the fire station the number is 14, on both telephones.

When the operators receive messages of fire they turn in three rings to the fire station, and the horses are turned out in readiness to proceed to the fire, as soon as the exact location is ascertained.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

Yours respectfully,
(W. A. HOWARD,

Balky Bridegroom is Landed in Gaol

More Trouble for Nelson, who Failed to Show Up for Wedding

Montreal, Sept. 11.—Thomas Nelson, the young man who arranged to marry Miss Maude M. Strike and failed to appear at the time set for the wedding, is in the common jail of Montreal on a capias issued by the bride that was to be, and there he will stay until his case has been pronounced upon by a judge of the Superior Court.

The arrest took place last night at the home of the accused, 61 Walker avenue, St. Henri. He took the matter very quietly, and says that he will be able to give a satisfactory answer to the charge of breach of promise when the case is tried.

Miss Strike lives at Point St. Charles and is a sister of the late "Jimmy" Strike, who was a well known local pugilist. Nelson arranged to marry her, and the date was set for the wedding to take place twelve days ago. Twenty-four guests were invited to the wedding feast, and the bride-to-be was always in the wedding gown awaiting the coming of Nelson. Rev. Archdeacon Ker was at Grace Church ready to perform the ceremony and he waited long after the appointed hour. Nelson did not turn up, and there was much consternation. The next day there was no satisfactory explanation and a suit for $5,000 damages was entered in court. Yesterday a capias was issued and Nelson was hauled into custody. Mr. Charles Lonergan, last evening, fixed the bail at $500, but so far the defendant has failed to get anyone who will be sure responsible to that amount.

Father and Daughter Rescued from Death

After sinking up to their armpits in the mud and quicksand of Coney Island Creek, back of the Brighton Beach racetrack, yesterday afternoon, Frank Kaare, fifty years old, of No. 86 East 103d street, a manufacturer of steam pipes, and his thirteen-year-old daughter Josephine were rescued with planks and rope. They were much exhausted and were under the care of a physician for some time before they were able to go home.

Kaare went down to Coney Island yesterday with his wife, his daughter and his son Charles, twenty-three years old. The family was picking wild flowers in the fields back of the racetrack, when the father, in trying to reach a particularly attractive blossom growing on the slippery bank of the creek, lost his footing and in an instant was sinking deep into the mud.

His daughter went to aid him, and when she, too, stuck fast, Charles ran to the Coney Island Water Works plant, near by, and summoned help. By laying the planks on the mud and securing ropes under the arms of Kaare and his daughter the imperilled ones were rescued.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. That explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Death Eluded Him on Many Occasions

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 9.—Whether Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, who was found on his front porch dying from the effects of a bullet wound a week ago, was murdered or took his own life is still an unsolved mystery, but if he did not commit suicide it was not because he had not planned to do so. For three years he had been carrying on a series of terrible experiments upon himself, the object being to end his existence in a manner that would avoid the stigma of self-murder so that his life insurance policies would not be declared void.

CANCER WAS TOO SLOW.

The first of this ghastly series of experiments took place in April, 1905. Soon after Dr. Rustin had told his friends that he would soon be dead he reported a malignant cancer in his throat and said that a Chicago specialist had declared a difficult and almost invariably fatal operation must be performed. He tried to have the operation performed in Omaha, but failed.

The ravages of the terrible cancer germ were too slow for the experimenter, for several months later Dr. Rustin sent to the Bacteriological Laboratory of the University of Chicago and procured two tubes containing pure cultures, one of tetanus, the other of typhoid. He carried these tubes about in his pocket for a few days, telling his friends of their possibilities.

IN THE GRIP OF TYPHOID.

Two weeks later Dr. Rustin's second experiment began to show their effects. The experimenter was taken down with typhoid of the most malignant type. The physician whom he called could not handle the case.

Day after day, when his system showed signs of rallying, Dr. Rustin injected more of the fever cultures into his system until delirium stayed his hand.

DEATH ELUDED HIM.

Tetanus germs were next in order, and these Dr. Rustin injected into his leg, but these germs for some strange reason failed to thrive, and still another attempt was made to overtake death, so long elusive. It is said that Dr. Rustin cunningly opened a vein in his wrist when a train on which he was a passenger was wrecked, but still he did not die, although no one ever heard him admit that he had abandoned his terrible resolution.

Dr. Rustin's friends a year ago attempted to obtain his promise never again to attempt suicide, but were repulsed when he replied: "The next time I try it there will be no doubt about it. I will be successful."

News in Brief

London, Sept. 9.—On behalf of the women of South Africa, Princess Christian presented their gift of silver to H.M.S. Good Hope, the flagship of Rear-Admiral Sir Percy M. Scott, on Wednesday, at Portsmouth. A silver challenge shield for annual competition among the gun crews of the vessel is part of the women's gift.

"I found the key of the churchdoor under the mat in the porch, and something—I suppose it was the devil—told me to go inside." Thus a laborer named John William Bissell explained how he came to break open the offertory boxes of St. Mary's church, Ospwa. He was committed for trial to the next assizes.

SWIMMER SWEPT AWAY.

A visitor from Kensington to Dover swam out from the bases west of the Admiralty pier, and was swept out to sea by a rapid tide. The lightship men two miles off shore heard his cries, and signalled to the harbor works. In answer a boat handily near put off, and rescued the swimmer, who was much exhausted. He rewarded his rescuers, but did not identify.

RAID ON RURAL POST BOXES.

A raid on Hampshire churches which occurred at this time last year is being repeated by a thief, who is said to be mounted on a bicycle. A dozen post boxes have been despoiled. The last theft occurred at Holybourne, where the thief got over a sovereign from one box. Wrecclesham and Rowledge churches on the Surrey borders have also been visited.

London, Sept. 10.—Fifty-one Protestant societies have decided to petition the King against the Roman Catholic Eucharistic Congress having a street procession.

A committee of three waited on the Home Secretary on the subject, and the following telegram was sent to 400 peers and members of the House of Commons:—

"Fifty-one Protestant societies, assembled in London this afternoon, fearing that the Roman Catholic procession on Sunday may cause riot and even bloodshed, earnestly request you to at once warn the Home Office, asking that the carrying of the Host may be forbidden."

PROTEST TO THE KING.

Following is the address which was sent to King Edward by the Protestant Federation yesterday against the reported intention to receive the Papal Legate, and which was followed by the announcement that his Majesty purposed being absent at the Lancaster Fuse meeting:—

"Precedents support our contention as far back as Henry VIII. and Queen Elizabeth from after the latter's accession to the throne the Pope proposed to send a legate on a special mission to her Majesty. At a meeting of her Majesty's Council, held at Greenwich, on May 1, 1561 the matter was considered, and the council decided that by the ancient laws of the realm no legate or nuncio could enter the country without a license from the reigning monarch and that recent legislation by Parliament had made it not only against the law that the nuncio should come, but that any person by word or deed should allow his coming. This law has never been abrogated, and stands today as then."

New York, Sept. 9.—The Haine brothers do not like being kept in separate cells. District Attorney Darrin does not, however, look seriously on the threatened steps of their counsel to have them put together. He said they should have been kept apart when first locked up. Capt. Haine is said to have received a letter from a Tennessean advising him to commit suicide. The communication set forth that the writer was a Southerner, and believed in the code of honor and the "unwritten law." He approved of the act of the brothers in taking vengeance on the man they held responsible for wrecking the family honor. Going a point further, however, the writer called the attention of the captain to the "unsportsmanlike manner" in which the "killing" was carried out. Annis, he said, should have been haled, publicly charged with the offence, and then shot. The failure to do this left a blot upon the code of honor which could only be wiped out by the sacrifice of another life; and it was up to the captain to "make good," the writer said. For his failure to observe the strict requirements of the code of honor in not sacrificing Annis that pestilent man's career about to begin, the writer, in the most courteous manner, requested the captain to "please commit suicide," and thus wipe out the blain on the unwritten law.

$80,000 Parcel Stolen from Express Co.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 8.—A package entrusted to the care of the Wells Fargo Express Company at Salem, Oregon, by J. R. Albert, president of the Capital National Bank of that city, and addressed to Joseph M. Meyers, at the Portland Hotel in this city, containing jewelry, notes, and other valuable papers representing over $50,000, is strangely missing. That the package reached Portland from Salem on the Southern Pacific train arriving here at 11.30 o'clock on the night of August 21 has been established beyond doubt, but what became of it after that hour is not known.

Supt. Bookwith, of the Portland office of the Wells Fargo Express Company, said today: "We have detectives at work on the case, and will never let up until we catch the thief, no matter how long it may require.

It is thought that the package was taken from the Union Depot office some time between 11.30 p.m. August 21 and 1.30 p.m. Aug. 22. When Banker Albert entrusted the valuables to the Express Company he specified $10 as its value, and for that reason the package was not placed in the company's strong box, or the theft would not have been possible.

A Big Attraction

The Great Event at Ottawa During Fair Week

"The Red Mill" fresh from the triumphs at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, where it held forth for an entire year, will be the attraction at the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, for the entire week of the Fair, commencing Monday Sept. 21st with a Wednesday and Saturday matinee.

There has not been in years such a Comic Opera success as The Red Mill, and this great production which keeps the audience in laughter and amusement from the beginning to the end, has been secured by the Russell Theatre Management at a great expense, in preference to any other attraction, with which to furnish its out-of-town patrons a rare treat.

At this great performance you will see the escape from the Mill, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the Waiter and Interpreter, Two Immortals Abroad, The Boxing Dance, the Italian Troubadours, The Whistling Trio, Fifth Avenue Chappies, Knights of the Rialto, Fifth Avenue Belles, Bowery Belles, Broadway Soubrettes, Motor Beauties, English Girls, The New York Girls,—and hear the following great song hits—The Streets of New York, Every Day is Ladies' Day With Me, Because You're You, Whistle It, Go While the Goin's Good, Mignonette, A Widow Has Ways, Good-a-bye, John, The Isle of Our Dreams, You Never Can Tell About a Woman, I want you to Marry Me.

Anyone wishing seats in advance may secure same by communicating with the Manager of the Theatre and tickets will be mailed you, or held at the Theatre until your arrival in town.

Clergyman's Wife Leading Double Life

Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—Judge James today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Rev. L. L. Knight, D.D., lecturer, writer, former pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., and former associate editor of the Atlanta Constitution, from Ruth Nelso Knight, on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. Mrs. Knight is a prominent society woman of Atlanta, Ga.

The pastor told the court how he spent three years at Princeton and accepted a call to the Washington church.

"When I became a minister of the gospel my wife admitted to me that she had been leading a double life," continued the witness. "She also told me her love for me was cold.

"I wrote her every day asking her to come to me, but she replied always in the negative. I brooded over my home affairs so much that I was a complete wreck and I went to Europe on the advice of experts. When I returned I came to Los Angeles, two years ago. Since I have been here I have written her nearly every day, but she would reply with the most commonplace letters."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else matters. At least so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—causes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, through safety, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Prove it for yourself, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always is. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Breach of Promise

Participants in Mock Trial at the Conservatory

On account of the importance of the case, the committee having charge of the details of the great Mock Court Trial, to be given under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. in the Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening, September 11th, have secured the services of Col. A. V. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., as prosecuting attorney while the defendant not to be outdone, has retained Mr. Walter Davidson, to defend his hitherto good reputation. Col. Newton is widely known as an eloquent off hand speaker, but Mr. Davidson will make the battle of his life and will undoubtedly make it exceedingly warm for the gentleman from Worcester.

As there is a general desire to know those who are to take part in the trial we publish the list in full with the exception of the defendant. It will be a long time before so many of our prominent people are again seen in just such a relation and it will be well for all who desire an evening of rare enjoyment to be present and hear what they have to say about the Breach of Promise Case. This is the make-up of the court

Judge—Mr. R. F. McWilliams.
Clerk—City Clerk Mr. S. R. Armstrong.
Plaintiff—Miss Ruth Carlisle.
Defendant's Attorney—Mr. Walter Davidson.
Prosecuting Attorney—Col. A. W. Newton of Worcester, Mass.
Court Officer—Mr. W. R. G. Biggins.
Crier—Mr. George Martin.
Witnesses—Dr. J. Malcolm McCullough, Mr. W. G. Bruce, Mr. Frank Simpson, and Miss Florence Conversey.
Jurors—Messrs. A. W. Crossman, J. J. Turner, jr., J. H. Connal, A. B. Cunningham, V. Eastwood, E. N. McWilliams, R. M. Glover, R. J. Kidd, R. L. Dobbin, J. F. Thornton, C. G. Graham, S. McFarlane.

Inspector Mowat Gives Out Some Interesting Information

Inspector Mowat when asked if he had anything to report on Public school matters said that,

When the Public schools opened on the 6th inst. it was found that certain of the primary forms were overcrowded. Steps have been taken to remedy this and the organization is now fairly complete.

In the King Edward school there are now seven regular forms in addition to the Kindergarten and while the forms are well filled there is, so far, no overcrowding.

In the Park street school there are four forms, all well filled.

In the Auburndale school there are five regular forms in addition to the kindergarten and the classes are of the right size for good work.

The Queen Alexandra school was found to be overcrowded in primary part I. form while the third book classes were not sufficiently large for two divisions. This difficulty has been overcome by forming an additional primary class and combining the two third book classes into one. In order to do this a few third book pupils had to be transferred to the Central school and those were sent who live nearest the school.

To relieve the overcrowding at the Central school and South Central an additional class has been formed at the Central school and several transfers have been made from the South Central to the Central school. As a result of these changes the classes are now of such a size that better attention can be given the pupils than could possibly have been given under the old conditions. In all the changes made, the pupils welfare has been sought after.

There are now forty-three teachers engaged on the Public school staff and six kindergarten teachers.

An encouraging feature of the term's commencement is the large number of kindergarten pupils in attendance.

The opening of the Normal school marks an era in the Public school history of Peterborough, and the Board has done everything possible on their part to make the undertaking a complete success, and at the same time to derive the greatest possible benefit from its being in our midst.

HEARSE COACH ON FIRE.

Passengers by the late mail to the north fled from the carriages when the train ran into Burton-on-Trent the other night. One of the coaches was in flames. People were horrified then to discover that the burning carriage held, not living passengers, but an embalmed body which was being sent north. The coffin was scarcely charred, however, when the fire was extinguished.

First Dining Car.

"Just forty years ago," said T. C. Newton, a Chicago railroad man, "the Chicago and Alton railroad put on the first dining car ever operated on any railway train in the world. This was on the run between Chicago and St. Louis. If that car could be exhibited now it would create universal merriment. It had oilcloth table covers, the seats were screwed to the floor, and its illumination depended on candles.

"Think of the contrast between that primitive affair of 1868 and the modern dining car, finished in solid mahogany, with gorgeous furniture and a menu as elaborate and coloring as dainty as those supplied by any of the foremost hotels of America. Verily we have been 'going some' in the four decades that have gone by since the Alton's first crude experiment."—Baltimore American.

Camera Eye and Index Brain.

What would you say of a gentleman who having looked once into the face of each of those soldiers that made up the grand army which Napoleon took to Russia and being told the soldier's name would know him, name and face, two years, ten years, twenty years later? Think of a gentleman who could thus have called the muster roll of an army of 100,000 men. Such, however, would seem to be the full power of eye and memory which belongs to Detective William P. Sheridan of Mulberry street, New York, the "man with the camera eyes," and a new estimate declares that he has filed away in his brain, each tagged with the proper name, the pictures of no fewer than 100,000 men.—Broadway Magazine.

Wrecking Windmills a New Industry.

The passing of the windmill in England, anticipated by such recent power producers as the gas engine and electric motor, has given life to a new industry—windmill wrecking. The old windmill builders understood their business and meant their handiwork to last, and so the demolishing of such structures is no simple task. Many of the old mills stood 100 feet high and had eight or nine floors fitted with four runs of stones and contained tons upon tons of brick. Often these huge mills stand close to other buildings, and accidents would be inevitable if the wreckers did not have experience in their tasks.—Popular Mechanics.

The Mighty Amazon.

The estimated length of the Amazon from its source in the Andes to where it debouches in a mouth forty miles wide into the Atlantic is 4,000 miles. The story is told of a wrecked vessel which was drifting, with her crew on board suffering intense torment for lack of fresh water, which entered the mouth of the Amazon and the sufferers could have had fresh water simply by putting a bucket over the side, but did not know where they were until they got in sight of the land. This mighty river, up which the tide goes 600 miles, is known in the upper part of its course near the Andes as the Marañon, then in the middle course, from Tabatinga to the mouth of its chief affluent, the Rio Negro, as the Solimoes, while for the rest of its course its name is Amazonas or Amazon. A thousand miles from the sea it is four miles in width. Vast and often impassable forests line most of its banks.

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the house of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters romping in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," chortled the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overstudious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best pieces we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 29th day of October, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz;—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Waymontashing, in the province of Quebec, 196.36 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Waymontashing, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros.' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 26 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.13 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also in the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and A. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

A separate tender must be submitted for each section.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any persons on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows;—

Sec. No. 1., District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2. District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3, District "D & E"	150,000
Sec No. 4, District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5, District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6, District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract;—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"The agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

By order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.
The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 5c per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 10 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,681.20 to the ton. And all ten averaged over $1,640 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

How to Tell.

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore,—that's all put down to bad weather.

Don't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every Mitheday a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharps twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite and loss of sleep. Reach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

Bush Fires Raging in Ennismore

The intelligence was received yesterday morning from Ennismore that a bush fire was raging in the wooded property of Mr. Edward Cockery and Mr. Wm. Creegh, between the bridge and the Creek. While it was not extremely large there was, however, a danger of it spreading to more extensive woods. The neighbors have been fighting it during the last few days and are on the alert to keep it within a small boundary.

Physical Director Doing Well

Mr. G. L. Galley, formerly of Peterborough, but now physical director of the Port Hope Y.M.C.A., is making a favorable impression and has already entered into the spirit of the work there. Although being a specialist in the physical department he is vitally interested in every branch and shows all he can to promote the spiritual welfare of the men and boys of that organization. Mr. Galley is well pleased with the town and citizens and also the bright prospects of an aggressive Y.M.C.A. work this season.

Germans Celebrate

Washington, Sept. 15. — Bennings race track was the scene yesterday of a big German Day celebration under the auspices of the United German Societies of Washington. An extensive literary and athletic program was carried out. The celebration commemorates the anniversary of the landing in America of the first German immigrants, headed by Francis Daniel Pastorius, who founded a colony at Germantown, Pa., in 1683. The actual anniversary of the landing is October 6, but it was decided to hold the festivities earlier this year.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if modified properly investigate them and by combination of this conviction, he made with prayer the almost marvelous cures effected by his [illegible] Discovery, which has proven itself to be the most potent of all known tonic and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, Bright's Disease, Torpid Liver, Torpidity and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's many painful ailments, weaknesses and [illegible] is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is amply attested by thousands of [illegible] testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of [illegible] after many other so-called remedies and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed — built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Charles H. Sawle will Have Charge

Of the News End of The Morning Times—Will Resume His Duties Monday Morning

The many Peterborough friends of Mr. Chas. H. Sawle have been giving him a warm welcome upon his return to the city. He arrived on Thursday morning and will assume his duties as news editor on The Times on Monday morning. Mr. Sawle needs no introduction to the people of Peterborough as he filled the city editor's chair on The Review staff for two years and he and his work are well known to the reading public. Since leaving Peterborough he was managing editor of the Preston Progress and made it one of the brightest and best paying propositions in the weekly newspaper world. He made good in Preston, not only as a newspaper man, but with the people and he left a wide circle of warm friends behind when he came back to Peterborough.

Starting on Monday morning Mr. Sawle will endeavor to bring the Morning Times up to a high standard. The main object will be to get all the news, to get it first and get it correct. To accomplish this will require a lot of hard work, but with the assistance of the public, which is heartily solicited, as to which it is felt will be readily tendered, the task will be made possible. What is asked now from the public is just a little patience and in a short time it is hoped that a big difference will be noticed in the composition, make-up and appearance of The Times.

The Berlin News-Record referring to Mr. Sawle's departure from Preston had the following to say:—

Mr. C. H. Sawle, business manager, and editor of the Preston Progress, has severed his connection with that office and left for Peterborough, where he takes a position on The Morning Times of that city. Mr. Sawle made good on the Progress and no doubt will succeed wherever he goes, since he is possessed of a good head and genial disposition. Good luck to him.

24th Field Battery Arrived Home

The 24th Field Battery arrived in the city about 4.30 last evening after spending their annual two weeks' holiday at Kingston. During their visit, they were put through a course of shooting, marching, and a few sham battle took place. It was reported last evening that Col. Edwards' company were successful in winning the last sham battle. This statement is incorrect as Col Sam Hughes' forces carried off the honors

Another Coffee Wreck

What's the Use When There's an Easy Way Out

Along with the coffee habit has grown the prevalent "American Disease"—nervous prostration.

The following letter shows the way out of the trouble

"Five years ago I was a great coffee drinker and from its use I became so nervous I could scarcely sleep at all nights. My condition grew worse and worse until finally the physician I consulted declared my troubles were all due to coffee.

"But being so wedded to the beverage I did not see how I could do without it, especially at breakfast, as that meal seemed wholly incomplete without coffee.

"On a visit some friends deprived me of coffee to prove that it was harmful. At the end of about eight days I was less nervous but the craving for coffee was intense, so I went back to the old habit as soon as I got home and the old sleepless nights came near making a wreck of me.

"I heard of Postum and decided to try it. I did not like it at first, because, as I afterwards discovered, it was not made properly. I found, however, that when made after directions on the package, it was delicious.

"It had a soothing effect on my nerves and none of the bad effects that coffee had, so I bade farewell to coffee and have used only Postum since. The most wonderful account of the benefit to be derived from Postum could not exceed my own experience."

"There's a reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Wish Britain to Return to Faith

London, Sept. 11.—The Eucharistic Congress held a huge meeting in Albert Hall last night, the Cardinal Legate presiding.

The Archbishop of Monreal, speaking in French, said the congress must remind the Cardinals of the glorious days of Rome. He represented Quebec as the most Catholic land in the British Empire. The recent protest by the Protestant societies against the proceedings of the congress was not a national protest. He was sure. Moreover, the congress was being greeted with sympathy and respect in every quarter.

A NEW TRIUMPH.

The congress marked the return of Catholicism into its old kingdom. The whole Catholic world was now looking toward Westminster, where three days hence the Eucharist, after being carried through the streets of the first capital in the world, protected by the British flag, the symbol of civil and religious freedom—applause—would find a new triumph.

As a result of the congress he would cherish the hope that the whole of England would return to the Catholic faith. The Archbishop who spoke most eloquently, had a splendid reception.

LOYAL TO THE FLAG.

Prior to the Albert Hall meeting the Archbishop of Montreal took part in a debate, in which he aroused the most fervent applause of any speaker. He spoke of the complete religious freedom in Canada, and the piety of the French-Canadians. Then, pointing to the Union Jack and the Papal standard, he brought down the house by declaring that the Catholics of Canada are "equally attached to the flag of our faith and the flag of our loyalty."

He concluded by inviting all to the Eucharistic Congress in 1910 in Montreal.

The Protestant Alliance may get an injunction forbidding the carrying of the Host. An old law, which has never been repealed, is said to prohibit the procession.

A clever, popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere in a few hours. Preventics are said to break any cold—completely. And Preventics, being so safe and toothsome, are very fine for children. No Quinine, no Laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Box of 48—25c. Sold by all dealers.

Frank W. Fowler, aged 38, of Toronto, was arrested at Boston on a charge of forgery. He was held for extradition on September 18 under $5,000 bonds. Fowler was arrested at one of Boston's leading hotels, following his alleged passing of a forged order for $10,000 worth of stock upon Inspector Wolfe.

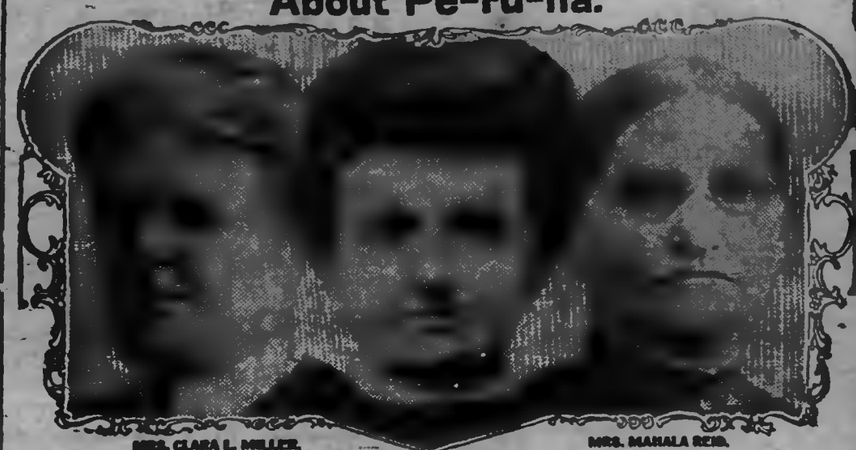
LETTERS FROM WOMEN
About Pe-ru-na.



MRS. CLARA L. MILLER. MRS. S. L. JEWELL. MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna.

It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peruna. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peruna is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous Chronic Bronchitis.

Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia Station, Seattle, Wash., formerly vice president of Sheegay Country Club, writes:

"Nine bottles of Peruna cured me of a protracted case of bronchitis. There is no superior remedy that I know of, as the action of Peruna on the vaso motor system of nerves is very beneficial. It increases the tone of the system and aids nature to perform her functions.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends, who speak in the same high terms of it. I have certainly found it a most efficacious medicine."

Nervous, Tired and Weak.

Mrs. Christine Smukalla, 49 Winslow Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I trust every one suffering from systematic catarrh will read this and profit by it.

"I was in a very bad condition indeed, when I began to take Peruna, and my friends as well as myself were very much alarmed over my condition. I was always nervous, could not sleep at night, my food did me no good, and I was always tired and weak. I tried several doctors, but found no relief.

"Finally I took two bottles of Peruna and felt like a different woman. However, I did not stop there, but kept on with it until I had taken several bottles, when I felt completely cured, and have remained so ever since. I can eat and sleep now."

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes:

"Having used Peruna myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peruna."

Keeps Pe-ru-na in the House.

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"Dr. Hartman's remedies have proven to be reliable and wonderful. Their effect upon the system is remarkable. Peruna quiets the nerves, and is a great specific for all forms of chronic catarrh.

"I am very glad to say that I can write you that I am cured in every way of catarrh, with which I had suffered terribly for ten years. I cannot thank you enough for your advice."

Constipation, Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Mahala Reid, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes:

"Your celebrated remedies have been a wonderful boon to me in my old age. I have not been in so good health for several years as now.

"I was troubled with constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble. A little over two years ago I completely lost my health, becoming almost helpless, when a dear friend sent me your remedies, Peruna and Manalin.

"I began to take them, following the directions on the bottles. I very soon began to feel benefited by their use, and continued to take them.

"I am now completely recovered from the above ailments, in fact, better than I have been for years past.

"I cannot praise the remedies too highly and will always recommend them to others."

A Well-Known Remedy.

Peruna is a catarrh remedy that has been in the field for many years. Other catarrh remedies have come and gone, but the reputation of Peruna has outlived them all.

Peruna is a combination of efficient herbal remedies that wields a powerful influence on all the mucous membranes of the body, and hence reaches catarrh wherever it is located.

GEORGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH WAS RE-OPENED YESTERDAY

Rev. Dr. Young, of Montreal, Preached Two Excellent Sermons --"Canada for Canadians," The Main Feature of the Evening Address-- Debt on Church Raised

The reopening of the George street Methodist church yesterday was marked by two special services and two very large congregations. This large edifice has been closed for the past eight weeks undergoing repairs and improvements, the principal alteration being the conversion of the time worn walls and ceiling into a bright and cheerful spectacle. The work was undertaken by the Ladies' Aid Society, with the sanction of the Board of Managers. A force of decorators and artists were put to work and the result of their labors is indeed gratifying.

The cost of the improvements was something over $1700, and this was raised yesterday, either by collection or donation, another feature which is most pleasing. The Ladies' Aid is due much credit for their courage in undertaking and for the successful carrying through of so large a contract. The congregation also deserves great credit for their generous response to the pastor's appeal.

For the occasion of the reopening of the church Rev. Dr. Young of Montreal, assistant pastor of St. James church, and a former pastor of George street church was invited to be present. He occupied the pulpit both morning and evening, assisted by Rev. Mr. Pearson. Very large congregations were present on both occasions, and they were rewarded by hearing two excellent sermons.

The sermon at night was especially fitting. The former pastor of this church was in good form, and he was in a very patriotic mood. He took his text from the 115th Psalms and the 16th verse,—"The heavens, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth hath He given to the children of men." The reverend doctor made the principal theme of his address Canada for Canadians or the necessity of loyalty to one's country to increase its power in the commercial world and to cement its social and moral character. While it is the work of the people to build up and raise up a great country, it is the work of the church to combine the loyalty to the country with loyalty to God. It is little the average person realizes how important the church is to the success of the country. During the course of the sermon Rev. Dr. Young scored the immigration officers who admit the scum of European and Asiatic countries to come to Canada. He pointed out the necessity of selecting true and honest men to manage the affairs of the country and to insist upon the same high standard in the political life as is demanded in private life.

The choir, under the leadership of Prof. W. E. McCann, rendered great services. In the evening two anthems were rendered in finished style, while Miss Recsor and Miss Lean delighted the congregation with solos.

Peterborough Old Boys' and Old Girls' Reunion in 1910

PETERBOROUGH, Old Boys Reunion in 1910 is an event which will be looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by every man, woman and child in this city and neighborhood, as well as by the many thousands of old boys and girls residing throughout Canada, the United States and foreign countries. The Times has learned on good authority that a movement is on foot to bring about the proposed reunion in 1910. As yet the plans have not been prepared, but it is understood that it is proposed to engage a permanent secretary who has had experience along these lines and to put him in charge of the work of organizing Peterborough old boys association in the large centers in Canada and the United States. It will take some time to accomplish this end, hence the early start.

When the movement gets a little further advanced the public will be taken into the confidence of the promoters, and the assistance of all will be solicited. To secure the names of all the old boys and girls of this city who reside in distant parts will be a big task and can only be accomplished by the co-operation of all.

The plans will provide for a week's visit of the old boys and girls, entertainments of all kinds, the presence of many bands, and a big time generally. Those who are working up the scheme need have no fear of it not being a popular move. They may go ahead with every confidence of the people joining in and making it the greatest gathering this city has ever witnessed.

Negro Children go Out on Strike

Alton, Ill., Sept. 12.—Practically entire negro school population of Alton is on strike to enforce the state supreme court's recent decision in favor of mixed schools. Admission to white schools was refused to seventy five negro pupils when the term began here yesterday, and many more today, the superintendent formally accepting their applications to comply with the court's decision, but immediately transferring the negroes to the Douglass and Lovejoy negro schools, claiming the white schools lack room for the applicants.

Today only twenty-six of the four hundred negro pupils attended the negro schools. Negro mothers swarmed at the white schools, insisting on their children's admittance, but police squads maintained order, and will remain on guard until the conflict ends.

The King of Spain Is on Move

London, Sept. 12.—In the matter of energy the youthful King of Spain, now in England, sets his subjects a good example. On today's program may be taken as a sample. After breakfast at the Ritz Hotel he visited the Grafton Galleries, then automobiled to the Franco-British Exhibition, which he reached at five minutes past ten. He visited the Stadium, the Canadian and New Zealand pavilions, the Machinery Hall, the Court of Arts, and was in the automobile again by a quarter-past eleven. At twelve he caught a special train at Euston for Rugby, where he took part in a game of polo between the Sixteenth Lancers, of which regiment he is honorary colonel, and the Madrid team. The King played a dashing game, and scored a goal, his side winning by six points to five. After taking tea King Alfonso hurried off for Crewe, rejoining his consort in the evening.

Murphy Will Succeed the Hon. Mr. Scott

Montreal, Sept. 12.—It was learned from an unusually reliable private source this morning that in all probability Sir Wilfrid Laurier will announce the date of the Federal elections on Monday before he starts on his Ontario tour.

It is also rumored that Mr. Charles Murphy will be sworn in as Secretary of State on Monday, succeeding Hon. Mr. Scott. In this event, Mr. Murphy will probably seek election in Russell County.

STORY CONFIRMED.

Montreal, Sept. 12 — Mr. Charles Murphy, K.C. of Ottawa, today confirmed to his friends the announcement that Sir Wilfrid had offered him the office of secretary of state.

Mr. Murphy will accept, and in tonis running for member of Parliament for Russell County, always regarded as a safe Liberal seat.

TURKISH WOMEN ARE FREE UNDER NEW CONSTITUTION

Great Triumph of Party of Progress in Turkish Empire---The Turkish Lady has Had to Lead a Secluded Life Up to Present

London, Sept. 13.—Everyone knows the secluded life a Turkish woman has had to lead up to the present. With the new Constitution, however, and its reforms life is going to be changed for those who have been kept in the background for so long. "Freedom, absolute freedom," were the words used by a Turkish woman the other day when asked what difference the Constitution would make in her life. So far they have been allowed to receive their lady friends, call on them, and go for drives but there was no freedom in this life, and even when driving they had to be closely veiled. The veil will not be done away with, but a lighter one will be worn, and this will be more often lifted. Gradually, as time goes on, the veil will disappear, at least this is the present opinion, but now it would not be understood, especially by the uneducated class, just the same as if ladies started at once going about with their husbands to public functions and amusements.

At present the only knowledge the Turkish lady has of the outside world is what she has read in books, and what she has heard from her foreign sisters, but in the future the women folk will be allowed to travel. Gradually they are to enjoy a more interesting life, they will go about with their parents and husbands, they will see different countries, will be able to mix more with people, and get to know nothing about the world as they are it for themselves, and not have to rely on hearsay. Very few Turkish ladies have ever been away from the place they were born in; a few have got away, and under the old regime would not have been allowed to return, but now that is all changed, and in future wives will go abroad when their husbands are sent. Later on, no doubt, children will be sent away for their education.

Up to this time the matter of education has been a hard question, and has been surrounded with all sorts of difficulties, but even so the results are marvellous, especially in the way of languages. The present dress will only undergo a slight modification. Instead of the shapeless "out-of-door cloak, the Turkish lady can now wear well-fitting dresses, or jackets and skirts, and be as smart and trim as her European sisters in public, but she must not wear a hat yet, and her head will be entirely enveloped in a sort of hood attached to the neck of her dress or coat, and made of the same material as her costume. The women will no longer be kept shut up in a closely-shuttered house on a hot summer's day. They even already go about in open carriages, and are to be seen enjoying themselves on the water in the afternoons and evenings. Before the Constitution, a boat would not be seen out after sunset, and if a lady wanted to be out in the open she appeared covered up with a heavy veil.

The joy shown on all sides is truly pathetic, and the cause for such rejoicing can be very easily understood, when one knows, and can realize, the lives they have had to lead in the past. Turkish ladies and young mothers express their thankfulness that their daughters should be born to know a free life only, and none of the former troubles and trials which they and their ancestors had to go through. Later on, ladies will go out and mix in the society of foreigners, but just now they will only go to see their intimate friends, but should men be present when they go to a house to call, they will not have to be received in a separate room, as before. Should a gentleman go to call at a Turkish house, with his wife or friends, he will be received.

Of course, the future will all depend on the parents' and husbands' views, and the old Turk will not understand at first. Even though the present generation may not benefit much, still, there is no doubt, that the future of the Turkish woman is to be a happier and a more interesting one. The women, like the reformers, look at things in a sensible light, and are not going to ask for too much at once. Their present idea is to work gradually, and by degrees cast off the old, strict, and unnecessary customs, and become more like their sisters of other nationalities.

Peterborough Fair the Best Ever

Fine Exhibitors--Great Attractions for Three Days' Show

The greatest exhibition ever held in Peterborough will open on Thursday morning next at the Exhibition Park Secretary F. J. A. Hall is one of the busiest men in the city now and he does not see any prospect of a let-up until after the show. The entries are coming in very fast, and the best of it is the majority of the exhibitors are new people so that the prospect is exceptionally bright. The program for the three days were issued on Saturday, and they are very attractive. The opening day, Thursday, Sept. 17, will be devoted to the placing of exhibits as usual. Friday, the second day, the fair will be in full swing. At ten o'clock the judging will start, and at 1.30 o'clock the official opening of the exhibition will take place and during the afternoon judging horses and cattle will be continued.

In front of the grand stand at three o'clock the original Leo Aribos and the Kennedy Bros. & Mack will open their performance of unique comedy sensation with their trick house. This is something not to be missed. The evening program will be very attractive including the 57th Regiment Band, special display of moving pictures, the special attractions in front of the grand stand and the illumination of the grounds and building.

HORSE RACING.

For many fair visitors, horse racing is the chief feature and the Peterborough fair directors promise a very attractive program. The racing should be the best ever seen here as the purses are good, the track is in fine shape and there are a lot of speedy horses in the city and neighborhood. The events scheduled are;

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

2.50 class, trot or pace, purse $100.
2.20 class, trot or pace, $200.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

2.25 class, trot or pace, purse $150.
2.17 class, trot or pace, purse $200.

Another Big Boat will Run on Stony Lake Route

Otonabee Navigation Co. Have Purchased Steel Frame for 85 Foot Boat

Company to Purchase an Island

The Otonabee Navigation Company contemplate extending their field of operations and to do so will increase their fleet of steamers by two. They have already purchased a steel frame for an 85 foot boat and will have it brought to their dock yards in East City, where it will be constructed during the coming winter. An engine was also purchased with the frame and the new boat will have a speed of about 17 miles an hour. It will probably be placed on the Stony Lake route and will make regular trips between this city and lake points.

So successful has the venture of the company in running a steamer from Peterborough to the upper lakes proved that negotiations are on foot for the purchase of an island in Stony Lake which will be made the headquarters of the company. Several suitable locations are under consideration and it is expected that a decision will be reached shortly. The plan of the company includes the construction of a good wharf for the use of their own steamers only and for private launches. The whole property will be private. A large pavilion and store will be erected and all accomodation provided for picnics, etc. It is also intended to instal an electric lighting plant and to illuminate the place with colored lights. There is every prospect that next year at Stony Lake will be more lively than ever and that the Otonabee Navigation Company will have another successful year.

Sixth Annual Outing of C.G.E. Benefit Society

Immense Crowd on the Steamer Otonabee Went to Jubilee Point Saturday

Results of Races and Other Sports

Unqualified success greeted the 6th annual picnic of the Canadian General Electric Company's Mutual Benefit Society on Saturday afternoon. The works closed down at 11 o'clock and an immense crowd of the employes with their families and friends met at the Wolfe street wharf where they boarded the steamer Otonabee. The picnic was to Jubilee Point and when the big boat pulled away from the city wharf at 12.30 it carried one of the jolliest crowds that ever left the city. The Otonabee made a splendid run down and upon arrival there the committee in charge of the sports immediately got busy. The down trip was very enjoyable, and the people were in splendid mood to enjoy the races, the results of which were as follows;—

Boys' race, 15 years and under—F. Cassidy, R. Carson, and J. Henry.

100 yard dash, open—F. Terrell, R. Evans.

Girls' race, 15 years and under—Gertie McCabe, D. Henderson, and B. Hardwick.

Fat man's race—J. H. Dennard, R. H. Shepherd.

Bottle race—J. Crough.

Girls' race over 16 years—Mabel Remois, Mrs. Gadd, Lila Calder.

Peanut race—L. McDonald, S. Carson.

Egg and spoon race—Nellie Leaman, and Pearl Dunford.

Biscuit eating contest—H. O'Hara.

Girls' race, eight years and under—F. Sanderford, B. Hardwick, A. Christie.

Smoking contest—A. Everson, J. B. Dennard.

Foreman's race—G. A. Thornton, R. E. Layfield.

Boys' race eight years and under—Willie Common, Clare Brady, Fred Shannon.

Thread and needle race—Miss E. Morrow, Mrs. Common, Miss Nellie Leaman.

Sack race—F. Terrell, R. Evans, V. Bouskell.

Tug of war—The team captained by E. Hurtubise won in two straight pulls from J. J. Hickey's team.

An extra event was put on known as horse wrestling. This proved a great source of enjoyment and also showed what the human body will stand when in proper condition. Terrill on top of Dennard won from Crough on top of Hurtubise.

The officials were;

Starter—J. H. Dennard.

Judges—Geo. Lynch and F. Beausutel.

Clerks—W. Dickson, F. Hurtubise.

Committee—R. E. Layfield, J. J. Hickey, R. W. Carson, C. Gunn, J. Buchanan, W. McLaren.

Officers—R. Morrison, president; W. A. Anson, vice-president; T. A. Shannon, secretary; R. E. Harding, treasurer.

After the sports were concluded, supper was partaken of and the early evening was quietly spent. The return journey was very pleasant. The boat arrived at the Wolfe street wharf about 10 o'clock, and all went home happy. The committee in charge of the excursion are greatly pleased with the treatment they received at the hands of the Navigation company and the boat crew.

Officials Appointed for Harrier Meet

On Thursday Next--Arrangements all Completed for the Big Event

Arrangements are all completed for the big athletic meet under the auspices of the Harriers' Club of the Y.M.C.A. next Thursday. Full particulars of the program of events can be seen on the big posters. They are numerous enough, good enough and varied enough to suit the tastes of everyone. The entry list is well filled and include some of the world's best athletes. The meet will be held in Brock street rink and that place should be crowded to the doors. The officers for the big event have been appointed as follows;—

Referee—Mr. J. J. Crocker, Toronto.

Inspectors—Messrs. J. H. Adams, B. W. Collings.

Judges—Dr. A. W. McPherson, Messrs. Robt. Hicks and C. G. Graham.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. Canada's Great Growth

Montreal, Sept. 16.—That Canada will in time rival the mother country in the extent of its manufacturing and industrial enterprises is predicted by influential members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which convened here yesterday in annual session. Already practically all lines of manufacture are represented in the Dominion by great establishments, and the number of factories and the extent of their output is increasing by leaps and bounds. From a purely agricultural country, Canada has become in the last few years an industrial nation as well.

A general reception to the visiting manufacturers, who are here from all parts of the Dominion, will be held this evening. Municipal officials, the harbor commission and local manufacturing companies will entertain the delegates with numerous excursions and inspection trips.

The Terrible Record of Natural Gas in Brantford Loss of Life and Property

The recent explosion of natural gas in Brantford, has caused widespread interest on account of the horrible results, and the frequency of disasters from the same cause in that city. Below will be found an interesting article on the catastrophy of Thursday last;

Brantford, Sept. 12.—There have been four recent natural gas explosions here besides the one yesterday.

A little later the front of J. B. Bolt's block of stores on Dalhousie street was wrecked.

Mrs. Howie, on Terrace Hill, went down into her cellar with a lighted lamp, and escaping gas exploded, killing her.

Mrs. Smith, Darling street, three months ago, died from injuries caused by an explosion of natural gas which leaked into her house from the street, filling the cellar. There were not even gas connections in the house.

Brantford, Sept. 12.—While the results of the explosion are serious enough, if the explosion had occurred after six o'clock, when the buildings would have been full of occupants, the loss of life would have been appalling.

Natural gas, with which the town is supplied, is blamed for the disaster, but the company denies liability. It ridicules the suggestion that its men, digging a trench opposite the building," could in any way have caused the explosion. They were apparently there to find and repair a leak of which James Williams, the restaurant keeper, declares he had given notice.

A BABY RESCUED.

It was ten minutes after the first crash before the first of the unfortunate Horney family was taken out. First of all, Michael Judge, one of the rescue party, came climbing up over a huge pile of debris with a wee babe quivering in the finger tips and blood oozing from the side of its face. There were evident signs of life remaining in the little body, however, and tender hands grasped it and removed the child to medical care. It was the first rescue, but gruesome enough as it was the others who were released from beneath the tons of brick, framework, and mass of debris, presented no less an abject and horrifying appearance.

MOTHER TAKEN OUT.

Next came Mrs. Horney, whose babe had first been removed. Her head and face at first appearance appeared battered, and the blood was oozing from one ear. She bore an agonised look of terror, and it is just possible the most serious result is that sustained by the intense shock of the horrible catastrophe. The husband followed. He had been pinned down near the rest of his family, but as soon as some heavy timbers were removed he was able to walk. He is a cripple. He was badly bruised.

Another baby was the last brought out, being the youngest of the Horney children. Its appearance was that of a wee life fast ebbing away. All were hurried to the hospital, where the two-year-old boy died.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were at dinner.

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now our Company owns outright without encumberance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its premise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 20 feet wide for a distance of 180 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $58.06 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ores for the mill.

Forest Fires Sweep Vast Track of Country

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 12.—Reports from St. Camille state that serious forest fires have been raging there since Sunday. The situation is serious. Pulp-wood to the value of $50,000 has been destroyed, owned mostly by farmers. The village of St. Camille has been threatened, but thus far has escaped destruction. The fires approached to within a few hundred yards of the village. In the township of Wotton hundreds of acres of timber land have been swept, and large quantities of cut pulp have also been destroyed. The estimated damage is $5,000.

What makes the situation more serious is that no water is available, springs, wells and brooks all being dried up.

Diraeli also reports severe losses of pulpwood, and several houses have been destroyed. Kirkdale, near Richmond, reports serious losses. Windsor Mills is surrounded by fires.

There is little prospect of rain this morning, and until it arrives there is no chance of staying the progress of the fires.

FIRES IN SOUTH DUMMER.

Warsaw, Sept. 12.—The prevailing drought throughout the country has been the cause of bush fires in several districts. One is now reported near Gireron, which is about a mile west of Indian River station. Residents of the vicinity are alarmed at its tenatious progress through the swamp and woodlands. A few days ago the residence of Mr. John Clancy was in danger, but advance in that direction was checked by the work of the fire fighters. It is now said to be in the vicinity of Mr. James Carter's property. Since catching in a swamp, possibly from a spark from a passing engine, it has crossed the track, and is making headway in an opposite direction.

SMOKE ENVELOPES BROCKVILLE

Brockville, Sept. 12.—A dense wood two miles north of the town in the vicinity of what was once known as the back pond is on fire, and the town is enveloped in smoke.

On the farm of Henry Torrington, a tenant of Walter Scane, adjoining the city, two barns, a granary, and an implement shed were destroyed by fire. Loss about $3,000, insured.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by way of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

A YOUNG MAN'S MAN

Of the 250,000 voters whose names have been added to the lists since the last general election, part represent the adult male population received with the heaviest immigration the Dominion has so far experienced and another part the young Canadians who have passed 21 and are about to cast their first vote. It will be rather surprising if the personality and the career of Sir Wilfrid do not make strong appeal to this youthful element, says the Montreal Herald. The young men of this country who are between 21 and 25 have spent the whole of the period in which they took any account of political conditions under the spell of Sir Wilfrid's influence. It is not unkind to anyone to say that he has had no rival in all these qualities which go to attract and which hold favor of the young. It is not merely that he has held high office, not that he was outshone others in Parliament and outshone others in Parliament and on the platform. Beyond all that he has been, on many important occasions, Canada's exhibit, so to say, amongst the best that other countries could send and he has invariably made all Canada as proud of him as he has shown himself to be worthy of her. Young men who have passed a dozen years in this kind of atmosphere cannot be supposed to have remained insensible to the attractiveness of the man, and it will be very strange indeed, if a majority of them do not do themselves and him the honor of casting their votes for him.

The fact is that an almost certain test of the really superior fitness of a public man can be found in the answer to a question whether he is or ever was in a special way a leader of the young. A man may be a statesman without having this faculty; Lord Salisbury's career offers an example. Effective for their hour, such careers do not carry on the progress of the popular institutions from the shoulders of one generation to the shoulders of the next in anything like the same way as the careers, say, of a Gladstone, a Disraeli, or even a Chamberlain. Sir John Macdonald held the young men of his party to the very hour of his death. He was always twenty in some corner of his heart, and Sir Wilfrid, in all the great moments of his career, has acted as though the ideals of his youth had never been dimmed. Youth, they tell us, thinks in glorious certainties. As men grow old they feel less sure; and rarely indeed do they secure a hold upon the minds or hearts of the generation that has arisen since they first appeared as the chosen champions of ardent, imperious youth. They have always to fight for the place with some younger man, and the younger man, when he is the real material, has time and circumstances on his side. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a young man's hero from the moment he entered public life. He was still 'that grand young man' in 1896, when he had a half century to his credit. He still acts like a young man in all times of doubt and trial, doing the simple, straightforward thing when counsellors learned in the ways of older men take other views. That is why it is true that he is trusted and looked up to, not merely by his partisans, but by the whole people, beyond all other men in public life in Canada. Others may come and go and their going leave little trace; but nobody seriously looks forward to a Parliament in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier shall be present and he not at the head. He has no rival in the confidence of the older voters, no rival in the admiration, say rather the affection, of the young.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. Says Good Times Have Returned

Regina, Sask., September 11.—President William Mackenzie, of the Canadian Northern Railway, who is here completing a tour over his system, says he has come to the conclusion that the bumper crop this year will relieve the money stringency, and that good times have returned.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Channel Traffic Shows Big Increase

London, Sept. 11.—A steep of ladders broke under a Bradford steeplejack named Joseph Conway, whilst he was repairing a chimney at Albert Mill, Gate street, Blackburn. He fell head first 128 feet through the skylight of a weaving shed, and was instantly killed.

FEAST FOR THE FOXES.

During a severe gale at Wendron, Cornwall, two large poultry houses belonging to Mr. Dunstan were wrenched from their position and blown across a field. The houses contained young poultry for the market. Some foxes in the neighborhood scented the birds, and during the night ate no less than eighty-seven of them.

BIG INCREASE IN TRAVEL.

Some striking figures are provided by the complete official returns of the passenger traffic by the five south-eastern cross-Channel routes, which are just available for the last year. The combined number of passengers was no fewer than 1,153,431, being an increase of 48,182 on the previous year. With the Franco-British Exhibition traffic, the present year will provide another great "record."

A SMART CAPTAIN.

A "smart" action on the part of a steamer's captain was reported to the Dover Board of Guardians. Finding three stowaways on board, the captain, when off Dover, signalled a boat, and gave the boatman 30s. to land them, and gave each stowaway 10s. as they were destitute. By the expenditure of £3 the captain saved delaying his ship for the usual prosecution. The stowaways spent their money and went into the union.

BATHING OR DROWNING?

"Hallo! Why are you bathing here?" asked Constable Wiseman sternly of a head he saw above the water of the Lancaster canal at Preston. "Please, sir, I'm not; I'm drowning!" answered a small voice, and the head disappeared. Then the officer dived in and brought out Robert Sharp, a small schoolboy, sinking for the third time. He was charged at the local police court with "bathing" in contravention of the bylaws. The bench let him off, and complimented his captor on his gallantry.

Yield is Abundant in Prince Edward Island

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sept. 10.—The annual crop report for Prince Edward Island has been issued. Hay is double last year's yield and is the heaviest crop ever known on the island. Wheat is average. Oats are from five to fifteen per cent. above the average. Barley is not up to standard; Peas are fair, but considerable damage has been done by the weevil. Corn is slightly better than average. Potatoes are twenty-five per cent. above the ordinary yield and of excellent quality. Early root crops of other varieties are fair, those sown late are poor.

In fruit, apples show a general average, the early varieties being good and late ones only fair. This is an off year for plums. All forms of berries gave large yields. The pastures are excellent and milk production will be forty per cent. ahead of last year. Farm help is scarce, the West drawing all the unsettled population. The average pay is $16 per month with board.

Thus the present year is, in abundance of crops, the most favorable in a generation, and on the whole from the standpoint of value, is twenty per cent. better than last year.

Must Pay Singers for Loss of Work

Paris, Sept. 11.—Recently three music hall singers brought suit for damages against Pataud, the secretary of the Electrical Workers' Union of Paris, for loss of work they had suffered through the two hours' strike of the union on the night of Aug. 6.

The cases were decided today and Pataud was condemned to pay eight francs in each case.

The court held that there had been an abuse of the right to strike.

Pataud conducted his own case. He maintained that the right to strike is unlimited. He was under no contract to supply light to the public. That, he claimed, was the duty of the directors of the electric companies. Pataud intentionally denied that the two-hour strike was connected with the labor troubles at Draveil, which it followed by saying that the strike was ordered because certain demands in regard to pensions and other matters had not been answered.

The court, in its judgment, said this strike was not because of any corporate need and had in view only an attempt in the mobilization of a sort of military alarm for the proletariat forces. It must by recognised as a malicious intention, declared the court, since it overthrew the city's economic life and deprived those who wanted to of the assured right to work and earn their living. Hence there had been abuse not only of the right to strike, but also a civil misdemeanor for which reparation was due under the code.

There is no appeal from the judgment of the court.

Sports

As every Baseball fan in Canada to-day knows that Toronto or Montreal has very little chance of winning this year, let us turn our gaze to and follow for the rest of the baseball year, the run for first place between New York and Pittsburg in the National League. At the beginning of the season the Chicagoanians were leading by a large margin and New York who now holds first place, were down in sixth place. By strenuous hard working they have at last landed on top and intend to stay there so says Manager McGraw. Pittsburg is undoubtedly doing fine also, having climbed from eighth place to second in seven weeks. They are now just nine points behind New York, and with one more win and a loss for New York, they will lead the National League.

The Times will give a daily report how both the National and American League tams setand.

A Cure for Drunkenness

Publicity Cures Intemperance of an Aggravated Form

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—Newspaper publicity as a cure for drunkenness has been successfully tried in Oklahoma City, and the new method of reforming habitual sousers may become a worthy rival of the Salvation Army tactics and the gold cure.

Recently a reporter for a local paper discovered a sad case of destitution, a worthy woman and her children being ill, starving and on the point of being evicted from the hovel they called home. Investigation of the case showed that the recreant husband and father, a big, strong, ex-policeman, had for months failed to contribute to the support of his family, spending all his time and money carousing in low saloons.

Appealing for aid for the mother and little ones, the newspaper published on its first page, under a scare-head, a scathing denunciation of the drunken head of the impoverished family. There was no mincing of words, and the man was held up to public ridicule as a worthless fellow unfit to associate with decent human being.

Instead of calling on the editor with a gun, the newspaper publicity had the effect of suddenly sobering the drunkard. He began to see a great light. The spectacle of his family dependent on public charity aroused his latent pride. He called on the editor and with tears in his eyes promised to turn over a new leaf. Then he donned his working clothes and went out to hunt a job.

News in Brief

Fort Frances, Ont., Sept 8.—Indians living up the lake reported last night that a gasoline launch was seen to blow up and sink near Jack Fish narrows yesterday afternoon with all hands lost.

Enquiry and search revealed that one of the gasoline fishboats from International Falls is missing, with the owner, Mr. Ferfelt, and two fishermen. As no trace of them or the boat can be found, it is feared the report is only too true.

London, Sept. 10.—For the first time since the reign of Mary, a holy caravan of the church of Rome was seen on the streets of London to-day. Cardinal Vincent Vanutelli, a cardinal bishop from the papal curia in Rome, and titular bishop of Palestine, accompanied by a special retinue suitable to the ecclesiastic rank, proceeded in state to the cathedral where the nineteenth Eucharist Congress to-day commenced its formal discussions.

In addition to the papal legate, eight cardinals and more than a hundred bishops from all over the world are participating in the congress. Each cardinal is accompanied by his own suite, presenting a scene of imposing ecclesiastic splendor. The cardinal's present are Gibbons, Logue, Moran, Lecot, Fischer, Mercier, Ferrari and Natiez.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Wandering and deranged in his mind, and trying to communicate with his wife, having lucid intervals, Mr. F. D. S. Bethune, the New York lawyer, who disappeared from his home about a fortnight ago, is believed to be in Buffalo, and Mrs. Bethune will try and locate him there tonight.

Since the disappearance Mrs. Bethune has been in Chicago, and last night she received a long distance message from her husband from Buffalo, saying that he was feeling well. She recognized his voice over the phone, and will go and meet him if possible. This was the third of these messages.

"Mr. Bethune was mentally deranged from overwork," said a detective familiar with the case. "He left his home and traveled through Canada and some of the smaller towns of the United States. Whenever the cloud on his brain became less dense he called up his wife and talked with her, but he always disappeared before she could lay hands on him. He seemed to regain a glimmering of reason, only to lose it again.

Duluth, Sept. 10.—The coal docks are loaded to the limit, but there is little demand at the present time from the West, and a vigorous campaign is in progress by the large coal companies to induce the farmers of the West to take advantage of the present easy conditions of the car service, and get in supplies for the winter.

It is expected that the influx of wheat to the head of the lakes this year will exceed, by many millions bushels that of former seasons, and in the opinion of the railroad men, unless in the matter of coal orders, many cars will have to be sent away empty.

This state of affairs, in view of the conditions which existed two years ago, is causing the coal barons some anxiety. They dread the rush which is sure to come when the chill of winter sweeps over the country, and it is feared that it will be impossible to meet the demand with despatch which the conditions may demand.

WHAT'S DOING NOW?

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 9.—The United States revenue cutter Tuscarora has sailed for Port Arthur in connection with what are said to be international affairs. On her way she will assist the steamer Muriburt, ashore west of Whitefish Point.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company will re-employ the striking mechanics this week on the wage scale adopted in the majority report of the board of conciliation, pending further investigation by a second board on some points now in dispute. This indicates an unexpected concession by the company, as one hundred British mechanics are expected to arrive here this week to work in the western shops.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 10. — Advices from Japan state that the sunken battleship Yashima has been located by the steamer Sazuhashi Maru, a salvage vessel, sent by the navy department to search for Japanese warships lost during the war with Russia, and investigations are being carried on to ascertain if the battleship can be raised. The Sazuhashi Maru has also located the Russian warship Sebastopol, and the approximate place where the cruiser Takasgo sank has been located. She is now searching for the battleship Hatsuse.

The sinking of the Yashima and Hatsuse was due to the placing of mechanical mines by Rear-Admiral Wirens, on May 31st, 1904. The Russian officer observed that the Japanese warships while engaged in besieging Port Arthur, cruised continually over the same ground, and a mine field was laid into which the ships steamed, and the Yashima, Hatsuse and cruiser Yoshino went down the same morning, all with heavy loss.

News of the sinking of the Yashima was suppressed for six months by the Japanese government, and reports of her loss were always officially contradicted, with the result that not until news of her destruction was published in the official reports at the close of the war was it generally known that she had been sunk when the Hatsuse and Yoshino went down.

New York, Sept 8.—Alexander Berkman, the anarchist, will spend the next five days in jail. He was convicted in the night court at an early hour this morning of inciting a riot in a meeting at Cooper Union, and was sentenced to the workhouse. May Smith, a woman who was arrested with him, was fined $10.

Berkman, who during the Steel Works strike at Homestead, Pa., a number of years ago, shot Henry C. Frick and served a long sentence in jail for the act, attempted to preach anarchistic doctrines at a meeting of the unemployed under the direction of the Brotherhood Welfare Association. The meeting was organized by J. Eades Bow, known as "the millionaire hobo," and Dr. Ben Reitman, "King of the Hobos."

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity with his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

The Flight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, interspersed by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers of the Lick observatory to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that a hundred years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat. If it were near by it would seem to become rapidly smaller.—Chicago Record Herald.

What He Did Know.

St. Thomas' Episcopal church, in Fifth avenue, has under its jurisdiction an east side chapel. One of the features of the chapel is a gymnasium, in which boys are trained in all of the branches of physical culture. Some of the boys are quicker in this sort of training than they are in the more polite talk of the west side boys.

The rector of St. Thomas', the Rev. Dr. Stires, visits the chapel frequently and is fond of talking with the lads about their work. He said to one little fellow who hails from near the East river:

"Well, my son, they tell me you won quite a victory in your last contest with the boys of a rival school."

"I don't know 'bout that, but w'en we went up ag'in dat bunch from St. Pat's we put it all over 'em, and dey didn't never peeped since."—New York Sun.

A Trying Moment.

Professor Leopold Schroetter was called to see the Crown Prince Frederick in 1887 before Sir Morrell Mackenzie had reached San Remo. The prince, evidently suspecting the worst, turned to Schroetter after the examination and said, "I request the truth as to my ailment." Schroetter hesitated and made an effort to direct the conversation in another direction, but Frederick insisted. "I am a soldier," he said, "and can look death in the eye. I ask you now plainly, is the patient in my complaint cancer?" Schroetter could hardly contain himself, and years after the scene when he related it he spoke of it as the most painful in his life. He conducted the crown prince to a chair and asked him to be seated. Then he said, "Your imperial highness, you are suffering from a serious complaint, and it is possible that it may develop into carcinoma, but that cannot be determined positively at this moment." Frederick became deathly pale, but never for a moment lost his self control and smiled grimly when he thanked the physician for his honesty.

Coming to an Understanding.

In the sensible way of villagers they were discussing the matrimonial affairs of a couple who, though recently wed, had begun to find the yoke of Hymen a burden.

"The all along of them hasty marriages," opined one caustic old gentleman, who had been quick to the fore in the discussion. "They did not understand each other. They'd nobbut traversed each other for a matter o' seven years."

"Well, that seems long enough," said an interested lady hearer.

"Long, mum? Bosh! You're wrong! When a lady's courtin' he comes he be careful. Why, my courtship lasted a matter o' nineteen year!"

"You certainly were careful," agreed the lady hearer. "And did you find your plan successful when you married?"

"To jump to conclusions," said the old man impatiently, "I understand your drift, so I drops yearly her!"—St. James' Gazette.

A Simple Salad.

Cabbage scorned as plebeian takes on an air as a salad—not cold slaw or hot slaw, but a crisp, easily mixed salad with French dressing.

Cut the cabbage with fine grater and put it in icy water for an hour before serving. Dry on a clean napkin and cover with a highly seasoned French dressing about ten minutes before serving.

If a clove of garlic is rubbed over the bowl in which the dressing is made, the flavor is much improved for many persons.

While one would not serve this salad at a formal meal, it makes an appetizing lunch dish.

A Pan Broil.

When it is not convenient to open the lid of a stove, as on ironing day, a substitute for deep can be given a pan broil.

This is not frying, as many persons think, since not a particle of grease is used.

Have the pan very hot. Put the meat in it and turn almost immediately to the other side until seared. Keep turning the meat occasionally till it is done, though this need not be quite so often as when the steak is over live coals.

A Fulfillment.

They said he'd make his mark 'mongst men.
It was a prophecy professed.
He bought himself a fountain pen
And when he shook it now and then
Made marks on every man he pressed.
—Washington Star.

A Query.

"Of course she's excited. You see, her fiance has just been arrested."

"That so?" Automobilist or just a decent crook?"—Judy.

A Possible Explanation.

"Be many lies stalk in disguise?"
Remarked the observant youth.
"Perhaps that's why, howe'er we try,
It's hard to tell the truth."
—Catholic Standard and Times.

No Rest For the Weary.

A Way Out.

"Scientists say the supply of coal is nearly gone. Then what'll we do?"

"Oh, burn coke, I suppose." — New York Times.

Practical Scaling.

"Look here, Lucy," exclaimed Mr. Hardapple; "this is no time to be practicing on the piano. It's time to prepare dinner."

"But, pa, I am interested in scales," pouted Lucy as she pounded the keys.

"Interested in scales, eh? Well, I've a task for you. Go down in the kitchen and help your ma scale fish."—Detroit Tribune.

Their Achievements.

"He had three daughters. One married a French chauffeur"—

"I see! Quite romantic."

"The second married an Indian, a descendant of a chieftain"—

"I see! Quite aboriginal."

"But the third married a plain American business man."

"H'm! Merely eccentric, I should say."—Puck.

Accounted For.

Mrs. J.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had the habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon the table her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yassum," replied Mary; "I opened it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Long Story.

Ascum—Say, old man, what did your wife say to you when you got in last night?

Wrounds—Oh, are you just starting on your two weeks' vacation?

Ascum—No. Why?

Wrounds—Then you won't have time to listen. I can't talk as fast as she did.—Houston Post.

A Mark of Respect.

Andrew Carnegie was entertaining a Montenegrin prince at Skibo castle. The morning after the prince's arrival a party of guests met out in a huge motor car for a long run, and as they whizzed past an inn a great crowd of highlanders rose from the benches before the inn and saluted.

The prince seemed amazed at the highland dress.

"Why," he asked, "do these men go bare legged?"

"It is a local custom," said Mr. Carnegie, "a mark of respect for you, sir. In some places people take off their hats to show honor to distinguished visitors; here they take off their trousers."

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat, and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a heathen and breathless reverend man brandishing a black hen circling from one end of the street to the other.

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-em's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope "Tender for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, at Ottawa, until twelve o'clock noon of Thursday, the 28th day of July, 1910, for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and specifications of the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, viz:—

(1) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners near Weymontachingue, in the province of Quebec, 196.36 miles west of the north abutment of the Quebec bridge, (such point being on the boundary between Districts "C" and "D") westerly for a distance of about 107 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(2) District "C."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about 107 miles west of Weymontachingue, in the Province of Quebec, westerly to the end of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's contract, a distance of about 114.97 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(3) Districts "D" and "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, being at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' Abitibi contract, in the Province of Ontario, in a westerly direction for a distance of about 104.24 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(4) District "E."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, about sixty miles west of the easterly boundary of District "E," in the Province of Ontario, easterly to the end of Fauquier Bros.' contract, north of Lake Nepigon, a distance of about 100 miles. Date of completion, 31st December, 1910.

(5) Districts "E" and "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners, at the western end of Fauquier Bros.' contract north of Lake Nepigon, in the Province of Ontario, westerly to a point at or near Dog Lake, a distance of about 126 miles. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

(6) District "F."—From a point designated on the plans of the Commissioners at or near Dog Lake, in the Province of Ontario, to a point at or about mile 26 west of what is known as Peninsula Crossing, by alternative routes as shown on the plans, a distance of about 23.76 miles by the northerly route, and 24.13 miles by the southerly route, the selection of the route to be at the option of the Commissioners. Date of completion, 1st September, 1910.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa; also at the offices of the following District Engineers, viz;—John Ayles, Acting District Engineer, North Bay, Ont.; T. S. Armstrong, Nepigon, Ont.; and S. R. Poulin, St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

A separate tender must be submitted for each section.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification, or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners; and before submitting any tender, bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept, and agree to be bound by, the terms and conditions in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tenders.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway as follows:—

Sec. No. 1.,	District "C"	$150,000
Sec. No. 2.	District "C"	150,000
Sec. No. 3,	District "D & F"	150,000
Sec. No. 4.	District "E"	150,000
Sec. No. 5.	District "E & F"	200,000
Sec. No. 6.	District "F"	100,000

Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish such additional approved security as may be required by the Commissioners; sign the contract, specifications, and other documents required to be signed by the said Commissioners; and, in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners, and to furnish additional approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. The cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as part of the security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract:—

"All mechanics, laborers, or other persons who perform labor for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for, shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the district in which the work is being performed, and if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subjected to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labor, and which are, or shall be, applicable to such works." (The schedule of minimum wages determined upon by said Department will form part of the contract).

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, so far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, providing the same can be obtained on as cheaply, and upon as good terms, in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and prices."

By order,

P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 3 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield. Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $17,681.57 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,640 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Appetite Gone Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tried her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Watmore, P.Q., "I suffered from systematic weakness, billiousness and depressing headaches. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfect. For a good cleaning, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essences in vegetable life—are safe for young and old, and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength in every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Last week Outing Weekly contained a number of views of the dam the beavers built last winter across Gull River. The journal also contained a short description of the dam and how it was built.

Millbrook Fair

Prize lists for the Millbrook fair on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 1 and 2, have been issued and a copy can be seen at The Times office. The big fair promises to be bigger than ever this year. The usual crowd from Peterborough will be there.

At the Armouries

On Sunday morning a large number of the 14th Field Battery boys gathered at the armouries in Ashburnham, when they talked over the interesting events in connection with the late camp at Barrisfield. The boys are all looking fine and thoroughly enjoyed the outing.

All Saints' Church

The usual services were held in All Saints' church yesterday. The announcements for the week are,—A meeting of the Women's Guild this evening at eight o'clock, and the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

The Girls' Guild will resume their meetings this evening at 7.30 o'clock when the work of the season will be laid out.

The Men's Association will re-open weekly sessions on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

A clever, popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere. In a few hours, Preventics are said to break any cold—completely. And Preventics, being so safe and toothsome, are very fine for children. No Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Box of 48—25c. Sold by all dealers.

Rugby Practice

A bunch of the rugby enthusiasts were at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon and had a good work out. The boys are anxious to get into the game, but the weather is so hot and dry that very little real work can be done. Those who were out in uniform did the best they could under the circumstances, but as soon as the weather moderates a little the full team will get busy.

Peterborough Views

That Peterborough is attracting international attention is shown by the not unfrequent space devoted by American papers to this flourishing city. The Buffalo Courier of this week contained several views of this city, and a cut of the lift lock and also a description of it. Among the photos were one of George street, looking south from the customs building, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Hydraulic Co's power plant, the Customs' building, and Quaker Oats Company's mills. A good photo of Mr. Fred McCurry, a well-known resident of this city, was also given, showing the three medals this old veteran has won in the service of his country. Mr. McCurry received the long service medal, as well as one for service during the Fenian Raid and during the North-West Rebellion.

St. Andrew's Church

This week will be an important one to all members and adherents of St. Andrew's church. During the summer season most of the societies discontinued their work and starting this week the meetings will be resumed. After the holidays the members should feel like getting down to work again and a full attendance is requested at all the meetings.

The Y.P.S.C.E. will resume their meetings this evening at eight o'clock.

On Tuesday afternoon the W.F.M.S. will meet at three o'clock, and will lay out their work for the coming season.

On Tuesday night at eight o'clock the annual meeting of the Young Men's Guild will be held. Not only are all the old members requested to turn out, but all young men who are strangers in the church are invited to attend.

Weekly prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday night at eight o'clock.

The baptismal service was celebrated in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning.

Killed Returning Home from Camp

Shocking Death of Henry Neville of the 27th Field Battery

Henry Neville, aged 22 years, and a member of the 27th Field Battery, under command of Major Young, was instantly killed near Port Hope station while returning from camp at Barriefield. The unfortunate young man took a freight from Kingston to Port Hope where he expected to join his comrades. But as he jumped off the freight near Port Hope station he was struck by another train and instantly killed. His death is greatly regretted by the officers and men who were at camp as he was a fine young fellow. A sad feature of the accident is that he was soon to be married to a lady in Cavan. He was a member of a good English family and had not been in Canada more than a few years. He was a member of the A.O.U.W. and his remains were taken charge of by Mr. Thos. Hatherly, for whom he had been working.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

On the bottle-wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or billousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Mitto Bible Class Resumed

The Mitto Adult Bible Class had a big re-opening on Sunday afternoon after summer vacation. Rev. Robt. Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Church, and conductor of the Bible Class has returned from his vacation and has started with renewed vigor to build up this important branch of the church. During last week the reverend gentleman issued invitations to all the old members as well as to many new persons to attend this class and as a result there was a very large attendance on Sunday afternoon. A special course of study will be taken up during the coming season and it should prove very beneficial to all who avail themselves of the privilege of attending.

Steamer Otonabee was Released

Claim of P.P. Young will be Defended and a Counter Claim for Damages Entered

The Otonabee Navigation Co., Ltd. were successful in having their steamer the Otonabee released in lots of time for the Canadian General Electric Company's annual excursion to Jubilee last Saturday afternoon. The Stony Lake Co., whose scow which collided with the Otonabee some days ago took the extreme measure of having the Otonabee placed under arrest. Such action for a petty claim was unheard of, and the Otonabee Company immediately took steps to have their boat released. They will also defend the claim of Mr. P. P. Young and his company and will in all probability enter a counter action for damages.

Anniversary of Park St. Sunday School

A Most Interesting Program—Message from Rev. P. C. Parker of Vancouver

Just twenty years ago Park street Baptist Sunday school was organized to accommodate the children of Baptist parents residing in the south end of the city. Mr. R. J. Kidd, who is a well known person in Peterborough, was the first superintendent, and he has always taken a keen interest in its advancement. The growth of the Sunday school has been very gratifying and those who were the means of starting it deserve credit as do also those who have guided the course of the school since.

The anniversary of the Sunday school was celebrated yesterday afternoon along with the annual flower Sunday. As a result the occasion was of more than usual interest, and there was a very large attendance of children and parents. The church was very prettily decorated and added much to the artistic side of the service. The program of the afternoon was particularly bright and interesting. It included an address by Mr. R. J. Kidd the first superintendent.

A message, which was full of interest not only to Park street Baptists but to every Baptist in Peterborough and to many members of other denominations, was received and read from Rev. P. C. Parker of Vancouver, who was pastor of Murray street church, when the Park street Sunday school was organized.

Miss Mann the present superintendent read a comprehensive history of the school.

Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray street church, addressed the children on "The Perfect Development of Man."

Special music suitable to the occasion was provided by the orchestra.

Local Steamers will be Enlarged

Monarch and Water Lily to Undergo Repairs

Arrangements are under way now by the Otonabee Navigation Co., to winter all their steamers in the Little Lake. The Water Lily and the Monarch, however, will be taken out of the water and will undergo extensive repairs and improvements. They will be made wider and longer by several feet and the Monarch will have an electric lighting plant installed while a new and powerful engine will be placed in the Monarch. Next year the company's fleet of steamers will be greatly improved.

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Accept no other. Sold by all dealers.

Gas Explosion

When the crash came they were thrown under the stove by falling walls, and later were rescued in the cellar. Mr. Smith had a leg hurt.

Messrs. Holstock and Blayborough were taken to the hospital. When the explosion occurred they were sitting on the steps of the teatorium where they ran the picture machine. Afterwards they were picked up unconscious on the other side of the road. Doctors stated last night that Mr. Blayborough's lung was pierced, his skull fractured, and three ribs broken.

KNOCKED OFF RIG.

Lloyd Myers was seated in a delivery rig across the street. He was knocked out, and sustained a broken leg.

Miss Rarford was in a furniture store across the street, and suffered by flying glass.

James Williams, restaurant keeper, says he knew of escaping gas this week and notified the authorities, but no action was taken.

The walls of all the buildings destroyed were precipitated to the sidewalk some feet deep, and have not yet been cleared away. The theory is held by the authorities that there must have been an escape of gas, and that some one ignited a match, thus causing the catastrophe.

A THOROUGH INQUIRY.

As this is but one of several serious explosions lately, accompanied by loss of life, the authorities have determined on a thorough investigation. Dr. Ashton, coroner, will duct the inquest. All facts will be probed.

It is understood that as there was no fire, the insurance companies concerned will refuse to meet the losses.

NEWSPAPER OFFICE SHAKEN.

The shock at the Expositor building caused the whole structure to quiver. A horse attached to an empty rig dashed up the street, and was stopped opposite the firehall. In a moment the streets were filled with people, and many had already proceeded some way in the rush to the scene of the wreck, when they were met by a cloud of dust, largely composed of powdered plaster, from the walls of the shattered buildings.

Weak Women Read Below

One woman in three is struggling against weakness.

Are you one of this weak ones?

Not exactly sick, but oh, how miserable!

You discharge your daily duties, but who can measure the burden, the trial?

Talk of bravery, where find a finer spirit than among half sick women, fighting, struggling to do their duty against terrible odds—and they never give up until they drop.

If you could put a drop of blood under the microscope the cause would be revealed.

You would find the blood thin and watery, red cells far too few, the carrier of life very greatly reduced in vitality, and this means slow death.

Ferrozone cures weakness by fortifying both appetite and digestion, and making plenty of blood.

Ferrozone cures weakness by supplying nutriment and building material, by giving the body the constituents it requires for restoring tired organs.

It gives vim, vigor and endurance.

Ferrozone is a tissue builder.

It adds force to all the vital functions—the stomach, liver, kidneys.

Ferrozone gives sound sleep, sound digestion, promotes perfect removal of all the body wastes.

Ferrozone makes the body glow with health.

Any weak, pale or sickly woman that Ferrozone won't cure—why she must be hopeless. Wonderful power in Ferrozone, wonderful cures it makes, and this you can prove by trying it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

A BAD PLAN OF TRAVEL.

The Scheme That Worried One Woman on Her Trip Abroad.

"When I hear of people joyfully making plans for their first trip abroad," said a man who has made many a transatlantic voyage, "I am tempted to give them a little bit of advice, based, of course, on my own observations, but particularly upon a remark made to me by a middle aged woman whose seat in the saloon was next to mine on my return trip last summer. This woman had a husband, and it was to him that she referred in answering my question one day. I asked her what she had been doing on the other side. She looked half quizzically, half reproachfully, at her spouse and said, 'Well, my principal occupation was trying to keep track of John.'

"It developed that her concern was not over what John might do in European capitals, but simply related to the difficulty each had in meeting the other after pursuing their several ways in a strange city, she to browse among the shops and he, an inveterate sightseer, to visit this, that and the other spot of interest. Their general scheme, as I was informed, was to diverge, say, in the morning, following their respective bents and arranging to meet at a certain place at a certain time. The plan sounds feasible, but it is experimental, and, as both of them found, it was an experiment that didn't work well. First one would be delayed and then the other, and if you have ever waited for a person in a foreign city you can appreciate the particular variety of anxiety that comes in about ten minutes. There's a feeling that something has happened to the missing person, for one thing, and, for another, there's an increasing realization that you yourself are wasting time. If you start out to look up the delinquent, the case becomes practically hopeless. The needle in the haystack is easy compared to that search. When the reunion does come at dinner time in the hotel or pension, explanations are received with tears or haughty disdain. Oh, I know; I've been through it."

A Kaleidoscope of Fashions.

For my part I commend a quick changing fashion and could I have chosen my period would have fixed on the fickle years of the first empire, when fashions shifted from week to week, and that, too, with such fine shades of difference that only the most frivolous could follow them. Then the great conqueror brought to Paris finery from the ends of the earth, muslins from India, garlands of roses from Bengal, strolls shining with gold and silver from Cairo; from Turkey, of course, turbans, and from the far east shawls—shawls from Kashmir, from Persia and from the Levant; shawls particolored, blue—bright blue—and red and green and black and the clear yellow of the sun; shawls patterned with all the interlacings of Asian caprice and fit not only to hang from the shoulders of the fair, but to give a coquette of eastern fancy day long visions of the orient. From the past, for all time as well as all the earth was then Napoleon's, came the fashion of the troubadours—chapeaux à Cromeaux, sleeves a la mameluk, chevreux à l'enfant, leading to a very modern period who can say what charming Gothic airs? How do not such revelations of fashion enlarge the feminine heart and teach it to live in all ages and all climates!—Lucy M. Donnelly in Atlantic

Restlessness.

Mere restlessness is not a matter for which physicians are often consulted. It is on the face of it an unimportant malady, but when it exists in sufficient intensity to form the subject of complaint and to induce the sufferer to seek advice it is usually found to be the superficial indication of a grave underlying condition.—Hospital.

THE BROCK STREET BRIDGE WAS OPENED TO TRAFFIC MONDAY

New Re-Inforced Concrete Structure is a Great Improvement--Was Talked of for Many Years--A Costly Bridge Removed

On Monday morning the new Brock street bridge was thrown open to general traffic after being closed for several weeks during construction. The new bridge is a decided credit to the city. It is handsome in appearance, compared with the old bridge. It is substantially built and will last for many years, probably until the children of today have lived their lives and passed away. For many years Brock street bridge as well as the other bridges over the creek, has been an eyesore to the city and a source of great expense and a constant danger to life and property as it had not been safe for traffic for sometime. For the past two years it was repaired at considerable expense for the purpose of keeping it together until such time as the money for replacing it was available.

The Board of Works for several years discussed the transformation of the wooden bridges over the creek into permanent concretes ones. The first attempt at carrying out the scheme was when City Treasurer F. Adams was chairman of the board. At that time the Simcoe St. bridge was built and it proved to be very satisfactory. The next year Mr. Robt. Hicks was made chairman of the Board of Works, and he carried the work on completing the Hunter street and George street bridges. This year Ald. Harry Phalen and his committee undertook the task of the King street and Brock street bridges. The King street bridge being the smaller was taken up first and was completed some time ago, much to the relief of the residents in that section of the city and the many citizens who had occasion to use it.

It was about the first of the second week in August when Ald. Phalan and his committee got their plans in shape for the Brock street bridge. These plans were prepared by City Engineer T. A. S. Hay, and the work has been done under the direction of W. J. Martin, who was appointed foreman by the town. For several weeks a big gang of men has been employed and hundreds of bags of cement and a large quantity of steel have been used up. But the result is not only gratifying, but is a decided improvement to the appearance of that section of the city, and at the same it removes any danger of suits for damages being brought against the city for accidents which were liable to happen at this point at any time.

As yet the work is not completed. The wing walls on the north end are under way and the railings around the Aylmer street wall, and the north and south ends of the bridge have to be put up. Consequently the cost cannot be figured, although it is expected that it will come within or a little below the original estimate.

HOW IT IS BUILT.

The construction of the Brock street bridge is of a particularly permanent nature. It is of concrete reinforced under the Kahn system which is the placing of steel bars all through the concrete forming bones which bearing the weight of the body. It is just as strong as a 24-inch steel I beam would be but more rigid. There is less vibration when a heavy load passes over on account of the greater number and the position of the members forming the reinforcement.

The deck of the bridge is a continuous slab of concrete six inches deep all reinforced with a net work of similar bars only of smaller section. The length is 156 feet on the east side and 175 feet on the west side and has a clear span of 27 feet, with openings for connections of sewers, waterworks, gas mains, telephone conduits, etc. The walls, supporting the deck are 18 inches at the top and 3ft 6in. at the bottom, with footing five feet wide and two feet deep, all of solid cement.

The wing walls at the north and south ends are 18 inches thick at the bottom and 12 inches thick at the top. The object of these walls is to guide and control the volume of water and ice which come down in the spring. The wall on the east side at the north end extends from the bridge to a point where the 18-inch drain on Aylmer street empties into the creek. This wall is not yet finished, but when it is the space between it and the roadway will be filled in, making the street at this point considerably wider. On top of this wall and along all exposed places a substantial railing will be able to protect the travelling public.

The new method of constructing concrete bridges is far superior to the old way and the work will be more permanent and is if anything less expensive.

Dog Detectives Give Exhibition

Remarkable Illustrations of How Criminals Can be Run Down and Captured

Paris, Sept. 14.—A highly interesting police dog competition was held in the Winter Velodrome, when several clever animals of the sheep-dog class gave remarkable exhibitions of how they can deal with the Apaches.

At the word of command the dogs scaled high walls, located hidden objects and guarded with the utmost fidelity anything confided to them, even when the object consisted of a piece of savory meat.

They attacked dummy Apaches with savagery, refused to accept food from any but their own masters, and did other remarkable things, such as holding a man at bay without touching him.

The palm was awarded to two Belgian sheep dogs, Jules and Porthos, which climbed walls 7 feet 10 inches in height. Porthos took a running jump of 10 feet 9 inches, and Jules even exceeded that length. Out of curiosity, no doubt, a number of youths, obviously of the Apache class, attended, and the fierce pains they watched the murderous way in which the dogs attacked the dummy Apaches placed in the ring and the wonderful sagacity with which the animals discovered men hidden in various parts of the building and held them at bay until the arrival of their masters.

Other dogs, who were called by the sound of a whistle or small horn to the assistance of their masters, upon whom attacks were simulated, showing themselves furious, but happily for those who played the part of the aggressors the animals were muzzled. One remarkable exhibition was that of a dog named Petit Mouse, which was placed on the opposite side of a seven-foot wall to its mistress, Mme. Vouriot. She was then "attacked" by three "footpads," who had taken the precaution to wear thick leather overalls.

On hearing its mistress' cry for help, Petit Mouse was over the wall in two seconds, and it would have fared ill for the men setting the part of footpads but for the thick clothes. The dog, unable to get at them with its teeth, threw its lit at them, knocked them down and tore at them with its claws.

The championship was awarded to Jules. It is to be noted that nearly all these animals are Belgian sheep dogs.

FOREST FIRES GROWING WORSE--LIGHT UP COUNTY SIDE

Passengers on Trains Can Read by the Light Danger to Trains--Trees May Fall Across Track--Parry Sound Encircled by Ring of Fire

Parry Sound, Sept. 14.—Extensive bush fires are raging all through this district, extending from the Severn River to Sudbury, and great damage is being done to standing timber, even the hardwood bushes being affected in consequence of the prolonged drought. The air is filled with smoke, rendering navigation of the Georgian Bay extremely difficult.

So far no report of any buildings being destroyed has been received, but all through the district the settlers are fighting fires almost day and night, and unless rain comes soon the loss to lumbermen and settlers will be enormous. This town is encircled by a ring of fire, but so far there is no fire near the town and the country is nearly clear of woods for some distance outside of the built up sections.

READ BY REFLECTION.

In the neighborhood of Waubaumic and at other points along the C.N.O.R. and C.P.R., the reflection of the fires is so bright as to almost allow one to read without any other light.

Travel on the railway is somewhat of a problem, as there is danger of trees falling across the railways in places and the smoke is so dense that it is difficult for the engineers to see any distance in advance of their engines.

BLAZES NEAR FOLGER'S.

Kingston, Sept. 14.—Bush fires are playing havoc around Folger's Station on the K. and P. Railway, and threaten to make serious trouble. Fire has been smouldering for several days, and the railway company has a large gang of men here endeavoring to check the blaze. The lumber piles of Gillis Bros., Bracside, are also in danger and men from there are also at the scene.

Several other smaller fires are reported along the line.

BAD FIRES NEAR HAVELOCK

Havelock, Sept. 14.—Large bush fires rage in every direction destroying very much valuable timber and keeping the farmers on the qui vive. They are especially bad to the north in the timber limits, and one timber merchant says that one thousand men would have no effect on some of the fires, and that the only things that will stop them is a heavy rain. The fire works its way among the roots under the ground and is apt to spring up anywhere. The town was in darkness at Sir o'clock last night owing to the dark clouds of smoke in the air.

SETTLERS IN DANGER.

North Bay, Sept. 14.—Forest fires are assuming serious proportions in New Ontario. The towns are filled with smoke by day and blazing fires at night betoken a serious menace to settlers and new communities unless heavy rain comes on. Fire fighters have been busy all week trying to save the summer cottages of North Bay citizens on the lake shore from destruction, and their safety is not assured.

Midland Council Again Unseated

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Giving judgment today on the quo-warranto proceedings to unseat the mayor and six councillors of Midland, the Master-in-Chambers unseats the seven councillors and orders a new election. Councillor Oades is to pay $10, and Councillors Hanly and Simpson the costs throughout. The others escape expense.

The motion was made on technical grounds, and was the second successful one of the kind, inasmuch as the councillors elected at the new year had been unseated. Two of the old councillors dropped out, and were succeeded by new men. The second election was held in May, and was followed by this second motion to unseat.

"The main ground relied on at the argument," says the Master, "was that the election was invalid for two reasons; First, because such election was appointed to be held more than fifteen days from the date of issue, by the town clerk, of his warrant authorizing the same, if such was ever issued.

"Further, such election was invalid by reason of the town clerk having issued no warrant therefor under the authority of the judgment of Rex exrel. O'Shea v. Letherby, and sec. 212 of the Municipal Act."

Regarding Hanly and Simpson, the judgment says; "They were declared to be disqualified by the judgment in Rex ex rel. O'Shea v. Lether by. Those same disqualifications were in full force when they consented to be nominated again and accepted office, a proceeding that does not differ substantially from contempt of court."

Rev. Dr. Young's Talk on Western Canada and the Rocky Mountains

At George street Methodist church last night a fairly large crowd gathered to hear Rev. Dr. Young, of Great St. James Methodist church, Montreal, deliver his lecture on his travels through Western Canada.

Previous to the lecture a short program of music was enjoyed by the gathering, consisting of an anthem by the choir, "The Son of God Goeth Forth to War," by Whitney; a violin solo by Miss Julia Choate, "Cavatina," by Raff; a duett, "My Faithful It's Up to Thee," Vassford, rendered by Miss Rennor and Miss Sanderson.

Miss Rennor also sang "After the Harvest," at the conclusion of the lecture.

In opening his remarks Dr. Young expressed his pleasure at being again present at George street church, and at addressing so many former friends. He also explained that he had been possessed of a desire to learn more of his own country and had taken the first opportunity to visit the Far West.

Taking a Northern Navigation Co. steamer at Owen Sound, he enjoyed the delights of the 30,000 islands of Georgian Bay, and reached the Soo over the same route as the poet Longfellow took in his birch bark canoe, and which inspired him to write "Hiawatha's Wooing." Leaving the Soo and its great steel rail plant on the Str. Manitoba, he sailed through Lake Superior, past Jack Fish Point, and in twenty-four hours was past the famous Sleeping Giant, a huge granite rock carved by nature in the shape of a man reclining on an island with his hands behind his head and his limbs drawn up. Through Thunder Bay and calling at Port Arthur where he saw the 7,000,000 bushel elevator, and at Fort William, which is soon to have an elevator with a capacity of 12,000,000. He then visited Kenora, then known as Fort Francis, and after that Winnipeg, with its magnificent wide streets, which he described as almost three times as wide as George street. He visited old Fort Garry Gate, and was pointed out the spot on which Thos. Scott stood when he was shot by Louis Reil. Winnipeg is a city where all nationalities are combined. He described it as the meeting place of the old and the new, his parallel being that of a yoke of oxen driven by two French women on the same street with a modern electric car.

He then described the wheat fields west of Winnipeg. Quoting the figures of a high authority he said they were in area 800 miles long by 300 miles wide or 270 square miles of a consecutive wheat field, comprising some 173 million acres. Speaking of the problem of transportation Dr Young said that all the four great railways might be duplicated, and there would not then be too many to move the products of the West which he predicted would be produced in the near future. Touching on the nature of the soil he explained that the possibility of it playing out was an [illegible] had been tested by taking continuous crops off its for as many as 11 years. The speaker then gave a very accurate account of the life of the young man who went West to farm, and said he had come to the conclusion that it was not so much what a man made as what he saved that made him wealthy. The burning of the straw after threshing made a beautiful picture as described by Dr. Young.

Passing on across the prairie the speaker had been impressed with the ranching district around Moosejaw, Medicine Hat and Calgary, from where he got the first glimpse of the Rockies. The first glimpse was as of a bank of white clouds made so by the snow-capped summits. Arriving at Banff he witnessed the mineral springs and the famous herd of 600 buffalo. Then on to the lakes in the clouds, and what is known as 'the Great Divide," which was a small forked stream, marked by two huge cedar posts, supporting a board with the above inscription. Nine miles down Mt. Stephen and the Kicking Horse River was to be seen and then he ascended the Selkirk range to Glacier House, where many had thirty minutes for lunch. Then down into the Fraser canon by the famous railroad loop. The coast was mountainous to the coast and even out on the islands. The speaker then gave a graphic description of the glorious Pacific sunset, and the beauties of the Colbia river up which he sailed to Nelson and Kootenay Landing. Dr. Young closed his lecture by a reference to the ill-fated town of Fernie.

Rev. Mr. Henderson moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, which was endorsed by Rev. Mr. Manning, and presented to the speaker by Rev. Mr. Pearson, who acted as chairman. Mr. Young made an appropriate reply, and the gathering was dismissed by the singing of the National Anthem and a benediction.

The proceeds of the evening, which were obtained from a silver collection at the door are to be used to help defray the expenses of the recent extensive decorations of the church.

Tom Longboat and Fred Simpson

To Give Five-Mile Exhibition Race at Peterborough Fair

A meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Fair directors was held in the president's office last night when the finishing touches were put on the arrangements for this year's exhibition. The directors are very optomistic as to the outcome. All they need now is fair weather and a big crowd. They have provided a program, the prize list is a liberal one and the special attractions are sufficient to draw a crowd. A special race is being arranged for stallions in this district and there will no doubt be many entries in this class.

Entries in all classes provided in the prize list are pouring in to the secretary.

It is therefore up to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity to turn out.

Among other special features talked of was a five-mile race between Tom Longboat who will be here for the Harriers' meet, and Fred Simpson, to be run on the second day of the fair to force the horse races start. If satisfactory arrangements can be made this will be a big drawing card.

Normal School Opens, Teachers All Present Supplementary Exams

The first session to be held in the new Normal School in Dixon Park will open today under the principalship of Mr. Duncan Walker, B.A. While the formal opening will not take place until sometime later, today's session will be as important one in the educational history of Peterborough.

The teachers have all arrived in the city and have met the principal and are ready to start their work. A large number of students have also arrived, but their number will be greatly increased during the next few days. The first session of the Normal will be devoted to an examination in the supplimentary subjects not taken at mid-summer.

The interior of the rooms is not yet completed, but it is far enough advanced so as not to interfere with the working of the classes and it is expected that everything will be in good order for the formal opening.

The teachers and their subjects are as follows;—

Mr. Duncan Walker, B.A., principal and teacher of Mathematics and History of Education.

Dr. H. B. Park of Uxbridge, Science of Education and English.

Mr. G. Cornish of Lindsay, Science.

Mr. S. J. Keys, B.P., of Cornwall, School Management and English.

Miss E. Steinhoff of Ingersoll, Domestic Science.

Miss J. McCrae of Belleville, Art Instructor.

Miss Helen Davies, Peterborough; Instructor in Music.

Miss S. Caverly, Peterborough; Physical Director.

Mr. Scarrows of Owen Sound, Manual Training. Mr. Scarrows will not likely arrived until the 1st of January.

Girl of Eighteen Expert Burglar

Manchester, Sept. 14. — Maggie Jane Scott, a tall, slim girl, 18 years of age, was charged at Carlisle with a remarkable series of burglaries.

Neatly dressed, and with her hair hanging down her back, the girl burst into tears when she was placed in the dock. Her attitude was demure and shy, but the chief constable of Carlisle, in describing the prisoner's exploits, said they were among the most daring he had come across in the course of twenty-five years police experience. The prisoner, he explained, had held several situations in Carlisle, from which she had, however, been dismissed for lazy and indolent habits. Her vanity and love of finery had, he believed, brought her into her present position, for the articles which she stole were mainly hats and clothes.

The burglaries, added the chief constable, were committed after midnight, the girl in most instances obtained an entrance by climbing through windows which had been left unfastened. Once inside a house the prisoner would ransack the ground floor, sometimes spending several hours in doing so. An amazing feature of the case was that the girl went through her operations and got clear away without waking the sleeping occupants.

The magistrates decided to deal with the girl under the probation of offenders' act. She will be taken to a home and kept under observation for two years.

Mayor Begg May be Liberal Candidate

Lindsay, Sept. 14.—That Mayor Begg will be the Liberal candidate to oppose Col. Hughes is said to be the wish of the members of the Grit party, and it is rumored around town town today that he will be nominated. Mayor Begg is now in his prime, and has shown himself to be a man of marked ability and tact. He has worked his way the ordinary municipal to another, and until he reached the mayoralty and the county council. In all of his positions he has shown a keen desire to serve the people with the very best all the time. No stronger man in town could have been chosen, and his popularity with the farming classes, make his chances for election very bright.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon in preparing the system for baby's coming and for passing the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

The happy young couple leave today for Alberta where they will make their home on the farm taken up by the groom.

Obituary

MRS. JAMES TANNER.

The death occurred at her home at lot 13, 10th concession of Chandos, on Saturday of Mrs. James Tanner, wife of the late Sergeant Jas. Tanner, an Indian Mutiny veteran. She was 67 years of age, and had suffered for about three months from dropsy. Her maiden name was Sarah Simmons and she was a native of Bristol, England, settling in Canada in 1875.

Mrs. Tanner is survived by five sons, Robert, Charles, George Francis, Philip and Victor all at home, and two daughters, Mrs Alfred Clapperton, of Port Arthur, and Mrs. Thos. Tanner of Chandos. A sister, Mrs. George Griffis, resides in the Old Country, and Mr. Charles W. Sims, of 272 Thomas street, Peterborough, is a brother of the deceased.

Mrs. Tanner was highly respected and her death will be greatly regretted. The funeral took place Monday morning at ten o'clock to St. George's Anglican church, Apsley, and thence to the cemetery there. Many friends paid the last tribute of respect.

BEHIND THE SCENES

According to the translations from General Kuropatkin's suppressed memoire published in the September number of McClure's Magazine, there might have been no war between Japan and Russia had it not been for the financial interests in a large timber concession on the Yalu River of a number of influential people in St. Petersburg, including members of the Czar's family and perhaps the Czar himself. A Vladivostok merchant had obtained a concession of timber lands on the Yalu River in 1896 from the Corean Government. Unable to form a company himself he sold out to one Besobrasoff, a State councillor, who succeeded in interesting several Grand Dukes in the enterprise, and eventually the Czar himself.

When it was decided to operate the concession on military lines, Japan objected, as such would be a breach of existing compacts. The representatives of Russia at Seoul, Tokio and Pekin, urged their government to treat the timber company as a purely commercial affair, for to militarise it would cause a rupture with Japan. Several ministers took the same view, but the Czar insisted on following Besobrasoff's advice, despite the added protests of Admiral Alexieff and General Kuropatkin, who were on the ground and knew the magnitude of the danger. Down to seventy days before the breaking out of hostilities the Czar was declaring his wish to avoid war if he could do so without impairing the value of the family investment. At the same time he kept pouring troops into the Yalu Valley and thus made war a certainty.

The policy of working the timber concession under military protection was persisted in, and was followed with results so similar and momentous. It would probably be unsafe to say that the development of this timber enterprise was the sole cause of the war; but it was one of the causes, and perhaps also the occasion. It seems quite likely that Japan was looking for an excuse. The interference of Russia after the war between China and Japan had prevented the latter from taking to herself the full fruits of the victory. Thereupon Japan promptly set to work to so strengthen her position that similar interference would be discouraged in the future. Thus it was that when the trouble over the Yalu timber concession arose, Japan was ready for war, Russia was either in ignorance of the Japanese preparations, or the eyes of the people who controlled her affairs were blinded by their own greed.

The price that Russia paid for having her eyes opened was enormous. But if it were fully certain that the Russian people had mastered the more important lessons of the war, the price might not be considered too great. It is not impossible that one result of the war, not an immediate result, of course, will be the emancipation of the Russian people. The exposures made in the Kuropatkin memoire should help.

Others than the Russian people might very well study the lessons of the war. It was not the first time in history that the earth was drenched with blood because of the blind and guilty selfishness of a few influential persons pursuing their own interests.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Of the 250,000 voters whose names have been added to the lists since the last general election, part represent the adult male population received with the heaviest immigration the Dominion has so far experienced and another part the young Canadians who have passed 21 and are about to cast their first vote. It will be rather surprising if the personality and the career of Sir Wilfrid do not make strong appeal to this youthful element, says the Montreal Herald. The young men of this country who are between 21 and 25 have spent the whole of the period in which they took any account of political conditions under the spell of Sir Wilfrid's influence. It is not unkind to anyone to say that he has had no rival in all these qualities which go to attract and which hold favor of the young. It is not merely that he has held high office, not that h was outshone others in Parliament and one shone others in Parliament and on the platform. Beyond all that he has been, on many important occasions, Canada's exhibit, so to say, amongst the best that other countries could send and he has invariably made all Canada as proud of him as he has shown himself to be worthy of her. Young men who have passed a dozen years in this kind of atmosphere cannot be supposed to have remained insensible to the attractiveness of the man, and it will be very strange indeed, if a majority of them do not do themselves and him the honor of casting their votes for him.

The fact is that an almost certain test of the really superior fitness of a public man can be found in the answer to a question whether he is or ever was in a special way a leader of the young. A man may be a statesman without having this faculty; Lord Salisbury's career offers an example. Effective for their hour, such careers do not carry on the progress of the popular insistence from the shoulders of one generation to the shoulders of the next in anything like the same way as the careers, say, of a Gladstone, a Disraeli, or even a Chamberlain. Sir John Macdonald held the young men of his party to the very hour of his death. He was always twenty in some corner of his heart, and Sir Wilfrid, in all the great moments of his career, has acted as though the ideals of his youth had never been dimmed. Youth, they tell us, thinks in glorious certainties. As men grow old they feel less sure; and rarely indeed do they secure a hold upon the minds or hearts of the generation that has arisen since they first appeared as the chosen champions of ardent, impulsive youth. They have always to fight for the place with some younger man, and the younger man, when he is the real material, has time and circumstances on his side. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a young man's hero from the moment he entered public life. He was still that great young man in 1891, when he had a half century to his credit. He still acts like a young man in all times of doubt and trial, doing the simple, straightforward thing when counsellors learned in the ways of older men take other views. That is why it is true that he is trusted and looked up to, not merely by his partisans, but by the whole people, beyond all other men in public life in Canada. Others may come and go and their going leave little trace; but nobody seriously looks forward to a Parliament in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier shall be present and be not at the head. He has no rival in the confidence of the older voters, no rival in the admiration, say rather the affection, of the young.

Prof. Goldwin Smith writes in the Farmers' Sun as follows:—

Lord Durham felt confident that French Canada would be Anglicized. He seems even to have regarded its Anglicisation as indispensable to the success of the union. It is needless to say how far his expectation has been from fulfilment. The French are still French, and French they are likely to remain, all attempt to convert them into Englishmen, either by persuasion or pageantry, notwithstanding. There is a strong National movement now, among them, with a journal bearing the Nationalist title, and a very active and popular politician for its leader. In the war with the Half-Breeds, two French battalions were called out, but were not sent into action, while one of the colonels left his command, and the subsequent attack on the personal character of a British General, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier played a leading part, showed plainly on which side the heart of the French Province had been. But apart from nationality, the Premiership, while it is held by a Frenchman, is inevitably under the influence of a foreign power. A foreign power the Papacy really is, though its political action is based on its religious pretension. The passing of the school clauses of the Autonomy bill through our Parliament by such means as were employed, while the chief dignitary fails in the English members, raises a question which, unwilling as we are in any way to hurt French or Catholic feeling, it is impossible to set aside. The French Province has now enjoyed twelve years of Premiership and has left a stamp on our legislation different from the promotion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, on which the Premier seems to ground his plea for a prolongation of his term of power. No unkindly feeling towards the French Province is involved in considering whether the term has not been sufficiently long.

Puts the Blame on the Sultan

New York, Sept. 12.—Ziz Bey, Abdul Hamid's one-time favorite, former head of the sultan's secret police, who fled Constantinople to avoid punishment when the forces of young Turkey got the upper hand and whose record of murders is a long one, has been in New York. But he fled back to England yesterday on board the Mauretania, fearful lest he should be discovered and perhaps extradited.

Ziz Bey came to this country from London last week, incognito, of course, and only a few of his fellow countrymen knew of his presence here. Suspicious of everybody and dreading the fate awaiting him in Constantinople, he moved from one hotel to another, registering under assumed names. At the Hotel Lafayette on University place he gave his name as I. K. Ignatius. At 237 West Forty-fifth street he was known as Z. B. Koulianine. Gray and Samarine were other aliases which he used.

IZA BEY HYSTERICAL.

Zia Bey was one of the most resolute of the old Turkish regime and belonged to the clique at the Yildiz Kiosk, which organized revolutions for speculation, ordered massacres of peaceful inhabitants, sold public industries, turned the palace of the sultan into a place of murders and tortures, and kept the country for thirty-two years in perpetual terror.

When he was seen at the Hotel Lafayette he was almost hysterical and on the verge of nervous collapse. But he seemed willing to discuss Turkish politics, to talk about the Yildiz Kiosk and to criticise the young Turks. It was most dramatic when he disclosed his identity.

Pounding on the floor with his feet he said:—

"Yes, I am Iza Bey, the chief spy of the sultan; the wretch, the rascal, the mischiefdoer. I was a fool. I have been cruel, heartless and have done many things which a man of conscience would not do. But do you blame me? I was brought up in that life. From my childhood I saw one plotting against the other; I saw graft cruelty and followed the steps of others for my own promotion. From an obscure Tartar origin I advanced to become the prefect of the police in Constantinople, and was then promoted to the Yildiz Kiosk, to deal with the secrets of the government.

"I am not to be blamed for what has been. It was the system, the policy of Abdul Hamid to surround himself with dishonest men; they suited him best.

PUTS BLAME ON SULTAN.

"Whatever happened in the palace and in the empire was done by his order. Of course, ministers around him were accomplices. Ferik Pasha, the grand vizier, Seraskier (commander general) Rizs Pasha, least obscure origin and not real Turks, joined hand in hand for wholesale murders and atrocities.

"I was the head spy, next to Faim Pasha, who was executed after I escaped, and whose body was thrown to the dogs in the streets. My duty was to receive reports from the spy lieutenants and turn them over to the sultan. Abdul Hamid, from morning to late night, passed his time in reading these reports. Then the master would call me in and order me to do away with the man who was reported being mixed up in a revolutionary plot. Then the man was brought to Yildiz. Seldom were any questions put to him. He was shot or thrown into the sea of was shot or thrown into the Sea of Marmora with an iron ring tied to his feet. His property was confiscated and divided among the palace officials. In fact, such booty went mostly to Faim Pasha or myself.

"Faim Pasha was my superior in the matters which you call old regime. He was the arch-terror of the land. One day Faim Pasha walked into an Armenian diamond dealer's shop and selected gems worth at least $100,000 and told the dealer that they were to be taken to the palace for the sultan. The gems were neither paid for nor returned to the merchant; instead the man was beaten and threatened with a long term of imprisonment.

"To arrest innocent individuals in order to extort money from their wealthy relatives was a common trick. The Armenian massacres were all premeditated, plotted and carried out by the officers at Yildiz with the consent of Abdul Hamid to enable Nazim and Izzet Pashas to make their fortunes.

"In 1895, when Nazim Pasha was the head of police and I was the prefect in Constantinople, the Armenian revolutionary demonstration was planned at the police headquarters.

OLD REGIME STILL LIVES.

"The banishment of the sultan's creatures does not mean that the old regime is ended. Corruption exists now; it is in the heart of a Turk, no matter whether he be old or young. Turks cannot get away from their old traditions and customs. If one of them should cut his mustache in Turkey, as I have mine, it would be his last day. "I am a Tartar and have no respect for the Turk. What have they done for humanity? What have they produced? Their religion is foreign. Their language is a mixture of Arabic and Persian. They have no architecture and no original literature. Even the system of government they inherited from the old Byzantine empire."

Fought Mosquitoes by the Million

New York, Sept. 11.—Dr. R. H. Lowie, of the department of anthropology in the American Museum of Natural History, has returned from his journey to the land of the primitive Chippewayans thirteen pounds lighter, but greatly the gainer in knowledge of a strange people. It took him a month and a day to reach the remote regions of the Hudson Bay country, and when he got to the starless north he fought mosquitoes by the million, lived on corn cake and salt pork three times a day and devoted a large portion of his time to getting in and out of canoes.

His passage of the Athbasca River was in a craft which was towed up stream by night obliging Indians, who ran along the shore or waded the shallows for one hundred miles. The jolting and the rolling about that the doctor experienced as well as the attacks of the most savage mosquitoes he had ever seen caused him to perceptibly reduce his weight. He was obliged to constantly wear a head net.

The savant, however, managed to get back after many hard fought battles with conditions. He left this city on May 5 last, proceeding to Alberta by rail, to the Athabasca River, then embarked on the stream and eventually arrived at Fort Chippewayan on Lake Athabasca.

The Indians there are regarded as less affected by civilization than any other tribe, and only once or twice a year do they go to the trading posts. They exchange pelteries for food and clothing but care little for the merchandise of the white man. Dr. Lowie brought back with him weappons, bead work, implements for tanning hides and the like. He also gathered much of the lore and traditions of the people which will be published under the direction of the museum.

News in Brief

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—Newspaper publicity as a cure for drunkenness has been successfully tried in Oklahoma City, and the new method of reforming habitual souses may become a worthy rival of the Salvation Army tactics and the gold cure.

Recently a reporter for a local paper discovered a sad case of destitution, a worthy woman and her children being ill, starving and on the point of being evicted from the hovel they called home. Investigation of the case showed that the recreant husband and father, a big, strong, ex-policeman, had for months failed to contribute to the support of his family, spending all his time and money carousing in low saloons.

Appealing for aid for the mother and little ones, the newspaper published on its first page, under a scarehead, a scathing denunciation of the drunken head of the impoverished family. There was no mincing of words, and the man was held up to public ridicule as a worthless fellow unfit to associate with decent human being.

Instead of calling on the editor with a gun, the newspaper publicity had the effect of suddenly sobering the drunkard. He began to see a great light. The spectacle of his family dependent on public charity aroused his latent pride. He called on the editor and with tears in his eyes promised to turn over a new leaf. Then he donned his working clothes and went out to hunt a job.

Pekin, Sept. 9.—Contrary to the agreement to maintain the status and pending her agreement with the Chinese boundary dispute, with China, Japan has recently done a number of things in this territory which arouse the apprehension of the Pekin government. She has occupied the residency buildings recently completed at Yenchi Ting, in the disputed district; she has brought into this town a joint civil and military commander and one thousand gendarmes and she is proceeding with the re-organization of the existing system of government of the Korean population. China has protested to the Tokio and to the Japanese diplomatic representative here, but with no result whatever.

Japan is establishing also an agricultural farm at Lutaoko in Chientao. This is part of her effort to augment the Korean population of the territory. Furthermore, two Japanese major-generals and four staff officers are at present engaged in making a careful study of Chientao for strategic purposes, and the arrival of a battery of Japanese field guns near the border has renewed the fears of China that Japan purposes to precipitate some action.

China has protested also against the project to bridge the Tumi river at the Genzan railroad terminus.

Automatic Salt Works.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is prevented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in an almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little further the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has solidified and is ready for the market. Wells driven into the sand disclose strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, for they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, all such lasting accomplishments were never to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We call and cheerfully recommend

"ALL DEALERS"

ARTIST OR ARTISAN.

Do You Practice an Art or Follow a Trade?

What are you—you who bake the bread and brew the tea—artist or artisan? You may roast a joint for two or twenty, you may toss an omelet on occasion or pursue that occupation as a profession, and still be either an artist or artisan.

Some one has said in writing of Mme. Poulard, whose little inn was for years one of the attractions of Mount St. Michel:

"To see her preparing an omelet or a stew or keeping an eye on the chickens revolving over the fire was to see a woman practicing an art rather than following a trade."

That distinction between an art and a trade is an interesting one, by the way, and one which may be applied to the realm of cooking as well as to that of any other field of endeavor.

In common parlance house painting is termed a trade, while painting miniatures on ivory would surely be referred to as an art. Still, with no inaccuracy in definition the terms might be reversed.

Of course the difference in the two terms, stating it broadly, is one of conscious effort. The artist adds the imprint of his own personality to his work; the artisan merely performs manual labor. An art perhaps is only a trade with the creative element added.

And so it was said of this Mme. Poulard:

"In handling her utensils she had the grand air which distinguishes the artist from the artisan, the cook whose heart is in her work from the cook bent on earning a living."

Is it too high a standard to set for the mere business of cooking to demand that it be done with individuality? A criticism which was once made of the table of a club is that it "had no love in it." To quote again: "The salad needs (of the club) were generally met, but there was no margin, no suggestion of human interest. You were treated as a boarder to be fed and not as a human being with taste as well as appetite."

How different this from the attitude of a woman whose apple pies invariably caused some favorable comment and who was once asked how she made them!

"Oh, I don't know," she said. "Just the usual way, I guess, only I always think of the nice folks I am making them for and put in a pinch of love."

The woman was a practical, hard-working housekeeper with a big family of boarders, not a sentimental newly wed, but she meant pretty literally what she said. Most women in her circumstances would have put in only a pinch of grim necessity.

The pinch of love, or, if you please, the spontaneous interest, that went into that work was the thing that made those pies the work of an artist rather than an artisan.

And when you hear a woman talk about the drudgery of "messing around the kitchen" and the awful bore it is to get meals you may make up your mind that, however gifted she may be in other lines, in her home at least she is an artisan and not an artist.

If the Earth Should Stop.

The stopping of a projectile always results in the generation of heat. The velocity and weight of a projectile being known, the amount of heat developed by its stoppage can be calculated. In the case of large bodies moving rapidly the result of the calculation is something astounding. For example, the earth weighs 6,000,000,000,000 tons and travels in its orbit at the rate of over eighteen miles a second. Should it strike a target strong enough to stop its motion the heat developed by the shock would be sufficient not merely to fuse the earth, but also to reduce a large portion of it to vapor. It has been calculated that the amount of heat generated by a collision so colossal would equal that obtained from the burning of fourteen globes of coal each equal to the earth in size. And should the earth after its stoppage fall into the sun, as it certainly would do, the amount of heat developed by its impact on the sun would be equal to that generated by the combustion of 5,000 earths of solid carbon.

A Tiny State.

The miniature republic of San Marino is a mere dot on the map of Europe, being the smallest state in the world as well as the oldest independent republic. Its area is thirty-eight square miles, only little less than twice that of the island of Manhattan. It lies entirely in Italy, but is wholly independent. Its situation is on the easterly side of the Etruscan Apennines and about twelve miles from Rimini, on the Adriatic sea. The frontier is only twenty-four miles in length, and the population would make only a small city ward, numbering less than 12,000. There is no public debt, and the annual expenses met by taxation amount to $60,000. The country has bronze and silver currency, coined by Italy, 120,000 lire of the latter and 105,000 of the former. The principal exports are wine, cattle and stone. The military force of the republic numbers 50 officers and 600 men.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the doorknobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chints, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light is bad both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

Eccentric Moods and Manners of the Great Composers.

THE MADNESS OF GENIUS.

Beethoven's Strange Abstraction and Queer Habits—The Odd Contrast That Mozart Insisted on Signing. Meyerbeer Inspired by Thunder.

When listening to the wonderful strains of Beethoven's immortal symphonies and sonatas it is difficult to imagine that they could come from the pen of such an eccentric man. Though musicians are, as a rule, men with many peculiarities, Beethoven was probably the most extraordinary of them all.

He wrote his music in all sorts of places—when dining, walking or conversing with a friend. Often in the midst of a crowded street he would stop and write furiously for a few minutes on the back of a letter or an envelope, oblivious to the bustling crowd about him. Some of his greatest themes were composed when he was walking along in the pouring rain, for in the worst weather he was a familiar figure in the streets of Vienna, and, though often the object of much ridicule and many gibes, he was profoundly instinctive to his surroundings, as his mind was wholly occupied with his music. His friends were not unaccustomed to have him break off in the midst of a conversation and begin to write rapidly some motif which had presented itself to him.

This great composer would play for hours at a stretch, and in order to cool his hands, which often became feverish, he would seize a water jug and walk about the room, pouring the water first on one hand and then on the other, utterly ignoring the fact that there was no receptacle to catch it. This was the cause of many of his hasty retreats from his lodgings, for the slightest complaint would cause him to give notice to quit, so puerile was he at times. As a result he sometimes was paying for no fewer than three different lodgings at the same time, which, after engaging for a month, he had abruptly left in a day.

Though Haydn ranks next to Beethoven on the list of eccentric musicians, still their peculiarities were very unlike. Beethoven lived in the midst of disorder and confusion, while Haydn averred that he could not compose a line unless everything in his study was in its exact place. Even every ornament must be where it belonged.

He always rose early to write, for he found his greatest inspiration when the birds were singing in the dewy morning hours. His most extraordinary characteristic, however, was to don his full court dress, with bob wig, hat and ruffles, and put on his finger a certain ring before he wrote a line, for he declared that he had not a musical idea unless so attired.

Mozart cannot be called eccentric in the same sense as the two mentioned, for they were very retiring—in fact, recluses—while he was to a great extent a man of the world. To him, however, must be credited one of the strangest documents that perhaps have ever been written.

He became engaged to a young woman, and at the request of his future mother-in-law he drew up in the presence of an attorney a contract which bound him to marry one of the woman's daughters within three years, the said daughter always having the liberty to refuse the composer if she wished to marry another. But in case Mozart was unable to carry out his intention through lack of the necessary funds or through the woman's refusal he pledged himself to support her in the condition of a stranger, no matter where or how she lived, all her life. This support was to be a fixed sum paid quarterly or half yearly.

Wagner, too, was not exempt from peculiar fancies. His mind seemed to run to the gruesome, and during his lifetime he had his grave constructed. It was in the garden back of his home, and he would often go and look at it that he might not forget its existence. But the worst of it was that he constantly insisted that his friends should remember it, too, and when he was entertaining them at dinner he would suddenly break off the conversation and begin declaiming on eternity and the grave.

"My friends," he would say, "in the midst of life we are in death. Death is a lot that we all must face, even so great a man as myself. I, too, must die. I should like very much to show you my grave, if you will allow me."

And, starting from the dinner table, he would lead the way, followed by his guests, to the corner of the garden where his grave was, and there he would give his companions further discertations on eternity.

The Adored One.

He is a confirmed bachelor. In fact, his attitude toward women is almost that of a misogynist. His particular bete noire is a new acquaintance of his sister, Miss Blank.

He met her in the street the other day and, seeing no way out of it, stopped and spoke to her. She saw how he was fidgeting to get away and said:

"You seem very preoccupied. Ah, I know! You are thinking of the one you adore."

"I adore no one," was his stiff rejoinder.

"You can't deceive me. I know you are deeply in love. Besides, your sister showed me a photo of the object of your devotion only last night. It isn't a type I admire. But, there, every one to his taste. I won't tell any one, Goodby."

And before he could reply she was gone.

When he reached home he said to his sister:

Then it dawned upon him what Miss Blank was driving at.—London Scraps.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at 55 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 55 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without lay-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $1,461.97 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,160 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

Will Assist Anyone in Weak, Pale, Nervous Condition to Robust, Hearty, Health.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jervell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—at very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.—They possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health gain. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c at all dealers.

Lumber Co. Assigned

Messrs. Sadler & Fee, who have been conducting the Lindsay Lumber Co. for some time, have made an assignment to Mr. J. H. Southgate for the benefit of the creditors. The two heads of the firm have always been looked upon as men of extraordinary ability, and the news of the assignment will no doubt be a surprise to many. The tightness of the money market is the cause of their difficulty, it being impossible to make collections from farmers.

Thanksgiving Services

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held in St. John's church on Thursday morning and evening next, when Rev. Dr. Foster will deliver the sermon. The church will be decorated and the choir will render special music for the occasion. Those who intend to send grains or flowers for the decorations are requested to do so by Tuesday night, and those who are willing to help decorate, are asked to be on hand Wednesday morning.

New Bowling Alleys

The new bowling alleys in the basement of the Y.M.C.A. are being rapidly completed. Men are hustling the work so that they will be ready for use on Tuesday next, when the general opening takes place. The bowling alleys will be a special feature at the "Y" this season, and should be the means of attracting a large number of young men who are not now connected with the institution. At any rate all the young fellows of the city are invited to visit the alleys when they are completed.

TRUE BILL FOUND AGAINST LEVASSEUR ON PERJURY CHARGE

Fall Assizes Opened Yesterday Before Mr. Justice Magee--Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. vs. Fox--McIlmoyle vs. Baker

A true bill against Levasseur was brought in by the grand jury yesterday afternoon after due consideration. Levasseur is charged with perjury in connection with illegal selling of liquor, and his case will be taken up today. Mr. L. M. Hays is acting as Crown prosecutor, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams represents the defendant.

The fall assizes opened before Mr. Justice Magee in the court house yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. The grand jury was elected and Mr. John H. Fife, reeve of Otonabee, was chosen foreman.

Mr. Justice Magee then addressed the jury and complimented the county upon the lack of crime during the past several months.

The only criminal case that was to come up before the grand jury was one of perjury, and his lordship went on to briefly state the details of the case. It arose, he explained, out of a prosecution under the Liquor License Act. In giving evidence on his own behalf he understood that the defendant had stated that he had only procured liquor for people going down the river who hired boats from him, and only acted as their messenger in the matter.

His lordship explained the nature of perjury to the grand jury. It was not sufficient to constitute perjury, he explained, that the evidence given under oath should be untrue. Everyone was liable to make mistakes, but if he gave untrue evidence, knowing it to be untrue, and with the intention of misleading the court, it would be perjury, whether the evidence had a material bearing on the case or not. He must have knowledge that his evidence is false, and must also have the intention to deceive.

His lordship called the attention of the grand jury to the fact that they were supposed to visit the public institutions, including the hospitals, and County House of Refuge, and to pay careful attention to the management and care of the inmates, and to make such suggestions as they thought fit.

In connection with the calendar of the jail, he noticed that seven out of the 17 inmates were vagrants, and six of these were over 65 years of age. He did not think it right that men of such an advanced age, who were not criminals but victims of misfortune, should be herded with criminals. The fact that eight inmates of the jail were there on charges of theft was somewhat remarkable, and he advised the jury to try to find some cause for that condition of affairs.

While the grand jury was out the court proceeded with the case of the Port Hope Brewing & Malting Co. vs. Fox. This was an action to compell the defendant Fox to pay $200, the value of two shares of the company's stock he had subscribed for. Mr. O'Connell appeared for the defendants and he was called upon to prove that the company had taken all the proper legal steps necessary to create a liability on the part of the defendant. Mr. O'Connell addressed the court. Judgment was reserved. The defendant had no legal representative.

McILMOYLE vs. BAKER.

The next case taken up was that of McIlmoyle vs. Baker, which is an action brought by the executors of the estate of the late Mrs. McIlmoyle, to recover back $1500 given by the deceased to one Baker, the defendant, on the grounds that it was gotten by undue influence while the deceased was feeble old and feeble-minded to transact business.

Mr D. W. Dumble, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defendant.

The case was not concluded when the court arose and will be continued today.

TO RECOVER FEES.

The only other civil case to be taken up today will be an action brought by Dr. Young to recover fees from the Dominion Construction Co., with the Canadian General Electric Co., as a third party. The case arises out of an accident to D. J. Moore who was injured while working on on the new transformer building for the Canadian General last May. Dr. Young was called to attend the injured man and he did so for several months. The doctor now claims payment from the Dominion Construction Co., while they in turn claim they have a right to be indemnified by the C.G.E. if the doctor's claim is sustained.

R. F. McWilliams appeared for the plaintiff; F. D. Kerr for the defendants, and J. A. Patterson, K.C. Toronto, for the C.G.E.

New Indicator Has Been Installed

In the Fire Hall--it was Tested and Works Perfectly

The new indicator at the fire hall has been installed. It arrived from Toronto where it had been on exhibition at the fair and was put up yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. His worship the mayor with a couple of the aldermen, were at the fire hall when the chief tested it out. An alarm was sent in from box 33 at the corner of Charlotte and Stewart streets and the indicator worked perfectly. The instant the alarm was sounded the figures 33 in large plain type were shown on the face. The beauty of the thing is that it works in connection with all the rest of the electrical apparatus—the action of the alarm box works everything at the same time.

The indicator was made by the Northern Electric and Manufacturing Co., of Montreal, and is the most improved in the market. Its installation in the Peterborough fire hall is another step towards the ideal fire fighting equipment for which Chief Howard is working. The indicator is large enough to accommodate 500 call boxes and will last this city for probably half a century.

The Telephone Line to Apsley Will be Completed About November 1st

Will Connect with Bell Telephone Company at Mount Julian

Covenient to Farmers

A long felt want is about to be filled whereby the residents of Apsley will have direct telephone connection with Peterborough. Some time ago the scheme was promoted but nothing definite was done until Mr. J. Tucker of Apsley, took hold of it. He succeeded in floating a company, which has undertaken the work of constructing a line from Mr Brown's store in Apsley to Mount Julian, where it will be connected with the Bell Telephone Co. line. So far the necessary poles have all been subscribed, and the company are pushing ahead the line. It is expected that it will be completed by the first of November, or in time for the general elections at the latest. Messrs. Wm. Gallan, and Brown of Apsley, are now in the city in the interests of the company. There are a few shares left and any who desire to invest a little money will receive full information from these gentlemen.

When this line to Apsley is completed it will be a big boon for the people of the north country so many of whom do business with Peterborough and to the Peterborough people who do business with the farmers of Apsley. The telephone is now recognized by the rural residents as a necessity, although a few years ago it was looked upon as a luxury. The outside districts around Peterborough are in the lead in this matter and it is doubtful if there is another county in the Province so well supplied with rural telephones.

Roy Coon, of Apsley, Got Two Bears--The Third Shot but Escaped

While Going Through a Marsh He Suddenly Came Upon Five Bears

Ammunition Ran Out

(Special to The Times.)

Apsley, Sept. 16.—An exciting incident occurred near here one day last week, which will long be remembered by Roy Coon, a lad about 19 or 20 years of age, as well as by many of the local citizens. Roy went out to look at some marsh hay, and for protection took his Winchester rifle along with him. While going through the marsh he suddenly came upon five bears. He lost no time in getting his rifle to his shoulder. He succeeded in shooting three of the animals, while two made off to the woods. The bears that were shot were the old she bear, a cub and a yearling, although the yearling got up and ran away it having been only wounded.

Roy had an exciting time with the old bear for a couple of minutes as she turned on him and showed fight, but the boy had good nerve and was a steady shot. He only had a limited amount of ammunition or he would have secured as bigger prize, but two bears at any time is pretty good.

The Greatest Road on Earth

Boston, Sept. 16. — An observing man, who has won a fortune in Wall Street, has just returned from a trip over the Canadian Pacific and through the great North-West, says:—

"The Canadian Pacific is the greatest railroad corporation in the world. It has to earn only $6,000 per mile gross on its trans-continental lines to pay 7 per cent. dividends. It controls not only its railroad, but also everything that goes with it.

"Where the New York Central pays $5,000,000 per annum to the express companies, and $3,000,000 per annum to the Pullman Palace Car Co. the Canadian Pacific owns its express company and its palace cars. It also owns telegraph and telephone lines, steamship lines, timber lands, coal properties, smelting companies, hotels and industries along its lines. Its sources of income are remarkably diversified, and everything it operates pays because of good management."

Building Operations in Peterborough Good

At the beginning of 1908 the prospect for a busy season with the building trades was not very bright. The money market was tight and has been all year. The banks could not loan money and private parties who had loose funds either needed it or asked a too high rate of interest. Nevertheless the go ahead citizens of Peterborough took the situation as they found it and made the best of it. The buildin contractors have really no complaint to make as they have all had something to do and while the building operations are not as extensive as last year they are by no means small, and Peterborough will show to much better advantage than most other cities in Ontario.

Up to date the city clerk has issued 166 building permits with a total value of $147,118. Of this sum $92,200 is for new residences only, and represents the cost of 54 houses, ranging in price from $300 to $6,500. New stores, and alterations to stores, offices, barns and etc., and new factories and alterations to factories represents an expenditure of $32,965 and the remainder $11,953, is the money that has been used in enlarging and repairing homes, building verandahs, kitchens, etc.

It will be seen by the above figures that the majority of people have been retrenching and yet doing as much as possible with the money to be obtained. The city has no reason to feel that it is loosing ground for facts how the opposite. Any place that gained during the past nine or ten months can be sure of a great advance when the times change and money becomes loose again.

Two Men Suffocated at New Windsor Tunnel

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 15.—Two hundred men were trapped in the Michigan Central tunnel on this side of the river by a fire which started from some unknown cause last night along the heavy timbers in the shaft, filling it with a dense, suffocating smoke. All but Walter W. Kimball, a night superintendent, of Windsor, escaped. He had reached the surface in safety, but returned to aid others, and was lost in the blinding smoke. He had been married only two months.

Many men fell in the wild rush for the surface following the alarm of fire, and were overcome temporarily by the smoke, but were assisted to safety by others. Three of the tunnel men were seriously affected by smoke, but were brought around.

A. E. TANNER, OF LAKEFIELD WILL RUN IN THE EAST

Was Chosen as Candidate by the Liberal Convention at Norwood--Many Delegates Present from All Parts--A big Convention

A. E. Tanner of Lakefield, is the man chosen by the Liberals of East Peterborough to contest that riding against Mr. Sexsmith, the Conservative candidate, at the next general Dominion election. The convention in Norwood yesterday, was largely attended by delegates from all parts of the riding and all prospective candidates had their friends on hand. For several years Mr. John Findlay of Norwood, has represented the East at Ottawa, but the party decided at their convention to have a younger man look after their interests.

The convention was called to order about 1.30 o'clock by Mr. John Hall, of Lakefield, who occupied the chair in the absence of President John Lang, who was ill. The only business before the meeting was the selection of a candidate, and it took practically all afternoon to hear the prospective candidates and take the votes. There were eight names put to the meeting as follows;

John Hawthorne, Dummer.
Major Thos. Johnston, Otonabee.
John Findlay, Norwood.
J. R. Stratton, Peterborough.
A. E. Tanner, Lakefield.
R. R. Hall, Peterborough.
J. W. Bryan, Havelock.
J. T. Curtis, Havelock.

Messrs. J. R. Stratton and R. R. Hall made short addresses to the delegates and withdrew their names from the contest. Mr. Buck did likewise, and as Mr. Hawthorne was present his name was also dropped.

The first vote taken resulted as follows;

Tanner, Johnston, Findlay, Curtis and Bryan.

Mr. Bryan withdrew, and the second vote resulted, Tanner, Johnston, Findlay and Curtis.

Mr. Findlay there decided to withdraw and in doing so stated that it was evident the convention desired some one other than himself, if so he was satisfied and would support whatever candidate was chosen.

The third vote gave Mr. Tanner a big majority, and after the other two had retired his nomination was made unanimous.

All the candidates were given an opportunity to address the convention and all promised to work for the election of the delegate chosen.

Mr. Tanner was given a very warm reception when he arose to thank the delegates for tendering him the nomination. He made a very pleasing address, and closed by stating that he had never been defeated in an election and that he did not intend to be defeated this time.

Mr. Tanner is a young druggist in Lakefield, where he enjoys a large patronage. He is well known in this city, where he formerly resided, and is highly spoken of by all who know him. He should make a good candidate in the East Riding.

The convention closed with the usual cheers for the King, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tanner.

Those who attended the convention from Peterborough were; Messrs. J. R. Stratton, R. R. Hall, Geo. Gillespie, Geo. Elliott, Andrew Cameron, David Conroy, J. B. McWilliams, J. T. O'Connell, Dickson Davidson and W. S. Davidson.

Mr. H. W. Mowat of Kingston, Liberal organizer for Eastern Ontario, was also present.

The Way Out

Dragging Along Half Dead All Day

Getting the right start for the day's work often means the difference between doing things in wholesome comfort, or dragging along half dead all day.

There's more in the use of proper food than many people ever dream of—more's the pity.

"Three years ago I began working in a general store," writes a man, "and between frequent deliveries and more frequent customers, I was kept on my feet from morning till night.

"Indigestion had troubled me for some time, and in fact my slight breakfast was taken more from habit than appetite. At first this insufficient diet was not noticed much, but at work it made me weak and hungry long before noon.

"Yet a breakfast of rolls, fried foods and coffee meant headache, nausea and kindred discomforts. Either way I was losing weight and strength, when one day a friend suggested that I try a "Grape-Nuts breakfast."

"So I began with some stewed fruit, Grape-Nuts and cream, a soft boiled egg, toast, and a cup of Postum. By noon I was hungry but with a healthy normal appetite. The weak languid feeling was not there.

"My head was clearer, nerves steadier than for months. To-day my stomach is strong, my appetite normal, my bodily power splendid and head always clear.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Grading Dickson and Murray Streets

Board of Works Has Undertaken a Necessary Piece of Work

The business methods adopted by the Board of Works Committee this year have enabled that committee to put through a lot of work which in former years was only discussed. Several important matters which had been talked of year after year by the several committees have this year been completed. One of these, and probably the most ticklish to handle is the grading of Murray and Dickson streets, and laying the concrete sidewalk. It is at least three years since the Board of Works decided to do this work, but when the time came for action the several committees for some reason or other backed up until Ald. Phelan and his associates took hold of it and in a short time it will be an accomplished fact.

A gang of men are at work with plows, etc., grading Murray street from College to Dickson street and Dickson street from Murray to McDonnel street, while another gang is building the granolithic walk. As yet it has not been decided whether or not the committee will be able to put broken stone on the road and make a complete job of it. The supply of broken stone is running short and about the only way the city can get stone is to have farmers team it in during the winter months when they are not very busy. However the roadway on Dickson and Murray Sts. will be graded and put in a very much better shape than for many years and next spring the broken stone can be put on.

The Big Exhibition Opens Tomorrow

Special Attractions of Galore--Everything in Readiness

A visit to the Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon showed that the directors have not been at all backward in getting ready for the big crowds that will gather there the last three days of this week. The space in the main building has all been taken up by exhibitors and many are now getting their displays in shape. The electric light company has its men on the grounds stringing wires and hanging lamps. The illuminations will alone be worth going down at night to see.

A great feature of the fair is the midway. Practically all the space has been taken up with shows, cane racks, refreshment stalls, etc. As far as entertainment is concerned no one need have a dull time. Le Drew's great snake show is one of the best things on the road today. It comes direct from the big fairs in the United States, where it was a big drawing crowd. Then the big dog show is another attraction which will do a big business.

Mr. Wm. Yelland's dog race is creating a lot of interest among the boys and yesterday morning several of them were down on the track working out their canines. That the race will be laughable goes without saying.

Fine weather and the citizens of Peterborough on the grounds is what the directors are looking for now.

Water Lily on Trip to Lake Simcoe

With Load of Indians from Chemong for the Big Pow-Wow

The steamer Water Lily, one of the Otonabee Navigation Co. fleet, left Chemong yesterday with a big load of passengers from the Indian Reserve at that point and from Bridgenorth. The boat was bound for Lake Simcoe and the Georgian Island where the Indians will hold a three days' pow-wow. En route several concerts will be given and the Indians anticipate having an old fashioned time. They will arrive at Chemong again Thursday night, and the Water Lily will get back to Peterborough on Friday and will make her regular trip to Stony Lake.

During the absence of the Water Lily the steamer Monarch made a trip to Stony Lake yesterday and brought down a load of freight and passengers.

20,000 People at the Laurier Picnic

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 15.—There are ten thousand excursionists in Niagara Falls today. In addition to this another eight thousand or so are here from the surrounding country.

The whole district was represented this afternoon in the procession which marched two miles from the station to Niagara Falls Centre and down the Clifton House hill to the park. A dozen bands took part in the procession, including musical organizations from Hamberstone, Welland, Thorold, Niagara Falls, Grimsby, Hamilton, Allenburg, Fort Erie, St. Catharines and other places.

Huge pictures of Sir Wilfrid and local candidates were carried in triumph. Vehicles were gay with flags and the banners of various organizations were studded thick through out the length of the parade.

A large painted portrait of Sir Wilfrid with the title, "Our Chieftain," and a half circle of maple leaves, aroused continuous applause.

When it was announced before the procession started that the order of speaking had been changed so as to allow Sir Wilfrid to precede Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tanner.

Those who attended the convention from Peterborough were; Messrs. J. R. Stratton, R. R. Hall, Geo. Gillespie, Geo. Elliott, Andrew Cameron, David Conroy, J. B. McWilliams, J. T. O'Connell, Dickson Davidson and W. S. Davidson.

Mr. H. W. Mowat of Kingston, Liberal organizer for Eastern Ontario, was also present.

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 30 feet wide for a distance of 150 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $53.06 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

Preparing plans for a New Bridge

Over River, at Smith Street--A big Undertaking

The chairman of the Board of Works Committee, Ald. Phelan, is buzzing along the work on the plans and specifications for the new bridge over the river at Smith street. Before the construction can be started the scheme must be submitted to the people to pass on, but there is little doubt of the bylaw being carried as everyone knows the unsafe condition of the old bridge which has cost several hundred dollars for repairs for years past. The bridge should have been rebuilt long ago, and no doubt would have been had there been any prospect of getting the necessary money. As things were however, the matter was allowed to drag over from year to year.

It is stated that the same system of re-enforcing the concrete as used in the Brock street bridge, will be used on the Smith street bridge, as this system appears to be very satisfactory. The city engineer is now working on the plans and expects to have them ready in a short time.

You Need Strength

Vitality is Lacking and You Must Have a Bracing Tonic at Once.

You're sick and need medicine.

Not an emulsion to sicken the stomach, not a "dope" cure, nor bitters,—but a nourishing tonic that will increase weight, strength and spirits.

Try Ferrozone and watch the result.

Because it gives instant effect and steadily builds up new flesh, it is used by thousands in ill-health.

No other medicine contains more nutriment, supplies better building material, makes you feel well and strong as quickly as it did Mrs. Chas. Benny, of Cloyne, Ont.

HER STATEMENT.

"I was sick.

"I was broken down, had no strength, couldn't eat. I was sleepless.

"My nerves were irritable. I was thin-blooded and continually unhappy.

"I tried Ferrozone.

"It gave me new energy, force, vim. It brought me comfort, strength—it made me well."

It's by making the appetite good, by instilling iron and ozone in the blood, by fortifying the system with reserve strength that Ferrozone accomplishes so much.

You'll have new life in a week, in a month you'll be like a new being. Try Ferrozone, it always justifies itself. 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Obituary

MRS. ROBT. PAMMENT.

Monday afternoon about three o'clock there passed away in the village of Young's Point one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents in the person of Mrs. Robert Pamment. The deceased had lived to see her eighty-ninth birthday and until a couple of months ago when she was stricken with a paralytic stroke, she had been in good health. The major portion of her life has been spent in Young's Point where she has always been much respected. Her surviving sons are James, of Lakefield, and William at home in Young's Point, and her daughters, Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Gordon, Deer Bay; Mrs. Richardson, Young's Point; Mrs. Weaver, Lakefield, and Mrs. E. Wright, Peterborough. Her husband also survives her.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at two o'clock to the Lakefield cemetery.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as it enriches and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage, stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of KNOWN composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

RAILWAY IN HOLY LAND

The railway from Damascus, the world's oldest city, to Mecca, the holy city of Islamism, is being slowly built, despite the unprogressiveness of the Turkish Government, which has the work in hand. It was begun eight years ago and it has crept in the intervening years across the desert as far as Medina, which, in Mohammedan eyes is second only to Mecca in sacredness. A gap of 200 miles between Medina and Mecca remains to be built, when Mohammedan pilgrims making their sacred pilgrimage to the black stone will be able to make the journey from the swarthy town of Beirut in a few days. The puffing locomotive will thus replace the leisurely-gaited camel; and a pilgrimage to Mecca, in place of the great event of a lifetime, will be a holiday diversion of the faithful. The opening of the road to Medina is one of the most significant of present-day events.

MR. DARROW'S GREAT TRUTH

How often is a great truth spoken in jest!

Clarence S. Darrow, the eminent legal defender of Eugene V. Debs and of Haywood and Pettibone, the Socialistic labor agitators, was the principal speaker Monday in New York at a gathering of 2,000 Socialists. Jokingly he said:—

"I am a friend of the working man. It is easier to be a friend of the working man than to be a working man. I've done almost everything in connection with the labor question except to work."

Just so, Mr. Darrow. Excluding you from consideration, for "present company is always excepted", it is generally the case that the "friend of the working man" does not work. He doesn't have time. It takes all his energies to dodge remunerative and useful employment, to tell the workingmen of his tender regard and to bamboozle them into putting him into an easy berth, political or otherwise. His "friendship for the working men" generally profits him greatly, but rarely does it accomplish much for those on whom he bestows his friendship.

Now and then the 'working men' succeed in sending a man to the Legislature. More often they secure for their "friends" good clerkships at the State capital, positions in the city government, even seats in the Board of Aldermen. But what do they gain? After all, who are these men whose proudest boast is their "friendship"? Are they not, just as Mr. Darrow says, blatherskites who prate of their "friendship" or of their "unionism" or of their whatnot, but who, after all, are not working men or of working men?

Not to be personal, what has Mr. Darrow done to demonstrate his friendship? What sacrifices has he made? What does he know of the toil, the deprivation, the limitation, the hope, the ambition, the fraternity of the working men? What has he done to better their condition, to direct their efforts into more profitable channels, to raise the standard of living, to open opportunity, to encourage honorable thrift?

Perhaps he has done a whole lot along these lines, but we, in the light of what we have known of other "friends of the working men," are inclined to suspect that he has made the best of his "friendship" to earn some very handsome fees and to get pretty comfortably fixed, thank you.

The working man's friends are his own common sense, his energy, his honesty—not the fellow who can talk well and inform a great many fictitious wrongs while doing nothing to right existing evil.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

According to the translations from General Kuropatkin's suppressed memoirs published in the September number of McClure's Magazine, there might have been no war between Japan and Russia had it not been for the financial interests in a large timber concession on the Yalu River of a number of influential people in St. Petersburg, including members of the Czar's family and perhaps the Czar himself. A Vladivostok merchant had obtained a concession of timber lands on the Yalu River in 1898 from the Corean Government. Unable to form a company himself he sold out to one Bezobrazoff, a State councillor, who succeeded in interesting several Grand Dukes in the enterprise, and eventually the Czar himself.

When it was decided to operate the concession on military lines, Japan objected, as such would be a breach of existing contracts. The representatives of Russia at Seoul, Tokio and Pekin, urged their government to treat the timber company as a purely commercial affair, for to militarize it would cause a rupture with Japan. Several ministers took the same view, but the Czar insisted on following Bezobroff's advice, despite the added protests of Admiral Alexieff and General Kuropatkin, who were on the ground and knew the magnitude of the danger. Down to seventy days before the breaking out of hostilities the Czar was declaring his wish to avoid war if he could do so without impairing the value of the family investment. At the same time he kept pouring troops into the Yalu Valley and thus made war a certainty.

The policy of working the timber concession under military protection was persisted in, and was followed with results so similar and momentous. It would probably be unsafe to say that the development of this timber enterprise was the sole cause of the war; but it was one of the causes, and perhaps also the occasion. It seems quite likely that Japan was looking for an excuse. The interference of Russia after the war between China and Japan had prevented the latter from taking to herself the full fruits of the victory. Thereupon Japan promptly set to work to so strengthen her position that similar interference would be discouraged in the future. Thus it was that when the trouble over the Yalu timber concession arose, Japan was ready for war. Russia was either in ignorance of the Japanese preparations, or the eyes of the people who controlled her affairs were blinded by their own greed.

The price that Russia paid for having her eyes opened was enormous, but if it were fully certain that the Russian people had mastered the more important lessons of the war, the price might not be considered too great. It is not impossible that one result of the war, not an immediate result, of course, will be the emancipation of the Russian people. The exposures made in the Kuropatkin memoirs should help.

Others than the Russian people might very well study the lessons of the war. It was not the first time in history that the earth was drenched with blood because of the blind and guilty selfishness of a few influential persons pursuing their own interests.

Of the 250,000 voters whose names have been added to the lists since the last general election, part represent the adult male population received with the heaviest immigration the Dominion has so far experienced and another part the young Canadians who have passed 21 and are about to cast their first vote. It will be rather surprising if the personality and the career of Sir Wilfrid do not make strong appeal to this youthful element, says the Montreal Herald. The young men of this country who are between 21 and 25 have spent the whole of the period in which they took any account of political conditions under the spell of Sir Wilfrid's influence. It is not unkind to anyone to say that he has had no rivals in all those qualities which go to attract and which hold favor of the young. It is not merely that he has held high office, not that he has outshone others in Parliament and outshone others in Parliament and on the platform. Beyond all that he has been, on many important occasions, Canada's exhibit, so to say, amongst the best that other countries could send and he has invariably made all Canada as proud of him as he has shown himself to be worthy of her. Young men who have passed a dozen years in this kind of atmosphere cannot be supposed to have remained insensible to the attractiveness of the man, and it will be very strange indeed, if a majority of them do not do themselves and him the honor of casting their votes for him.

The fact is that an almost certain test of the really superior fitness of a public man can be found in the answer to a question whether he is or ever was in a special way a leader of the young. A man may be a statesman without having this faculty; Lord Salisbury's career offers an example. Effective for their hour, such careers do not carry on the progress of the popular impulse from the shoulders of one generation to the shoulders of the next in anything like the same way as the careers, say, of a Gladstone, a Disraeli, or even a Chamberlain. Sir John Macdonald held the young men of his party to the very hour of his death. He was always twenty in some corner of his heart, and Sir Wilfrid, in all the great moments of his career, has acted as though the ideals of his youth had never been dimmed. Youth, they tell us, thinks in glorious certainties. As men grow old they feel less sure; and rarely indeed do they secure a hold upon the minds or hearts of the generation that has arisen since they first appeared as the chosen champions of ardent, impetuous youth. They have always to fight for the place with some younger man, and the younger man, when he is the real material, has time and circumstances on his side. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a young man's hero from the moment he entered public life. He was still that grand young man in 1871, when he had a half century to his credit. He still acts like a young man in all times of doubt and trial, doing the simple, straightforward thing when counsellors learned in the ways of older men take other views. That is why it is true that he is trusted and looked up to, not merely by his partisans, but by the whole people, beyond all other men in public life in Canada. Others may come and go and their going leave little trace; but nobody seriously looks forward to a Parliament in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier shall be present and be not at the head. He has no rival in the confidence of the older voters, no rivals in the admiration, say rather the affection, of the young.

Prof. Goldwin Smith writes in the Farmers' Sun as follows:—

Lord Durham felt confident that French Canada would be Anglicised. He seems even to have regarded its Anglicization as indispensable to the success of the union. It is needless to say how far his expectation has been from fulfilment. The French are still French, and French they are likely to remain, all attempt to convert them into Anglicanism, either by persuasion or pageantry, notwithstanding. There is a strong National movement now, among them, with a journal bearing the Nationalist title, and a very active and popular politician for its leader, in the war with the Half-Breeds, two French battalions were called out, but were not sent into action, while one of the colonels left his command, and the subsequent attack on the personal character of a British General, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier played a leading part, showed plainly on which side the heart of the French Province had been. But apart from nationality, the Premiership, while it is held by a Frenchman, is inevitably under the influence of a foreign power. A foreign power the Papacy really is, though its political action is based on its religious pretension. The passing of the school clauses of the Autonomy bill through our Parliament by such means as were employed, while the chief disgrace falls on the British members, raises a question which, unwilling as we are in any way to hurt French or Catholic feeling, it is impossible to set aside. The French Province has now enjoyed twelve years of Premiership and has left a stamp on our legislation different from the promotion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, on which the Premier seems to ground his plea for a prolongation of his term of power. No unkindly feeling towards the French Province is involved in considering whether the term has not been sufficiently long.

A clever popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere. In a few hours, Preventics are said to break any cold—completely. And Preventics, being so safe and toothsome, are very fine for children. No Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Box of 48—25c. Sold by all dealers.

News in Brief

New York, Sept. 11.—Dr. K. H. Lowie, of the department of anthropology in the American Museum of Natural History, has returned from his journey to the land of the primitive Chippewayans thirteen pounds lighter, but greatly the gainer in knowledge of a strange people. It took him a month and a day to reach the remote regions of the Hudson Bay country, and when he got to the starless north he fought mosquitoes by the million, lived on corn cake and salt pork three times a day and devoted a large portion of his time to getting in and out of canoes.

His passage of the Athabasca River was in a craft which was owed up stream by eight obliging Indians, who ran along the shores or waded the shallows for one hundred miles. The jolting and the rolling about that the doctor experienced as well as the attacks of the most savage mosquitoes he had ever seen caused him to perceptibly reduce his weight. He was obliged to constantly wear a head net.

The savants have managed to get back after many hard fought battles with exhaustion. He left this city on May 5, last, proceeding to Alberta by rail, to the Athabasca River, then embarked on the stream and eventually arrived at Fort Chippewayan on Lake Athabasca.

The Indians there are regarded as less affected by civilization than any other tribe, and only one or twice a year do they go to the trading posts. They exchange pelteries for food and clothing but care little for the merchandise of the white man. Dr. Lowie brought back with him weapons, bead work, implements for tanning hides and the like. He also gathered much of the lore and traditions of the people which will be published under the direction of the museum.

New York, Sept. 11.—Zia Bey, Abdul Hamid's one-time favorite, former head of the sultan's secret police, who fled Constantinople to avoid punishment when the forces of young Turkey got the upper hand and whose record of murders is a long one, has been in New York. But he fled back to England yesterday on board the Mauretania, fearful lest he should be discovered and perhaps extradited.

Zia Bey came to this country from London last week, incognito, of course, and only a few of his fellow countrymen knew of his presence here. Suspicious of everybody and dreading the fate awaiting him in Constantinople, he moved from one hotel to another, registering under assumed names. At the Hotel Lafayette on University place he gave his name as I. K. Ignatieu. At 237 West Forty-fifth street he was known as Z. B. Koullanine. Gray and Samarine were other aliases which he used.

IZA BEY HYSTERICAL.

Zia Bey was one of the most resolute of the old Turkish regime and belonged to the clique at the Yildiz Kiosk, which organized revolutions for speculation, ordered massacres of peaceful inhabitants, sold public industries, turned the palace of the sultan into a place of murders and tortures, and kept the country for thirty-two years in perpetual terror.

When he was seen at the Hotel Lafayette he was almost hysterical and on the verge of nervous collapse. But he seemed willing to discuss Turkish politics, to talk about the Yildiz Kiosk and to criticise the young Turks. It was most dramatic when he disclosed his identity.

Pounding on the floor with his feet he said:—

"Yes, I am Iza Bey, the chief spy of the sultan, the wretch, the rascal, the mischiefdoer. I was a fool. I have been cruel, heartless and have done many things which a man of conscience would not do. But do you blame me? I was brought up in that life. From my childhood I saw one plotting against the other; I saw graft cruelly and followed the steps of others for my own promotion. From an obscure Tartar origin I advanced to become the prefect of the police in Constantinople, and was then promoted to the Yildiz Kiosk, to deal with the secrets of the government.

"I am not to be blamed for what has been. It was the system, the policy of Abdul Hamid to surround himself with dishonest men; they suited him best.

PUTS BLAME ON SULTAN.

"Whatever happened in the palace and in the empire was done by his order. Of course, ministers around him were accomplices. Ferik Pasha, the grand vizier, Serasker (commander general) Riza Pasha, Izzet obscure origin and not real Turks, joined hand in hand for wholesale murders and atrocities.

"I was the head spy, next to Faim Pasha, who was executed after I escaped, and whose body was thrown to the dogs in the streets. My duty was to receive reports from the spy lieutenants and turn them over to the sultan. Abdul Hamid, from morning to late night, passed his time in reading these reports. Then the master would call me in and order me to do away with the man who was reported being mixed up in a revolutionary plot. Then the man was brought to Yildiz. Seldom were any questions put to him. He was shot or thrown into the sea of was shot or thrown into the Sea of Marmora with an iron ring tied to his feet. His property was confiscated and divided among the palace officials. In fact, such booty went mostly to Faim Pasha or myself.

"Faim Pasha was my superior in the matters which you call gold regime. He was the arch-terror of the land. One day Faim Pasha walked into an Armenian diamond dealer's shop and selected gems worth at least $150,000 and told the dealer that they were to be taken to the palace for the sultan. The gems were neither paid for nor returned to the merchant; instead the man was beaten and threatened with a long term of imprisonment.

"To arrest innocent individuals in order to extort money from their wealthy relatives was a common trick. The Armenian massacres were all premeditated, plotted and carried out by the officers at Yildiz with the consent of Abdul Hamid to enable Nazim and Izzet Pashas to make their fortunes.

"In 1895, when Nazim Pasha was the head of police and I was the prefect in Constantinople, the Armenian revolutionary demonstration was planned at the police headquarters.

OLD REGIME STILL LIVES.

"The banishment of the sultan's creatures does not mean that the old regime is ended. It is up in existence now; it is in the heart of a Turk, no matter whether he be old or young. Turks cannot get away from their old traditions and customs. If one of them should cut his mustache in Turkey, as I have mine, it would be his last day.

"I am a Tartar and have no respect for the Turk. What have they done for humanity? What have they produced? Their religion is foreign. Their language is a mixture of Arabic and Persian. They have no architecture and no original literature. Even the system of government they inherited from the old Byzantine empire."

Pekin, Sept. 9.—Contrary to the agreement to maintain the status and pending her agreement with the Chientao boundary dispute, with China, Japan has recently done a number of things in this territory which arouse the apprehension of the Pekin government. She has occupied the residency buildings recently completed at Yenchi Ting, in the disputed district; she has brought into this town a joint civil and military commander and one thousand gendarmes and she is proceeding with the re-organization of the existing system of government of the Korean population. China has protested to the Tokio and to the Japanese diplomatic representative here, but with no result whatever.

Japan is establishing also an agricultural farm at Lutaotu in Chientao. This is part of her effort to augment the Korean population of the territory. Furthermore, two Japanese major-generals and four staff officers are at present engaged in making a careful study of Chientao for strategic purposes, and the arrival of a battery of Japanese field guns near the border has renewed the fears of China that Japan purposes to precipitate some action.

China has protested also against the project to bridge the Tumi river at the Gensan railroad terminus.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but when early—at the first sneeze, watery break, or cloud of these early colds. That's surely better, that's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe here. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your time, worry. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day, Elevate probably has Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 10 boxes for the pocket, also in the house of 25 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

SCARED THE ROBBER.

How a Determined Man Prevented a Holdup.

"The fact that a determined stand is all that is needed," continued the western man, "was illustrated a good many years ago by a peculiar little incident which took place on the old stage line running out of Tombstone, A. T. Holdups used to be frequent on that route; but, strange to say, nobody took any precautions against such a contingency. One day the stage was carrying an unusual number of passengers, and while it was going over an extremely desolate section of the road a masked man stepped from behind a rock, leveled a shotgun at the driver and ordered him to pull up.

"He obeyed at once, and the robber began the usual programme by telling everybody to get out and range himself in line with his hands above his head. There were several nervy men on top, but none of them cared to court death by taking the initiative, and it was impossible, moreover, to say how many additional ruffians might be lurking behind the rocks. At any rate, all hands were clambering down when suddenly the door of the stage was flung violently open and out leaped a big, fierce looking man with a cocked revolver in each fist.

"At the sight of him the robber took an involuntary backward step and fell sprawling over a round stone. Both barrels of his gun went off in the air, and in the confusion he picked himself up and ran like a deer for cover. He had a horse on the other side of the rocks, and in less time than it takes to tell it he was in the saddle and 'burning the wind' across the prairie. He got away, and now comes the funny part of the story.

"While the robber was beating his retreat the big man snapped both pistols ineffectually at least half a dozen times and then discovered in blank amazement that neither one of them was loaded. He was glaring dumfounded into the empty cylinders when his wife stuck her head out of the coach and burst into vociferous weeping.

"'Oh, John,' she sobbed, 'I took the cartridges out of them guns this morning and forgot to tell you about it!' As she spoke she held out a handful of brass shells.

"'What the mischief did you do that for?' he roared.

"'I was skeered that they might go off in the coach and shoot the baby—boohoo-hoo!' she replied."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE INNOCENT FOX.

Blamed For Offenses Committed by His Wicked Cousins.

We are often told of the fox as a destroyer of grouse, but I should like to hear the story of some eyewitnesses as to his work in this direction. It is very easy to find fox tracks about the remains of a bird and then say a fox did it. I believe that many of the offenses laid at his door are committed by weasels, mink and wildcats, or lynx.

During a part of the year I have known foxes to spend a part of each day digging among potato hills in a retired hollow for white grubs or mice in the adjoining fields and to return to the mountain at nightfall, passing a farm which wholly most covered with young poultry out for grasshoppers. From an experience of about ten years in a locality where foxes abound I am convinced that this animal destroys but few, if any, chickens. Our troubles there was, first of all, hawks, then skunks, owls and raccoons. The fox never invaded the chicken coops or broke up the sitting turkeys out at the base of the mountain. Of course in winter a fox may sometimes trap a grouse in the snow at night, but who has ever seen a fox actually catch a grouse? Come, now, brothers of the forest, be honest and own up. I would be glad to learn how the fox does the trick, if any one has seen it done.—Forest and Stream.

The Mighty Amazon.

The estimated length of the Amazon from its source in the Andes to where it debouches in a mouth forty miles wide into the Atlantic is 4,000 miles. The story is told of a wrecked vessel which was drifting, with her crew on board suffering intense torment for lack of fresh water, which entered the mouth of the Amazon and the sufferers could have had fresh water simply by putting a bucket over the side, but did not know where they were until they got in sight of the land. This mighty river, up which the tide goes 600 miles, is known in the upper part of its course near the Andes as the Marañon, then in the middle course, from Tabatinga to the mouth of its chief affluent, the Rio Negro, as the Solimoes, while for the rest of its course its name is Amazonas or Amazon. A thousand miles from the sea it is four miles in width. Vast and often impassable forests line most of its banks.

First Dining Car.

"Just forty years ago," said T. C. Newton, a Chicago railroad man, "the Chicago and Alton railroad put on the first dining car ever operated on any railway train in the world. This was on the run between Chicago and St. Louis. If that car could be exhibited now it would create universal merriment. It had oilcloth table covers, the seats were screwed to the floor, and its illumination depended on candles.

"Think of the contrast between that primitive affair of 1868 and the modern dining car, finished in solid mahogany, with gorgeous furniture and a menu as elaborate and cooking as dainty as those supplied by any of the foremost hotels of America. Verily we have been 'going some' in the four decades that have gone by since the Alton's first crude experiment."—Baltimore American.

Camera Eye and Index Brain.

What would you say of a gentleman who having looked once into the face of each of those soldiers that made up the grand army which Napoleon took to Russia and being told the soldier's name would know him, name and face, two years, ten years, twenty years later? Think of a gentleman who could thus have called the muster roll of an army of 100,000 men. Such, however, would seem to be the full power of eye and memory which belongs to Detective William P. Sheridan of Mulberry street, New York, the "man with the camera eyes," and a low estimate declares that he has filed away in his brain, each tagged with the proper name, the pictures of no fewer than 100,000 men.—Broadway Magazine.

Wrecking Windmills a New Industry.

The passing of the windmill in England, antiquated by such recent power producers as the gas engine and electric motor, has given life to a new industry—windmill wrecking. The old windmill builders understood their business and meant their handiwork to last, and so the demolishing of such structures is no simple task. Many of the old mills stood 100 feet high and had eight or nine floors fitted with four runs of stones and contained arms upon tons of brick. Often these huge mills stand close to other buildings, and accidents would be inevitable if the wreckers did not have experience in their tasks.—Popular Mechanics.

Practical Scaling.

"Look here, Lucy," exclaimed Mr. Hardapple; "this is no time to be practicing on the piano. It's time to prepare dinner."

"But, pa, I am interested in scales," pouted Lucy as she pounded the keys.

"Interested in scales, eh? Well, I've a task for you. Go down in the kitchen and help your ma scale fish."—Detroit Tribune.

Their Achievements.

"He had three daughters. One married a French chauffeur"—

"I see! Quite romantic."

"The second married an Indian, a descendant of a chieftain"—

"I see! Quite aboriginal.

"But the third married a plain American business man."

"H'm! Merely eccentric, I should say."—Puck.

Accounted For.

Mrs. J.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had the habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon the table her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yassum," replied Mary; "I opened it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Long Story.

Ascum—Say, old man, what did your wife say to you when you got in last night?

Wrounds—Oh, are you just starting on your two weeks' vacation?

Ascum—No. Why?

Wrounds—Then you won't have time to listen. I can't talk as fast as she did.—Houston Post.

A Mark of Respect.

Andrew Carnegie was entertaining a Montenegrin prince at Skibo castle. The morning after the prince's arrival a party of guests set out in a huge motor car for a long run, and as they whirled past an inn a great crowd of highlanders rose from the benches before the inn and saluted.

The prince seemed amazed at the highland dress.

"Why," he asked, "do these men go bare legged?"

"It is a local custom," said Mr. Carnegie, "a mark of respect for you, sir. In some places people take off their hats to show honor to distinguished visitors; here they take off their trousers."

A Hen Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat, and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen circling from one end of the street to the other.

Hercules' Labors.

The twelve labors of Hercules were: To slay the Nemean lion; to kill the Lernean hydra; to catch and hold the Arcadian stag; to destroy the Erymanthian boar; to cleanse the stables of King Augeas; to destroy the cannibal birds of Lake Stymphalus; to capture the Cretan bull; to catch the horses of Diomedes; to get possession of the girdle of Hippolyte, queen of the Amazons; to capture the oxen of the monster Geryon; to get possession of the apples of the Hesperides and to bring up from the infernal regions the three headed dog Cerberus.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

The Flight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, intercepted by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers of the Lick observatory to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that a hundred years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat. If it were near by it would seem to become rapidly smaller.—Chicago Record Herald.

What He Did Know.

St. Thomas' Episcopal church, in Fifth avenue, has under its jurisdiction an east side chapel. One of the features of the chapel is a gymnasium, in which boys are trained in all of the branches of physical culture. Some of the boys are quicker in this sort of training than they are in the more polite talk of the west side boys.

The rector of St. Thomas', the Rev. Dr. Stires, visits the chapel frequently and is fond of talking with the lads about their work. He said to one little fellow who hails from near the East river:

"Well, my son, they tell me you won quite a victory in your last contest with the boys of a rival school."

"I don't know 'bout that, but w'en we went up ag'in dat bunch from St. Pat's we put it all over 'em, and dey ain't never peeped since."—New York Sun.

A Rather Novel Complaint.

An English traveler once met a companion sitting in a state of the most woeful despair and apparently near the last agonies by the side of one of the mountain lakes of Switzerland. He inquired the cause of his sufferings. "Oh," said the latter, "I was very hot and thirsty and took a large draft of the clear water of the lake and then sat down on this stone to consult my guidebook. To my astonishment, I found that the water of this lake is very poisonous! Oh, I am a gone man; I feel it running all over me. I have only a few minutes to live! Remember me to"—

"Let me see the guidebook," said his friend. Turning to the passage, he found, "L'eau du lac est bien poisonneuse" (The water of this lake abounds in fish).

"Is that the meaning of it?"

"Certainly."

The dying man looked up with a radiant countenance. "What would have become of you," said his friend, "if I had not met you?"

"I should have died of imperfect knowledge of the French language."

A Great Man's Simple Speech.

I was lately told a delightful story of a great statesman staying with a humble and anxious host who had invited a party of simple and unimportant people to meet the great man. The statesman came in late for dinner and was introduced to the party. He made a series of old fashioned bows in all directions, but no one felt in a position to offer any observations. The great man at the conclusion of the ceremony turned to his host and said in tones that had often thrilled a listening senate: "What very convenient jugs you have in your bedrooms. They pour well." The social frost broke up, the company was delighted to find that the great man was interested in mundane matters of a kind on which every one might be permitted to have an opinion, and the conversation, starting from the humblest conveniences of daily life, melted insensibly into more liberal subjects.—Arthur C. Benson in Putnam's and the Reader.

An American Admirer.

In a small way an American figures in the journal kept by Rosalie Lamorliere during the revolutionary days of 1793 in France and published under the title, "The Last Days of Marie Antoinette."

Rosalie Lamorliere, a girl of Picardy, was servant to the queen in the conciergerie. "One day," Rosalie has recorded, "M. de Saint Leger, the American, who was coming from the register's office, noticed that I was carrying a glass half filled with water.

"'Did the queen drink the water that has gone from the glass?' he asked.

"I answered that she did.

"With a quick gesture he uncovered his head and drank the water that remained with every indication of respect and pleasure."

Bounced Through.

Sergeant Wilkins once defended a branch of promise case for a staggeringly ugly little man, which case he told the defendant, after reading his brief, must be "bounced" through. And the sergeant did bounce it through.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said at the close of a most eloquent speech, "you've heard the evidence for the plaintiff, and, gentlemen of the jury, you have admired that most bewitching lady, the plaintiff herself. Gentlemen, do you believe that this enchanting, this fascinating, this captivating, this accomplished lady would for one moment favor the advances or listen with anything save scorn and indignation to the amorous protestations of the wretched and repulsive homunculus, the deformed and degraded defendant?"

His client looked up from the well of the court and piteously murmured:

"Mr. Sergeant Wilkins! Oh, Mr. Sergeant Wilkins!"

"Silence, sir!" replied the sergeant in a wrathful undertone. "Gentlemen," he continued, bringing his fist heavily down on the desk before him, "do you think that this lovely lady, this fair and smiling creature, would ever have permitted an offer of marriage to be made to her by this miserable atom of humanity, this stunted creature, who would have to stand on a sheet of note paper to look over twopence?"

Instant verdict for defendant.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at 2½ a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 4 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

What Every Woman Requires for Headache Langour

Mrs. Mary Flannigan Gives Advice that is Sound, Useful and True.

Has your strength given out?
Do you feel languid and tired this spring?
Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework?
Thousands feel just the same,—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanigan of Elgin Junction — here is her experience, "I will never again suffer the torture of deadening spring illness — never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."
Women who are continually pale, tired and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing down pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c at all dealers.

No Forest Fires Around Apsley

The reports and rumors that fires are raging in the forests in the north country are unfounded, as The Times has received reports from Apsley and vicinity that there are no fires and have been none this year. Messrs. Wm. Gallan and Brown of that district were in the city yesterday and stated that the crops are fairly good this year. The grain were not far advanced to be injured by the drought, although the root crop is suffering severely at the present time. There has been no rain there for weeks and cattle are suffering. A few wells still have water in them although most of them are dry.

Personal

—Miss Mabel Gillespie has returned to the city after spending a week's holidays in Toronto.

—Mrs. D. A. Patterson of Toronto, is visiting her father, Mr. C. B. Moore, Ashburnham.

—Mr. Ed. Allison has returned home after spending the past week with friends in Hamilton.

—Mr. Geo. Prudnofe returned to Rochester yesterday, after a two weeks' visit with friends here.

—Mr. Greave, organizer for the Sons of Scotland, was in the city yesterday, and left for Warkworth in the afternoon.

—Miss Bertha Jones, who has been spending the past two weeks with friends in Toronto and Hamilton, has returned home.

—Mr. Henry McLaffrey of Medill's Drug Store, was at his home in Madoc on Sunday, attending the funeral of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John McCaffrey.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thompson and Miss Minnie Pearson have returned from Niagara Falls and Toronto, where they spent a few days at the exhibition.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

—Mrs. D. Menzies arrived home from Vancouver last night after spending the past three months with friends. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Clara Lowes.

—Mr. H. R. Shier of Sunderland, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by his daughter and Miss Warren of Uxbridge. The young ladies are here for the purpose of attending the new Normal School.

—Mr. and Mrs. Haskill and Mrs. Gunsolus of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Simpson of Lindsay, and Mr. Charles Nickson, of Port Hope, left this morning for Bobcaygeon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jackson Reid, who passed away on Saturday last.—Lindsay Free Press.

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Accept no other. Sold by all dealers.

—Mr. J. N. McKechnie of Glasgow, Scotland, was a guest of Hon. Senator Cox yesterday. They arrived on the noon C.P.R. train, and Hon. Mr. Cox showed the visitor from Scotland the city in the afternoon. Mr. McKechnie was very favorably impressed.

—Mr. Robt. Begley of Peterborough, spent Sunday in town the guest of his brother, Mr. John Begley, Russell street.—Miss Eva Currie of Peterborough, was in town on Saturday.—Mr. Chas. Primeau of the Tate Optical Co., Peterborough, was in town for a few days.—Lindsay Post.

—Mr. Jos. Mantell has returned home from a very pleasant trip to Toronto, Hamilton and other cities where he visited with friends. Mr. Mantell is 80 years of age, and is still hail and hearty. He was able to walk from the G.T.R. station to the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Edwards on Charlotte street.

Youngsters Create Disturbances

The Times was notified on Saturday by a local gentleman, to the effect that the conduct of the rising generation now-a-days, particularly in Peterborough, was not such, that it could be complimented on. There is an aggregation of juveniles ranging from the ages of nine to seventeen years which assembles about the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, at about seven o'clock each evening, and until ten o'clock indulge in creating a disturbance of some kind.

Their preliminary pastime generally consists in a game of baseball or scrub. This lasts until dusk and usually ends in a fight. Filthy stories are then told and are listened to by the younger folks with the utmost attention. Passers by must be shocked by the conduct displayed by these offensive youths. It is about time that the public authorities should take some measures and prevent such boisterous conduct in the future.

Can Hurtubise Hold His Own?

Against the Big Man From Turkey—Something About the Turks

Turkey the land of the Orient, that is so much in the eye of the politician of today has for ages been the land of wrestlers. Long even before this land, that today boasts of its Gotch, Burns, Jenkins, and Rogers, was even discovered, the land of the Sultan had the great wrestlers.

In recent years probably the Turkish wrestler most in the eyes of the American public was poor Youssouf, who with his purse of dollars went down in the ill-fated Elbe. Then there was Madralie, the man whom Hack beat in two minutes. Both these men were the Sultan wrestlers, attached to the Sultan's palace on the shores of the Golden Horn. Madralie was told to come back without a defeat or his head would be put in the basket. Literally too. He never went back to the land of the Olives, however, for he got wise and is still in England. And now comes another Sultan's royal wrestler, Hassan Abdullah, a man who has won great honors both in Paris and in Brazil, where wrestling is a great sport.

Abdullah is a man of good family in his own town on the Bosphorous. He is on the private staff of the Sultan, and Hassan got away without that forbidding honor of losing his head if beaten. He was undefeated in Brazil, once defeated in Paris, by Paul Pons, and is undefeated in America, although it must be explained he has only wrestled four matches. These were with Karlson of Sweden, Auvray of Belgium, Perrille, the fighting Dago—this was undoubtedly a clever performance. And on Monday when he beat Simard the French-Canadian heavy-weight in six minutes and 4 minutes. To show his great strength of arm and hand, he took from the people in the audience a number of pennies and bent them between his fingers, with one hand. When told he was matched with a man who had a victory over Yankee Rogers, whom he said he had heard of in Paris, he shrugged his shoulders and said he would meet both men the same evening.

There is evidently gall as well as intrigue in Constantinople. Can Hurtubise hold his own with this man? Is not the local management giving their man too severe a trial? Gotch is willing and anxious, but is it wise?

PROF. McLEAN IS APPOINTED TO THE RAILWAY BOARD

Mayor D'Arcy Scott, of Ottawa, is Assistant Chief of the Second Division of Railway Commission--Secretary of State Scott Works On

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier returned to the Capital today and will preside at a Cabinet Council this afternoon, when the selection will be made of the three new members of the Railway Commission and the date appointed for the approaching general election.

Formal announcement will be made by the Premier in his speech at Strathroy on Saturday of the dissolution of Parliament, and of the retirement of Hon. W. R. Scott, Secretary of State, whose place will be taken by Mr. Charles Murphy, barrister of Ottawa.

SCOTT WILL NOT QUIT YET.

In view however, of Mr. Scott's acquaintance with the office work of the election, and the need of the Government having some one at Ottawa during the campaign to deal with the innumerable questions to which the conduct of an election give rise, the swearing in of the new Secretary of State will not take place at present, and Mr. Scott will, of course, continue to discharge the duties of his office until his resignation has been accepted by the Prime Minister and his successor is ready to take office.

McLAURIN OBDURATE.

Mr. Murphy has not yet been formally nominated in Russell County, and friends of Mr. McLaurin, who was chosen by the Russell Liberals in convention a few months ago, are opposed to his retirement. Mr. McLaurin himself has so far remained obdurate, but at least two deputations of Russell County ibLerals are in Ottawa today to discuss the matter, and it is thought that matters will yet be satisfactorily arranged for the new secretary of state. If they are not, he may be nominated in Ottawa.

McLEAN, NOT GALLIHER.

It has now been definitely arranged that Mayor D'Arcy Scott of Ottawa, is to be appointed assistant chief of the Board of Railway Commissioners, which carries with it a salary of $8,000 per annum. The other two new Railway Commissioners will be Hon. Thos. Greenway, M.P., ex-premier of Manitoba, and Professor S. J. McLean, of the University of Toronto. It was the general impression in political circles that one of the Railway Commission ruships would be bestowed upon Mr. Wm. A. Galliher, M.P. for Kootenay, but Professor McLean's name has since been urged upon the government and and the appointments as now proposed will be made this afternoon.

Professor McLean's appointment will be a most acceptable one throughout the Dominion, as he is a man of eminent qualifications for the position. Indeed, it was largely through the investigations which were made by him into the Railway Commission of the United States that this institution was introduced into Canada. In that respect Professor McLean is entitled to recognition as the father of the railway commission idea in Canada. He is a native of Simcoe County, and still quite a young man.

A BRILLIANT CAREER.

Prof. McLean had a most brilliant career at Toronto University, from which he took the Mackenzie fellowship in 1894-5 afterwards holding fellowships in Columbia University, New York, and in Chicago University. In 1897 he was appointed to the chair of History and Economics in the University of Arkansas, from which he later removed to the professorship which he now holds in the University of Toronto.

Professor McLean brings to the duties of his position on the Railway Board a mind trained in economics and will be a most valuable addition to the personnel of the board.

Block Contest was a Big Success

Over 300 Skaters Present--Skidoo Night on the 23rd

The block contest at the roller rink last night was a decided success. It was an entirely new thing in the city, and attracted over three hundred skaters and a big crowd of spectators. The contest provided a lot of amusement for both skaters and spectators.

The prizes were won as follows,

Prize for couple—Miss Porter and Mr. Edmison.

Prize for gentleman—Mr. Clatheral.

Skidoo Night will be the next big attraction. It will be on the 23rd of this month (next Wednesday night). There will be 23 prizes and 23 bands. Everything will be 23.

On the last day of September a grand carnival will be held, of which particulars will appear later.

Prof. Genno has made an improvement to the rink by building a gallery over the offices and skating rooms. It will will seat about 200 people and provid a good accommodation for the spectators.

In most parts of the country they would rather see a rainstorm just now than a political orator with a box of cigars.

Elections a Week Earlier

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—It was announced here today that in view of the excellent progress which is being made in the printing of the voters' list and other necessary election arrangements, it will be possible to fix a date in October for the election somewhat earlier than had been generally expected, and that instead of being in the last week of October, the election day may be in the week preceding—possibly the 20th, 21st, or 22nd of the month.

City Rugby League was Organized Last Night

An enthusiastic meeting of the Rugby enthusiastics was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors last night, when a city rugby league was organized. There was a good attendance and the boys all appeared anxious to get in the game. Last night's meeting was a general one for the purpose of selecting the officers and as there were no representatives from teams present the executive was not selected, but will be at a subsequent meeting. The officers for this year are as follows;

Hon. Pres.—W. A. Morrow.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—V. Eastwood.
President—H. R. H. Kranet.
Vice Pres.—John Sullivan.
Sec.-Treas.—James. Clark.

Tom Lawson's philanthropy hardly contemplates a trip over the bills to the poorhouse for Tom.

DENNISTOUN HOUSE ROBBERY CLEARED UP BY P.C. MEHARRY

Arrested a Youth Named Fallen Early Wednesday Morning--Case will be Heard Before Magistrate Dumble This Morning

The robbery of "Castlenock" on Water street, the home of Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, has been cleared up by P. C. Meharry. The police were first informed of the robbery last Friday night and upon examination of the premises it was found that entrance had been gained by the front door and the house had been ransacked and left in disorder. Word was sent to Mrs. Dennistoun, who is in Winnipeg, but as yet an answer from her has not been received.

The police have been working on the case all week. On Tuesday night P. C. Meharry got on the track of the burglars, and about two o'clock Wednesday morning arrested a young fellow by the name of Fallen, while he was in bed at his home. The prisoner who is about seventeen years of age, and who is out on suspended sentence, spent the remainder of the night and all day Wednesday behind the bars. Fallen had an associate who it is reported discovered that the police were after him, and he has disappeared, evidently taking an east bound freight on the C.P.R. last night.

P. C. Meharry has recovered some of the articles stolen and it is likely that all the articles taken from the house will be found.

Fallen will appear this morning before Magistrate Dumble in the police court.

Thanksgiving Services at St. John's

Church is Beautifully Decorated for Today's Service

Special Music for Tonight

St. John's church has been splendidly decorated for the Harvest Thanksgiving services today, and on Sunday next. The first service will be the Holy Eucharist at 10 a.m., choral evensong at 8 p.m. Special Psalms will be sung, and the Magnificat and Nunc Demittis will be Winchester's setting. Hymns 381, 382, 383, 379. Anthem, "Fear not O Land," Cooke.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Foster of Steubenville, Ohio.

The Thanksgiving offertory, it is hoped will realize the sum of $665, the amount of the Synod assessment.

Judgment Given for the Defendant

With All Costs in Case of McIlmoyle vs. Baker--Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. Won

The case of McIlmoyle vs. Baker, was continued all day yesterday in the assize court before Mr. Justice Magee and was concluded late in the afternoon, after many witnesses had been examined. The court gave its decision in favor of the defendant with all costs.

JUDGMENT FOR PLAINTIFF.

In the case of the Port Hope Brewing & Malting Co., vs. E. Fox of Trenton, which was heard on Tuesday, his lordship gave judgment yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiffs for $235. The action was for $200 and $27.60 interest, and the costs of the action.

Today the court will be occupied with the case of Dr. Young vs the Dominion Construction Co., and the Canadian General Electric Co., and the perjury charge against Levasseur.

Aged Comet Pays World Another Visit

KING EDWARD VII.

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—A telegram sent by King Edward to the Sultan of Turkey on the anniversary of the latter's accession to the throne was made public today, and produced a decided sensation on account of the strong friendliness of its tone. The message evidently was intended to offset the advances made to the Sultan by Emperor William. After the formal congratulations, King Edward said;

"There is every reason to hope that under the enlightened direction of so eminent a grand visier, your majesty's empire will have a peaceful and prosperous future, and that the veneration of posterity will be secured for your majesty."

Something About the Wonderful Celestial Visitor

Will Photograph Comet

Washington, Sept. 16.—Astronomers at the Naval Observatory are not paying much attention to the return of Halley's comet, which is now approaching the earth. This comet makes an appearance every seventy-five years, and is the oldest celestial wanderer known to earth-people, having been observed, according to old records, previous to the beginning of the Christian era. Scientific observation since the inception of the modern science of astronomy show that its orbit varied little and that it may be confidently expected according to schedule time.

While Washington astronomers are not making observations, several western observatories have made preparations to photograph the comet, and should their efforts develop anything of value, the Naval Observatory will later take up the comet quest.

With the announcement of every returning comet, superstitious people immediately begin to entertain absurd fears of what might happen in case of a collision. While not denying that such a collision is possible, and that conditions might develop which would render it disastrous, most astronomers assert that such a disaster is so remote as to be almost unthinkable.

Some scientists believe that life was extinguished on the earth more than once by fires generated by comets and that the growth of human, animal and vegetable life had to begin all over again and took millions of years to reach its present development.

A comet, in brief, is a bit of some planet which has cracked off and is flying rapidly through space. It is intensely hot. It generates enormous heat by its friction going through the ether. Every such comet, while measuring perhaps thousands of miles in diameter at the head, carries with it a sort of burning atmosphere of its own, which precedes it for some distance and trails out behind it for hundreds of thousands of miles. This forms what is known as the "tail" of the comet.

Most comets have been declared to have tails millions of miles in length which stretch across the heavens.

Meteorites, which are fragments of comets, have destroyed ships at sea and made huge holes in the earth. Many of these have fallen in the Southwest, which seems to be a favorite place for meteorites, and the desert of Arizona is pitted with holes which many miners believe were made by such visitors.

The earth came in contact with the tail of a comet on June 23, 1861. The tail was 123 degrees long. Many people thought it caused the Civil War. The comet appeared low down toward the horizon in the Northwest and went over to the Southwest. The whole heavens as we see them are only 180 degrees. So our comet struck across almost the whole heavens.

We were buried into the substance of that comet's tail 96,000 miles. And there was not the slightest thing by which anybody could know what happened. There was not even a haze. The tails of comets are so thin, so tenuous, that it is almost impossible to put it in words. Through the nucleus or head of a comet the light of a fifth magnitude star passes without any diminution.

There are dozens of lost comets known to astronomy. These monsters of the sky hove into sight, astonished everybody by their brilliancy had their orbits calculated and then when the astronomers predicted they were going to reappear they never returned and the astronomers were covered with confusion.

Ministers Met

A meeting of the ministers of Peterborough, was held in the board room of the Toronto Savings & Loan Co., yesterday afternoon, when the question of Riverdale church was discussed. The ministers, it is stated refused to sell the property to the Methodist church, although the president of the Ministerial Association refused to give out any information.

Hon. R. L. Borden and Hon. Mr. Roblin will Speak Here

A grand Conservative rally has been arranged for Tuesday, Sept. 29th, to be held in the Grand Opera House when Hon. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House, and Hon. Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, will be among the speakers. This will be the only opportunity the Conservatives of this part of the Province will have to hear their leader, and no doubt an immense crowd will fill the opera house on the night on the 29th.

Athletic Meet at Brock St. Rink

Many Prominent Athletes will Take Part--Some Are in the City Now

The cream of Ontario's athletic talent will take part in the big meet at Brock street rink tomorrow night under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club. The list of starters includes Bobby Kerry, Tom Longboat, Percy Sellen, Lou Sebert, Adams, Jack Tait and several other notable cans. Those along with a bunch of local boys, will present a program what will surpass anything ever given in this part of the Province. Tom Flanagan is coming with the Irish-Canadian brigade, and Mr. J. H. Crocker, who managed the Canadian Olympic team will also be on hand to render every assistance in his power. Mr. N. F. Crowe, secretary of the C.A.A.U., will be one of the Harrier Club's guests, and also Mr. Fred Smith of the Central Y.M.C.A.

Ontario's Population is Increasing

Ontario's population increased during 1907 by 58,617, according to the assessment rolls. Statistics, collected from the municipalities and issued by the Department of Agriculture as a bulletin, show that the population of the province last year was 2,300,303, as compared with 2,-142,746 in 1906. There seems to have been a slight decrease in the rural population, which was 1,045,640 last year, and 1,051,297 in the preceding year. Urban communities grew from 477,704 in 1906 to 499,957 in 190-, while cities increased from 613,305 to 654,-766. The total population has risen 200,000 in the last ten years.

Taxation has also been augmented according to the bulletin, by 47 cents per head. The assessed values in 1907 aggregated $1,148,981,077, compared to $1,103,504,088 in the previous year. From this the taxes collected amounted to $19,529,169, as against $18,921,429 in 1906. This works out at the rate of $8.88 per head for the entire population, as compared to $8.41 the previous year.

Tornnto's Waterworks Department will Adopt Peterboro's System

To have a good waterworks system is a fine thing. To have it well managed is better. These two things Peterborough can boast of, and anyone who is not fully convinced of the fact have only to visit some of the outside cities, and especially Toronto. The waterworks department in the Queen City, is just now attracting attention from the Board of Control. For years past there has been an incalculable waste of water by the citizens and the department was apparently unable to prevent it. But the fault has been discovered to be in the system of rating, and now there will be big changes.

Whether the Toronto people studied the Peterborough system or not is not known, but the report presented to the Board of Control recommends the same system of rating as in force here and which was adopted by Mr. Matthews when he took the chairmanship of the water commission five years ago.

The old water works company in this city charged so much per inmate in each house, but Mr. Matthews and the commissioners decided to charge according to the number of rooms in the house and allow as many inmates as desired. The result was that water takers paid an equal rate. The man with a big house paid for it while the man with a small house and a big family got off easier.

Toronto is about to adopt the same system as will be seen by the following report to the Board of Control;

"The controllers, in looking for information, found that the waterworks officials were wasting their time and efforts in useless work—that of gathering unreliable returns as to the number of inmates in the houses.

"They now advise that the waterworks bylaw be amended."

ACCORDING TO ROOMS.

"Abolish the present rate for each inmate and increase the 25 cent rate for each room in the house to 50 cents," said Controller Spence.

"Such a provision would abolish the cheating and would increase the water rates by 25 per cent. but we will get no more money than we would if the people paid their water rates fairly. The rates would fall heavier on wealthy people with large houses, and the charges for poor people in small houses would be reduced. You will find that six people in a ten-roomed house will use more water than 10 people in a six-roomed house."

Exhibition Opens This Morning

Placing Exhibits and Judging in the Hall will Take Up the Day

The Peterborough Exhibition opens today and the grounds and buildings will be alive with exhibitors who are arranging the various articles they are showing. The morning will be devoted entirely to this work, and this afternoon the judges on all classes shown in the building will get busy and expect to complete their duties by six o'clock. The whole day will be devoted almost entirely to completing the details for the big opening on Friday.

Every Pale Woman

Read This and Learn the Way to Good Color and Better Health.

Pale people have pale blood.

In other words the blood is watery and lacks red corpuscles.

The stomach is wrong.

Assimilation is poor and food is not changed into blood. Naturally the system is robbed of vitality, lacks strength and reconstructive power.

Don't slip from vigor into weakness.

Don't allow the appetite to fail, but instead use Ferrozone.

You're bound to feel rejuvenated and strengthened at once.

Appetite is forced up, digestion is stimulated, vigor imparted to the stomach. Every thing you eat is transformed into nutriment that supplies what your thin weak system needs.

Vital, life-giving blood that makes rosy cheeks and dancing eyes—that's the kind that Ferrozone makes.

The strength and buoyancy that defies depression and tiredness, that's the sort you get with Ferrozone.

Not only will it improve looks and spirits, but by rebuilding all weak, tired organs, Ferrozone establishes a soundness of health that's surprising.

For women and girls who want to feel well, to look well, to be well and stay well, nothing known in the annals of medicine is so certain as Ferrozone.

Won't you try Ferrozone?

Concentrated cure in tablet form, that's Ferrozone. 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all druggists.

News in Brief

It has doubtless occurred to most people that despite the denunciation of prize fighting, bull fighting, and similar sports, cricket is a more wicked game than any of them.

New York is suffering from a scarcity of $1 bills. While not despising the day of small things, we must admit that it is the reluctance of the $10 bill to come around that causes people here the most annoyance.

It is all well enough for the railway companies to cater to the tourist trade but this lighting of forest fires so that the passengers can see to read by the glare seems to be carrying things to extremes.

Some way will have to be figured out to make the dogs quit biting our children. Either science or the police will have to come to the rescue.

As for ourselves, we don't much care whether the cars get an eastern entrance to the fair grounds or not. We are thinking of going in by airship next year.

It looks as if Bob Bennet might get damaged in East Simcoe now that the Liberals have decided to take a Chew at him. Some biting things will be said on the stump before that campaign is ended.

A Toronto lady doctor complains that the street car steps are too high for the ladies, meaning no doubt that they have to fall an unnecessary distance when they get off the wrong way.

New York, Sept. 16.—John E. Redmond, the Irish leader in the House of Commons, Joseph E. Devlin, M.P., and John Fitzgibbon, who come to this country to attend the biennial convention of the United Irish League at Boston, were given a warm reception on their arrival here today.

When the steamer Oceanic reached her dock more than 100 members of the United Irish League of New York were in waiting. The part was escorted to the Hoffman House, where a formal reception will be tendered Mr. Redmond by the League.

On Saturday Mr. Redmond will leave for Boston. Later he will address a mass meeting at the Majestic theater, New York, and will also visit Philadelphia, Chicago, and other large cities.

CANADA THE EMPIRE'S FOOD PROVIDER

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission, says the London Advertiser. According to the estimates of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress Canada, by the year 1913, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 350,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:—

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported into the United Kingdom, from British possessions and foreign countries respectively.

	British Possessions. 1892-4	1902-6
	P. C.	P. C.
Wheat	15	23
Meat	21	34
Butter	10	21
Cheese	54	75

It will thus be seen how in the matter of food products, the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy minister's estimate may be rather high it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States, must before many years pass, cease to be a wheat-exporting country, and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1896 the exports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £32,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £30,000,000, but in the five years ended 1906 they had grown to over £35,000,000, and last year reached close on £40,000,000.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES

New York spends $225, or more, each year for every family of five persons. Where does the money come from? In the first analysis 80 per cent. of it comes from real estate. But real estate produces incomes and taxes by means of rents which tenants must pay. The tenant, if a storekeeper, makes his customers pay his taxes; if a manufacturer and employer, he makes his business pay the additional bill. In the last analysis the tax is assessed upon the entire community, and the man with the least opportunity to collect his tax from some other person—that is, the working man—ultimately pays the major share of the bill.

The rush for land in the western centres has begun to diminish and, although the officials of the Dominion lands office are still very busy, the crowd of people waiting is growing smaller. Under the new Dominion lands act 2,324 entries for quarter sections of 160 acres each were granted in three days. The largest number of applicants at any western town was Moose Jaw, where 630 sections of land were granted to settlers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has repudiated the statement made by some papers as to their being a disagreement between the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright and that several ministers were about to be retired. Sir Wilfrid states that there is no truth in the rumor, that there are no immediate cabinet changes pending and that the government will go to the country with the present personnel of the ministry.

It is expected that all arrangements for the issue of the government old age annuities will be completed by the end of this month. S. T. Bastedo, who has been given charge of the annuity service, is now installed in the department of trade and commerce and is making arrangements for the campaign which is to be inaugurated throughout the Dominion in order to lay before the public the advantages of this form of provision against old age. The annuity scheme is expected to appeal more particularly to the working classes.

ARTIST OR ARTISAN.

Do You Practice an Art or Follow a Trade?

What are you—you who bake the bread and brew the tea—artist or artisan? You may roast a joint for two or twenty, you may toss an omelet on occasion or pursue that occupation as a profession, and still be either an artist or artisan.

Some one has said in writing of Miss Poulard, whose little inn was for years one of the attractions of Mount St. Michael:

"To see her preparing an omelet or a stew or keeping an eye on the chickens revolving over the fire was to see a woman practicing an art rather than following a trade."

That distinction between an art and a trade is an interesting one, by the way, and one which may be applied to the realm of cooking as well as to that of any other field of endeavor.

In common parlance house painting is termed a trade, while painting miniatures on ivory would surely be referred to as an art. Still, with no inaccuracy in definition the terms might be reversed.

Of course the difference in the two terms, stating it broadly, is one of conscious effort. The artist adds the imprint of his own personality to his work; the artisan merely performs manual labor. An art perhaps is only a trade with the creative element added.

And so it was said of this Miss Poulard:

"In handling her utensils she had the grand air which distinguishes the artist from the artisan, the cook whose heart is in her work from the cook bent on earning a living."

Is it too high a standard to set for the mere business of cooking to demand that it be done with individuality? A criticism which was once made of the table of a club is that it "had no love in it." To quote again: "The actual needs (of the club) were generally met, but there was no margin, no suggestion of human interest. The were treated as a boarder to be fed and not as a human being with taste as well as appetite."

How different this from the attitude of a woman whose apple pies invariably caused some favorable comment and who was once asked how she made them!

"Oh, I don't know," she said. "Just the usual way, I guess, only I always think of the nice folks I am making them for and put in a pinch of love."

The woman was a practical, hard-working housekeeper with a big family of boarders, not a sentimental newly wed, but she meant pretty literally what she said. Most women in her circumstances would have put in only a pinch of grim necessity.

The pinch of love, or, if you please, the spontaneous interest, that went into that work was the thing that made these pies the work of an artist rather than an artisan.

And when you hear a woman talk about the drudgery of "messing around the kitchen" and the awful bore it is to get meals you may make up your mind that, however gifted she may be in other lines, in her home at least she is an artisan and not an artist.

A Spanish Ghost Story.

The atmosphere of Spain agrees most perfectly with all sorts of spirits, and a delightfully ghoulish story is told of the punishment of a bold, bad man who killed a friar. At the time of the crime the murderer escaped to Portugal, where he remained so long that on his return nobody recognized him. One morning, when he was walking along the street, he saw a fine sheep's head in the market place and, fearing it might be purchased while he went home for a servant, he secured it, but, ashamed to be seen carrying a package, he concealed it under his cloak. Unfortunately, blood trickled from the head, and a member of the body brotherhood, perceiving it, stopped him and asked, "What bearest thou, penitent?" "Nothing," was the unadvised reply, which naturally excited suspicion, and the monk cried, "My brother, thou hast somewhat wherewith beneath thy cape." And behold, when the cloak was torn aside there was the head of the murdered friar!—Los Angeles Times.

A Cure For Dependency.

A large, fleshy man with whiskers told me of a sovereign cure for dependency the other day. He had a number of girls in his employ, among them one that he knew was in struggling circumstances and supporting a sick mother on a none too healthy salary. She had come into the store and laid her purse and somber widow hat on the counter while she did something about the place. The large fleshy man got between her and the purse, and when she was not looking he slipped a five dollar bill into it and moved unconsciously about his business. In the afternoon he noticed that she had a red spot in each cheek, and she was heard asking other girls if they believed in fairies. She never solved the mystery—it was two years ago—and never will unless she reads this. But the five dollar bill was very useful in its little way, and the large despondent man felt so good for two whole days that he hip-hopped on the sidewalk on his way home.—Minneapolis Journal.

Living on Next to Nothing.

Most people do not need the evidence of recently published statistics to prove to them that it costs more to live in London than it once did. But it is doubtful if any Londoner now living was ever able to do it on £30 a year, as Boswell's poor Irish painter did. "He allowed £10 for clothes and linen. He said a man might live in a garret at 18 pence a week. Few people would inquire where he lived, and if they did it was easy to say, 'Sir, I am to be found at such a place.' By spending threepence at a coffee house he might be for some hours a day in very good company. He might dine for sixpence, breakfast on bread and milk for a penny and do without supper." Of course expenses can always be reduced to a minimum by doing without things. The question is, Which of our various expenses is unessential? Boswell's Irishman hinted at one. "On clean shirt days he went abroad and paid visits," says his ingenious chronicler.—London Chronicle.

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters romping in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," exclaimed the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the band that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overstudious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best prizes we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

A Simple Salad.

Cabbage scorned as plebeian takes on an air as a salad—not cold slaw or hot slaw, but a crisp, easily mixed salad with French dressing.

Cut the cabbage with fine grater and put it in ice water for an hour before serving. Dry on a clean napkin and cover with a highly seasoned French dressing about ten minutes before serving.

If a clove of garlic is rubbed over the bowl in which the dressing is made, the flavor is much improved for many persons.

While one would not serve this salad at a formal meal, it makes an appetizing lunch dish.

A Pan Broil.

When it is not convenient to open the lid of a stove, as on ironing day, a beefsteak or chop can be given a pan broil.

This is not frying, as many persons think, since not a particle of grease is used.

Have the pan very hot. Put the meat in it and turn almost immediately to the other side until seared. Keep turning the meat occasionally till it is done, though this need not be quite so often as when the steak is over live coals.

The White Plague

Great Tuberculosis Congress to Meet in Washington

Washington, Sept. 13.— Many distinguished physicians, sociologists and men of prominence in other walks of life are already in the national capital to take part in the coming White Plague Congress on Tuberculosis. Every great nation of the earth will have representation at the meeting and will add its influence to the movement for a world-wide warfare on the white plague.

Hundreds of exhibits pertaining to the anti-tuberculosis campaign are now being installed. Among the results that are expected to follow from these exhibits are mentioned:

Sanitary dwellings and house furniture for the working classes.

Sanitary passenger coaches.

Advanced and accurate instruction of school children in the methods of preventing consumption.

Eradication of tuberculosis in cattle.

Construction of the most advanced sanatoria the world has ever known.

Consumption of model workshops and factories.

America will reap the first fruits of all these advances. Physicians and sociologists assert that, through this congress and as a direct result of the prize competitions, the fight for the eradication of consumption in this country will be advanced many years.

The prizes that are offered will pit nations, municipalities and individuals against each other. They will develop utilities that will protect the healthy, heal the sick, decrease the nation's death rate and add to the national wealth.

As this congress will eclipse all others of its kind ever held anywhere, so does the list of prizes surpass in value and in wisdom of selection those offered by previous congresses. Especially evident is the regard for the health and strength of the nation's working men and their families.

Tickling coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membrane. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh goes into Dr. Shoop's. Druggists pretend to sell it, but don't. Sold by all dealers.

Schafly Chosen for Manager Next Year

Although the "poopers" have not been signed and will not be decorated with the needed signatures until after the close of the season on Saturday, there is no question in the world as to who will be the manager of the Toronto Baseball Club next season.

Larry Schafly will wear the mantle. President McCaffery and the directors of the organization have been favorably impressed with the work that Schafly has done under the terrible handicap he has been been working since assuming the reins of management. They have tendered the position to him for next year and Schafly has accepted. The delay in affixing the signatures to the contract is occasioned by the desire of all parties concerned to have the season over with before the final arrangements are made.

Schafly is a brainy ball player and has the knack of preserving harmony in a baseball camp. He will in all probability make a number of radical changes in the line-up of the team for next year, changes that are needed on the face of things at present. It is his intention to have a brainy combination of scrappy material. He is not a man who goes to the average every time he wants to know the value of a player, but he does want men who will take a chance, fight if necessary, and who play the game with some degree of intelligence.

It is understood that the baseball association will not handicap Schafly with any internal politics but give him a free hand to work out the team's destiny.

Here's hoping that Larry makes good in 1909.—Toronto Star.

It's a pity when sick once drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney blood. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, feel their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, a new-nerve specifically produced to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a moment. Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the doorknobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chints, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough places, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light in bed both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

No Hitch.

"How did the wedding come off today?"

"Without a hitch."

"Glad to hear it."

"I said without a hitch. The bride backed out at the last minute."

Not Written.

"How do you write 'born?'" asked the teacher of a small boy at the blackboard.

"A born isn't written at all," answered the little fellow. "It's blowed."—Exchange.

Like a Bicycle.

"What does the doctor say is the matter with Mirandy?"

"He says she has pneumatic tendencies and that she is threatened with serial trouble."—Baltimore American.

A Tiny State.

The miniature republic of San Marino is a mere dot on the map of Europe, being the smallest state in the world as well as the oldest independent republic. Its area is thirty-eight square miles, only little less than twice that of the island of Manhattan. It lies entirely in Italy, but is wholly independent. Its situation is on the easterly side of the Etruscan Apennines and about twelve miles from Rimini, on the Adriatic sea. The frontier is only twenty-four miles in length, and the population would make only a small city ward, numbering less than 12,000. There is no public debt, and the annual expenses met by taxation amount to $60,000. The country has bronze and silver currency, coined by Italy, 152,000 lire of the latter and 105,000 of the former. The principal exports are wine, cattle and stone. The military force of the republic numbers 80 officers and 600 men.

RISE OF JOHN BURNS.

Engineer's Apprentice Who Became a Member of Parliament.

Some people are laboring under the belief that England is less democratic than a republic. They should study the rise of John Burns, now president of the local governing board. Thirty-five years ago he was an engineer's apprentice at $2 a week. This position in England is far more menial than in this country, because a lad has little hope of rising to an earning point beyond 6 or 8 shillings a day. But John Burns kept going.

He acquired an education by self study, because the common school system, as we understand the words, does not exist in Great Britain. He developed the ability to talk upon his feet. He stood for parliament, although he hadn't a shilling besides his earnings as an expert workman.

Members of the British parliament are not paid anything for their services. Friends came to Burns' assistance, and he took his seat with nearly forty other representatives of labor. Today he is a member of the government and as privy councilor may, if he chooses, draw $25,000 per year for the rest of his life, whether in or out of office.

Of course it is not considered regular to take the salary when one is out of office, but some cases of the kind are well remembered. Benjamin Disraeli always drew the money. He needed it, he asserted.

But what I started to say is that a workman has as great a chance in England as here if he makes something of himself beyond a drudge. Such successes are more exceptional there than here, if reference be had to the American born workman, because the foreign born laborer does as little work as he can here or elsewhere. His indolence is infectious, and many formerly earnest toilers have become imbued with the continental belief in shirking duty.

Had Burns felt thus he would still be a mechanic and carrying a dinner pail. — Julius Chambers in Brooklyn Eagle.

Pronounce It Lose Ang-el-ees.

Mayor Harper may ask concerted action toward promulgating the official pronunciation of the name Los Angeles. Repeatedly inquiries have come to city officials asking for the true pronunciation, which queries have been usually referred to experts for reply.

The latest, from Horace G. Adams of Fort Smith, was turned over to Librarian Charles F. Lummis, an authority on southwestern words and customs, who sent to Mayor Harper a copy of his reply, with a suggestion that some official action be taken to get the correct pronunciation firmly established. This is Mr. Lummis' answer to Mr. Adams:

"The word is pronounced 'Loce' (to rhyme with dose) Ang-el-ees approximately—the most vital thing in the hard 'g.' There is no jolly sound in Spanish. I take pleasure in answering your query, which is referred to me by his honor A. C. Harper, mayor of this city."—Los Angeles Herald.

The Cause Was the Cure.

First Flatter—What on earth was that awful shaking in this building last night?

Second Flatter—De Jagger, who lives on the twenty-ninth floor, came home with the hiccoughs.

First Flatter—Well, but there were only two or three shocks.

Second Flatter—Sure! You see, when things began to shake De Jagger thought it was an earthquake, and it scared his hiccoughs out of him.—Judge.

Striking Out For the City.

Hiram Hardapple—Don't be too reckless about wandering from home, Zeke. Remember a rolling stone gathers no moss.

Zeke—But what do I want with moss, dad? Ther be too many mosshacks around here now.—Detroit Tribune.

Not Lost, but Gone Before.

Sassy Ann—Now you'ye bin an' lorst yer penny, fat'ead.

John James—No, I ain't lost it, silly, 'cos I knows where it is.—Sketch.

A Decorative Accomplishment.

"So you are going to teach your daughter music?"

"Yes," answered Mrs. Thingit, "just enough to give us an excuse for having a piano lamp and a mahogany music rack."—Washington Star.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

Put Through His Paces.

The wealthy Briton is confessedly the most fastidious man living as to the quality of his personal domestic service. The concentrated energy with which an Englishman will rebuke his servant for an offense so slight that the average American fails to observe it bears out the above statement. Those who propose changing servants are not content with references and a perfunctory interview with the man or maid under consideration, but insist upon a full dress rehearsal of both manners and appearance. The servant in livery is put through all his paces, must display the size of his calves, the haughtiness of his pose as well as breeding in handling a card, announcing a guest or serving at the table. Nothing is taken for granted. The master and the mistress sit by and discuss the points of groom or butler as they would those of a high priced horse or valuable dog. Domestics are taken with great seriousness by the upper class Englishmen, and for that reason nothing is left to luck in peopling the servants' hall.

Wink at Some Things.

"When you have mastered the gentle art of winking," said Lord Beaconsfield, "you hold the key to success in your hands."

Every one's personality is made up of trivial failings and trivial talents. Foster the good qualities in your friends and subordinates and wink at those failings so dear to their possessors. Not to see everything is a rule which will strengthen friendships and help you to get the best results from your fellow workers.

"He is no good," said the great Napoleon of one of his officers. "He is continually looking into the privates' stew pot!"

"I want a man who can keep his eye on the ultimate result and ignore little failings, never mind how aggravating," said Nelson. And General Gordon once remarked that the man who lost his temper because a private's best lace was tied loosely on the day of a battle did more to lose the day than all the enemy's guns.

FEMININE VANITY.

The Jewish and Egyptian Women Were Arrant Coquettes.

Feminine vanity is not the product of our effete civilization, but is as old as the history of the world.

The Jewish and Egyptian women were arrant coquettes and well versed in the artificialities of the toilet. When Jezebel learned of the approach of Jehu she sought to enhance her charms by painting her face and blackening her eyes with antimony.

Judith before she proceeded on her murderous mission to the tent of Holofernes bathed and perfumed her person with infinite care and wrapped herself in a splendid veil, in whose voluminous folds she concealed her cruel weapon. The Roman belles of the empire dyed their hair blond, red and even blue, according to the caprice of the moment. They used cosmetics of every kind to excess and, like the Moorish women, augmented the luster of their eyes by means of antimony. They also penciled their eyebrows with a bodkin blackened in the smoke of frankincense.

Wealthy women bathed in asses' milk and slept with their faces poulticed with bread steeped in asses' milk in order to efface wrinkles. Even poets sang the praises of certain cosmetics, and Ovid wrote a laudatory poem on the merits of a preparation which, he asserted, preserved the freshness of the skin to old age. It was a curious mixture and was compounded of lily roots, yolks of eggs, hartshorn, gum benzoin, flour and honey, which were all boiled together.

Pliny mentions a species of face powder made of earth from the island of Chio dissolved in vinegar. Juvenal writes that the countenances of the Roman women were disfigured with this supposed beautifier. Among the Roman ladies it was the fashion to be very pale, as red cheeks were not deemed aristocratic. To attain this desirable pallor a quantity of chalk was rubbed on the face.

Many of the cosmetics in use in Greece and Rome have been discovered among ancient relics. Antimony, the oldest of them all, has been found in the utensils belonging to the stone age.

Funerals in Peru.

According to social usage, women in Peru cannot attend funerals, and they do not appear at weddings unless they are very intimate friends. When a funeral procession passes through the streets the coffin is carried upon the shoulders of the pallbearers, who are followed by an empty hearse drawn by two, four or six horses, according to the means of the mourners and their desire for display. All the male members of the family and friends of the deceased follow on foot, with a line of empty carriages behind them. As long as they are in the presence of the dead it is considered a proper and necessary evidence of respect to walk. After the body has been committed to the grave those who attend the funeral are brought home in carriages.

Automatic Salt Works.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is prevented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in as almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little farther the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has solidified and is ready for the market. Wells driven into the sand disclose strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let up, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do so more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, run as high as $7,468.57 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

Clean Up Inside

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits, the scale to say that in the spring you feel pretty—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely ill-does the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years," says W. S. Saugster, of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite suffered from indigestion and gas, had severe pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt disheartened and hopeless enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was bound up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this great home medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine; they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills—to-day—25c at all dealers.

Cheese Factory Burned

Word was received in the city yesterday that the cheese factory at North Ops had been burned. The blaze was discovered by Mr. Dundas, the cheesemaker in charge, and as there was no water at hand he used whip to extinguish the flames. There were 160 boxes of cheese in the factory, 70 of which were cured and ready for shipment. The full extent of the damage done was not reported. Mr. Geo. Gillespie of the city was on his way to the factory when the fire broke out and he assisted in extinguishing it.

Fire Alarm Outside the City Limits

Brigade Responded But Could Not Act Without An Order

A call was telephoned the fire station yesterday afternoon a little after four o'clock from Sherbrooke street west, and the brigade responded promptly. When they arrived on the scene it was found that it was outside the corporation and therefore the brigade could not act without an order from the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee or mayor. The fire was a small bush one the brigade returned to the fire hall. No particular damage was done by the blaze.

Boston Transcript on Hassar Abdallah

The Turkish Wrestler who Meets Hartubise Next Wednesday

What a rare time the boys of Peterborough look like having when the great Sultan's wrestler, Hassan Abdallah arrives, which will be on September 21st. Cole Bros. circus will be forgotten, when, attired in the costume of a village sheikh, with long flowing silken robes, he is seen upon the streets.

He is a man of good appearance and fine physique, healthy and above all modest in his demeanor. He has has been too short a time in Canada to yet understand why everybody follows him, but he likes to see the boys he says for it make a homesickness for his own little boy far away in Asia Minor.

Like all Easterners he is a great cigarette smoker, but it does not appear to have the same effect upon his wind as it would upon a white man. Probably it is like eating to him. When told about it he shrugged his shoulders offered one to his interviewer, and then calmly took one himself.

The Boston Transcript was very favorably impressed with his performance in the Columbia theater against Karlem, Aubrey, and his match with the Dane. In an interview after the latter match, Hassan is credited with saying, "I must stop him fight me. I crush his heart. Italian then no good. We beat Madrailo same time. Like it in Turkey, yes, sure."

Just simply told, meant—and one could suggest,—true.

He simply crushed the "Guinea" after getting a smack in the mouth, and no one knew what happened until the Dago was all in, and in six minutes too.

Was it Oriental magic or was it wonderful strength? We would like to see him matched against a smoker jack like Yankee Rogers or Frank Gotch. Could this son of the desert do it to them? We are doubtful, but still we wonder. If certainly has a magnetism that is very affecting, and we shall wait and see.

That is how the Transcript's sporting Editor looked at it.

Hartubise is in great shape for the meeting on Wednesday night next, and he is anxious to get after the great Turk. It will be a big surprise to all his friends if the local wrestler does not make the Persian Hustle as he never had to before.

Will Sprinkle Central Park This Morning

Fire Chief Howard has received authority from the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to take No. 2 hose wagon and some of the reserve hose and sprinkle Central Park. The extremely dry weather has burned a great portion of the grass and the park is unsightly. It needs water and needs it badly. A good soaking will make a big improvement. The chief will be out early this morning and get the work done before most of the people get down town. The act is a good one and everyone will appreciate green grass at Central Park again.

Cargo of Wood

The steamer Ajax, Capt. Charles Gray, arrived in port yesterday with a cargo of about 180 cords of wood for Mr. J. H. A. Fitzgerald. The captain makes his trip to South Bay, Stony Lake, every week, as regular as clockwork.

Torn by Wild Beasts

History of a Great Discovery

The old Roman heroes who were torn by wild beasts at their fights in the new ruined Colosseum at Rome, the Greek charioteers, and the gladiators who made fighting a profession, all knew the virtues of herbal essences (such as are contained in Zam-Buk) for skin injuries and diseases. They would apply at night their secret herbal balms, and in a few days would again be ready for combat. Their ideal of a balm or salve was a preparation which combined power with purity; and that ideal is realized in Zam-Buk.

Ordinary ointments, salves, and embrocations are generally composed of rancid animal fats and mineral poisons.

Zam-Buk on the contrary, is a healing balm, composed of highly refined oils and juices got from certain rich medicinal herbs, and every one using Zam-Buk may rely on its healing power.

When the little one runs in from play with a smarting dirt-filled scrape on hand or knee, simply wash the part, and smear with Zam-Buk, bandaging if necessary. Zam-Buk will do the rest.

When father returns from work with a cut hand or other injury, the handy box of Zam-Buk again meets the emergency; and the housewife or mother continually finds it a real friend in need for the burns, scalds, scrapes and bruises sustained by general household duties. For eczema, ulcers, itch, fistula, abscesses, scalp sores, and all skin diseases, it acts like a charm. It eases the pain and stops the bleeding of piles, and cures this painful ailment quickly and surely. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for one dollar twenty-five.

Should Use as Little Water as Possible

All Cities are Effected by the Very Dry Weather

A look at water all over the Province, and especially in cities where the consumption is large, is causing commissioners and councils no end of anxiety. The demand is for people to stop wasting, and in many places severe measures will shortly have to be adopted to prevent waste. The lack of rain and the hot weather for so many weeks has had a telling effect upon the lakes, rivers and springs from which municipalities receive their supply. This city has been particularly fortunate in this respect for several reasons. One is the splendid system adopted by the Railways and Canals Department in conserving the waters of the Kawartha chain of Lakes which feed the Trent canal. By holding back the water which in the spring causes big freshets and even floods in other districts the canal authorities are enabled to maintain a pretty even flow all summer. As the water in the canal is affected, to the same extent is the flow of the river from which the city derives its supply, affected.

Another reason is the system of rating adopted by the water commissioners. By charging consumers according to the number of rooms in their house, instead of according to the number of inmates, a great waste of water is prevented and a much larger and more proportionate revenue is derived.

Still the citizens of Peterborough are called upon to economize. The extremely dry weather has had a telling effect even upon the supply and the commissioners have to watch that those citizens with big lawns do not use more water than they are entitled to.

A Kentucky Experience

Coffee and Tea Still at Work

A Ky. lady had a very agreeable experience, in leaving off coffee drinking which she found harmful, and taking on Postum. She never passes an opportunity to tell others of her good fortune. She says:—

"For over 30 years I suffered from morbus trouble. Four years ago I was down with nervous prostration and heart trouble. After several months of misery, my doctor, one of the best in the country, told me I must quit coffee and tea.

"What was I to do? I must have some warm beverage for breakfast as I had never done without coffee in my life.

"I decided to try Postum, little thinking it would amount to anything. At first I did not like it, but when we boiled it 15 minutes, until it was dark and rich, it was delicious, and I soon began to feel better.

"After using Postum constantly three years I feel like a different person. I always had been a poor sleeper, but now sleep well and am in perfect health. And I give the credit to Postum.

"My entire family now use it in preference to any other beverage at meals. I am an enthusiastic friend of Postum and I know that what it has done for me it will do for others, so I never let a chance go by to recommend it to those who suffer from coffee trouble."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich., Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Wedding Bells

LAWRENCE—HENDERSON.

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Rev. Geo. W. and Mrs. Henderson, on Reid street, when their only daughter, Miss Maud E. Henderson became the bride of Mr. Wm. H. Lawrence, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lawrence of Sarnia. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, which was prettily decorated for the occasion, by the bride's father, who is pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, assisted by the groom's uncle, Rev. Mr. Carroll, of Bowmanville. The bride was attended by Miss Louise M. Dickson, of Port Hope, while Mr. C. Douglas Lawrence, B.A., of Toronto, supported his brother.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was exceedingly well rendered by Miss Edna Clarke of Port Hope, and during the signing of the register, Miss Edith Flavelle of Lindsay, sang very sweetly, "Oh Perfect Love."

Guests were present from Sarnia, London, Windsor, Dresden, Bowmanville and Toronto. After the ceremony the happy young couple, followed by the well wishes of a host of friends, left on the C.P.R. train for a six weeks' trip through Western Canada to the Coast. They will go by boat from Owen Sound to Port Arthur and will stop at the important prairie cities. Upon their return they will take up their residence at Sarnia.

POWERS—McGRATH.

A beautiful nuptial ceremony was celebrated in the Church of St. Gregory the Great, Picton, on Tuesday at 9.30 a.m., when Miss Mary A. Powers, daughter of the late Wm. Powers, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred J. McGrath, son of Mr. Thos. B. McGrath, Aylmer street. The event was of great interest, not only to the many friends of the groom, who has always lived in Peterborough, but also to the host of young people to whom the bride had become endeared during her residence of several years in this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Kelino during the high mass sung with full choir. Lohengrin's wedding march was played as the bride entered the church and proceeded to the sanctuary front leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Frank Powers of Picton, who who gave her away. During the mass Mr. McClelland sang "Ave Maria" in splendid voice and the "Agnus Dei," was well rendered by Mr. A. Sullivan.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Powers, and Mr. Fred Lepiante of Peterborough, was best man. Little Miss Grace Kernan of Owen Sound, was a very pretty flower girl. The ushers were Mr. Archie Sullivan of Picton, and Mr. T. McGrath, jr., Peterborough.

The bride looked charming in a Princess gown of white crepe marisee and fine lace studded with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her sister attending her was dressed in white silk mulle trimmed with French valenciennes and touches of white satin. She wore a white picture hat to match and carried pink roses.

After the mass the nuptial party drove to the bride's home, a mile and a half out of Picton, where the post-hymeneal rites were held, reception was held in the spacious drawing rooms under an arch of smilax, from which was suspended a bell of white asters.

A dainty recherche luncheon was served to the fifty or more friends who were present. The dining room was decorated with festoons of smilax and white asters. The color scheme of the tables was pink and white. Five of the intimate friends of the bride served the luncheon. Their favors were pretty pins, while those the guests received were hand painted place cards, the bride's own work.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace and pendant, and to the bridesmaid a pearl ring.

Rev. Father Kelloe, in proposing the toast of the bride, paid her a graceful tribute in a splendid speech. His felicitous remarks to the happy couple were responded to by the whole assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. McGrath left on the 3.30 p.m. train for Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago, and will return to Peterborough, residing at 293 Rubidge street. Mrs. McGrath will be at home to her friends after November 1st. She looked charming in a travelling gown of Leiden green cloth and butterfly taffeta with large buttons.

Many handsome presents were received by the bride and congratulations were numerous during the day.

Among the guests present, the following were from Peterborough:—Mrs. T. B. McGrath, who was attired in gray embroidered voile with lavender and baby Irish lace; Miss Kate McGrath, in pink cotienne panne velvet and lace; Miss Margaret McGrath in pale blue Paris voile, liberty satin and lace; Miss Olive Huffman, wearing Myrtle velvet with touches of gold and blue; Miss Louie Martin, in blue and all over lace; Miss Gertrude McFadden, who wore gray organdie and Valenciennes lace; Miss Nora Coughlin was dressed in champagne muslin; Miss Armene LePlante, in pink mulle and touches of liberty satin, and Miss Clara Cahill in white voile and lace. Mr. T. B. McGrath, father of the groom and Mr. Godfrey Coughlin were also present.

Mrs. Wm. Powers, the bride's mother wore a handsome gown of black panne satin with touches of point lace. Others noticed were Mrs. Frank Shannon, of Saginaw, in black silk, trimmed with touches of lavender; Mrs. Will Powers of Chicago, wearing a smart suit of champagne lady's cloth with black hat and plumes of cherry, and Mrs. Jack Kernan, of Owen Sound, in gray voile over pink taffeta and black picture hat.

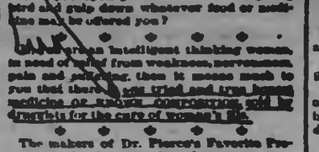
Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?



Any intelligent thinking woman in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, owes it to herself to see that there is one tried and true home medicine or known composition sold by druggists for the cure of women's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for women's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Viamede was Destroyed by Fire Tuesday

Broke Out in Main Building and Did About $10,000 Damage

The main building of "Viamede" and two of the cottages in connection therewith, the Shamrock and the Ryzie, were completely gutted by fire which broke out about 8.30 o'clock last evening. The loss is placed at about ten thousand dollars and the cause of the conflagration is unknown.

Viamede is perhaps the best known of the Kawartha Lakes summer resorts. It is owned by Mr. W. M. Graham of Lakefield, and was conducted by Mrs. and Miss Graham. It was known throughout the whole Province and in many parts of the United States, being a popular summer place for American holidayers. It had accommodation for sixty or seventy guests and this season just closed was one of the best in its history.

The resort was closed for the season on Monday, Mrs. Graham, Miss Graham and those who were employed during the summer, leaving for Lakefield. One man remained behind, but he left this place about 3.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. About 8.30 p.m., it was seen from Mount Julian that Viamede was on fire, the reflection lighting up the sky for miles around. A number of people gathered as quickly as possible, but it was useless to try to do anything. The fire had a good start and the destruction of the buildings was rapid, everything being as dry as tinder. The fire broke out in the main building and spread to the two cottages which were in close proximity.

Although bush fires are raging at many points at Stony Lake there was none near Viamede, so that the fire was not caused from that source.

Carnegie Says Germany Can Abolish War

Berlin, Sept. 15.—Andrew Carnegie has written a letter from Skibo Castle, Scotland, to representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, President of the American group of the Inter-Parliamentary Union which convenes in this city, Sept. 17, in which he says;

"If I were in Berlin and had a word to say, my thoughts necessarily would flow in one direction. I cannot escape the conclusion that the abolition of war among civilized nations as a mode of settling international disputes is very easily accomplished. There will be one man in Berlin, while your congress is in session, who has only to speak the word. If the Emperor of Germany once realized his manifest destiny, peace would follow. He has it in his power to abolish war among civilized nations. All he has to do is to ask Great Britain, France and the United States to unite with him in declaring that since the world has cessation one part with another, the interchange of products between them amounting to thousands of millions a year, the time has passed when any one nation can be permitted to break that peace in which all are so deeply interested. International disputes must be settled by arbitration.

"Neither of the three countries could afford to reject this invitation and the Emperor would have performed an unequalled service to the world.

"Whether His Majesty is to call in this great mission, and pass into history as one of a long line of rulers, but more of achievements, but only of title, or to awake some morning to his duty and perform his mission we cannot tell, but I shall hope that the angel of the Lord went and spoke unto him."

Day Most Suitable for Elections

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—In fixing the approaching general elections for the last week of October, instead of running into the first week of November, as was the case in the elections of 1900 and 1904, the Government has been anxious to meet, as far as possible, the suggestions which have come in from various quarters as to the day which would best suit the public convenience.

The election lists are not yet all printed and this, of itself, makes it impossible for the polling day to be fixed earlier than the end of October. On the other hand it was represented to the Cabinet by many members that the shooting season opens with November, and that if the elections were not over before then very many people would be deprived of their vote.

Moreover, Monday, Nov. 2nd, which had been thought of as a good day, turns out to be All Soul's Day, the feast of the dead, and not at all

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 20 feet wide for a distance of 150 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $38.06 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

PETERBOROUGH FAIR IS NOW OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Big Midway--Exhibits and Attractions of All Kinds--Splendid Display in the Hall--Live Stock Judging Today

With particularly bright prospects the annual Peterborough Exhibition was opened yesterday morning for exhibitors, and for those who have rented space on the midway. At an early hour President R. H. Leary with his large and capable staff of directors were on the grounds ready to assist and direct all who applied to them. To say that the fair is larger than ever is not at all extravagant, as the entry books of the secretary will show. Every class is well filled, and the display in the main hall is much superior to former years. Down stairs are found the produce of the farm such as grains, of every conceivable variety, also roots, vegetables, seeds, dairy produce, etc. The upstairs is devoted to ladies' work, fancy and useful, and a larger and prettier display has probably never been seen at a country fair in this district. The centre of the hall is covered with articles, which are attractive and of interest to ladies and a good hour can be spent there inspecting the work.

The fruit display occupies one side of the hall and consists mainly of apples, as very few other varieties of fall fruits are grown around here. The size and quality of the apples, however, are very good and are well worth seeing.

Judging was started in the hall yesterday afternoon and will be continued this morning so that everything will be ready for inspection this afternoon when the formal opening takes place.

As usual considerable space on the ground floor of the main hall has been set aside for merchants and manufacturers and these spaces have been taken up by the Quaker Oats Co., A. H. Stratton, J. M. Greene's music store, the New Scale Williams Pianos, and Roy's photos, and all exhibits are attractive and well arranged.

THE MIDWAY.

The crowds that will visit the fair today will be surprised to see the midway. It never was anything like as large as it is this year. The White City starts at the entrance gate and extends right up to the grand stand. There are exhibits of machinery, farm implements, carriages, tents, flour, etc., while sideshows, cane racks, refreshment stands and games of various kinds are innumerable.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.

This morning all the live stock and poultry will be on the grounds and the judging will commence at an early hour. The poultry tent is placed at the main entrance, and will be the first exhibit to see. The cattle, sheep and swine will be judged in the rings provided for them. While the halter horses will be found in the ring opposite the main hall. All saddle and harness horses will be judged in front of the grand stand.

Go with the band this afternoon, join the big crowd at the Exhibition Grounds and have a big time.

New Mail Delivery Waggon

Mr. Kingscote Put It on the Road Yesterday for the First Time

Mr. A. Kingscott, who has the contract for collecting and delivering His Majesty's mails in the city, has secured a new waggon and put it on the route for the first time yesterday. The rig is a handsome one, built after the modern style and furnished with the necessary equipment. It was constructed by Mr. George Fitzgerald and is a credit to him. The waggon is the personal property of Mr. Kingscott, and he intends to show it at the exhibition today.

Big Fire Prevented by J. A. Storey

Noticed Pile of Old Paper Burning at Rear of S. Ray's Tobacco Store

What might have been a very serious fire was discovered and put out at noon yesterday by Mr. J. A. Storey of the firm of Storey and Simpson, Water street. Mr. Storey had just returned from the Exhibition Ground with a horse which he was leading to the stable at the rear of his store. As he reached the end of the alley he noticed smoke coming from a pile of old papers in the rear of Mr. Sam Ray's tobacco store. Mr. Storey immediately tied his horse and went for a pail of water, but by the time he had returned the fire had made such headway that it required more water. He was successful however, in getting the flames quenched, and thus prevented a big blaze which could easily have spread to the many buildings in the immediate neighborhood. The old paper had been gathered together and left for the scavenger waggon to cart away, but how the fire started is not known.

Was Her Second Romantic Match

Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard Marries Man Who Fell in Love with Her

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, widow of the explorer who lost his life in Labrador, was married to Harold Ellis, son of the Right Hon. John Edward Ellis, P.C., former member of the British Cabinet, here.

On the return platform Mrs. Hubbard tells a thrilling story of her trip across Labrador to clear up the mystery of her husband's death and to finish his exploration. In one of her audiences in England not long ago was Harold Ellis. He was a sympathetic listener, and an acquaintance followed which soon ripened into love, followed by a proposal of marriage, with its acceptance. Mrs. Hubbard decided that the wedding should take place in Toronto, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Roberts, a widow. Mrs. Hubbard has been in the city for some time preparing for the marriage. Mr. Ellis arrived a day or two ago. The wedding was a quiet one, and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will leave for England.

Will Erect Ten New Houses

On Patterson Street Suitable for Working Men--Wants Water Main Run Down

Mr. B. A. Paquette, who has secured property on Patterson street, in the south end has applied to the water commissioners for a man to be run down that street. Mr. Paquette intends to erect some ten new houses on his property, four of which he wants to get started and if possible completed this fall. The others will be gone on with in the spring. These houses will be small, and of a class which will rent to the workingman for $9 or $10 a month. They will be well built and comfortable and just the class of building that is most in demand in Peterborough.

Harvest Festival

At St. John's Anglican Church a Success--Splendid Decorations and a Beautiful Service

The Harvest Festival of St. John's church was held last evening, when a large congregation was present. The sacred edifice was very tastefully adorned with fruits of the earth and trees, and presented an exceedingly harmonious appearance. The church has never before appeared a more acceptable decorative appearance, which must be accredited to the fact that the work had not been overdone. Immediately within the portals of the building is a very attractive arch composed of asparagus, foliage, and mountain ash berries, while the entrance to each seat in the center aisle is adorned with a sheath of wheat, or oats, bound with mountain ash foliage and berries. The window sills bear their quota of harvest, while the chancel and altar is resplendent in green and many colored blossoms. The decorations are the work of the following members; Mrs. J. C. Davidson, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Stevenson, Misses Dean, Wilson and English, Mrs. Jas. Mills, Mrs. Calder, Mrs. L. Dean, and Messrs. H. Long, R. J. Dey, and Glover.

The work of the choir added considerably to the bright and cheerful service, and the sermon preached by Rev. Dr. Foster from the text, "O, how great is Thy goodness," was a masterly effort, and exceedingly appropriate to the occasion. The whole service was taken by Dr. Foster, and reflected considerable ability.

This festival service will be repeated on Sunday, when the beautiful decorations will be in evidence. The special offertories taken up last evening and to be continued on Sunday are in aid of the missions.

Thanksgiving Day to be Changed

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—The selection of October 19th as the date of nominations for the general election will involve a change in the date of Thanksgiving Day, which the Government had intended to proclaim for that date. It is now probable that Thanksgiving Day will be postponed until Monday, November 9th. The only other date available, if the holiday is to be on a Monday, as promised, would be October 14th, which is thought to be too early, and November 2nd, which is All Saints' Day, and therefore unsuitable.

MR. CHIPMAN IS COMING RE PARK STREET OUTFALL SEWER

Will Advise Board of Works on Best Course to Adopt--Street Watering Contracts Taken Too Low This Year--Romaine St. Sewer

The Board of Works Committee met last night, and discussed several old time matters, such as the Romaine street sewer, and a new outfall sewer on Park street. Mr. Chipman will be in Peterborough on the 25th of this month to go into both questions.

The following members were present, Chairman H. Phelan, Aldermen Elliott, Buller, McIntyre, Morgan, Bradburn and Mayor Rush.

Mr. Brooks, Sophia street, was present in connection with a sewer which passes his place. He has been paying taxes on it for the past two or three years. It is no use to him as he has no water and he did not think it fair that he should be taxed. He said he had applied two years for water and had not got it yet.

The engineer said that the Sophia street sewer was an outfall for the Rogers street sewer.

Ald. Buller moved that the water commissioners be requested to put the water down Sophia street. This was seconded by Ald. Morgan.—Carried.

Mr. Brooks also wanted to be reimbursed for the taxes he had paid during the past two years. This, however, the board could not do.

WANT AN INCREASE.

Mr. McIlmoy was present in connection with his contract on the water wagon. He said that he was only getting $2 per day for watering the south division and that was not enough to feed his horses and keep himself. He said he had done his work faithfully and by so doing he had not been able to earn a cent any other way. His contract was $400 for the season, but owing to the very dry weather, he was called upon to do much more work, than anyone had anticipated last spring. Last year Mr. McIlmoy's section cost $450 and was several blocks smaller. There was no tender for the southern division last spring, and he was entitled to some consideration.

The aldermen thought that if one man was given an increase they all would want it. The matter was left over for the time being.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Elliott, that the city expropriate 14 feet of the Chamberlain estate on Louis street, and that a reason Louis street, and that a sidewalk be built, and that the chairman be authorized to engage an engineer to make a plan, the chairman, Aldermen Buller and Elliott be a committee to wait on the Chamberlain estate in reference to the matter.

NEW OUTFALL SEWER.

The Board of Works has been taking up the question of a new outfall sewer down Park street, and the chairman, Ald. Phelan, has been in communication with Engineer Chipman of Toronto, in connection with plans and the cost of the sewer. Mr. Chipman wrote that he would prefer to come to Peterborough, and go over the ground with the Board of Works. The cost of the plans depends largely upon the magnitude of the work. The board considered the matter and finally decided to have the engineer come up.

Moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Bradburn that the chairman be authorized to communicate with Mr. Chipman and arrange with him to meet the Board of Works and go over the ground with the Board of Works to consider the advisability of preparing plans and a report and to give an idea of the cost. Mr. Chipman to come to Peterborough on the evening of the 24th.—Carried.

PARK STREET DRAIN.

Complaints are still made about the Park street drain not being satisfactory. The trouble appears to be in the G.T.R. culvert.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Buller moved that the city clerk write to the G.T.R. authorities, and see if something cannot be done to overcome the difficulty.

Ald. Buller and Ald. Bradburn moved that the city clerk be instructed to write the reeve of Monaghan, re the cleaning of the township's end of the Park street drain.

ROMAINE STREET SEWER.

The Romaine street sewer was brought up for discussion, and it appears that all the aldermen are in favor of taking the old sewer up and relaying it. This sewer has been a bone of contention ever since it was started and it has been very unsatisfactory. There is nothing for it now but to build a new sewer. If this is done a two-foot-inch pipe will be put down instead of a nine-inch pipe.

In the meantime the Board will get Mr. Chipman's advice when he comes down.

Salvation Army Band Concert

Will Likely be Given at the Fair Grounds Instead of on the Market Square

Instead of giving the proposed concert on the market square tonight, the band of the Salvation Army will likely render its program at the Exhibition Grounds. When the concert was arranged the evening performance at the fair grounds was not taken into consideration. This is the harvest festival season of the Army and the concert was being put on for the purpose of raising funds to assist in the noble work the Army is prosecuting. When the fair directors drew attention to the fact of the attractions at the Exhibition and offering the army the privilege of giving a concert at the Exhibition Grounds, the band and officials fell in with the idea, and while it was not definitely decided last night, it is altogether probable that the offer will be accepted.

This will be an additional attraction for the evening, and should draw a large number of citizens as the Salvation Army Band is well worth hearing.

Great Athletic Event at Brock Street Rink

Some of World's Best Athletes Were Present, Archibald's Pole Vaulting a Feature--Results of the Various Events

The greatest athletic meet ever held in Peterborough is now a matter of history, but it will long be fresh in the memory of those who were interested in it. The Harriers' Club of the Y.M.C.A. made a great success of their second attempt at a big meet and they will need no encouragement to try again. The Brock street rink last night contained about 1500 people who gathered to see some of the world's greatest athletes perform and they were well rewarded for their trouble.

The arrangements for the meet were very satisfactory to the crowd and to those who participated in the events. The track was in the best of shape and no one had any complaint to make. Some of the big attractions were the exhibition dash of 220 yards by Bobby Kerr of Hamilton, the world's champion. He did it in 27 seconds flat. He also did 60 yards in 6 2-5 seconds, beating Evans with a handicap of four yards. Tom Longboat did a two mile run in 11 minutes flat, and Fred Simpson, who had already had a fourteen mile workout ran a half mile in 2.27.

One of the prettiest exhibitions was the pole vaulting by Archibald of Toronto, who cleared by a good foot the 11 foot mark. The world's record is 12 ft. 5in. The audience applauded the vaulter enthusiastically.

The officials in charge of the affair were all on the job, and looked after the duties like old timers, so that everything passed off without a hitch.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the Approval of Eminent Men of the Leading Medical Colleges, Doctors and writers on Materia Medica who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those painful affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

Indian Murdered Near Belleville--Shot Down from Ambush at House

Belleville, Ont., Sept. 17.—A mysterious shooting affair occurred half a mile west of Shannonville, nine miles east of this city, which looks at present like deliberate murder.

The victim of the shooting was James Sero, a Mohawk Indian of the Tyendinaga reserve. He had been feeding horses at his own barn and was returning to his house when he was shot in the right groin by a bullet fired from a rifle.

The injured man managed to reach his house, but before the doctor arrived, he had bled to death. He was fifty years of age and leaves a wife but no family.

Sero and his brother were in this city yesterday, it is alleged, and got full of fire water.

Who did the shooting is a complete mystery, but today the police and the county constabulary are working on the case and interesting developments are looked forward to.

The police have no doubt that it is a case of murder.

Counsel Had to Pay the Costs

Claiming that Mr. A. F. Wood, of Madoc, is not a properly appointed magistrate for part of Hastings County, Mr. J. B. Mackenzie applied to Chancellor Boyd yesterday for an order striking out the distance filed by Mr. Wood in the action brought against him for damages by one Walter Lowery. The man was convicted of theft by Magistrate Wood and sentenced, but the conviction was quashed later on the ground of irregularities. Lowery now asks compensation.

Mr. Wood, in his statement of defence, says that he is police magistrate, and that what he did he did in that capacity, and therefore he is not liable.

After hearing Mr. Mackenzie the chancellor refused the application, holding that the defence was perfectly good and that the proper place to prove it was at the trial. If the defendant proved his claim he would succeed.

Mr. Wilkie, for defendant, asked for costs of the motion, which was granted by the chancellor, notwithstanding a protest by Mr. Mackenzie.

The costs were taxed on the rising of the court, by Mr. Lee, the junior registrar, and Mr. Mackenzie was called upon to pay $45, failing which the case would be dismissed.—Toronto News.

Why Stay Rheumatic?

Nothing Short of Folly When Cure Is Guaranteed with Ferrozone.

Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run-down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease.

Ferrozone cures because it builds up, because it renews the blood and dissolves the Uric Acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism.

It is proved right here that Ferrozone does cure.

Col. H. M. Ross, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozone. Read his statement;

"I couldn't get around without a cane, and then only with difficulty.

"Rheumatism took complete control of my limbs.

"The suffering was more intense than hardships on the battlefield.

"When my doctor had done his best I got Ferrozone.

"Then came a quick change.

"Ferrozone gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness out of my muscles.

"I am well today. Ferrozone cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago."

Be sensible about your case. If your present medicine is useless give it up.

Don't experiment again. Ferrozone is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply today. The sooner you begin Ferrozone the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

EARL GREY WILL SHOOT DUCKS.

Priest was Shot After Placing His Nephews in School in Canada

New York, Sept. 17. —During a brief period of consciousness yesterday afternoon the Rev. Arturo Acassio, a Spanish priest, thirty-five years old, who was mysteriously shot while in Central Park on Monday night, told Lieutenant Jimico, of the Detective Bureau, that he did not shoot himself. The priest is a patient in the Presbyterian Hospital. When questioned further about the shooting the man would not answer.

The Rev. Mr. Acassio came to New York three weeks ago from his home in Santiago de los Caballeros in San Domingo, and, after taking two nephews to a private school in Canada, returned to this city. He has been at the Hotel Inglaterra, No. 219 West Fourteenth street. Immediately after he arrived at the hotel he reported that his trunk had been robbed of $185 which friends had given him to buy bicycles and watches for them.

The priest is said to have told a friend that he was to meet a woman at Eighth avenue and 110th street at eight o'clock, about the time he was found wounded.

Letter to the Editor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

September 17, 1908.

Dear Sir,—The article in this morning's issue, regarding a meeting held by the clergymen of the city in connection with the sale of Riverdale church, is misleading. The meeting was not called for the purpose to obtain permission to sell the said church. The church had already been sold at the magnificent price of $50, by four Methodist trustees, approved of by a Methodist lawyer. The meeting was the result of a protest and made by the other churches to such high handed action. The deed clearly sets forth the fact that the said church is the property of the Protestant church in the city; therefore no one had a right to sell it except with the consent of all. The public can easily judge what the meaning of the sale is. A building, well furnished and in good repairs, worth easily $6000, sold by the Methodists to the Methodists for $50, without asking leave to do so.

But it was frustrated all the same, and for that end the meeting was held.

Yours truly,

FAIR PLAY.

Obituary

STEPHEN HOLLAND.

The death occurred Thursday morning of 128 Carlisle avenue, after a lingering illness.

The death occurred Thursday morning of Stephen Holland, at his late residence, 128 Carlisle avenue, after a lingering illness. The deceased was 47 years of age and was born in Downeyville, but for many years had resided in this city. He was married to Kate Barrett of Emily, who still survives him. For a number of years he conducted the American Hotel, but about a year and a half ago he disposed of it and later bought the Royal Hotel, which he owned until last week, when he sold it. He was widely known and highly respected. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Besides his wife, two sons and one daughter are left to mourn his loss. The sons are Charles and Leo, and the daughter, Pearl, all residing at home. Two brothers, Messrs. Fred, and Chas. Holland of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick Hickey, of town and Mrs. Walsh of North Dakota.

ALL SUFFER ALIKE

Prof. Goldwin Smith, in the Farmer's Sun, says:—"It is with the greatest reluctance that the Bystander says a word against any effort of labor to get what it sincerely believes to be justice. Labor is far more in the right in any reasonable strike than is capital in trying to force on us protection. But Labor is specially bound to resort to fair arbitration and take reasonable terms in the case of a public railway, the stoppage of which affects not the purse of a capitalist only, but the general current of life, the trades which depend on supplies, the distribution of food, the husband or wife hurrying to a death-bed. Unwilling as one must be to say it, there are now social revolutionists at work who seek, not peace with justice, but war with confiscation. Let it be always borne in mind, too, that the strikers themselves are purchasers and employers, and that the collective loss by a strike comes round in a measure to them all."

HOW TO MAKE LANGUAGE RICH AND PRECISE

Continuing his admirable and refreshingly sane linguistic studies in Harper's, Professor Lounsbury of Yale deals with the adjective and the impossibility of adequate expression of our feelings, moods, shades of opinion by the "three degrees of comparison" to which a cruel grammar limits us. To tell you that the weather is fine, or very fine, or perfectly fine, is to leave you in the dark as to the precise state of mind of the speaker. Again, to say that a girl is charming is to express one's self in the vaguest possible way. There are legions of charming and beautiful girls, yet no two alike, and what language ought to yield us is an exact idea of the degree of charm attributed to a particular girl.

How can language be made more exact and richer? Scientists invent special terms and an impossible jargon to arrive at needed precision, but what of literary and other styles of every-day conversation?

Professor Lounsbury recalls an idea which was advanced by Captain Derby, the humorist, more widely known as "John Phoenix," many years ago. The idea was to mark all descriptions and adjectives, all adverbs, and epithets, on a numerical scale of comparison. Let the lowest amount of any quality be indicated by 1, the highest by 100. Let each lover of precision and clearness prefix to each epithet a figure conveying the degree of the scale he has in mind. He will not say simply, "This is a fine day," but "This is a 56 fine morning." You knowing the scale, instantly grasp his real meaning. Here is a fuller illustration of the possibilities of the humorist's idea, taken from an imaginary narrative:

"On a 76 fine morning I was 56 slowly walking down the 32 clean avenue when I chanced to meet the 22 young and 85 charming Miss Smith. We at once exchanged the 91 usual meteorological observations. 'It is a 76 beautiful day,' I remarked. 'Indeed, it is a 95 beautiful day,' she replied, 'and I am 97 glad to have met you, for it is a 99 long time since I have seen you.' I felt 77 flattered by words like these, coming from a 76 lovely girl, but proceeded to make the 71 usual inquiries about her health, for I knew that on that point you had been 89 anxious. She told me it had been 78 poor, but she was 100 glad to say it was now 87 good."

The humor and satire in the idea are manifest, but Professor Lounsbury thinks that it contains much wisdom withal. Such a scale, he says, would let us into the exact thoughts of our friends and would indicate individual, racial and even sex characteristics. Feminine addiction to superlatives would come out delightfully, as would the studied moderation of purists and savants. Professor Lounsbury announces no crusade in favor of the great reform, but uses the scale idea to combat certain errors of pedantic grammarians. To these we will not now refer, but the humorist's suggestion is worthy of revived notice.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

year for every family of five persons. Where does the money come from? In the first analysis 90 per cent. of it comes from real estate. But real estate produces incomes and taxes by means of rents which tenants must pay. The tenant, if a storekeeper, makes his customers pay his taxes; if a manufacturer and employer, he makes his business pay the additional bill. In the last analysis the tax is assessed upon the entire community, and the man with the least opportunity to collect his tax from some other person—that is, the working man—ultimately pays the major share of the bill.

The rush for land in the western centres has begun to diminish and, although the officials of the Dominion lands office are still very busy, the crowd of people waiting is growing smaller. Under the new Dominion lands act 2,584 entries for quarter sections of 160 acres each were granted in three days. The largest number of applicants at any western town was Moose Jaw, where 619 sections of land were granted to settlers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has repudiated the statement made by some papers as to their being a disagreement between the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright and that several ministers were about to be retired. Sir Wilfrid states that there is no truth in the rumor, that there are no immediate cabinet changes pending and that the government will go to the country with the present personnel of the ministry.

It is expected that all arrangements for the issue of the government old age annuities will be completed by the end of this month. S. T. Bastedo, who has been given charge of the annuity service, is now installed in the department of trade and commerce and is making arrangements for the campaign which is to be inaugurated throughout the Dominion in order to lay before the public the advantages of this form of provision against old age. The annuity scheme is expected to appeal more particularly to the working classes.

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission, says the London Advertiser. According to the estimates of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress Canada, by the year 1912, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 250,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:—

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported into the United Kingdom from British possessions and foreign countries respectively.

	British Possessions. 1892-6	1902-6
	P. C.	P. C.
Wheat	15	23
Meat	21	24
Butter	19	21
Cheese	54	75

It will thus be seen how in the matter of food products, the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy ministers estimate may be rather high it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States, must before many years pass, cease to be a wheat-exporting country, and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1896 the reports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £23,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £21,000,000, but in the five years ended 1906 they had grown to over £36,000,000, and last year reached close on £50,000,000.

Canadian Woman Disappears

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 15. — Word received from Seattle tells of the alleged murder by Lee H. Johnston of his wife, Bell Gilchrist, a former resident of Maxwell, Glengarry County.

The couple were married three years ago, and left for Nome, Alaska, where Johnston was a large mine owner. Not long after reaching there, Johnston claims his wife committed suicide, saying she was no companion for him. She left all her property to him. Her disappearance was explained at the time by her husband who said she had gone to Seattle to reside.

Relatives became suspicious and Jos. Warren, of the Department of Justice, and George B. Gringsby, district attorney for Nome, looked into the matter. Their search resulted in Johnston being arrested and charged with the murder of his wife. Johnston claims she left a note asking him to keep quiet the matter of her self-destruction and requesting him to dispose of her body secretly. Johnston, the police claim, has confessed to dismembering the body of his wife and then cremating it.

When asked what had become of the note, Johnston said he had lost it, but restored it from memory for Deputy Warren as follows:

"Nome, Alaska, Oct.—, 1905.

"Darling Lee,—I realize I am no companion for you and never can be. Nothing but death will relieve my sufferings. I want you to have all my real and personal property, and no one else. The power of attorney will be all you need. Dispose of my remains secretly, and let no one know I have sought self-destruction. Forgive me and God will bless you.

"Bell."

The deceased has two brothers, Duncan and William Gilchrist, who live at St. Elmo, Glengarry.

ARTIST OR ARTISAN.

Do You Practise an Art or Follow a Trade?

What are you—you who bake the bread and brew the tea—artist or artisan? You may roast a joint for two or twenty, you may toss an omelet on occasion or pursue that occupation as a profession, and still be either an artist or artisan.

Some one has said in writing of Miss Pouland, whose little inn was for years one of the attractions of Mount St. Michael:

"To see her preparing an omelet or a stew or keeping an eye on the chicken revolving over the fire was to see a woman practicing an art rather than following a trade."

That distinction between an art and a trade is an interesting one, by the way, and one which may be applied to the realm of cooking as well as to that of any other field of endeavor.

In common parlance house painting is termed a trade, while painting miniatures on ivory would surely be referred to as an art. Still, with no inaccuracy in definition the terms might be reversed.

Of course the difference in the two terms, stating it broadly, is one of conscious effort. The artist adds the imprint of his own personality to his work; the artisan merely performs manual labor. An art perhaps is only a trade with the creative element added.

And so it was said of this Miss Pouland:

"In handling her utensils she had the grand air which distinguishes the artist from the artisan, the cook whose heart is in her work from the cook bent on earning a living."

Is it too high a standard to set for the mere business of cooking to demand that it be done with individuality? A criticism which was once made of the table of a club is that it "had no love in it." To quote again: "The actual needs (of the club) were generally met, but there was no margin, no suggestion of human interest. You were treated as a boarder to be fed and not as a human being with taste as well as appetite."

How different this from the attitude of a woman whose apple pies invariably caused some favorable comment and who was once asked how she made them!

"Oh, I don't know," she said. "Just the usual way, I guess, only I always think of the nice folks I am making them for and put in a pinch of love."

The woman was a practical, hard-working housekeeper with a big family of boarders, not a sentimental newlywed, but she meant pretty literally what she said. Most women in her circumstances would have put in only a pinch of grim necessity.

The pinch of love, or, if you please, the spontaneous interest, that went into that work was the thing that made those pies the work of an artist rather than an artisan.

And when you hear a woman talk about the drudgery of "messing around the kitchen" and the awful bore it is to get meals you may make up your mind that, however gifted she may be in other lines, in her home at least she is an artisan and not an artist.

Notices Which Make You Smile.

There is quite a rich crop of humor, usually unconscious, to be reaped by the observant in the notices displayed in shop windows, of which the following announcement by a south end bird fancier is not at all a bad example: "Doves for sale, cheap. Eat nearly anything. Fond of children." Not long ago a Farrington road butcher had in his window this notice: "Wanted, a respectable boy for beef sausages." An east end publican announced, "Billiard tables upstairs, 1 shilling per 100." A well known High Wycombe tobacconist proclaims from his shop window, "This shop is open on Sundays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., in spite of Charles II." "Wanted, a warehouseman," ran another similar notice. "Applicants must be accustomed to rigorous discipline. Only the others of such candidates will be entertained who have served in the army or been married for a considerable length of time."—Westminster Gazette.

'Twould Be Easy Then.

McGinger—It's all well enough to tell us to forgive our enemies, but I tell you it's a hard thing to do.

Gingumbob—That's what it is. We shouldn't be expected to forgive our enemies except when they freely admit that they don't deserve our forgiveness.—Philadelphia Press.

The Plight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, interspersed by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers of the Lick observatory to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that a hundred years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat. If it were near by it would seem to become rapidly smaller.—Chicago Record Herald.

What He Did Know.

St. Thomas' Episcopal church, in Fifth avenue, has under its jurisdiction an east side chapel. One of the features of the chapel is a gymnasium, in which boys are trained in all of the branches of physical culture. Some of the boys are quicker in this sort of training than they are in the more polite talk of the west side boys.

The rector of St. Thomas', the Rev. Dr. Stires, visits the chapel frequently and is fond of talking with the lads about their work. He said to one little fellow who hails from near the East river:

"Well, my son, they tell me you won quite a victory in your last contest with the boys of a rival school."

"I don't know 'bout that, but w'en we went up ag'in dat bunch from St. Pat's we put it all over 'em, and dey ain't never peeped since."—New York Sun.

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters romping in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," elucidated the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overstudious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best pieces we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

A Cure For Despondency.

A large, fleshy man with whiskers told me of a sovereign cure for despondency the other day. He had a number of girls in his employ, among them one that he knew was in struggling circumstances and supporting a sick mother on a none too healthy salary. She had come into the store and laid her purse and somber widow hat on the counter while she did something about the place. The large fleshy man got between her and the purse, and when she was not looking he slipped a five dollar bill into it and moved unconsciously about in business. In the afternoon he noticed that she had a red spot in each cheek, and she was heard asking other girls if they believed in fairies. She never solved the mystery—it was two years ago—and never will unless she reads this. But the five dollar bill was very useful in its little way, and the large despondent man felt so good for two whole days that he hip-hopped on the sidewalk on his way home.—Minneapolis Journal.

Living on Next to Nothing.

Most people do not need the evidence of recently published statistics to prove to them that it costs more to live in London than it once did. But it is doubtful if any Londoner now living was ever able to do it on £30 a year, as Boswell's poor Irish painter did. "He allowed £10 for clothes and linen. He said a man might live in a garret at 18 pence a week. Few people would inquire where he lived, and if they did it was easy to say, 'Sir, I am to be found at such a place.' By spending threepence at a coffee house he might be for some hours a day in very good company. He might dine for sixpence, breakfast on bread and milk for a penny and do without supper." Of course exceptions can always be reduced to a minimum by doing without things. The question is, Which of our various expenses is unessential? Boswell's Irishman hinted at one. "On clean shirt days he went abroad and paid visits," says his ingenious chronicler.—London Chronicle.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony gristle back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and purge of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore march dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seek to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when mixed to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the curse of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We will, and in confidence recommend

"ALL DEALERS"

First Dining Car.

"Just forty years ago," said T. C. Newton, a Chicago railroad man, "the Chicago and Alton railroad put on the first dining car ever operated on any railway train in the world. This was on the run between Chicago and St. Louis. If that car could be exhibited now it would create universal merriment. It had oilcloth table covers, the seats were screwed to the floor, and its illumination depended on candles.

"Think of the contrast between that primitive affair of 1868 and the modern dining car, finished in solid mahogany, with gorgeous furniture and a menu as elaborate and cooking as dainty as those supplied by any of the foremost hotels of America. Verily we have been 'going some' in the four decades that have gone by since the Alton's first crude experiment."—Baltimore American.

Camera Eye and Index Brain.

What would you say of a gentleman who having looked once into the face of each of those soldiers that made up the grand army which Napoleon took to Russia and being told the soldier's name would know him, name and face, two years, ten years, twenty years later? Think of a gentleman who could thus have called the muster roll of an army of 100,000 men. Such, however, would seem to be the full power of eye and memory which belongs to Detective William P. Sheridan of Mulberry street, New York, the "man with the camera eyes," and a low estimate declares that he has filed away in his brain, each tagged with the proper name, the pictures of no fewer than 100,000 men.—Broadway Magazine.

Wrecking Windmills a New Industry.

The passing of the windmill in England, antiquated by such recent power producers as the gas engine and electric motor, has given life to a new industry—windmill wrecking. The old windmill builders understood their business and meant their handiwork to last, and so the demolishing of such structures is no simple task. Many of the old mills stood 100 feet high and had eight or nine floors fitted with four runs of stones and contained tons upon tons of brick. Often these huge mills stand close to other buildings, and accidents would be inevitable if the wreckers did not have experience in their trade.—Popular Mechanics.

A Rather Novel Complaint.

An English traveler once met a companion sitting in a state of the most woeful despair and apparently near the last agonies by the side of one of the mountain lakes of Switzerland. He inquired the cause of his sufferings. "Oh," said the latter, "I was very hot and thirsty and took a large draft of the clear water of the lake and then sat down on this stone to consult my guidebook. To my astonishment, I found that the water of this lake is very poisonous! Oh, I am a gone man; I feel it running all over me. I have only a few minutes to live! Remember me to"—

"Let me see the guidebook," said his friend. Turning to the passage, he found, "L'eau du lac est bien poisonneuse" (The water of this lake abounds in fish).

"Is that the meaning of it?"

"Certainly."

The dying man looked up with a radiant countenance. "What would have become of you," said his friend, "if I had not met you?"

"I should have died of imperfect knowledge of the French language."

A Great Man's Simple Speech.

I was lately told a delightful story of a great statesman staying with a humble and anxious host who had invited a party of simple and unimportant people to meet the great man. The statesman came in late for dinner and was introduced to the party. He made a series of old fashioned bows in all directions, but no one felt in a position to offer any observations. The great man at the conclusion of the ceremony turned to his host and said in tones that had often thrilled a listening senate: "What very convenient jugs you have in your bedrooms. They pour well." The social frost broke up, the company was delighted to find that the great man was interested in mundane matters of a kind on which every one might be permitted to have an opinion, and the conversation, starting from the humblest conveniences of daily life, melted insensibly into more liberal subjects.—Arthur C. Benson in Putnam's and the Reader.

An American Admirer.

In a small way an American figures in the journal kept by Rosalie Lamerliere during the revolutionary days of 1793 in France and published under the title, "The Last Days of Marie Antoinette."

Rosalie Lamerliere, a girl of Picardy, was servant to the queen in the conciergerie. "One day," Rosalie has recorded, "M. de Saint Leger, the American, who was coming from the register's office, noticed that I was carrying a glass half filled with water.

"'Did the queen drink the water that has gone from the glass?' he asked.

"I answered that she did.

"With a quick gesture he uncovered his head and drank the water that remained with every indication of respect and sincerity."

THE INNOCENT FOX.

Blamed For Offenses Committed by His Wicked Cousins.

We are often told of the fox as a destroyer of grouse, but I should like to hear the story of some eyewitnesses as to his work in this direction. It is very easy to find fox tracks about the remains of a bird and then say a fox did it. I believe that many of the offenses laid at his door are committed by weasels, mink and wildcats, of tyke.

During a part of the year I have known foxes to spend a part of each day digging among potato hills in a retired hollow for white grubs or mice to the adjoining fields and to return to the mountain at nightfall, passing a farm which was almost covered with young poultry out for grasshoppers. From an experience of about ten years in a locality where foxes abound I am convinced that this animal destroys but few, if any, chickens. Our troubles there was, first of all, hawks, then skunks, owls and raccoons. The fox never invaded the chicken coops or broke up the sitting turkeys out at the base of the mountain. Of course in winter a fox may sometimes trap a grouse in the snow at night, but who has ever seen a fox actually catch a grouse? Come, now, brothers of the forest, be honest and own up. I would be glad to learn how the fox does the trick, if any one has seen it done.—Forest and Stream.

Practical Scaling.

"Look here, Lucy," exclaimed Mr. Hardapple; "this is no time to be practicing on the piano. It's time to prepare dinner."

"But, pa, I am interested in scales," pouted Lucy as she pounded the keys.

"Interested in scales, eh? Well, I've a task for you. Go down in the kitchen and help your ma scale fish."—Detroit Tribune.

Their Achievements.

"He had three daughters. One married a French chauffeur"—

"I see! Quite romantic."

"The second married an Indian, a descendant of a chieftain"—

"I see! Quite aboriginal."

"But the third married a plain American business man."

"H'm! Merely eccentric, I should say."—Puck.

Accounted For.

Mrs. J.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had the habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon the table her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yassum," replied Mary; "I opened it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Long Story.

Ascum—Say, old man, what did your wife say to you when you got in last night?

Wrounds—Oh, are you just starting on your two weeks' vacation?

Ascum—No. Why?

Wrounds—Then you won't have time to listen. I can't talk as fast as she did.—Houston Post.

Why She Asked.

"Have you ever kissed a girl before?" she asked.

"Why do you put that question to me?" he replied.

"I only wished to know whether it was lack of experience or natural awkwardness that made you go about it in such a ridiculous way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pretty Quarrel.

"Yes," said the suburban citizen, "it is a very pretty quarrel as it stands."

"No hard words, I hope."

"None whatever. My folks are trying to play the piano late enough every night to make the lawn mower artists next door oversleep themselves next morning."—Washington Star.

SAILORS' UNIFORMS.

Copied From England and Not Representative of America.

All are familiar with the American man-of-war sailor's suit, but has any one ever stopped to consider how he comes by it and what the origin of it is? With the exception of the fit itself and the stars in the corner of the collar the whole suit is copied from the English. One would have thought that by this time the American nation would have fallen upon some original costume for its navy in some way more representative of America.

In the early days of the British navy it was still the custom to tie the hair in a cue after well greasing it, but much annoyance was felt by the men in consequence of the oil getting on the rough serge of their jumpers or blouses. This caused the blue collar of the same material as the jumper to be added, but without much success, as the collar looked quite as untidy, so at length the idea of putting the blue drill one over the serge was adopted, the drill collar being a separate appendage and therefore easily washed and kept clean. The lanyard was worn to represent the ropes and rigging of the ship, and the jackknife indicated that (to be paradoxical) the bluejacket's object in life was death—to his enemy.

In those days the neck was exposed, but as time went on and more thought was given to the welfare of the men this was found to be injurious to the health; hence the substitute of the white neck flannel, white being used to give the effect of the uncovered neck.

The two rows of white braid at the top of the cuff represent England and Ireland, the one row at the bottom showing that Scotland had not become annexed. The rows of braid on the collar represent wholly and solely the victories of Nelson.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

THE LAND OF GRAVES.

Ancient Egyptians Believed in Constant Reminders of Death.

To the Egyptian death was but the beginning of a career of adventures and experiences compared with which the most vivid emotions of this life were tame. He lived with the fear of death before his eyes. Everything around him reminded him of that dreadful initiation into the mysteries of the tremendous after life for which his present existence was but a preparation. His cemeteries were not hidden away in remote suburbs; his dead were not covered with mere grassy mounds or a slab of stone. The whole land was his graveyard; its whole art was of the mortuary. "Are there no graves in Egypt that thou hast brought us into the wilderness to die?" asked the Israelites in derision, and we may believe that Moses winced at the sarcasm.

Egypt is the land of graves, and the whole energy of the people that could be spared from keeping life together was devoted to death. The mightiest tombs in the world—the pyramids—were raised upon the deaths of multitudes of toiling slaves. The hills were honeycombed passages and galleries, chambers, pits, all painfully excavated in honor of the illustrious dead and sculptured and painted with elaborate skill to make them fit habitations for his ghost.

Wherever he looked the Egyptian beheld preparations for the great turning point of existence. The mason was squaring blocks for the tomb chamber; the potter molded images of the gods or bowls and jars to be placed in the grave for the protection or refreshment of the Ka, exhausted with the ordeals of the underworld; the sculptor and painter were at work upon the walls of the funeral chamber, illustrating the scenes through which the ghost was to pass or depicting the industrious life of the departed.

The very temples which cluster along the levels beside the Nile were in a sense but vestibules to the tombs in the hills behind. The sacred lake, now the weedy, picturesque haunt of waterfowl, was then the scene of solemn ferryings of the dead. The temple walls were covered with the terrors of the judgment to come. The houses of the living, indeed, were built of perishing mud, but the homes of the dead and the shrines where supplication was made to the gods who ruled their fate were made to last forever. On these all the strength, the science and the artistic skill of the ancient Egyptians were cheerfully lavished.—London Standard.

A Trying Moment.

Professor Leopold Schroettter was called to see the Crown Prince Frederick in 1887 before Sir Morrell Mackenzie had reached San Remo. The prince, evidently suspecting the worst, turned to Schroettter after the examination and said, "I request the truth as to my ailment." Schroettter hesitated and made an effort to direct the conversation in another direction, but Frederick insisted. "I am a soldier," he said, "and can look death in the eye. I ask you now plainly, is the point, is my complaint cancer?" Schroettter could hardly contain himself, and years after the scene when he recalled it he spoke of it as the most painful in his life. He conducted the crown prince to a chair and asked him to be seated. Then he said, "Your imperial highness, you are suffering from a serious complaint, and it is possible that it may develop into carcinoma, but that cannot be determined positively at this moment." Frederick became deathly pale, but never for a moment lost his self control and smiled grimly when he thanked the physician for his honesty.

Coming to an Understanding.

In the amiable way of villagers they were discussing the matrimonial affairs of a couple who, though recently wed, had begun to find the yoke of Hymen a burden.

"'Tis all along of these beauty marriages," opined one caustic old gentleman, who had been much to the fore in the discussion. "They did not understand each other. They'd seldom knowed each other for a matter of seven years."

"Well, that seems long enough," said an interested lady listener.

"Long enough! Bah! You're wrong! When a body's courtin' he comes to be careful. Why, my courtship lasted a matter of nineteen years!"

"You certainly were careful," agreed the lady listener. "And did you find your plan successful when you married?"

Corrected.

When they had finished she observed that he did not fold his napkin. Distressed, she said:

"We always fold our napkins here."

"Yes, my dear," said the bishop. "But that is because you use them again. In the case of a visitor you don't do that."

"Oh, yes, we do," said the little girl.—New York Life.

Plenty Plant Covers.

When Sir Humphry Davy was a boy about sixteen, a little girl came to him in great excitement:

"Humphry, do tell me why these two pieces of cane make a tiny spark of light when I rub them together?"

Humphry was a studious boy, who spent hours in thinking out scientific problems. He patted the child's curly head and said:

"I do not know, dear. Let us see if they really do make a light, and then we will try to find out why."

Humphry soon found that the little girl was right. The pieces of cane if rubbed together quickly did give a tiny light. Then he set to work to find out the reason, and after some time, thanks to the observing powers of his little friend and his own kindness to her in not impatiently telling her not to "worry," as so many might have done, Humphry Davy made the first of his interesting discoveries. Every reed, cane and grass has an outer skin of flinty stuff, which protects the inside from insects and also helps the frail looking leaves to stand upright.

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $6 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $6 a thousand shares. This subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without letup, and we have made it an ironclad rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out. Send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at 1/2 of a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 1 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 6 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonapah, Bullfrog, or Searchlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,461.87 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $1,600 a ton.

In both camps we located early, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

MARTIN—HERALD.

St. John's church yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Lucy Herald, eldest daughter of Mrs. Chas. Sorby, of Gore's Landing, Ont., and Mr. Frank H. Martin, of the Electrical Development Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., formerly of Pearl River, N.Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, rector of All Saints' church, city. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Donald Herald, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and wore a gown of embroidered voile over taffeta caught with pearls, wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carrying a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Herald, and her cousin, Miss Nina Borradaile, both wearing delicate pink silk mulle gowns with black picture hats and carrying bouquets of pink asters. The duties of best man were performed by Mr. Geo. Martin, Pearl River, N.Y., brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. J. Martin, Pearl River, and Mr. R. House, of the Electrical Development Co., Niagara Falls.

While the register was being signed Miss Hazel B. H. Toronto, sang very sweetly, "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet, Oh Holy."

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch, to the bridesmaids rings, to the ushers and best man matrix stick pins. The young couple received many handsome gifts, among which were a cabinet of silver and carving set from the Electrical Development and Niagara Power Co., and an electrical brass clock from the Ontario Power Co.

The young couple left on the 4.38 train for Montreal and Quebec, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue broadcloth and hat to match.

After the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Martin will take up residence at Niagara Falls, Ont.

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a make story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put these reptiles in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Emporia Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier State author found his three youngsters ranging in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," chuckled the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the shingle.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overambitious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best places we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

SUNSET AT GUAYAQUIL.

There Is No Twilight, No Interval Between Daylight and Dark.

The days and nights at Guayaquil are of equal length. The sun knocks off promptly at 6 o'clock in the evening and gets up at 6 in the morning with equal regularity the whole year around. There is no twilight, no gloaming, no interval whatever between daylight and dark—only a brilliant illumination, the sudden disappearance of a red ball into a blue ocean, a spread of flame color over all the western sky for a few minutes and a purple haze in the east.

Then the surface of the ocean, like the heavens, is lighted with millions of strange and shifting stars, for the water is so impregnated with phosphorus that each tiny wave is tipped with light, and the foam that follows in the wake of the vessel is often like a stream of fire. Sometimes you can see porpoises swimming along the bow of the vessel livid with phosphorescent light and followed by a streak of sparks like a comet's tail.

The Southern Cross, with the right arm tipped out at proper angle, lies straight ahead in the midst of myriads of unknown worlds that look strange to those accustomed to the northern constellations. Under the left arm is a large black spot in the heavens, brightened by only a single modest star, which the sailors call "the devil's dinner bag." Over the stern of the vessel in the early evening you can plainly distinguish the familiar constellation of the Great Bear, but it goes to bed with the children.

Automatic Salt Works.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is prevented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in an almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little farther the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has solidified and is ready for the market. Wells driven into the sand disclose strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

Hercules' Labors.

The twelve labors of Hercules were To slay the Nemean lion; to kill the Lernean hydra; to catch and hold the Arcadian stag; to destroy the Erymanthian boar; to cleanse the stables of King Augeas; to destroy the cannibal birds of Lake Stymphalus; to capture the Cretan bull; to catch the horses of Diomedes; to get possession of the girdle of Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons; to capture the oxen of the monster Geryon; to get possession of the apples of the Hesperides and to bring up from the infernal regions the three headed dog Cerberus.

It's a pity when sick, one's drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong. A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax. A stick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the door-knobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chints, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will insure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light is bad both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

Practical Scaling.

"Look here, Lucy," exclaimed Mr. Hardapple; "this is no time to be practicing on the piano. It's time to prepare dinner."

"But, pa, I am interested in scales," pouted Lucy as she pounded the keys.

"Interested in scales, eh? Well, I've a task for you. Go down in the kitchen and help your ma scale fish."—Detroit Tribune.

Their Achievements.

"He had three daughters. One married a French chauffeur"—

"I see! Quite romantic."

"The second married an Indian, a descendant of a chieftain"—

"I see! Quite aboriginal."

"But the third married a plain American business man."

"H'm! Merely eccentric, I should say."—Puck.

Accounted For.

Mrs. J.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had the habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon the table her mouth was open, as usual, and her mistress said:

"Mary, your mouth is open."

"Yassum," replied Mary; "I opened it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Long Story.

Acrum—Say, old man, what did your wife say to you when you got in last night?

Wrounds—Oh, are you just starting on your two weeks' vacation?

Acrum—No. Why?

Wrounds—Then you won't have time to listen. I can't talk as fast as she did.—Houston Post.

A Mark of Respect.

Andrew Carnegie was entertaining a Montenegrin prince at Skibo castle. The morning after the prince's arrival a party of guests set out in a huge motor car for a long run, and as they whizzed past an inn a great crowd of highlanders rose from the benches before the inn and saluted.

The prince seemed amused at the highland dress.

"Why," he asked, "do these men go bare legged?"

"It is a local custom," said Mr. Carnegie, "a mark of respect for you, sir. In some places people take off their hats to show honor to distinguished visitors; here they take off their trousers."

A Man Hunt.

An English paper says that the hat of a certain shortsighted master at Eton blew off one day and as he started in pursuit a black hen dashed out of the gateway. The schoolmaster saw the hen and thought it was his hat, and all Eton was electrified by the spectacle of a hatless and breathless reverend man hunting a black hen circling from one end of the street to the other.

SCARED THE ROBBER.

How a Determined Man Prevented a Holdup.

"The fact that a determined stand is all that is needed," continued the western man, "was illustrated a good many years ago by a peculiar little incident which took place on the old stage line running out of Tombstone, A. T. Holdups used to be frequent on that route; but, strange to say, nobody took any precautions against such a contingency. One day the stage was carrying an unusual number of passengers, and while it was going over an extremely desolated section of the road a masked man stepped from behind a rock, leveled a shotgun at the driver and ordered him to pull up.

"He obeyed at once, and the robber began the usual programme by telling everybody to get out and range himself in line with his hands above his head. There were several nervy men on top, but none of them cared to court death by taking the initiative, and it was impossible, moreover, to say how many additional ruffians might be lurking behind the rocks. At any rate, all hands were clambering down when suddenly the door of the stage was flung violently open and out leaped a big, fierce looking man with a cocked revolver in each fist.

"At the sight of him the robber took an involuntary backward step and fell sprawling over a round stone. Both barrels of his gun went off in the air, and in the confusion he picked himself up and ran like a deer for cover. He had a horse on the other side of the rocks, and in less time than it takes to tell it he was in the saddle and 'burning the wind' across the prairie. He got away, and now comes the funny part of the story.

"While the robber was beating his retreat the big man snapped both pistols ineffectually at least half a dozen times and then discovered in blank amazement that neither one of them was loaded. He was glaring dumfounded into the empty cylinders when his wife stuck her head out of the coach and burst into vociferous weeping.

"'Oh, John,' she sobbed, 'I took the cartridges out of them guns this morning and forgot to tell you about it!' As she spoke she held out a handful of brass shells.

"'What the mischief did you do that for?' he roared.

"'I was steered that they might go off in the coach and shoot the baby—sochoo-hoo!' she replied."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

No Hitch.

"How did the wedding come off today?"

"Without a hitch."

"Glad to hear it."

"I said without a hitch. The bride backed out at the last minute."

Not Written.

"How do you write 'horn?'" asked the teacher of a small boy at the blackboard.

"A horn isn't written at all," answered the little fellow. "It's blowed."—Exchange.

SYNOPSIS OF THE CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent.

not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

An application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-agent's office may be wired to the local Agent by the Sub-agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled and the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim.

An applicant for inspection must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

Where an entry is summarily cancelled, or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be summarily cancelled.

Duties.—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $5.00 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral, may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The leases shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2 1-2 per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

That is what a small investment has done for me, and my great regret is that I did not get more of it.

But now our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quartz ledge 20 feet wide for a distance of 180 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $58.06 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ores for the mill.

PETERBOROUGH'S INDUSTRIAL FAIR WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

Eight Thousand People on the Grounds--Good Exhibits, Great Midway, and Good Attractions

The greatest crowd that ever gathered on the Peterborough Exhibition grounds, was that which attended the annual Fall show yesterday. It was roughly estimated that 8,000 people turned out. The weather was fair, although not bright, and the rain stayed off until the show was over for the afternoon, although the first gust of wind frightened the majority, and they went home. From noon o'clock until after three o'clock the people swarmed in the gates. The street cars were packed while hundreds drove and walked, until the space between the hall and the grand stand was one mass of sight seekers.

The show itself was good and the crowd got their money's worth. Starting at the poultry tent at the entrance, one was treated to a display of the feathered tribe rarely seen there. There is a marked improvement in the standard of the birds, and in another year or two this section should have some of the best fowls on the continent.

The live stock portion of the fair was not up to other years. The number of entries was smaller, and the season has been very hard on the animals. However a great many people walked around the pens and displayed much interest.

The horses as usual took the lead. Groups of fine specimens of horse flesh was shown in the halter and in harness. The halter animals were all judged in the small ring, and a big crowd watched the officials all afternoon. The harness horses, and a finer lot were never seen here, were shown on the track in front of the grand stand, in between the races.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.

The fair directors were certainly successful in securing a good performance in front of the grand stand. The acrobatic novelties of Les Aribas, the Kennedy Bros. & Black, were entertaining, and amusing in the extreme. The street with the trick house was laughable, and the feats of strength displayed by the performers was out of the ordinary.

The side shows, wheels of fortune, corn racks, doll racks, etc., all did a good business. The caprea bisnees were on both sides of the path to the grand stand and everybody had to pass up and down. A great many spent most of the afternoon taking in these attractions. The barkers and spell binders afforded a lot of amusement and on the side raked in a lot of dimes.

DIRECTORS PLEASED.

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition are greatly pleased with the large attendance at the grounds yesterday afternoon. They have worked hard for many months and they deserve all that is coming to them. President R. H. Leary is a proud man today. Near the close of yesterday's programme, he addressed the crowd and thanked them for their loyal support.

57TH BAND.

The 57th Regiment Band, under the leadership of Mr. Glidden, was on the grounds all afternoon and furnished a fine program. They rendered several selections down town first and upon reaching the grounds took up their position in the grand stand where they delighted the crowds with their music.

Night Performance was Good

Rain Kept the Crowd Away but the Program was Carried Out

In spite of the shower of rain and the uncertain condition of the weather a fair-sized crowd journed to the Exhibition Grounds last night to see the special attractions and to see the exhibition by are light. The rain early in the evening, while beneficial to the country, was not profitable to the fair directors However a good program was out on.

The 57th Regiment band was on hand with a choice program and the moving pictures were very good. The performers who do the stunt with the Eagle Inn, or the creek house, did not show up on account of the rain, and this marred the fun somewhat. The electric lighting was good and the exhibition was seen to advantage.

A Conservative Opinion

(The Toronto World).

Those Conservatives who are minimizing Mr. Stratton's candidature in West Peterborough or his influence in the Midland District, do not know their man. When J. R. Stratton was Provincial Secretary it was admitted by friends and foes alike that he was a model administrator. His career in business in Peterborough and Toronto gives ample evidence of his capacity. In the industrial and financial life of the province Mr. Stratton is playing no small role, and it is a game that requires ability. It is common talk that since the defeat of the Ross Government Mr. Stratton is the only ex-minister of that organization who has taken his place in private life, and wrought out a commanding position for himself, absolutely without aid or favor from those who carry political positions in their pockets. Ontario's new lieutenant-governor has fallen a victim to the spokesman habit. Premier Ross is in the senate, Mr. Latchford on the bench, and so you may go on, but Mr. Stratton has chosen to disregard the offer of a senatorship and now takes his place in the firing line to win West Peterborough. Mr. Stratton is a man of capacity, with an administrative reputation worthy of note, and altogether a candidate that measures up to the best that there is, in Liberalism in Ontario.

Joseph Levasseur, Junior, Not Guilty of Perjury Charge

Case Disposed of at the High Court Yesterday --Dr. Young Got Judgment for Full Amount Against Dominion Construction Co.

Joseph Levasseur, jr., who was charged with perjury, was found not guilty at the fall assize court yesterday. This was the last case upon the docket and was expected to furnish a little sensation, but the Crown was unable to show anything in the police magistrate's deposition upon which to base their charge, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams at once moved to have the charge quashed.

Mr. L. M. Hayes acted as Crown prosecutor, and hailed Mr. D. W. Dumble, the police magistrate, who sat at the preliminary hearing, as the first witness. The depositions of the magistrate was submitted, but there was nothing in it which would prove perjury on the part of the defendant.

The defendant's lawyer, Mr. R. F. McWilliams, requested that the case be dismissed and the court ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, whereupon Levasseur was given his freedom.

JUDGMENT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Judgment reserved from Thursday's session of the Autumn assizes of the High Court of Justice in the case of Young vs the Dominion Engineering and Construction Co., Ltd., was delivered yesterday morning by Mr. Justice Magee, the plaintiff, Dr. F. W. B. Young, being allowed the full extent of his claim,—$391 and costs.

No liability was connected with the C.G.E. Co.

The evidence was all in at an early hour yesterday morning after sitting all day Thursday.

His Lordship Justice Magee in opening yesterday's session considered the evidence which he had received. The case was peculiarly complex in many respects. The Dominion Engineering and Construction Co. contracted with the C.G.E. Co., to superintend the construction of the Transformer building. His lordship stated that they were more than mere foremen, they were the actual contractors. On the 9th of May, 1907, David J. Moore was injured in this work and Dr. Young was called to attend him. He was not fully recovered until March, 1908. In October, Dr. Young sent in his first claim to the Construction Co. for $277, because there had been some delay in collecting in two other cases that he had attended and given his attention. The company replied that they had no knowledge of his service to Moore and forwarded the account to the C.G.E. Co. This was the first intimation that the account would be disputed.

His lordship was satisfied that the officers in charge of the Construction Co. were aware of the fact that Dr. Young was attending Moore. It appears to have been decided that he would be called in when needed. He did not receive a notice in Moore's case that the company provided only for first aid cases. Mr. Beattie and Mr. Nesbitt had been at the hospital to visit the injured man and knew that the doctor was attending the man under the idea that he would be paid by them. They did not intimate otherwise. Moreover in letter sent in August, they gave the plaintiff no notice to cease attending Mr. Moore.

His lordship dealt fully with the relations between the Construction Co., and the C.G.E. Co. He stated that there was no liability on the part of the latter company to pay Moore and the Construction Co. could not call upon the C.G.E. Co. as there was nothing in the contract to that effect.

The decision as given above was then rendered and a stay of thirty days was allowed the defendants.

R. F. McWilliams appeared for the plaintiff, and F. D. Kerr for defendants.

SENSATIONAL RACE BY DRIVERLESS HORSE AT THE EXHIBITION

Driver Thrown from Bike and Horse Finished Second--Great Races at Peterborough Fair--Fast Time Made

A sensation was sprung on the gazing thousands when the first heat of the 2.50 class was started. Harry K., owned and driven by Dr. Cowan, broke on the second turn of the first half, and in some way the driver was thrown from his seat. The horse was going fast and was in the spirit of the race. He made no attempt to run away, but kept the pace in the bunch continuing to run until the three quarter post was reached when he settled down to a fast steady pace, and came up from fourth place to second and nearly won out. The waggish horse turned out and passed the other horses without any trace of an accident was marvelous, and when he came up the home stretch the vast crowd stood up and cheered. After the race was over he stopped with the rest of the horses and gave no trouble. No damage, whatever was done to the horse, harness or bike. Dr. Cowan, however, was injured. In falling he lit on his feet, and sprained both ankles. He crawled to the side of the track, however, out of harm's way. The doctor was as game as his horse, and when the next race was called he was on the bike and drove his horse to victory, winning the next three heats amid applause from the stand.

The horse races pulled off yesterday were as good as any race on any track. The horses were all in good shape and fast like racing and the drivers drove them to the limit. Every heat of the 2.50 class was a horse race. Harry K. of course had it his own way for first place, although he had to travel to keep it. Minnie G. and Lee Keswick fought it out for second place, and they put up a pretty contest, while Teddy, Keswick, who took the first heat, who 6, 4 and 4, and was awarded second money.

2.50 CLASS.

Harry K.	6	1	1	1
Teddy Keswick	1	6	4	4
Minnie G.	2	3	2	2
Lee Keswick	3	2	3	3
Lulu Chimes	4	4	5
Lady Black	5	5	6

Time—2.34 1-4, 2.34 1-4, 2.34 1-2, 2.35 1-2.

2.20 CLASS.

The 2.20 class was a hard race from start to finish. The horses were all bunched and some good driving was done. The summary is;

Walter G.	1	1	1
Hazel Bell	3	2	2
Holland Boy	2	3	3
Idolph	4	4	4

Time—2.21 3-4, 2.22 1-4, 2.22 1-2.

Today's program will be equally attractive. It includes a 2.28 class and a 2.17 class.

The officials are;—

Hunter Street Overhead Bridge is Being Discussed Again

From all appearances it looks very much as if the question of building an overhead bridge across the river at Hunter street, would be opened up again and that a greater effort will be put forth to carry it through than was the case last time. It is a well known fact that the overhead bridge must come sooner or later, and the question is when and what is the best and cheapest way to accomplish it. Ald. Bradburn expressed his views at the last meeting of the Board of Works. The Smith street bridge was under discussion at the time. To construct a new passage over the river at that point will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 and the present intention is to submit a bylaw to the people in the near future to secure permission to raise the necessary funds. To Ald. Bradburn $40,000 appeared to be a lot of money to put into a bridge, and especially on when the Hunter street overhead bridge was so important a question.

He suggested that a conference be arranged between the Quaker Oats Co., the Street Railway Company, the Dominion Government and the city with a view to ascertaining what, if anything, can be done towards bring about the desired end. How the Quaker Oats Co., is interested is in the matter of constructing a swing in the present bridge as close as the north end of the canal is finished, and then start bringing grain down by boat or barge. They are also interested to the extent that an overhead bridge will be a great convenience to them in handling their freight and to their mills generally. The street railway is opposed so far that it will give them a crossing to Ashburnham, and open up all that traffic to them.

What is proposed is to have these two companies and the Dominion Government make a substantial grant toward the construction of the bridge and that the city devote the $40,000 proposed for Smith St. to the Hunter street bridge. If the scheme can be carried out the old bridge at Hunter street, would then be moved up to Smith street, and lengthened, where it would be of service for a great many years.

Needless to say most of the other aldermen at the meeting were favorable to the suggestion and would like to see it carried out, but some were doubtful, and especially those who were in the council two or three years ago when the matter was introduced. At that time a public meeting was held, but nothing was accomplished other than putting the subject before the people for discussion and thought.

It is evident, however, that a more determined effort will be made this time and Mayor Rush and Ald. Bradburn were appointed a committee to interview Mr. Denham and see to interview Mr. Denham to see when Mr. Stewart will likely be in Peterborough again, and to go as far as possible in advancing the scheme.

Lindsay Startled by Discovery of Blue Clay Like Kimberly Clay

From the Lindsay Post.

Scientific men have long expressed the opinion that some day diamonds may be found in Canada. Quite recently a big authority ventured to locate a possible discovery somewhere north of Cobalt.

A few days ago rumors came filtering into Lindsay to the effect that a find of diamonds had taken place within a few miles of the river Gregog. As an enthusiastic mineralogist, and not without considerable in prospecting in New Zealand, an Edisewhere, I was asked by the enterprising editor of the Post to try and ascertain if there was any truth in the many rumors afloat.

After some enquiries I drove out yesterday into the country, some eight or ten miles. For obvious reasons I do not at present mention names or exact locality. Those shall be divulged in due time.

About the centre of a small farm of some 160 acres or more rises an abrupt hill, two hundred feet above the level of the surrounding roads. This hill covers a surface of about twenty acres. Thirty years ago a well was sunk thirty feet deep, in the centre of the hill. The shaft was through coarse gravel and a peculiar friable, stiff clay, but at thirty feet the sinker came upon a hard clayey cement of a distinct blue shade of color. This stuff proved too hard to work with ordinary tools, so the deepening of the well was abandoned.

During the progress of sinking the digger found some peculiar looking pebbles. They were kept as curiosities. Not long ago one of these pebbles was taken to Toronto and experts pronounced it to be a true diamond.

A wealthy syndicate heard of the news and at once sought the owner of the farm. They at once, made him a fair offer for the land with a considerable portion of any profits that might be made. The old well was examined and a portion of the clayey cement taken to Toronto to be examined by experts. Upon their favorable de-

Country Sea of Flames North Bay to Englehard, Threatens Settled Parts

Toronto, Sept. 18.—Mr. J. H. Wilson, one of the foremen of the Reynold Construction Co., which is building for the G.T.P. north of Lake Abitibi, arrived in Toronto this morning. He says that all the country to the north of North Bay is in the grip of forest fires. On the line of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, from its terminal at Englehart to North Bay, the country appears to be one continuous sea of flame, the heat was terrific, and traveling very uncomfortable.

As to its effect upon those who live in the burning districts, Mr. Wilson stated that he did not notice much anxiety. The people expect these fires in a dry year, and considering the smallness and worthless ness of the timber, look upon it as a blessing in disguise, as it clears the land for farming purposes. Nothing but a drenching and prolonged rain can prevent it from advancing to the south upon the more settled parts.

HAILEYBURY AND LATCHFORD

Cobalt, Sept. 18.—The camp fire here for the past few days continuously enveloped in a heavy cloud of smoke, although there are not any bush fires in dangerous proximity. To the vicinity of Haileybury, and farther north, however, they are much in evidence. The vicinity of Latchford was visited the other day with a fire, but is now totally extinguished.

FLAMES NEAR HUNTSVILLE.

Huntsville, Sept. 18.—Bush fires are raging in many directions. A new mill and several farm houses have been destroyed in Cardwell township. Anxiety is felt by eastern residents of Huntsville; the fire is within half a mile. The weather is very calm, otherwise the destruction would be much more serious. It is said this morning that fire is near the big Greenwald resort on Mark Lake. Much valuable timber has been destroyed near Huntsville. Unless rain comes soon conditions will become very serious.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly then Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from enjoyment like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, health surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for extra cleansing medicines.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton's pills acting in better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proved in the case of James Burton, of Leamington. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves were strung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my luck was spared, simply because I learned off the unpleasant secret in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

AIRSHIPS IN WAR AND PEACE

There has been considerable discussion of the part that is to be played by the airship in war which seems to be based on the assumption that the limit of offensive tactics would be reached with the use of the new device. That is assuming very much for the airship and against all possible means of resisting it. If the guns now made are not adequate for bringing down such a bird we may be sure that inventions would not step with them and that aerial navigation even a hostile ship or camp would be made very unpleasant.

However, it is a long way to that crisis, and we may at least acknowledge an indebtedness to the military authorities of the world for the impetus they are giving to the work of the inventors, which may have a decided value in peace if it should have none at all in war. If we pursue the parallel of the automobile, the most certain use of the ship would seem to be that of the pleasure craft. An automobile trip in the air should be far more exhilarating than one on land, but as carriers of freight the advantage would seem to be distinctly with the land machine. If a very high rate of speed could be attained, however, the airship would be an excellent machine for a special delivery service for long distances. Assuming less far than the military enthusiasts do, it might come to have a high value as a mail carrier.

But no living man can foretell the exact course the developments will take. The precedents justify us simply in believing that there will be great and rapid progress, that one invention will lead to another, that improvement will be added to improvement, that needs will be created and supplied until people wonder how the world ever got along without airships.

SCIENTIFIC FAIRY TALE OF PLANTS

Science has stamped many times upon the trail of a fairy tale. Frequently it has seemed to take the lead from wonder stories purely imaginary. There was instance the other day when Prof. Francis Darwin told the British Association of his conviction that plants have memory and habits and at least a suggestion of consciousness. Prof. Harold W. T. Wager continues on this striking line of new thought in natural history. He displays lessons taken from leaves in support of a claim that plants have to some degree the sense of sight. At least they can see where to turn for the light most favorable to life and growth.

The practical trend of these discoveries is not apparent. Just now the new ideas of plant consciousness may impress most laymen as being especially pretty conceits, having their charm heightened by the possibility of a shade of truth.

But the two professors who have spoken already have not swept the whole range of hypothesis. Shall we not hear from a third man, subtly wise, who shall tell us that the growing things can also talk among themselves? That when we speak of "whispering trees" and of grain that sings to the breeze we are dealing with more of fact than we realize?

We ought to desire something of this sort in positive revelation. The manifestation of actual voices of the woods pleading and raging against the forest-killers of our times is a miracle to be prayed for.

WHEAT EXTRAORDINARY

The wise farmer will wait. That is the opinion and the advice of Professor Elliott, head of the Department of Agriculture at Washington State College, regarding the latest wheat monstrosity, says the Monetary Times. Away in Idaho, famous for mining and agriculture, sprinkled with a little lawlessness, a farmer claims to have discovered wheat, a perfect prodigy in the agricultural family. It will yield 80 bushels to the acre of Number One Hard, so the story goes. A name was given—Alaska wheat. With much judicious advertising it sold as high as twenty dollars a bushel.

The farmer's imagination is seldom tickled with agricultural get-rich-quick schemes. You may tell him in vain of beets you have for sale, some that will grow as long as the giraffe's neck and provide enough sugar to sweeten the whole town's teeth. He turns away from your story—for a good reason, he knows what you are. With mining schemes, it is different. Bring forward an assertion that from a hole, ore has taken assaying fabulous wealth. Arrange a statement of dividends paid by the really rich mines of the country. Buy something of the properties which immediately join the new bonanza. And the best suspiciousness immediately gives place to mineral confidence. That is because the farmer knows a heap whom he sees it; but ore and agriculture are not of the same family.

It is thus the more remarkable that a large sale of Alaska wheat should have been effected. The seed was advertised to grow in any climate; hail and frost mattered little. Alaska wheat was proof against the whims of the elements. The discoverer of this stuff talked on like the inventor of old. Finally, after planting seven pounds in the spring of 1906, 1,556 pounds were brought forth, or 222 times the original sowing. And it all graded Number One Hard. The Canadian grower has bitten the bait with th erest. Much Alaska wheat has found its way across the border from Idaho. The Alaska brand was to have revolutionized wheat-growing in the United States; probably—if results and advertising permitted—in Canada also. This particular wheat is said to have one single head, around which are nine other short heads. Professor Elliott, quoted above, says he knows of a seven-headed variety, grown extensively twenty years ago. It yielded no better than other common varieties. He has visited some of the fields of the so-called Alaska wheat, which are located in Whitman and Latah Counties. The wheat, he says, was studied while growing and ripening in the field and a large selecting of heads taken for closer study in the laboratory. These tracts of wheat were badly mixed with other varieties, among which were found little club Winter Fife, red Russian and Wolf's hybrid. Fully twenty-five per cent. of the growing wheat was not Alaska, and any one purchasing such for seed would have a sorry mixture. He also examined two other varieties grown by farmers in the vicinity and claimed to be new discoveries. Placed side by side it is impossible to distinguish the samples from the three fields apart, and they are apparently of common origin.

The plants of this variety are inclined to grow tall and have good foliage. By nature it is a spring wheat, but under favourable winter conditions, it may, like many other spring varieties, succeed when sown in the fall. It stools sparingly and will not occupy the ground as will little club or red Russian. The heads are large, since they are composed o fa cluster of smaller heads springing from a common stem, and, as they ripen, they weight causes the stems to droop heavily. In fact, the very size of the heads is a most serious objection to the variety, as it cannot stand erect and in spite of a fairly stiff straw is sure to lodge badly. The heads are not uniform in character.

As is well known, says Professor Elliott, not only the Emmers, but also the Poulard and Durum wheats show composite forms quite frequently, and the evidence is strong that the so-called Alaska wheat is in reality a composite Emmer. When it is recalled that nowhere are the Emmers considered valuable for milling purposes and have never gained favor as stock feeds among the farmers of America, the value of this wonderful new wheat of fairy tale origin may well be questioned.

Years ago the famous scientist, Sir John Lawes, said that if a man should leave the earth wheat would follow him in three years. It is a plant that cannot endure without cultivation, and is never found growing wild, even in the balmy climate of Alaska. In all the history of the world's wheat the highest recorded yields barely exceed 100 bushels and the claims of the promoters of Alaska of 222 bushels an acre are little short of preposterous. The fields examined by Professor Elliott would not exceed 80, although doubtless better results could have been secured. The claims that it will grade with No. 1 are based only on a laboratory test. The millers have yet to speak. Scores of Poulard and Durum varieties will show equally as good gluten tests.

So the wise farmer will wait.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Prof. Goldwin Smith, in the Farmer's Sun, says:—"It is with the greatest reluctance that the Bystander says a word against any effort of labor to get what it sincerely believes to be justice. Labor is far more in the right in any reasonable strike than is capital in trying to force on us protection. But Labor is specially bound to resort to fair arbitration and take reasonable terms in the case of a public railway, the stoppage of which affects not the pocket of a capitalist only, but the general current of life, the trades which depend on supplies, the distribution of food, the husband or wife hurrying to a death-bed. Unwilling as one must be to say it, there are now social revolutionists at work who seek, not peace with justice, but war with confiscation. Let it be always borne in mind, too, that the strikers themselves are purchasers and employers, and that the collective loss by a strike comes round in a measure to them all."

Continuing his admirable and refreshingly sane linguistic studies in Harper's, Professor Lounsbury of Yale deals with the adjective and the impossibility of adequate expression of our feelings, moods, shades of opinion by the "three degrees of comparison" to which, cruel grammar limits us. To tell you that the weather is fine, or very fine, or perfectly fine, is to leave you in the dark as to the precise state of mind of the speaker. Again, to say that a girl is charming is to express one's self in the vaguest possible way. There are legions of charming and beautiful girls, yet no two alike, and what language ought to yield us is an exact idea of the degree of charm attributed to a particular girl.

How can language be made more exact and richer? Scientists invent special terms and an impossible jargon to arrive at needed precision, but what of literary and other styles of every-day conversation?

Professor Lounsbury recalls an idea which was advanced by Captain Derby, the humorist, more widely known as "John Phoenix," many years ago. The idea was to mark all descriptions and adjectives, all adverbs, and epithets, on a numerical scale of comparison. Let the lowest amount of any quality be indicated by 1, the highest by 100. Let each lover of precision and clearness prefix to each epithet a figure conveying the degree of the scale he has in mind. He will not say simply, "This is a fine day," but "This is a 55 fine morning." You knowing the scale, instantly grasp his real meaning. Here is a fuller illustration of the possibilities of the humorist's idea, taken from an imaginary narrative:

"On a 76 fine morning I was 55 slowly walking down the 32 clean avenue when I chanced to meet the 27 young and 85 charming Miss Smith. We at once exchanged the 91 usual meteorological observations. 'It is a 76 beautiful day,' I remarked. 'Indeed, it is a 85 beautiful day,' she replied, 'and I am 97 glad to have met you, for it is a 99 long time since I have seen you.' I felt 77 flattered by words like these, coming from a 79 lovely girl, but proceeded to make the 71 usual inquiries about her health. For I knew that on that point you had been 89 anxious. She told me it had been 73 poor, but she was 100 glad to say it was now 87 good."

The humor and satire in the idea are manifest, but Professor Lounsbury thinks that it contains much wisdom withal. Such a scale, he says, would let us into the exact thoughts of our friends and would indicate individual, racial and even sex characteristics. Feminine adulation to superlatives would come out delightfully, as would the studied moderation of purists and savants. Professor Lounsbury announces no crusade in favor of the great reform, but uses the scale idea to combat certain errors of pedantic grammarians. To these we will not now refer, but the humorist's suggestion is worthy of revived notice.

year for every family of five persons. Where does the money come from? In the first analysis 90 per cent. of it comes from real estate. But real estate produces incomes and taxes by means of rents which tenants must pay. The tenant, if a storekeeper, makes his customers pay his taxes; if a manufacturer and employer, he makes his business pay the additional bill. In the last analysis the tax is assessed upon the entire community, and the man with the least opportunity to collect his tax from some other person—that is, the working man—ultimately pays the major share of the bill.

The rush for land in the western centres has begun to diminish and, although the officials of the Dominion lands office are still very busy, the crowd of people waiting is growing smaller. Under the new Dominion lands act 1,891 entries for quarter sections of 160 acres each were granted in three days. The largest number of applicants at any western town was Moose Jaw, where 839 sections of land were granted to settlers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has repudiated the statement made by some papers as to their being a disagreement between the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright and that several ministers were about to be retired. Sir Wilfrid states that there is no truth in the rumor, that there are no immediate cabinet changes pending and that the government will go to the country with the present personnel of the ministry.

It is expected that all arrangements for the issue of the government old age annuities will be completed by the end of this month. S. T. Bastedo, who has been given charge of the annuity service, is now installed in the department of trade and commerce and is making arrangements for the campaign which is to be inaugurated throughout the Dominion in order to lay before the public the advantages of this form of provision against old age. The annuity scheme is expected to appeal more particularly to the working classes.

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission, says the London Advertiser. According to the estimates of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress Canada, by the year 1912, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 350,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:—

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported into the United Kingdom from British possessions and foreign countries respectively.

	British Possessions. 1892-6	1902-6
	P. C.	P. C.
Wheat	15	22
Meat	21	24
Butter	20	21
Cheese	54	75

It will thus be seen how in the matter of food products, the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy minister's estimate may be rather high it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States, must before many years pass, cease to be a wheat-exporting country, and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1896 the reports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £12,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £34,000,000, but in the five years ended 1906 they had grown to over £55,000,000, and last year reached close on £60,000,000.

Why We Are All Sinners.

"If we did not cough in church, the human race would not exist." And the professor, twiddling a piece of chalk in his hand, regarded the sophomores with a quizzical smile.

"What I mean," he continued, "is that the cause of coughing is the cause of our survival. That cause is misery. Misery is a better life preserver than fleetness or strength. For by misery we manage not to attract attention, and in prehistoric times they who attracted attention were hunted down by the tribe and roasted for dinner or hunted down by the saber tooth tiger and taken raw.

"Since those dark days misery has been instinctive with us. Misery is what causes us to follow the fashions. It causes us, when in England, to say 'cawn't' and 'cawt.' If your friend yawns, you yawn—that's misery. If he laughs, you laugh—misery again. If he coughs in church, straightway you and all the rest of the congregation cough, the reason being the same one which saved our forefathers from extermination."—New York Press.

Famous Floggers.

Among English schoolmasters whose names have come down to posterity with the dubious reputation of great floggers Dr. Busby of Westminster school is the generally acknowledged chief.

Of him it is recorded that, one of his head boys having insulted a young French viscount who came to the school to demand satisfaction, he flogged the viscount first for the bloodthirsty intentions and next his friend who was the bearer of his challenge.

Dr. Valpy, too, who edited an edition of the classics, was a potent whisker of the rod. Archdeacon Groom, who was a pupil of his, tells a story in illustration of his prowess. One of the boys had been flogged by the schoolmistress downstairs, and the lad's father came to complain.

"Sir," said Valpy to him, "I flogged your son because he richly deserved it. If he again deserves it, I shall flog him again, and," rising, "if you come here, sir, interfering with my duty I shall flog you."

The parent fled.

A Famous Architect's Trick.

When Sir Christopher Wren was building the town hall of Windsor, a fidgety member of the corporation, so the story goes, insisted that the roof required further support and desired the architect to add more pillars. In vain did Sir Christopher assure him that the danger was imaginary. He knew better. The alarm spread, and the great architect was wearied into adding the desired columns.

Years passed, and in later times, when architect and patrons were dead, cleaning operations in the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by two inches, though this was not perceptible to the gazers below.

By this ingenious expedient did Wren pacify his critics, while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady helping herself to his provisions. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said:

"Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Next day it was an egg, and to another day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

At supper there was never any reflection in Pat's tea. One Saturday his bill came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, handed up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm sloping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.

Beautifully Arranged.

Tom—I've arranged it beautifully, old chap. I told her it was very dull, and she said to tell you she was out, and then I said I was feeling sad that it was Charley Jones, and you ought to have seen her bundle to get into a clean shirt waist! She'll be right down!

It's a pity when sick ones clean the stomach or stimulate the Liver and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

OXYDONOR

It applies to all cases, no matter what the form of disease may be. It vitalizes the human body with OXYGEN from the air. OXYGEN is a vital Necessity—the greatest necessity life knows.

You can apply Oxydonor at home while you rest or sleep. No loss of time from your work or business. It is easily applied, safe, and always ready for use. Its force never exhausts. It will serve the family, children as well as adults.

Mr. Wm Beers, 196 York St., Toronto, writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Oxydonor. When I first got the instrument I was suffering from Sciatica for about four months, and after applying it for five nights it left me all at once and have not been troubled with it since. I can highly recommend it as a good family doctor, and would not be with out it for double the price.

Synopsis of Canadian North-west

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands agency or sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required cultivation duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness, nothing more. For nervous, run down people it is wonderful. In fact, nobody dreamed. It is almost always a sudden thing. Some nerve that really is all at fault. This changes your whole condition, or Heart Nerve is cause of all this trouble. Nerve power, nerve control, nerve energy, nerve force, nerve vitality, nerve power, nerve strength. Those that have it need nothing more. Those that have it not need something more. This nearly explains why, as a positive fact, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past proved the most successful remedy for nervous troubles ever introduced. Dr. Shoop first produced it for his own practice. It was a success. It helped thousands of his fellow doctors. It helped druggists' prescription trade. It helped druggists' counter trade. It helped druggists' general trade. It helped druggists' reputation. It helped druggists' profits. It helped druggists' customers. It helped druggists' everything. It helped druggists' bank accounts. It helped druggists' happiness. It helped druggists' health. It helped druggists' lives. It helped druggists' families. It helped druggists' homes. It helped druggists' everybody. It helped druggists' everything. It helped druggists' everything. It helped druggists' everything

Excursionists from Picton Welcomed

By Ald. Elliott and City Clerk Armstrong on Behalf of the City

A special train carrying at least twelve hundred people from Picton pulled into the C.P.R. station at noon yesterday. The excursion was run by the Canadian Order of Foresters of Picton, and it was a decided success. When the train arrived, Ald. Geo. H. Elliott, chairman of the Reception Committee, and City Clerk R. R. Armstrong, met the excursionists, and on behalf of the city extended them a warm welcome and invited them to visit the big exhibition. Needless to say a large portion of the visitors accepted the invitation and after dinner spent the afternoon at the grounds. The picnickers had lunch at Jackson Park, and spent a most enjoyable time in the city. They left early in the evening for home and will no doubt come to this city again. If so they will be cordially welcomed.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present aches to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The Physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, or rather, by the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A secret medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Raising Machinery of Str. Stranger

Lindsay, Sept. 18.—After nearly two months under water, the hull of the steamer Stranger, which was burned in Scugog Lake, was found yesterday, and the machinery is being raised.

It will be remembered that the Str. Stranger was plying between Port Perry and Carnegie's lumber yards, and caught fire about midnight this side of Washburn's Island, with a scow of lumber in tow. The crew were all on board and did all in their power to save the boat, but finding that their efforts were fruitless tied a stringe to the engine throttle and made their escape on the scow. When the string burned, the throttle flew back and the steam was shut off. The steamer then floated, and after burning to the water's edge, sank about three-quarters of a mile from Plum Point.

Mr. Carnegie chartered the Str. Cora yesterday and went in search of the sunken hull. Mr. Charles Blowman dropped the anchor over the spot where he thought the boat had sunk and dropped the heavy iron to the hull and pulled up the steering cord.

Mr. Hammond, the superintendent of the local water works, who was on board, donned the diving suit and went down below. He found the hull sunken in fifteen feet of water and full of mud. He fastened chains to the boiler, engine and feed pump, and when he left yesterday the boiler was fifteen feet below the water supported between two scows. It is the intention of Mr. Carnegie to float the boiler into shallow water before raising it. He has about eight men employed on the work now, and expects to have the engine and the feed pump raised in a few days.

The hull of the burned steamer is practically useless, and being sunk in the mud, it is not likely that Mr. Carnegie will attempt to raise it. He is favorable to the building of a new steamer, and will likely commence building right away.

W. Hamilton Co. Works to Start

Were Purchased by Local Capitalists--Running November 1st.

The announcement that the William Hamilton foundry will be in operation, employing at least fifty men by the first of November is possibly the most welcome news to Peterborough in many a day. The fact, too, that operations will be in strong financial hands lends an additional effect to the resuscitation of the Hamilton works.

Negotiations were entered into between the A. R. Williams Company and Mr. H. B. Collier of the Collier-Cunningham Company, and Messrs. G. Walter Green, Andrew MacFarlane and J. C. Smith, with the result that the land, building, machinery, stock and patents were purchased by Mr. Collier. The deal was concluded at 12 o'clock on Wednesday night.

SOME BIG ORDERS.

The terms upon which the purchase was made were most favorable to the purchaser. The new company will be known as the William Hamilton Company, Limited. Already it has orders for $60,000 worth of machinery, and these have to be delivered within the next eighteen months.

The City Council, of course, is interested in the matter and will be urged to go ahead with the bylaw ratified last year by the Legislature, granting a loan of $30,000 under specified conditions. It is necessary to the company that this portion of what is considered the City Council's duties is carried out.

The actual cost of the real estate, machinery, etc., to the old company was $340,000. The boiler shop and the foundry are practically new buildings, having been erected within the past six years. The machinery in these is almost new, the whole being valued at about $40,000. Expert valuators have valued the plant as it now stands at $210,000, which is a minimum valuation.

ORGANIZING COMPANY.

The company will be organized at once as $60,000 stock has been subscribed. This will undoubtedly be prior to November 1. At first about fifty hands will be required, and this number will be gradually increased.

President—Harry Hall.
Vice-Pres.—M. Dubbin.
Sec.-Treas.—M. O'Brien.

A representative from each form will constitute an executive committee. Dr. A. W. MacPherson will train the boys in Rugby.

The association will have charge of all branches of sport in connection with the Institute. Rugby practices will soon be announced and a hockey team will be organized this winter.

FREE! GIVEN AWAY!

Special Offer to Ladies

I will send ten days' treatment of the famous Orange Lily FREE to every sufferer who writes for it. This home treatment cures without the aid of a physician. It cures female weakness, leucorrhoea, tumors, cancers, in their earlier stages, displacements, lacerations, painful periods, pains in back, sides of abdomen, bearing down sensations, and all irregularities. Read the following letters and be convinced of the efficiency of this truly wonderful remedy.

Merlin, Ont., March 27, 1903.

Mrs. K. F. Curran, Windsor, Ont.,

Dear Mrs. Curran: your letter of the 24th received today. Please find enclosed $5.00 for 3 boxes of Orange Lily. I would not think of discontinuing its use, and I know that 6 more boxes will produce a permanent cure. Even now I am an entirely new creature since using O.L. At present I know of two other cases the same as mine (long standing leucorrhoea) and as you give some trial boxes free, if you would send me a few I would gladly hand them to my friends, for I know it will produce the same good results in every case. I intend sending you my photo and testimonial letter later, for I feel we cannot say too much in favor of Orange Lily, and know if more of same was used among suffering womankind the surgeon's knife would be cheated of its many baptisms in the blood of suffering women. Hoping God may ever bless and prosper you and Dr. Cowley in the noble work, believe me, ever your sincere friend, Miss B. McK., Merlin, Post Office, Kent County, Ont.

Kingston, Ont., July 15, 1903.

Dear Friend,—Sometime ago I wrote and told you the great good your wonderful medicine had done for me. Since then I have continued to use it, and after five years of terrible suffering and undergoing three operations, I am completely cured by Orange Lily, after using it for eight months. I cannot say too much in praise of it. Knowing, as I do, that so many women in this city suffer as I did, and knowing what it did for me, I would like to take the agency. Will you please send me instructions and terms (cash)?

Gratefully yours.

"Eight bottles of Peruna brought back my strength."

Mr. A. O. Harding, 803 W. 146 St., New York City, formerly one of the leading druggists of Prescott, Ont., has been presented with a twenty-five year Medal of Honor in Odd Fellowship. He writes as follows:

"Ever since I have been handling Peruna, I have had a fine trade. Once a family buys a bottle, I am sure of selling them more, and it never fails to bring additional customers.

"I have nothing better for catarrh in all of its various forms. As a household remedy it is without compare, splendid for mothers and excellent for children."

Notice To Creditors

In the matter of J. V. A. Coon, Havelock, Ont., Insolvent.

Notice is hereby given that the above named has made an assignment to me for the benefit of creditors.

The creditors are notified to meet at my office, on Wednesday, the 23rd day of September, 1903, at three o'clock p. m., for the purpose of receiving a statement of affairs, for the appointment of inspectors, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally.

All persons claiming to rank upon the estate of the said insolvent must file their claims, proved by affidavit, with me prior to the date of aforesaid meeting, after which time I will proceed to distribute the assets of the said estate, having regard to those claims only of which I shall then have received notice.

LINDSAY STARTLED

cision the offer was at once made to buy the property.

Now in the great diamond mine of Kimberley, South Africa, the valuable stones were found only in a blue tinted clayey cement, so hard that explosives are used. This clay is brought to the surface and spread out for the atmosphere to soften it. After six months' exposure the color changes to a dingy greyish white and the clay is friable enough to easily yield its store of stones.

Thirty years ago, when this local well was dug, a lot of this clayey cement was lifted and deposited on the surface at the top. This was afterwards covered with coarse gravel and small boulders. Yesterday I removed some of the gravel and big stones revealing the original blue clayey cement from the well. It is an almost exact fac-simile of the bleached clay at Kimberly and is the nearest resemblance to the true diamondiferous earth I have ever seen.

If this should prove to be a true deposit of diamonds—and I understand the Toronto syndicate will take early steps to prove their find—it means a good living wage for the owner and an enormous flow of business into Lindsay. "But, say, how is it that the smart capitalists of Lindsay have not had a finger in the pie?

Very Little Rain Fell

There was only enough rain last evening to lay the top layer of dust and keep people away from the Exhibition Grounds. It was the first sign of the weatherman's tears for many weeks, and the people generally are in hopes that he will now shed a good shower. It is needed badly enough.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for alterations and addition to Office Building, Experimental Farm, Ottawa," will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m. on Tuesday, 29th September, 1903, for alterations and addition to office building, Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and cold baths in cellar brought on a double varicocele. When I started home I was confined to my bed for seven days and I was often laid up for a week at a time. Two physicians told me an operation was my only hope, but I couldn't stand several thousand dollars and was afraid to trust the knife if necessary. I commenced to look upon my affliction as incurable and my regrets. One day my home called me city. I went to consult Dr. Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy and they were honest and skilful. I owe almost good part of my health to their Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow, but during the first month's treatment I was convinced I was on the right road. After a two thousand treatment for three months longer was entirely cured. I am a complete cure. I would only care for a cure. I am now taking my first treatment, now I am enjoying life and health. I feel all sufferers know of your valuable treatment.

But now our Company owns outright without encumbrance one and one-half miles of the same California Mother Lode and its promise is better than the other was at the same stage. It can be reached any day from San Francisco.

Power and hoisting machinery is installed, working, and paid for, and we have money in our treasury. Development work is done exposing a quarts ledge 30 feet wide for a distance of 180 feet at 170 feet depth extending up and down indefinitely. Average assays are $60.00 per ton. The usual mining risks are therefore practically eliminated.

We need and want milling equipment immediately, and are therefore offering a block of stock at the sacrifice price of ten cents per share (par value $1.00) for quick sale. We are now ready to furnish ore for the mill.

RAINS IN THE NORTH CHECK RAVAGES OF FOREST FIRES

Black Flies Swarm Into Hastings--Fire Drives Them Out of the Bush--Government Camp Burned

Owen Sound, Sept. 19.—Rain fell heavily last night about eight o'clock. It last only about ten minutes, but is believed to have quenched any bush fires which still remain burning in this district.

HUNTSVILLE IS SAFE.

Huntsville, Sept. 19.—A slight rainfall occurred here yesterday afternoon. This morning the atmosphere is clear and the danger from bush fires appears to be past.

TIMBER LANDS SUFFER.

Hastings, Sept. 19.—Forest fires in this sections have made things very disagreeable for the past week. John McFadden's woods have been burning for several days and at Indian River the bush has suffered, as well also the timber north of here. A peculiar circumstance is that the black flies seem to have been driven into this locality by the smoke and almost everyone is suffering from their bites. The smoke has hung over Rice Lake like a bank of fog and fishermen have been obliged to abandon their sport.

SERIOUS IN NEW BRUNSWICK

St. Stephen, Sept. 19.—This section, in common with the rest of New Brunswick, is suffering for rain, of which less than five inches has fallen since the first of June. The atmosphere is dense with smoke from fires that have wrought much damage. Out at Meadows a fierce fire has been sweeping the timber land for some days. At the back of Oak Bay much damage has been done, and there is fear of it getting into the village. Last evening a new fire started in Dugee's heath, six miles from town, and has assumed dangerous proportions. The farmers' wells and the brooks are dry, and there is nothing to fight the fire. In some places particularly the bogs, the fire has penetrated the ground to a depth of three feet.

Lindsay, Sept. 19.—Word was received here yesterday that fire in Bell's Lake district, thirty miles north of Minden, had wiped out the Kennedy Lake Government camp in charge of Peter Gremmile, of Lindsay, and that the dam was only saved by strenuous work.

Parry Sound, Sept. 19.—The two hours' heavy rain which fell yesterday extinguished most of the bush fires in this section. A few are lingering yet, but the indications are for more rain today.

Three Grass Fires Sunday Afternoon

Fine Brigade Kept Busy Putting Out Small Grass Fires

The fire brigade had a busy time yesterday afternoon running after grass fires in different parts of the city. The country is so dry that a burning match or a cigar stub is sufficient to start a blaze almost anywhere. The first alarm was sounded at almost ten minutes after two o'clock to a small grass fire near the new dam on the Ashburnham side of the river, and fifteen minutes later another alarm was sent in from the G.T.R. A grass fire had started in that neighborhood and had caught onto a fence, but the brigade arrived before much damage was done. Then about a quarter after four o'clock a third alarm for a grass fire on Charlotte street, west of Pearl avenue was sounded and the brigade had to turn out again. The firemen and horses had lots of exercise and practice, but people should be particularly careful just now where they throw burning matches and cigar stubs or any fire whatever.

The fire brigade was given a midnight call last night. It was just a few minutes after twelve o'clock when an alarm from the corner of Smith and George street, was sent in. The firemen turned out quickly, and made a good run but there was no fire. Some one ought to be prosecuted.

Monument Unveiled Sunday

To Late Dr. Bradd--Impressive Ceremony by Woodmen of the World

Over a hundred members of Sherwood Forest Camp, Woodmen of the World, attended the unveiling of the monument erected in memory of the late Dr. Bradd. The Woodmen met at their hall on Hunter street, next to the post office yesterday afternoon at about 2.30, and marched in procession to Little Lake cemetery where the departed brother had been interred. At the grave a large number of citizens had gathered to show honor to the memory of the dead. Upon arrival at the grave the Woodmen gathered round the plot, and the impressive and interesting unveiling ceremony in honor, respect and memory of the departed was begun. The musical part was furnished by the George street Methodist church quartette and they rendered several selections.

Sovereign Cinnamon of Lindsay, head advisor lieutenant for Eastern Ontario, delivered a most interesting and impressive address referring to the opportunities for doing good which the living have and which cease at death solar as life here is concerned. He pointed out how careful one should be that no word was spoken or no deed done which would give offence to our friends. He also urged all to follow the straight path and to glory in doing God's work and in loving his fellow man.

Others who assisted in the ceremony were:—Manager Taylor, of Brantford; Jas. Kyle, treasurer of the local camp; Clerk Husked and Council Commander Wm. Aitcheson and W. J. Johnston of Forest Camp.

After the ceremony the Woodmen formed in procession and returned to their lodge rooms.

Chemong Indians Had a Fine Trip to Georgina Island

It was a great trip the Indians of Chemong and Bridgenorth had last week through the Trent Valley Canal to Lake Simcoe and to Georgina Island, where they participated in the games and sports put on by the Indians of that reserve. The steamer Water Lily of the Ottonbee Navigation Co.'s fleet, left Bridgenorth and the Chemong Indian Village, Tuesday morning at 7.30, with about 60 passengers on board, and ran through to Ramsay, the Indian Village near Orillia, making the trip in just eleven hours, this time is very good considering the large cloud of smoke which overhung the country. On Wednesday the steamer left Ramsay Island with about 60 of the Ramsay Indians as well as the Chemong Indians and went to the Georgina Island where the concert was given and the sports pulled off. In the afternoon the steamer ran to Jackson's Point and got a load of the residents from there who have always taken a great interest in the Indians of the reserve. The Jackson Point people took part in the big feed that was provided and attended the concert in the evening, returning home on that point at 11 o'clock.

On Thursday the steamer Water Lily returned to Georgina Island, took on the passengers, and ran over to Beaverton where the Ramsay contingent got off and took the train home. The steamer then proceeded on its return journey to Chemong Village, arriving there at 6 o'clock in the evening. The trip, which is one of the most picturesque in Ontario and which includes a trip over the Kirkfield lift lock was made without the least trouble and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The boat was in charge of Captain White to whom the Indian are very grateful for his consideration and attention.

"They will Never Kill Me To Make You King."

One of Sir Wilfrid's usual clever references to history was made during his Niagara speech. It was as follows:—

"Charles II. was King of England, and he was not a very good man in some things, like myself (laughter) because, gentlemen, I read the daily press of the Conservative party, and I have read it for thirty years. I have read The Daily Mail every day, and I will be candid, and I suppose that it will be accounted to me for my sins some time or other. (laughter)—because, gentlemen Mail and some other Tory newspapers I may say in all candor that I am shocked and horrified at my wickedness. (laughter) I cannot believe myself to be as bad as that, and I apply the story of Charles II. in this way: Charles II. had some good points, and I may say that perhaps I have some good points also. Charles II. had no children, and that perhaps is another point of comparison, and his brother was heir, who became James II., and who had not the good points that Charles had. One day he told his brother that bad news had come to him, that he had received notice that there was a plot to assassinate the King. Charles simply tapped his brother on the shoulder and said: "They will never kill me to make you King." (laughter) I have this to say: "that there is not an old Liberal who will take power away from me and my friends, George P. Graham and Rudolphe Lemieux, to give it into the hands of Mr. Borden or Mr. Foster." (Cheers).

A Handsome Surplus from Peterboroug's Big Fair---A Large Crowd the Last Day

Gate Receipts Alone Amounted to $1,800 The Second Day s Races were Exciting

Directors are Well Pleased

The most successful fair ever held in Peterborough was brought to a close Saturday afternoon about six o'clock, when the 57th Regimental Band played "God Save the King." The directors were favored with good weather both days and they had two splendid crowds Friday, of course was the banner day. The excursion from Picton, and the many visitors who came in on the trains helped to swell the crowds wonderfully. The weather on Saturday was ideal. It was a little dull in the morning, but the afternoon was almost perfect, and another big crowd gathered in the hall, the midway, on the grand stand and around the ring, to say nothing of those who crowded on the track and gave the police force all the work they wanted.

The attractions in front of the stand and the horse races were of course what the people went to see mainly. The performance was the same as that on Friday, and was greatly enjoyed. The races were exceptionally good. Every heat was a race and the crowd in the stand stood up and cheered as the horses came up the home stretch. Every driver was out to win and the horses were driven accordingly. There were two events, viz., a 2.28 class and a 2.17 class, which resulted as follows:—

2.28 CLASS.

Walter G., Pasmore, Orillia	1	1	1
Harry K, Cowan, Lindsay ...	2	2	2
Idolph, Nattress, Millbrook	3	3	4
Togo, Powell, Peterboro... ...	4	4	3

Times—2.26, 2.21 1-4, 2.23.

2.17 CLASS.

Harry Direct, Cottingham...	1	1	1
Holland Boy, Dr. Leach	2	2	2
Hazel Bell, McCarthy... ...	3	3	3
Black Prince, ...	4	5	4
Queen's Bang, D. Johnston	5	4	5

Time—2.20 3-4, 2.20 1-4, 2.24 1-4.

THE DOG RACE.

The most laughable feature of the afternoon was Mr. Wm. Yealand's dog race. A great crowd of boys gathered at the track to back their favorite canines and the judges had their hands full in getting the barking animals ready for the start. Chas Pogue, who was second last year, was on hand again and he got the pole and started out to win. Once or twice the other dogs were close to him and his dog showed signs of fight but he kept going and after a hard drive up the stretch won out.

A surplus of probably $700, is the good news which the directors of the Exhibition will have to start their fair with next year. The fine weather helped them out a whole lot and as a result the finances are in the best shape they have been for many years. Last year the directors had a small surplus, the first for eight years and this year is indeed most gratifying. The gate receipts amounted to $1800, and to this must be added the proceeds from the sale of membership tickets; the sale of privileges; the entrance fees of the exhibitors, etc. When everything has been totalled up there will be about seven hundred dollars more receipts than expenditures.

On Friday 6,620 people paid admission, and on Saturday 3500 paid at the gates. A complete statement of receipts and expenditures could not be had last night as the committee did not get its work finished Saturday night.

Grand Trunk Pacific Passenger Service Inaugurated Today

Winnipeg to Wainwright, a Distance of 666 Miles Declared Open--Chas. M. Hays to Witness First Train Pull Out of Winnipeg

Today the Grand Trunk Pacific sets a new mile-post marking the march of empire in the prairie provinces. Today the new line will inaugurate its first passenger service—Winnipeg to Wainwright — 666 miles.

Already many flourishing towns exist upon this section of the road. At the first divisional point, Rivers, named, we fancy, in honor of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk, the town has been building up for the past two years. Watrous, which comes from the middle name of Frank W. Morse, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is another divisional point, which promises to become an important town.

The next divisional point is Biggar, for the chief legal man of the Grand Trunk, and also a director of the Grand Trunk Pacific, but Wainwright, which as every Canadian must know, is named in honor of the second vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, a man with hosts of friends, and perhaps not a single enemy on earth—called by those who love him "William the Smooth."

This new step in the development of the transcontinental lines, inaugurated so quickly, means much to the Dominion. It means that the Grand Trunk Pacific, which only a very few years ago was referred to by those who had no faith in it as a "pipe" and classed along with visions and dreams, is an accomplished fact. It is here, and The Times gives it a glad welcome. It is going to be a great factor in the development of Northern Quebec and Ontario, of the middle west and of the far northwest, which was a wilderness but yesterday. It is a great thing for Canada, not only because of what it will do, but because of what it will make others do.

The Canadian Pacific, great and powerful, had a monopoly on the transportation business of the west, until the Canadian Northern edged shyly, almost apologetically, to claim a small portion of the traffic of the west. Probably it did not know itself how great it would grow in a single decade. As it grew the older line began to sit up and take notice, but when the Grand Trunk Pacific, backed, not only by the Grand Trunk Railway System, the pioneer line of Canada, but by the Dominion Government as well, "happened" the Canadian Pacific realized that here was a rival with which they would have to reckon.

Ever since the first Grand Trunk Pacific pathfinder trailed his tape across the prairie provinces other interests have been busy, building branches and reaching out for the rich fields of the west. Now, since the G.T.P. has mapped and marked out its line through the wilderness of this last west, the woods are full of pathfinders searching in the crags and in the canons of British Columbia, seeking away down to Vancouver and north to the Great Peace River country, and ultimately on the Yukon, to Siberia and around the world.

Charles M. Hays, in whose reckless brain the Grand Trunk Pacific was conceived, will arrive in Winnipeg today to look after the work in the west, and no will have the satisfaction of seeing the first regular passenger train pull out from Winnipeg.

It is interesting to any man who loves life and interested in the world's work, to watch from year to year the development of a country like Canada. Therefore, it must be extremely gratifying to a man, who has mapped out what he conceives to be his masterpiece, to see his dreams come true.

Was Fined Twenty Dollars and Costs

John Gosslin of Lindsay, was arrested Friday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds by P.C. Newhall and P. C. Meharry on a charge of running a game of chance. Saturday morning he appeared before City Clerk Armstrong, who was on the bench in the absence of the magistrate, and was fined $20 and $3.75 costs, with the alternative of spending 30 days in jail. Gosslin had a machine on which were six metal horses, Looking Glass, Gipsy Girl, Harold H., Hector, Harry O., and Darky Boy. In connection with the frame-up Gosslin was selling small peddles on which were the names of the same horses. These were sold for ten cents each and the man who held the paddle which contained the name of the horse which stopped opposite a small post on the machine, after the latter was through spinning, received 50 cents. When the case came up in police court yesterday morning Gosslin pleaded not guilty and his counsel Mr. G. N. Gordon, admitted that he was selling the paddles and that he was operating the machine which was on exhibition in the court room. The fine was paid and the apparatus was confiscated.

MILLIONS OF MONEY FOR THE FARMERS

Although Crop Grades Unevenly and is Poor in Patches the Result is Good--Over 42 Million Bushels from Saskatchewan

Regina, Sask., Sept. 18.—The threshing machines have been at work in the grain fields of the Province for over a week now, and as a result a more accurate line may be had on the crop yield. Some threshing was done very early, but it is now general throughout the Province, and with a continuance of the exceedingly favorable weather prevailing will be over early in the season. The crop is an easy one to handle, and the weather during this month has been hot and dry, so that the grain quickly dried out ready for the machines.

UNEVEN RESULTS.

From the result of the threshing so far it is apparent that the wheat crop is an uneven one. There are some reports of yields of as high as 35 bushels per acre, notably on the Springrice farm, near Pense, while in other places the yield is low. Fields that looked well in the stook prove a disappointment when subjected to the test of the machine.

The crop is a good one on the whole, and the price is good also. The fly in the ointment is that several districts have suffered from frost damage and from a shrinkage of the yield caused by the dry, hot spell before harvest. Along the Arcola line, in Eastern Saskatchewan, the yield is not good.

The southern parts of the province, with the exception of the Rosthern Plains, have a much lighter yield than was anticipated earlier in the season. The chief cause here is the hot weather.

BEAUTIFUL CROP THERE.

On the Indian Head Plains there is as beautiful crop as one could wish to see. Stooks of grain standing thickly on the ground stretch away to the horizon. Some of it is an excellent crop, but run some fields the grain has been shrunken by frost. The wheat on the Experimental Farm has suffered. However, it will be all good wheat, the chief loss being a decrease in the weight and yield. The frost causes shrivelling of the bran, or outer shell, of the grain. Further north, on the Kirkella line, around Balcarres, Abernethy, and Lemberg, considerable damage has been done. The crops around Sintaluta are excellent, while in the Wolseley district damage has been caused by the excessive heat. From Regina to Francis, on the Arcola line, the crop is excellent, but around Willmore the yield will only be about 15 bushels of wheat per acre. In the low-lying spots the wheat will be damaged by frost, while the rest of the field will have escaped damage entirely.

The best crops in the province are in the country along the Soo line and on the Minnes Jaw and Regina plains. The sample is excellent and the yield will be good. While the yield will not come up to the bumper years of 1905 and 1906, it will be above the average.

It now seems probable that, taking the good with the bad, the average wheat yield for this Province will be about 18 bushels per acre. With 2,374,000 acres sown to wheat, this will mean a total outrun for Saskatchewan of about 42,700,000 bushels, leaving at least 30,000,000 bushels to be marketed. A liberal allowance is here made for the requirements for seed.

The wheat so far marketed at Winnipeg has shown a very large proportion of the top grades. Most of this is Manitoba wheat. However, the Saskatchewan article is now moving forward, and it also will grade well. There will be some No. 1 hard and a large proportion of No. 1 and No. 2 Northern. Such wheat as threshed will suit him any way to be injured in its milling qualities, and as in most cases the frosted wheat is only confined to a part of the field, it will grade pretty well. The wheat is all dry and remarkably hard, and, unlike last season, there is little or no tendency to wheat that will go as "tough."

So far the market has kept well over the dollar mark for the best grades at Winnipeg. The price at the country point is this price less the freight rate when shipped in carload lots. A great part of the crop is so shipped. Taking the low grades with the high and making allowances that are liberal for the difference in grade (William and country price, it seems reasonably certain that the average price to the farmer should be at least 65 cents per bushel, which would mean a return of $26,000,000.

The oat crop is short in straw, but is yielding wonderfully well on the whole. Barley is good, and flax is an excellent crop. These grains will add very materially to the cash return for the crop.

Accident on Race Track Saturday

Three Men Ran In Front of Race Horses --One was Injured

It is a fact, however strange it may appear, that a great many people must be seriously injured, and and some killed outright before they realize the necessity of staying off the track while horses are racing. On Saturday afternoon, even with a big force of police men at work, it was impossible to keep all the people off. While the first heat of the 2.17 class was finishing three men ran blindly onto the track. The two horses bringing up the rear were successful in dodging two of the men, but the third fellow collided with one horse which threw him under the other and a general mix-up resulted. The bike was upset and the driver thrown off, while the men on the track was knocked down and run over. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. Bruises and scratches, were however, numerous. The directors, another year, should endeavor to secure a plan of keeping the people off the track entirely.

Death from Heart Disease

A Case of Neglecting a Weak Heart and Tired Nerves.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good housetreatment try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Atten Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resembles these;

SYMPTOMS OF WEAK HEART.

Nervousness, Trembling, Sinking Feeling, Short Breath, Palpitation, Dizziness, Heart Pains, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says;

"I was weak and miserable.

"I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness.

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations.

"Ferrozone strengthened my heart gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great rebuilder."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system. Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Peterborough Lock Works will Have Capacity Doubled

There was a large attendance of the supporters of Hon. J. R. Stratton, at the Liberal committee rooms, Simcoe street, on Saturday night, and a number of rousing addresses were delivered by prominent citizens, in addition to a very able address by Hon. Mr. Stratton himself, who dealt at considerable length with the allegations that are being made against him by the Conservative candidate with respect to the Home Life Associations. The electors present showed by their applause that they heartily approved of Hon. Mr. Stratton's statement in this respect. Hon. Mr. Stratton, however, made another important announcement. This was concerning the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

In the course of his remarks, Hon. Mr. Stratton said that for some months he had been in negotiation with outside capitalists with a view to increasing the capacity and output of the Peterborough Lock Works. This company was not looking for capital; it was able to obtain sufficient for all its requirements. What they were looking for was to enlist the interest and experience of those familiar for years with this branch of manufacturing, so that there might be produced in Peterborough goods that were now imported from the United States. If we had not the goods we could not sell them. What was needed was to produce what the people wanted, and the selling would look out for itself. What we wanted was to make it Peterborough a greater variety of the better class of goods. With a view of accomplishing this, negotiations have been in hand for some months. Gentlemen have been here on several occasions and examined the conditions. They had arranged an appointment with him (Mr. Stratton) on Friday, which prevented his attendance at the Exhibition, when Messrs. Sexsmith, Bertram and Mr. Tanner were busy interviewing the electors. Mr. Stratton believed he had been better engaged than in mere handshaking.

BUSH AND PEAT CONFLAGRATIONS

The veil of smoke which has been over the face of all things during the past few days is composed of exceedingly valuable material. That which has hidden Montreal and cloaked the river in this vicinity, the result is of a peculiar brown variety, the result of the contained ashes and gases derived from the peat beds in the Lake St. Francis district. These were fired. It is supposed, by sparks from locomotives, and will continue to burn until checked by heavy rains. The public loss will be heavy, and as far as can be seen now compacts so far as the burnt area extends. There is nothing to spring up and furnish a covering to the ruin, which might in time become valuable. A burnt out peat bed is simply a bed of ashes, of some slight value in themselves as sources of manurial potash, and nothing more. The actual direct loss is not capable of estimation at present, owing to the many undeveloped discoveries which have lately drawn attention to the value of peat. But beyond a doubt the present fire will be a cause of very deep regret, when the damage comes to be realized later on.

In spite of a good deal of wild talk by those who wisely insist upon the necessity of forest preservation, we venture the assertion, which will be supported by all experienced lumbermen, that lumbering operations as ordinarily conducted, will never completely destroy the forests. On the contrary, if the trees suffered from nothing but the timber cutter's axe, there would always be timber to cut. But, unfortunately the dry tops of the felled trees, the branches and the twigs destroyed by their fall, these make the work of the axeman to be a curse,—a source of danger to the woods. It is in this kind of dry brushwood that the forest fires gain their headway. When a fire has been allowed to obtain full force, whether in a city or a bush, the draught it creates by the action of its own heat upon the atmosphere, makes it to be a demon of destruction to all in its way, even to limestone houses, or green hardwood trees. The danger in the woods is terrific because, generally speaking, there are no trained fire-fighters with well adapted appliances to check it before it attains its full power. In the vicinity of Drummondville, a not unimportant railroad junction in the Eastern Townships, a great saw-mill is approaching completion with the object of converting into money the hundreds of thousands of trees, now going up in smoke, or threatened by fire. The saw-mill men on the Magog River and at Sherbrooke, Brompton, Windsor and Melbourne see the material wasted by fire which they could and willingly would turn into hard cash for their workmen and shareholders. On the Ottawa and its tributaries the same thing is happening, and in many another section of the country also. It is idle, perhaps, to attempt to set a valuation upon the loss, but our experience would suggest that there is no extravagance in setting it at from half a million dollars to a million a day. The Dominion is that much poorer for the smoky veiling which disfigures Nature just at this writing.

The worst of it is that much of the damage is caused by someone's fault. Fishermen's and hunters' camp cooking places, which have been neglected, started some of the fires. Smokers' matches, or tobacco refuse have caused others. Gun wads are to blame sometimes. Settlers clearing land are perhaps somewhat responsible, though it is rather early in the season for burning "slash." The fact is, we are far too slack in our fire preventive measures. Laws are not enforced as they should be, and do not go far enough in any case. A system of licensing guides, involving the compulsory use of them, and attaching responsibility to them, would perhaps help to mitigate the camp fire risk. A heavy penalty for one who has robbed the country of its patrimony by burning it, appears to be necessary also, and some teaching ought to be instilled into the minds of all who are ever likely to visit the woods, whereby a sense of the value and the beauty of these blessed sanctuaries of rest and freedom, might instinctly guard them against profanation by fire. The rightly instructed man will be just as careful with fire in the woods as he would in a church or a house. Others, the law of the land should, as we have already suggested effectively guard us against.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

There has been considerable discussion of the part that is to be played by the airship in war which seems to be based on the assumption that the limit of offensive tactics would be reached with the use of the new device. That is assuming very much for the airship and against all possible means of resisting it. If the guns now made are not adequate for bringing down such a bird we may be sure that invention would not stop with them and that aerial navigation over a hostile ship or camp would be made very unpleasant.

However, it is a long way to that crisis, and we may at least acknowledge an indebtedness to the military authorities of the world for the impetus they are giving to the work of the inventors, which may have a splendid value in peace if it should have none at all in war. If we pursue the parallel of the automobile, the most certain use of the ship would seem to be that of the pleasure craft. An automobile trip in the air should be far more exhilarating than one on land, but as carriers of freight the advantage would seem to be distinctly with the land machine. If a very high rate of speed could be attained, however, the airship would be an excellent machine for a special delivery service for long distances. Assuming less for them the military enthusiasts do, it might come to have a high value as a mail carrier.

But no living man can foretell the exact course the developments will take. The precedents justify us simply in believing that there will be great and rapid progress, that one invention will lead to another, that improvement will be added to improvement, that needs will be created and supplied until people wonder how the world ever got along without airships.

Science has camped many times close on the trail of a fairy tale. Frequently it has seemed to take the lead from wonder stories purely imaginary. There was instance the other day when Prof. Francis Darwin told the British Association of his conviction that plants have memory and habits and at least a suggestion of consciousness. Prof. Harold W. T. Wager continues on this striking line of new thought in natural history. He displays lessons taken from leaves in support of a claim that plants have to some degree the sense of sight. At least they can see where to turn for the light most favorable to life and growth.

The practical trend of these discoveries is not apparent. Just now the new ideas of plant consciousness may impress most laymen as being especially pretty conceits, having their charm heightened by the possibility of a shade of truth.

But the two professors who have spoken already have not swept the whole range of hypothesis. Shall we not hear from a third man, subtly wise, who shall tell us that the growing things can also talk among themselves? That when we speak of "whispering trees" and of grain that sings in the breeze we are dealing with more of fact than we realize?

We ought to desire something of this sort in positive revelation. The manifestation of actual voices of the woods pleading and raging against the forest-killers of our times is a miracle to be prayed for.

The wise farmer will wait. That is the opinion and the advice of Professor Elliott, head of the Department of Agriculture at Washington State College, regarding the latest wheat monstrosity, says the Monetary Times. Away in Idaho, famous for mining and agriculture, sprinkled with a little lawlessness, a farmer claims to have discovered wheat, a perfect prodigy in the agricultural family. It will yield 222 bushels to the acre of Number One Hard, so the story goes. A name was given—Alaska wheat. With such judicious advertising it sold as high as twenty dollars a bushel.

The farmer's imagination is seldom tickled with agricultural get-rich-quick schemes. You may tell him in vain of beets you have for sale, some that will grow as long as the giraffe's neck and provide enough sugar to sweeten the whole town's teeth. He turns away from your story—for a good reason, he knows what you are. With mining schemes, it is different. Bring forward an assertion that from a hole, ore has taken assaying fabulous wealth. Arrange a statement of dividends paid by the really rich mines of the country. Say something of the properties which immediately join the new bonanza. And the best suspiciousness immediately gives place to mineral confidence. That is because the farmer knows a best when he sees it; but ore and agriculture are not of the same family.

It is thus the more remarkable that a large sale of Alaska wheat should have been effected. The seed was advertised to grow in any climate; hail and frost mattered little. Alaska wheat was proof against the whims of the elements. The discoverer of this stuff toiled on like the inventor of old. Finally, after planting seven pounds in the spring of 1906, 1,585 pounds were brought forth, or 222 times the original sowing. And it all graded Number One Hard. The Canadian grower has bitten the bait with the rest. Much Alaska wheat has found its way across the border from Idaho. The Alaska brand was to have revolutionized wheat-growing in the United States; probably—if results and advertising permitted—in Canada also. This particular wheat is said to have one single head, around which are nine other short heads. Professor Elliott, quoted above, says he knows of a seven-headed variety, grown extensively twenty years ago. It yielded no better than other common varieties. He has visited some of the fields of the so-called Alaska wheat, which are located in Whitman and Latah Counties. The wheat, he says, was studied while growing and ripening in the field and a large selecting of heads taken for closer study in the laboratory. These tracts of wheat were badly mixed with other varieties, among which were found White Club Winter Fife, red Russian and Wolfe's hybrid. Fully twenty-five per cent. of the growing wheat was not Alaska, and any one purchasing such for seed would have a sorry mixture. He also examined two other varieties grown by farmers in the vicinity and claimed to be new discoveries. Placed side by side it is impossible to distinguish the samples from the three fields apart, and they are apparently of common origin.

The plants of this variety are inclined to grow tall and have good foliage. By nature it is a spring wheat, but under favourable winter conditions, it may, like many other spring varieties, succeed when sown in the fall. It stools sparingly and will not occupy the ground as will little club or red Russian. The heads are large, since they are composed of a cluster of smaller heads springing from a common stem, and, as they ripen, they weight causes the stems to droop heavily. In fact, the very size of the heads is a most serious objection to the variety, as it cannot stand erect and in spite of a fairly stiff straw is sure to lodge badly. The heads are not uniform in character.

As is well known, says Professor Elliott, not only the Emmers, but also the Poulard and Durum wheats show composite forms quite frequently, and the evidence is strong that the so-called Alaska wheat is in reality a composite Emmer. When it is recalled that nowhere are the Emmers considered valuable for milling purposes and have never gained favor as stock feeds among the farmers of America, the value of this wonderful new wheat of fairy tale origin may well be questioned.

Years ago the famous scientist, Sir John Lawes, said that if a man should leave the earth wheat would follow him in three years. It is a plant that cannot endure without cultivation, and is never found growing wild, even in the balmy climate of Alaska. In all the history of the world's wheat the highest recorded yields barely exceed 100 bushels and the claims of the promoters of Alaska of 222 bushels an acre are little short of preposterous. The fields examined by Professor Elliott would not exceed 25, although doubtless better results could have been secured. The claims that it will grade with No. 1 are based only on a laboratory test. The millers have yet to speak. Scores of Poulard and Durum varieties will show equally as good gluten tests.

So the wise farmer will wait.

Prof. Goldwin Smith, in the Farmer's Sun, says:—"It is with the greatest reluctance that the Bystander says a word against any effort of labor to get what it sincerely believes to be justice. Labor is far more in the right in any reasonable strike than is capital in trying to force on us protection. But Labor is specially bound to resort to fair arbitration and take reasonable terms in the case of a public railway, the stoppage of which affects not the pocket of a capitalist only, but the general current of life, the trades which depend on supplies, the distribution of food, the husband or wife hurrying to a death-bed. Unwilling as one must be to say it, there are now social revolutionists at work who seek, not peace with justice, but war with confiscation. Let it be always borne in mind, too, that the strikers themselves are purchasers and employers, and that the collective loss by a strike comes round in a measure to them all."

Continuing his admirable and refreshingly sane linguistic studies in Harper's, Professor Lounsbury of Yale deals with the adjective and the impossibility of adequate expression of our feelings, moods, shades of opinion by the "three degrees of comparison" to which a cruel grammar limits us. To tell you that the weather is fine, or very fine, or perfectly fine, is to leave you in the dark as to the precise state of mind of the speaker. Again, to say that a girl is charming is to express one's self in the vaguest possible way. There are legions of charming and beautiful girls, yet no two alike, and what language ought to yield us is an exact idea of the degree of charm attributed to a particular girl.

How can language be made more exact and richer? Scientists invent special terms and an impossible jargon to arrive at needed precision, but what of literary and other styles of every-day conversation?

Professor Lounsbury recalls an idea which was advanced by Captain Derby, the humorist, more widely known as "John Phoenix," many years ago. The idea was to mark all descriptions and adjectives, all adverbs, and epithets, on a numerical scale of comparison. Let the lowest amount of any quality be indicated by 1, the highest by 100. Let each lover of precision and clearness prefix to each epithet a figure conveying the degree of the scale he has in mind. He will not say simply, "This is a fine day," but "This is a 75 fine morning." You knowing the scale, instantly grasp his real meaning. Here is a fuller illustration of the possibilities of the humorist's idea, taken from an imaginary narrative:

"On a 76 fine morning I was 66 slowly walking down the 31 clean avenue when I chanced to meet the 22 young and 95 charming Miss Smith. We at once exchanged the 81 usual meteorological observations. 'It is a 76 beautiful day,' I remarked. 'Indeed, it is a 96 beautiful day,' she replied, 'and I am 97 glad to have met you, for it is a 90 long time since I have seen you.' I felt 77 flattered by words like these, coming from a 70 lovely girl, but proceeded to make the 71 usual inquiries about her health, for I know that on that point you had been 89 anxious. She told me it had been 73 poor, but she was 100 glad to say it was now 87 good."

The humor and satire in the idea are manifest, but Professor Lounsbury thinks that it contains much wisdom withal. Such a scale, he says, would let us into the exact thoughts of our friends and would indicate individual, racial and even sex characteristics. Feminine addicts to superlatives would come out delightfully, as would the studied moderation of purists and pedants. Professor Lounsbury announces no crusade in favor of the great reform, but uses the comic idea to combat certain errors of pedantic grammarians. To these we will not now refer, but the humorist's suggestion is worthy of revived notice.

year for every family of five persons. Where does the money come from? In the first analysis 99 per cent. of it comes from real estate. But real estate produces incomes and taxes by means of rents which tenants must pay. The tenant, if a storekeeper, makes his customers pay his taxes; if a manufacturer and employer, he makes his business pay the additional bill. In the last analysis the tax is assessed upon the entire community, and the man with the least opportunity to collect his tax from some other person—that is, the working man—ultimately pays the major share of the bill.

The rush for land in the western centres has begun to diminish and, although the officials of the Dominion lands office are still very busy, the crowd of people waiting is growing smaller. Under the new Dominion lands act 2,324 entries for quarter sections of 160 acres each were granted in three days. The largest number of applicants at any western town was Moose Jaw, where 519 sections of land were granted to settlers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has repudiated the statement made by some papers as to their being a disagreement between the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright and that several ministers were about to be retired. Sir Wilfrid states that there is no truth in the rumor, that there are no immediate cabinet changes pending and that the government will go to the country with the present personnel of the ministry.

It is expected that all arrangements for the issue of the government old age annuities will be completed by the end of this month. S. T. Bastedo, who has been given charge of the annuity service, is now installed in the department of trade and commerce and is making arrangements for the campaign which is to be inaugurated throughout the Dominion in order to lay before the public the advantages of this form of provision against old age. The annuity scheme is expected to appeal more particularly to the working classes.

The possible food supply of the United Kingdom from the outlying parts of the empire is dealt with in a memorandum recently issued by the British Tariff Commission, says the London Advertiser. According to the estimates of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Great Britain at the present rate of progress Canada, by the year 1912, may produce one and one-half times as much wheat as the United Kingdom imports, or 80,000,000 bushels. From the same memorandum the following instructive figures are taken:—

Proportion of total imports of undermentioned articles imported into the United Kingdom from British possessions and foreign countries respectively.

	British Possessions. 1898-4	1902-4
	P. C.	P. C.
Wheat	15	22
Meat	21	24
Butter	20	21
Cheese	84	75

It will thus be seen how in the matter of food products, the British Empire is gradually advancing towards self-support. As to the future, while the British deputy minister's estimate may be rather high it seems probable that if our present rate of increase of production is maintained, before the close of the second decade of the twentieth century the Dominion will be able to supply the people of Great Britain and Ireland with all the breadstuffs they will need. This is all the more important in view of the fact that the United States, must before many years pass, cease to be a wheat-exporting country, and be no longer a competitor of Canada's.

The memorandum also shows how satisfactory have been the results of preferential tariffs. In the five years ended with 1898 the reports from Great Britain to Canada, Australia and New Zealand averaged over £33,000,000 sterling annually; in the next ten years they dropped to a little less than £30,000,000, but in the five years ended 1908 they had grown to over £39,000,000, and last year reached close on £40,000,000.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure no sense so that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

Synopsis of Canadian North-west

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homestead by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties.—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. Try with that way, two free months, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane supplementary remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches and restores the entire system, making the repair of all nerves, all tissue, and all blood elements.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, upon nervous exhaustion, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing almost renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Why We Are All Mimics.

"If we did not cough in church, the human race would not exist." And the professor, twiddling a piece of chalk in his hand, regarded the sophomores with a quizzical smile.

"What I mean," he continued, "is that the cause of coughing is the cause of our survival. That cause is mimicry. Mimicry is a better life preserver than fleetness or strength. For by mimicry we manage not to attract attention, and in prehistoric times they who attracted attention were hunted down by the tribe and roasted for dinner or hunted down by the saber tooth tiger and taken raw.

"Since those dark days mimicry has been instinctive with us. Mimicry is what causes us to follow the fashions. It causes us, when in England, to say 'never't' and 'nor.' If your friend yawns, you yawn—that's mimicry. If he laughs, you laugh—mimicry again. If he sneezes, you sneeze—mimicry. And if he coughs in church, straightway you and all the rest of the congregation cough, the reason being the same one which saved our forefathers from extermination."—New York Press.

Famous Preggers.

Among English schoolmasters whose names have come down to posterity with the dubious reputation of great floggers Dr. Busby of Westminster school is the generally acknowledged chief.

Of him it is recorded that, one of his head boys having insulted a young French viscount who came to the school to demand satisfaction, he flogged the viscount first for their bloodthirsty intentions and next his friend who was the bearer of his challenge.

Dr. Valpy, too, who edited an edition of the classics, was a potent wielder of the rod. Archdeacon Groom, who was a pupil of his, tells a story in illustration of his prowess. One of the boys had been flogged by the redoubtable doctor, and the lad's father came to complain.

"Sir," said Valpy to him, "I flogged your son because he richly deserved it. If he again deserves it, I shall flog him again, and," rising, "if you come here, sir, interfering with my duty I shall flog you."

The parent fled.

A Famous Architect's Trick.

When Sir Christopher Wren was building the town hall of Windsor, a dilatory member of the corporation, on the story goes, insisted that the roof required further support and desired the architect to add more pillars. In vain did Sir Christopher assure him that the danger was imaginary. He knew better. The alarm spread, and the great architect was worried into adding the desired columns.

Years passed, and in later times, when architect and patrons were dead, cleaning operations in the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by two inches, though this was not perceptible to the gazers below.

By this ingenious expedient did Wren pacify his critics, while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady bringing herself to his providence. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said:

"Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Next day it was an egg, and so on every day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Of course there was never any reduction in Pat's bill. One Saturday his ire came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, handled up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm eloping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.

Beautifully Arranged.

"I've arranged it beautifully, old chap. I told her it was you first, and she said to tell you she was out, and then I said I was feeling sad that it was Charley Jones, and you ought to have seen her hustle to get into a clean shirt waist! She'll be right down!"

The miniature republic of San Marino is a mere dot on the map of Europe, being the smallest state in the world as well as the oldest independent republic. Its area is thirty-eight square miles, only little less than twice that of the island of Manhattan. It lies entirely in Italy, but is wholly independent. Its situation is on the easterly side of the Etruscan Apennines and about twelve miles from Rimini, on the Adriatic sea. The frontier is only twenty-four miles in length, and the population would make only a small city ward, numbering less than 12,000. There is no public debt, and the annual expenses met by taxation amount to $60,000. The country has bronze and silver currency, coined by Italy, 125,000 lire of the latter and 165,000 of the former. The principal exports are wine, cattle and stone. The military force of the republic numbers 80 officers and 600 men.

The Midget Snakes.

"I see by your paper," says a correspondent, "that you want to find a man who can tell a snake story with the sound of originality to it. Here it is: Nearly forty years ago in the woods of Indiana I captured three snakes, each less than three and one-fourth inches in length, a combined length of less than ten inches, a little longer and a little larger in the middle than an old fashioned wool darning needle. Although these snakes were so small they would crawl around with their heads up and dart out their tongues like larger snakes, I put them together in an eight ounce bottle, and they had plenty of room to crawl around on the bottom of it without crowding. These were not the kind of snakes generally seen in bottles, but genuine snakes. Among those who saw them was a minister of the gospel, and he had not been taking anything to make him see snakes either."—Hampden Gazette.

The Pirates.

The Chicago News fails to name the hero of this story, but has it that the visitor to the home of a well known Hoosier Stop author found his three youngsters rampaging in the hallway.

"What are you playing, boys?" he inquired.

"We are playing pirates," chortled the smallest.

"Pirates? Why, how can you play pirates in Indiana? There are no seas bordering on this state."

"Oh, we don't need any seas. We are literary pirates, like pa."

And five minutes later a chorus of yells from behind the barn told that the hand that wields the pen can also wield the cudgels.

Outside of His Practice.

"All that is the matter with you, sir," said the eminent physician after a thorough examination, "is lack of nutrition. You don't eat enough."

"I eat all I can hold, doctor," said the attenuated caller.

"Then you need to have your capacity enlarged, and that's a case for a surgeon. Five dollars, please. Good morning."—Chicago Tribune.

Overbody.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overzealous we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best pleasures we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense us great a loss.—Montaigne.

Put Through His Paces.

The wealthy Briton is confessedly the most fastidious man living as to the quality of his personal domestic service. The concentrated energy with which an Englishman will rebuke his servant for an offense so slight that the average American fails to observe it bears out the above statement. Those who propose changing servants are not content with references and a perfunctory interview with the maid or maid under consideration, but insist upon a full dress rehearsal of both manners and appearance. The servant in livery is put through all his paces, must display the size of his calves, the haughtiness of his pose as well as breeding in handling a card, announcing a guest or serving at the table. Nothing is taken for granted. The master and the mistress sit by and discuss the points of grace or beauty as they would those of a high priced horse or valuable dog. Domestics are taken with great seriousness by the upper class Englishman, and for that reason nothing is left to luck in peopling the servants' hall.

Wink at Some Things.

"When you have mastered the gentle art of winking," said Lord Beaconsfield, "you hold the key to success in your hands."

Every one's personality is made up of trivial failings and trivial talents. Foster the good qualities in your friends and subordinates and wink at those failings so dear to their possessors. Not to see everything is a rule which will strengthen friendships and help you to get the best results from your fellow workers.

"He is no good," said the great Napoleon of one of his officers. "He is continually looking into the privates' stew pot!"

"I want a man who can keep his eye on the ultimate result and ignore little failings, never mind how aggravating," said Nelson. And General Gordon once remarked that the man who lost his temper because a private's boot lace was tied loosely on the day of a battle did more to lose the day than all the enemy's guns.

A Simple Salad.

Cabbage counted as plebeian tables on an air as a salad—not cold slaw or hot slaw, but a crisp, coolly mixed salad with French dressing.

Cut the cabbage with fine grater and put it in ice water for an hour before serving. Dry on a clean napkin and cover with a highly seasoned French dressing about ten minutes before serving.

If a clove of garlic is rubbed over the bowl in which the dressing is made, the flavor is much improved for many persons.

While one would not serve this salad at a formal meal, it makes an appetizing lunch dish.

A Pen Broil.

When-it-is not convenient to open the lid of a stove, as on ironing day, a beefsteak or chop can be given a pen broil.

Have the pan very hot. Put the meat in it and turn almost immediately to the other side until seared. Keep turning the meat continually till it is done, though this need not be quite so often as when the steak is over live coals.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—it's constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all, what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere. Tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can cut a blossom now and then for the table. She can plant a few penny seeds in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small platter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a [illegible] bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks; also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight coat she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switches and the doorknobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chintz, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm oiled oil will relieve earache.

Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not.

Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light is bad both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings so joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in his humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

SUNSET AT GUAYAQUIL.

There Is No Twilight, No Interval Between Daylight and Dark.

The days and nights at Guayaquil are of equal length. The sun knocks off promptly at 6 o'clock in the evening and gets up at 6 in the morning with equal regularity the whole year around. There is no twilight, no gloaming, no interval whatever between daylight and dark—only a brilliant illumination, the sudden disappearance of a red ball into a blue ocean, a spread of flame color over all the western sky for a few minutes and a purple haze in the east.

Then the surface of the ocean, like the heavens, is lighted with millions of strange and shifting stars, for the water is so impregnated with phosphorus that each tiny wave is tipped with light, and the foam that follows in the wake of the vessel is often like a stream of fire. Sometimes you can see porpoises swimming along the bow of the vessel livid with phosphorescent light and followed by a streak of spectre like a comet's tail.

The Southern Cross, with the right arm tipped out at proper angle, lies straight ahead in the midst of myriads of unknown worlds that look strange to those accustomed to the northern constellations. Under the left arm is a large black spot in the heavens, brightened by only a single modest star, which the sailors call "the devil's dinner bag." Over the stern of the vessel in the early evening you can plainly distinguish the familiar constellation of the Great Bear, but it goes to bed with the children.

Automatic Salt Works.

About a hundred miles north of Lima, near the town of Huacho, is one of the great curiosities of nature, a salt factory on an automatic plan. When the tide comes in it fills a lot of shallow basins, and the water is prevented from flowing back into the sea by closing the gates. The atmosphere is so dry that the water evaporates rapidly and leaves a sediment of salt in an almost pure state, which is scraped up, packed into sacks and shipped to market. Within the coast a little farther the percolation of sea water through the porous rocks into pits and hollows has caused immense deposits of salt to accumulate. The salt is taken out in blocks six or eight inches square and sold in that form. As soon as the salt is excavated the water comes in again and in a year or two has solidified and is ready for the market. Wells driven into the sand discover strongly impregnated water at a depth of twenty-five feet, which seems to be a great deal heavier than the sea water, and is drawn off into vats for evaporation.

RAWHIDE-DULZURA

1 CENT A 2 SHARE

Send us your name as a member in this new company, with your remittance for as many thousand shares as you can take at $5 per thousand.

This is a short-time offer on a hurry-up proposition. Our vice president is up at Rawhide now putting the miners at work. We want to raise the necessary funds for development as quickly as possible. Therefore, we offer the first block of stock at $5 a thousand shares. Only subscription must be all cash. We want the money in hand. We mean to work without let-up, and we have made it an inflexible rule not to run in debt. Cash counts now.

Our prospectuses are out, send for one.

Make reservation of stock, if you do no more. But, remember, this present offer of stock at Half a Cent a Share is now open, and will be closed as soon as enough cash subscriptions are in hand. Don't wait, or you will get left.

The gold mining property owned outright by the company consists of 7 claims, 5 in the Rawhide district of Nevada, and 2 in the Dulzura district of Southern California.

The Rawhide district to-day is more famous than Goldfield, Tonopah, Bullfrog, or Seadlight were at the same stage of exploration and development. The Dulzura discovery is one of the most sensational in the history of California.

Ten samples of ore which were among the first assayed, ran as high as $7,625.37 to the ton, and all ten averaged over $50 a ton.

In both camps we bonded easily, and our locations are choice. Our own officers will superintend the mining.

BIG G FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 15.—The wedding of Miss Clapton, a young English woman, lately arrived from the old country, and Lee Lead, a Chinese merchant of this city, took place last night. The two left for Vancouver on their wedding trip.

It's a pity when sick men drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. This weak nerves are instantly crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. If won't cure as soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

How to Tell

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness, or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharps twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite and loss of sleep. Reach the cause, Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

To Double Capacity

but there was plenty of time for handshaking for the next forty days. He hoped to see a sufficient number of electors in that time to give him a handsome majority. He had not been able to get down to the Exhibition that day. He had not even had time to see many of the gentlemen who had called to see him. He and Senator Cox and Manager Fortye had taken the gentlemen who proposed going in the expansion of the lock works on a tour of inspection of the plant. They were well satisfied with what they had seen, and with the goods manufactured. But the aim of the company was to go ahead. He (Mr. Stratton) had hesitated when the board had given authority to erect new buildings, but he believed that if he had the matter to do over again he would put up the new buildings as they would have to come sooner or later, and it now looks to be sooner.

The present manager, Mr. Fortye, has too much for one man to do. He is an excellent man, reliable in every way, and while business is quiet at present that condition is only temporary. The works could have been shut down last winter, but this was not done. It was preferred to keep the men employed during the cold winter months and give them a fishing spell in the summer. The stock that accumulated during the dullness was worked, business was looking up and more active operations would begin within a short time. The outside gentleman referred to had been in the city during the day and everything except a few minor details was arranged, looking to the enlargement of the operations of the company to a large degree and to the production of goods of a character not now made in Canada. Mr. Stratton hoped from that time out to give that attention to the campaign which was to be expected from a candidate who had entered into a contest, and with their aid he was going to win. He had issued an address to the electors that day, and he hoped each elector would read it. It showed what Liberal administration, with the aid of Liberal representatives, had accomplished for this city and county. Sometimes people's memories were defective, and important matters were overlooked, and he thought it would be desirable to recall to memory some of the things that had been accomplished. This had been done in his address, which he briefly referred to, and which may be seen by references to the address.

Mr. Stratton stated that the campaign, so far as he was concerned, would not be made a campaign of abuse, but would be a discussion of the issues that should legitimately determine the choice of the electors. He hoped to be able to show before the campaign was concluded the many public reasons why he should be returned by a substantial majority.

Hon. Mr. Stratton made reference to other public matters, and concluded amid great applause from his supporters.

The chair was occupied by Mr. J. J. Thornton, and speeches were made by Messrs. W. H. Meldrum, F. D. Kerr, Thos. Hunter, Daniel Bellesghem, D. O'Donnell, R. R. Hall, and Andrew Macfarlane.

Longboat Trouble Again

New York, Sept. 18.—The Times today says: While it has been generally thought that there would be nothing more heard or done in the case of Tom Longboat, the Indian, who was allowed to compete in the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London, notwithstanding the fact that he had been declared a professional by the governing organization of Amateur Athletics in the United States, it became known yesterday that the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States are seriously considering the matter of severing all relations with the Amateur Athletic Union of England, which was chiefly responsible for Longboat's appearance in that race, and if the present feelings of some of the A.A.U. members do not undergo a change by the time the board of governors has its annual meeting in November, all athletic ties between the two countries will be discontinued.

Rome's Ban on the American Press

Washington, Sept. 19.—It became known in Roman Catholic circles here today that a wholesale condemnation of recent Roman Catholic publications soon would be promulgated from Rome. The first victim of Pope Pius X.'s crusade against modernism is the Catholic Review of New York, the official organ of Dunwoodie Seminary and hitherto enjoying the cordial support and outspoken admiration of Archbishop Farley. The Review has suspended publication and the number containing articles specifically condemned by the congregation of the index must be withdrawn from orthodox Catholic libraries.

The current number of the Review, which appears every two months, was due today. But the editors sent instead of the usual volume an intimation that no more numbers could be published and that those who had made yearly subscriptions would receive the cash in lieu of the Review.

SHOCK IN SUSPENSION.
